School Committee Discusses Program For Summer School

Preparations for the 1970 Summer School Program compounded by the Six Weeks Adventure were discussed at the Wednesday evening, March 25, meeting of the Winchester School Committee.

The program will be held at McCall, Washington, and Muraco Schools from June 29 through August 7. Brochures containing applications will be distributed to students within the next few weeks.

Registration for all summer school offerings for Winchester residents will begin May 4. Open registration for residents and non-residents will be conducted after this date in the event that openings still exist. The deadline for enrollment in all make-up, review, and preview courses is June 26.

This year the Winchester-Leslie College program will be housed with the Laboratory School at Washington. McCall Junior High School will be utilized for review courses, and Muraco School will hold remedial and developmental reading and learning disabilities classes.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer announced that there had been no increase in the number of courses offered this year due to budget cuts.

The School Committee approved the motion to accept the Superintendent's recommendations concerning course offerings and a tuition increase for the summer school program. Approved tuition costs for residents this summer will be $20, for non-residents it will be $35. Driver Training for residents will be $35, while the figure for non-residents is $45.

Course Offerings

According to Director of Summer School Frederick Murray, courses being offered are: English Review for grades 7 and 8; English I for grade 9; English II for grade 10; English III for grade 11, English IV for grade 12; and Creative Writing Workshop for grades 8-11.

Mathematics courses include Review Arithmetic for grades 7, 8, and 9; Preview of Algebra for grades 8 and 9; Elementary Algebra; Plane Geometry; and Intermediate Algebra. Both Spanish and French I and II are offerred.

Developmental Reading courses for grades 1-6 and Remedial/Developmental for grades 7-12 will be available. Reading for grades 1-6 is also offered. Special courses include Learning Laboratory II for grades 10-12; Learning II for grades 8 and 9; Theatre Workshop; Driver Training; Personal Typing for grades 6-12; and Interim Semester of basic primary and basic intermediate studies for grades 3 and 6.

The School Committee voiced agreement with the Six Weeks Adventure program, sponsored through private donations. Applications for enrollment of 25 inner-city children on a tuition basis will be made after the May 29 deadline. The program includes attendance with the Winchester-Lesley Summer School in the morning and an organized recreational program conducted by volunteers in the afternoon. Volunteers will be solicited.

Action was also taken at this meeting by the School Committee in approving the motion to include the School Department's request for two vehicles in the group bid with other Town departments being sent out by the Board of Selectmen.

At present there are no School Department vehicles, two having been lost in accidents during the past academic year. One station wagon is used by the repairman, while the other is at the disposal of the schools' currier. The vehicles are also available to student groups on some occasions.

Rome School

As one of the first items of business, Dr. Stanley Haas, headmaster of the Rome School in Italy, discussed this school with members of the Committee. Founded after World War II as an Anglo-American school, it has grown to approximately 850 students, kindergarten through grade 12, composed of about 70 per cent Americans. It is the only non-denominational school in Rome and has a special program for refugee children. Tuition, which is graduated, contributes about 96 per cent to costs.

Dr. Haas, who called the current exchange of ideas, materials, and people with the Winchester staff "very positive," welcomed the extension of this program which he feels is "doing a job for America." Besides this exchange among school systems, he outlined such program purposes as the promotion of world understanding and an education into what is happening throughout the world.

Dr. Klemer added that the cost of this program to Winchester was in time and people, and quoted the figure $94.91 for the fiscal year 1969. Winchester is one of only 40 towns selected in the United States to participate.

Mrs. Robert J. Grenzeback, principal of Lincoln School and active in the preparation of this program, announced that a reception for Peter Rockwell was being scheduled to raise money for scholarships for students par-

Rabies Clinic To Be Held On April 11

A rabies immunization clinic for dogs will be held Saturday, April 11 at the Board of Health Office in the Town Hall from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Dogs to be innoculated must be accompanied by an adult and must be held by a leash. A minimal fee will be charged for the innoculation.

The state law, effective April 22, 1969, requires all dogs to be vaccinated against rabies after they reach six months of age.

Application cards for the clinic and a letter explaining the clinic have been mailed to all dog owners in Winchester by Board of Health Director Michael Saraco.

Column from Concern

CONCERN feels it would be a public service to publish letters from young people. The letters, from children in other towns as well as Winchester, will contain, in the writer's words, his or her feelings about drugs and experiences with drugs. When printed in the paper the writer's name will be withheld.

Each letter will be coded. Anyone wishing to respond to the letter should address replies to Box 293, Winchester, Massachusetts, 01890, Attention: Code C. The letters will be given to the sender. There will be no interception by adults.

The problem of drug addiction among the young is estimated to be six times worse in the United States than in Britain, and it is still growing.

The following is the first of two articles examining the effect of this newest social disease — particularly heroin addiction, now increasingly reaching children in their early teens in middle-class American families who thought it could never happen to them.

Plague Year in America

"There are no plague marks on the doors of the houses in the busy cities, the upholstered suburbs, the quiet little rural towns. You can't tell where the disease has struck. But every month now, behind the most unexpected of those doors, it disrupts more families and plights more lives. Junk, dope, horse, stuff, H — they all stand for heroin.

"It begins, usually, long before the parents know what is happening. They are totally ignorant of addictive drugs, however much they may know about alcohol. And since their son — or daughter — is at the age of adolescence which may be expected to produce 'difficult' behavior, months may elapse before they begin to suspect that something is wrong.

"Son's school marks begin to grow erratic: he fails examinations, he seldom shows enthusiasm for any aspect of his work. His way of life becomes erratic too; one day he is away from home for hours, the next day he may spend lying moodily in his room. He murmurs secretively into the telephone, he rushes at odd hours on vague errands. At one moment he is bright and euphoric; at the next withdrawn and irritable. Trivial family rows begin to increase. 'What's wrong with Joe?' says his mother one day, wistfully recalling the affectionate uncomplicated boy of a year or two before. 'Ah, don't worry,' says the father. 'It's a tough stage. Teenagers . . . maybe he's in love. After all he's not a kid any more. Be in college soon.'

"But mother continues to worry. Young Joe, always a healthy lad, seems now to be beset by an endless series of minor coughs and colds, and his eyes often look shadowy and red-rimmed. She takes for granted his long hair and dark glasses as part of the contemporary image, but she is puzzled by the curious cloying smell that has begun to permeate his bedroom and all his clothes.

"'Incense,' says Joe casually when she asks about it. 'Most of the kids have it around. Burn it when we're listening to records, and stuff. It's just part of the scene, Mom.'

"Then, one washing-day, his mother finds a small manila envelope in the pocket of one of his discarded shirts; inside is something that looks to her like a spoonful of marjoram or oregano from her kitchen spice rack. It takes her a moment or two to realize what it really is since she has never seen marijuana before. 'Oh, you found my pot,' says Joe when they confront him that evening. 'I wondered where I'd lost it.' 'How long have you been smoking marijuana?' demands his father. 'Not long. Few months. Jeeze Dad, there's no harm in blowing a little grass. You smoke cigarettes, don't you, you drink liquor, it's no worse'n either of those. All my friends smoke pot, it's no big deal. I don't spend money on it even, it's always around.'

"His father says the first thing that comes into his stunned head. 'And what else do all your friends do?' 'My friends aren't drug addicts, if that's what you mean.'

"With astonishing speed Joe is angry and glaring. 'Pot's not habit-forming, it doesn't lead to anything else — you think I'm stupid? So I smoke a couple sticks of pot a week, maybe — man, that's no big deal, doesn't do any harm.' He looks at his mother. 'Look Mom, honest to God I'm not getting into trouble — don't worry.'

Frank Fontaine Is Named "Man Of Year"

"I wasn't doin' nuttin'! I was jus' sittin' d'ere! I wasn't doin' nuttin'!"

Those are the immortal words of one of the world's luckiest and best known characters when he explained how he won first prize in the sweepstakes.

The character, of course, is John L. C. Savony, one of star-entertainer Frankie Fontaine's most famous alter-egos, who makes people happy whenever he appears in a show.

The Middlesex County Democratic Club, at its annual Patriot's Day Dinner Dance at the Marriott Motor Hotel in Newton on Sunday evening, April 19th, will take special notice of John Savony's famous creator to honor him as its choice as the Outstanding Man of the Year in Middlesex County.

Savony might have been "doin' nuttin'" when he won the sweeps, but his creator, a native of Cambridge, who now lives at 407 Highland Avenue has been "doing plenty" of good around the world for most of his 50 years.

The Club's directors voted to make the unusual, non-political award to Mr. Fontaine this year in recognition of his uncountable — and most often unpublicized — private contributions of his talent, time or money at the right moments to those who might need a little lift in spirit or encouragement.

The award, which is being presented on Frank's 50th birthday, will be added to the huge supply he has already received from big and little people and organizations of all races, creeds and interests.

Tickets to the Patriot's Day Dinner may be obtained from the Club president, Attorney Joseph A. Travaline of 87 Thornberry Road or by calling 625-2312 or any of the officers.

Among the many prominent friends who will be on hand for the "Happy Birthday'" song will be Senator Ted Kennedy, the featured speaker of the evening.

District Show Is Scheduled By Scout Troops

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of Musket District units in Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn will put on their annual scouting show for the public April 11th at Stoneham Town Hall. This year's event, "Tomorrow's Citizens," will have many changes from previous Musket District shows.

Snow, sunshine or rain, there will be display booths indoors and action booths outdoors. All units will demonstrate a part of what Scouting is doing today to prepare boys for citizenship tomorrow.

This is Scouting of 1970 in action. There will be displays and demonstrations on many phases of the Scouting program, from unit meeting activities and den projects to individual advancement and leadership projects; from winter camping to mountain climbing and canoe trips; from pollution projects to exciting cross country expeditions by jet plane.

Roger Sullivan of Stoneham, Musket District Activities Chairman, suggests that any parents or young boys who want to see what Scouting is all about — and find out what unit he can join in his neighborhood — should see this show.

More than 35 Scout units from Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn will be represented. Many units will have all their boys working at booths. Other booths will be manned by smaller Webelos den or Scout patrol groups.

Some units will have slide programs and movies running all afternoon showing events and activities of their units during the past year.

Veterans' Memorials Voted At Town Meeting Session; Zoning Change Is Denied

A proposal to construct veterans' memorials at Wildwood, Calvary, Woodbrook, and Oak Grove cemeteries was passed by the adjourned session of the Annual Town Meeting Monday night at the High School auditorium.

Appropriated for the construction was $8,000.

Defeated at the session was an article requesting an amendment to the Zoning Bylaws to allow construction of an apartment hotel or apartment house not in excess of eight stories in height, but only upon a single parcel of land or contiguous parcels of land in single ownership containing not less than one acre of land for each story in height.

The article, presented by citizens' petition, was slated as number 35 on the warrant, however, the Town meeting had voted to consider it first at Monday night's session to accommodate Attorney William Speers Jr., who desired to speak on the article but who was due to be out of town on business later this week.

Attorney Speers represented Berndt Realty Company, owners of the Parkview Apartments on Swanton Street, who desire to add an additional structure on their property. Such an addition would have required the amendment to the Bylaws.

Also passed by the meeting was an article concerning expansion of the access and parking area for the Muraco School on Bates Road.

Approximately $42,000 was appropriated for the construction.

Other items passed by the meeting were the Caretaker of Veterans' Graves budget which had been deferred pending consideration of the article on veterans' memorials; an article requesting funds for the Conservation Commission to continue its studies; purchase of the Dudgeon property by the Conservation Commission; and purchase of property between Ridge and Cambridge Streets by the Conservation Commission.

Monday Session

Monday's meeting opened with an invocation given by the Rev. John J. Bishop, rector of the Church of the Epiphany.

Opening the meeting, Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick asked Attorney William Speers Jr. to speak on Article 35, the first article to be considered. Moderator Chadwick reminded the meeting that they had voted at the previous session of the adjourned Town Meeting Monday, March 23, to consider Article 35 out of sequence.

Attorney Speers, beginning his presentation, thanked the Town Meeting for its indulgence in allowing the article to be considered out of turn as he had to be out of town on business later this week.

Commenting that he represented the Berndt Realty Company, owners of the Parkview Apartments on Swanton Street, Attorney Speers briefly outlined the history of the construction of the apartment complex.

Noting that the old Beggs and Cobb property on which the high-rise building had been constructed was formerly zoned for industry, Attorney Speers stated that the Town Meeting had rezoned the area "business" to accommodate construction of the Parkview.

Subsequently, a Special Town Meeting amended the building code to place a height limit on apartment construction. Properly, the amendment should have been to the zoning bylaws and not to the building code, Attorney Speers noted, however, an amendment to the zoning bylaws requires a two-thirds vote of the Town Meeting and an amendment to the building code only requires a majority vote.

Building Code

Then, in 1966, the Town Meeting swept apartment house construction from the building code, Attorney Speers commented.

Apartment house construction in the business zone was eliminated, however, all references to apartment houses were not eliminated from the code, he said.

Local Rotary Club Receives Significant Achievement Award

One of 113 worldwide awards for outstanding service projects has been granted to the Rotary Club of Winchester (out of 14,022 clubs) in the significant achievement award event conducted by Rotary International.

The awards are based on submission by Rotary Clubs throughout the world of their most outstanding accomplishments and contributions of significant service to the needs of the community, the nation or to the world.

The award will go to the Winchester Rotary Club for its annual country auction community service project.

Other winning projects included an anti-pollution river cleanup in Michigan, a drug addict rehabilitation project in Pennsylvania, a young person's rehabilitation center in Australia, a child care center in South America, and a medical supply project which originated in England and travelled across the continent to India.

In naming the club as this area's winner, Rotary International cited the club's hard work and enthusiasm in its year-round fund raising endeavor.

The project reaches its climax each spring with an annual all day country auction and bean supper at the Town Hall which takes place this year on Saturday, April 25th. However, it is by no means a single day effort. In contrast, its success is derived from an all-year voluntary participation by all the Winchester Rotarians in collecting and storing used furniture, appliances, books, china, toys, glassware, paintings, tools, and a variety of household articles, much of which require repair and refinishing by club members to make them saleable merchandise.

The Winchester community's reaction and acceptance of this project is substantiated by its continued growth in popularity and in receipts which in the past five years have expanded from $10,000 to $15,000 yearly, with this year's project expected to reach a new record. All of the proceeds are distributed annually to a variety of worthy causes and fulfillment of charitable purpose such as youth clubs and activities, needs of the lesser privileged, emergency relief aid, servicemen gift packages, hospital and clinic supplies, international flood relief, scholarships, beautification of town parks, financing national and international exchange student programs, aid to handicapped children, establishing welfare camperships, mentally retarded care, shelter for the aged, school athletic awards, etc.

Community Concerts Have 25th Anniversary

Community Concerts celebrates its 25th anniversary in this area this season, when the Stoneham Community Concert Association opens its annual membership campaign next week.

The local affiliate of Columbia Artists Management of New York will bring its 100th concert artist, or world famous group attraction, during the coming season.

As a special feature of the anniversary campaign for memberships, four concerts have already been selected for next year. They include the Lee Evans Trio of stage and television fame; the Paul Kuentz Paris Chamber Orchestra; David Bar-Illan, Israeli-born concert pianist who is just completing another world tour; and the New York Lyric Quartet which was organized and directed by Robert DeCormier.

A large Winchester membership has always supported Community Concerts. The late Clinton Jonas of Winchester was one of the original organizers of the group and served 23 years on its board of directors.

Three residents are currently serving as directors of the organization. They are Roland Nault of 203 Washington Street, Mrs. George Pacetti of 37 Samoset Road and Mrs. Charles Bund of 12 Laurel Hill Lane. The three, along with Mrs. Roland Nault, also serve on the membership committee.

Community Concerts is a cooperative organization whereby season memberships are sold once a year. No admissions are ever sold at the door. At least four concerts are scheduled each season and members also may attend concerts in other areas at no additional cost. By this method, season tickets cost little more than the amount charged for a concert by one of the many artists presented in New York, Chicago or Los Angeles.

Broken Windows

Reports of vandalism to the Winchester Police Department over the past week seem to show a marked increase in broken windows. Residences have been particularly plagued.

Among those alerting the police were the Senior High School, where an 18 by 26 inch window was smashed, and the Lynch Junior High School in which two windows, 30 by 46 inches each, in the greenhouse were broken by stones.

It was also noticed that the lock and rasp on the field house at McDonald Field had been pried.

Injuries Sustained In Accidents

Minor injuries were recorded after two traffic skirmishes at Winchester intersections during the past week.

Following a two-car collision at Berkshire and Thornberry Road late Tuesday afternoon, March 24, John E. Clancy of Melrose was transported to the hospital by Winchester police for a cut under his right eye and complaint of chest pains.

According to the police report filed by Officer Donald F. Jackson, Mr. Clancy was traveling east on Thornberry and was halfway through the intersection when the right side of his automobile came into contact with the vehicle operated by Mrs. Barbara W. Alpert of 6 Partridge Lane, who was moving north on Berkshire.

Damage to Mr. Clancy's car was to the right door and fender and the rear wheel. The whole front end of the Alpert vehicle was damaged.

Complaint of a stiff neck and pain in the lower back area after a traffic accident caused Anthony Bellino of Lexington, proprietor of Bellino's Pizza, Swanton Street, to be transported to Winchester Hospital on Monday morning, March 30, according to the police report.

Officer Kevin P. Mawn responded to the three-car collision on Wildwood Street, approximately 100 feet from Cambridge Street. Brenda A. Johnson of 7 Longfellow Road collided with the rear of Mr. Bellino's vehicle, the impact of which sent this second automobile into that operated by Lawrence F. Patterson of Burlington.

Damage to Mrs. Johnson's car was to the front bumper, hood and grill, while that to Mr. Bellino's was on both the front and rear ends. The rear bumper and trunk of Mr. Patterson's automobile were damaged.

Firemen's Concert

Simmons Club To Hear Grapho-Analyst

The program, which is open to anyone interested in hearing Mr. Thackeray, will be held at the Vinson-Owen School, Johnson Road and Ridge Street, at 7:30 p.m.

Dessert and coffee will be served while Mr. Thackeray does a brief analysis of the handwriting of each person attending.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ethel Blanch, 729-6174, or Mrs. Marilyn Kelley, 933-2508. Tickets may be purchased at the door but reservations should be made in advance by telephone.

Mr. Thackeray has used his knowledge in selection of personnel, marriage counseling, vocational counseling, questioned document work, and as a teacher. For six years, his program, "The Trail You Leave in Ink," has been a popular handwriting analysis program.

Styles Are Changing

Strange how we begin to accept new trends! Long hair at one time was taboo, but gradually styles became modified, and were accepted. Now you'll find some 60 and 70 year old men letting their hair and sideburns grow longer.

Why? In a way we want to be with it — it's a way of reclaiming our youth (or a few precious years at least).

Let's compare this case to the carpeting in homes — (I bet you were wondering when I was getting to the subject!)

Visit us and see the newer, more modern styles in carpeting today. You'll find some way-out vibrant colors. Combined with these colors are some way-out fibers that defy the test of time in wear and tear and set all kinds of endurance records. The days of drab looking rugs are over — the switch is to longer lasting styles and colors that match any decor from Early American straight on through the modest of mods — just like the 60 and 70 year olders.

Let your home capture that youthful look with broadloom carpeting. We carry the leading name brands in just about every type of carpeting made. Come see Michael our way-out salesman, who will explain why, "Our Reputation Is Your Guarantee."

P.S. Comment on his sideburns — they're not long yet, but they're getting there — and he's not 60 either!

Counterfeit $10 Bill Is Stopped

An attempt to pass a counterfeit $10 bill at the Dairy Barn, 864 Main Street, Tuesday noon, March 31, was thwarted when manager Paul Gallant became suspicious of its value.

According to Police Chief Edward F. Bowler, after requesting cigarettes, a young man presented the bill to Mr. Gallant, who examined it and said that he was going to call the police. The man fled.

The bill, Serial Number D86928-404C, has been verified by the Treasury Department, which now has possession of it, as phony. There is a photostatic copy on file with the Police Department.

Kiwanis Club New Members

During March, the Kiwanis Club of Winchester welcomed three new members to its ranks.

Jack Coakley, Rocky Ferraina, and Jon McCarthy were installed before large gatherings at the Club's regular Wednesday dinner meetings which are held at The Woodbridge Inn, Somerville.

The purpose of the Kiwanis is to make Winchester a better place in which to live.

Colby Junior Group To Meet

The Colby Junior College Alumnae Club of the Northwestern Villages will meet on April 7 at 7:30 in Acton.

There wil be a gourmet cooking demonstration by Mrs. Hassman of the Pot Shop in Boston.

"Block Parents" Are Proposed To School Group

The "Block Parent Plan" to offer aid to children who encounter emergencies while travelling to and from school was presented to the March meeting of the executive board of the Community School Association of Winchester by Mrs. Edward Rodriguez, a representative of the local Jayceettes.

Community School representatives agreed to discuss the plan with their individual school chapters and report back to CSAW in April to determine if the plan will be implemented throughout the town.

Under the plan, block parents would be solicited on each block in each school district. They would agree to display a distinctive sign in their windows indicating that they are prepared to help children in emergencies during the hours that children go to and from school. Similar plans are in operation in several nearby communities, including Malden and Revere.

Winchester Scholarship Foundation

Otto Schaeffer, chairman of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, addressed the CSAW board members, noting that 25 years ago the Foundation was established by the "Central Mothers' Association" —the forerunner of CSAW. Noting that applications for scholarships are up from 30 in 1969 to 130 in 1970, Mr. Schaeffer urged that Community School representatives communicate the nature and existence of the Scholarship Foundation to its membership and also that they encouage parents of limited resources to seek aid for the education of their children. He also urged that the various parents' associations continue the generous gifts to the Foundation which have contributed to the $200,000 which has benefited 521 local students in the quarter-century history of the Foundation.

Theatre chairman Mrs. Max Goodman reported that the recent theatre production of "The Undiscovered King" brought a profit of $419 to the Association, the highest total in six years.

Calling All Drummers

Mrs. Grainger noted that any drummers in grades 4, 5 or 6 should contact her at once at 729-6743. These may be boys or girls who have taken drum lessons either privately or in the school system. Unless several volunteers respond to Mrs. Grainger's request,the traditional participation of the Junior Band in Memorial Day exercises appears in jeopardy.

The Keatings Serve Alumni On Publicity

Dr. Arland F. Christ-Janer, president of Boston University, was greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Keating Jr. at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. Dr. Christ-Janer was in the city recently to be honored by the Greater San Francisco, Boston University Alumni Association on the occasion of the University's Centennial celebration.

Mr. Keating is the son of Mrs. Claire T. Keating of 19 West Chardon Road and is a graduate of Winchester High and Boston University. He did graduate work at Southern Methodist University and currently is Western director of public relations for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company based in San Mateo, California. Mrs. Keating, the former Carol A. Coakley, is the daughter of Mrs. John F. Coakley, Parkview Apartments on Swanton Street. She is also a graduate of Winchester High, attended Gulf Park College in Mississippi, and graduated from the Katharine Gibbs School in Boston.

The Keatings served as publicity co-chairmen for the event which was attended by several hundred alumni.

A special proclamation from Governor Ronald Reagan, congratulating Boston University's alumni on their many contributions to California was carried by Keating from the state capitol in Sacramento.

Master of Ceremonies for the event was Robert Cumings of 75 Pond Street who has recently been appointed national director of the Alumni Association in Boston.

Building 19½ Sales Co.

13 Olympia Ave., Woburn, Mass. — 935-4620 (Off Washington Street)

Dear Friends of Building 19½:

Ever since I was a little boy (which goes back over ten years) I wanted to get into show business. This week I made my debut. I bought a bunch (about three truck loads) of samples from the Boston Furniture Show held at the Memorial Auditorium (Prudential Center) Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—March 30, 31 and April 1. Actually I haven't seen the merchandise, so I can't be too specific about what we'll be selling, except that the quality will be high and the prices low. Naturally each manufacturer exhibits his best products, because this is where and when the dealers place their orders. Just as naturally I chisel, wheedle, cajole, and even beguile (when absolutely necessary) said manufacturers into selling me these display samples at a small fraction of the usual cost.

Since they avoid the work and expense of moving it back to their factories, many of them accept my big-hearted, generous offer. Now, in typical big-hearted, generous style, we're offering to share the plunder with you this Friday 9:00-9:00, Saturday 9:00-5:00, and Monday 9:00-9:00.

UPHOLSTERED FURNITURE — We've arranged to buy exhibits from two well-known manufacturers. The lot includes sofas, love seats, chairs, lounge chairs and recliners, in a wide variety of fabrics and styles. Bring your interior decorator, your mother-in law, and your wallet.

SOFA BEDS — Eight maple-arm sofa beds (four - in Hingham, four - in Woburn) in heavy, durable fabrics at real savings.

MAPLE FURNITURE — Extra heavy, rugged dining room (or kitchen, if you're very rich) chairs with plank seats, strong backs — they sell elsewhere at $55.95—our price only $33.90—also a couple of complete maple dining room sets (china, tables and six chairs)—also one complete, extra nice bedroom set.

PECAN FURNITURE — One Mediterranean dining room set (china, table, two arm chairs, and four side chairs) and two Spanish/Yiddish bedroom sets.

OCCASIONAL TABLES — A very fine maker sold us about 213 assorted tables so long ago that I had forgotten about them—they're not from the furniture show, but they kind of fit into this advertisement.

Plus all sorts of other furniture that I don't have room to describe because El Cheapo won't buy me any more space. He says this whole advertising bit is a waste anyway. He says that all we have to do is buy cheap, sell cheap, and guarantee our goods and we'll do business without advertising. If he's right, I'll be out of work again!

Cordially,

Jerry Ellis

Jerry Ellis

P.S. Oops! I forgot to tell you that one of the brand-name, noted manufacturers sold us his entire exhibit (all sizes, shapes and kinds) at a huge discount. Come share the savings.

WHS Singers Entertain Rotary

The consensus of opinion among Rotary members is that the new luncheon meeting place at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church is working satisfactorily. Arthur Rand, chairman of the Rotary Auction for this year, states that it will be held on Saturday, April 25. He commented that all committees are functioning properly and that the barn is full so that there should be an ample variety of merchandise available for the auction. As has been customary in the past the auction is followed by the annual Bean Supper.

Tickets are available from any Rotarian or they will be available at the door. It is expected that approximately 400 people will attend the auction and approximately 400 will partake of the Bean Supper.

The proceeds from the auction and bean supper are used to support many of the community youth projects, scholarships and charitable organizations, etc.

This week's program chairman, Charlie Koch, was able to arrange for the Wincheter High School double sextet to entertain the Rotarians after their luncheon meeting. This group is directed by Wendell Withington.

The girls that make up the double sextet are: Carol Anderson Debbie Duffy, Nancy Fontneau, Cathy Lombard, Anita Mucci, Kathy Murphy, Jenni Null, Alisha Paulson, Janice Richardson and Joy Rappucci. Absent from the group that day were Terry Roche and Carole Vallee.

On Tuesday evening, April 7, at 8 p.m. the art association will have as guest speaker Walter Ganshorn. His talk and demonstration will deal with letters and symbols as art forms.

Born in Munich, Mr. Ganshorn went to prep school there and for four years was an apprentice in stage design and painting. He spent three semesters in the Bauhaus Klasse in Munich, and studied under the noted professors Leipfinger, Hegenauer, Bauer and Ege.

Mr. Ganshorn won the National Alphabet design contest in his native Germany. It is still usd by many people and companies, one of which is the Lowenbrau Company. He is now practicing lettering designs for books, bookcovers, greeting cards and displays.

Drugs — The Scene Here

Mailed to Winchester this week was a little red pamphlet that deserves the attention of every person in town. Titled "It's time for CONCERN," the pamphlet represents many hours of diligent and difficult work by the members of Winchester's hard-working drug action committee, the Committee on New Concepts of Educational and Therapeutic Needs.

The introduction to the booklet says, "In an age of drug oriented living, we must realize that along with the comforts of medically approved drug use, there lies an accompanying responsibility to recognize the problems of DRUG ABUSE.

"Young people are 'turning on' in increasing numbers across the nation. Lives are being destroyed by some of the very same chemicals which we designed to save man.

"The youngsters of Winchester are 'turning on' too.

"This booklet is designed to help you to understand our problem, what we are doing about it, and what you can do about it.

"Please be concerned. Now is the time."

Now is definitely the time — not tomorrow after Winchester has followed the footsteps of neighboring Arlington and Needham and recorded a heroin-related death of one of its young people. It can happen here and it will happen here unless every one of the adult residents of this community realizes a responsibility and assists CONCERN in every way possible.

CONCERN can't carry the burden alone — it is up to each individual parent to discuss the drug situation with his child. And not just high school students, but the elementary children who want to emulate the high school students and are unwittingly led into the drug scene because the "big kids" are doing it and are making it look glamorous.

There is nothing glamorous about a young person, naked and freezing in the snow on an LSD trip. There is nothing glamorous about a young person jumping off the roof of a building under a drug-induced belief that he can fly. And these things have happened here — not in Needham or Arlington, but in Winchester. Not to somebody else's child but to children who live here, who attend schools here.

In Winchester there are housebreaks and thefts related to someone's need for money to feed a heroin habit. IT HAPPENS HERE.

Young people here approach druggists with false prescriptions.

In the past several weeks, "Column from CONCERN" on the front page of the Star has dealt with the feelings and beliefs of Winchester students about drugs. These letters have not been "put up" jobs. They are the actual feelings of young people about the drug scene. The writers range in age from junior high through high school. Despite their sophistication, these are young people — our young people — speaking about a situation that existed only in the ghettos and in the slums a generation ago. Now it's a fact of life in middle class America. The pushers aren't shifty-eyed characters from the slums or long-haired hippy-types either. They are the young people themselves.

Letter "B" in the Star on March 26 says, referring to LSD, Mescalin, speed and other drugs, including marijuana, "All these are easily available to any young person in the community who has the desire to try them." This is here—not Arlington, not Needham, but Winchester.

—In CONCERN's booklet it is stated, "The number of drug oriented runaways reported in 1967 was 21. The number of cases in 1969 exceeded 30."

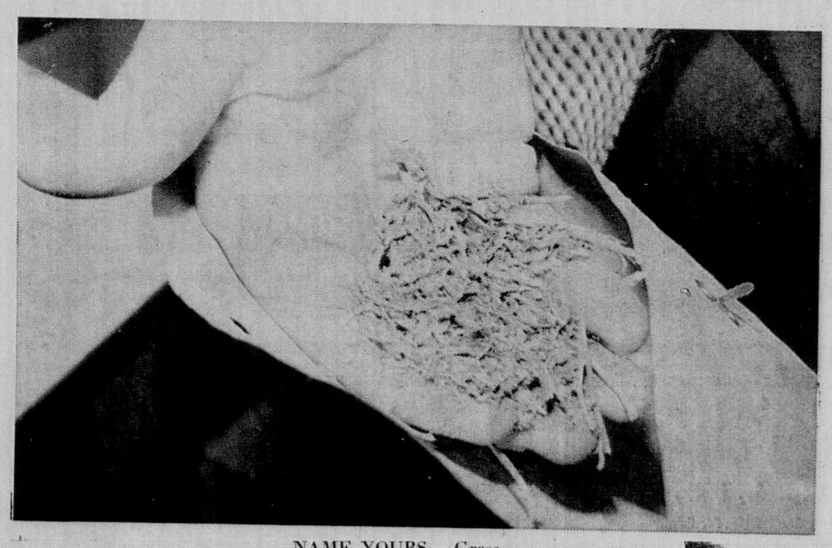

—The pictures below were taken this year at a meeting of CONCERN. The marijuana and the needles were confiscated here by Winchester police.

This is here; this is now. We can't urge too strongly that Winchester must not become complacent. The drug scene is here. It is on the increase. Hard drugs such as heroin are in the scene. This is not simply CONCERN'S problem. It is everyone's problem.

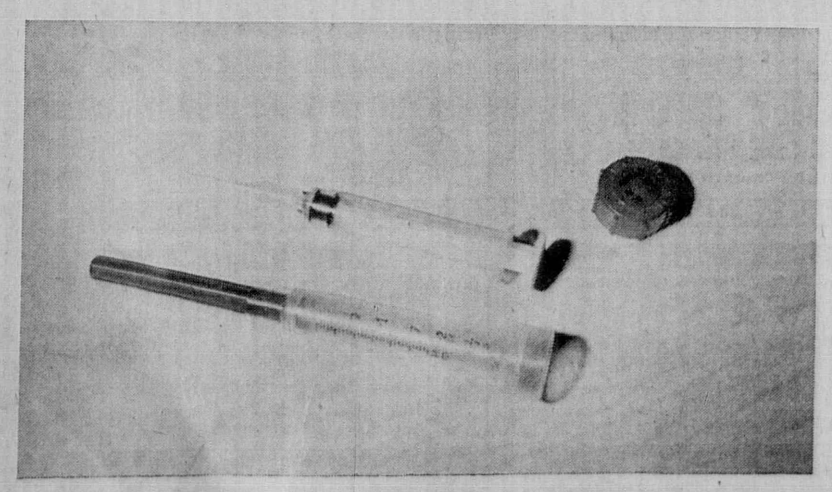

Don't throw the booklet away. Read it.

Reach the young people. Growing up in this generation is different — but the facade of sophistication does not mean our young people don't need help in handling adolescence. The drug scene offers a seeming escape from the myriad problems of becoming an adult in our complex society.

CONCERN meets every third Tuesday of the month in the McCall Junior High School library 7:30 p.m. P.O. Box 293 will answer any questions. Be there — help.

CONCERN

"The marijuana debate lasts intermittently for a week, going through sweet reason to bitter argument. It ends when Joe's father says flatly that marijuana is a drug, and illegal, and that if he ever finds any in the house or sees his son showing the effects of it, he will flatten him. Joe promises that no pot will be smoked in the house. He promises nothing else. It wouldn't make much difference if he did.

"For a while the household is relatively tranquil, but soon Joe grows even more erratic than before. Once or twice he come home very obviously 'high;' says that he smoked a couple of sticks over at Freddie's house, very sorry, won't do it again. He seems very often sleepy; spends long hours in the bathroom and is once found there fast asleep on the floor; falls asleep over his books, and several times burns holes in his bedclothes by falling asleep while smoking in bed.

How Much?

" 'How much of that damn stuff is he smoking?' says his father, and raises the subject of marijuana now and again — producing always a furious shouting match which ends with Joe rushing out of the house, and one, in a fit of violence which terrifies his mother, throwing a chair across the room.

"He is always broke, always borrowing a dollar here and a dollar there without paying them back. His friends, who telephone him several times a day, have the same weedy, semi-entranced look that he often has himself. When not snapping, sulking or dreaming, he will sometimes embrace his mother in a fit of affection so maudlin that it worries her even more than the violence.

"On the day when she first finds a hypodermic syringe in a small unfamiliar box on his dressing-table, Joe comes into the room and sees her with it. 'That's Freddie's, Mom. Freddie's in trouble, he's on dope, I kept it overnight for him. Don't tell Dad, I'm giving it back to him now, that's what I came in for. Don't tell Dad. Freddie's going to kick, I'm helping him, but his old man would kill him if he found out— I gotta help him, Mom . . .'

"He goes on and on, he is very convincing: Mother does not tell Dad about Freddie's syringe. But she begins to pay more detailed attention to the frequent articles in American newspapers about drugs. Though Joe has sworn to her, wide-eyed, that he touches noting but marijuana, one night when he is asleep she peers carefully at the insides of his arms. She has no idea what an addict's 'tracks' look like, and in relief she dismisses the few marks that she sees as the remnants of childhood scratch-scars, with a freckle here and there.

"She does not of course want to believe that her son is a junkie. She feels disloyal even in contemplating the idea. After all he is a nice ordinary boy, from a nice ordinary home; he has never been either deprived or spoiled; family relationships have always been warm . . .

"Within a week or two she meets Joe coming out of the house carrying his ski-boots: a curious burden in the July sunshine. 'Just going to show them to someone, Mom.' A few days later she notices that the radio has vanished from his bedroom. 'I lent it to someone,' he says. 'And my record player. For a party.'

Missing Money

"At about the same time she begins missing money from her handbag — first small amounts, then 10 dollars, then 20. When 40 dollars vanishes one day, she goes to her husband. Joe, confronted, denies having any connection with drugs or the missing money; he is indignant, reproachful and rushes out of the house. He doesn't even ask to borrow his father's car for a third time that day.

"Instead his father uses the car, and finds that when Joe drove it earlier he left something under the front seat. It is a small well-worn box, and inside it are an eye-dropper, a baby's dummy (pacifier), a hypodermic needle in a little plastic scabbard, a blackened bottle-top, two matches and a small piece of cotton. He goes indoors, and searches his son's bedroom. By now he has been doing some reading as well.

"Taped to the back of a picture hanging on the wall he finds a tiny translucent envelope with a largish pinch of white powder inside. In the dressing-table drawer he finds a spoon, with the outside of its bowl blackened like the bottle-top. On a chair there is a leather belt, looped into a circle far too small for a waist, but just the right size for an arm. Joe has been trading on his parents' ignorance for so long that he has been getting careless.

"It is not a good day in the lives of his parents. Before it is over they know that their son has been a heroin addict for more than six months and that he has now a 'four-bag' habit which costs him about $20 a day; that he has traded all his own possessions and some of theirs for drugs, and has as well debts of $500 or more. And far worse than any of this, they have seen him alternately raging and pleading for the little envelope of white powder that he had hidden for his last fix of the day.

"This is their 17 year old son, an archetypal clean-living all American boy, transformed into one of the tens of thousands of teenage junkies whose numbers are rising in the U. S. every day. The plague has arrived in their house and whatever they do from now on, it may never leave. When he first stuck that needle into his arm, Joe gave himself to a compulsion from which the chances of permanent escape are only about one in ten."

ticipating in the program. A showing of the artist's works will be held on April 14 at a Newbury Street gallery. Mr. Rockwell accompanied students on their trip to Italy last summer.

CONCERN

Reporting on the recent CONCERN meeting Committeewoman Mrs. Mary Mears noted that the group's booklet on drugs was soon to be distributed, that the student-to-student program was progressing, and that the "living room dialogues" were still being conducted. She also informed members that smoking of marijuana was known to be taking place in an area of the high school known to students as "the zoo."

Superintendent Klemer addressed the Committee on this problem, saying that High School Principal Howard A. Niblock has since made "the zoo" off-limits to students, that school personnel patrol the lavatories, and that students have been sent home and suspended for smoking. A voluntary program at the junior high level and the Ostrach program are presently in use in the schools. He hoped that a sequential drug education program could be developed over the summer. One of the main concerns, he noted, was to "reduce the ease by which drugs are passed around."

Committee member Paul R. DelRossi expressed disapproval of using the "taxpayers' $6,000" for personnel to take on the task of policing lavatories. He would rather see the money devoted to the drug education program. A member of the audience also questioned whether these matrons were qualified for such positions in their knowledge of drugs and drug laws.

Dr. Richard B. Lawrance, a member of the School Committee and the Elementary School Building Sub-committee, reported on the latter committee's recent meeting. He remarked that the sub-commitee was "excited" about the imaginative architecture being utilized in Marycliff and that this work may serve as a teaching device to the Town on the effective use of other elementary schools in the future.

The report of the sub-committee, which probably will not be distributed before the end of Town Meeting consists of two parts, one covering last year's events and a second up-dating, showing the effects on the original document of Marycliff acquisition.

The meeting was moved into executive session shortly after a discussion of various personnel matters.

For Resignation Explains Reasons

Editor of the Star:

I would like to clear up any misunderstanding of my resignation on March 19 as president of the Winchester High School Student Council. I have received many querries as to my reasoning and there has been much speculation about my being 'pressured' out. I was under no pressure at any time to resign and in fact, if I had ever been pressured I would not have resigned under that circumstance.

The reasoning for my resignation was contrived over a period of several months and, was a rational, calculated decision. My motives were a combination of apprehensions over the future direction of education within the high school, the school system as a whole, and the role of students with the various bodies and institutions which determine the quality and direction of their immediate environment. There were no specific incidents which manifested my resignation but, the following is an indication of my apprehensions.

Apathy was of singular significance. Not only of students, but of faculty and administration as well. Eric Fromm in his book, "The Sane Society," characterizes the individuals I speak of: "Today we come across a person who acts and feels like an automaton; who never experiences anything which is really his; who experiences himself entirely as the person he thinks he is supposed to be; whose artificial smile has replaced genuine laughter; whose meaningless chatter has replaced communicative speech; whose dulled despair has taken the place of genuine pain."

On a more practical level of argument, the new high school offers an excellent example. It is the belief of many members of the high school faculty and administration that the new building will solve all problems. That belief is an absurdity in itself. A new building is an absolute necessity. From all perspective the new building will serve as a mechanism for development, experimentation, and implementation, but, the building itself is not the argument.

The argument is whether the present faculty and administration are genuinely committed to the essential in-depth analysis of present academic material and policy. At this point in time I see no such commitment. Further, there is a complete lack of communication on a person-to-person basis between the general student body and the faculty and administration. Regardless of the lack of space and funds, (which is another point of contention, i.e., Town Meeting 1969 budget cuts for a new personnel and programs, continuous battles over bond issues, etc.) is no excuse for intellectual stagnation now, and leave the student body and their leaders doubting the town's commitment to education.

I hope my resignation will bring serious discussion between students, faculty, and administration. The dialogue itself is a primary step towards attainment of humanistic education in Winchester. At the very least, a general sense of direction.

I would like to thank all the people who have given me support and encouragement over the past three years, I would not want them to feel it was not greatly appreciated, it was.

Sincerely,
Andre Marcous

Personal Responsibility Is Stressed

Editor of the Star:

We were simply thrilled and grateful to see on television the Boy Scouts of Winchester and Woburn removing the discarded junk from the Aberjona River. It would be a tremendous service to our country if this type of project would be undertaken by the Boy Scouts everywhere.

However, this rubbish in our environment was discarded by people who are too selfish, lazy or stupid to take it to our town dumps themselves. These people seem to be of all ages and walks of life, as the cans, bottles and even rubbish bags everywhere bear testimony.

Anyone with any self-respect or sense of decency should feel the personal responsibility to take care of his own rubbish properly. This feeling of "personal responsibility" should be carried to every facet of our lives. Instead of always trying to "blame the other guy" or Washington, if we all would take the personal responsibility to conduct our own lives and jobs as decently and thoroughly as we possibly can, most of the deplorable conditions in our country would disappear.

Thousands of young people, in addition to their school work, are doing their utmost to help in housing rehabilitation, social service, tutoring programs etc. Their idealistic, unprejudiced enthusiasm makes them more successful than adults can be. This youthful feeling of personal responsibility is more valuable than words can express and inspires us all to hope and to greater endeavor.

They say that those who have received the greatest blessings should feel the greatest responsibility and everyone must help. As the Boy Scouts learned, it is fun to choose to work together to clean up a mess. Are we really so far gone that we require a police state to make us do it? We are all in the same boat ultimately and let us remember before it is too late that the other side of the coin of freedom has always been personal responsibility.

A WALK TO THE HILLS OF THE DREAMTIME

by James Vance Marshall

The people of the Bindibu, an aborigine tribe in Australia, are among the most primitive on earth. They own no property, they do not wear clothes or have any personal possessions. What they do have, wives, children, food and drink, is shared equally by members of the tribe. Their lives are devoted to survival, and in the central desert of Australia this is a full-time job. For twenty thousand years they have conducted their lives in very much the same way, a Stone Age culture.

We should not, however, assume, in our twentieth century superiority, that because they are primitive they are uncivilized. In many ways we are the more barbarous. The Bindibu are a gentle, peaceful people having a strong sense of harmony with the land. Each member of the tribe has his own place with its duties and privileges and there is mutual respect for each other.

"A Walk to the Hills of the Dreamtime" is a fictional account of this tribe, but the author has based it on solid research. He says of his work, "My portrait of them and the land they live in is as accurate as it is possible to make it; but some details inevitably are based on conjecture."

Sarah and Joey, aged fourteen and eleven, respectively, were the orphan children of an aborigine woman and a Japanese fisherman and lived in a mission. Without warning an accident suddenly cast them adrift in the nearly untouched wilderness of the Australian Outback. Naively they discuss attempting a walkabout across the desert to the Kimberleys to find their mother's people. Sarah, maturer and more deeply committed to the mission way of life, is hesitant, but Joey overrides her. Her heritage urges him strongly toward the life of the Bushman. It is where they belong, he says.

They set out, mercifully unaware of how remote was the chance of their ever reaching their goal. They were intelligent children and more capable of surviving in that stark land than any white child. But they were woefully ignorant in comparison to the native children whose whole lives had been spent in the desert. Their journey through the Outback is described graphically — the subtleness, the intense colors and grotesque shapes of rock formations, the shimmering heat, the tenacious vegetation, all in vivid detail by one who knew and loved the Australian interior.

The charm of this work lies not in the story of the two children, but chiefly in the picture of life in the Bandibu tribe whom they encounter on their travels and by whom they are tentatively adopted. Sarah cannot easily let go of her Christian values. She has trouble adapting herself to the life of the tribe although she does make friends with a group of young women in spite of the language barrier. Joey, on the other hand, is in his element and does not have the feeling of being torn between two entirely different worlds as does his sister. He learns to make a primitive spear and is invited to go on a hunt with the older men. When the initiation rites for the young boys are celebrated, he is among them.

Through the eyes of these children we see that these people are truly civilized. The little food and water hut they have is shared ungrudgingly. The feeble old ones and the babies are helped when they flag on the walkabout. No one is scolded or ostracized or made to feel unimportant. Even when Joey and Sarah inadvertently violate one of the strongest tabus of the tribe and are thought to have angered the gods and brought bad luck to all, there was no resentment or punishment. And when death seemed to be imminent each one faced it calmly and without regret. It was the time appointed to die and they accented it was equanimity.

It is hoped that when the aborigines of Australia become "civilized," as they inevitably will, they will retain this nobility of spirit.

Letters To The Editor

Vietnam Item To Be Presented At Town Meeting

Editor of the Star:

Earlier this week, I have mailed the following letter to all Town Meeting members. The subject is of interest to all Winchester citizens, and I request publication in the Star so that they also will be informed:

Dear Town Meeting Member:

During the Thursday, April 2nd, session of Town Meeting I intend to move that a resolution regarding United States involvement in Vietnam be discussed and acted upon. I earnestly request your support for the attached resolution.

Let us put aside our other town business for a few moments and discuss this war which has caused such enormous destruction of life and property. The maintenance of an American presence in Vietnam has contributed to the inflated costs of local governments. It has also resulted in increased rates for municipal borrowings, the inability to expect a proportionate share of tax monies to be returned from state and federal governments, and a consequent need to increase again the local tax rate.

Since a group of petitioners, of which I was a member, was denied the legal right to place this resolution in the Town Warrant, it will be necessary to interpose it between articles — a procedure which was recommended to the Selectmen by the Town Counsel. I urge your prompt support in order that our Moderator is made aware of the Town Meeting's willingness to accept this motion on the floor.

Note: See the March 12th edition of the Star for text of the Vietnam resolution.

Would Rather Not Have Icy Streets

Editor of the Star:

We have been residents for ten years and consider Winchester a lovely town. During this period we have been faithful patrons of the town dump. We have patiently waited, and are still waiting for a fire station reasonably near to us. Our daughter has to walk over 20 miles a week to attend school, as we are still one of the few towns without a lunch program.

But these shortcomings, although they are very important, are overshadowed by the two main reasons that make us happy to be Winchesterites.

1) We have a fine school system which to us is of major importance.

2) Being New Englanders, acquainted with the rigors of our winter .storms, we know that thanks to our Highway Department, and the wonderful salt they spread, our roads are always passable when neighboring towns are not.

It gives me a great feeling of security to know that regardless of the weather my husband is always able to drive up our hills. Also, thanks to the use of salt, our streets are always clean for any emergency, such as doctor, fire or police.

Some of us are claiming that the salt is injuring our trees. I wonder if trees are more important than our lives. This is a rapidly changing world. If we must lose a few trees for the safety of our lives, I feel that this is a sacrifice we must make.

I would rather drive on clean safe streets, bare of trees than dangerous icy ones that are pleasing to the eye, until such time as technology permits us to have both.

Sincerely,
Mrs. A. V. Cosentino

"Bobby Orr"

Editor of the Star:

All the way from Parry Sound,
Boston knows that he's around,
109 points but who will know,
Bobby seems to go and go.

Center ice, see him fly,
Fires the puck, and it gets by.
Boston's ahead and the fans all cheer,
The visiting goalie sheds a tear.

Harry Sinden hides a smile
Tension rests for awhile.
John McKenzie leaps for joy,
Bucyk shouts, "that a boy!"

The visitors consider it a sin,
But the Bruins are hoping for a win.
Bobby's helped them out a lot,
Lots of talent that kid's got.

Bobby, humbly, skates to his place,
He still thinks there is improving space.
The fans are thrilled that he can score,
Many more from number 4.

Monday Town Meeting

Mr. Berndt, Attorney Speers said, had gone to the Planning Board last year, and was assured that the new zoning bylaws would be finished in the summer of 1969.

Since the zoning revisions had not been made, the amendment was being sought to carry the question through until the revisions were complete.

Attorney Speers then told the meeting that Mr. Berndt wished to construct an additional eight story unit containing 135 apartments on the Parkview property.

He noted that the present building paid $172,000 in property taxes and approximately $50,000 in automobile excise taxes during 1969. Berndt Realty does not allow families with children in the complex, Attorney Speers noted, and therefore does not add to school costs.

Concluding his remarks, Attorney Speers said that there was not another place in town zoned business where an apartment house meeting the requirements in the amendment could be constructed and, therefore, the Town would not be opening the way for a great rush of apartment house construction.

Otto Schaefer, speaking for the Planning Board, commented that his Board had held a public hearing on the proposed amendment on March 2.

About 13 people attended that hearing, he said, and all were opposed to the amendment.

The Planning Board voted unanimously against the amendment and urged an unfavorable vote by the Town Meeting, he said.

Further commenting that he had seen many attempts at rezoning for apartment house construction in the past 10 years, Mr. Schaefer said that for the most part the attempts were for the benefit of the individual and not for the good of the whole town.

Noting that Mr. Berndt did appear before the Planning Board last year, Mr. Schaefer said that he was not told that the revisions would be done last summer.

Mr. Schaefer then stated that the Board expected to hold informal hearings on the revisions in June and that a formal hearing would be held in September with a Special Town Meeting possible in October to vote on the revisions.

Commenting that zoning was an effort to control density, Mr. Schaefer said that the fact that there would be no children did not mean that no services would be required.

The current structure, he said, contains approximately 29 units per acre which is twice the density desired by the Town and the proposed additional structure would bring this number to 42 per acre.

Noting that 52 per cent of the tax base goes to areas other than schools, he said that the building will use its proportionate share of services.

The additional increase in the Town valuation, not offset by an increase in the school population, he said, would be detrimental to reimbursement of school costs by the state since valuation and school population are used in the formula to determine reimbursement.

Mr. Schaefer concluded that the construction would not bring a net gain for the Town.

Selectmen Speak

Selectmen Chairman Paul Amico said that his Board had met with the Planning Board, and, realizing that the zoning revisions would be made this year, recommended unfavorable action on the article.

Finance Committee Chairman Robert Grenzeback, noting that even a net gain of $30,000 was better than nothing, said that his committee voted favorable action, although not unanimously.

Moderator Chadwick then opened the article to questions from the floor.

Town Meeting Member Eugene Rotondi Sr. asked if the revisions would allow apartment construction in the future. In answering him, Mr. Schaefer said that it contains certain types of apartment house zoning in certain districts.

Mrs. Marshall Kincaid noted that the Town Meeting should be demanding the zoning revisions from the Planning Board immediately.

Arthur Hewis noted that density was an important question on Swanton Street, especially with regard to the traffic problem.

Children

Several questions were then asked relating to future owners' policies on children.

The vote was then taken with 144 voting in opposition and 19 in favor.

Taken up next was Article 11 concerning the extension of the proposed access and parking area for the Muraco School on Bates Road.

The article had been deferred earlier pending additional information.

Mr. Amico, speaking on the article on behalf of the Selectmen, said that the access routes currently were a traffic hazard and that the Town would receive state aid on the construction. The Selectmen recommended favorable action.

The Planning Board, represented by Mr. Schaefer, also recommended favorable action.

School Committee Chairman Harriet Dieterich, expressing her committee's approval of the article, stated that the extension would make traveling safer for the children.

The article received a favorable vote.

Veterans' Memorials

Article 14, concerning construction of veterans' memorials was then considered.

Caretaker of Veterans' Graves John T. Horn reported that the construction would eliminate the cost of flowers presently purchased to decorate each veteran's grave on Memorial Day. These flowers are wasted through vandalism and theft.

Town Meeting Member Walter J. Farrell Jr. then spoke on an alternate motion, proposed by him and seconded by Town Meeting Member Elizabeth Herberich, that a living memorial to veterans be made in the form of an annual contribution to the Winchester Scholarship Fund.

After discussion, a motion was made to table the article, however, the motion was not seconded. The amendment was voted on and lost.

Following that, the main motion was passed.

The deferred budget for the Caretaker of Veterans' Graves was then considered. The figure was amended from $1,954 to $644 and was passed.

Considered next were three articles from the Conservation Commission.

Speaking on Article 15 was Conservation Commission Chairman Stephen Moore who reported on his committee's activities during the past year and requested $2,000 to continue its studies.

The article was passed.

Article 16, concerning the acquisition of the Dudgeon property on Johnson Road, was then discussed. Mr. Moore noted that acquisition of the land would provide better access to the Conservation Commission's land in the Smith Pond area. This article also was passed and $1,000 appropriated.

Article 17 concerned the acquisition of 6.5 acres of land between Ridge and Cambridge Streets at a cost of approximately $25,000.

The land provides further access to currently owned Conservation Commission property. After some discussion, the article was passed by a vote of 153 in favor and 10 against.

Tradition

In a kind of show business tradition Frankie was "born in a trunk" in Cambridge. His folks were traveling entertainers who provided his education on the move, and put him on stage with his father, "The Baron," a well-known singer in the variety circuit.

Young Frankie took his talent for singing and impersonations to the Major Bowes program, the fore-runner of the Amateur Hour, and won a tour contract hands down when he was about 16 years old.

He interrupted his touring long enough to marry Alma Wakeham of Medford and started working on a family which at the latest count includes 11 children.

People watching the late shows on television are often surprised to suddenly see Frankie appear on the screen in an old film. He made about 12 movies during a five-year stay in Hollywood from 1949 on. He worked with Jane Powell in "Nancy Goes To Rio," had a part in "Stella" and played a role with stars like Bing Crosby and others.

Frank is as big a hit with the small-fry as he is with adults. Some of his finest shows have been done, unknown to the public, in children's hospital wards in cities where he may be appearing at an expensive nightspot. He loves them and they return his love by laughing and forgetting their sickness for a few minutes.

Around the world thousands of police, fire fighters, and religious groups of a variety of denominations have felt the rapport his special brand of friendly humor radiates, whether it be at an early communion breakfast or a benefit stint at night between exhausting saloon shows.

A personal friend to the near great and the great such as former President Harry Truman, the late Ike Eisenhower and now President Nixon as well as in his own field of entertainment, Frank still is happy when he can come back to his home in Middlesex County to be with old friends also.

Frankie Fontaine, as a man who is confident of his art as a showman and sensitive in his role as a human being, represents the best in "show biz" and citizenship in Middlesex County.

Rotary

No better portrayal of Rotary's unselfish ideal of "Service Above Self" can be exemplified than on such a rigid and continuing basis as is practiced by the Winchester Rotary Club members. At the same time it enhances the true elements of Rotary fellowship, mutual respect, vocational exchange, human relations, and self dignity.

The award will be presented on Thursday, April 16, to the president of the Rotary Club, Albert S. Hovannesian of 3 Pocahontas Road, by the governor of the district, Anthony Frasca of Lynn, upon occasion of the Governor's banquet at the District 793 Spring Conference being held on April 15th and 16th at the Hotel Somerset in Boston. Massachusetts State Commissioner of Administration and Finance, Donald R. Dwight, will be the guest of honor.

Rotary International is a world-wide service association of over 14,000 Rotary clubs (of which Winchester can boast being in the top 1 per cent bracket with this significant achievement award) with a membership of 660,500 business and professional men in 148 countries. There are 37 Rotary clubs in the cities and towns embracing district 793 including Boston, Cambridge, Arlington, Belmont, Reading, Stoneham, Lexington, Woburn, Medford, Lynn, Gloucester, Melrose, Somerville, and several other communities.

Most highways have maximum speed limits—often temporarily reduced by a slow-moving vehicle. Don't lose your patience, warns the Institute for Safer Living. The only safe speed is the speed of traffic flow. Always move with it! Be especially alert on throughways where driving is faster and smooth-

Boy Scouts

Garden Club Announces Plans For "Anti-Litter"

The Winchester Garden Club held its monthly meeting on Thursday, March 26, at the home of Mrs. Henry K. Spencer with Mrs. W. Campbell Ross as co-hostess.

After a coffee hour Mrs. Philip P. Wadsworth presided at the business meeting. Miss Corinne Mead, chairman of conservation, announced that six acres of Thompson Pond and 3,000 feet of land adjacent to Smith Pond might be available to the town for conservation purposes.

Mrs. Alexander Aiken, chairman, and Mrs. Harold Meyer, co-chairman, announced plans for "Anti-Litter Week" to be held from May 9 to 16. The objectives are to promote an awareness of the appearance of the Town and gain the co-operation of all residents, especially the young people who gather downtown, to use the litter baskets it. The campaign will emphasize that Winchester is a lovely Town, but that litter is not lovely.

Mrs. Maurice T. Freeman introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Michael J. Kartuz, owner of Kartuz Greenhouses, Wilmington. His subject was house plants. His various species, blooming profusely and arranged artistically, were most enticing to the indoor gardener. Mr. Fartuz was generous with advice on proper light and water. A question and answer period followed his lecture.

At the close of the meeting, each member was presented with an orchid corsage by Mrs. Maurice Freeman as a tribute to this Easter season from the Freeman's Greenhouse.

Craig Heindel To Teach In No. Carolina

Craig D. Heindel, a Dartmouth College junior from Winchester, is one of two students who will be spending the next academic term as teaching assistants in Brasstown, North Carolina.

The Brasstown Project is one of many intern programs sponsored by the William Jewett Tucker Foundation at Dartmouth, which seeks to combine academic pursuits and personal encounter with the critical social and moral issues of the time.

The student interns are enrolled as full-time students at Dartmouth and receive a term's credit for their work, their activity in the local and community projects being evaluated by teachers who work closely with members of the Dartmouth faculty.

Mr. Heindel and his fellow intern to the rural highlands of western North Carolina will immerse themselves in two distinctly different yet overlapping cultures. A rather typical American public high school in Murphy, North Carolina (a town of approximately 2250 population) provides the teaching experience intrinsic to all Tucker programs. Mr. Heindel will have the chance to teach in courses he may select because of interest or expertise, and the high school offers opportunities to coach sports, advise clubs, or counsel youth activism.

The John C. Campbell Folk School, in Brasstown, some 10 miles to the southeast of the high school, will be the actual center for Mr. Heindel's activities. The emphasis at the Folk School is on teaching and learning by doing things along with others — dairying, blacksmithing, woodcarving, carpentering, weaving, farming, folk dancing, tale telling and lapidary work — to help revitalize and preserve the best of the culture of the community.

Mr. Heindel's schedule will include learning occupational skills and a craft, study in small discussion groups and evening sessions in creative recreation. In addition to these activities, Mr. Heindel will be expected to write two papers in fulfillment of the academic requirements for the term, with one of these being a personal account of his stay in Brasstown or a report on some aspect of his educational experience.

Upon returning to Hanover for the resumption of regular studies next fall, Mr. Heindel and his fellow intern will continue with the project as discussion leaders for the orientation of the next group of interns.

Mr. Heindel, a 1967 graduate of Winchester High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Heindel of 17 Seneca Road. He has been active at Dartmouth with the Glee Club and the Outing Club, and he is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Ecumenical Baptism Planned

This Sunday, at the 11 a.m. service of worship there will be an ecumenical celebration of the sacrament of baptism at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church at Church and Dix Streets.

Dr. Allen Broyles, pastor of the church said, "We're in a new day in the life of the Christian Church. One sign of our new sense of unity and mission is the growing acknowledgement by all Christians of the integrity and validity of the worship and sacraments practiced in one another's churches.

"This is especially clear with the sacrament of baptism. With the exception of only a few Eastern Orthodox and Baptist Churches, all the various Protestant, Orthodox, and Roman Catholic Churches acknowledge the validity of each others' sacrament of baptism. Because of this, one is really no longer baptized into a branch of the Christian Church, but one is now baptized into the church universal — into the whole Christian fellowship.

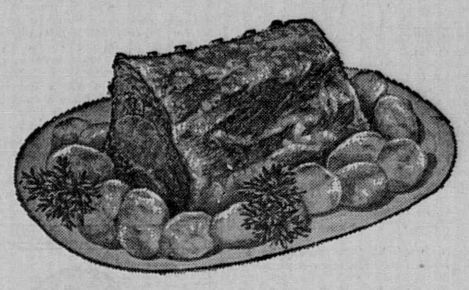

"This Sunday we shall celebrate this new stage of unity as Monsignor Joseph Lyons, pastor of St. Eulalia's, and Professor Paul Deats, professor of Christian Social Ethics at Boston University School of Theology, join me in the administration of this sacrament of baptism."

Those to be baptized are Mark Albano, Marianne Broyles, Alan Brust, David Goodell and Mark Goodell.

Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers, professor emeritus of Preaching and Applied Christianity of Boston University School of Theology, will preach on the meaning of the Christian Discipleship that is shared by all baptized Christians. The title of his sermon is "What Is My Signature?"

Sunday, April 5
Effective ways to meet the problems of greed, injustice, intemperance, and violence are described in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, April 5. The subject is "Unreality."
Many of the Bible citations are from Proverbs, contrasting the folly of destructive habits with the peace of spiritual understanding. "For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold."
Examples of real and unreal pursuits are given from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. She states, "Take away wealth, fame, and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principle."

Nursery School Open House Is Planned

Before deciding on a nursery school for next fall, come to the Neighborhood Co-operative Nursery School's open house Wednesday evening, April 8, at 7:45 p.m.
The school is located in the Second Congregational Church on the corner of Kenwin Road and Washington Street.
The open house is being held for the purpose of showing prospective members the facilities and explaining the program. Coffee and refreshments will be served and visitors will have an opportunity to meet members of this year's co-op and talk with them about the nursery school.
Enrollment is open to children between the ages of three and five and classes will be limited to 15. There will be two sessions, a Monday/Wednesday and a Tuesday/Thursday which meet from 9-11:30 a.m. The morning routine includes free play, group activities, a story and/or music period and, when weather permits, a trip to the playground across the street.
The nursery school is a true cooperative effort with two mothers helping each morning in the classroom, assisting the qualified teacher, and participating in policy making as well as all the activities involved in maintaining the school.
The main purpose of the nursery school is to provide the children with opportunities for social contact and informal learning experiences in the form of group activities and a wide variety of materials with which to play. The program is enriched by field trips and special resource people in the areas of music and art. Mothers are also encouraged to contribute their special talents and interests in developing projects for the children.
Applications will be accepted starting April 8. For further information call Mrs. Lewis Thompson at 729-8063.

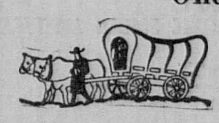

Latter-Day Saints To Hold Meeting

Ninety-three-year-old Joseph Fielding Smith, tenth president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, will preside and direct his first World Wide Conference on April 4th, 5th, and 6th.
This event will be held at the 103 year-old Tabernacle of Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah. A special session on the 6th will give church members the opportunity to sustain the new prophet and president of the church.
Such a meeting has not occurred for 19 years. It was in the conference of 1951 that David O. McKay was sustained as the Prophet in a similar meeting. Assisting President Smith with conference arrangements are his two counselors, Harold B. Lee and N. Eldon Tanner.
The 375 voice Mormon Tabernacle Choir will be a highlight of general conference, along with distinguished choirs rendering sacred music.
Speakers for the three-day convocation will include the General Authorities. They are prominent leaders in business, education, government; they direct church affairs. As a special treat for the New England area, Dr. Paul H. Dunn of the First Counsel of Seventy and President of the New England Mission will address the conference viewers. Dr. Dunn directs the activities of the Church in the New England States and Maritime Provinces of Canada, of which Massachusetts is part.
One session of this special Easter Service will be televised over Boston Channel WHDH-TV, Channel 5 on Sunday, April 5th from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m.
Andrew Jackson, seventh president, seldom held cabinet meetings, but rather relied on a small group of advisors whom the newspapers dubbed the "Kitchen Cabinet."

Church Group To Attend Conference

Winchester area Jehovah's Witnesses will be included in a special training course arranged by the Watchtower Bible Society at Natick High School this weekend, April 3-5.
Some 1300 persons from eastern and central Massachusetts, a "circuit" of 17 congregations, have been invited to the semi-annual review of methods used by Jehovah's Witnesses to the public ministry.
The regular meetings of the Burlington congregation at the Kingdom Hall, 136 Winn Street, Burlington, will be cancelled this weekend. According to Paul G. Genaris, presiding minister, "Our whole congregation, in fact all Jehovah's Witnesses, of all ages and walks of life, attend these gatherings to learn how to effectively conduct weekly Bible studies in the homes of interested neighbors."
The Natick assembly is a necessary tool in addition to the five hours of weekly congregational classes offered to the 1.3 million Witnesses active in the public ministry worldwide," Mr. Genaris said.
The entire program from Friday at 6:45 p.m. through Sunday afternoon is free and open to the public. Witnesses from the Burlington congregation will carry out their ministerial work in Natick on Saturday and Sunday morning, personally inviting each household to the special address, "Withstanding the Pressures of Our Day," on Sunday at 2 p.m. by Harry A. Fetzik, New England representative of the Watchtower Society.

Gloria Tatarian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tatarian of 23 Oneida Road, was initiated into the Alpha Upsilon chapter of Delta Zeta sorority at the University of Maine. She is a freshman majoring in elementary education.

Taxes Collected In This Area Are Predicted

How much will the government be collecting from residents of Middlesex County when tax day, April 15, rolls around?

Will it be more than it was last April when local contributions, including the amounts paid via withholding taxes, added up to approximately $805,077,000?

It will be well above that, the Treasury Department expects, because earnings in the local area were larger, on average, than they were the year before and because the 10 percent surtax was in effect throughout the year.

The size of the tax load borne by area residents is estimated from figures released by the Internal Revenue Service covering the State of Massachusetts as a whole.

They show that individual income taxes collected in the state last year came to $2,949,000,000, with local taxpayers producing some 27.3 percent of the total.

Just how much bigger the tax haul will be this year, if the government's expectations are realized, is indicated in the budget recently submitted to Congress. It predicts that personal income taxes will reach $92.2 billion nationally, or about $5 billion more than last April.

Taxpayers in Middlesex County, in line with the economic advances made in the local area in the past year, are counted on for a proportionate share of this hike.

Their tax payments, based upon preliminary income reports, are expected to be about $853,382,000, or some $48,305,000 more than in the previous year.

In the following fiscal year, according to the budget, personal income taxes will be $1.2 billion lower than this year.

That is because the economy generally is in the doldrums, with more unemployment in 1969, and because the surtax was reduced from 10 percent to five percent for the first half of 1970 and will be eliminated entirely in the second half of the year.

As a partial offset to this loss, the Administration has proposed a speedup in the collection of certain taxes, to produce a one-shot windfall of $1.6 billion, an increase in taxes for those using the nation's highways and airways, a delay in paying wage increases to Federal employees and certain other adjustments.

Mrs. Yagjian Wins Award In Garden Show

Mrs. Gardy Yagjiam of the Winchester Home and Garden Club has been awarded third prize in Class V, "The Taste of Color," for her arrangement, in the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts section of the 99th New England Spring Garden and Flower Show which ended March 22 at Suffolk Downs, East Boston.

Five classes of original designs interpreted "The Light of Color" theme designed to stimulate the five senses. A dazzling display of vari-colored lights enhanced the visitors' walk through a maze of subtly changing moods interpreted through flowers. Arrangements in this portion of the show were changed four times during the show to insure freshness and variety, and were in competition for three major awards.

Aegean Trip To Include WHS Sophomores

A summer study trip to the Aegean area planned by the School Department has been expanded to include sophomores who are interested, according to school officials.

A slide presentation by Dr. Howard Frazier of Harvard showed the area and its attractions and study potential at a meeting for students and parents held Monday, March 23. Any interested sophomores, juniors and seniors who need further information on the trip are encouraged to get in touch with the Guidance Department.

The 40-day trip will cost $800 including air fare from Boston to Rome, full room and board and transportation and course expenses. The trip will begin in Rome during the first week in July and run through the first week in August.

The Aegean area trip will cover visits to Greece, Turkey and the Greek islands. It will be a camping trip and students will take sleeping bags and air mattresses to use in the tents which will be provided for stays in camp sites along the route. The purpose of the trip is to study Greek and Roman civilization around the Aegean, the cradle of modern civilization.

Fifteen students and a Winchester faculty member will be joined by an equal number of students who attend the Overseas School of Rome.

Merily Ober Is Member Of Fashion Council

Merily Ober, a senior at Winchester High School won second prize of a $100 bond for the outfit she made and modeled in the Creative Fashion Council spring competition held on Saturday, March 14, at Jordan Marsh in Boston.

MERILY OBER

As a member of the Fashion Council, Merily and representatives of 26 high schools in the Boston area meet once each month. Guest speakers present views on fashions and fabrics and Merily reports back to other W.H.S. home economics students.

Each member of the Council must make a fall and spring outfit for the fashion show and competition.

Merily's prize-winning outfit was a lined, baby blue and white checkered vest with a matching pleated checkered mini skirt in acrylic fabric. She made it in two weeks in between studying and keeping in shape to be co-captain of girls' tennis, play on the basketball team and field hockey.

Following graduation Merily plans to go on to a career in nursing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merton E. Ober Jr. of 4 Euclid Avenue.

Antiques Show Features Works Of D. T. West

The upcoming annual Antiques Show and Sale, April 7 and 8 at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, will feature the works of the late Daniel T. West of Winchester.

The Godwin's of The Packet Antiques acquired his pieces at the recent sale of the Captain West estate on Mason Street. The works will be for sale as well as display.

Dan West used the mediums of oils, water colors, and silver point. In 1934 his entire collection was shown at the Robert T. Vose Galleries in Boston, receiving acclaim at this time. While a student at Winchester High School, he was president of the class of 1931 and vice president of the dramatics club.

Various of his paintings were the product of a 4,500 mile voyage in the Atlantic and the Caribbean Sea. He accompanied his cousin, William A. Robinson, author of "10,000 Leagues Over the Sea." The original model of the boat they piloted and two first editions of this book will also be on display at the show.

Some of his oils and water colors are scenes of the Mystic Lakes shoreline and other areas of the Middlesex Fells.

Dan West, an artist of much promise, was stricken with infantile paralysis and died at the age of 24.

The Antiques Show and Sale will also be highlighted by the antiques of Mrs. Richard Starrack of Main Street, Mrs. Jack Babakian of Penn Road, and Mrs. Virginia Nicholson of Lexington, as well as many other dealers.

Mrs. Olive Wilkins of Clematis Street is serving as chairman of the event.

Students Sample Foreign Foods At Vinson-Owen

An International Buffet was the culmination of studies of foreign lands for Vinson-Owen second graders. Through the efforts of mothers a lavish table was spread with delicacies for the tiny gourmets.

Teacher Miss Rita Gramzow coordinated the project as the finale to study of food,, clothing and shelter around the world, part of the curriculum in social studies for grade two.

The 48 second graders came in costume, many authentic, to sample the quiche lorraine (France), chili and tacos (Mexico), grape leaves (Armenia), lasagne (Italy), and chow mein (China), among many other main courses. To top off the experience with a foreign flavor, desserts included crepes from France, trifle from England, kourabiedes from Greece, Baklava from Armenia and fortune cookies from China. Representing the United States was a beverage from the fiftieth state, Hawaian Punch.

The students sang some of the songs they had learned about different countries and customs as they waited for their turns to try the foods.

McCall Parents To Hear Robert DeIulio

What are the bounds of parental authority? Of the school's authority? Root problems for parents of junior high youngsters, these questions will be discussed at McCall Junior High School on Tuesday evening, April 7.

The speaker will be psychologist Robert DeIulio, of Boston University, a specialist in counseling who has done much group work with young people.

This lecture-discussion was added to the McCall Parents' Association calendar in an attempt to share and clarify thinking on the much-challenged concept of authority.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the McCall cafeteria, where coffee will be served. All interested parents are welcome.

He was among several other award winners who attended the luncheon which was held at the Kernwood Restaurant, Lynnfield, to honor long-time employees.

Most people try to save at the end of the week when there isn't anything left to save. The secret — make savings the first item in your weekly budget. Consider it an expense, and make your first check payable to your savings account.

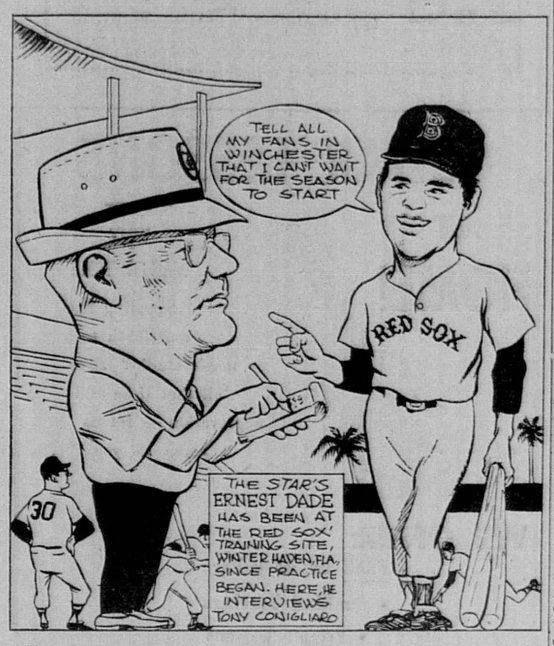

Of course, different people have different needs — so we've developed a number of savings plans. And it makes a lot of sense to have your savings account at a bank where you can have the services of a Personal Banker.

Regular savings, ninety day notice account, a program of guaranteed investment certificates, whatever — your Personal Banker will take the time to find the plan that will help you start a sensible system of savings.

Weather Man Slows Spring Sports Work

by John F. Parrell

Just when the players and coaches of spring sports felt that the time was ripe for outdoor practice the fickle New England weather turned toward winter.

The eight inches of snow dumped on the practice fields may melt fast under the higher spring sun but the resulting quagmires will probably be slow in getting into playable condition for sports.

Although the opening game for Coach Bill Colella's baseball nine will not come until next Wednesday, the Sachem nine will be handicapped not only because of lack of practice but because an attractive exhibition game schedule will also be forced to be scrapped.

Track and lacrosse will be similarly set back in their training work but will have the benefit of at least another week before they swing into action.

The Emancipation Proclamation as written by President Lincoln is still in existence. In 1864 the document was sold at a bazaar to benefit wounded soldiers. Later, the New York legislature appropriated funds to buy the proclamation and added it to historic papers in Albany.

Pee Wee Soccer Tryouts Held

The second Saturday of Pee Wee soccer tryouts produced 27 candidates.

Because of their enthusiasm and skill, it was decided to place all of the boys on the team.

The Boston Area Youth Soccer League stipulates that only 15 boys may be brought to a game, therefore on Saturdays all boys will scrimmage, and on Sundays, a select team of 15 will play in league competition.

The Pee Wee League will include teams from Winchester, Hudson, Medford and Dorchester. Each team will play the others once at home and once away, plus a knockout competition scheduled for the last three weeks of the season.

Practice wil be held at Leonard Field, Saturday April 4, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., and the boys are asked to bring $2.50 for the cost of the teams' shirts.

Pee Wee B's Down Bedford In Overtime

Greg Fuccillo stuffed one in the corner three minutes into the second overtime period as the Pee Wee B's dropped Bedford 1 to 0 to move into the Division I finals next week.

Stymied many times by a strong Ranger goalie, the B's kept coming back and kept the pressure on.

To hold Bedford at bay took a lot of defense and the locals had it from scrappy Bill Maggio, playing his finest game in goal, to the hard-hitting defense corps led by Phil Neergaard and Andy deMars. The defense was stronger in this game than it has been all year as the forechecking wings led by Phil Casey and Jim Beaton kept the Rangers bottled up.

After hitting the post a number of times and having Chip Hartnett's goal disallowed the locals were hungry and ready. They wanted this win badly and were not to be denied — the heat was on! Phil Casey, skating a strong game, and Rich Coakley, who had another fine game, worked the puck into Greg Fuccillo behind the net and "that's the ball game!" Greg slashed around the side and jammed it in low — a great effort by the "spark plug."

Next week the locals face Arlington in the finals at 7 p.m. at the Bedford Ice Palace. This is the strong Arlington club that beat the B's twice in three games, so the hometowners better be up and ready to play a strong game.

Belmont Team State Champs In Hockey

Belmont's Pee Wee hockey team strung a skein of 19 straight victories together and capped an exceptional season by being crowned state champions at the State Pee Wee Hockey Championship Tourney held recently at the Weymouth rink.

This accomplishment is of interest locally as Belmont features four skaters from Winchester.

The state champions were led by their star center Tom Brennan of 36 Central Street who led the Greater Boston Pee Wee league in scoring and it was Tom who scored the winning goal in the state championship final game as Belmont defeated Wakefield 2-0.

Hard skating Jim Graham of 6 Mason Street was only seven points behind Brenan in the scoring race as he centered the second line through the season for the Belmont sextet. Although Jimmy's point production was impressive it was his defensive prowess that overshadowed his other talents.

Ron Martignetti of 10 Lockeland Road was another Sachem playing for Belmont. As the hardest hitting defense man in the league, Ron's reputation made many opposing skaters keep their heads up when approaching the Belmont end of the ice. Ron also possesses an excellent shot and was a threat to go "all the way" any time he had the puck on his stick.

Cliff Falla of 306 Washington Street played goal for the state champs and produced an almost unbelievable goals against average of 0.35 per game, including three shutouts over the starry Wakefield Pee Wees. As a result of his heroics in Belmont's drive to the state championship Cliff was chosen to the league all star team.

All four boys are products of St. Mary's CYO hockey program, as well as Winchester Youth Hockey and have played on the Winchester Pee Wee teams for the last two years, including the Winchester championship Pee Wee team of 1968 coached by Jim Murphy that ran through all opponents undefeated.

Jim Graham and Tom Brennan now graduate to bantam programs but Ron Martignetti and Cliff Falla each have one more season as Pee Wees, and are the only members of this year's championship team returning to the Belmont colors next season.

The boys know that the excellent help and coaching received from many people have contributed to their being able to call themselves the best Pee Wee Hockey team in Massachusetts.

The boys express their gratitude to Mr. Cruwys and Winchester Youth Hockey, to the St. Mary's CYO hockey program, coached by John Falla, to Frank Brennan who selected each boy and coached them in the '69 season and to their current Belmont coach, Paul Surette.

Channel 2 Art Preview

"All that glitters is not gold" . . . except in a few cases. Last year the glittering preview of art prior to the Channel Two telephone auction caused a great deal of gold to roll into the coffers of the local NET station. In fact, the sale of art last year, brought more money for WGBH than any other category in the auction.

To entice potential art buyers to Art Night, Sunday evening May 31, at which time Channel Two will auction off all art donated, an art preview will again be held at the Prudential Gallery.

During May 18-28 the Gallery will display the cream of the watercolors, oil paintings, sculpture, lithographs, pen and ink sketches, woodcuts, etc., donated to the fund raising event by artists or friends of Channel Two.

All art is judged by an art committee and the selections they deem the finest will be exhibited at the preview. For this reason, art donations should be made soon. Artists tend to procrastinate and the result might be a lost opportunity to take part in the exhibit. If anyone would like to donate a piece of art please contact Mrs. Russell Bollinger, 13 Fenwick Road.

Last year, the work of a Winchester artist, Elizabeth O'Malley was chosen to be on display at the preview.

No art is actually sold at the preview. Instead, art lovers are given the opportunity to peruse what is shown and to bid on it. The highest bids on each piece will start the telephone bidding on the air when all art will be sold. This will be the second night of the televised auction, Sunday, May 31.

Reduction In Mumps Cases Is Statewide

Statistics from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health disclose that the State has achieved a 50.4 per cent reduction in mumps in 1969. The Winchester Board of Health records six cases of mumps in 1969, as compared to nine in 1968.

A total of 4,476 cases were reported in the State in 1969. This is down from 9,024 cases in 1968. In Middlesex County the figures are 1,351 in 1969 and 1,631 in 1968.

The live, attenuated mumps vaccine was licensed on January 5, 1968. The vaccine is safe and effective. There are practically no reactions following its use.

The cost of the vaccine prohibited its distribution to private physicians so the statewide program was limited to the immunization of susceptible students from kindergarten through junior high school.

It is hoped that by the end of 1970, immunization of the remaining susceptible school population from kindergarten through junior high school will have been completed. Then attention can be focused on immunizing the susceptible preschool children beginning at age one.

Nicholas J. Fiumara, director of the division of communicable diseases for the State then concludes, "It is reasonable, therefore, to expect that if clinical and public health medicine continue at their present efficiency, mumps will be eliminated from Massachusetts in two more years."

In 1920 the War Department established the principle of granting shoulder insignia to all units of division size or higher. In exceptional cases a unit smaller than a division is authorized its own patch.

Social Security

A very important part of the Social Security Medicare Program is the "open enrollment" period for supplementary medical insurance, more commonly known as "Part B" or doctor bills coverage. This period occurs every year from January 1 through March 31.

This period is for the benefit of people who did not sign up for "Part B" of Medicare at the time they reached age 65. This part of Medicare covers doctors bills and other expenses and is strictly voluntary. However, there is a definite time limit involved and people who missed filing for "Part B" during their original enrollment period should inquire at the nearest Social Security office about this coverage.

Many people over 65 who have never filed evidently misunderstood certain provisions of the law. Some people thought they would have to retire completely or at least partially in order to qualify for coverage. This is incorrect. A working person age 65 or over may enroll in the Medicare Program.

The Cambridge Social Security office is open Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and until 8 p.m. on Wednesday.

Dinner Marks The Retirement Of J. J. McDonald

John James McDonald of 3 Overlook Way is retiring from the Brown Company after serving the paper industry for 42 years in positions ranging from chemist to vice president of the firm.

JOHN J. McDONALD

A testimonial in his honor was held on Tuesday, March 24, at Anthony's Pier 4, Boston. Appreciation for Mr. McDonald's service and friendship throughout these years was voiced by Brown Company President George D. Kennedy and a close friend, the Lord Mayor of Copenhagen, the Honorable Urban Hansen.

A graduate of the University of New Hampshire, he was instrumental in introducing hardwood pulp into paper making and in the development of dissolving pulp. During his administration of pulp operations for the company, he added the Kodak and Dupont accounts to those of Brown.

For the past 10 years he has served as vice president of the firm which is listed by Fortune magazine as one of the 500 largest companies in the United States.

Rome Program Benefit Slated On April 14

The Shore Gallery will be the scene of a benefit pre-opening showing of the sculpture of Peter Rockwell, son of Norman Rockwell, the artist, on Tuesday, April 14.

Cocktails will be served from 5 to 9 p.m. at the gallery at 179 Newbury Street, Boston.

The preview of Mr. Rockwell's works prior to his first Boston exhibition is a benefit for the Winchester-Rome Scholarship. As a teacher of art history at the Overseas School of Rome, Mr. Rockwell directs summer study tours of the area in conjunction with the School-to-School program of Winchester Public Schools and the Rome School.

The Citizens' Committee for the Rome Summer Program hopes to make scholarship aid available for students from Winchester who otherwise would be unable to make the trip. Through the donations received from this pre-opening showing the committee hopes to further the educational project. It will also provide an opportunity for all to meet Peter Rockwell and see his work.

Tickets are available through Mrs. Martha Grenzeback at 729-4224, chairman of the committee.

Housing Authority Voted At Town Meeting Session; Water Rate To Increase

Only five articles of the 1970 Annual Town Meeting warrant remain for consideration at tonight's adjourned session to be held in the High School auditorium at 7:45 p.m.

At Monday's session, the meeting took action on 13 of the 38 articles contained in the warrant.

Included were articles concerning the feasibility of purchasing or leasing school busses; the renaming of Marycliff Academy; the purchase of portable classrooms; amendment of the Town Bylaws to provide for an increase in towing charges; and an increase in the water rates.

At Thursday's session, the meeting voted to form a Housing Authority and to purchase the computer presently in use by the Town.

The computer, a Honeywell 110, will cost the Town $80,000. At the same time, the data processing budget was approved with a reduction of approximately $13,000 in the area of contractual services. The reduction was made possible by the purchase of the computer.

At that session, the Town Meeting also voted to purchase additional land in the Smith Pond area for the Conservation Commission. Approximately $26,000 was appropriated for the purchase of the two parcels of land.

The first article to be considered tonight is Article 33 concerning the construction of a fire station on the West Side.

Tonight's session of the Town Meeting will be broadcast on WHSR-FM, the high school radio station, beginning at 7:45 p.m. WHSR-FM is located at 91.9 megacycles on the FM band.

Intersections Catch Motorists In Accidents

Among motor vehicle collisions occuring during the past week, several accidents at intersections resulted in property damage and personal injury.

After colliding with a utility pole while traveling north on Bacon Street at Symmes Corner, John T. Murray of Burlington was transported to Winchester Hospital by Officer William H. O'Neil for treatment of a head injury. He was then taken to the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, Boston for further attention to a bleeding nose.

Extensive damage was incurred to the front end of his automobile which was towed from the scene. Officer Albert Duffy assisted. The accident occurred on Thursday, April 2.

A hit and run accident on Friday was quickly solved by Winchester police with the aid of the Burlington and Woburn Police Departments and a ham radio operator, according to the police reports.

Officer Frank Tranchita was informed that evening by Ronald E. Wilmott of 18 Winthrop Street that while traveling east on Cambridge Street near Oneida Road he was struck by a vehicle moving westerly. When the operator did not stop Mr. Wilmott obtained the license number.

During this time desk Officer Donald E. Piggott was contacted by Woburn police that a Woburn route officer had been informed of a hit and run by a passing motorist. A ham radio operator from Woburn also called the department to report the accident.

Thursday Session

Beginning the sixth session of the Town Meeting was the election of Vincent Clarke as acting Town Moderator in the absence of Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick, who was delayed.

Selectmen Chairman Paul Amico was appointed temporary Moderator by the meeting for the purpose of electing the acting Moderator.

Nominations were called for by Mr. Amico, and Arthur Hewis Jr. and Mr. Clarke were nominated. To facilitate the meeting, Mr. Hewis withdrew from the election.

Following the election, the invocation was given by the Rev. Henry Marquardt, curate of St. Eulalia's Church.

Mr. Clarke, who has been acting as Town Counsel in the absence of Leonard Mullen, thanked Mr. Hewis for his resignation which made the meeting more expedient.

Article 18, concerning the formation of a Housing Authority, was the first article considered.

Mrs. Mary Murphy of Richardson Street, chairman of the Public Housing Study Committee, spoke on the article. In her remarks, she noted that her committee had been formed by a unanimous vote of the 1969 Annual Town Meeting to study the need for low-income housing, especially for the elderly, in Winchester.

Emphasizing that the committee was mandated only to study the problem and not to propose a definite program, Mrs. Murphy said the committee had found that the need for housing for the elderly surpasses all others.

Residents Queried

Noting that the Committee published advertisements in the Winchester Star and in the Woburn Times for information on the needs of the elderly, Mrs. Murphy said that over 2,000 questionnaires were sent out, over 1,500 of which were returned.

From studying the responses to the questionnaires, it was the opinion of the committee that there is a definite and urgent need for housing for the elderly, she said.

The committee, Mrs. Murphy said, urged the formation of the five-man Housing Authority necessary for state and federally subsidized housing programs for the elderly.

"The need is great; the time is now," she concluded, adding that the elderly have spoken through the study.

Monday Session

Following an invocation offered by the Rev. Everett L. Waters of the First Baptist Church, Town Meeting Members brought action on 13 articles at Monday evening's adjourned session, April 6, of the Annual Town Meeting.

Articles 19 through 32 were passed with the exception of Article 24 which had been acted upon in a previous session and Article 22 which was approved under a new motion. Total appropriations this evening were $79,850.

Town Meeting Members voted under Article 19 to wait for the Committee to Study the Feasibility of Purchasing or Leasing Buses for the Use of the School and Other Town Departments to formulate a recommednation concerning this subject. Speaking for the Committee, Town Meeting Member Joseph J. Riga quoted figures showing that Winchester is currently paying approximately $1 per hour for the rental of buses as compared to a 50c per hour rate generally where buses are municipally owned. It was also reported that relatively few towns own buses.

Also acted upon were Article 20, "To see if the Town will vote to rename Marycliff Academy and take any other action in relation thereto," and Article 21, "To see if the Town will appropriate a sum of money for the purchase or lease of portable classrooms for the public schools, and take any other action in relation thereto." School Committee chairman Harriet Dieterich informed Members that this sum had been incorporated in the School Budget.

Article 22

The version of Article 22 upon which Town Meeting Members agreed provides the Board of Selectmen with $1,000 with which to acquire an option to purchase the Low property at 10 Alben Street.

Speaking upon the original motion to "authorize the acquisition by purchase, eminent domain or otherwise," Lawrence Beckley, chairman of the Elementary School Building Sub-committee, announced that the report of the committee, which includes long-range projections, should be available by the end of Town Meeting. It is anticipated that Washington School will require enlargement by 1976 or 1978. The Building Committee has in the past recommended the acquiring of a larger body of land from Reservoir Street through to the Low property.

In response to Town Meeting Member Arthur J. Hewis' questions concerning the proximity

Column from Concern

CONCERN feels it would be a public service to publish letters from young people. The letters, from children in other towns as well as Winchester, will contain, in the writer's words, his or her feelings about drugs and experiences with drugs. When printed in the paper the writer's name will be withheld.

Each letter will be coded. Anyone wishing to respond to the letter should address replies to Box 293, Winchester, Massachusetts, 01890, Attention: Code C. The letters will be given to the sender. There will be no interception by adults.

The problem of drug addiction among the young is estimated to be six times worse in the United States than in Britain, and it is still growing.

The following is the second of two articles examining the effect of this newest social disease — particularly heroin addiction, now increasingly reaching children in their early teens in middle-class American families who thought it could never happen to them.

PLAGUE YEAR IN AMERICA
II

Only a very few years ago, drug addicts were a phenomenon totally removed from the Average American's way of life: they represented either the bored rich seeking an untried kick, or the ghetto-dweller seeking an escape from miserable poverty. But they are part of everyone's life now. Once drug use became an instant fashion amongst the American young, as widely welcomed as long hair and mod clothes, the businessmen of the underworld dived into the blossoming market just as their legitimate counterparts were scrambling to manufacture bell-bottomed pants and flowered shirts.

The result is this year's plague, spreading so fast that there are no reliable statistics to express it yet. New York City — where the problem does not differ from those in all other big cities, but is most concentrated — has the clearest figures: of the 900 people who died there last year as a result of heroin addiction, 224 were teenagers. This year, 34 teenagers had died by mid-February, and it was being estimated that the total of teenage heroin addicts in the city now exceeds 25,000.

Heroin is a derivative of morphine, which in turn is derived from opium; supplies of it enter the U.S.A. from the Middle East, via France, and from Mexico, and can be effectively cut off only at the source — something which Mexican and French authorities have so far made no great effort to do. It constitutes of course only one part of the hard drug scene; LSD is far more widespread, especially at the college level; intravenously used methedrine (speed) and other amphetamines are more likely to produce aggressively anti-social behavior; new drugs like STP, which is closely related both to mescaline and amphetamine, can produce manic psychoses lasting for days. But it is heroin, relentlessly addictive, which is spreading most alarmingly into the high schools and even the elementary schools of America.

Seventeen-year-old Joe X, of last week's article, the archetypal 1970-style junkie, typically turned on several experience-hungry school friends younger than himself, thus acquiring new customers for the dealing which helped to support his own habit. And of those 224 teenagers who died of heroin overdoses in New York last year, 20 were under the age of 15.

Officer Tranchita went to Burlington and served a citation to Mr. Fisher for leaving the scene of an accident.

The injury occurred when the car operated by his mother, Mrs. Florence R. Shulman, came into contact at the intersection with that driven by Leon D. Hughes of 2 Elmwood Avenue. Officer Thomas E. Kennedy Jr. was at the scene. Damage to Mr. Hughes' automobile was on the left front fender and hood, and that of Mrs. Shulman's was a cracked windshield and damaged right front fender.

The Emancipation Proclamation as written by President Lincoln is still in existence. In 1864 the document was sold at a bazaar to benefit wounded soldiers. Later, the New York legislature appropriated funds to buy the proclamation and added it to historic papers in Albany.

Wins Rating In Bridge Series

The Thursday evening weekly bridge tournament of the Old Belfry Club in Lexington has a new winner of its winter season series of 13 games.

The new batting average rating was won by Fredna Perkins of 60 East Lake Street. The new batting average rating is like batting average in baseball, but in bridge it is determined by dividing the number of master points that a player wins by the number of games in which he played trying to win them.

On April 16 in addition to the regular 7:30 p.m. game a special novice game is planned at 8 p.m. to introduce bridge players to duplicate bridge. The second club championship is scheduled for April 23.

Jehovah's Witnesses Gather

Harry A. Fetzik, district supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, spoke to an overflow audience of 1,997 at Natick High School on Sunday, April 5, on the theme "Withstanding the Pressures of our Day."

Directing attention to the events of the present generation as evidence of Bible prophecy being fulfilled, he questioned what climax it will all lead to. Mr. Fetzik confidently pointed to God's kingdom as the scriptural hope for mankind and said: "It will lead to freedom from excessive pressure as we know it today," and added, "this is the purpose of the true God Jehovah for believing humankind."

Paul Genaris, presiding minister and spokesman for the Burlington Congregation, who was among those attending the convention, said: "By applying the Scriptural counsel offered at this assembly in our every-day lives, it is possible to withstand the pressures of our day until God brings an end to the conditions responsible for these pressures. By means of God's kingdom — for which people the world over have been praying — many changes will take place to rid us of today's pressures permanently."

Mr. Genaris expressed satisfaction with the fine program heard because it aided young and old alike to fulfill their obligation to God as they live a life of self-sacrifice in His service.

Nineteen new members were ordained. Every member of Jehovah's Witnesses is involved in a disciplining work in which local witnesses will continue to engage with increased zeal and determination.

Polluted Homes Promote Fires, Fire Chief Warns

Are we guilty of polluting our own homes?

"Yes," says Fire Chief I. Francis Amico.

"Most people don't think of it in this way," he says, "but the combustible clutter we let accumulate in attics, basements, closets and garages is a form of home pollution.

"We make these spots resting places for everything we think we might possibly use again, or things we think are just a little too good to be thrown away — broken-down furniture, lamp shades, mattresses, draperies, old magazines, old clothing and similar items.

"These combustibles create danger in the home environment, because they provide the starting place and fuel for a fire which could destroy your home and put the lives of your family in jeopardy."

So Chief Amico urges everyone in this community to join in a thorough home clean-out during this Spring Clean-Up.

"If everyone will get busy in this anti-pollution drive against combustible clutter, our homes will definitely be safer from fire.

"Help keep your home out of the statistics collected by the National Fire Protection Association which show an estimated 540,000 U. S. homes hit by fire last year."

Mrs. Samoiloff To Address Church Women

The Women's Alliance of the Winchester Unitarian Church will hold its annual meeting and luncheon at the Church on Tuesday, April 14.

Mrs. Lewis L. Wadsworth Jr. will conduct the business meeting and election of officers at 11:45 a.m. Luncheon will be served at 12:30. Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, luncheon chairman, urges members to make their luncheon reservations through the Church office (729-0949) by Sunday, April 12.

At 1:30 p.m Mrs. Thornton Stearns, program chairman, will introduce the speaker of the day, Mrs. Carlene Samoiloff. Mrs. Samoiloff is well known in Winchester, particularly as the founder and director of the Children's Theatre School of Winchester. Through biannual productions of the Children's Theatre, over 500 Winchester children experienced the fun of theatre. Mrs. Samoiloff directed the Children's Theatre for a period of seven years.

Although she has lectured on phases of the theatre, including the teaching of acting, at Tufts and Harvard Dramatic clubs, Yale, Mt. Holyoke, Dartmouth and other New England colleges, this is Mrs. Samoiloff's first lecture-demonstration in Winchester.

A feature of the program will be a brief showing of slides of the priceless autographed photographs of Mme Chekoff, Moskvin, Tarasova and others of the Moscow Art Theatre. Many theatre celebrities visit the Alexander Samoiloffs in their studio to see Mrs. Samoiloff's collection and notes on the Art Theatre.

A major part of the program will be the performing of a few basic exercises for an actor's training. They will include brief examples of body movement, relaxation, concentration, memory of the five senses, emotional projection and communication. The audience will be asked to volunteer participation in some of the improvisations,. A question and discussion period will be encouraged at the end of the program.

Participating with Mrs. Samoiloff in the demonstrations will be several guest actors. Professor Ivan McKenzie Lamb, director of research at Harvard Farlow Laboratory and an explorer, has acted in Agassiz and Loeb Theatres for several years and is currently playing the Scotchman in "Bartholomew Fair" at Agassiz Theatre.

Frank McCarthy began his acting with Mrs. Samoiloff, is now a member of Equity and is currently playing in "Zoo Story" at the Unicorn Coffee House. James McGinness, who also begain his acting with Mrs. Samoiloff, has played leads in her productions of an O'Casey comedy and a Saroyan tragedy and is now a third-year law student. Two actresses who will work with Mrs. Samoiloff at the April 14 program are Linda Janus, who is astudent and a member of the dance group at Radcliffe College, and Barbara Brochunier, who played in Mrs. Samoiloff's TV show for Channel 7.

Most highways have maximum speed limits—often temporarily reduced by a slow-moving vehicle. Don't lose your patience, warns the Institute for Safer Living. Clean-Up Quiz Provides Check On Home Safety

Good housekeeping equals good home safety.

Why? Because good housekeeping gets rid of trash and rubbish, breeding place for about 50,000 of the fires which destroy or damage American homes each year, according to Fire Chief I. Francis Amico.

He suggests that you test yourself on this Clean-Up Quiz from the National Fire Protection Association. The prize for every "yes" answer is more safety for your family, says Chief Amico. Every "no" answer is a signal for action.

The questions are:

1. Do you dispose of ordinary trash and rubbish regularly-

2. Do you keep attic, basement and closets free of accumulations of old clothing, mattresses, curtains, drapes, lamp shades, old magazines and newspapers?

3. Are your oily mops hung up and oily rags kept in closed metal containers?

4. Do you empty ashtrays only when sure the contents are completely cold, and are ashtrays large and deep enough to keep burning cigarettes from falling out?

Boy Scouts Prepare Exhibits For 1970 Musket District Show

More than a thousand Musket District Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers are sharpening up their displays and demonstrations for the "Tomorrow's Citizens" Scout show to be held next Saturday afternoon at the Stoneham Town Hall.

They will be showing Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn residents that Scouting of the 1970's is definitely up with the changing times.

Program Chairman Robert Parker of Stoneham reports "These boys have a lot to say about the show theme, 'Tomorrow's Citizens.' It will be informative, exciting and reassuring for anyone who sees these boys in action on Saturday. Many of the booths will show how the Scouts and Scouting are looking far ahead into this decade."

"For example," Program Chairman Parker continues, "Stoneham and Woburn Explorer Posts are working jointly to tell about the new co-ed Musket District Explorer program already in full swing. Woburn Cub Pack 515 is planning a booth on moon exploration. 'Citizenship of the Future' is the theme of the Woburn Pack 520 booth.

Conservation

"Conservation problems are of real concern to Scouts of Troop 534 in Stoneham and they will tell about it in their booth display. The Doves Patrol of Winchester Boy Scout Troop 506 participated in the recent Scout clean-up project on the Aberjona River, have researched pollution further in Musket District communities and their booth is to be based on their findings."

Among outdoor features at the show will be flapjack-making demonstrations by Scouts of Troop 504, Winchester, and erection of an "A" frame lift as part of Winchester Troop 506's pioneering demonstration.

Thirty Boy Scout, Explorer and Cub Scout units will be participating in the show. They will be judged by members of the Jaycees in the three towns on the basis of boy planning, ideas, design, spectator appeal and action in their booths and demonstrations.

The wide scope of Scouting will be shown in indoor booths on two floors of the Town Hall.

Boy Scout troops will have displays and demonstrations of snow shoe making, first aid, signalling, woodcarving (on a nine-foot totem pole), map making, outdoor survival, fire building and merit badge work. Woburn Troop 526 plans a slide program of Scouting activities.

Among Cub Scout activities will be handcrafts, science experiments, skill games and contests, first aid, and painting and Wolf, Bear and Lion achievements. Webelos Den 538, Stoneham, has reserved a booth for a special un-announced feature.

Members of the honorary Order of the Arrow will give demonstrations of Indian dances and will man the summer camp booth promoting the two Minuteman Council summer camps in New Hampshire.

Adult leaders representing each participating unit will help set up booth areas on Friday evening and the Scouts will work all Saturday morning moving in equipment, materials, signs and other supplies for the afternoon show. Doors open at 12 noon on Saturday and tickets will be available at the door.

Washington Dads Plan Banquet

The Washington School Dads' Club has scheduled this year's Father-Son Dinner for the evening of April 18 in the school auditorium. The affair is a regular item on the Dads' Club agenda each year, and equal time is devoted to the young ladies in alternate years.

Paul Sullivan of 17 Fairmount Street is in charge of arrangements this year, and promises a dinner especially chosen with hungry boys in mind. Professional entertainment has been engaged for after dinner, and a number of door prizes will be selected during the course of the evening.

During the next few days, members of the Dads' Club will attempt to contact parents in the area who have sons in the school; anyone wishing to attend who is not contacted, or parents in other neighborhoods, may contact either Mr. Sullivan or any member of the club.

History Lives In Essay Contest

All high students are eligible to submit entries for the Rich Essay Contest. The contest is encouraged by the Social Studies department of the high school through their acceptance of papers for credit in American history.

Prizes, awarded by the trustees of the Winchester Public Library, are $75, $50, and $25. By the terms of Mr. Rich's will the papers must relate to some aspect of the Civil War. Rules for the contest are available at the high school and at the public library. The closing date for submitting entries is Wednesday, April 29.

Many students over the years have found the Rich collection of books helpful in gaining material for their papers. The room is kept locked, but access is available through signing for the key at the adult circulation desk. In his report to his class of 1887 at their fiftieth reunion at Harvard, Mr. Rich states, "My great joy has been in some historical investigation in connection with the Civil War. I have tried to get the point of view of the South . . . I have given addresses in the North and in the South."

At the present time many of Mr. Rich's papers which have not been available to the public are being sorted and arranged by George Connor. The file of former prize-winning essays is available in the office at the library.

Drugs— Part II

Drugs have become an increasingly important topic of conversation in Winchester. As more children become involved, more parents ask "Why didn't we know there was a problem here?" Many people have approached us, and have approached the police department, asking why more news regarding drug incidents is not reported in the Star. The release of such news, they feel, would remove the need for parents to ask this question.

Laws concerning news media use of stories of violations by juveniles are quite strict. By law, the media is forbidden to use the names of those under 17 years old, and the Star follows a policy of not using the names of first offenders, no matter what their age.

Because of our concern with the drug problem in Winchester, we are printing the following statement from Police Chief Edward Bowler regarding drug abuse and his policy toward publicity of it.

STATEMENT ON THE DRUG ABUSE PROBLEM

By Edward F. Bowler, Chief of Police

"There is a drug abuse problem of serious proportions in Winchester, as there is in every city and town in Metropolitan Boston. The police department, the Winchester Ecumenical Association, and the committee called 'CONCERN' have been saying this for several years, so it is no secret.

"Just how many persons are abusing their bodies and minds with drugs, no one knows, and it is impossible to find out, despite statistics issued by certain so-called authorities. Our teenagers claim that the use of marijuana is common. The experience of the police department is in line with that claim.

"As for stimulants such as dexedrine, benzedrine, and speed, and depressants such as nembutal, they probably are being used frequently. The use of LSD is not common in Winchester as far as the police can determine. Heroin is rare in this town, although we do have heroin addicts here undergoing treatment for their miserable condition.

"Drug abuse is not practiced openly. Pushers and users are highly mobile and secretive. The drug scene spreads across town and city lines. It is not easy for the police to secure witnesses and evidence. Parents may consult a physician, clergyman, psychiatrist, social worker or others when their child becomes a casualty of the drug menace, but seldom do they go to the police. Few people care to get involved in police investigations, so they hush up.

"It is safe to say that the great majority of narcotic drug abuse cases do not come to the attention of police. This may surprise some people, who delude themselves that the police files are bulging with drug cases. Irresponsible people make wild statements, but they are — irresponsible.

"The police department thoroughly investigates every case which comes to its attention. We make arrests and take people to court for drug violations. We investigate on our own initiative, and we keep surveillances on certain persons, vehicles, and locations.

"We are trained in the field of drug abuse. Lieutenant Cogan and Juvenile Officer Beaton have twice annually attended the Federal Narcotic Drug Bureau school in Washington, D.C. Sergeant Amico will graduate Friday of this week from a two-week course sponsored by the same bureau in Boston. Sergeant Inspector Haggerty attended a conference held recently by the U.S. Attorney General on the drug abuse problem, and he is scheduled to start a two-week course April 17 offered by the State Attorney General in Boston.

"The drug abuse problem is big and complicated. It is not going to be solved by any one agency, such as the police, or by any simple method. In Winchester we have one of the most respected drug abuse committees in the state — 'CONCERN,' which is comprised of representatives from the entire community under the leadership of Dr. Donald McLean.

"'CONCERN' is accomplishing a great deal in the drug abuse field, and it is our best hope. The Chief of Police, Lieutenant, and the Juvenile Officer are active members of 'CONCERN.'

"My opinion is that the two elements needed most to solve the drug abuse problem are supervision and education. Supervision by parents, teachers, the clergy, the medical profession, the police, and other responsible persons. Parents, especially, should open their eyes and use their other senses, not go about blindly. They say, 'Why didn't some one tell me?' Parents, your child is being exposed to drugs. You have been told. Wake up!

"As for education, everybody wants to get into the act. But the best results, I am told, are achieved by the use of persons who themselves have suffered the ravages of drug abuse, and can reach the minds of our children, who are mighty hard to reach.

"What are the signs of drug abuse? Every magazine and newspaper is full of this type of information. Look in the centerfold of the little red pamphlet that was left in your mailbox, called 'It's Time for Concern.' The symptoms are set out there. But look, also, for behavioral changes in your children. Are they acting excited, giddy, dopey, depressed, suicidal? Do they stay away from home overnight or run away? Do they hide in their rooms? Could be drugs.

"Take a good look at their associates. If they are hanging around with a queer-looking crowd, that could be a sign. Why do you think they run back and forth to Harvard Square, Beacon Hill and the Back Bay so frequently? Why do they burn incense in their room? It may be to cover up the odor of marijuana. The drug user is very deceptive. He may even drink beer to make you think he is under the influence of alcohol instead of drugs. Some misguided parents think drinking beer is all right for their kids. Some even think marijuana is not so bad. They are hopeless.

"What is the policy of the police department regarding drug abuse publicity? Our policy is that the public through the news media has a right to know what is going on in the community. This means giving the press access to news that is fit to print. We are not, however, engaged in the business of disseminating news. Our business is public safety and we must exercise restraint in certain sensitive areas.

"For example, publishing the names of children under 17 who are charged with delinquency is illegal. Pre-trial publicity may infringe upon the rights of a defendant to a fair and impartial trial in court. An investigation may be spoiled by premature disclosure of certain information. Innocent victims and witnesses may be embarrassed, disgraced, or injured by disclosure of their identities. These are some of the restraints we must exercise before releasing drug abuse stories.

"In addition, if a child or his parents or family are going to be hurt, then we have to weigh that against the good to be gained by publicity. Some of these parents are going through hell over their kids, some of the victims of drug abuse are in a precarious mental condition, and it does not always help to put their troubles on the front page. Physicians and psychiatrists have asked us to avoid publicity in certain cases for fear of worsening the condition of their patients.

"For such reasons it becomes necessary for the police department to consider each case individually before releasing the story for public consumption. If it can be released without undue harm, the story will be released on the policy that the public has a right to know."

Editorial Comments

On Saturday night, March 21, ten rocks were thrown through a stained glass window inside the quadrangle at the Church of the Epiphany.

The Garret Coffeehouse, with the support of the Ecumenical Youth Council, has taken the financial responsibility for the damage. After much discussion, however, the Garret Committee has decided that the Garret cannot afford to continue until the person or persons who broke the window come forth to a member of the Garret staff, Chuck Bartels, or the Rev. John Bishop (the minister of the Church of the Epiphany), and make some arrangements to reimburse the E.Y.C.

When this was announced at the Livingston Taylor concert last Saturday evening, it was stressed that no one (i.e., the vestry, the police), other than those mentioned would know the identity of the people involved.

The Garret Coffeehouse has a positive function in the community If it is closed, there will be no place in Winchester for young people to go. Obviously, many people want very badly for it to reopen, but it will not be until the responsibility of the broken windows rests with the person who did it—not the Garret.

Urges Director To Pick Up Drop-In Center

Editor of the Star:

I am writing in reply to a letter which appeared in your paper two weeks ago (March 26, 1970) regarding the closing of the Drop-In Center Youth Facility. I tend to agree with the feelings of the young lady who wrote and I feel that there are many others in Winchester who feel the same way. I would first like to explain why the Drop-In Center was closed and how it could have been saved.

The number one problem for the Drop-In Center was a lack of chaparones. Although there were many people who were quite cooperative in this task, there were even more who cared less about what the youth of our town did and where they did it. Many a night 40 to 50 teenagers sat outside the youth center waiting for a chaparone who promised to be there at 7 p.m. precisely. When this happened we told the kids to see if they could get someone to come down, on five minutes notice of course.

Problem number two was related to the first because it was a money problem. Members were asked to pay very minimal membership dues (which I thought was wrong from the beginning because I felt that this facility was something that should have been provided for the youth of Winchester free of charge). Members would only pay membership dues if they were completely convinced that the center would be open all the time it was supposed to be open. When the chaparones stopped coming, then the kids stopped paying their money. Can you blame them?

The last major problem was that of lack of communication and cooperation from our committee and our adult advisory board who are still in operation legally, in fact they are still signing checks without the signature of the youth representative or president.

Since the Drop-In Center was closed, only one organization really was interested in the revival of the center. This organization was the Jaycees, but after conducting a very successful survey throughout the high school (which showed that a large percentage of students wanted a youth center) the Jaycees suddenly "dropped the ball!" Nothing has been done by them since that time.

The town Selectmen and Recreation Director have expressed no interest in the revival of the Drop-In center or any other similar youth center. The Recreation Director feels that if he asked for money from the town for a recreation center that they would probably deny him any future raises in the years to come because he has such a tight budget which only includes the elementary age children and the Senior Citizens) of whom he takes very good care. Naturally, high school kids can't have a say in any part of the appointment of the director, whereas the older folks do have some say in the appointment of the director.

In conclusion I feel that it is now the responsibility of the Town Recreation Director and the Committee behind him, to pick up the ball on the Drop-In Center project and do something constructive for the High School students. Maybe we could solve our local drug problem if we gave the kids something to do instead of turning our backs on them and condemning them. Maybe our drug problem wouldn't have been as serious if our Drop-In Center didn't close.

I will expect to hear from Mr. Spinney on my comments and hope that he may put in an appropriation for the next session of the Winchester Town Meeting. The kids are counting on you Mr. Spinney . . . Don't let them down.

Most sincerely yours,
Robert P. Joyce

Suggests Ceiling For Budget

Editor fo the Star:

Mr. Barrett (March 19) has advanced an eminently appealing suggestion: determine a reasonable tax increase, and then fit the town budget to it.

In each tax-supported budget — town, county, state, and federal — the decision is made by others as to what goods and services we want and require, and we are then informed how much we shall pay to finance them. But note the significant reversal of financial policy: in our personal budgets — and in our business budgets — we first determine what our income will probably be and then adjust expenditures accordingly. As Mr. Barrett so plausibly asks: why not apply the same technique to the town budget?

I do not think Winchester suffers from the costly corruption that inevitably seems to attend state and federal government, and the town taxpayer is close enough to the town government to be heard and to be influential. Nor does Winchester suffer from the mind-boggling and purse-depleting extravagances that seem to prosper at remoter levels. Yet the Winchester budget is beginning to demand the same amount of support from the taxpayer as the federal budget.

We would have to agree freely that to vote a budget ceiling is to vote a reduction in the rate of increase of goods and services for ourselves. I am ready to. I think Mr. Barrett is ready to. Quite possibly a lot of us are ready to.

For those with fixed incomes — especially the retired and the elderly — the effect of the current corrosive tax increases may well be forcing out of this town many who have been personally responsible for building it up to where it now is. I think we have as great a responsibility to provide some relief for this older generation as we do to provide good education for the coming generation and the rights of the first cannot and should not be subordinated to the rights of the second. If nothing else, those in the middle may find it wise to try to establish a precedent for when — not so long from now — they themselves will be looking to the town for some relief.

It is obvious that nothing can be done this year, but nothing will be done next year unless we start now.

I ask, as a first step, that Mr. Chadwick, or someone suggested by him, indicate through the columns of The Star whether the imposition of a budget ceiling, via either a vote of the town meeting or a referendum, would be legal and binding upon all sections of the town budget.

Sincerely,
Nelson C. Lees

Committee Gives Report On Fund Use

Editor of the Star:

Following the startling announcement made in January by the previous Winchester School Committee, a group of citizens came together to place a full-page advertisement, concerning the issue of the superintendency, in the pages of "The Winchester Star."

When the proposed text of the advertisement was circulated for signatures and donations, the admakers stated that if funds were received in excess of the cost they would be used for other projects directly related to the issue and the election. It stated also that funds would not be used to support the campaign of any candidate. It was further stated that the money would be accounted for publicly and three people chosen to administer its use.

Substantial excess funds were received and were used for other projects; these included additional advertising (not for candidates) and public distribution of the school committee minutes relative to this issue. A statement follows:

TOTAL COLLECTED	$443.50

BOOK REVIEW

THE PUSHBUTTON BUTTERFLY

by Kin Platt

This is the first adult mystery novel by Kin Platt, whose previous story-telling has taken the form of cartoons, comic strips and juvenile mysteries, one of which, "The Boy Who Could Make Himself Disappear," is to be made into a movie.

Mr. Platt's style is reminiscent of Raymond Chandler's and focuses the contemporary California scene as Chandler did 20 years ago. His "private eye" is Max Roper, a "CID army trained private operator" who is just through with a narcotics job which has tried him hard physically, and is now handed an assignment to look for a missing girl, which should be a comparatively easy job. Needless to say, this optimistic assessment proves false.

Roper's search takes him to Haight-Ashbury.

"The Hashbury. Epicenter of the hippies. The Western world's first psychedelic culture. I didn't see any monument to Albert Hofman, the Swiss chemist who synthesized lysergic acid diethylamide in 1938. But this forty-four-block area rested as solidly as the old gingerbread houses on the LSD experience . . . It was late for many of the younger residents. Some would have the problem of finding enough bread to get home, or a place to crash for the night in the subdivided flats. Some had the reality of being fifteen, strung out on meth at midnight and nowhere to crash but a cold doorway. Some were looking for whatever it would take so they could forget they were there at all. A young acne-marked merchant was hustling the listless curb-sitters. He would be selling grass, meth, acid, lids, matchboxes, psilocybin-coated grass, peyote buttons, or mescaline. "This acid ain't been cut with strychnine," he said. "I drop it myself. I know it's good stuff."

There is a remarkably vivid word picture of a member of the "Hell's Angel" gang.

"He wore a Navajo head-band. His hair was shoulder-length and unkempt, his beard straggly. On the back of his sleeveless denim jacket he wore his colors. The Hell's Angels marker. His patch of red letters on a white background was spotted with grime and blood. The winged death skull grinned underneath. The little MC patch below said he was a motorcycle-club member. Under his collar was the diamond-shaped "1%-er" badge. The "One-Percenters" are an elite group. The figure represents their realistic opinion of their chances with the law . . . He wore a gold earring and a smile pasted on his face. He was stoned . . . "

Then there is the Guru Maharishi Viparina.

"He was in the next room. A short roly-poly dark-bearded man, the top of his head no bigger than a cue ball and with no more hair. His eyes were large and black and luminous. He sat quietly on a small rug, his legs twisted into the pretzel design of the Lotus. His eyes were fixed on a wall design similar to the one in the Meditation Room, the decorated rectangle overlapping the field of concentric circles. He was humming softly, with pursed lips protruding like small flap doors over yellow-stained teeth. The hum became a long-sounding word. OM. Then he bent forward with impressive flexibility and touched his head to the floor without dislocating his spine. He came back up after a while and got to his feet in one smooth flowing movement."

The irritation caused to this purist by Mr. Kin Platt's many verbless sentences was countered by the pace and interest of his absorbing mystery novel.

Thursday Town Meeting

Mr. Amico, speaking for the Board of Selectmen, noted that the Board began to receive letters from the Town's elderly about three years ago. "The letters sent to us reflected the pride of the elderly in meeting their financial obligations. It must have been very difficult for them to write to us about their financial obligations. We wondered how many more there were who had too much pride to write."

Explaining that the Board felt the problem was great, Mr. Amico said that the Selectmen consulted with the Planning Board on its plan for the elderly. After that consultation, he said, the Selectmen placed an article in the 1969 Annual Town Meeting warrant asking that a Housing Study Committee be appointed.

The Selectmen also filed special legislation with the State to provide for relief from the tax burden for the elderly to equalize the Town's elderly with those in towns not using full valuation. Since it was not approved, the legislation has been resubmitted this year.

Pointing out the drawbacks to a Housing Authority, Mr. Amico noted that it would be a separate entity; that it would have the power of eminent domain; and that it might use the so-called "snob zoning" act to avoid the requirements of local zoning and building laws.

Mr. Amico also said, however, that the Metropolitain Area Planning Council has said that Winchester would need 549 units under the "snob zoning" act and that it might be preferable to have them built by a local authority.

Concluding his remarks, Mr. Amico said, "To say that we can't help, especially when so many neighboring communities have helped their elderly, would be wrong. We unanimously recommend favorable action."

Otto Schaefer, speaking for the Planning Board, asked whether the Housing Authority members would be paid. He expressed concern that the State statute on Housing Authorities provided for substantial salaries for members.

After being told that Housing Authority members would be unpaid, Mr. Schaefer noted that the Planning Board concurred that there was a need for the housing and that formation of a Housing Authority seemed necessary. The Planning Board unanimously supported favorable action on the article, he said.

Eugene Rotondi Sr. and Robert Winn both urged the Town to do something for the elderly as the Town has waited long enough.

In response to a question on cost of the housing, Mrs. Murphy indicated that the state and federal aid would cover the cost.

Vincent Celia, a member of the Public Housing Study Committee, noted that Housing Authority members were always unpaid. He also added that the state and federal governments would fund the project.

Arthur Hewis urged the members to act cautiously on Article 18. Stating that he wanted housing for the elderly, he said that the disadvantages of a housing authority far outweighed the advantages.

He suggested that the Town form a corporation within its own government to construct housing for the elderly over which the Town would have complete control.

Reading from the Boston Globe of March 12, Mrs. Lenore Frazier noted that several bills were being introduced in the state legislature to force towns to form housing authorities.

The Finance Committee, said Chairman Robert Grenzeback, recommended favorable action.

The motion was passed.

Taken next was Article Three which had been tabled pending a report of the Methods and Procedures Committee. The article dealt with the purchase of the Honeywell 110 computer now in use by the Town.

Town Moderator Chadwick, who is acting as a temporary member of the Committee, told the meeting that the committee had to be revamped when two of the members resigned and the third was sent out of town on a business assignment. New members of the committee are James Barger and Stanley Hart.

Noting that they were very pleased with the work of the previous committee, Mr. Chadwick said the committee was pleased with the current equipment and wished to continue with it.

Mr. Chadwick said they had carefully considered the financing of the computer and had unanimously concluded it was in the best interest of the Town to purchase the equipment.

Technical Assistance

Dr. Barger explained the technical aspects of the equipment and told the meeting that it was expected to have a useful life of 10 years. He also outlined some of its present and projected uses.

Explaining the financing of the purchase, Mr. Hart said the equipment would cost the Town $80,000 to purchase it, plus $7,000 annually for a service contract and insurance. By purchasing, the Town would realize a net annual saving of $21,500 as the equipment costs $28,500 per year to lease. The net saving would equal the cost of purchase in slightly less than four years.

Over the ten-year life of the computer, he said, the saving to the Town would be $135,000.

Both the Selectmen and the Finance Committee recommended favorable action. Mr. Grenzeback noted that the purchase was not included in the Finance Committee's projection of the tax rate, however, the Town's decision not to proceed with Town Hall renovations cancelled any increase.

The School Committee, according to its chairman, Mrs. Harriet Dieterich, had not taken a position on the purchase, however, they desired continued use of the equipment.

She outlined the uses to which the School Department has put the computer this year.

Questions which followed included whether the computer's memory system would be adequate for the Town's needs for 10 years; whether the committee had investigated a third party lease; and whether the projections of savings from the computer had indeed been realized during the past 18 months.

The motion was acted upon favorably.

Taken up following the article were Budgets 1075 and 1100, for data processing and for the comptroller. These had been tabled pending the outcome of Article Three.

A reduction of approximately $13,000 was made in the contractual service section of the data processing budget due to the purchase of the computer.

Budget 1075 involves $52,719. Budget 1100 involves $44,877. Both were passed.

Vietnam Resolution

Following the recess, Emmons S. Ellis proposed a motion from the floor that the Town Meeting act on a resolution which had been sent to all the Town Meeting Members concerning Vietnam.

In speaking on the motion, Mr. Ellis noted that the required number of residents had signed a petition to have the Selectmen include the resolution in the warrant but that it had been left out.

Mr. Chadwick read to the Town Meeting from the General Laws, Chapter 39, Section 10 which states that "no action shall be valid unless the subject matter thereof is contained in the warrant."

He also read from Section 15 concerning the Town Moderator's duties. Noting two court decisions that the Town Meeting is called only to consider the subjects in the warrant, Mr. Chadwick said that the vote on the motion would be meaningless since the action would not be valid.

The Moderator, he said, has no leeway with respect to the motion which was presented. Nothing relating to it was in the warrant and because of that the Town Meeting had no right to act upon it, he added.

Therefore, he ruled, the motion was out of order and would be laid aside.

Mr. Ellis asked why the properly presented petition was not included in the warrant by the Selectmen. Mr. Chadwick replied that the question must be taken up with the Selectmen at another time.

Mrs. Barbara Joslin asked for an appeal of the decision, however, Mr. Chadwick said that there was no appeal from a ruling of the chair.

One Town Meeting Member rose and walked out in protest of the chair's ruling.

Mosquito Fogging

The last article considered at Thursday's session was Article 24, concerning an insect and mosquito program. It was voted to take the article out of sequence as members of the Board of Health, sponsors of the article, had to be out of town during the next session.

Dr. Lawrence Quigley Jr. of the Board of Health told the meeting that the Board was coming before the Town to seek direction in the program.

Prior to the 1965 meeting, he said, the Board had received requests for a program. The Board brought a proposal for a fogging program to that session of the Town Meeting and it was denied.

In 1968 the proponents of the fogging program presented an article in the Town Meeting warrant and the program was accepted.

During the spring and summer of 1968 and of 1969, a larvicidal and a malathion and fuel oil fogging program were carried out. In 1969, he noted many complaints were received. Since the Board had been authorized to abate a nuisance and the abatement seemto be more of a nuisance, the Board decided to discontinue the program and return to the Town Meeting this year for direction.

Dr. Warren Taylor of the Board of Health indicated that the fogging program produced problems for residents with chronic pulmonary disease.

Speaking against the spraying were Dr. Edward Rendall, Mrs. Lenore Frazier and Kendall Spencer. Mr. Spencer noted that there is no such thing as a selective pesticide — the good is killed along with the bad.

The Town Meeting voted in favor of continuing the larvicidal program and against continuing the fogging.

of the elementary schools, the drawing of school district lines and the number of children contained within these districts, Mr. Beckley said that there was not equal distribution of student population among them. The rule is rather based upon the use of a half-mile radius. Busing becomes a problem otherwise. Mr. Hewis made a motion for indefinite postponement of Article 22.

Town Meeting Member Otto E. Schaefer Jr. expressed approval for the acquiring of this land as "prudent, economic." He stated, "We're improvising, and we will be for the next 10 years." Feeling that it was clear years ago that the Town was going to have trouble with elementary schools, he pointed to the Town's need to plan ahead and that this recommendation was based upon the best population studies that the Town had.

Noting that the future cost would only escalate, Mr. Schaefer later expressed approval of taking the land by eminent domain. The comments of School Committee member Paul R. DelRossi were similar. "Regardless of the method," he said, the price would be higher, in five years probably over $48,000. Acquisition of the land is favored by the School Committee.

Appended to the discussion of Washington School was some concern over the future of Lincoln School. Noting that school district lines were vacillating and arbitrary, in particular he named the Lincoln School area, Town Meeting Member G. William Carter III stated that Lincoln School would probably be phased out in a number of years. Mr. Beckley added that it might possibly be kept alive longer by a student population from closing parochial schools or perhaps ultimately to enlarge the new high school area.

Eminent Domain

As debate began to center more upon the subject of eminent domain, Selectmen Chairman Paul Amico said that the Board was in favor of the eventual purchase of the property. They are opposed to its taking by eminent domain at this time and would prefer a negotiated settlement. He quesioned why the Town should use this method for this particular piece of property at this time. Perhaps such action would be more suitable in seven or eight years. The Board recommended unfavorable action.

The Finance Committee concurred in opinion. Chairman Robert J. Grenzeback stated that the "casual use" of eminent domain was not recommended.

Answering Town Meeting Member Lewis L. Wadsworth's request for the Selectmen's policy concerning property valuation, Selectman John J. Sullivan quoted the procedure. Following discussion of the land with various Town boards, the Selectmen return to the owners with a fair market offer. If necessary, an appraisal is then made by a firm agreed upon by both parties at the expense of the Town. The Board of Selectmen then make a recommendation and the Town takes subsequent action upon it.

It was one Town Meeting Member's comment, however, that his land was taken by eminent domain even after he and the Selectmen had agreed upon a price. He also pointed out the disparity of appraisals recently given for Marycliff. The Low property has been appraised at approximately $37,000.

When a vote for indefinite postponement was taken the motion was killed. Moderator Harrison Chadwick informed the Meeting that the Chair still possessed two other motions. A brief recess was called while the Board of Selectmen formulated their motion to acquire the option.

Reaction to the Selectmen's motion was favorable from the Finance Committee. It was recommended that figures other than the stated sum of $1,000 not be quoted at the Town Meeting at this time. Acting Town Counsel Vincent Clarke reassured Town Meeting Members that the Board could spend no more than this $1,000, according to the motion.

When put to the Town Meeting Members the motion was passed.

Article 23

Approval of Article 23 was given after brief discussion. It amends the Town Bylaws to increase towing and storage charges made against owners of vehicles which interfere with snow removal operations. The rates are set by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities and at present the cost of such removal to the Town is greater than that which it can charge according to the Bylaws.

Under Article 25 Town Meeting Members agreed to indefinite postponement for improvements of the Mill Pond Island.

An appropriation of $65,000 was made in Article 26 as the next step in a series of projects undertaken by the Water and Sewer Departments over the past years. Richard J. Donovan, chairman of the Water and Sewer Board, informed Members that action on this article would actually deal only with the cleaning and lining of water mains in Highland Avenue and miscellaneous small mains.

Reporting from the Water and Sewer Board on Article 27 was Ernest A. Phillips Jr. As passed the article amends the General Town Bylaws to allow an increase in the water and meter rates. The Town will buy water from the Metropolitan District Commission at 40c per cubic feet of water, then sell it at 42c. The Water Department has been operating at a deficit each year. Unless this change was made its deficit would tend to grow.

Passage of Article 28 appropriated $1,200 for the salary of the secretary and all other expenses of the Permanent Building Committee. Leroy Long, chairman of the Committee, made the report to Town Meeting Members.

Following the address of William R. Kimball, chairman of the Artificial Ice Skating Rink Subcommittee, approval was given by Town Meeting Members to grant the committee time for additional study. There was no money requested at this time.

Article 30

Article 30 deals with minor amendments to the Building Laws of Winchester. Deletions and substitutions were made in the loads, materials, and stresses and in the piling divisions.

The final two articles acted upon at this session dealt with construction of sidewalks. Article 31 appropriated $4,400 for such construction on the easterly side of Main Street from No. 831 to the Swanton Street railroad bridge. Charles T. Doucette Jr. stated that when trucks, etc. block pedestrians and snow plows from using this side, the westerly side is utilized. However, he noted that this produces inconvenience and is potentially dangerous. This walkway will also bear the traffic from the new high school in the future. Approximately 550 feet of sidewalk with granite curbing is involved.

Under Article 32 an appropriation of $8,250 for construction of about 3,000 total feet of sidewalk on Cross Street was made. Favorable action was recommended by the Board of Selectmen on both Articles 31 and 32. Chairman Amico stressed the heavy use of Cross Street particularly by elementary-aged school children. It is hoped, he stated, that eventually the Town will be able to work an alternate route to the industrial area here.

The first item scheduled for discussion at the next session will be Article 33 concerning the construction of a fire station on the West side of Town.

Concert

WHS band members will play several numbers prior to joining with the Montreal Band for the final part of the program.

Montreal's band leader Cyril Cooper and WHS leader Frederick Murray have worked together to promote this international cultural exchange.

Montreal students will attend classes with WHS band members on Friday, rehearse together, socialize as they are overnight guests of parents of the band members, and see many of the tourist attractions on a tour of Boston on Saturday.

The public is invited to the concert and tickets will be available at the door. Members of the parents group, Friends of the Winchester Band and Orchestra, have been active in the support of the exchange concert and can be contacted for tickets in advance.

Story Appalling

The story of young Joe's road to heroin appalled innocent parents almost as much as the discovery that he was an addict. "Well, I started with pot, I guess. In ninth grade (14 years old). All the kids in the high school smoke pot — well, maybe three-quarters of them. Not everyone digs it, you know. But it's no good saying I went on dope because of pot — I mean, I'd tried liquor first of all, you might as well say it was that.

"And anyway there were all kinds of things around that summer. Bennies, dexies, reds — kids have all kinds of pills, you just try the different ones for kicks. LSD, speed. LSD doesn't do too much for me. Speed I tried now and then, but I don't really dig it. I guess I musta tried just about every drug in the book. Sure, that was before you even knew I was using marijuana. You think kids all go home and tell their parents hey man, I found this new high today . . . ?

"Well, then I got on dope. Heroin. Junk. Or a couple other names I wouldn't use in front of Mom. If you want to call me a junkie, go ahead. I do dope because I like it. I can stop any time I want to. I just don't want to, that's all. I mean I'm sorry it upsets you and all, but there it is. . . . "

But although Joe is claiming to be master of his habit, he knows better. Heroin is the master; it always is. When, after bitter argument, he agrees to kick, he does not choose the experience of "cold turkey," the sudden withdrawal which would substantiate his claim that "I can stop any time I want to." He knows too much about the agony of withdrawal symptoms from those days when he has been unable to get a fix, or a "hit," at the right time.

He goes to his family doctor, who refers him to one of the few psychiatrists in the nearest city specializing in cases of addicts. The psychiatrist puts him on a one-week withdrawal schedule based on methadone, the synthetic morphine substitute widely used in Britain, and increasingly in America, to wean heroin addicts from heroin.

So Joe is clean. His parents pay his drug debts; he manages to graduate from high school; he gets a summer job. His friends, however, are not clean. Within two months he is back on drugs; first amphetamines, then heroin. He loses his job. The psychiatrist puts him back on methadone; Joe does not swallow the methadone pills, but grinds them up and injects them into his arm. He kicks the heroin habit again, but with eager help of his friends continues to feed his craving for a high with an assortment of pills, probably amphetamines.

His parents, still trying, still hopeful, though by now fit material for psychiatric care themselves, send him to stay with sympathetic relatives in a small town in the Mid-West. They are still innocent enough to believe that the drug business flourishing so fiercely in cities like Los Angeles, Boston and New York may not have spread to the remoter parts of the U.S.A. They are wrong. It takes Joe less than a week to gravitate to the company of the local "heads," and soon a distraught letter arrives from the relatives.

Forget

The psychiatrist says to Joe's parents: "You are still thinking of Joe as the son you have known all these years, you still see the same familiar boy when you look at him. And you are still hoping for the time when he will be cured, back to normal, straight — going to college, getting a good job, marrying a nice girl, just as you always envisioned him. But you must stop. Forget it.

"This is not Joe behaving badly, going through a bad patch. This is an addict behaving like an addict. He may always be an addict, whether or not he is actually on drugs. Once he was hooked, heroin became the only important thing in his life. It may be a long time before he finds anything that seems more important. If he's now hooked again, you have three alternatives. You can go on as before, which will cost you much anguish and accomplish nothing. You can have Joe committed to a hospital for full-time psychiatric care, which will also accomplish nothing unless he goes willingly. Or if he won't give up drugs, you can tell him okay, good-bye, you're on your own. That appalls you, but it may be the only way. A lot of addicts have to hit the bottom of the barrel before they get any urge to come up again."

The is the pattern of the plague now wrecking so many quiet American homes — and a number in Britain too, of course, though as yet a far smaller proportion. There are a great many potential Joes in America, both male and female; there always have been, but suddenly now the wide availability of drugs makes their adolescence a more dreadfully perilous time than it has ever been before.

Motivation

The motivated teenager who has a particularly sturdy talent or interest or is fully committed to some ambition or activity, is unlikely to become involved with any drug but marijuana. But remember from adolescence how many are instead like Joe — restless, uncommitted, probably intelligent but lazy, with little sense of identity. Today these are easy meat, in a bored and frustrated moment, for the friend offering a sniff of heroin, or a pill, an LSD-spiked sugar cube or a needle. And quite apart from the resultant total waste of the period in life most crucial to development of personality and talent, nobody yet knows what is to become of them. Only five per cent of heroin addicts ever fully kick their habit. There seem to be signs that they may "grow out of it" after the age of 30 or so, but by then a large proportion are either in prison, destitute, or dead.

And what happens next? Now that President Nixon has begun to make noises, Federal spending on the drug peril may begin belatedly to improve. But a great many more teenagers may have to die — as at the present rate they will — before state governments fully realize the emergency on their hands.

Much more will have to be done on education of under-fifteens, treatment of addicts, rehabilitation of ex-addicts, and of course on the near-hopeless task of tracking suppliers. One useful legal break may be provided by a case just beginning in New York: a 17-year-old girl voluntarily took heroin and died, and the friend who gave it to her is being charged with manslaughter.

But the end, like the beginning, really depends on the swing of fashion in teenage behavior. The cure for the plague of heroin, and for that matter all drugs, rests ironically in the hands of those who can't provide it yet: the generation of America at present under ten years old. They may, perhaps, react against their predecessors and decide that drugs are not cool, but dumb. One can only educate them and hope, fervently, that they do.

Drive in the travel lane and observe posted road signs, suggests Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Lane hopping can be a dangerous game with the tragic results. Road signs are posted to help save your life and ignoring them is quite literally taking your life into your own hands.

As associate editor for the Massachusetts Elementary School Principals' Association Journal, Mr. Forest has written a number of articles on the subject of elementary education. He has also produced and directed plays, and has written for the children's magazine, "Jack and Jill." His book, "The Bicycle Detectives," written for young people, was published last year. Candidates for the two principalships were interviewed by a screening committee composed of teachers, principals and administrators. The members were: Miss Paula Caffrey, Mrs. Martha Grenzeback, Mrs. Ruby Wiggett, Mrs. Margaret Morse, Mrs. Barbara Pickett and Miss Jeannette Eaton. Superintendent Donald Klemer, Assistant Superintendent Walter Gleason and Assistant Superintendent for Personnel, Henry Perry reviewed the results of the screening committee.

The administration also visited some of the applicants on the job in their school systems prior to selecting the final four candidates to be interviewed by the School Committee. All of the group selected for review by the screening committee also had an opportunity to visit the Parkhurst School to observe the program and discuss it with Acting Principal Mrs. Ruby Wiggett. Over 50 qualified applicants had submitted papers for consideration.

Tennis Center Dedicates Building To Mrs. Hills

The new tennis building, housing the seventh and eighth courts, of the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center has been dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Arthur (Dottie) Hills, who recently died.

John Koslowski, president of the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center, where Mrs. Hills played much of her winter tennis, announced the dedication at the Women's National Indoor Tennis Championships which were recently played at this tennis center.

According to Mr. Koslowski, the foyer of the new building has a painting of Mrs. Hills installed on its walls and the new building will be known as the Dottie Hills building. At the dedication ceremony a plaque, with the details of the dedication, was presented to Arthur Hills.

Mrs. Hills, who was a Winchester resident, was named, along with her husband and two sons, as the Tennis Family of the Year some years back. The honor was bestowed upon this family because of their prowness on the tennis courts and the contributions they have made to the promotion of organized tennis.

The Dottie Hills Building, with its accompanying two new Uni-turf surfaced tennis courts, makes the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center one of the largest in the nation and the largest in New England.

Senator Edward M. Kennedy will speak to the conference on Saturday at the final luncheon meeting on the topic "The View From Washington."

Dr. Edwin Fenton of Carnegie-Mellon University will deliver, on Friday at a 7 p.m. dinner meeting, the first annual W. Linwood Chase lecture. W. Linwood Chase is a former president of the National Council, Boston University dean, and father of Mrs. Dennis L. Heindel of 17 Seneca Road. Topic of the lecture is "The New Social Studies: Past, Present, Future."

WHS students Harry Kahnhauser and Kathryn Test will participate in one of the workshops offered to the social studies educators at the conference on Friday from 1:45 p.m. to 3 p.m. in the foyer of the hotel. Entitled "Learning Laboratory II," the section will supply a description and discussion of new techniques of teaching social studies and will be chaired by Director of Social Studies William P. O'Connor. He, George Watson, and William Colella, who will also participate in the section meeting, worked with students during the summer of 1969 on experiments in the effectiveness of small group self-directed instruction using audio-active equipment and a variety of materials prepared by the teachers.

Also involved in the conference are others from Winchester. "Case studies in Chinese culture, an inductive approach" deals with material which WHS teacher Miss Carol Cannon worked on with the World Affairs Council during the summer of 1969. This material attempts to dispel stereotypes and myths about the Chinese people.

The section on "Modern Social Studies through films" involves consultant Herbert Ostrach, who offers the human relations course at the high school.

Winchester's Dr. John Gibson, director of the Lincoln Filene Center, will be represented by his assistant Major Morris in the section, "The black experience and intergroup relations education in the elementary school."

Mr. Morris, also a photographer formerly with the Educational Development Commission, worked on a photography project with Muraco School students last year. He also lead a workshop with Dr. Gibson for all Winchester elementary school teachers on intergroup relations at a released time meeting held last year.

Of general interest, the conference will also offer demonstrations and discussions of the Amherst history project; man and spaceship earth, a new curriculum suitable for all levels; teaching about Africa; legal education; and teaching economics and current affairs by case studies.

Sunday, April 12
The Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 12, asks the question, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"
Answers are given from the Bible in accounts of the way Jesus healed a mentally deranged boy and a man unable to walk for thirty-eight years. His injunction, "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils," is included in the Bible readings.
The unreality of sin, disease, and death is explained in one of the citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, which reads: "Since God is All, there is no room for His unlikeness. God, Spirit, alone created all, and called it good. Therefore evil, being contrary to good, is unreal, and cannot be the product of God."

Rigney—Richardson

In a mid-afternoon ceremony on Saturday, March 14, in St. Mary's Church, Miss Christine Richardson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward C. Richardson of 20 Cranston Road, became the bride of Raymond I Rigney Jr., osn of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond I. Rigney of 8 Stowell Road.

MRS. RAYMOND I. RIGNEY JR.

The Rev. Bernard Hoy officiated at the service which was followed by a reception at the Vale in Waltham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory empire-waisted gown of peau de soie with a detachable cathedral-length train. Imported Alencon lace overlaid the bodice, formed the Victorian collar, and edged her short Juliet sleeves. The A-line skirt was appliqued with matching lace. Complementing her ensemble were an elbow-length veil and a cascade bouquet of white glamelias, stephanotis, ivy, and satin streamers.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Ellen Richardson of Cambridge. She chose a gown of pomegranate saki with short puffed sleeves. A bow and inverted pleat were featured at the back. White daisies and hyacinth blossoms formed her headband. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies and sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaids, attired as the maid of honor, were Miss Marilyn Richardson and Miss Lisa Richardson, both sisters of the bride, and Miss Susan Rigney and Miss Maureen Rigney, both sisters of the bridegroom, all of Winchester; and Miss Deborah Rogers of Reading.

Having the honor of best man was Paul Rigney of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom. Serving as ushers were James Hatherly of Brighton; Edward Cashman of Medford, cousin of the bride; Richard Shaw of New York City, New York; William Davis of Medford; Joseph Marrone of Winchester; and Paul Klorer of Columbus, Ohio.

Attending the guest book was Miss Cheryl Richardson of Winchester, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Richardson wore a costime of yellow desire featuring a cutaway jacket over a sleeveless dress with a front panel pleat. She carried a yellow glamelia. The mother of the bridegroom chose a pink silk jacket and sheath dress ensemble. A corsage of pink feathered carnations and sweetheart roses provided an accent.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and the Shepard-Gill School of Nursing in Boston.

Mr. Rigney, also a graduate of Winchester High School, received his degree from the University of Massachusetts. He is presently serving in the U.S. Air Force.

Their wedding trip consisted of traveling back to the base in Missouri where Mr. Rigney is currently stationed. They will make their home in Knobnoster, Missouri.

Lesley College To Offer Course

The Winchester School System and the Lesley College Graduate School are combining forces again this summer to offer a practicum in learning disabilities. This practicum is being offered for experienced teachers who are entering the field of learning disabilities.

Children with diagnosed learning disabilities will receive daily individual tutoring aimed at their special needs. Programs in art, music and physical education will be designed to help the children in areas of auditory and visual perception, motor coordination, and rhythm. This is one step toward removing the ominous image of summer school as remedial, and it is hoped it will lead to many more special summer programs being set up throughout the Commonwealth.

Teachers enrolled in the program will earn credits for tutorial experience. Opportunities to observe large group lessons will also be a part of the program. During the six weeks' practicum a concurrent seminar in instructional procedures will be required to complete the three-credit-hour program.

This program, which was started in 1969, was widely praised by both parents and participating teachers.

For additional information contact the Lesley College Graduate School, 29 Everett Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138.

Youth Music Group on Tour

The Spurrlows, mobile music youth group, will appear in concert on Friday, April 17, at 7:45 p.m. at Grace Chapel, Worthen Road, Lexington, during their whirlwind 40-state national tour.

Repertoire will range from Baroque Bach to the rolling rock of "O Happy Day!" in traditional revival style.

The 27 singers and instrumentalists from nearly as many states are known nationally for their versatility.

The group offers soloists, quartets, trios, folk groups, instrumentalists, rock ensembles, "big band," orchestra and a capella choir.

While their average age is only 19, the young people are all bonafide musicians in their own right, and have individually collected enough awards and scholarships to fill a steamer trunk.

The public is urged to plan to attend this admission-free concert.

Now Is Time To Remove Snow Tires

Now's the time to remove snow tires or studded tires from your car, according to the American Automobile Association.

"Winter tires are not designed for high speed driving in warm weather," Richard W. Hoover, safety director for AAA's Massachusetts division, said recently. "You should have regular highway tires on your car for driving in spring, summer, and fall.

"Snow tires and studded tires do not offer as good braking and cornering performance as regular tires. In addition, they tend to wear out more rapidly on bare pavement, and they reduce your gasoline mileage."

Mr. Hoover pointed out that some states limit use of studded snow tires to winter months only. "For example, in Rhode Island it is illegal to use studded tires after April 1," he said. "In New Jersey and Virginia, stud tires are illegal after April 15. In New York they are not permitted after April 30."

Even though New England weather is unpredictable, chances are slight that April will have ice and snow storms severe enough to require winter tires.

When you take off stud tires, mark them L and R for left and right so you can replace them on the same wheels next winter. Don't replace them on the opposite wheels because the tires will rotate in the opposite direction and you'll lose much of the effectiveness of the studs. More important studs might work loose and be thrown out.

"If you took off your stud tires without first marking them L and R, here's how you can still do it," the AAA official said. "Stand the tires on end with the brand name facing you. Look closely at the tread.

"The leading edges of the studs wear faster, so each stud will show a slight angle or bevel when it first contacts the pavement. If the worn edges of the studs are to your right, the tire was on the right wheel; if to your left, it was on the left wheel."

When you take off winter tires, it's a good time to check the condition of your regular highway tires. In order to pass Massachusetts car inspection April 1 - May 15 tires must have a tread depth of at least 1/16 inch and be free of serious cuts, bumps, or bulges.

PREPARING for the Centennial Fund Drive of the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church, which will start with a Kick-off Dinner on Monday, April 13, are members of the committee, standing, left to right, George B. Bergquist, transportation; Mrs. David Dettinger, Kick-off Dinner; Harry L. Emmons, follow-up; Mrs. E. Leonard Woods, reservations; and seated, Mrs. Donald R. Wilkins, publicity; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Hatch, general chairmen; Mrs. Adolph Herrmann, prospect list. Not present when the photograph was taken were Mrs. H. Corey Wynn, hospitality, and Adolph Herrmann, treasurer of the Fund Drive. Mystic Valley's Mental Health

Last year a new wing was added to the Mystic Valley Children's Clinic located at 186 Bedford Street in Lexington, which doubled the number of conference rooms available to its staff and patients.

This marked a significant increase in services to the Mystic Valley area, the towns of Arlington, Burlington, Lexington, Winchester, and Woburn, and another accomplishment in the work of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, and its president Neil H. Borden of 58 Winford Way.

Mr. Borden took over the presidency in 1966 after he retired from the faculty of the Harvard Business School. At the time the association was working to purchase the present building for the Children's Clinic. He was instrumental in helping them reach their goal of $50,000 and even outstrip it by $20,000. This surplus made possible alterations to the building and the beginning of the new wing.

Though Mr. Borden spent the last years of his active career working in India, Singapore and Malaysia, he has not found retirement dull. With the Association board of directors, he oversees the administration of the Mystic Valley Clinic. In his four years in office, it has almost more than doubled its services to the public. In 1966, 373 children were seen in approximately 3,133 hours of staff time. But in 1969, 557 children were seen in 4,875 hours with 11,063 additional staff hours devoted to these cases.

The clinic staff has consequently grown. In 1962 it consisted of one half-time psychiatrist and a social worker. It now employs three psychiatrists, five psychologists, six social workers and one psychiatric nurse, although not all of these persons are full-time. And the positions of psychiatrist, social worker and psychiatric nurse for adult service are planned for the near future by the Association toward the goal of more comprehensive mental health services.

Mr. Borden describes his job of Association president as covering everything from raising funds to raking leaves and painting the place. Currently his objective is to finish the new wing of the clinic building. One floor, containing eight offices, is already in use. Eight other conference rooms await completion — the installation of lighting fixtures, flooring, baseboards and doors. A building fund of $6,000 is needed along with contributions of office furniture such as desks chairs and small tables. Also the grounds, which were neglected when the wing was constructed, now need someone to "keep down the weeds." Mr. Borden is hoping a garden club or other organization will be interested in contributing this service.

All told Mr. Borden finds the presidency of the association "an interesting and a worthwhile job." He feels that "anyone who has led an active life and retires should find an interest." Too many people are busy with their careers, and do not plan ahead. Some actually "fall apart" on retirement. For retired executives and professional men, volunteer work provides great opportunities. Their skills and experience can be invaluable on the administrative side of volunteer work. "There is plenty to do" in the mental health field for "old crocks," Mr. Borden adds with a smile.

Information about all kinds of volunteer work at the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association can be obtained from Mrs. Welch, the Association director at 186 Bedford Street, Lexington, or from Mrs. William Scouler, chairman of volunteers. Mr. Borden, who can be reached in Winchester or through the association, will be glad to discuss volunteer opportunities with anyone interested.

Official State Highway Map Now Available

State Department of Public Works Commissioner Edward J. Ribbs recently announced that the official state highway map for 1970 was ready for distribution.

The 24 by 34 inch map which folds for ease in carrying in pocket or automobile glove compartment shows major highway completions in the last year. Notable is the completion of the final sections of I-495 from Hopkinton to Medway, and the final sections of I-290 from Worcester to Marlborough. Also completed was a four-mile section of U.S. Route 44 from Middleborough to Route 58 in Carver.

A new feature this year is an inset that describes the types of interchanges used on the Commonwealth's highways, with the symbols that indicate the type at any given location.

Features retained on the new highway map include the inset maps of Boston and other major cities and of the Greater Boston area, the quick-reference mileage map, and the mileages and interchanges on the Massachusetts Turnpike.

Also retained is the index that locates each of the state's 351 cities and towns in addition to major localities within those communities. All State parks, forests and beaches are marked on the map, with an inset that identifies the boating, fishing, camping or swimming available at each facility.

Two of the more popular features, especially for tourists, is the listing of interchange exit numbers on divided controlled-access highway and a handy resume of the Commonwealth's motor vehicle laws and regulations.

Copies of the map are available to the public without charge by mailing requests to the Secretary's Office, Room 426, 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02114.

En Ka Plans Street Fair

The spring meeting of the En Ka Society was held last week during Tuesday's snow storm at the home of Mrs. Robert H. Jewell.

Despite snow many members attended the luncheon served by Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox Jr. and her committee. A business meeting followed. Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, president of En Ka, presided.

Mrs. Charles E. Potts, En Ka Exchange chairman, announced that only spring clothing is being accepted at the shop now. Summer clothing will be accepted after May 1.

Finance Committee chairman Mrs. Harry L. Benson reported the following recent recipients of En Ka donations: the Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A. for care of Winchester stray animals; the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association for moving expenses; and the Rev. Richard Diehl for a second weekend conference for young people.

The spring meeting always brings news of the annual En Ka Street Fair to be held this year on May 15 and 16. Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell is chairman of the 1970 fair, entitled "Space Fair," which will revolve around the space moon theme.

The snack bar, bakery booth, bargain box, book shop and other regular features will be present as well as the giant midway. This year it will feature a new ride. Mrs. Pettingell announced that she has arranged for an extensive exhibit on the Space Age, including models of rockets, space suits, and space modules to be displayed in the High School aduitorium during the fair. This should prove a very popular attraction for young and old alike.

Drafting supplies — T-squares, triangles, 30'-60'-45' degrees. Pickett slide rules. Priced $1.95 to $28.50. Also available is a display catalogue. At the Winchester Star.

The newest member of the music staff, elementary music specialist Marilyn Bone, will perform horn solos and an original composition she wrote in 1966.

Wendell S. Withington, director of music, will provide accompaniment and encourages all to attend the concert.

Think-In To Be Held At St. Mary's

On Thursday evening, April 16th, the last Thursday Think-In of the year will be held in Saint Mary's Hall. The speaker of the evening will be Father James Haddad, professor of Theology at St. John's Seminary, Brighton. His topic will be "Faith and Doubt."

The evening begins with a dessert hour at 7:45. The lecture begins at 8:15 and is followed by a question and answer period. The evening is over at 10 p.m.

Adults and parents of the parish are urged to attend this lecture. Here is an opportunity for all to become acquainted with the thinking of the Church.

Guild Plans Spring Dance

The Guild of St. Luke of Boston will set aside April 24 for an "Evening in Montmartre" at the Sidney Hill Country Club at 7 p.m.

The Guild, an international organization of Catholic Physicians, has over many years helped medical charities throughout the world.

An escoffier dinner; George Graham's Orchestra for dancing; entertainment by Charles Dornan; and a strolling sketcher are a few of the highlights.

Committee ladies include Mrs. Richard E. Stiles of Yale Street, Publicity Chairman.

Lions Clubs Plan Patriots Day Ball

By popular demand, the 10 sponsoring Lions Clubs which promoted last year's Patriots Day Ball have decided to make it an Annual Event.

The atmosphere of the Burlington Mall with its trees, water fountains and spring flowers was conducive in setting the scene for one of the year's largest and most successful balls. For those who missed it, Glenn Miller's Orchestra played throughout the night. During intermissions, Al Natale's Tijuna Brass played at one end while Dixie Land music emanated from the other. Adding splendor to the evening were 10 "open" champagne fountains plus "open soda bars."

This year's Ball will feature the internationally known band leader Lester Lanin and his orchestra. Al Natale and the Dixie Land music will also return by popular demand along with all the "open champagne fountains.

This charity event is being sponsored by 10 local Lions Clubs, the world's largest service club. All proceeds will be used to promote civic and state projects within their respective communities.

Some worthwhile projects which will benefit from this event are glaucoma and lazy eye clinics, scholarship eye research, Little League ball teams and many many more. more.

Tickets for this event to be held on Sunday, April 19, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. can be purchased from Blair's Card and Gift Shop at the Mall. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Drug Program To Be Held At High School

On Wednesday, April 15th, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a Drug and Alcohol Abuse Program at the Winchester High School in the Robert M. Keeney Memorial Library.

This program, an independent project developed by Joseph Vitka III, a student at the high school, will include speakers, films, and pamphlets. An open discussion, including a question and answer session, will conclude the evening's activities.

Refreshments will be served. Interested parents, faculty, and students are invited to attend.

David A. Carter of 2 Elm Street, assistant manager of Ken's Mobil of Winchester, recently flew to Ireland to join his fiancee, Miss Ann Bowe, and to act as master of ceremonies at the grand opening of a new Mobil gas station in Dublin, Ireland.

Children's Zoo Opening Set

Spring is here. The long winter is almost over. It has been an active winter at the Children's Zoo, Franklin Park. Baby animals have been born almost every week. Baby lambs, goats, turtles, snakes, and many others are all waiting to meet new friends when the Children's Zoo opens on April 25th.

Opening day will be special with guest stars from television, special opening day ceremonies, and opening day exhibits and shows.

Plan to visit the Children's Zoo on opening day, Saturday, April 25, and then all summer long. New animals that can be fed, touched, and held are waiting at the Zoo. There are cougars, tigers, elephants, snakes, monkeys, birds, turtles, lizards, coatimundis, alligators and many other baby animals. The Children's Zoo is easy to find. Just follow the tracks along the Jamaicaway. The Children's Zoo . . . where kids and animals get together.

Breaks Reported

Reports of breaking and enterings at Winchester residences this week include one at a Leslie Road home on Tuesday, March 24. On returning home an occupant was alerted by a burning candle, one of two used by the intruder(s) for light.

Officer Daniel C. Pearson Jr. and Sergeant Daniel I. Reardon were called to investigate and found that a seven by 10 inch glass pane on a rear door had been broken and entry gained through the kitchen. The master bedroom had been ransacked. Two coin banks were discovered as missing.

According to police reports, a Grove Street residence was entered for the third time during the month of March on Saturday the 28th. On March 20 silverware was reported as missing and on March 27 a color console television was discovered as taken.

Last Saturday Officers Joseph N. Perritano, Joseph M. Crowe Jr. and John W. McKinley were sent to this location. Entry was allowed, it was deduced, by cutting a screen on the porch and breaking a glass pane on the door. Two sets of footprints were found.

All rooms in the house had been disturbed. Two rugs which were rolled up and burned matches left on the floor. Articles known to be missing at the time and listed in the police report include cuff links, cigarette lighter, seal skin coat, silver-plated candleabra and a gold chalice.

At another Grove Street home, it was recorded on Monday, March 30, a glass pane on a basement window was removed. Again burned out matches were found on the first floor. Officer Perritano noted that nothing was missing or disturbed. The house was vacant.

No signs of forced entry were noticed by Officer Anthony Pronski who filed the police report on a breaking and entering at a Berkshire Drive residence on Monday. A cellar door and a sliding glass door were found open.

While the occupants were away for the weekend, desks in the den and in a bedroom, as well as a bedroom bureau, were ransacked. A table lamp shade and a bedspread were burned. There was nothing reported missing at this time.

Officer David K. Richardson responded to a call that day at a Cabot Street home. The owner reported that the house had been vacant for several days. A rear cellar window had been broken and a water faucet in the cellar turned on and left running. This was discovered by a neighbor, who turned the faucet off and sumised that the action was a prank.

At some time later the owner found that a medicine chest, containing needles, syringes, and various pills, was empty. A check of the premises provided information on other missing articles. Those given in the police report were a jade and silver braclet, an emerald bracelet, a silver necklace set with emeralds, all considered heirlooms by their owner, and a Swiss watch.

Mini-Bikes Must Meet Standards

Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin recently reminded parents and guardians that mini-bikes which do not meet the equipment requirements set forth for motor vehicles may not be registered and are barred from our highways.

"You are doing your children an injustice when you supply them with these unsafe, improperly equipped motor vehicles," Mr. McLaughlin said. "Even in the few cases of those which do meet equipment requirements, the operator, in addition to holding a motorcycle learner's permit or a valid motorcycle license, must wear approved protective headgear."

Equipment requirements for mini-bikes include:

1. An approved braking system capable of stopping within 30 feet from a speed of 20 miles per hour.
2. SAE (Society of Automotive Engineers) approved tail light, stop light, headlamp, and plate light.
3. A rear view mirror and horn.
4. Fenders must be in place.
5. The hot exhaust system components which could contact the operator must be suitably caged or screened.

Unitarian Players Perform This Weekend At Church

"Three Men on a Horse," a rollicking three act comedy, opens this weekend, Friday and Saturday, April 10 and 11, at Metcalf Hall in the Unitarian Church, Main Street, Winchester.

Post time for the curtain is 8:30 p.m. with everyone invited to pick a winning ticket.

The play, by George Abbott and John Cecil Holm, was originally staged on Broadway in the thirties and was successfully revived in New York last year.

The three men do not actually ride a horse(but are gamblers who use someone else's luck "system" to pick the winners at the races. These gamblers pick the brains of Erwin Trowbridge, an honest, mild-mannered verse writer for a greeting card company, and in picking Erwin's brains they ride their way into Erwin's life providing for his domestic and professional complications.

Production chairmen for the play are Mrs. Charlotte Hill and Mrs. Betty Ann Pritchard. Other members of the production staff include: Mrs. Trudy Irving, set design; Gerry Patrick, chairman, set construction; Mrs. Peg Magnusen and Mrs. Mary Klug, stage managers; Mrs. Kathleen Chipman, costumes; Penny Sibley, Mrs. Joan Benson, and Mrs. Renee Miller, properties; Mrs. Ann Carrigan, makeup. All are from Winchester.

Mrs. John F. White of 16 Sheffield Road, Winchester, (729-0287), is in charge of tickets for this Unitarian Players Production.

The cast of eight men and three women includes actors from as far away as New Hampshire.

Mystic Mothers To Sponsor Book Fair

The Mystic School Mothers' Association will hold a book fair in the school auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday, April 15 and 16, from 9 a.m. an 3:45 p.m. each day.

The Fair is offered not as a fund-raising project but rather as a service to the children, making available a good selection of new paperback and hard-cover books, both fiction and nonfiction, at reasonable prices.

Parents are invited to browse by themselves or with their children.

Seminars Planned At University

Panelists will be Miss Ruth Bean, executive director of the Women's Education and Industrial Union, Boston; Richard A. Kelley, dean of the College of Special Studies, Tufts University; and William H. Wells of Madison Avenue, director of Public and Community Relations at Tufts.

The program was organized by the Seminars Committee of the Tufts Alumni Council under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph M. Manning of Yale Street. In addition to Mrs. Bergstrom and Mrs. Manning, members of the Committee include Dr. Roland E. Bucknam of Ainsworth Road, Warren E. Jackson of Wildwood Street and Professor Earle F. Special Movie Program

Boy Scouts in the Minute Man Council have special invitations to the full-length Walt Disney film based on a novel by Conrad Richter which will be shown at the Winchester Public Library Thursday and Friday of this week. The public is also invited. Adults as well as children should enjoy this story of a white youth raised by Indians in the 1760's.

There will be four showings: one at 4 and one at 7 p.m. each day. The film runs over an hour and a half. It is suggested that younger children attend the afternoon showings. Very young children cannot sustain interest in a full-length picture.

The movie is being shown in connection with the overnight camping trip made each year by the Boy Scouts as they relive the events of April 18 and 19, 1775 and end by marching in the Concord parade. Last year the film based on the beginnings of the Revolutionary War was helpful in setting the mood for the expedition, so the trustees of the Public Library voted to continue this cooperative venture with the use of the Edgar J. Rich Trust Fund which provides for programs relating to American history.

In the preface of the novel on which this film is based, Mr. Richter states, "In records of the Eastern border, the author was struck by the numbers of returned white captives who tried desperately to run away from their flesh-and-blood families and return to their Indian foster homes and the Indian mode of life . . . I thought that perhaps if we understood how these First Americans felt toward us even then and toward our white way of life, we might better understand the adverse, if perverted, view of us by some African, European, and Asian people today."

To Attend Night At Pops

The Connecticut College Club of Boston will celebrate May Day at Symphony Hall with its annual Evening at Pops. A special feature of the Friday, May 1, event this year will be a performance at intermission of the college singing group, the Shwiffs.

Alumnae and guests may make reservations for cocktails and dinner beforehand, with free parking for the evening, at the nearby Midtown Motor Hotel.

Proceeds from the evening will benefit the scholarship fund for a local student. Tickets may be obtained from Charles Faris of Wellesley Hills.

Among those will will be patronesses are Mrs. Harry P. Hood Jr. and Mrs. Harold Blanchard, both of Winchester. Mrs. Joel Alpert of Winchester is a sponsor.

Memorial Gifts To Heart Fund

Late friends and relatives of Winchester honored by memorial gifts to the Heart Fund during the past four months were announced by Dr. Harrison Black, president of the Greater Boston Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association.

"Heart Fund memorial gifts express remembrance and love of our friends and dear ones who have passed away," Dr. Black said. "They also give hope of a longer life to others through support to research, education, and community service programs of the Heart Association."

Any sum may be given as a memorial through the Greater Boston Chapter of the Heart Association at 677 Beacon Street, Boston 02215.

Arts Festival Play Tryouts Are Scheduled

Bob Storer will direct Noel Coward's clever comedy "Fumed Oak" for the Winchester Arts Festival May 30th. This will be part of a weekend of theatre, dance, music, and art being sponsored by the Winchester Art Association.

Open tryouts for four character roles in the play will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 14 and 15, at 7:45 p.m. in Chidley Hall at the First Congregational Church, Dix Street. There are parts for three women, ages mid-teens through sixties, and one man in early middle age or younger.

Applicants for technical jobs on the set will also be welcomed at tryouts, where the producer will be pleased to discuss individual interests.

St. Mary's School Registration Set

Registration for St. Mary's School for September, 1970, will take place on Monday, April 13 from 8 to 10 a.m. in the school hall.

Physical Fitness In Young Urged By Tiny Tot Gym

The North Suburban Y.M.C.A. is happy to announce the addition of the new but very popular Tiny Tots Gym.

This program came about because many of our children today become too satisfied with sitting down and watching television. This is because they do not know how to have fun while exercising.

Our Tiny Tot Gym program is geared to the development of the large and small muscles, coordination and rhythm. The instructor will be Miss Judith Hazlett, who was an instructor at the Estella and Alfonso, Inc., Dance and Dramatic School in New York for six years.

The program will be offered for eight weeks, starting April 15, from three to five years of age are eligible for this program.

For registration, call or come by the North Suburban Y.M.C.A., 553 Main Street, Woburn, phone number, 935-3270.

Arlington Downs Pee Wee B's

The Pee Wee "B's" lost to Arlington 6 to 2 in the finals of the Division I Tournament but not without a bit of "scrap and fire."

The offensive puck was on the net all night but on the wrong side of a strong goalie.

Rich Coakley who has done it all year kept the "B's" close until midway through the game as he scored two goals to make it 3 to 2 at the time. Rich "dumped" his first in the far right corner when he was fed in front by "Spark" Fuccillo and his second came off a pass from Phil Casey on left wing — another Coakley light in the low short side corner!

Paul Duff led the defensemen and showed what "a rush" is and forwards "Chipper" Hartnett and "Jimbo" Beaton turned in another hard effort up front.

Diplomats Down Faculty 57-43

by John F. Parrell

The Harlem Diplomats led by the redoubtable Dick Harvey came to town last Friday night and gave the Winchester faculty a lesson in the art and science of basketball by defeating them 57-43. The game attracted a capacity audience and the coffers of the junior class were swelled by the gate receipts.

It was a game which at times was serious competitive basketball and at other moments was an uproarious burlesque of the court game. John DiGiammarino of Malden who was a referee along with Bob Bigelow, had some hard moments with the visiting team who stormed over his rulings and even accused Assistant Coach Jack Eydenberg of hiding the basketball under his jersey. The official took it all in good part and even joined in the spirit of the affair by "hamming it up" himself.

Unorthodox, unexpected and unrehearsed antics kept the teachers baffled since they were having trouble enough trying to return to their own playing days while suffering the shortness of breath which lack of conditioning causes. However, the action never lagged and both the faculty and students were pleased with the affair.

Dick Harvey, the leader of the Diplomats proved to be a capable and fine all ground sportsman and although he was the outstanding player for the visitors he left the scoring glory to the other players. Jeff Dodson, who is an intern from Harvard, led the faculty point getters with 11, and the rangy youth from the banks of the Charles did much to keep his older team mates in the ball game.

Pee Wee Soccer Slates Game

Sunday, April 12, at 2 p.m. at Loring Field, the Winchester Pee Wee soccer team will play Hudson for the league opener.

Fifteen boys, chosen from the 30 boys who scrimmage each Saturday, will represent Winchester in this tilt.

The concensus of the coaching staff is that the Winchester team, although averaging more than one year under the maximum age of thirteen, should give a good account of themselves this year. Practice will again be held 2 p.m. Saturday, April 11 at Leonard Field. Uniforms will be distributed at this session.

PETE DESMEULES scored 10 goals and nine assists for the Lehigh University hockey during the past season.

Annual Dinner For Hoop Team

by John F. Parrell

Winchester's basketball team, which stunned the schoolboy hoop world by advancing to the semifinal round of the Tech Tourney, held its annual dinner last Thursday at the Winchester Country Club.

The affair was hosted by coaches Vandy French and Jack Eydenberg and was attended by all players who dressed for the tourney, the managers, and Athletic Director Henry Knowlton. Rep. Harrison Chadwick and this writer were invited guests at the head table.

The boys proved just as capable at polishing off the food as they were at dropping the ball through the hoop and they did full justice to the chicken country style. It was an informal evening with plenty of food and plenty of laughs and was a fitting end to a wonderful season.

The speaking program was informal with the coaches and head table guests and Captain Tim Fahey the only persons called upon. Their remarks were brief and to the point. Announcement was made that Bob Bigelow will be captain for the 1970-71 campaign.

A new permanent trophy for the Sachem trophy case was shown. It is in the form of a full-sized brass basketball and was given to the school by Mrs. Evander French, the mother of the hoop coach.

The trophy is a memorial to Tom Black who was a close friend and athletic associate of Coach French at Winchester High and who was killed several years ago in a motor accident while a member of the Marine Corps. His father is a well-known writer for the Boston Globe.

The award will be made annually to the most valuable player who will receive a statuette and have his name inscribed on the plate of the major trophy in the school display case. This year's award went to Capt. Tim Fahey.

All the boys who dressed for the Garden games were presented with Tech Tourney pins.

Junior varsity certificates went to the following: Tom James, Bob Hicks, Dana Peterson, Bob Wolfe, Tom Adams, Rick Powers, Doug De Natale; Asst. Mgrs. Joe Capone, Barry Lombardi and Dave Simeone.

Others who received similar certificates were Steve Mulloy, Paul Graffeo, Gary Fincke, Rick Beaton, Rick Erickson, Tony Fiore, Paul Landry, Steve McManus, Justin O'Connor, Neal Callahan.

Elementary Hoop Teams In Tourney

Last Saturday morning, McCall Junior High and Winchester Senior High were the scene for the second annual elementary school basketball tournament sponsored by the Recreation Department.

Under the direction of Vandy French and Joe DiIorio, recreational supervisors, 200 fifth and sixth-grade boys participated in the interschool playoffs.

Little League

Pre-season activity is plentiful in the Winchester Little League. On Saturday, March 28, about 600 boys turned in player applications at the Town Hall to League President Al Fiorilli and other Little League officials.

The money that came in with each application will aid the organization's sagging finances considerably. However, the financial condition of Little League is still somewhat precarious and other means will be taken to secure needed operating revenue.

Saturday, April 4 saw a good turnout for minor and major league tryouts at Ginn and West Side Fields. Although the day was a bit breezy and cold, field conditions were surprisingly good and the tryout sessions, morning and afternoon, went off without a hitch.

Among the new faces in the Little League managerial lineup are the following American Minor League managers: Bob Willing, 6 Clearwater Road, who'll be managing the Foxes this season; and Fran Cullen, 78 Bacon Street, manager of the Buffaloes. Young Fran, who's a prep-school third baseman himself, will be assisted by Bill Kane, 4 Wyman Court; and Guy Mistretta, 5 Harvard Street, who is moving up this season from coach to manager of the Panthers.

The Major and Minor Leagues will open the season on Saturday, April 25. Senior League wlil open on May 17.

Perform Well Local Skaters

by John F. Parrell

Speed skating as a sport is not apt to have a great deal of prominence since it is strictly competitive and not too much of a spectator sport. This is particularly true in the local area where there are not too many suitable places to hold the events.

However, there are hundreds of devotees and they start at an early age to develop their skills in the sport. Programs are held at the various M D C rinks and several Winchester youngsters have been taking part in the novice class at the Belmont rink.

The Metropolitan championships were held last week at the Cronin Rink in Revere with several hundred participating. The following participants from Winchester were among the leaders:

Maurice McCarthy — 2nd in over all points in the meet with a 3rd in the 220 final and a 2nd in the 110 yard final. Pee Wee Boys division Age 7; Address 208 Forest Street.

Allyn Stillman — High Point Champion in Special Midget Boys Won 220 yd final; 110 yd final Times 30:5 seconds and 16:2 seconds consecutively. Age 9; Address 224 Ridge Street.

David Putnam — High Point Champion in Midget Boys Won 220 yd final time 28:8 sec.; 2nd in 330 yd final. Age 11; Address 6 Goddu Avenue.

Burlington YWCA Plans Meeting

Members of the Burlington YWCA will meet on April 15, at 8 p.m. to elect representatives for the Center Committee.

As a reminder, this agency is an extension of the Cambridge YWCA and is officially the Burlington Center of the Cambridge YWCA, a participating member of the United Fund.

After short business meeting there will be a panel discussion by students of the Burlington High School who visited Odyssey House in New York last year. They will share the results of a face to face discussion with their peers who had become involved with drugs.

"Fun on Ice For All Ages" is the slogan used by Hockeytown, U.S.A., Melrose, to highlight the fact that its skating programs are entertainment for young and old alike.

Their second figure skating recital, which is to be held on Friday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. is no exception. The mothers, fathers and relatives of these young girls, who will participate in the program, will witness the various routines that these youngsters have been practicing for the past several weeks.

The public is invited and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Mini-Bikes

Mini-bikes which do not meet the equipment requirements set forth for motor vehicles may not be registered and are barred from our highways by the Registry of Motor Vehicles, Chief of Police Edward F. Bowler reminded parents today.

Even if the mini-bike does meet equipment requirements, the operator must have a motorcycle learner's permit or a valid motorcycle license, and must wear approved protective headgear, to operate legally on the street.

Chief Bowler quoted Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin as follows: "You are doing your children an injustice when you supply them with these unsafe, improperly equipped motor vehicles."

S.O.I. News

The monthly meeting of the Sons of Italy for April was held Monday, April 6 with Venerable Joe Paonessa starting the meeting at 8:30 p.m.

At this meeting three new members, Lawrence Seahill, Fred LaTorella Jr., and Arthur Griswald, were installed into the lodge.

Anyone who wishes to enter this league must have the entrance fee to the committee by April 20th. New members to the league must also submit a correct handicap to these committee members: Frank Costa, Al Fiorilli, Don Kenton, and Chris Feudo.

The S. O. I. Blood Bank Day will be held in the Club quarters on Friday, April 17, and the hours of donating blood are from 2 until 6:45 p.m. The Red Cross Bloodmobile and all help needed will be on hand.

A spaghetti and meatball plate will be served to all who donate a pint of blood. All non-members are also welcome to come and donate.

The joint installation of officers of the men's and women's lodges will take place in the club quarters on Saturday, April 18. All officers of both lodges are urged to be on hand early in order to start the formal program and to take their oath of office. After the formal program is over refreshments will be served by the committee with dancing to be enjoyed for the evening.

The next "Pot of Gold" dance will be held on Friday, April 24. There is no charge for admission to this dance so come on down and take along some friends for a night of fun and dancing.

Congratulations to brother John (Jake) Ciarcia who has been recently appointed to the position of Town Engineer for the Town of Winchester.

Congratulations also to Bill and Rose Fiore who will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary with a trip to the Caribbean later this month.

Look over the North-South hands and see where your bidding system would take you. Let's assume that East bids the heart suit, either originally with a weak two-heart bid (showing six hearts and under an opening bid) or as an overcall.

It's not easy to bid the cold grand slam in either diamonds or clubs, is it? Especially with interfering heart bidding by East-West. (For example, suppose an opening two-heart bid by East, a double by South, then four hearts by West who suspects a slam North-South; that really takes up the North-South bidding room.) After all, there are only thirty high card points North-South, but values change when you have two suits to run.

Anyway only one of the eleven North-South pairs, — Dave Littleton and Steve Root—bid and made seven, in diamonds. And only three others were in six, two in no trump and one in diamonds, making seven of course.

Where were we? In three no trump, making seven, for a middle board. Those bidding five clubs and five diamonds fared worse.

Moral: It's better to hold spades and hearts for bidding slams. With the minors, there's always the thought, "If we don't have slam, we should stop at three no trump."

Troop Scouts 525 Flash Invitation To Scout Show

Last Saturday evening Boy Scouts from Troop 525 used lights to flash an invitation to Boston.

One signalling team used a car headlight on Buckman Drive above Vinson-Owen School to transmit the invitation 8.5 miles to the other team on the Skywalk in the Prudential Tower in Boston.

The main message transmitted was "Troop 525 of Winchester welcomes you to the 1970 Scout Show." The Prudential team acknowledged the message nad sent a reply with a spotlight hand lantern.

According to Tommy Jones, leader of the Mosquito Patrol and the Prudential team, "We could see the Winchester light with the naked eye, but our binoculars helped us read the code better." Other Scouts on the Prudential team were Michael Corf and Richard Terzian with Nolan Jones, ASM, supplying transportation.

The Winchester team included Scouts Scott Wilson, Jay Vincent, and Bobby White with Jack Wilson, SM, escorting.

Troop 525 plans to have an exhibit of Indian Lore at the annual District Scout Show. The show will be held next Saturday, April 11, noon to 4 p.m., at the Stoneham Town Hall. The theme is "Tomorrow's Citizens."

Tennis Dance To Benefit Youth Fund

John Koslowski, president of the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center, East Street has announced that the proceeds of the forthcoming annual tennis dinner dance, scheduled for May 9th at the Cente, will be used to provide a source of funds for young tennis players to draw upon in their quest for training and experience in tennis.

According to Mr. Koslowski, the dinner dance is being organized and directed by a group of men and women who play at the center and who are interested in promoting tennis among the young people of the area.

The dinner-dance, which will offer dancing on three of the indoor courts, is open to all who are interested in a good time and tennis. Dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. and after dinner dancing will continue til 1 a.m.

More information, and tickets, are available at the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center which is open from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. each evening.

Air Force Awards Medal To Capt. Puffer

Captain Joseph M. Puffer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Puffer of 9 Ravine Road, was recently awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal for his action last summer during Hurricane Camille.

When the hurricane struck the Gulf Coast during August of 1969, Captain Puffer and his family were stationed at Keesler Airforce Base in Biloxi, Mississippi, while he attended the Communications Staff Officer School. After the disaster school was suspended and Captain Puffer was assigned to be in charge of a clean-up detail. It was for this work that he was awarded the Commendation Medal.

He is presently the commander of Communications Detachment 11 -3 in western Turkey, in the region of the recent severe earthquakes.

The captain is a graduate of Winchester High School, New Hampton Preparatory School and Tufts University. He is married to the former Ann Parker, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Parker of Hadley. They have a one-year-old daughter, Heather.

CRANE PREPARES to lift a new metalworking press, at J. H. Winn, Inc. The Winchester firm will use the big machine for high speed, precision stamping and piercing of computer parts, instrument pointers, and other components for the automotive and electronics industries.

Punch Press Installed At J. H. Winn

A new 50-ton, straight-side punch press is being installed at the J. H. Winn, Inc., here. Full-scale operation of the new machine will increase the production capabilities of the local firm.

J. H. Winn, Inc., a division of McCord Corporation, Detroit, is a leading supplier of instrument hands and pointers for the automotive industry, and is noted for precision metal stampings, small parts and precision sub-assemblies.

The new press will give J. H. Winn, Inc., a new capability in the use of carbide tooling. Tungsten carbide, hardest of man-made materials, can operate at extremely high speeds and temperatures, maintaining a high order of precision, and requiring very little maintenace.

Initially Winn expects to produce high volume stampings for International Business Machines Corporation, Essex Junction, Vermont, with plans to expand this manufacturing capability to serve other customers in the near future.

Magic Charms Mystic School

Nearly 400 Mystic School children were entertained by the amazing magic of Herb Downs at two shows held after school on April 2 and 3.

Mr. Downes, who is enjoying increasing fame as one of New England's most sought after entertainers, added interest to the program by using members of the audience to assist him with his tricks.

Sponsored by the Mystic School Mothers' Association, the shows are given annually for the benefit of the Winchester Scholarship Fund.

En Ka Fair Gets Ready For May 15

The "Bargain Box," a variety of white elephants at appealing prices, along with the volumes of books, (books for children, books for teenagers, books for the erudite and books for the frivolous) and the table of homemade candy and baked goods are but a few of the exclusive features of the annual En Ka Street Fair which differentiates it from other carnivals for good causes.

En Ka Fair also boasts a huge midway of rides for kiddies and adults and a "strip" of games of skill including dime pitch, penny pitch, balloon darts, basketball throw, milk can toss and, new this year, the jewelry ring toss, a game in which everyone is literally a winner.

Of course, there's always plenty to eat at the Fair, with the snack bar serving home-made lobster rolls and Congo Bars, plus the hot dogs, hamburgers, ice cream and cotton candy which are an integral part of the occasion.

It's coming up early this year, in fact just five weeks distant on Friday night, May 15 and all day Saturday, May 16. Money spent at the Street Fair goes to help En Ka Society help many local organizations and charities.

Other features of the En Ka Street Fair include a home-cooked ham and baked bean supper Saturday night, May 16th, and a parade Saturday morning to start the day off. Now in its 36th year, the Street Fair has a different theme each year. The 1970 version is called the Space Fair in honor of the first man on the moon. Decorations, the costumes of the directors and a "space surprise" will carry out the space motif.

The Winchester Star — approximately 6000 copies sold weekly — where your advertising dollar is wisely invested.

Hearing On Drugs Conducted Here By Sen. Kennedy

Testimony given on the drug problem by members of local CONCERN and other panelists participating in a field hearing conducted by Senator Edward M. Kennedy last Friday in Winchester will become part of the record of the special Senate Subcommittee on Alcoholism and Narcotics.

Senator Kennedy, acting chairman of the subcommittee, initiated the recent hearings in Winchester and Lynn to provide grassroots information for possible new legislation dealing with prevention and control of drug use.

Members of three panels, the first composed of Boston area school administrators and staff, the second from Project CONCERN, and the last from Malden's ACID, exchanged remarks following the introductory statement given by Senator Kennedy to young people and adults crowding Winchester High School's auditorium.

Composing the first panel were Earl S. Johnson Jr., a mathematics instructor at McCall Junior High School, Mrs. Rose Picone, an Arlington High School teacher, Roger Aubrey, a guidance counselor at Brookline High School, and William Powers, superintendent of schools in Needham. Both Arlington and Needham have experienced recent heroin-overdose deaths.

Reiterated by several panelists was the need for clinics and enforcement of drug restrictions. Superintendent Powers, quoting students' statements to him that "you can educate us, but you can't tell us what to do," stressed that perspectives on drug use should be emphasized. Noting that present laws often "penalize unjustly," he said that the death of someone close to the students from drugs has had some affect.

Speaking from contact with students Mr. Johnson stated that young people were seeking excitement in the use of drugs, but noted that this independence turns on itself, becoming dependence.

CONCERN Reports

Representatives from CONCERN were Dr. Donald McLean and Mrs. Jean Bradley, both members, John Puffer, president of Winchester High School"s senior class, and Janice Richardson, a member of the student-to-student program.

Dr. McLean outlined for the Senator the main areas in which the Winchester project was involved, those of community cooperation, the student-to-student program, retreats, and drug addiction in the schools presently down to the eighth grade and anticipated for the elementary level next year. While acknowledging that the age of users is steadily dropping, he estimated that only one in 20 addicts are optimistic about being rehabilitated and leading a successful life. The advance of preventive medicine and growth of drug clinics are looked forward to with expectation.

Mrs. Bradley noted the success of the recent retreat sponsored by CONCERN for about 30 to 35 people. She had been informed by one participant that the experiment had eliminated "gut" feelings about drugs. Praise for this retreat was later repeated.

SEVERE DAMAGE was caused to the McCCall Road home of Mrs. Mary E. Donahue by a fire Wednesday, April 8. The multi-alarm fire occurred shortly before 2 p.m. while the residents were away. (Joyce photo)

Wednesday Afternoon Fire Causes Severe Damage To McCall Rd. Home

A rambling colonial style home on McCall Road was heavily damaged in a two-alarm fire Wednesday, April 8.

The house, located at 16 McCall Road, is owned by Mrs. Mary Donahue. Unoccupied at the time of the blaze, the house is located on a section of McCall Road formerly known as Myopia Hill Road, according to Town Hall officials.

Winchester Assessor Ernest Dade and the Assessor's Clerk, Henry Murray, were in the area on business when they observed the fire and turned in the first alarm at 1:46 p.m.

Engines 2, 3, the ladder and rescue trucks and the fire prevention car responded to the first alarm. A second alarm, turned in at 1:54 p.m., brought Engine 4, the chief's car, the auxiliary light truck, the Arlington ladder and an Arlington engine.

Fire Chief I. Francis Amico and Captain David N. Dalton took charge of the firefighting operations.

Covering at the central station on the second alarm were Auxiliary Engine 6, the Medford ladder, and a Woburn engine.

Firefighters were able to contain the fire in the second floor and the attic .Injured in the blaze and treated at the Winchester Hospital were Firefighters John Hennelly and Michael Connolly. They were released following treatment.

First arriving firefighters found smoke pouring from the eaves. Heavy smoke and intense heat made the fire difficult to fight. The gas and electric companies assisted by shutting off service to the house.

Listed by Chief Amico as apparent cause of the fire was an outside incinerator. Apparently the incinerator, located on the north side of the house, ignited wood piled against the side of the house. Severe damage was done to the north wall of the house.

Police officers who assisted at the fire were Joseph Crowe, Kevin Mawn, Donald Jackson and Henry Cogan. Officers Crowe and Mawn manned the ambulance.

Salvage covers were used throughout the house by firefighters in an attempt to prevent smoke and water damage to the furnishings. Fire Department men returned to the house on Thursday to continue clean-up work.

Final Town Meeting Votes West Side Fire Station; '70 Tax Rate Seen As $52

The 1970 Town Meeting concluded Thursday, April 9 shortly before midnight with 38 articles considered in eight sessions.

Funds were appropriated at Thursday's session for plans to be drawn up and bids solicited for the construction of a fire sub-station at Lockeland Road and Ridge Streets. The station is to cost approximately $95,000 and $5,000 was appropriated for the plans.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the Finance Committee announced an estimated tax rate of $52. The Board of Assessors will officially set the tax rate later this spring.

Considered at Thursday's meeting were the five articles remaining on the warrant. Also brought up was a reconsideration of Article 22 concerning the purchase of the Low property on Alben Street. Following the meeting at which it was voted to appropriate $1,000 for an option on the land, Mr. Low contacted the Board of Selectmen and offered to sell the property to the Town for approximately $40,000. At Thursday's session, the Town Meeting voted to accept that offer.

Indefinitely postponed at Thursday' session was Article 34 regarding a proposed change in zoning on Baldwin Street. The change was to be from a General Residence Zone to a Light Industrial Zone.

Thursday Session

Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick opened the meeting by giving the invocation.

Article 33, concerning the West Side fire station, was the first to be considered. Moderator Chadwick read a motion calling for the appointment of a temporary committee of the Permanent Building Committee to obtain architect's drawings, and bids for the construction of a sub-station at the corner of Lockeland Road and Ridge Street to cost approximately $95,000. The motion called for the appropriation of $5,000 for the expenses of the plans and called for a report of the committee at the next special or annual Town Meeting following August 15, 1970.

Speaking first on the motion was Town Meeting Member Gerald D. Saks of 10 Nassau Drive. Mr. Saks reviewed the history of the attempt to construct a West Side fire station and told the meeting that the growth of the area made the need urgent.

He commented that a West Side fire station was recommended in 1914. The residents were not asking for luxury, just the basic, necessary protection, he said. He concluded his remarks by asking the Town not to wait for a tragedy before constructing the station.

Robert T. Holland of 19 Highland Avenue, a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 1, also spoke in favor of the construction. Showing slides of new substations in Woburn and Saugus, he noted that an adequate station could be built for $85,000.

Board of Selectmen Chairman Paul Amico noted that the Selectmen recommended favorable action.

Decision

Their decision was based on a determination of the need for the station. Chairman Amico noted that the Board had held a hearing on the matter and also had determined the timing of fire equipment runs to the West Side and the amount of damage done there in the past few years.

Ralph Swanson Is Elected Chairman Of Board Of Selectmen

At its regular meeting Monday night in the Town Hall, the Board of Selectmen elected Ralph M. Swanson as its chairman for 1970-71.

Chairman Swanson is serving the final year of his three year term.

Also nominated for the post was Selectman John Sullivan, who is also serving the final year of a three year term. On a roll call vote, Chairman Swanson received three votes and Selectman Sullivan, two. Executive Secretary Edward Donnelly was in charge of the balloting.

Chairman Swanson replaces Selectman Paul Amico who was chairman of the Board during the final year of his first three-year term on the Board. At the March 2 elections, Selectman Amico was granted a second three-year term by a substantial vote.

Also elected March 2 and sitting on the Board for his first time Monday night was William G. Chapman Jr., former chairman of the Planning Board.

Also sitting with the Board Monday night was Selectman Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr., who is entering the second year of his second three year term. Selectman Saltmarsh served on the board from 1959 to 1962 and was chairman of the Board in 1961-62.

Town Engineer

At a recent meeting the Board appointed John Ciarcia of 6 Nathaniel Road Town Engineer to replace the late Howard Ambrose. The appointment became effective March 31.

Assistant Town Engineer since October, 1967, Mr. Ciarcia is a graduate of Winchester High School, Wentworth Institute, and Northeastern University with a degree in civil engineering. He also took related courses at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Boston College.

He and his wife, Terry, have three children, John Jr., Jean, and Wayne.

Bond Issue

The Board held a hearing at its Monday meeting with Town Treasurer Marguerite Troop regarding the bonding of the new High School project.

It was voted to bond for 15 years. The sale of the bonds, according to Miss Troop, will be arranged for early in June in order for the bonds to be issued around July 15.

Opening the hearing, Miss Troop told the Board she had talked with the New England Merchants Bank that afternoon and they reported that the market had risen slightly. Interest rates of five to five-and-a-quarter percent for 10 year bonds; five-and-a-quarter to five-and-a-half percent for 15 year bonds; and five-and-three-quarters to six per cent for 20 year bonds were quoted to her, she said.

Concern was expressed by the Board regarding whether payment of the debt in a 10 year period would be too heavy for the Town. Amortizement of the debt in a 10 year period would, however, mean a savings in interest of approximately $2 million, it was reported.

Campus Plan Is Extended Through June

The Winchester School Committee voted approval to extension of the Campus Plan to the end of the current school year at its Monday evening session, April 13.

Action followed the presentation of a study conducted on the program. A second evaluation is scheduled to be given to the School Committee at its second meeting in June.

This first report is based upon opinions solicited from the faculty, students, merchants and parents. It is centered upon these results with no attempt made at this time to form a judgement on the program. Approximately 300 students are now participating in the Campus Plan.

When queried as to how teachers were spending these free periods not allotted to study hall supervision, instructors reported reserving this time primarily for student conferences and for preparing records and correcting papers. Generally they felt the strengths of the program lie in increased student responsibility, enrichment of educational programs and increased student morale. From approximately 70 teachers given this questionnaire, 45 responded.

Students reported, there were 171 evaluations received from them, that time was mostly spent for homework, independent study or reading, and on non-educational matters. Students emphasized that the program contributed to themselves personally by giving them greater responsibility.

Among items noted by school personnel as "positive" observations were that students would not have the opportunity to take mini-courses if it were not for the Campus Plan, that the circulation of books in the high school library has not been affected,

Column from Concern

CONCERN feels it would be a public service to publish letters from young people. The letters, from children in other towns as well as Winchester, will contain, in the writer's words, his or her feelings about drugs and experiences with drugs. When printed in the paper the writer's name will be withheld.

Each letter will be coded. Anyone wishing to respond to the letter should address replies to Box 293, Winchester, Massachusetts, 01890, Attention: Code D. The letters will be given to the sender. There will be no interception by adults.

I. The years before:

When I first contemplated smoking marijuana it was very easy and still is relatively easy to come by, and it is of course accompanied by a small five dollar fee. This was approximately three years ago and at the time no one had ever told me of the consequences of smoking grass and of getting busted. Well, I had my grass on the weekends, off and on, and never once had any scruples as to what could happen if I was ever caught, let alone what would happen to my mind. I knew I'd never get busted.

II. The last buy:

Almost exactly one year ago I was out to get my supply of grass for the weekend, I went out at night and hadn't been smoking at all, this was an added safety precaution I used so as not to be picked up for being stoned. Well, I met my pusher (friend?) paid for and received my grass and was on my way home when I was apprehended by the authorities, whereby they then took me to the "interrogation" room for questioning. It's almost impossible for me to express on paper the feelings that went through my mind that brief moment and the days following. I was very scared and emotionally upset. After a brief period of questioning I was told to call my parents, you can just imagine how frustrating it is to call your parents to inform them that you'd just been arrested for "possession of marijuana."

III. The next day:

The first thing to happen was that I was to be dismissed from school for an indefinite period of time (two weeks). Next came the constant questioning by all of the officials involved in my "case." I was also sent to numerous doctors. Once I returned to school I came to find that I was failing miserably and would have to attend summer school. I might also insert at this point that I was ostrasized by everyone except a few close friends and my parents. My parents I might add took the whole thing very well and rather than punish me for my "crime" they chose to help me overcome it. I also received invaluable help from an unmentionable doctor.

IV. My day in court:

I won't go into any vivid details of what a court session is like but it's a very scary experience for a 17 year old person. Well, I was given a reduced sentence "Being in the presence of marijuana" and given a $100 fine and they threw in a permanent record that will hinder me for the rest of my life and on that record is one very defaming word . . . FELONY.

Board Of Appeal Denies Petition For Washington Street Apartments

The Board of Appeal recently handed down its decision regarding the petition of the Bennington Development Corporation to construct a 10-story apartment building at 507-509 Washington Street under provision of Chapter 774 of the Acts of 1969, the so-called "snob-zoning" law.

A hearing on the petition was held by the Board on February 19. Regular member Daniel T. Chane Jr. chaired the hearing. Sitting on the Board were Associate Members William A. MacKenzie Jr. and Walter E. Fisher.

Approximately 150 people, including members of various Town boards and committees attended the hearing. According to the report of the Board's decision, all but the three petitioners were opposed to the construction.

The decision reached by the Board was a denial of the petition. The report states, "The Board is sympathetic to the need for more low and moderate income housing but the proposal now before us is so bad in all of its aspects that according to our interpretation of Chapter 774 standards, we have no choice but to deny the petition. The needs of residents of the Town and occupants of the proposed building would not be met with respect to this site or building design. This would not constitute suitable or desirable housing regardless of the economic status of the occupants.

"We base our denial on the following broad wording of Section 20 of Chapter 774: '— the need to protect the health or safety of the occupants of the proposed housing or the residents of the city or town, to promote better site and building design in relation to the surroundings, or to preserve open spaces. . . .'"

The Board listed several specific reasons for the decision including that it was out of place in what is essentially a single residence zone; that it would increase the concentration of people in an already thickly settled area; that the lot is too small for the building; that present zoning does not allow it; and that it poses fire and traffic hazards.

In making its decision, the Board said:

"In considering this petition the Board is cognizant of the fact that the proposed plan violates substantially all of the provisions of the zoning bylaws of the Town for a structure of this type. The land on which it is proposed to build the apartment house lies in two zones — the land within 100 feet of and abutting on Washington Street is in the General Residence Zone, the remainder which is the largest portion is in the Single Residence Zone. In the General Residence Zone apartment houses not exceeding two-and-one-half habitable stories in height are permitted under certain conditions including permis-

Four Ministers Give Resignations At First Congregational Church

Members of the First Congregational Church Monday received letters of resignation from all four ministers who serve the church.

Resigning for varying reasons were the Rev. Oliver Powell, the Rev. Richard C. Diehl, the Rev. John C. Rinehart, and Associate Pastor Rev. Kenneth R. Henley.

The resignations of the Rev. Dr. Powell and the Rev. Mr. Diehl become effective August 31. The Rev. Mr. Rinehart wishes to leave on July 31 and the Rev. Dr. Henley has offered to remain until December 31 unless the church members desire him to terminate his service earlier.

Dr. Henley cited reasons of health for his resignation, "in light of what is taking place, that is, the resignation of your three full-time ministers." He serves as a part-time pastoral assistant, without pay but with expenses paid.

In his letter, the Rev. Mr. Rinehart notes that in leaving the Winchester parish, he will leave the ministry. Commenting on the decision, he cites the overwhelming physical and mental strain and fatigue of the job. "This is a decision which has been a long time coming and for which the First Congregational Church does not bear the burden," he said.

Rev. Rinehart assumed his position as youth minister at the church last Fall. In his letter he noted, "It would appear that the thrust and style of my ministry among youth is one which is not compatible with the major thrust of the body of this church at this time."

Two Conclusions

Dr. Powell, in his letter, stated, "My decision is rpoted in two conclusions which I have reached. One is based on a realistic assessment of my ministry in this church; the other on an honest acknowledgement of who and where I am as a man and as a professional person at this stage in my life."

"The first of these is an increasing awareness of a basic disparity between what I believe the majority of our members take to be the essential role and function of their pastor and my own particular thrust of leadership," he said.

Noting that he felt he had met the established responsibilities of ministering, he said that it was obvious that the special attention he had given to certain areas has raised serious questions.

"Los Companeros" Present Program At Bridge Event

"Los Companeros," the Spanish music club of Winchester High School, entertained guests at a recent fund raising bridge held by the Winchester Women's Republican Club in Hadley Hall of the Church of Epiphany.

Gay and lively, the performers combined marimbas, bongos, tambourines and a variety of instruments with Spanish song. The afternoon was the result of planning done by co-chairmen Mrs. Michael Howland and Mrs. Ralph Swanson and their committee.

"Los Companeros," whose director is Mrs. Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite, also gave a concert for the adult Spanish-Italian class on Tuesday, April 14, at the Senior High School.

Dr. DeIulio Addresses Parents At McCall

Today's youngsters must get their values at home, psychologist-therapist Robert DeIulio told a large group of McCall parents last Tuesday evening. With the churches and our society in general in such turmoil, the family is the only place where we can set values." He added, "You have done all the value-training you can by the time your child is fifteen."

The adoption of an ethical system was listed by Dr. DeIulio as one of the "ten tasks of adolescence." Among these tasks, all of which must be accomplished if one is to reach true maturity, are learning how to handle money, achieving economic independence, selecting and preparing for an occupation. He stressed that preparation for marriage and family living, another essential task, is rejected by some young people today.

Adolescence must also involve the adoption of a more masculine or feminine role, the psychologist said. If at home a youngster sees adult roles clearly defined, this is easier for him. "Freud's great contribution," contended Dr. DeIulio, "was the concept that men learn to love women by loving their mother and women learn to love men by loving their father."

A Dr. DeIulio sees it, the mother's role is to be at home—unless she is able to find a good mother substitute. The masculine role is that of provider and contact with the outside world. Most of his teenage patients have had a father who is physically — or mentally — absent from the home much of the time.

Vital to the developing person, he believes, is the need for affection and sincere praise — neither of which can be administered too often. Children are also very literal and adults must be aware of kidding. The same principles apply to good parent-child relations as apply to all good adult relations; these are dependent upon keeping open at lal times the lines of verbal communication. He recommended getting to know the kids your kids hang around with — and getting to know their parents.

In a forthright attack on permissiveness, he stated, "Kids want to have limits set." The adolescent will accept the idea of authority if he has been taught the right attitude toward it, if there are clearly defined transition points, if both parent and child are able to accept change.

After Dr. DiIulio's presentation in the school cafeteria, group discussion over coffee pinpointed questions which were directed to the speaker.

Dr. John Gibson Is Speaker At League Of Women Voters Lunch

Dr. John Gibson of 20 Cabot Street, director of the Lincoln Filene Center at Tufts University told members of the League of Women Voters Friday that Massachusetts, once a leader in public education with many "firsts," now had many inequalities in its educational system.

The state is sixth in earned income per student, he said, yet it is 50th in per capita student expenditures.

Dr. Gibson was the featured speaker at the annual Legislative Luncheon held by the League at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church.

Currently Dr. Gibson is a member of a study commission working on a report on the Massachusetts Department of Education. The report deals with the condition of public education in the Commonwealth, Dr. Gibson said.

Education is a state operation, Dr. Gibson said, noting that in the Commonwealth educational decisions have become locally entrenched with a higher degree of parochialism.

This has caused inequalities of educational opportunities, he added.

His committee was studying the State Department of Education for three reasons, Dr. Gibson said. Among these were that the structure of the Department had been changed; that there was a new commissioner and ways were needed to help him; and that the executive branch of the state government was being reorganized and by May 1971 a secretary for educational affairs would handle budget matters.

Report

Commenting on his committee's report, Dr. Gibson said they felt a strong state department of education was needed and that the best from local boards and the state should be drawn together to advance the quality of education.

A strong state department, he noted, could become a leadership and service agency, delivering specialized services to schools that don't have them.

Stating that the League could help in the fight to improve education, Dr. Gibson said that his committee would call on citizens to organize a committee on quality education to initiate a dialogue on what quality is in education and how to achieve it.

The people will have to talk about goals and will have to move the legislature to implement the goals, he said.

Noting that the schools continued a situation where the "rich get richer," Dr. Gibson said that it is known that children with poor schools do not achieve well and that this limits their life opportunities.

He added that students with bad homelives and backgrounds could achieve in good schools and could rise above their environment and break the spiral of poverty.

The matter was not one of how much was spent per pupil but how it was spent, Dr. Gibson said.

Commenting on the recent situation of the superintendency in Winchester, Dr. Gibson also noted that anyone making decisions in public education must be accountable for those decisions.

Following Dr. Gibson's remarks, questions from the floor were answered.

Channel Two Is Planning Auction

On your mark — get set — GO!! is the rallying cry for hundreds of volunteers who are serving as Go-Getters for the 1970 Channel 2 Auction. Several men and women in this area are participating as Channel 2 area chairmen, captains and Go-Getters.

This year's Auction, which will be seen over Channel 2 (WGBH-TV) from May 30 - June 6, will be the fifth annual television extravaganza which annually captures the magination, interest — and hopefully bids of more than a million viewers in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and parts of Connecticut.

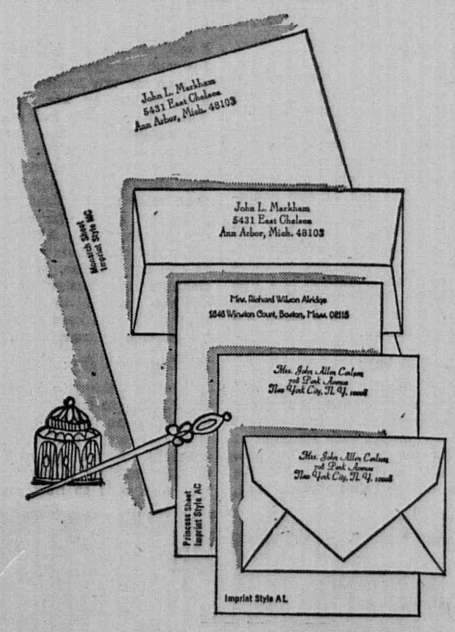

Following intensive training sessions at the studios of WGBH-TV in Allston, area chairmen and their committees of Go-Getters canvass areas calling on merchants, industries, services and individuals which each year contribute auction-able items. Last year, more than $340,000 was raised and more than 63,000 bids were phoned in for the more than 6500 items sold!

In addition to tangible articles and services that will be available for bid —— this year, dreams will go on the auction block! Each day, during the eight-day auction, at least five dreams — dreams that money can't necessarily make come true — will be offered to the highest bidder.

A repeat of last year's highly successful Art Auction will be highlighted on Sunday, May 31, with an Art Auction preview staged at the Prudential Center in Boston for personal inspection of the works of art prior to on-air bidding.

More Men Are "At Leisure" In The County

In Middlesex County, a significant proportion of the able-bodied male population above the age of 14 is, by choice, not going to school, not working and not seeking or wanting work.

In the last 10 years, the number of local people in this inactive category has risen considerably.

It is part and parcel of the trend all across the country, according to the latest figures from the Department of Commerce and the Labor Department.

Most of these non-workers are retired people who have sufficient wherewithal or sources of income to enable them to lead lives of leisure. Some others, of course, are neither self-supporting nor interested in working. They represent a small portion of the total, however.

Of Middlesex County's male population over 14, the number of persons in the non-work class is estimated at 59,200, as compared with the total 10 years ago, 43,518.

Nationally, there are some 8,500,000 in this non-school, non-work group, a sharp increase over the 6,800,000 in 1960.

Much of it is attributed to the fact that more men are retiring when they reach 65. Only one-fourth of them continue to work beyond that age.

Of Middlesex County's male population over 65, the number who have retired has increased greatly since 1960, when the total was 29,537.

The major factor in enabling people to retire, in many cases before reaching 65, is the rapid rise in private and public pension programs in recent years.

The Institute of Life Insurance reports that almost 44.5 million Americans were covered under such programs, other than social security, last year, a gain of 1.6 million in one year.

In addition, the non-work population has other sources of income, in varying measure. These often include interest on savings, life insurance annuities, unemployment insurance, social security and veterans benefits.

As to the proportion of non-workers in the local male population, the latest figures place it at about 13 per cent. In 1960 it was 10 percent.

Nationally, by way of comparison, the average is 14 per cent. (Park Row News Service)

Governor Names John Buckley County Sheriff

John J. Buckley of Belmont, state director for the Massachusetts Council on Crime and Correction, was named Sheriff of Middlesex County on Friday, April 10, by Governor Francis W. Sargent at a special news conference at the State House. Mr. Buckley succeeds the late Howard Fitzpatrick.

As state director for the Massachusetts Council on Crime and Correction, Mr. Buckley has led the organization in sponsoring the widely known Crime Check program, worked for legislative reform of the Youth Service Board, initiated the Governor's Task Force on Correctional Industries, and stimulated major industries to start job-training programs in correctional institutions.

Mr. Buckley stated "The criminal justice system is in crisis because of 100 years of neglect. We must bring a new wisdom to the problems of human behavior. Some of the approaches I will begin in Middlesex County are' half-way houses, work-release programs, education and vocational training, and above all, the involvement of citizens and particularly young people in the process of bringing about these changes."

Volunteers Can Help Retarded

Wanted: People Who Need People is one of the most appealing and thought-provoking classified ads any human being will ever answer" Richard Binnall, president of Mystic Valley Association for the Retarded, said recently in announcing the theme for National Retarded Children's Month, which this year will be conducted during March.

"The need is high priority: the work is varied and interesting: and the rewards of efforts in behalf of the retarded are uniquely soul satisfying," he commented.

The Mystic Valley Association for the Retarded is one of approximately 1,400 affiliated units of the National Association for Retarded Children conducting simultaneous membership campaigns this month. Miss Barbara Streisand, who introduced vocally the concept that "people who need people are the luckiest people in the world," is serving as the national honorary chairman for Membership Month.

All persons interested in helping the cause of retardation and helping the retardates can obtain information from Mrs. Price at 933-2856 or by writing to Mystic Valley Association for the Retarded, Inc., Box 158, Burlington 01803

The most devastating storm of 1968 occurred on May 15 when 67 different tornadoes swept through Alabama and several midwestern states, causing $36 million insured damage, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Building 19½ Sales Co.

13 Olympia Ave., Woburn, Mass. — 935-4620 (Off Washington Street)

Dear Friends of Building 19½:

April 15, 1970
"Happy Ides of April"

Dear Friend of Building 19:

Nowadays when you lay your cards on the table you can buy almost anything, anywhere.

Except here.

No matter how many credit cards in your wallet, or even if you have an honest face, you can't charge purchases here. We have no credit program, no credit manager, no bill collectors, no credit losses, no big office expense, and consequently, very little aggravation. This lowers our overhead, lowers our prices, lowers our doctor bills, and raises our profits. I suppose we lose a few sales here and there, but so what? It's better to lose sales than lose sleep —or lose friends. Did you ever notice how rarely you see a guy who owes you money? He avoids the embarrassment by avoiding you. If customers avoid me, how can I sell them anything?

Of course the real reason we don't extend credit is that it costs so much—to the store owner as well as the customer. According to a recent business publication, a retailer who extends credit should maintain a 10% reserve for bad debts. Add to that the cost of a good credit manager (can you imagine how much you could lose if he wasn't good?), bill collectors, office girls, and the time wasted by bosses flirting with the office girls. Since we can sell all the merchandise we can get (if they're real bargains), why go to that expense? Let's not kid each other. This is a business, not a charity. If we went to all that expense, we'd have to reflect it in our prices —and just to add insult to injury, we'd have to tack on another 1½% per month (18% per year) interest like the other stores. Who needs it? If you do, I respectfully suggest you shop elsewhere — or borrow the money from a bank, or from your big-shot brother-in-law. The savings will more than pay the interest, and you can prove to your B.S.B.I.L.* that you're a better shopper than he is.

So now that you know that we sell strictly for cash (or personal check — good ones, please), I hope you're wondering just what we sell. Well, it could be anything — ABSOLUTELY ANYTHING. Here are a few examples of what we're peddling this week-end (Fri. 9-9, Sat. 9-5, Mon. 9-9):

1. 5-lb. bag famous brand extra fine granulated sugar — 40c.
2. Antique reproduction, heavy wood (pine?) doll's cradle, List $14.95, From us $3.90.
3. Pecan and maple dining room sets.
4. A few different living room sets, including Jim's favorite.
5. 3.0 and 3.5 horsepower lawn mowers.
6. A large lot of famous brands sneakers and shoes, men's, women's, children's.
7. In time for summer cottages — we have sheets, towels, pillowcases, assorted domestics.
8. 3 only, modern dinette or kitchen sets.
9. A small lot of miscellaneous console stereos.
10. A large assortment of cameras, including 126 cartridges @ 89c.
11. A generous supply of floor waxes, window cleaners, liquid cleaners, bleach, etc.
12. We also have cornered the market on parts cabinets, all sizes and shapes.
13. Last but not least (or maybe it is), Jim's own personal 200-lb. mushroom anchor! Plus all sorts of other goodies, all genuine, bona-fide bargains, all sold with a satisfaction-or-your-money-back guarantee. How can you go wrong?

Cordially,

Mr. Monahan Named To Post At Reg'n'l School

A New Jersey educator with an extensive background in the graphic arts has been appointed deputy director of the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School in Wakefield, it was announced today by the District School Committee.

Timothy F. Monahan of Butler, New Jersey, assistant principal of West Milford High School, New Jersey, was the unanimous choice of the Committee following interviews in November. His appointment was approved by the State Department of Education, Division of Vocational Education, earlier this month. The new Deputy Director is expected to assume his duties on April 15, according to Superintendent-Director Douglas J. Tilley.

Under construction in Wakefield, the 1200-pupil, co-educational regional school will serve Malden, Melrose, Revere, Chelsea, Woburn, Saugus, Stoneham, Reading, North Reading, Wakefield, Winthrop and Winchester. It is expected to be completed by the end of April for opening next September.

While attending Rutgers University Mr. Monahan worked in the graphic arts in printing plants in New York and New Jersey, and for the now-defunct New York Herald Tribune. He served in the U.S. Army and was responsible for the complete supervision of an Army printing plant in Yokohama, Japan, staffed by Japanese civilians.

Monahan received his bachelor and master of science degrees in administration from Rutgers, and he is the author of a book for classroom teaching of graphic arts, published by the New Jersey Curriculum Laboratory at Rutgers.

The new deputy director taught graphic arts, English and history at the Bergen County Vocational and Technical High School in New Jersey. He was an English teacher at the Rampano Regional High School, also in New Jersey, before assuming his administrative post in West Milford, where, in addition to his assistant principal duties, he served as director of the adult education program, and as an adjunct faculty member at Essex County College, New Jersey.

The 40-year-old educator is married and the father of three children. He is a member of the Passaic County Education Association, New Jersey Education Association, National Education Association, a life member of the American Vocational Association, and the New Jersey Secondary School Principals Association.

He served as president of his local teachers association for three one-year terms, was a student council adviser for one year and yearbook adviser for five years. He was chairman of the school's professional improvement committee for two years and a member of the teachers association salary committee.

Mr. Monahan was appointed by the District School Committee on the recommendation of Superintendent Tilley, from among several candidates for the post, including some who had previously applied for the top administrative position.

Guidance Office Develops Plan Used Nationally

According to the Guidance Department at Winchester High School, a procedure proposed by Winchester three years ago has become a state-wide practice. They report that Massachusetts School Counselors Association information indicates that an overwhelming number of school counselors, with the support of their school administrations, have agreed that the specific recommendation of a student to a particular college would no longer be forthcoming. They are urging the colleges to delete this section from their present applications.

Principal W. Howard Niblock presented this idea to the New England Association of Secondary School Principals after it came out of meetings held by W.H.S. Guidance staff with counselors from nearby communities. The idea received the support of several college admissions also at that time.

Guidance staff members have expressed the feeling that "This has been a most positive step toward creating a fair admissions policy and has placed the decision making where it belongs—with the student and the staff of the admissions office of the college." A measure of pride is also expressed when they realize that an idea originally discussed in Winchester has become a reality throughout the entire Commonwealth and seems to be gaining national popularity.

In place of the specific recommendation of a student to a particular college Winchester High School Guidance Department members have devised a method of student appraisal which they have used for the past three years. Under this plan juniors request student appraisals from any three teachers of their own choosing.

The appraisal is an important part of each student's school records, according to Vice Principal Vincent Larocco. All juniors, not just those going on to post high school education, must have this information on file since colleges, the services and employers request such documentary materials from the school.

Teachers are requested to write appraisals of the student, assessing personal and academic qualities. They are advised that schools and employers are particularly interested in evidence about the student's character, relative maturity, independence and his values. Also important is a statement about how well a student expresses himself orally and in writing and any special talent or quality the student may possess.

Guidance Department personnel feel that this method of appraisal proves to be far more fair and valuable than the other plan.

Mail Late Census Forms

The Census Bureau is watching every incoming mail for a number of questionnaires for the 1970 Census of Population and Housing that should have been returned on April 1. James W. Turbitt, director of the Census Regional Office in Boston, asks that forms be filled out and mailed today. Don't make the Census Bureau come calling for census forms.

Every person must be counted, the director said, whether by mail or by personal visit, and the cost of the census goes up with each household that must be visited. He pointed out that the success of the census depends on the cooperation of every household and every individual in filling out and returning the questionnaire. Helpful examples on how to mark the answers to the questions are given on the yellow instruction sheet furnished with the form.

The brown mail-back envelope that came with your census form does not require a stamp.

Boy Scouts In Stoneham Show

Winchester Boy Scout Troops took four out of six ribbons awarded Boy Scout units at the Musket District "Tomorrow's Citizens" show at Stoneham Town Hall last Saturday. Fourteen Boy Scout Troops, 12 Cub Scout Packs and one Explorer Post participated from Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn. Several thousand parents, friends of Scouting and other visitors attended the program.

Observed Roger Sullivan of Stoneham, Musket District activities chairman: "What they saw was Scouting in action — activities that astonished many parents and visitors with whom we talked. More adults now realize that Scouting is on the move — for boys of all ages. Cub Scouting today is far more complex and challenging to the boys than the finger-painting days of years past. Boy Scouts are doing more than ever before. And today there are girls in the Explorer program!"

The scope of the modern Cub Scout program was demonstrated in displays and activities in the areas of scientific experimentation, moon exploration (even during the launch that afternoon of the current Apollo mission), rescue breathing and imaginative handcrafts.

Clean-Up

Many of the Boy Scout Troops at the show had participated in the Musket District clean-up project on the Aberjona River in Winchester and Woburn several weeks ago. Five had displays of water and air pollution and conservation problems — from photographs taken during the Aberjona project to models of how soil erosion and air and water pollution occur in our communities.

The Dove Patrol of Troop 506, Winchester, had taken samples of water from neighboring ponds and streams. At their booth they invited people to study the samples under microscopes and to actually sniff the polluted water.

The co-ed Explorer program of Scouting was represented at the show by young men and women of Explorer Post 539, Stoneham. Girls in the Scout Explorer program are new and a sign that read "Things Go Better With Co-Ed Exploring" was indication of the success of this innovation in the Scouting program.

One Explorer (male) explained, too, "We try harder with girls in our post. The most difficult role for the boys is teaching girls Scouting skills we learned in Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts years ago." This display booth had examples of their varied program — pictures of outings and dances, souvenirs of a special expedition to Florida and of Ski trips.

Display and activity booths were judged by members of the Jaycees. Judges were Art Hewis and Dick Savoie of Woburn, and Jim Edson and Charlie Price of Winchester.

Boy Scout Troop 508 of Winchester won first prize with a display of pioneering skills in miniature. It included models of bridges, towers, shelters and other structures made of tiny logs and lashings.

Second Prize

Second prize for Boy Scout display booths was won by Troop 506, Winchester, for an exhibit of edible wild plants. The Scouts served visitors samples of pancakes made with cattail flour, hemlock tea and wintergreen tea.

In an exhibit of the wide variety of Boy Scout activities they enjoy year 'round, Scouts of Troop 526, Winchester took third prize for displays.

Stoneham Troop 513 won first for action booths with demonstrations of handling and care of knives, axes and fire building.

Second prize for activities was awarded Winchester Troop 525 for a display of Indian lore and demonstrations of skills Indian tribes of the area have contributed to outdoor living — from building shelters and making snow shoes to fire-making with flint and steel.

Action demonstrations of conservation and pollution using model displays designed and constructed by the Scouts won third prize in the action booths for Stoneham Troop 539.

Cub Scout action awards were all won by Stoneham Cub Packs. First went to Pack 536 for their Science lab. Rescue breathing was demonstrated by the second place winner, Pack 539. Pack 537 was third with craft activities.

Tax Returns Are Processed In Ten Weeks

Ten weeks from the date a Federal income tax return calling for a refund is mailed, the taxpayer should have either his check or a letter explaining why it is held up, William E. Williams, district director of Internal Revenue for Massachusetts, said recently.

A taxpayer who has not heard about his refund should, therefore, wait 10 weeks before writing IRS. Most taxpayers will find their inquiry unnecessary if they wait this long, Mr. Williams said.

,Millions of tax returns are handled every filing season at the North Atlantic Service Center which serves Massachusetts taxpayers. That many returns make it practically impossible to locate a particular return and to answer any question about it until processing cycles are complete.

If it does become necessary to write, the taxpayer should indicate where and when he filed his return and give his name, address and Social Security number, Mr. Williams said.

More Applicants By Marine Corps

Openings for this new program are for the occupational fields of personnel and administration; telecommunications maintenance; auditing; finance and accounting; data processing; and electronics maintenance.

Applicants who qualify and accept this program will be enlisted for a period of four years. Interested applicants should contact their nearest Marine Corps recruiter for complete details. We are located at the City Hall Building in Medford, 85 Salem Street. Come down and talk things over, or call 395-1416.

K

The Big Mistake

As we promised, these next few ads concern the seldom-heard-from brother, Leo.

If there is anything that will bring Leo's blood to a boil it's a comment about Koko Boodakian's being a high priced rug and carpeting center. "On the contrary," says Leo, "our prices are competitive as any other dealer.

"If you really want to compare prices," he added, "we can beat or match just about any of them provided the price quoted is from recognized carpet dealers on the same brands we carry.

If Leo has you in this type of discussion he pours on the steam: "If you really want to take the time, I'll be happy to show you our line of merchandise both in broadloom, as well as Orientals. After we settle on the price . . . and I show you we're competitive . . . then we'll get into the discussion about service."

Yes, as much as we like to win an argument, we don't expect you to take our word for it . . . come in and compare our prices . . . then let Leo tell you about the service portion of our sales contracts.

You see rugs and carpeting is our only business. We not only sell them, we clean and repair them, and service all that we sell. We even back up your purchase with this slogan: "Our Reputation Is Your Guarantee."

Feel like a good argument . . . come on in and see Leo . . . if he can't convince you that what we just said is true . . . no one can.

"Three Men On A Horse" Is Offered By Unitarian Players

The Winchester Unitarian Player's version of "Three Men on a Horse" by John Cecil Holm and George Abbott provided a thoroughly enjoyable evening of entertainment Friday and Saturday at the Unitarian Church.

David and Barbara Karpinski, newcomers to the Winchester stage, played a very convincing struggling young couple starting out on a small salary in a dog eat dog world. David, as Erwin Trowbridge, verse writer for a card company, maintained very good characterization throughout the play as an innocent young man finding himself in cahoots with the sharpies of the big city.

Audrey's brother Clarence, delightfully played by Ken Astill, was a typical bachelor brother and was portrayed as everyone would imagine a Clarence to be. He didn't like Audrey's husband and used every opportunity to convince her of Erwin's bad qualities. He was aided and abetted by her frequent tearful calls for advice and help when things went wrong.

After an emotional money-centered argument with his wife, Erwin had wandered into a hotel bar where three gamblers discovered his uncanny ability to predict the outcome of horse races. Down no their luck, the three men contrived to keep Erwin in the hotel where they picked his brains. More often than not their efforts produced Mothers Day verses of rather bad quality.

Stan Perry of Nashua, New Hampshire portrayed the rough impatient errand boy and philosopher of the group. This was Stan's first appearance in Winchester and was so convincing that a member of the audience conversed with him at length about his own racing and betting experience. Giving a realistic interpretation to the character of Charlie was Albert Smith, who played in "Kind Lady" last Fall.

Looking the part of a gambler as he counted his money with relish, Charlie was also the skeptic of the group and the practical organizer who managed to put Erwin's poems back together after Patsy had destroyed them in a fit of rage after discovering his girl in her slip sharing drinks with Erwin in undershorts in the hotel room. She had been instructed to keep Erwin there. Patsy, handsomely played by Steve Brown, was the sharply dressed undisputed king of the trio. Nancy Dorsey, as Patsy's girl Mabel, outdid herself as an ex-follies girl and had just stopped the show with her rendition of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love."

Meanwhile a distraught Audrey had reported her husband as a missing person and was visited by Betty Valle as a brusque, zany newspaper reporter and Steve Funk as the casual photographer. Cecil Prest, as Erwin's boss, gave credence to the part as an irate, supercilious owner of the card company as he demanded his rights and invaded Erwin's study to obtain overdue verses. Erwin returned home in the company of Mabel and Frank, made a quick phone call to Patsy giving the names of the winners of the first four races, had a tearful reunion with Audrey and was rushed out again to ride the bus back to the city. It was discovered that Erwin could only predict races by riding the bus. The system didn't work for Frank who threw his jottings on the floor where they were discovered by Clarence.

After considerable suspense over the results of a four horse parley and forcing Erwin to bet on his predictions, the story came to a happy conclusion. Mr. Carver gave Erwin a raise, the gamblers had won a fortune, Mabel and Patsy would buy a house and settle down, and Clarence had lost his shirt by betting on Frank's selections but found a new respect for Erwin.

Other Cast Members

Others appearing in the cast were Bill Mahoney as the tailor who collected the suit out of which came the little black book which became the source of all the problems; David Benson as the delivery boy bringing dresses that could not be returned adding to the problem; and Mary Merritt as a hotel maid. Craig Nickerson as the bar tender, gave a very creditable performance as he set up drinks, kept up bar room banter and helped out here and there. Thornton Stearns as the punchy elevator operator evoked laughter at every brief appearance.

The settings by Trudy Irving were attractively done with intricate artwork, although the sense of the thirties could have been somewhat stronger. The same is true of the costuming which was designed and arranged by Kathleen Chipman. The scene changes consumed a considerable amount of time probably due to the difficulty in maneuvering in a small area. "Three Men on A Horse," intelligently directed by Jay Sibley did indeed enthrall the audiences on Friday and Saturday evenings. It would be interesting to see a group with as much talent as the Unitarian Players experiment with a more contemporary dramatic production. It has possibilities of being a very worthwhile endeavor.

Winchester audiences may be interested in knowing that the Unitarian Players will be working with the Parish Players, the Winchester Summer Community Theatre and the Staff and Key to produce a one act play during the art festival weekend on May 30th at the McCall Junior High School. Robert Storer will be directing Noel Coward's "Fumed Oak."

Dr. Evans Addresses Visiting Nurses

The March meeting of the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association was held Friday, April 10th in the Unitarian Church.

Director of Nurses Gloria Pearson gave her report, stressing the importance of the organization CONCERN. She urged Board members to attend CONCERN meetings and become involved in fighting the drug problem in Winchester.

Dr. George Evans, chief of Pathology at Winchester Hospital, spoke on the history of pathology. He described the factors that led the field of pathology to become a medical specialty.

An important beginning was the development of the microscope a century ago, then constant improvements in the methods of preparation of tissue. Since World War II there has been explosive development in knowledge and technical application.

Community hospital laboratories are becoming more automated, thus extending the pathologist's role almost constantly. The pathologist's importance as a central figure in the hospital was emphasized when Dr. Evans had to leave on an emergency call to his laboratory.

Drugs — III

That Winchester does indeed have a drug problem was brought to the attention of the nation Friday as Senator Ted Kennedy held a hearing on drug abuse in the Winchester High School to gather information for the Special Sub-Committee on Alcoholism and Narcotics.

The sub-committee will be hearing testimony in Washington shortly on a bill which Senator Kennedy is co-sponsoring with Senator Harold Hughes (D-Iowa), who is the chairman of the sub-committee. The bill is titled the Federal Drug Abuse Dependence Prevention, Treatment and Rehabilitation Act of 1970.

Publicity is always attendant upon Senator Kennedy, and this occasion was no exception. People across the country heard Winchester High School students tell some pretty shocking things about what it's like here. We were reported in all the media as an affluent community with a drug problem.

People everywhere are now cognizant of the fact that there were two rooms at Winchester High School where marijuana was smoked until the faculty found out and closed the rooms.

People everywhere know that drugs are sold in the halls of Winchester schools — that you can "get anything by the end of the day except heroin and that might take a day or two." They know that there are students here earning upwards of $100 a week as pushers.

"It seems like every day more kids are turning on," John Puffer, president of the WHS senior class said at the hearing. He went on to add that in Winchester the cops are very fair about it. They'll try to get students to stop using drugs, but if they're not pushing, only using, they won't take them to court.

"Slowly but steadily the age of the user is dropping down," Dr. Donald E. McLean of CONCERN told the hearing.

—These are statements that have placed Winchester in the limelight regarding the drug problem. We no longer can go around saying "It doesn't happen here" or "Not my child."

Let's not look at Winchester through rose-colored glasses. Let's face what's happening and do something.

Starred by the Star:

Consistency On Drugs

The nation's sudden stand against heroin and other drugs contrasts with its apathy toward alcoholism — also a form of drug dependence with grave personal and social effects.

It was reported this past week that alcoholism is an even more serious problem than was thought. Only a few months ago Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, Assistant Secretary for Health, Education, and Welfare, said there were 6.5 millon problem drinkers in the United States. On the basis of this figure, alcoholism was the number one national health challenge.

But now researchers at George Washington University have estimated that there are a third more problem drinkers than was previously thought. They put the number at nine million, with other millions on the borderline of serious alcohol addiction.

The public is of course familiar with the statistics on alcoholism's toll. American business loses $2 billion in inefficiency and absenteeism. Half the nation's auto deaths involve drinking drivers. And so on.

Yet it is only fair to say that alcohol and its abuses do not get anywhere near the open and sharp public reaction they deserve. This may of course be because using alcohol is still widely thought to be a pleasurable activity, or a social or business necessity. It is a paradox that the public should take so clear a stand on drug use, and miss entirely the logic of applying the same stiff action against the dangers of drink. Researchers on alcoholism have been stressing how analogous it is to modern drugs. Continued drinking, they say, can lead to physical addiction which the victim cannot control.

It can be argued, perhaps, that militancy against drugs other than alcohol is more urgent because such are a comparatively new threat, or because it affects a younger generation which has not yet reached an age of full responsibility for its own acts.

But this does not hold up as an excuse for inaction against alcohol. Adults seem either hypocritical or inconsistent to inveigh against one form of artificial mental stimulant while indulging in another. Consistency in disapproval would only help the case against both alcohol and the other lethal drugs.

Editorial Comments

Many Town Meeting Members had sudden cases of deafness it would seem from the number of hearing aids that appeared at Town Meeting last Thursday . . . or could it be that the desire to be with the non-members at the Garden was too intense and the radios couldn't be left at home?

Signs of spring — are the many cases of vandalism reported to the police in the past few weeks. We can't urge too strongly that parents impress upon their children from an early age a respect for property of others.

The thought came to mind yesterday morning as we listened to the radio news commentator saying that the Vietnam Mobilization Committee was planning its first rally after a long winter of deliberation that perhaps it's only fun to protest during the warm weather. It would impress us more to see a group rallying for a cause in the cold and the snow . . . at least we'd know they were serious!

BOOK REVIEW

VERY LOVELY PEOPLE

by Ludovic Kennedy

A Personal Look at Some Americans Living Abroad

Very Lovely People (which includes unlovely ones, too) is too large, too well thought out and too important for any short review. Excerpts may give the flavor without conveying the impact. It needs to be read whole.

Mr. Kennedy, a British writer and TV commentator, has recently traveled completely around the world meeting Americans living and working in other countries and has here recorded his and their opinion of each other. Fairly enough, when he speaks at length with an interesting interviewee, he and we are aware of the person, not the nationality, whereas in describing types (such as the American military) his emphasis is definitely on the point of origin. And this holds true for congregates of any nation. The particular (unless singled out for this purpose) should rarely be equated with the general. Bear that in mind before you take umbrage.

A Trans-World airline stewardess quotes foreigners as feeling that Americans abroad are quite different from Americans at home. There seems to be a lack of security among tourists, a fear of being short-changed (and they usually are) and a need to stick together for safety. English tourists are much the same, except that instead of attracting attention to themselves, they tend to ignore the natives. One nice point is Mr. Kennedy's conclusion that administrative American civilians in backward countries are much the same as were the British civil servants in India. Another often repeated commentary is that Americans cannot see with the eyes of other peoples, but then the converse is equally true.

Surprisingly enough, American Negroes are looked down on not only in India (where they consider Indians "dark-skinned white supremacists") but also in Africa. One self-searching American professor in Africa confessed, "I have a black body and a white mind" Yet Mr. Kennedy, witnessing the happy union of an American white man, a Japanese woman, and their child, sees hope . . . "I thought then, as I have since, this is how it could be and should be, and ultimately, if there is to be peace on earth, how it will have to be. We must be encouraged to intermingle, intermarry, interbreed; and when we have done it long enough, in perhaps a thousand or two thousand years' time, we shall all be as one . . . But right now the black panthers and white panthers and yellow panthers are with us, trembling with the knowledge of their own inadequacies, prisoners of the ghettos of their minds, vibrant with fear and hate; and, oh God, the bloodshed and degradations and horrors we shall all have to live through first!"

The American Navy conjures up mixed reactions in Mr. Kennedy — admiration for its system of legal justice and incredulity about prohibition of liquor on board ship. When an admiral states that if alcohol was allowed, he doubted the Navy would hold up for five years, since a lot of people wouldn't be able to take it, "I thought, this is incredible, this man is saying that American naval officers can discipline themselves in everything except drink, that while their British, French, Italian and German counterparts can all manage to drink to excess, they cannot . . . to have to admit you don't carry drink aboard because you can't trust yourself to handle it is — for a people who set such a store on manliness — a humiliating admission of self-defeat." The Army doesn't fare too well either and the A.F.N. programs make Mr. Kennedy positively apoplectic (though he can't resist turning them on to torture himself).

Truly a book to ponder, but to enjoy as well. There is much humor and human interest. It is too long to encompass at one sitting, but many a reader will wish he could.

West Side Thanks Town

Editor of the Star:

We would like to publicly thank 1970 Town Meeting for voting in favor of our request for an appropriation for plans for an auxiliary fire station. It has taken too many years for this action to be adopted but the committee is grateful to all Town Meeting Members who have always supported this need in the past and those who are new to the issue.

In our telephone contacts with Town Meeting Members, we were encouraged in general by their willingness to listen and their recognition of the need for additional fire protection in town. Most doubts centered on the cost of this added protection rather than if we needed it. That is why our committee felt it our responsibility to research the problem thoroughly. Our suggestions for the new station and necessary manpower are minimal and should adequately serve the current needs of the area. Thus the committee to be appointed by the Moderator will be directed to meet these requirements.

We would like to commend the Board of Selectmen for taking a unanimous stand in favor of this article and for their fine support at the time of presentation. We are aware of the many hours they gave to the problem and admire their altruistic service to the town.

We abhor the subterfuge taken by the Finance Committee to introduce a substitute action to again have a study and thus immobilize our motion. It was heartening to see this amendment defeated. Our Town Meeting Members recognized the town's responsibility to provide adequate fire protection to all its citizens and did not allow this action to cloud the issue. Winchester has dragged its feet too often with study committees and that is why we are paying 13 million for a new high school now instead of seven million as projected five years ago. The growth of our town necessitates frequent and costly expenditures to meet the needs of its people and our representatives are doing an admirable job of establishing priorities in their decisions.

We felt that this article was one of the major issues in the Town Warrant this year and regret that the Winchester Star did not choose to take an editorial stand on the issue.

Our appreciation to all who worked with us and supported this motion.

Sincerely,
Sarah R. Cincotta

Mystic Lake Pollution

Editor of the Star:

I've been reading in your paper about the wonderful snow-free streets we have in Winchester all winter long. But what about the salt pollution that's killing Upper Mystic Lake?

I've been hearing about the beautiful green lawns we have in Winchester all summer long. But what about the high nitrate count from over-fertilization that's choking Upper Mystic Lake?

I've been seeing glowing reports about the industrial growth in Middlesex County that's broadening the tax base in a lot of our towns. But what about the metal pollution that's ruining Upper Mystic Lake?

Exaggeration?

Hardly. How many people are aware that Upper Mystic Lake is becoming so foul that the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Game probably won't be able to stock trout in it this year because of the pollution? After an investigation of the Lake, in the Division's own words, "It was in very bad condition."

Would you swim in water that fish won't? Think about it.

Sincerely,
Ronald Clayton

Show Film Of Hearings

Editor of the Star:

Last Friday I attended Senator Kennedy's informative hearing on drugs at the Winchester High School. It is most unfortunate that more parents were not present at this meeting, since the material presented particularly by our own Winchester students was most relevant to the drug problem which faces this community.

As the parent of a Junior High school student, I would hope that the School Committee or any other Town organization would obtain the video-tape of this forum and show it in the Junior High Schools. Remember, our Junior High students will be going to High School in the near future.

We talk about prevention — I feel this would be a positive step in that direction!

Sincerely,
Mary T. Pettee

Thanks Residents For Contributions

Editor of the Star:

It is at this time that I would like to thank all the generous people of Winchester who contributed to the Junior Olympic Hockey Program on my behalf.

Being chosen for the team was a great honor for me but in reality a possibility of going seemed very dim. However, some people heard of my plight and immediately started raising the money for me to go. It was this kind of dedicated unselfish effort which impressed me the most and to those people I truly thank you.

Most of all, I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Houllahan Jr. of 36 Robinhood Road, who were responsible for organizing the fund raising drive and making sure the trip would be possible.

I only hope that I was the first of many who will be chosen for this Junior Olympic Team and that in the future a boy from Winchester could be sent annually.

Sincerely yours,
Douglas Dalton

Moderator Suggests Advance Study Of Budget Change

Editor of the Star:

In the issue of the Star for April 9th there was a very interesting letter by Mr. Nelson C. Lees of 15 Old Lyme Road relating to a new budget process for the Town.

Mr. Lees suggests that it might be possible for the Town to construct its annual budget in the same manner that business, or those individuals who have one, arrange theirs. Some of the states and municipalities have been investigating what is known as a program budget. This provides that the programs to be financed will be fitted in accordance with their respective priorities into the total amount of revenue anticipated to be received by the political entity. This approach is an alternate to the line item budget commonly used in government today wherein the needs of a political entity are determined by appropriation and the revenue to cover the total is a matter for later tax adjustment.

In his last paragraph, Mr. Lees asks whether a program budget would be binding upon all sections of the Town budget. Under State law, I must report that the school budget cannot be bound by the action of the Town Meeting. To handle the remainder of the Town budget on the basis of program budgeting would take considerable advance planning and a vote of instructions from the Town Meeting to bring it about.

In conclusion, I do feel there is room for improvement in our budgeting process but I feel advance study by a Town committee, such as the Town Government Study Committee, should be undertaken as the first step.

Yours sincerely,
Harrison Chadwick
Town Moderator

New Plan For Students

Editor of the Star:

In spite of a recent Boston Globe poll showing student opinion to the contrary, a number of Winchester High School students feel that the present educational system is something less than satisfactory. To improve it, these WHS students have been constructing new outlines for education, through discussions with fellow students, administrators, and teachers. One of their outlines for change appears below.

As presently composed, Winchester schools offer little incentive to the student for learning at his maximum rate. In spite of a tracking system, the range of individual abilities in a classroom is very large; consequently, the rate of learning tends to be that of the slowest common denominator. The ideal, of course, is to let each student progress at his own pace—but the question is, can any workable plan be devised to permit self-pacing, and simultaneously, to motivate the student so that he does in fact proceed as rapidly as he can?

These difficulties can be overcome. The solution is simple: provide an 'escape' from each class, once a student is able to demonstrate that he or she understands the material covered in the course. A student who wanted to learn math as quickly and completely as he could—to get it over with—would be rewarded with freedom under this plan instead of having to plod through nine months of the subject. After passing a test, he would receive credit for the course, and be free during that period for the rest of the year.

One argument immediately arises — that such an escape would reward only the gifted students. This objection does not hold up under examination. Substantial number of lower level students are where they are because they are unmotivated—not because they are less gifted. They are unmotivated because they have never felt rewarded by learning. The system proposed here would be ideal for these students especially; it would give them a reward for exercising the latent abilities they possess. Those students who truly are less capable, however (and for those who are very capable), tests of varying degrees of difficulty could be given. In this way, no group of students would be discriminated against.

As the year progressed under this system, some nice things would happen. In each class more and more of the hard-working students would pass and leave the course. As the number of students in the class dwindled, the teacher would be able to spend more time assisting the remaining students. These students, moreover, would be the ones who needed his guidance most.

A further benefit would accrue. Highly motivated and/or talented students would be able to pursue any special interests they had, by enrolling in a new class of their choice when they had finished the old. None of them, however, would be forced to take such a class. Students who decide to opt for freedom under this plan should be entitled to have it—they will have earned it.

This proposal is an outline and nothing more. It is just one of several now being drawn up by WHS students for presentation to the school administrators and the Winchester School Committee. It is our hope that by presenting constructive alternatives to Winchester's present school system that we may persuade them, and you, of ways to make education more enjoyable and effective.

Contract Matter Is Brought To Courts

Editor of the Star:

"What Price Glory'? Glory Glory Hallelujah!"

The past week has given us examples of what the people of these United States will do with no thought of obeying laws which have been on the law books ever since the Constitution has been the greatest document ever written for the rights and freedom of the citizens of this country of ours.

School teachers in the City of Woburn, even though they had no right to strike, walked off the job and closed most of the public schools, a fine example to the children whom the teachers ought to show the law abiding way. The letter carriers and workers in the postal system of the United States walked off their jobs when they had no right to strike. Last year at New Bedford the teachers were fined $50,000 for not obeying the law and what a protest went up.

This country has no respect for the law and its inhabitants are responsible for the condition which exists. The School Committee of Winchester, a law unto themselves, feel that the members of said School Committee are in the same category. If one's foresight is as good as its hindsight, one would not be kicked for a damsight.

The Legislature of Massachusetts created the School Committee in 1836 for the purpose of running the public schools and through the years they have done an excellent job, but the Legislature is supreme in granting power to the School Committees of the State. A bonus for an M.A. degree which in Winchester amounts to $500 per year has not had the approval of the legislature and it is not subject to bargaining by the unions. This bonus was increased from $400 per year to $500 by the Personnel Board this past year, which is illegal.

The Winchester School Committee even gave the present Superintendent a raise of $5,000 before his status in the Winchester Public Schools has been settled. He was fired by the preceding School Committee and the first thing which the new School Committee did was to nullify said firing and reinstated him as Superintendent thus giving him tenure by extending his term to end in 1971. This is now being tested in the Middlesex Superior Court where a Petition for a Mandamus will be heard in the next week or two. The question is one of law, setting forth whether or not the present School Committee can abrogate the firing of said Superintendent by the preceding School Committee.

The only case in the reports from the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts is the case of Inhabitants of School District Number Six in Natick vs. Edwin C. Morse et al, 78 Mass., 61 in an action of trespass, 1848. As it is the only case on the point in controversy, it becomes the leading case in point; "The Prudential School Committee of a School District, duly chosen in March and authorized to contract with teachers, cannot interfere with a teacher engaged by the General School Committee of the preceding year under Statute, 1846, Chap 223, sec. 1 for the entire Winter term; and if they close, against a teacher so engaged, the schoolhouse in which he is accustomed to keep his school, such General School Committee may forcibly break open the schoolhouse and reinstate the teacher."

That case was one of Trespass, meaning that the succeeding School Committee cannot change a contract or nullify it against a school teacher who was duly carrying out his contract to teach school and he was prevented from so doing by being locked out from the school by the succeeding District School Committee. The General School Committee raised a window, got into the school and the teacher went about his business of teaching, but the District School Committee locked the window and again refused to let said school teacher into the school; so the General School Committee broke a window, adjacent to door, reached in and unlocked the door and the teacher was confused and went home. The court found the defendants not guilty of trespass and rendered the opinion cited above.

The School Committee, because Town Counsel Mullen is at home recovering from a lost leg for which we send our sincere sympathy and hope that he will return in a short time, did not retain retired Town Counsel Vincent P. Clarke who has filled for Counsel Mullen, but another Attorney who was a former resident of Winchester, Special Town Counsel Douglas A. Randall of Quincy.

Now that we are all squared away on a "Cause Celebre" which may take us to the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth, under the Queensbury rules as exemplified by fighters of old, come out fighting with no quarter given or taken and may the question be decided for all time by the Holier Than Thou School Committee of the Town of Winchester.

sion of the Board of Appeal

"Apartment houses of more than two-and-one-half stories in height are permitted in Business Districts but the lot on which the apartment house is to be located must have an area equal to 1000 square feet for each family accommodated if it is to be five or more stories high. For the building proposed by the petitioner this would mean a building lot of 66x1000 or 66,000 square feet.

"If interior auto parking is provided of 250 square feet per family, the lot requirement would be reduced by this amount so that a lot of 66x750 or 49,500 square feet would be needed. Even if this proposed apartment house location were in a Business District and if petitioner were able to acquire land of Nowell there would be available 17,631 sq. ft., plus 8250 sq. ft. or 25,881 sq. ft., only slightly more than 50% f the requirement. (Sections 1, 2, 3 and 5 of the Zoning Bylaw)

Building Laws

"Futhermore, Section 147 of Division 19 of the town building laws requires among other things that for apartment houses of three or more stories in height, they shall not be located within 20 feet of a lot line. The plot plan submitted by the petitioner shows the proposed building to be six feet from lands of Shinney and Fritch and to the east and seven feet from land of LoRusso on the south.

"Also in the Zoning Bylaw is for autos be provided in the amount of 250 sq. ft. for each a requirement that parking space family (Section 5A2). This would mean that for 66 families, 16,500 sq. ft. would be needed. Even if basement parking were provided in the proposed building and two underground floors used, this would amount to approximately 12,00 sq. ft. The remaining spaces would have to be provided outdoors around the building using up most of the available land and making for an undesirable situation and possible hazard in the event of fire.

The "Board in its deliberations, considered the views of the Town Boards and officers which are appended hereto and are a part of this decision. We agree substantially with these view as they relate to the public health, safety and welfare of the present inhabitants of the area, the general public and to the inhabitants of the proposed project, were it to be built."

School Committee Meeting

that students are now more apt to use the library for its intended purposes, that it has not been necessary to hold the majority of students to a "rigid pattern because of those few," and that guidance counselors and English teachers feel students are assuming greater responsibility for keeping appointments than previously.

Among those items given as "negative" are complaints by the cafeteria staff of noise and general uncleanliness there, complaints by the janitorial staff of more damage and uncleanliness in the building, general problems during the lunch period, the opinion that the majority of students are not taking advantage of minicourses or other educational opportunities, the continued problem of smoking, and some complaints of difficulty in contacting students.

Community Reaction

Generally favorable comments were received from the Police Department, public library and churches. Opinions from merchants were mixed. Of 13 consulted, eight registered no complaints, while five were negative and five were "intellectually opposed to the whole concept." Six stores felt that students had not interfered with their business in any way, while six felt that their's had been.

From a sampling of parents who have signed Campus Plan Contracts the Parent Faculty Association (P.F.A.) noted that 89 would still allow their child to participate, while 32 would not. Twelve were undecided. The executive group of the P.F.A. with 15 in attendance voted 13 for continuance of the Campus Plan and two opposed.

Besides providing time for individual study and relaxation by students, the Campus Plan has offered mini-courses. Difficulty with co-ordinating these classes with student's free time is supposed to have diminished participation in them. A third idea is to bring in people from the community to speak on various topics. A list of such volunteers and their areas of specialization is currently being prepared.

As of March 30 Campus Plan privileges had been revoked for 15 students. This simply means that the students must return to study hall.

Presenting the study to the School Committee was Vincent E. Larocco, an assistant principal at the Senior High School. On the concluding page of the study he reports under "Observations of an Administrator," I have seen this one attempt at broadening education as a challenge as large as life itself and yet so small in the total picture of education that its very possibilities overwhelm me. . . . With all my continued reservations, and with the rough road which lies ahead, I sincerely feel that we can't go back for the Campus Plan has opened too many avenues to be explored, too many avenues which eventually will lead to the education of the individual rather than the group."

While Mr. Larocco reports that the program is "operating on a shoe string," the principal expense is time, that of faculty and administrators, participating students, and the involved community.

Representative of the student body was Phil Sampson, president of Student Council, who predicted that the values of the program would get better as time went on. He said that students felt they were being treated with "a little more maturity" and that it provided an opportunity to become better acquainted with teachers and administrators.

High School Principal Dr. W. Howard Niblock calls the Campus Plan "basically an educational experiment." While acknowledging the difficulties of administration and the fact that double sessions may still be inevitable considering statistics, he is generally pleased with the operation of the program at present.

Moratorium

In other business acted upon by the School Committee, approval was given to Dr. Richard B. Lawrance's motion to officially rescind the moratorium of August 5, 1969, which declared a complete moratorium on Personal Services Budget commitments, including the replacement of staff and salary increases.

Under personnel matters, the Committee granted longevity stipends to those teachers who give prior notice of retirement to the School Committee. This sum is $500 per year. Favorable vote was given to the candidate for elementary guidance counselor, providing the third of four scheduled to be available in the school system by September, 1970.

Participants in the summer Curriculum Council, already budgetted, were also approved. At this point, Assistant Superintendent of Personnel Henry B. Perry reported, about $18,000 of the $26,000 budgetted for the program has been committed. They will formulate programs to be used in the new high school and to be tested at the Senior High School in the next two years.

Superintendent's Report

From the superintendent's report Dr. Donald A. Klemer stated that attempts were being made by science teachers to conduct appropriate classroom discussions on Earth Day, April 22. This day falls during students' spring vacation.

Superintendent Klemer also informed Committee members that Stoneham was applying with Winchester for a federal grant to be used for the planning of a programmed budget, and concerning the school lunch program, that Winchester was close to the median in a recent community rating of both hot and cold lunches.

The possibility of offering a self-supporting two week geology program this summer in connection with Winchester Trails is being discussed with Town Comptroller James Costello. This is due to budget cuts in the program which were made in the School Committee Budget for 1970-1971.

Election of the chairman and vice chairman, an item of business on the April 13 agenda, was postponed until all committee members can be present. Members Paul R. DelRossi and Stephen B. Parkhurst were not in attendance at Monday's meeting.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the School Committee is planned for Monday, April 27. Matters anticipated on this agenda include approval of the school calendar, a music study report, the Muraco School evaluation by the Harvard group, smoking in the High School, attendance at the Regional Vocational School by children of faculty members, and a full status report on drug education. Also planned for discussion is redistricting, which will focus mainly on the junior high schools, and Parkhurst, Lincoln, Noonan and Mystic Schools.

Ministers

These areas were: involvement of the church with issues of society; concern that worship forms should be conducted in the language and style of contemporary life; concern for the mission of the church beyond its walls; and a readiness for experimentation.

"The above emphases which are priorities in my ministry, have been welcomed by some, but it is clear that the larger number of members feel that such emphases have diverted the church from its main-line business and have caused reduced financial support, a decline in church attendance, etc.," Dr. Powell said.

The Rev. Mr. Diehl cited two recent developments which triggered his decision to resign. These were the resignation of Dr. Powell and a questioning of his own ministry to the community.

He says, "The second development has been a questioning of my ministry to the community. The subtle withdrawal of funds from our missionary programs, the cuts in budget, the insistence that my job description is a luxury for the church, bears out the rift between my priorities and the church's. I regret that my former ministry here was defined so rigidly that when we attempted to offer other leadership this ministry was often misunderstood."

Rev. Diehl also expressed several concerns regarding the treatment of the church custodial and secretarial staffs; the difficulty of the congregation in accepting a "team" ministry; and the impatience and lack of openness of the church and the community.

Senior Deacon Frank M. Gunby Jr. said yesterday:

"Along with most members of our Church, I was surprised and saddened by the announced resignation of our ministers.

"As with many churches these days, ours has differences of opinion in our congregation and between segments of the congregation and the ministerial staff. Considering the history of our Church and our 2,000 members, it would be unusual if this were not so.

"As Senior Deacon of the Church, I have to apologize to the ministers for not being more aware of their problems. I had and still have the utmost respect for these men and respect their reasons for the action taken by them.

"A special church meeting is being called for next Monday at which time, I hope, we will have some honest soul searching by all factions of the Church. The results of this meeting will probably chart the course of our church for the next several years, and is, therefore, of utmost importance to us all."

In concluding, he said that the Town was exposing a large segment of the population to a clear and present danger.

Robert Grenzeback, chairman of the Finance Committee, then proposed a substitute motion on behalf of the Finance Committee suggesting a comprehensive study of the cost of equipment and personnel for the future years of the station. His committee urged unfavorable action on the main motion as they do not feel the Town has long range figures for maintenance.

Robert Armstrong spoke in favor of the substitute motion, noting the increase in cost of manning the station.

Kendall Spencer suggested that both motions be approved as the Town needs both the report and the station.

Moderator Chadwick noted that to do this, it would be necessary to vote down the substitute motion, vote in favor of the main motion, and then move the substitute motion again as a separate motion.

After further discussion, the substitute motion was defeated. Following that, Leroy Long, chairman of the Permanent Building Committee, suggested that the $5,000 for the plans ought to be doubled. An amendment to that effect was made by Richard Lawrance and was defeated.

The main motion was then passed. After that, Mr. Spencer proposed the substitute motion as a separate motion, amending it that the report be in the hands of the Town Meeting Members two weeks before the next special or annual Town Meeting after August 15, 1970.

Moderator Chadwick then announced a motion by the Board of Selectmen for reconsideration of Article 22 concerning the Low property. The motion to reconsider was passed.

The substitute motion called for the property to be purchased for approximately $40,284. The original assessment was for $37,500 and the increase allows for eight per cent as an inflation figure.

The motion was passed.

Article 36

Considered next was Article 36, the report of the Town Government Study Committee.

Edward Hicks, speaking for that Committee, briefly outlined the projects with which his committee had been involved during the year. The report was accepted.

A motion was then proposed to appropriate $10,000 for the hiring of a consultant to study Town structure to suggest possible ways of operating more efficiently.

The motion was passed.

Article 37

Under Article 37, the Permanent Building Committee for the library addition, for the fire station renovations, for the Marycliff acquisition, and for the study of the Cutting House were disbanded.

The Central Business Study Committee was voted an extension for one year and it was moved to have the Personnel Board study collective bargaining.

A motion to form a committee to study other ways of disposing of waste material and to study possible rental of incinerator time to other towns was lost.

The motion had been suggested by the Finance Committee. It was pointed out by the Board of Selectmen that the incinerator must be in proper working order before being overloaded.

Article 38

The final article concerned a proposal to move funds into the Stabilization Fund in order to reduce the future tax levy. The motion was passed.

Selectmen

Also present at the hearing were Finance Committee Chairman Robert Grenzeback and Town Comptroller James Costello.

Other Action

In other action, the Board held a hearing with J. Christopher Cutler of the Menemsha Bites Inc. of 553 Main Street. Mr. Cutler appeared before the Board to request a common victualer's license for the purpose of selling chowder, on a limited basis, to be eaten on the premises. The license was granted.

The Board also granted renewal of three hackney licenses, three junk licenses, an old gold and silver license and an auctioneer's license.

The names of three jurors were drawn at the meeting. They were Hope Oliver of 22 Oxford Street, Joan Fisher of 10 Nelson Street, and Ethel Blanch of 16 Alden Lane.

Drugs

Describing some young people's attitudes toward drugs as "honey" in a dreary life, Miss Richardson predicted that an investigation into the basic education system should be made. For some users, she said, either the danger doesn't seem real, they don't think about it, or they don't care.

Estimating the availability of drugs, John Puffer quoted "the end of the school day" for most forms, with heroin requiring about one to two days. He feels that if only one young person is saved, a drug program will have its reason for existence. He urged administrators and persons interested in drugs to be honest and straightforward with young people, so that they may be trusted. He also said that Dr. McLean was the "first person kids turn to for help." When trying to present a case for non-use of drugs the class president recommended emphasizing the danger of hard drugs and the penalties of laws regarding them. Responding to Senator Kennedy's question, he stated that the legalization of drugs would probably only "even out" their use.

ACID Is Consutted

Under the direction of Father Bernard Lane, Malden's project ACID, Adolescent Counseling In Drugs, provides group therapy and some rehabilitation for drug users. It has operated on total funds of $30,000, $10,000 of which derives from the state.

Besides Father Lane the three remaining members of this final panel were 17-and-18-year-old drug users. Their testimony consisted of recounts of personal experiences as users.

Response by young people in the audience to Senator Kennedy's invitation to address or question the assembly was enthusiastic. He invited anyone who wished to direct information on this topic to him, to write care of the U.S. Senate.

Kennedy's Statement

"America in the '70's is a drug society." This remark formed part of the Senator's prepared address prefacing panel discussions. Referring to drugs, he said, "These are the substances which destroy our young people's minds and bodies and respect for law and even their lives. These are the substances which by their nature turn an adventure into a compulsive habit, a craving which must be satisfied at any cost, even if it requires stealing money, or selling drugs to others for profit. "The estimated number of addicts in the nation is now 120,000. As many as one-tenth of these may be in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. We had four deaths from heroin overdoses in 1968, nearly 40 in 1969, and 100 other heroin-related deaths. The average of users has dropped from 27 to 21 in Boston since 1965, and in some communities over half the young people in high school are experimental drug users."

The subcommittee which Senator Kennedy chairmans is attempting to formulate legislation providing a "rational and coordinated attack" on drug abuse. He emphasizes four dimensions, enforcement, education, rehabilitation, and research. He claims that the recently passed Senate bill was not the "cure-all" for this problem that has been advertised, it merely "restructured the federal enforcement machinery."

"Right now drug rehabilitation in the United States is a joke. The federal government is spending only $10 million nationwide for community assistance — enough to meet our needs in this state alone.

"Individual efforts are fragmented and competitive. Because different programs are vying for limited money, they downgrade each other and all suffer."

Based upon such information as was supplied in personal recounts here in Winchester and in Lynn on Saturday, the subcommittee will now attempt to attack drug abuse in the educational, rehabilitational, and research fields.

Fire Is Threat To Children Left Alone

With spring "bustin' out all over," everybody wants to "bust out" too.

Unhappily this is the time when parents, in the urge to get out, too often make the fatal error of leaving small children alone in the house, according to Fire Chief I. Francis Amico.

That quick shopping errand, that brief cup of coffee with the neighbor next door is all the time needed by fire to do its deadly work. Sometimes the children start the fires, playing with matches or stoves. Sometimes fire simply seems to choose this moment to strike.

The shocking fact, established by National Fire Protection Association studies, is that one child out of every three who die in fires was alone and helpless when the fire struck.

In the majority of instances, these are not cases of outright negligence, but lapses on the part of otherwise conscientious parents.

Whenever you are tempted to run out for "just a few minutes" without the children, don't. Take them with you, or leave them home with a competent older family member or babystitter.

Play it safe and you'll never be sorry!

Mrs. Wilding-White, chairman of the board, stated in her annual report to the stockholders that she looked forward to a good year of operations for 1970, commenting that last year was one of many changes affecting the company's rehabilitation of equipment and modernization of production facilities. "The company," she said, "is becoming heavily involved in the cylinder program, which called for sizeable additional equipment and the consequent increase of employment for Worcester Country. We have been adding substantially to our work force here and are happy to do this — for Worcester's growth."

She again expressed appreciation and gratitude for all the cooperation and assistance she has been receiving from all the employees.

Frank Dattilo Gets Promotion In U. S. Navy

Frank Dattilo IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dattilo of 11 Park Avenue, whose association with the U. S. Navy began about a decade ago, has earned the rank of lieutenant commander. The promotion was effective as of January, 1970.

LT. CMDR. FRANK DATTILO IV

A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1956, Lt. Cmdr. Dattilo was prominent in sports while here. While attending the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, from which he graduated in 1961, he was a member of the football squad. He had been selected an all-scholastic football end.

Upon graduation from Annapolis, Lt. Cmdr. Dattilo served from June of 1961 until September, 1964, as an officer and gunnery officer aboard the U.S.S. McKean DD-7841.

Succeeding assignments were from June, 1964, to December of 1966 as executive officer on the U.S.S. Advance M.S.-5101. He then attended the U.S. Naval Post Graduate School until September, 1969, receiving a degree in oceanography in October. He has also attended the Guided Missile School, Ware Island, Vallejo, California.

The Lieutenant Commander's latest assignment was in January of this year to the U.S.S. Brainbridge D.L.-N. 25 as weapons officer. The Brainbridge is the first nuclear powered guided missile frigate. Its home port is Long Beach, California.

Lt. Cmdr. Dattilo and his wife, Sharron Stevens of California, have a daughter, Michelle Rena, and are expecting another child.

Sgt. Haggerty Is Attending Drug Program

Fifty-two law enforcement officials from eastern Massachusetts began a special drug education training program in Boston on Monday, April 13.

The program, which is sponsored by Attorney General Robert H. Quinn, is the third in a series of two-week training sessions, designed to equip law enforcement personnel to combat the increasing drug problem throughout the Commonwealth. Sergeant William T. Haggerty is attending.

The course consists of lectures and discussions led by doctors, lawyers, pharmacists, and psychiatrists.

The classes deal not only with enforcement procedures, but also with the psychological aspects of drug abuse and provisions for treatment and rehabilitation.

Last month a similar program was held in Boston, and recently western state officials completed Mr. Quinn's course in Westfield. Future programs are scheduled to be held in the regions of Essex, Plymouth-Bristol, and Barnstable counties.

MacDonalds Awarded Patent

Joseph R. MacDonald of 63 Franklin Road and Winfred A. MacDonald of Melrose were the recipients on March 10 of U.S. Patent No. 3,499,421, entitled "Cage Type Lobster Farm."

Even with increased fishing efforts, the supply of lobsters cannot keep pace with the demand. Inasmuch as lobsters are slow growers, it is not likely that the ever increasing demand for them can be met naturally.

To cope with this problem, there have been developed so-called lobster farms for rearing or raising lobsters in a natural environment. Although farm-raised lobsters offer the advantages of lower mortality rates, faster growth rates and the elimination of certain costs heretofore incurred in catching lobsters, nevertheless the labor and food costs are factors that determine whether or not lobster farming can be successful in meeting marketing factors that determine requirements and conditions.

To provide an improvement over the prior practice, the MacDonalds have devised a novel cage type lobster farm that includes a station that is supported by pilings over an area where the ocean depth at low tide is suitable for lobsters. The station includes a number of cages, with the arrangement being such that large numbers of lobsters may be reared in a relatively small place with labor costs minimized due to the ease with which they may be fed. Food costs are also minimized because fish, which are a common food for lobsters, are lured below the station where they may easily be hauled in and processed in food containers.

In other words, the lobster farm of this invention of the MacDonalds is of such construction that food escaping from the cages thereof lures or entices fish into the structure, which fish may be processed at the station, preferably by freezing, and placed in suitable containers. In use, the cages are loaded with lobster cells and food containers and then lowered into position in the water by means of a rope and pulley. From time to time, as for example every 24 hours, the food containers are opened by turning shafts to an extent to permit the escape of desired amounts of food for the lobsters. When another food service is required, a cage is raised into the station and the food containers are replaced.

Other features of the construction and advantages of the invention are described in detail in the specifications and drawings of the patent.

The application for this patent, which consists of 15 claims of originality, was filed on March 6, 1968.

Vandalism Occurs At Wedgemere And Wyman

Acts of vandalism occurring at Wedgemere Station during the past week took their toll in damaged vehicles. Two reports of automobiles stolen from the area were also registered with the Winchester Police Department on Wednesday, April 1.

Reports were of windows forced and ignitions tampered with in apparent attempts to steal the vehicles. Several cars were ransacked and the contents damaged. Windshield wipers and antennas were also ripped from parked cars.

Vandalism was also reported at Wyman School over the weekend. Custodian Clement A. Landry informed police on Saturday that a drain pipe had been torn from the side of the building and that a flood light had been taken. On Sunday he found that a second floor window had been broken by a stone.

The "oneness" of mankind that insures peace can be found in man's at-one-ment" with God. This spiritual relationship is explained in the Lesson-Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 19.
The Lesson-Sermon begins with a Golden Text from John: "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."
One of the readings from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind, one God and Father, one Life, Truth, and Love. Mankind will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent, war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established."

Moratorium Day Plans Listed By Schools

The National Moratorium Day on April 15 will be handled in the same manner in Winchester Public Schools as it was on previous moratorium days, according to school officials.

That is, students who absent themselves from school on that day will be required to present a note from their parents for readmission, and absence for reason of the moratorium will be recognized as an unexcused absence.

Members of the Student Council of Winchester High School have voted to use council funds to rent a film that will be shown in the school auditorium during the day. The film entitled, "The War Game," depicts the effects of an imaginery nuclear attack by the Soviet Union on England. Students are being permitted to attend the showing of the film on a voluntary basis during unassigned periods. The normal school program will be conducted during class hours.

No students will be released from regular classes. Classes will operate as they normally do during the school day. Students who do not wish to view the film sponsored by the Student Council will be able to use their unassigned time in other ways.

School officials indicated that the sponsoring of the film by the Student Council does not represent an official position of the school administration or the council but merely represents a desire of the council to provide an opportunity for students to be exposed periodically on a voluntary basis to different points of view on matters of national concern.

Breaking, Enterings Reported

A breaking and entering was investigated at Lynch Junior High School on Thursday, April 2, by Officer David K. Richardson following a report made to the Police Department by custodian Vernon Phinney.

According to the police report, entry was gained by breaking a window 18 by 32 inches. The intruder (s) then forced a way into the cafeteria and into the dietician's office through a door broken in a previous incident. This area was ransacked. The assistant principal's office was also entered. Nothing was known to be missing at the time. Footprints were observed.

Friday evening a report was received from a Dennett Road residence that an incident had also occurred there. A combination storm window on the front of the home had been forced, an eight by six inch pane of glass being broken. Bedrooms and the living and dining rooms had been ransacked.

Officer William H. O'Neil filed the report which lists as known missing all of the woman's jewelry, silver fox cape, full lynx coat, mink jacket, and silverware. This catalogue may be incomplete.

Owners of a Leslie Road home informed police on Sunday that a breaking and entering had occurred while they were away for the weekend. On arrival at the residence Officer Joseph N. Perritano found that a small pane on a rear door had been broken and the lock jimmied.

Cabinet drawers and the master bedroom had been ransacked. Reported missing at this time were the man's jewelry and $1,000 in Traveler's Checks. A pool cue and a carton of soda was found outside of the house.

Book Revived By Mrs. Barris

Any reader who wishes to know and love his country the better for knowing what went into the making of it should read this book—A work of great vigor set down in words of simplest elegance. No one has written better about the Indians—Seldom from the smelting post of literature comes a bar of pure golden Americana. Such a book is the memoirs of Thomas Henry Tibbles, a man who lived through the lusty, brawling infancy of a nation. Reading it is like peering through a crystal window into the past."

These statements were made in newspaper reviews of "Buckskin and Blanket Days" by Thomas Henry Tibbles at the time the book was published by Doubleday in 1957. It was on the best seller's list in New York for a time, then in 1961 is was published in paperback by Bantam Press. Shortly after that it faded out of the picture.

After 13 years the book has been revived. Mrs. Vivien Barris of 35 Canterbury Road has announced that the University of Nebraska Press has brought out a reprint edition in clear-type paperback of this book which contains much about early American history that has not been recorded elsewhere.

Mrs. Barris is the owner of the book's copyright as these are the memoirs of Mr. Tibbles, her husband's grandfather.

Mr. Tibbles wintered with a band of Indians when he was seventeen years old. He loved and understood them, and was accepted as a true friend. Few men lived more intimately with the Indians. Only one other white man that he knew over his long life ever became an initiate into their secret Soldier's Lodge.

He saw life on the great Western plains only a short time before the old, free way of the American Indian was destroyed forever. The buckskin and blanket days from Mr. Tibbles' youth in Bleeding Kansas in 1856 to the Battle of Wounded Knee live again in his book.

Later he became one of the most celebrated pleaders for the rights of the red man. By a stubborn and finally victorious fight, he succeeded in arousing public opinion to the point where Congress was forced to pass legislation giving Indians "Citizens' Rights." His contribution was to gain recognition for the American Indian as a person, not merely a ward of the government. The government reversed its hundred-year-old policy toward a whole race of people.

Mrs. Barris hopes that the words of another reviewer are now becoming true: "Buckskin and Blanket Days should, and probably will, become one of the classics of the American West."

St. Mary's Holy Name Hears Talk

The members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society held a meeting Sunday morning at which the members and their wives and children were given the facts on the drug situation both locally and nationally.

Dr. Donald E. McLean, who is very active in promoting education in the dangers of drugs, as well as preventive measures to be taken, was the principal speaker. He was assisted by Lieutenant James J. Cogan and Richard W. Beaton, juvenile officer, of the Winchester Police Department.

There was a question and answer period at the conclusion of the talks and much information was brought to the attention of the group. The crisis which is gaining momentum must be halted and the speakers were unanimous in their opinion that the solution lies within the confines of the educational triangle, the home, the church, and the school. If any one of these fails, the slack must be picked up by the others. Suggestions were made in the methods of detecting the drug habit and in handling the situation once it has been discovered.

The meeting opened with selections by the Holy Name choral group with Hugh Fay as director and Herbert Cleary at the piano. The Rev. John O'Donnell, moderator and president Edward Lilley welcomed the speakers and guests. John McDonald was in charge of the usual continental breakfast.

It was announced that the May meeting to be held on the 17th will feature Richard K. Chrystal, principal of the Central Junior High in Quincy. A graduate student at Harvard, Mr. Chrystal has recently returned from a two month trip to India, and he will provide an illustrated lecture with slides taken in the Orient.

Den 7 Cleans Railroad Station

Den 7 of Pack 524, after securing permission from the Winchester Police, picked up several cans of debris at Wedgemere Station—in lieu of their regular den meeting.

This was a small but enthusiastic effort as a reminder of the coming of Earth Day, April 22, and the great importance of keeping the Town and Country clean and beautiful.

Paul White Tours Europe With All-Stars

Paul M. White III, a coach at Nauset Regional High School Orleans, is traveling in Europe and Russia with an all-star Cape Cod basketball team, made up of players from Provincetown, Chatham, Dennis, Yarmouth, Falmouth and Nauset High Schools. The group of 21 men left Logan Airport April 10 and will return April 26.

PAUL M. WHITE III

This trip is planned under the American Sports Ambassador program. They will travel to Stockholm, Helsinki, Leningrad, Moscow, East Berlin and West Berlin. They won't be allowed to play any games in East Berlin but they will play everywhere else. They feel that the Russians will throw the best they have at them, but they beat the Junior (high school age) Champions of England twice by one point a few weeks ago when they were at the Cape.

The trip serves many purposes. This group's main objective is to show what high school athletes are really like.

Among those on the all-star team is Steve McCormack from Dennis-Yarmouth. He is the son of Richard McCormack and nephew of Fred and Henry McCormack, well-known pharmacists of Winchester.

Mr. White, a former basketball and football player for Winchester High School, is the son of Mrs. Paul M. White of 3 Fletcher Street.

Leo Mille, coach of Nauset Regional, assembled the team.

Pee Wee Soccer Ties Opener

Winchester's Pee Wee soccer team was held to a two-all tie, as they hosted Hudson in the league opener at McDonald Field last Sunday.

The Winchester team played aggressive ball throughout the game and were unlucky not to achieve the victory in this match. Winchester's first goal came on a hard drive by Will Paglia with a splendid assist from Matt McGrory. Hudson evened the score prior to half-time with a goal on a free kick.

Winchester completely dominated the second half playing nearly the entire period in front of the Hudson goalmouth. Will Paglia picked up his second goal during this half, putting Winchester ahead 2-1.

With less than two minutes to play, Hudson was awarded a penalty kick, which it proceeded to convert and knot the score 2-2

The defensive play of the Wee Sachems was exceptional throughout the game. Frank Stiles and Mark Caputo led a fired-up defensive unit including George Casey, John Barcus, Jay James, Jack Driscoll and Mark Bumiller.

Ably assisting Will Paglia in the forward line were Allyn Stillman, Norm Alpert, Matt McGrory, Paul Klemmer, John Scott, Mark Pistone and William Strazzullo.

Saturday, April 18, the Wee Sachems will play two games against Quincy at 1 p.m. on McDonald Field. Sunday, April 19, Winchester travels to Medford at 2 p.m.

George Murphy Plays Hockey At Harvard

George Murphy recently completed a fine season with the Harvard hockey team which posted a 16-9 record, finishing third in the Ivy League, and fourth in the ECAC championships.

George, a senior wing, played an important role in the Crimson's success, scoring two points on one goal and one assist. He finished his college career with eight points on five goals and three assists in two seasons.

"The season was most unusual," says veteran coach Cooney Weiland. "We had our share of problems throughout much of the winter, but I'm really proud of the way the team pulled together down the stretch, winning nine of the last 12 games."

George, a history major, is the son of George E. Murphy of 55 Brookside Avenue.

Pee Wee B's Finish Season

The 1969-1970 Pee Wee B team was comprised of a good solid group of young Winchester boys led by Captains "Jimbo" Beaton with "lightning" skates and "Chipper" Hartnett with his strong charge.

MVP Rich Coakley and high scorer Greg Fuccillo made fine contributions up front along with accurate passing Bob Coppins and left wing Tom Romeo. Bill Maggio assisted early by "Cliffer" Falla was strong in the goal and surrounded by hard rock defensemen.

The defensive corps was led by quick rushers Paul Duffy and Phil Neergaard and "hard bank" checkers Andy deMars and Mike Donnellan. Reliable Kev Julian and determined Pete Richmond made a big difference around the net also.

B's on the taxi squad were Pete Haley, a good defenseman, Don Allard, a good forward who scored against Stoneham, Bud Rau with his important goal against Billerica along with solid left wing Matt Twomey.

A solid 18 wins, three losses, record for second place was turned in by this club and their efforts carried them through to the finals of the Division I Tournament. They were a group of great boys who are a credit to Winchetser on the ice as well as off.

Bantams Win Soccer Opener

Last Sunday on McDonald Field, the B.A.Y.S. spring soccer team opened with St. Mary's C.Y.O. team in a 3 to 0 win over Medford.

The first half was scoreless. Vin Palumbo played an aggressive game at center forward. St. Mary's had fanned on several scoring opportunities but their last line of defense had little to do.

In the second half, St. Mary's Ed Shiang sent the ball through the Medford goalkeeper's legs for the first score with Peter Martini getting the assist. The next goal was by Martini from the right wing. And again later, Martini got his second goal with an assist by Chip Whitman.

Medford seldom penetrated into St. Mary's defense with Ed Shiang at center halfback, flanked by Paul Sullivan and Pete Sandford. Two penalty kicks, usually a golden scoring opportunity, were awarded to St. Mary's, but the Medford goalkeeper saved on both tries.

There were a good number of spectators at both the pee wee and bantam games.

The Youth Soccer Program thanks the Board of Park Commissioners for making McDonald Field available for youth soccer, and Herbert Mullen, Park Department superintendent, for having the field in excellent playing condition.

Next Sunday St. Mary's travels to Framingham, who in their first game played to a scoreless tie with Wellesley.

CYO Winter Sports Teams Are Feted At St. Mary's

by John F. Parrell

The final act in a long program of winter sports activities at St. Mary's Church, under the direction of the Rev. Bernard Hoy, came to an ending Sunday afternoon and evening. Some 250 participants and many of their parents gathered at the school hall for a buffet dinner at which players, coaches, and cheerleaders were honored.

The youngsters who have been active in the program did full justice to the meal and many left with trophies indicative of their individual excellence.

Action started in the afternoon when the fathers and sons squared off on the basketball court for a three game set. Johnny Nunziato, popular football coach at Somerville High, was referee and he had some hectic moments, particularly with the elders.

The fathers, aided and abetted by Father Hoy, popped into an early lead and won both games from the intermediates and juniors. The popular director dropped in the opening hoop and the parents went on to a 42-38 triumph in the game with the older boys.

In the junior game they had a bigger margin with the final count 45-37. The cadets defended the honor of the younger element as they blasted their fathers by 26-20.

The program has embraced both basketball and hockey with over 250 youngsters in active participation. Some 120 are in the hockey clinic group under John Falla and almost an equal number in basketball. The cheerleaders are an innovation this year and they have provided a great deal of color at the games throughout the season.

After his rugged afternoon as a whistle tooter Coach Nunziato doubled as toastmaster at the dinner. He kept things moving at a fast pace with clever introductions, humorous stories and reports on the progress of the Bruins-Ranger battle. The speaking program was limited to remarks by Father Hoy, the coaches, and Coach Vandy French of the Winchester High Tech Tourney team. He complimented the players for their fine record in winning both the intermediate and junior championships during the past two seasons. He pointed out the value of the game experience which they have gained and felt that this would be very helpful in keeping the Sachems near the top of the basketball world in years to come.

He showed a film of the famous 1955-56 team in action and noted the difference in style of defense and shooting methods during that period. Incidentally, several of the children of Coach Jim Phillips of that team were among the award winners.

Awards

John Martin, chairman of basketball for the Woburn Deanery, added his praise for the fine performance and excellent sportsmanship of the local players. He presented the trophies emblematic of their success to Coach Richard Casalinovo of the juniors and Coach Tony Celli of the intermediates.

The coaches then took over for the presentation of the trophies to their teams. The intermediates, who have been titlists both years of their existence, ran up an impressive 14-0 record under Coach Celli and his assistants Tom Keating and Hank Skehan. The most improved player trophy went to Jim Phillips, namesake of the great coach of yesteryear. There was a deadlock for most valuable player and duplicate awards went to Ron Floyd and Frank Grabiec. In their turn they presented Revere bowls to the coaching staff.

Coach Casalinouvo thanked the boys for their performance and their parents for their cooperation and praised his assistant George Tesniure. There were two awards for those who improved most and these went to Ricky Erickson and Peter Pirani. The most valuable player trophy was won by Rich Powers who was a member of the Sachem Tech Tourney squad. The captain of the juniors for next year will be Peter Wakefield.

The Cadets, who are the youngest group, were coached by Ray Sylvester, assisted by Arthur Dray of Hyde Park.

The most improved player trophy went to Steve Waite and the most valuable award went to Mike Phillips, another member of the Jim Phillips clan.

Coach John Falla, whom Father Hoy called "the Snooks Kelley of Winchester hockey" took over to make the hockey awards. He has headed up the C Y O hockey forces for 11 years and is presently involved with a hockey clinic for over 100 boys and a trip to Montreal for a game next week. Jim McNamara is his assistant.

The team was among the leaders throughout most of the season but lost out in the playoffs. Two players, Matty O'Neil and Richie Jacobs, were named to the all star team. Kevin Pierce was presented a trophy as rookie of the year and Mike Bonish was awarded the one for the most improved player.

Cheerleaders were Nancy Phillips (head), Susan Rigney, Karen Wilson, Peggy Fay, Kathy Hobart, and Wendy Forte.

To wind up the evening Fr. Hoy took over to extend his personal compliments to the young people for their achievements and his thanks to the parents and coaches for their cooperation. In his turn he was presented with a special trophy for his great personal interest in CYO work as well as his contribution to the victory of the parents in the afternoon hoop game.

Coach Tony Celli headed up the dinner arrangement group and he had the assistance of his wife and Mrs. David Kline, Mrs. John Falla, and Mrs. Clarence Lyon and the cheerleaders in the serving operation.

Steve Swanson To Lead Baseball Team

by John F. Parrell

Steve Swanson, two-year veteran catcher, has been elected to lead Coach Bill Colella's diamond forces. Steve has been a very steady receiver and his big bat has powered many a Sachem victory. As a matter of fact he contributed a pair of triples and scored four runs in last week's opening day win against Browne and Nichols.

The Winchester nine had a busy week last week with practice games with Malden, Malden Catholic and the annual visit of Coach Jocko Serieka's Concord, New Hampshire, team resulting in resounding wins while they were edged by the Medford Mustangs in the other workout.

They have a long 18 game Middlesex League slate which opened yesterday at Melrose and lasts until late in May when the qualifying date for the State Tourney must be met. Coach Colella hopes for a good season since he has three dependable sets of battery men and many returning veterans.

The season opened last week with a well earned victory over Browne and Nichols by a count of 11-0 as they scored in all but one inning to record their triumph.

The Gutterbelles lost seven points to the Pace Setters, and the Early Birds took six points from the Dreamers to put those two teams into a tie for first place.

Hilde Coulter set the pace for the Early Birds with a high triple of 295. Mary Hilfinger and Gloria Belden had great 95 games for their teams, and Pat DiSilva had the high single of 113 for the Dreamers, which didn't help them from sliding into last place.

A great team effort from the Go-Getters, Betty Estlick, Sandy Stillman, Marie LeMay and Helen McCarthy, took all eight points from the Highlights, and lifted them into seventh place. Good bowling, girls!

The high team single was 355, bowled by the Dreamers, and the high team triple was 999, bowled by the Early Birds.

With only three more weeks left to our bowling season, the girls are still struggling to hold on to their trophy-winning scores.

This week Joan McAllister took high for the night with 297. Cappie Airey was second with 288, and Rita Melaragni was third with 274. Tut Ray and Joan McAllister both had a number of marks during the night.

We had some high scores from Eva Macario, Tut Ray, Lucy Casetti, Eleanor Yore, Diane Fiore, and Maria Luise.

Duplicate Bridge Club

On Wednesday, April 22, the Club will host its annual Spring Party, complete with festive refreshments, friendly visiting, and of course a good bridge game.

The usual second-Wednesday-of-the month section on April 8 for new duplicate players produced the following winners:

A. Ferdinand and M. Brennan	43
Muriel Davis and Peter Cullen	39½
C. Dyjak and J. Brennan	35

The top-scorers list in Section A was sprinkled with familiar names, Donna Redpath and Lena Collins posting the best game North-South and Peggy and Phil Cade heading the East-West column.

North-South

Donna Redpath and Lena Collins	103
Lee Salani and Gay Schreiber	100
Gerold Barrett and William Wheelock	98
Ruth Hagan and James Byrne	92
Dr. and Mrs. Robert Blackler	92

East-West

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cade	93
Carl Galante and Al. Vaccaro	89
Lolly Smith and Steve Haseltine	88½
Elodie Flewelling and Edmund Joyce	86½
Anne Galpin and Madalyn Walworth	85½
Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Malkin	84½

Dave Littleton and Barry Tannenbaum were the winners in a close North-South race in Section B. In the East-West direction on the other hand, Barbara Huberman and Dave Miller were way ahead in first place.

North-South

David Littleton and Barry Tannenbaum	120½
Edward Sullivan and Abe Gosule	117
Barbara Shea and Nancy Atkinson	116
Norman Houlding and Leo Gonsalves	114
Mr. and Mrs. John Davis	107½
Helen Mahoney and Anne Murray	102½

East-West

Barbara Huberman and David Miller	145
Rose Hickey and Lillian Sheridan	119
Leonora Carty and Eileen Brennan	116
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson	113
Enid Houlding and Frank Gonsalves	112½
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cowles	112

THE SAFE LEAD

Board 8 from Section B (North dealing and no one vulnerable, the hand rotated for convenience) is an excellent example of the importance of the opening lead.

North opened with a strong two-club bid (forcing to game but not necessarily showing clubs), South responded positively with two hearts, and when North raised hearts, South asked for aces and went on to six hearts.

Now what do you lead sitting West with this hand?

♥ K 5 3
♣ Q 10 3 2

Isn't that a hard choice? You can eliminate leading away from the king of diamonds, and there are certainly combinations where leading a small heart would give up a trick. No safe lead yet. So, spades or clubs? Again, you can visualize spade distribution where your lead would give up a trick and likewise in clubs!

Here's the whole hand.

North
♥ Q J 4 2
♦ A 4
♣ A K 7

West
♥ K 5 3
♣ Q 10 7 3

East
♦ J 10 9 5
♣ 8 6 5 4

South
♠ Q 8 7
♥ A 10 9 8 6
♣ J 9

As you can see, in this case, the spade lead is the safe one (though if your partner East has the jack of spades instead of the ten, the lead helps South), and the club lead gives South his precious twelfth trick, for he can take the trick with his jack and now has two good tricks in North's hand — the king of clubs and the fourth spade — to discard his two small diamonds on, losing only the king of hearts to make his six.

The score slip as usual shows different decisions. Six of the eleven North-Souths bid the slam; three made it, and three were set. The others stopped at game, none making the six.

Editor's Note: Where were we? Oh, I sat West and led the club.

Electrical Hazards Need Attention Now

During Spring Clean-Up operations at your home, watch out for trouble causing electrical defects.

Catching and correcting such defects may very well save your home from fire, says Fire Chief I. Francis Amico, because National Fire Protection Association statistics show electrical defects are the third most frequent cause of dwelling fires.

These are important points to check:

1. Frayed insulation and loose connections on lamp, appliance and extension cords are danger signals. Repairing — like taping over frayed insulation, for example — is risky. Replace the cord and be safe. Check not only the cords that are out in the poen, but also those under sofas and behind beds and bureaus where a fault can go undetected.

2. Cords under rugs are fire-inviters. Traffic and vacuuming over the spot will wear and fray cord insulation to the breakdown point. Take immediate steps to correct this situation if it exists in your home. Find another and safe way to reach the outlet, or better still, have a qualified electrician install a new outlet to serve the lamp or appliance.

3. Rigging extension cords over nails and hooks in the basement, attic or garage, or tacking them along baseboards anywhere in the house, is a hazardous practice — but you probably know this. Do you also know that any continuous use of extension cords is a poor and risky substitute for permanent wiring? The solution is to bring the electrical service in your home up to the modern standards of the National Electrical Code.

4. For a final electrical safety job, check out the fuse box in the basement. Get rid of the burned out fuses, and make sure you are using only 15 amp. fuses except on special circuits designed for heavier loads.

Classes Offered At Hospital For Parents-To-Be

Winchester Hospital announces that it is offering a series of classes for expectant parents, with the first class to begin on Monday, May 4, at the Hospital. The class hours will be between 7:30 p.m. and 9 p.m., on eight consecutive Mondays.

These classes, which are to be conducted by members of the hospital staff, are intended to bring this all-important event of parenthood into a family-centered experience for both parents. The sessions will be conducted by Mrs. Carol Butt, R.N., assisted by Miss Virginia Markham, R.N., obstetrical supervisor at the Winchester Hospital, and will include lectures by an obstetrician and a pediatrician.

Classes will include a description of the anatomy and physiology of birth; care of the mother before, during and after labor; and care and development of the new baby. Also included in the course will be a guided tour of selected areas of the hospital, including the admitting office, maternity floor, and labor and nursery areas. During the tour there will be an opportunity to informally meet with some of the nursing personnel in these areas, and to have individual questions answered.

Classes will be open without charge to all interested expectant parents, with pre-registration required. Those desiring to register should call the hospital, 729-1900, Extension 216, week-days between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Winchester Hospital presents this series of classes for expectant parents in recognition of its responsibility in the field of health education.

Day Set Aside For Environment

The Winchester Home and Garden Club reports, in the interest of pollution control, there will be a specially designated day for this purpose. Entitled Environmental Day the date will be April 22.

It is suggested concerned citizens devote a little time during this day collecting all the trash in a given area. Children can be especially helpful by forming small groups for this purpose and thereby feel a part of this important program.

Pollution has many phases to its birth. A few suggestions to be heeded: don't burn leaves; don't leave the car ignition on needlessly; don't start fires and become aware of preventing litter and collecting the trash already littering the town. The Club urges everyone to support this special day.

BENTLEY COLLEGE ALUMNI honored members of the college's 1969-70 basketball team during an Alumni Sports Night at the Waltham campus. The event included a dinner and attendance at the team's final home game of the season. Participating was Rae D. Anderson of 4 Ox Pasture Road, professor of accounting and dean emeritus of the college, an alumnus.

Methodists Begin Progress Drive

The program of progress at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church began with a kick-off dinner on Monday night.

More than a hundred members attended. Remarks were made by Ralph Hatch, chairman of the 1971 Centennial Program. Mr. Hatch reviewed the history of Methodism in Winchester mentioning the original Methodist Church formerly located on Mt. Vernon Street opposite the Savings Bank.

He and several members present joined this church in their youth, a replica of which, designed by Norman Osborne, was on display. Three members from Chase Associates of New Hampshire gave talks on stewardship. The evening ended with members present being given an opportunity to make a three year sacrificial pledge to the Centennial Fund. Callers from Chase Associates will visit every member of the Parish during the next three days to receive their pledge.

Church Accepts Resignations Of 3 Ministers

The First Congregational Church Monday night voted to accept the resignations of three of its ministers and to form a committee to seek their replacements.

All four ministers who serve the church, the Rev. Dr. Oliver Powell, the Rev. Richard Diehl, the Rev. John Rinehart and the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Henley last week had submitted their resignations to the congregation. The latter cited reasons of ill health for his resignation while the other three resigned because of disagreements with the congregation over the priorities of their ministry.

The Rev. Mr. Rinehart had noted in his letter that he planned to leave the ministry upon his resignation from the church.

At Monday's meeting the congregation voted to reject the resignation of Dr. Henley.

The meeting, led by Frederick C. Rozelle Jr., was attended by some 500 people. There are approximately 2,000 members of the church.

Opening the meeting, Mr. Rozelle commented on the polarization of the church and called on Frank Gunby Jr., Senior Deacon, to report on a meeting held by the Church Committee.

Mr. Gunby noted that the Church Committee had voted to move that the congregation accept the resignations "with sincerest regret."

It was then moved to substitute a motion giving Dr. Powell a vote of confidence from the congregation.

Following discussion, it was moved to amend the main motion to accept the resignations of all but Dr. Henley.

Following discussion of the legality of the substitute motion, it was voted to substitute the vote of confidence motion for the main motion. This was deliberated and eventually lost by a close margin.

After the substitute motion was lost, it was once again moved to accept the resignations of the three ministers, however this was amended to not accept the resignations of the three ministers, not accept the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Diehl. After several votes, the amendment was lost, and the main motion carried.

The church will now seek new ministerial leadership. The resignations of Dr. Powell and Mr. Diehl become effective in August while Mr. Rinehart will leave in July.

Brush Fires, Other Incidents Keep Force Busy

Monday's April showers dampened the splurge of brush and debris fires which kept the Winchester Fire Department busy throughout the weekend. They also responded to an early Saturday morning automobile fire and a fire at a Central Street residence.

A 5 a.m. alarm at Cox and Johnson Roads brought Engine 4 and the Rescue Truck to a Valleywood Circle home Saturday, April 18. Lieutenant Bernard F. Stygles was in charge. The interiors of two vehicles, one a 1970 model, the other an unregistered '57 car, were ablaze.

At 5:09 a.m. another box call augmented the Fire Department's equipment with Engine 2, the Auxiliary Ladder Truck and Chief's Car. Police aroused the residents of the home, while firefighters managed to keep the flames from spreading to the garage nearby. Damage to the interiors of the automobiles has been reported as total.

Later that evening at 6:32 p.m. a fire at the home of Vincent Visconti of 29 Central Street resulted in damage only to the second floor level following the response of the Fire Department.

Engines 2 and 3 and the Ladder and Rescue Trucks answered the box alarm. Captain David N. Dalton was in charge. Woburn equipment was called to the station to cover while Winchester apparatus answered this and other calls.

Selectmen Appoint Thomas E. Kennedy Police Sergeant

At its regular meeting Monday night in the Town Hall, the Board of Selectmen voted to approve the appointment of Police Officer Thomas E. Kennedy to the position of sergeant on the force.

Now in his 22nd year on the force, Sgt. Kennedy was appointed a permanent member of the department on June 1, 1949.

A graduate of Durfee High School in Fall River, he is a veteran of World War II, having served five years in the Army.

Sgt. Kennedy and his wife, Margaret, have 10 children, Betty Jean (Mrs. Richard Conte); Phyllis (Mrs. Peter Favazza); Rosemary (Mrs. James Hooper); Thomas E. III; Christopher James; Paul; Kathleen; Michael Leo; Robert Brian; and John. They also have a granddaughter, Mary Jane Favazza, 2. The Kennedy's reside at 32 Oak Street.

The sergeant will attend the Command Institute at Babson Institute this summer with the other recently appointed sergeants, Roland Roy and Angelo Amico.

Following the appointment, the Board held a petroleum license hearing for a gas station permit on Main Street. George Whitten, who filed the application for the permit, was represented at the hearing by Bradford Whitten.

The Board also heard an application for a used car dealer's license at the same location as that of the gas station permit request. This was filed by Gerald Shapiro.

Attorney William Speers Jr. represented the Whittens at the hearing.

Previous Refusal

Previously the Selectmen had refused an application by Mr. Whitten for a gas station permit at the Main Street location which is currently occupied by a car wash that is no longer operating. A possible traffic hazard was cited as the reason for that refusal, Selectmen Chairman Ralph Swanson noted at Monday's meeting.

Mr. Shapiro explained that he wished to operate the car wash in conjunction with a used car dealership, perhaps in the future expanding to a foreign car dealership at which time he would phase out the car wash.

Attorney Speers noted that the Board could possibly oppose the petroleum license on the basis of the fire safety control laws with regard to the safety of the tanks. He noted, however, that Fire Chief I. Francis Amico had approved the safety of the tanks.

Following the comments of Attorney Speers and Mr. Shapiro, the Board opened the hearing to comments from the residents and businessmen in the area. They noted the additional traffic hazard that another station would cause in the area.

In other business the Board met with Arthur Rand, architect for the Town Hall renovations. Under discussion was the direction the Board would take with regard to the Town Meeting mandate for further study of the building renovations.

A hearing with Dog Officer Dr. Arthur Sandler was postponed until the next meeting of the Board.

The Board also approved appointments to several positions in the Town.

Vocational School Test To Be Given

A special testing session for student applications to the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School, Wakefield, from all parts of the district has been scheduled by Dr. Edward J. Donnelly, supervisor of Pupil Personnel.

The testing will take place from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. tomorrow, April 24, at Wakefield Junior High School, Farm Street.

Dr. Donnelly said: "Because of the possibility that some students may have missed tests given at their schools, we have scheduled this special testing session." The testing will be continuous for about four hours with short breaks from time to time. There are no fees nor are supplies required of the students. Transportation and lunch provisions must be made by the individuals taking the tests.

Further information may be obtained by contacting local Guidance Offices or the Pupil Personnel Office at Northeast Vocational.

CONCERN To Establish "Hot Line;" Discusses Programs For Coming Year

Before a large audience in the library of the McCall Junior High School Tuesday night, Winchester's drug action committee, CONCERN, discussed proposed goals and programs for 1970-71.

The committee noted that many requests had been received from residents to have "livingroom dialogues" held in their homes. At these dialogues, a panel of CONCERN members informally discusses the drug problem with people invited by the host family. In this way information about drugs is brought to adults in the community.

As the requests outnumber the CONCERN members who are trained to lead the livingroom dialogues, it was decided by the committee to stage a mock livingroom dialogue in order to demonstrate to members of CONCERN how the dialogues should be led. The demonstration will be held on Tuesday, May 5 at 7:45 p.m. in the library of the McCall Junior High School. This meeting will be open to the public, and residents are urged to attend. Mrs. Mary Wallace and Andre Marcous, members of CONCERN, will lead the demonstration.

Currently, CONCERN is planning to implement a telephone "hot line" for young people with problems to turn to for help. At Tuesday's meeting, CONCERN Chairman Dr. Donald McLean reported that the Winchester Hospital, through its administrator, Reese James, was interested in assisting CONCERN in establishing the hot line.

CONCERN plans to set up the hot line by early summer, and the committee is seeking young people to volunteer to man the hot line. It was felt that young people would be best, as a young person calling a hot line with a problem, especially a drug problem, would prefer to talk to one of his peers to find assistance. Young people manning the hot line would receive prior training and would have the names of

Accidents Occur In Parking Lot, Symmes Corner And Intersections

A 16-year-old Winchester boy was transported to Winchester Hospital on Saturday morning, April 11, in a semi-conscious condition following a motor vehicle accident in the parking lot of the Senior High School.

After X rays and treatment for a bump on the head, he was released. Officer Donald F. Jackson submitted the report for police files.

According to one witness of the accident, the 16-year-old was standing in the parking lot when an automobile driven by another Winchester youth, 18, bumped him in the legs. The vehicle continued forward in contact with the boy's body, until the boy jumped on the hood of the car. The vehicle still moved forward for approximately 30 yards, as estimated by this witness. When the brakes were applied, the boy fell from the hood of the automobile, hitting his head on the pavement.

In another motor vehicle accident occurring on Main Street on Wednesday, April 15, a bump of the head caused Nancy L. Luongo of 117 Ridge Street to be taken to the hospital for examination.

Miss Luongo was proceeding into Grove Street from Main at Symmes Corner when she came into contact with the automobile driven by Thomas L. Raleigh Jr. of 57 Swan Road. Officer Henry J. Cogan Jr. was called to the scene.

Passengers in Miss Luongo's car said they would see their own doctors. Her vehicle was towed. Damage to Mr. Raleigh's automobile was to the front end.

Damage to two vehicles was considerable following a collision at Pond Street and Chesterford Road on Thursday morning, April 16. Robert Hughes of Dedham was stopped at Pond when he was struck in the rear by Joseph B. Peel of 34 Pickering Street according to the report filed by Officer Donald F. Jackson.

Breaks Reported At Bookshop And High School Site

Report of a breaking and entering at the Skillings Road site of the new high school was made on Wednesday, April 15, to Police Headquarters by the White Construction Company, contractors for the project.

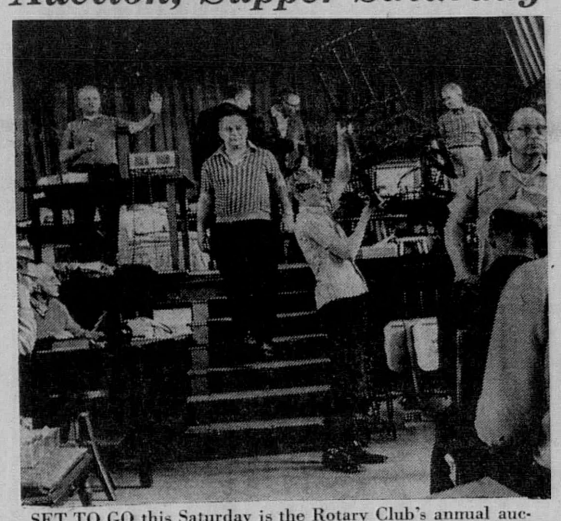

Carpenter foreman David Ham was accompanied by Officer Joseph M. Crowe Jr. as they examined locks on the doors of both the workshop and tool crib. They had been forced.

Known to be missing at this time were two drills and four saws, all owned by White Construction Company. Their name was engraved on these tools. It was noted in the police report that none of the laborers' equipment had been disturbed.

A break at Spaulding's Bookshop, 41 Thompson Street, was brought to the attention of police on Friday, April 17. According to the police reports filed by Officers Albert J. Duffy and John R. Oliver, both registers had been emptied of $25 each. A "cash pot" of $60, and a night deposit bag of $120 were also missing.

Police were informed by owner Mrs. Mary McGhee that the key to both the front and back doors had been missing since Wednesday of that week. The key was found in its place after discovery of the incident. A window in the basement of the store appeared to have been opened from the inside.

Rotary Club Schedules Auction, Supper Saturday

SET TO GO this Saturday is the Rotary Club's annual auction and bean supper all day at the Winchester Town Hall.

The Town Hall will be the scene this Saturday for the Winchester Rotary Club's annual old-fashioned country auction and bean supper.

Open all day, the auction will conclude with the bean supper from 5 to 7 p.m. A snack bar and bake sale will also be included in the day's activities.

Proceeds from the auction go to support many of the Town's activities including the Scholarship Foundation, the Hospital, the Boy Scouts, Little League, the Homefronters, Easter Seal, and others.

This annual charitable occasion continues to achieve new heights of success year after year. It is by no means just a one-day effort. The club's full complement of 80 members strive on a year-round voluntary basis collecting used furniture, appliances, china, paintings, books, glassware, knick-knacks, and a variety of household articles, and storing these articles in their barn warehouse.

Members continually devote their time and talents in repairing and restoring such donated articles to make them saleable merchandise by auction time.

The auction has attained considerable acclaim both locally and nationally. Proceeds continue to grow substantially year after year and all monies are widely distributed to a large number of charitable causes such as for youth clubs and activities, needs of the lesser privileged, emergency relief aid, scholarships, student exchange programs, servicemen's gift packages, hospital and clinic supplies, international flood relief, beautification of town parks, aid to handicapped children, shelter for the aged, welfare camperships, mentally retarded care, school athletic awards, etc.

A true portrayal of Rotary International's unselfish ideal of "Service Above Self," with success in attaining its goals, the club was presented a "Significant Achievement Award" for the auction project by Rotary International headquarters at the District 793 Spring Conference Governor's Banquet held at the Hotel Somerset in Boston on April 15 and 16 this year.

This was one of 113 world-wide awards for outstanding service projects granted for accomplishments of significance to the needs of the community, the nation or to the world.

There are over 14,000 Rotary Clubs throughout the world comprising over 660,000 business and professional men in 148 countries. Other typical project awards were made for a child care center in South America, a medical supply project in England, an anti-pollution project in Michigan, a juvenile rehabilitation center in Australia, and a drug addict program in Pennsylvania.

The Winchester Rotary Club is proud to be considered in the top one per cent of this world-wide service organization. Public support of its annual auction project will assure continuance of its good samaritan deeds.

Auctioneer Saturday will be Walter Szary. Among the items to be auctioned are two pine hutches and two pine bookcases; old sea chests, some dovetailed; a four drawer pine bureau; a round pine chair table; a dry sink with copper liner; two walnut hall stands; a Gov. Winthrop desk; a carved oak ladies' desk; four drawer Empire chests; and a Lane cedar chest.

Other things to be auctioned include brass andirons, tole ware, gold mirrors, pictures and frames, lamps and boxes of glass and china.

A book sale will also be going on all day. The sale exhibition begins at 9:30 a.m. and the auction at 10.

Festival Of Arts Weekend Set, Includes Drama, Music, Art

Bolstered by the approval of the Board of Selectmen and the Merchants Association, the newly formed Festival of the Arts Association will present a weekend Arts Festival on May 29, 30 and 31.

The concept of a Festival arose from the growth and success of the Annual Sidewalk Art Show. After several meetings last fall with representatives of organizations in the areas of the creative and performing arts, the original concept became a reality. Even in the mod, mad world of the 70's, the arts have a timeless appeal and the Festival of the Arts Association wishes to pay tribute to them.

The Art Association will present an enlargement of its traditional sidewalk show, which will run for two full days of the festival from 9 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. Additional features this year will be a special photographic section, a silent auction, and demonstration by artists of actual creation of their works.

The Winchester Public Library will present film programs geared to adult and children's interests. Also exhibits of literary works by Winchester authors, fund and memorial books, pencil sketches for the lobby mural and children's projects throughout the year are planned.

The Winchester Estates Garden Club is planning an unusual photographic display of the Club's annual project.

The Winchester Home and Garden Club is preparing a puppet show with conservation as its theme, a display of decorations, and an exhibit of cone, dried and artificial arrangements and flower arrangements by one of its members.

The Winchester Music Club will present a concert by resident musicians, a student concert program, and is also sponsoring solo presentations in the town's churches on Sunday morning.

Students of the arts in the Public School System will participate with the presentation of an orchestra concert, a band concert and an extensive art show.

Les Troubadors, a French choral group and Los Campaneros, a marimba band, which are comprised of Winchester students, will also perform.

A combined effort by the Unitarian Players, the Winchester Summer Community Theater and the Parish Players has produced a one act play, "Fumed Oak" by Noel Coward.

Staff and Key will present a program borrowing from the works of Gilbert and Sullivan.

During the first week of May programs will be available in the merchants' shops.

John Kean, festival coordinator, extends an invitation to any group which feels it would like to contribute to the Festival (729-8255).

Because of the overwhelming response to the booklet, CONCERN will, in the future, give any person, one booklet free; all other copies will be 25 cents. At the present rate, the requests for the booklet lead the committee to believe that more booklets will have to be printed. CONCERN wants to make these booklets available to everyone but will need funds to have more copies printed.

Dear Friend of Building 19½

My partner, Harry Andler, alias Frugal Harry, was wandering through this Elegant Emporium last week asking our customers how they liked my advertising.

"What advertising?" a few replied, so now he insists that I use pictures and specific items like all the rest of the stores. It sounds like dullsville, but I'll try it. After all, it's Harry's money. Before I launch into the gory, crass commercials, let me remind you of our policies:

1. We carry nothing but genuine, bona-fide bargains. Even our sales-people are bargains!
2. Every item is sold with a "no-hard-time", 100 per cent money-back guarantee. The customer is the sole judge.
3. We do not attempt to "sell" you anything. Just browse around, make your selection (if any), and wake up a near-by salesman.
4. Since WORK is the root of all evil, we're open only three days per week (Fri. 9-9, Sat. 9-5, Mon. 9-9). We can make enough money to spoil our kids rotten in three, so why work four?
5. We want you to ENJOY visiting us here at America's Laziest and Messiest Dept. (?) Store. That's why we offer free coffee and a casual atmosphere. If you enjoy coming here, we'll enjoy having you.

So come on down and poke around. Bring your wife, your kids, and your wallet. You'll have a good time.

Red Cross Is Active In Nigeria

The League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva, Switzerland, has announced that it and its member societies will continue strong and active support of the Nigerian Red Cross Society's relief program for its people affected by the 30-month war.

The Nigerian Red Cross has full responsibility, delegated to it by the Nigerian government, for emergency relief operations in the areas stricken by the recent civil conflict and is daily intensifying its efforts to bring aid to all those suffering as a result of the war.

"The League of Red Cross Societies, as the normal channel for international Red Cross aid in time of peace, is acting, at the request of the Nigerian Red Cross, to provide technical assistance and counsel to its member society in Nigeria. The League represents the numerous national societies in other countries which are generously supporting the Nigerian Red Cross action."

The Nigerian Red Cross is now providing food for more than a million people on the basis of a plan aimed at distributing 18,000 tons a month, the League said. Large quantities of imported foodstuffs are either on hand or enroute to the disaster area. These are being supplemented by locally purchased food. A fleet of vehicles, including trucks with a total capacity of more than 400 tons, is in operation. Fifty additional trucks are on the way to the area.

Twenty-five medical and relief teams including foreign personnel are operating under the authority of the Nigerian Red Cross throughout the former secessionist area. They are staffing four hospitals, 17 sick bays, orphanages and mobile bush clinics and are helping to organize and supervise food distribution. Two hospitals surveyed by a League representative were found to be completely intact with patients, drugs, food and personnel. No immediate need is seen for medical teams, though this is being continuously surveyed.

At the request of the Nigerian Red Cross, the League has appealed to its member societies for funds for local purchases, transportation, and medical expenses. It has also appealed for blankets, bedding for hospitals, first aid and toilet or health kits, and ambulances. Some of these needs are already covered by pledges from donors.

To date, in addition to a one-million pound grant from the Nigerian government, the Nigerian Red Cross Society has received aid or pledges of aid from 17 national societies, including the American Red Cross, and/or governments valued at about $3.7 million.

Since the fall of Biafra, the American Red Cross has spent $40,000 in cash and $50,000 worth of antibiotics and other drugs, bringing the total of its aid to $164,000 in cash and $345,000 in medical supplies. Fourteen of its staff members have been assigned to assist in the relief program since its beginning.

The Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross is located at 39 Church Street, telephone 729-2300.

Volunteers Needed For Retarded

"Not to see a retarded baby as abnormal is half the battle," says Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, whose five-year-old granddaughter Vicky is a mongoloid.

"Learning that, the parents and all concerned learn some startling things about retarded children. The care most of them need can be given at home. Living with their families and getting their measure of love prepares them to cope with later stresses, and most, like Vicky, have a talent for soaking up love."

The Mystic Valley Association for Retarded is conducting its annual membership campaign during March. If any residents of Burlington, Lexington, Winchester or Woburn have love to spare for the retarded, call Mrs. Price at 933-2856 or write to Box 58, Burlington 01803, Mystic Valley Association for Retarded, Inc.

President Nixon said: "The willingness to help others has always been part of the American way of life. And one of the finest examples of this is reflected in our nation's associations of parents and friends of the mentally retarded. These groups of concerned caring citizens have over the past two decades brought the needs of the mentally retarded out of the limbo of ignorance and neglect and made them the focus of community, state and national government programs.

The meeting was called by Chairman Sherman Saltmarsh Jr. and the election procedures were led by former chairmen Lawrence Smith and Harrison Chadwick.

Winchester's delegate quota this year is nine plus one for the State Committeewoman who is a delegate in lieu of her office. By statute, each Town Committee is allowed one delegate plus an additional delegate for each 1,000 or major fraction of 1,000 votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in that town in the 1966 election. Winchester cast 7561 votes for Governor Volpe in 1966.

The balloting resulted in the following choice of delegates: Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr., Harrison Chadwick, George H. Littell Jr., H. Rushton Harwood Jr., Lawrence T. Smith, Helen Shasta, Cynthia Reynolds, Vincent J. Celia, Jack A. Wilson, and Cynthia L. Barone (delegate as State Committee woman). Carol Johnson was elected but declined because of previous commitments.

Secretary Helen Shasta and Treasurer George Little Jr., gave reports and Chairman Saltmarsh touched briefly on Winchester town affairs with special emphasis on the importance of the local CONCERN Committee and its work with the current drug problem in Winchester. A motion was passed that those Republican Town Committee members in attendance be given the opportunity to voluntarily contribute to CONCERN. A substantial sum was collected and presented to the Chairman to be given by him to the CONCERN Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pontone were welcomed as new members. Republican Town Finance Chairman Cynthia Reynolds told of plans to raise funds locally, Vincent Celia spoke about the Winchester Housing Authority, and Edward Hicks mentioned the Town Government Study Group of which he is chairman.

State Committeewoman Cynthia L. Barone reported on political activities in the state, including the state Finance Dinner in early June, the Convention on June 27, and the fund-raising circus performances in August. She mentioned the name of Mrs. Madeline Dugger Kelley of Medford, a member of the National Republican Black Women's Council, who went to the council meeting in Washington as delegate from Arlington, Medford and Winchester. Mrs. Kelley will speak to the Committee at a future meeting.

The date for the next meeting was set for May 21st.

Public Service Intern Program Now Open

Governor Francis W. Sargent recently announced that the Public Service Intern Program for college students, administered by the State Department of Community Affairs, is now officially accepting applications to enroll in this summer's major work-study program for graduates and undergraduates.

The Governor said he hoped that "hundreds of students will apply for these internships, participate directly in the machinery of state government and ultimately seek careers in public service."

The PSI Program commences in June and runs for 11 weeks. During this period, seminars on public affairs will be held and high-level state officials will address the student interns.

Numerous state and state-related agencies have been requested by Governor Sargent to provide challenging jobs that will attract the talents of outstanding students majoring in almost every academic discipline.

PSI's will work for the state Departments of Community Affairs, Commerce and Development, Mental Health, Public Health, Correction, Employment Security, the Youth Service Board, the Massachusetts Parole Board, the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, the Massachusetts Defenders Committee and selected municipal agencies.

Graduate students will be paid up to a maximum of 15 hours per week.

Those students wishing to apply who are enrolled at accredited colleges in Massachusetts and eligible for the college work-study program should write to:
Public Service Intern Program
Department of Community Affairs
120 Boylston Street, Room 600
Boston, Massachusetts 02116

The Governor said notification of this "widely hailed" student intern program will be posted in virtually all colleges and universities in the Commonwealth.

Editorials:

Our Fault?

Last week's Apollo misadventure and the trying days as the astronauts and Mission Control in Houston led the crippled ship back safely to earth brought many thoughts to mind.

People all over the world responded with letters and telegrams, prayers, and offers of assistance. Perhaps the most astonishing offer came from the Soviet Union as they sent ships to the rescue area to stand by in case their assistance was needed. To see traditional enemies working together to save a human life was an occasion for joy. President Nixon commented on this in his address to the nation on Monday nght when he said, "When our astronauts returned safely to earth last Friday, the whole world rejoiced with us. We could have had no more eloquent demonstration of a profound truth—that the greatest force working for peace in the world today is the fact that men and women everywhere regardless of difference of race, religion, nationality, or political philosophy value the life of a human being."

Yet even as the whole world prayed for the safe return of the astronauts, American and Vietnamese lives were being lost in Southeast Asia. Aren't these human lives worth as much as the astronauts'? If the world can work together to save the lives of three astronauts, it can work together for peace so that war need not claim any more lives.

Throughout the President's speech, the phrase "just peace" recurred. What is a "just peace?" Is it a negotiated settlement that allows the United States to save face while insuring that the U.S. will win that country to its domination? Is "just peace" the condition that now prevails in Korea where American soldiers still guard the zone between the North and South and still occasionally lose their lives? Is a "just peace" what exists today in Germany — a country still divided 25 years after the war has ended? Is it a "just peace" that Germans with relatives behind the Berlin Wall have little, if any, hope of being reunited?

Reflecting our modern world, the first definition in the dictionary for "peace" is "a pact or agreement to end hostilities, between those who have been at war or in a state of hostility." It seems to us a rather negative definition that the absence of war equals peace — how much better is the third definition "harmony in personal relations; mutual concord."

If nations and people can reach out in personal harmony to save the lives of three men, not caring about their country or their mission, only about the danger in which they are, why can't those same countries vow to reach out and build a bridge of personal harmony in the world?

Perhaps in the Vietnam situation we need to give a little more. Peace can't be achieved by sitting down and saying "we're all right and you're all wrong." It is achieved by understanding, by trying to see the other side, and above all, by wanting it.

"It is Hanoi and Hanoi alone that stands today blocking the path to a just peace for the peoples of Southeast Asia," President Nixon said Monday. Maybe, just maybe, this country is a little bit at fault too!

Earth Day

Earth Day seemed to pass relatively unnoticed in Winchester yesterday while people in other places across the nation gathered to learn about the growing problems of pollution and how to combat them.

Increasing technology has created a world that is inundated with things that are paper and plastic, non-returnable and non-disposable. Dumps can no longer cope with the amounts of paper, cans, and bottles. Burning can not be allowed much longer because of the problem of air pollution. As the population grows, the amount of waste material grows. Where is it going to stop?

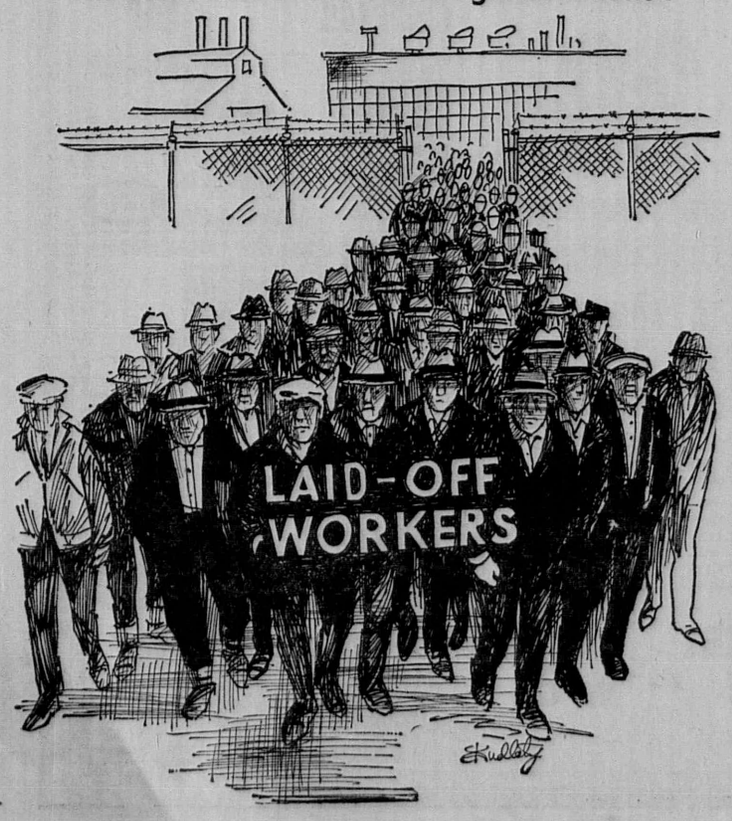

Clean water is a myth. The Star received a call and a letter this week that the Upper Mystic Lake has reached such a state of pollution that it will not be stocked with trout this season by the Fish and Game Department. Would the citizens of Winchester like to swim somewhere that even the fish can't live? Our recreation areas are becoming pools of filth in the name of better technology.

During our visit to Cleveland, Ohio, recently, a friend was showing us one of the many rivers that feed Lake Erie and was telling the story of how the river recently caught fire from the grease scum that floated on top of it. On another trip we noticed a Town dump that was located on the bank of a river. The river itself was a floating extension of the dump.

Here in Winchester the Boy Scouts removed tons of debris from the Aberjona. What they couldn't clean up was the pouring of liquid waste that is polluting what used to be a lovely stream.

WBZ radio has instituted a short message in its programming on pollution — "If you see it, report it." We would encourage residents to follow that recommendation. The places to call are, in general, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and the Department of Natural Resources, both the Water Pollution Control Division and the Conservation Division.

YANOAMA

the narrative of a white girl kidnapped by Amazonian Indians as told to Ettore Biocca

Helena Valero was eleven years old when in 1937 her family was attacked by Indians along the Rio Dimiti. Shot by a poisoned arrow (not mortal, apparently, if quickly removed), she was marched through the Amazonian jungle to the tribe's shapuno, or village. Her account spans twenty years and reflects an exceptional memory and keen perception. The authenticity of her narrative is bolstered by selected photographs of the very rituals and traditions which she describes.

These Indians highly prize female hostages and often raid neighboring tribes in order to provide wives for their warriors. Too young to bear children, Helena was taken in by one of the older women of the tribe. Her existence was never easy, but one imagines that the resilience of youth and a somewhat primitive existence on the edge of civilization prior to her capture helped her to survive. And survive she did. Blamed for the death of a young child, she fled into the jungle, but not before being shot in the leg by a poisoned arrow. Despite the festering wound and the many dangers of the wilderness she lived alone for seven months. This particular experience defies the imagination. Her food consisted of wild fruits and insects with an occasional animal until her fire gave out and she was unable to rekindle it. Haunted by jaguars at night and visible dangers during the day, and unable to find her way out of the jungle, she finally revealed herself to some Indians from another tribe.

Her insight into the Indian mind and the extent to which she herself had become indianized is discernible in her actions just prior to the confrontation. She entered the deserted Indian camp.

> "I saw some urucu on the ground, picked it up and painted my whole body red. I scraped the red colour with my nails and made colourless stripes across my body. Then I mixed a little urucu with burnt wood which I found where they had made their fire and I drew dark lines on my face and my body. I wanted to paint myself like them, so that they should see that I was human like them."

Even so, the Indians who had heard about Napagnuma, the white woman, initially mistook her for a ghost.

Once again living within a tribe, she joined the four wives of the chief Fusiwe and was surprised at being favored and given responsibilities not commensurate with the position of the youngest wife. Her bravery and intelligence stood her in good stead. Fusiwe proved to be a relatively kind husband in a society which was often violent. Helena describes their daily routines, hunting parties, foraging, funerary rites which involved cremation and the ritual drinking of the ashes.

Evil spirits were a constant worry to the Indians and the devices practiced to outwit them during the production of curare add a fascinating chapter to this amazing book. Helena was young and unsophisticated, but even in the remote area where she lived with her parents she had heard of airplanes. Consequently when the Indians were startled into the bush by a large noisy bird Helena was unabashed. The following day when the Indians were all physically ill as a result of the phenomenon she was quick to note the psychological basis of their ailment.

Fusiwe died in one of the frequent tribal battles and Helena became the wife of another Indian. Already considered old by the Indians at the age of thirty, the mother of several children, Helena found life with her second husband less tolerable and her never distant thoughts of escape intensified. Tribal problems finally forced husband, wife, and children to flee down the Orinoco to a white mission. The major portion of the tale ends there. A last chapter "The wicked world of the white men" speaks for itself — an indictment of white civilization by a woman who despite privation and suffering displayed no rancor or hard feelings towards her captors of twenty years.

Rally Planned In Boston

This Sunday, April 26, has been set aside by Governor Francis Sargent as "Wake Up America" Day. The festivities planned for this day are for young and old alike. A parade of 20 bands and many colorful and patriotic marchers will assemble at the Charles Street side of Boston Common. They will proceed from there to City Hall Plaza for a program of entertainment and prominent speakers, including Bob Hope, Jim Nance, Joe Bellino, and Al Capp.

The Wake Up America Committee has no ties with any political group. The committee was formed by a broad cross-section of people who were concerned with the growing tendency to use violence as a means of political dissent in our country. "But all Americans, young and old, liberal and conservative, lose by violence. Violence and destruction are the seeds o fanarchy and tyranny — whether it be the tyranny of the extreme right or the extreme left."

The continue: "We believe the time has come for Americans to unite in one cause; a rejection total and complete, of violence as a means of political dissent."

Winchester residents who wish to participate in the parade as a group are invited to meet at the Town Common at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Cost Increase For Servces Is Analyzed

Some idea of the amount of money being spent in Middlesex County for essential services comes from figures recently released by the government, covering 7,446 local establishments.

They show that the outlays in this direction have zoomed upward since 1963. The cost of virtually every kind of service — from haircuts to auto repairs and from laundry bills to doctors' fees — has increased tremendously since then and is still on the rise.

Not that the local increases are out of line with those in other parts of the country. Some examples of the changes that have taken place in a period of four years in the United States are given by the Department of Labor.

It reports that parking fees have gone up 18 per cent; transportation costs, 26 per cent; house painting, 40 per cent; furnace repair, 35 per cent; and physicians fees, 30 per cent.

Just how much Middlesex County's service businesses have grown, in terms of gross receipts, is revealed in the latest survey of these industries, made by the Department of Commerce: It is the first such study in four years.

Locally, the amount spent for the group of services covered in the survey reached a total of $404,468,000, as against a total in 1963 of $240,496,000.

This was some 62 per cent more than was spent in the local area per household when the earlier survey was made.

The outlay for such services was equivalent to $1,061 per household, well above the $1,015 spent elsewhere in the United States and the $993 in the State of Massachusetts.

Included in the report were personal services of all kinds, business services, auto and other repair services and transportation services. Not included were educational and health services.

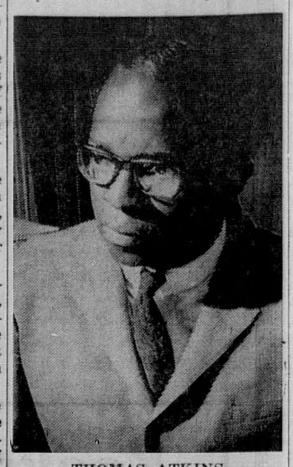

The service industries are charged with major responsibility for the increase in living costs. The reason given is that the output of service workers is limited.

In manufacturing industries, on the other hand, machinery enables the worker to produce more and cut down the cost per unit.

Wellesley Club Plans Winchester Mornings Series

The Winchester Wellesley Club once more is offering a lecture series for the fall of 1970. Engagd as lecturers are three prominent personalities: William Alfred, educator and poet-playwright of Harvard University, Thomas I. Atkins, Boston City Councilman, and Fredrick J. Stare, professor of nutrition at Harvard University.

In their 23rd year, the Winchester "Mornings" will again be held on three Thursday mornings at the Church of the Epiphany. Preceding each lecture is a coffee hour that all are invited to attend. The proceeds from the tickets are split between the Winchester Scholarship Fund and Wellesley College.

THOMAS ATKINS

Serving as chairman of the "Mornings" this year is Mrs. Robert Mirak. Mrs. James Coggins will handle the sale of tickets which is done solely over the telephone by members of the club. If there is someone who would like a ticket and has not been contacted, please call Mrs. Mirak at 729-5212 or Mrs. Coggins at 729-8099. The coffee hour will be organized by Mrs. Melbourne Higgins and Mrs. Samuel Warren. Mrs. Stelios is handling the publicity.

William Alfred will be the first lecturer on September 24. Born in New York City, he was educated at Brooklyn College and Harvard University where he received his Ph.D. in 1954. Since 1963 he has been a full professor in the English Department at Harvard University. Dr. Alfred rose to popular eminence most recently when his verse-play book entitled "Hogan's Goat," played on Broadway under the title "Who to Love." Dr. Alfred is the poet author of other verse plays: "The Annunciation Rosary" and "Agamemnon."

Second Speaker

Thomas I. Atkins who will speak on October 8, a Boston City Councilman, was the first Negro elected to this office. Born in 1939 in Indiana, he was educated at the University of Indiana where as a Phi Beta Kappa student, he was president of the student body. Subsequently he received M.A. and J.D. degrees from Harvard University.

From 1963-65 Mr. Atkins was the executive secretary for the Boston NAACP. The following year, 1966, he was general manager of the Bill Russell Enterprises. These interests range over a wide area, from a restaurant to the development of a rubber plantation in Liberia, Africa.

Mr. Atkins has lectured at many colleges and universities including Wellesley, MIT and Boston University. He is a member of the board of directors of NAACP, the Boston Museum of Science, METCO, Operation Exodus and several others. In addition he is founder and co-host of TOPIC, a weekly discussion program at Radio Station WILD from 1964 to the present. With WGBH-TV he has produced 20 one hour dramas dealing with Negro life. Finally he is a frequent guest on radio and TV talk programs.

On October 22 Fredrick Stare, who is the author of the nationally syndicated newspaper column "Food and Your Health," and the book, "Eating For Good Health," will be the final speaker. Dr. Stare is also author of some 300 technical research and review publications and some 60 lay articles. A consultant in medicine at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and the Heart Association, he is also director of the Continental Can Company.

Born in Columbus, Wisconsin, in 1910, he was educated at the University of Wisconsin where he received his Ph.D. in 1934. In 1941 he received his M.D. from the University of Chicago, and subsequently in 1963 and 1964 was bestowed with honorary D.Sc. degrees from the University in Dublin in Ireland and Suffolk University.

Area Youth Now Spend $2,216,000

Winchester's teen-agers, who represent a larger proportion of the local population than ever, have become a consumer group to be reckoned with.

An estimated $2,216,000 a year is being spent by them for clothing, records, beauty supplies, radios, paperbacks, snacks and for their various other needs and wants.

The findings are based upon facts and figures gathered by the Institute of Life Insurance, the Rand Youth Poll and others, covering the nation as a whole.

They show that America's teenagers now have a personal income of more than $20 billion a year, which includes their weekly allowances and their after-school earnings—from baby sitting, lawn mowing and other jobs. Back in 1950, by way of comparison, they had only $5 billion to spend.

Those in the 16 to 19 age group are the wealthiest. Boys in this bracket average $18.35 a week, according to the Rand Poll, and girls, $19.50. The younger children have much less—boys $5.65 and girls, $5.80.

On this basis, in Winchester, where there are some 2,770 teenagers at present, it amounts to approximately $2,216,000 a year.

This is an amount of buying power that is of considerable importance to local retail merchants. And, they are aware, it is money that gets spent quickly.

A breakdown by the Rand Poll shows how the average teen-ager in the 16 to 19 group allots his weekly stipend. Among girls, the largest item is personal grooming, $4.60. Next comes clothing, $4.20, and movies and entertainment, $2.15.

The top item for boys is movies and dating, which takes $4.45. This is followed by car costs, $3.25, and clothing, $3.10.

adults from whom assistance would be available.

In other business, the committee discussed organization for 1970-71. It was decided to recommend creation of several new positions on the committee, including representatives of the junior high student bodies. The committee also accepted a gift of $50 from the Republican Town Committee.

Anyone interested in manning the hot line is asked to write to CONCERN at Post Office Box 293, Winchester 01890.

Dr. McLean also reported receiving material on an elementary school program from Roger Aubrey of Brookline High School. He turned the materials over to the School Department members of the committee.

It was noted that Earle Johnson has been appointed co-ordinator of drug education at McCall Junior High School and that co-ordinators should be named in the elementary schools. It was reported that the school Curriculum Councils are working on an elementary school drug education program to be implemented in the fall.

Also discussed at the meeting was a sensitivity meeting to be held in May. At this meeting 15 adults and 15 students will meet to attempt to achieve more understanding of mutual problems. It was noted that there are several places left for adults to participate. Anyone interested should notify Mrs. Joan Bird at 729-2019.

Accidents

The left rear end of Mr. Hughe's automobile showed the effects of the impact, while damage to the Peel car was primarily to the right front end.

A chain-reaction collision involving four cars was investigated Friday evening, April 17, on Cambridge Street at Blossom Hill Road. According to the report filed by Officer John J. Frongillo, Malachy J. Meagher of 144 Cambridge Street was stopped to make a left turn into his driveway when the accident happened.

Edward C. Frazier Jr. of Burlington, traveling down Cambridge struck the rear of the vehicle operated by Susan Billings of Concord, who in turn hit the automobile of Margaret M. Sullivan of Arlington. This impact caused the third vehicle to hit Mr. Meagher's car.

Miss Billings was taken to Winchester Hospital for X rays after hitting her head in the impact.

Members of the Board were appointed to the following committees: Comptroller, Elections, Town Hall, General Services, Veterans, Pensions, Workmen's Compensation, Chairman William Chapman, John Sullivan; Fire, Civil Defense, Chairman Sherman Saltmarsh Jr., William Chapman; Police, School Traffic, Licenses, Chairman John Sullivan, Paul Amico; Highway, Sanitation, Snow and Ice, Forestry, Street Lights, Chairman Paul Amico, Sherman Saltmarsh Jr.

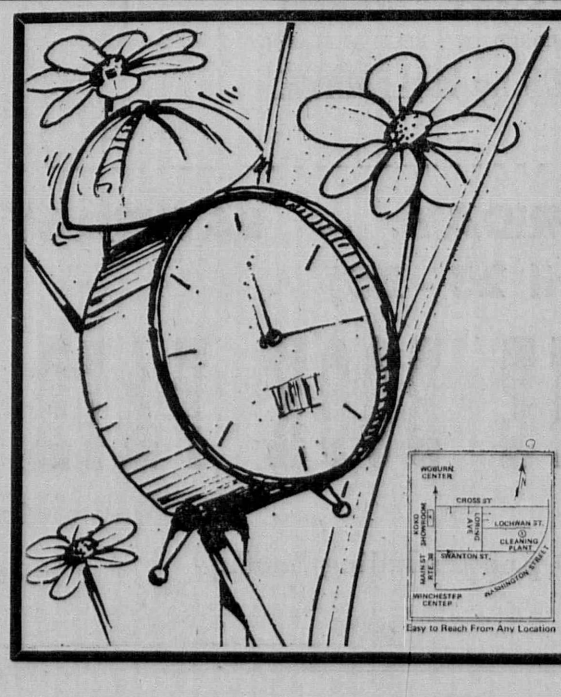

The Emancipation Proclamation as written by President Lincoln is still in existence. In 1864 the document was sold at a bazaar to benefit wounded soldiers. Later, the New York legislature appropriated funds to buy the proclamation and added it to historic papers in Albany.

Cancer Crusade Designates Co-Chairmen

Co-Chairman for the 1970 Cancer Crusade are Richard Ingersoll, treasurer; Donald C. Pound, house-to-house chairman; Edward R. Ball, general chairman; John Kean, business industry chairman; and Ralph Bonnell Jr., special gifts chairman.

Approximately 19,000 new cases of cancer will be detected in Massachusetts this year. Roughly 6,300 lives will be saved. This is a tragic figure, in a sense, because double the number of 12,600 lives could be spared through early detection and treatment. The estimated cancer deaths for all sites has risen to 10,500 in Massachusetts alone. This is an increase of 200 more deaths than estimated last year.

According to the American Cancer Society, there are seven warning signals of cancer of which the public should be aware. These are: unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, a change in bowel or bladder habits, persistent hoarseness or cough, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, and a change in a wart or mole. "Should any of these signals last more than two weeks the individual should immediately see his physician.

"Today the survival rate is one in three: thirty years ago, it was one in five. The increasing survival rate is attributable to earlier diagnosis and prompter treatment."

Cancer Crusade night will be Wednesday, April 29, beginning 6:45 p.m.

Danny Thomas Teenage March Needs Volunteers

The 1970 Danny Thomas Teenage March will be held in this area on the afternoon of Sunday, May 3, according to an announcement made by Marguerite O'Keefe of 359 Washington Street, district leader of this year's march.

According to Miss O'Keefe the annual Teenage March is headed up nationally by comedian Danny Thomas, who is president of the sponsoring group called ALSAC, Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children. Appointment of Daniel G. Hurley as 1970 Greater Boston chairman has been announced by Edward E. Nicholas of West Roxbury, city director.

Each year the organization calls upon thousands of teenagers to donate their time and efforts on behalf of ALSAC which is the fund raising group for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, nationally known research center founded by Danny Thomas in 1963.

The response of local teenagers from Greater Boston cities and towns who have volunteered to collect funds from their neighbors on Sunday, May 3, has been more than gratifying according to the District Leader.

Other area teenagers who wish to help make the 1970 Danny Thomas Teenage March a success should contact their District Leader at 729-2906. The Boston phone is 266-6628.

Easter Seals Still Accepting Contributions

The Massachusetts Easter Seal Society has reported that contributions received and tallied through March 31 have totaled $141, 187.00. This figure represents 43 per cent of the 1970 campaign goal.

Massachusetts Easter Seal campaign chairman, Bill Veeck, stated, "We are pleased with the public response to our annual appeal to date. More than 70,000 individual contributions have been processed. This demonstration of public support indicates that the citizens of Massachusetts recognize that the rehabilitation of the physically disabled is a priority need which must be met.

"However, if we are to provide the health care services to meet this need, we must realize our goal. I urge everyone who has not made a contribution yet, to do so now."

Area chairman Richard D. Ingersoll of the Winchester Trust Company reported that the Winchester area had contributed $529 through the end of March or 35 per cent of its goal.

The Winchester area is served by the Society's Andover office.

Accidents Reported

Persons involved in a rear end collision on Main Street in front of the First National Store on Friday evening, April 10, were transported to Winchester Hospital for treatment of injuries received and later released.

According to the police report filed by Officer Peter R. Morgan, while stopped in the southbound lane to make a left turn into the First National parking lot, the automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Lee of 200 Swanton Street were riding was struck in the rear by a vehicle operated by Mrs. Lawrence Pasquale Jr. of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee were treated for strained muscles at the hospital, while Mrs. Pasquale received attention to abrasions of the knees. Damage to the Lee's automobile was to the rear quarter, that to the second car was on the front end.

On Monday, April 13, a head-on collision with a parked vehicle resulted in heavy damage to both cars involved. Thomas H. Kelley of Arlington was traveling north on Washington Street when he struck a parked car owned by the Ridge Equipment Company of South Hackensack, New Jersey. Mr. Kelley was taken to the hospital. Officer David K. Richardson made the report.

The self-destroying effects of moral weakness and the regenerating effects of spiritual thinking are illustrated in the Lesson-Sermon on "Probation After Death" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 26.
One of the Bible citations is from Romans: "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace." The account in Luke of the multitude that gathered to hear Jesus preach and to be healed of diseases and "unclean spirits" also will be read.
Citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "Either here or hereafter, suffering or Science must destroy all illusions regarding life and mind, and regenerate material sense and self."

Fund Drive Progress Reported By Methodists

The Centennial Committee of Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church is pleased to report great progress in the fund raising campaign during the past week.

The Chase Associates, Paul and David Chase with the Rev. Robert Decker were well received in the homes of the Methodist parish. Those who were privileged to work with them were much impressed with their deep feeling of stewardship and dedication. The Committee can now report a total of $23,862 pledged for a three year period with some members still to be called on and others who did not wish to pledge who are planning to give.

As the work of redecorating the Sanctuary progresses, more interest will be created to put the fund over the goal of $30,000 and the other objectives can be accomplished.

Olive and Ralph Hatch, co-chairmen, extend their sincere thanks to all who have helped in any way.

Andrew Jackson, seventh president, seldom held cabinet meetings, but rather relied on a small group of advisors whom the newspapers dubbed the "Kitchen Cabinet."

Impossible Dreams Are For Auction On Channel Two

Ever dream of dancing in the Boston Ballet while you were washing the kitchen floor, or imagine yourself flying a jet plane as you maneuvered the lawnmower over your crab-grass? Channel 2 is making such impossible dreams into realities. Dreams will be auctioned off during the exciting televised auction May 30-June 6.

Who hasn't thought about operating a giant crane, or being in Filene's basement to shop before the store opens? Wouldn't your house look lovely decorated with masses of posies gathered yourself at the gardens of Mrs. Jack Gardner? Simply tell the Dream Committee of Channel 2 of what you have always dreamed and they will make it possible. (Visits to Mars, of course, present difficulties.)

Each day during the auction five dreams will be sold. If the idea of your dreams is up for auction, all you do is pick up your phone and make a bid.

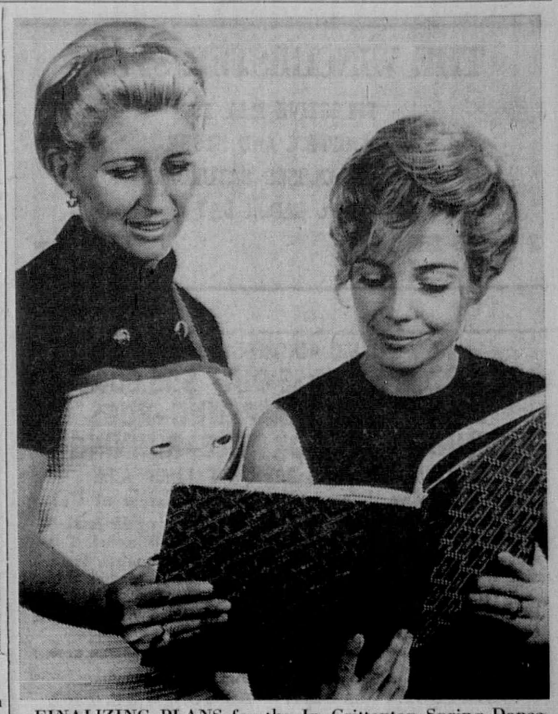

Other dreams suggested to Channel 2 and now up for auction include a chance to scuba-dive in the big tank at the aquarium or a chance to conduct the Boston Pops with Mr. Fiedler's baton. As you can see, anything is possible.

This is the fifth year for the Channel 2 auction, an event which brings a great deal of money to its operating fund, and it is the first year that the impossible dream scheme is offered. It should be very exciting. If you have a secret yen, why not call the Dream Committee of Channel 2 or Mrs. Russell Bollinger, 13 Fenwick Road, 729-7620.

Option Day At Lynch Is Held

Option Day was held at Lynch Junior High on Thursday, April 16. The day provides for students a variety of afternoon activities not generally available in the limited regular school day. An opportunity for the staff to insert enrichment activities, it also encourages students to exercise discretion and judgment in selection of their afternoon special activity.

Student groups visited the Science Museum and toured the Boston Globe. The group that visited the Hammond Museum in Gloucester studied the ancient castle and grounds. Another group went to the Lawrence Regional Technical School to see what progress and instruction will be available to them as the regional school in Wakefield approaches completion.

Local field trips included visits to Winchester Conservatories to see a large retail ffower outlet. A professional explained to the group the various seasonal flowers and shrubs and demonstrated techniques in flower design. Boys interested in automobile repair visited the repair shop of one of Winchester's automobile agencies, Bonnell Motors.

In line with the recent interest in ecology and pollution, one group of junior high students used Horn Pond Brook beside the school for classified and counted the various organisms found there, comparing the types of organisms to the environment they inhabit.

Students who chose to remain at Lynch for the afternoon activities (from 1 to 2:30 p.m.) could choose from reproduction of television video-tape recordings in the TV room, learning photographic development techniques in the school's darkroom, practicing girls' gymnastics with girls from the high school gymnastics team on hand to demonstrate and instruct, or discussing hairstyles and grooming for girls with a professional hair stylist.

French cuisine was practiced in one of the option sections. Students also learned how to fashion attractive wooden rings in the shop with the use of a drill press. Films of baseball highlights shown in one section attracted may boys and a large group of students saw the full-length feature, "The Treasure of Sierra Madre."

Paint And Gasoline Are Fire Hazards

Paint brushes and power mowers usually go into action during Spring Clean-Up, and if either or both figure in your plans, Fire Chief I Francis Amico suggests you keep these fire safety pointers in mind:

1. For paint removing and brush cleaning, solvents labelled "non-flammable" are safest. If you must work with flammable ones, better use them outdoors. Indoors, be sure windows are open, stoves, pilot lights and other ignition sources are off, and that there is no smoking in the room.

2. In storing paint materials, keep them well away from furnaces and also away from exits or under stairways — so you will not be blocked from escaping should these highly combustible materials catch fire.

3. Get rid of old paint and solvent containers and those with small leftover amounts. Store paints and solvents only in capped metal containers — glass jars and bottles break easily, creating a definite fire hazard.

4. Safest practice with rags used to wipe up paint or solvents is to dispose of them immediately outside the house. If you must store them, use a metal container with a tight cover.

Another fire safety tip for homeowners, when you fill the tank of that power lawnmower, be sure to treat gasoline with respect. Remember it gives off flammable vapors which need only a tiny flame or spark to turn into searing fire or the dangerous vapors can't accumu- dangerous explosion.

Do all refueling outdoors where late. Keep away from all ignition sources, and observe a strict no smoking rule. Wipe up all spilled gasoline before starting the motor.

Finally, keep your gasoline in a tight-closed metal can — never in an easily broken glass jug or bottle.

A workshop in child management will be held at the Burlington YWCA on Monday evenings at 8:00 beginning May 4.

The leader will be Dr. Leota Janke, a behavioral scientist. The discussion method based on a particular text book will be used. Please call immediately if interested, since this is a special opportunity and the group is limited.

The annual meeting of the Cambridge YWCA will be held on April 29, 1970 in Cambridge. All members of the Burlington YWCA are reminded to make reservations for dinner which will be at 6:30 p.m. or to attend the meeting at 7:45 p.m.

Street Fair's Grand Prize

Excitement will peak at the finale of the En Ka Street Fair this year when the winner of the beautiful 1970 Opel Kadet Tudor donated by Smyly Buick of Malden will be drawn. This Buick boasts "four on the floor," bucket seats, and white wall tires.

This spring's En Ka Fair, offering something for everyone, promises to be the most exciting ever. The new green-lighted "spider" ride will join such traditionals as the scrambler, trabant, ferris wheel, and merry-go-round. Kiddie rides will include ponies and games of skill will line the midway.

For quieter tastes, tables of books, jewelry, white elephants, novelties and home-made baked goods will be attractions. Of course, no one need go hungry at the En Ka Street Fair. Such offerings range from lobster rolls and hamburgers to cotton candy. Saturday night the traditional home-made baked beans and ham supper will be served.

Money spent at the En Ka Street Fair goes to help En Ka assist many local charities, youth groups and the Winchester Hospital.

Foster Homes Are Needed

A hard pressed search goes on for foster homes for men and women who are well on their way back to health after a successful fight with mental illness.

Members of the case aide program, at Metropolitan State Hospital, Waltham, which trains and supervises the volunteers who have worked for months to prepare long-term patients for a new life outside the hospital, are having to tell their patients that there still is nowhere for them to go.

These recovering patients are not being held in the hospital for reasons of health or financing. As far as the hospital is concerned they are ready now to move into warm, loving homes where they can continue to progress towards independence and full health.

The Department of Mental Health will pay for their room and board, and the hospital and the volunteer case aide program will provide consultation, medication, help and support should any be needed. Many of these men and women no longer have families or homes of their own. All of them long to find a place where they can share family living again; some can take full or part-time jobs.

Anyone interested in opening his or her home to one or more of these people is invited to contact the director of the Mental Health Case Aide Program, in Lexington, telephone 862-1496. For families who have the room in their homes and in their hearts this can be the first step towards a most rewarding venture for the whole household.

St. Mary's Science Fair Proves Rewarding

On Thursday evening, April 9, the students of St. Mary's eighth grade class culminated months of hard research and work with their annual Science Fair.

Students enjoyed explaining and demonstrating their exhibits, which covered such topics as the "Study of Ants" to the "Study of the Universe," an atomic cloudchamber, an internal combustion engine, and a distillation plant.

The evening was climaxed by the awarding of prizes. The following students received Honorable Mention: Michele Duffy and Karen Trabucco for their work in "Factors of Weather," and Michael Kennedy and Kevin Floyd for the "Study of the Universe." Third Prizes were awarded to Mark Wilhelm and Joseph Salani for their "Internal Combustion Engine," Paul Conway for his work on "Selenology," and to Stephen Fisher, Edward Costello, and Vincent Palumbo for "Atomic Energy in Science." Second Prizes were awarded to Clare Hurley and Jeanne Galka for the "Amazing World of Silicones," to William Boylan for his work on "Weather Instruments," and to Richard Hines, Hugh MacKenzie and Howard Corsaut for "Water Pollution." First Prize was awarded to David Burns for his work on "Computers."

The students all agreed that the Science Fair was a valuable and memorable experience.

Troop 506 In Scout Show

Last Saturday, April 11, saw the Stoneham Town Hall invaded by Boy Scout Troops and Cub Packs from Winchester, Woburn, and Stoneham for their annual Scout Show.

Booths and exhibits were set up in the main hall, downstairs, and on the front lawn. From noon to 4 p.m. a wide variety of demonstrations and Scout skills were shown to the capacity crowd.

Troop 506 was one of several Winchester units taking part, and had three separate exhibits. The Muscular Marshmallow patrol brewed gallons of hemlock tea and wintergreen tea, made dozens of cat-o-nine tails pancakes, and showed other edible wild plant delicacies found in the local woods and fields; they also had a do-it-yourself hatchet accuracy setup.

The Dove patrol had "pollution" as a theme, with samples of Aberjona river water and microscopes set up to show what's in it. The rest of the troop built and operated an outdoor derrick for hoisting boys up in the air supported entirely by their own square and Spanish bowline knots. Some of the "boys" hoisted up were 200-pound men!

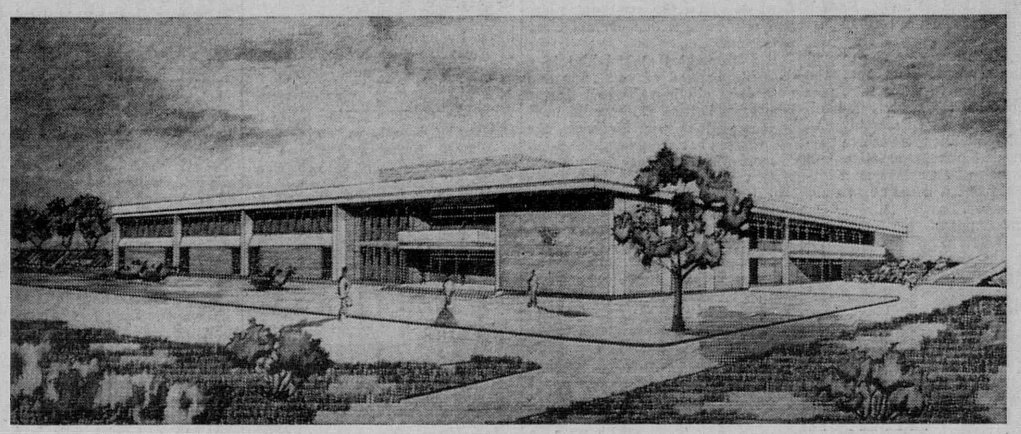

The blue ribbon for the show was awarded to Winchester Troop 508 for a very workmanlike booth showing many models of bridges and other wood-and-lashing structures. The second-prize red ribbon was captured by Troop 506.

Troop 506 boys participating were Dave Trageser, Mike Hughes, Chase Rozelle, Charlie Dieterich, Tom Moore, Peter Lawrance, John Andrick, Steve Duffy, Marty Kent, Tom Kelly, Edward Kelly, Andy Stoeckle, Dan Jaffe, Don O'Brien, Gordon McIntosh, Bob Burns, Bob Kerr, Dave Pettee and Mike Goodman. Various dads and leaders were on hand, but this time the boys did all the work and deserve all the credit.

Miss Amelia L. Marks of 32 Foxcroft Road will participate in the Saturday activities of the Alumnae-Parents' Weekend at Walnut Hill School, Natick on April 25. A 1966 graduate of Walnut Hill and now studying at Connecticut College, New London, Connecticut, Miss Marks will relate her secondary school experiences at Walnut Hill to her college experiences as her contribution to a panel discussion.

LET'S FINISH THE JOB

ON OCTOBER 1, the new North Suburban Y.M.C.A. will open its doors to residents of Burlington, Lexington, Wilmington, Winchester and Woburn, adding a $1,200,000 recreational center to the facilities of those five communities. The Y's goal is to make a real contribution to the recreation, education, and quality of life of it members.

But first, a task remains to be done.

The Y is presently conducting a campaign to raise $135,000 from the communities it will serve in order to provide a "total" building. Since 1968, when funds were originally raised and allocated, construction costs have risen so sharply that this additional effort has become necessary to preserve all the essentials. These essentials include:

- swimming pool (35 by 75 feet)
- gymnasium
- weightlifting room
- Health Club
- handball courts
- locker rooms and sauna baths
- function rooms
- class rooms

When the Y worker calls on you, consider what this new building will mean to both the youth and adult population of the area. It's your Y – give generously!

WEEI Trout Are Stacked In Horn Pond

WEEI Radio launched the third annual "WEEI Fishing Derby" on Saturday, April 18, opening day of the fresh water fishing season in Massachusetts.

In cooperation with the Massachusetts Department of Fish and Game, ponds and lakes in the Greater Boston area have been stocked with a large supply of trout tagged with special WEEI tags.

Anglers skillful enough to land one of the WEEI Prize Trout should bring the tag—not the fish—to the WEEI studios during normal working hours. Each winner will receive an aluminum tackle box, compliments of WEEI. Monday, June 1, is the deadline for redeeming tags.

Among the ponds and lakes where WEEI Prize Trout can be found are: Horn Pond, Woburn; Massapaug Pond, Sharon; Houghton's Pond, Milton; Jamaica Pond, Boston; Stiles Pond, Boxford; Pentucket Pond, Georgetown; and Pleasant Pond, Wenham.

The "WEEI Fishing Derby is part of an effort by WEEI and the Fish and Game Department to promote Massachusetts fresh water fishing and to encourage fishermen to become licensed and obey the state's fishing regulations. z

Local Gridders To Play At Lynn

by John F. Parrell

Coach Manny Marshall of the Sachem football team will be coach of the South team in the annual Harry Agganis Memorial scholarship fund game to be played at Manning Bowl in Lynn. He has been given a list of some 90 players from all over the state from Winchester down to Cape Cod from which he must select his 40 competitors. The game takes place this summer.

The following boys from Winchester, all of whom were selected for the Middlesex League All Star team by the coaches are: Co-Captain Mike Gilberti, Joe Campo, Ron Fiorilli, Bill Wolfe and Noel Webb. The latter may have to forego the game because it will probably conflict with the tour of the Boston Youth Symphony of which he is a violinist.

Douglas Dalton Returns Home From Hockey Tour

Douglas Dalton of Vermont Academy, son of Mrs. Lawrence V. Dalton of 64 Westland Avenue, has returned from Europe after playing hockey on the first undefeated team to tour with the Junior Olympic Student Ambassador Program.

DOUGLAS DALTON

The team, under the direction of Coach Jacob Heartle, Brown and Nichols School, consisted of prep school students attending Vermont Academy, Hebron Academy, Tabor Academy, Blake School in Minnesota, Exeter, Andover and Thayer Academy.

The first ice hockey match was played in Paris, France. The U.S.A. junior olympic team defeated the French National Senior team with a score of 11 to 3. Doug scored one goal and had seven assists. The U.S.A. team also defeated the semi-pro National team 8 to 5. In this game Doug scored two goals with three assists.

The second set of hockey games was played in Zurich, Switzerland. The Swiss Junior Ice Hockey Champions were defeated 7 to 5 by the Junior Olympic U.S.A. team. Doug scored two goals against one of the best teams in Switzerland. He played second line right wing and displayed great form and maneuvering with his team mates. The final game was played in Davos, Switzerland and the American team ended their ice matches with a 2 to 0 victory. Doug scoring once again.

Under the guidance and direction of Mr. Heartle, coach, and Nathaniel Kingsbury, assistant coach, the team became the first hockey team under the Ambassador program to return undefeated.

While abroad the team was greeted by Reto Tratshin who is president of the Swiss Ice Hockey Federation. The team also toured points of interest in London, Zurick, Dublin, Paris and Shannon.

Doug is the first Winchester youth chosen to be a member of this sports program.

The following is a list of the sponsors who contributed to the "Dalton Fund" and made this trip possible. A great deal of thanks goes to the Dalton Fund donors.

Speedsters Rout Belmont 78-53

by John F. Parrell

The Sachem outdoor track team coached by Manny Marshall opened its season last Friday by trouncing Belmont 78-53 at Manchester Field. Belmont is faced with running all its meets on foreign tracks this year since the construction of the new high school and athletic facility at Belmont is now in full progress.

The Winchester team won on all around balance with a good show of strength in every event except the shot put and broad jump. They completely dominated the pole vault with four local boys deadlocked for top honors.

Keith Doty, state indoor champion in the 300 was one of two scoring leaders for Winchester with first places in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Bruce Hill, the Sachem hurdler, also copped top spot in both the high and low hurdles events.

Meets are coming thick and fast these vacation days with meets away carded for yesterday morning with Wakefield and today against Melrose. The team will also compete in the state relays on Saturday and they will be running in Class B because of the peculiar setup for this particular meet rather than in Class C where they usually perform. The rain on Monday caused practice to be cut short so the boys are facing this arduous schedule with very limited preparation.

The summary of the Belmont meet:

Discus — Emery (W), 118ft.2in.; Cicalis(B), 116ft.4in.; Devries (W), 105ft.1in.

2 mile—Swanban(B), 10:45; Arnold(W), 11:09.2; Curtis(W), 11:11.5.

Bantams Win In Soccer

St. Mary's soccer team defeated the Framington Black Knights by 1 to 0 last Sunday at Framingham.

This was the second game of the Boston Area Youth Soccer League, and the second shutout for the Bantams of St. Mary's.

Chip Whitman made the lone score unassisted in the second half with only 10 minutes remaining in the game.

Next week Winchester is host to Dedham, who lost 5 to 1 to Wellesley last Sunday.

Cap League Opens May 9

The 1970 Cap League is planning to hold its first practice on Saturday, May 9th, at Ginn Field, with an initial reporting time of 1 p.m for all boys and Dads (or Mothers, if Dad is not around).

The success of last year's activity is expected to help make this year's Cap League as enjoyable as ever for not only the boys who will participate but also for the parents who come down on Saturday and Sunday afternoons for the six week season.

Donald C. Van Roosen of 12 Woodside Road is the director of Cap League, 1970, and hopes to have as much cooperation as he did during last year's season. He emphasizes that there will be no more than 25 boys on each team, and hopefully less, so that each boy will be able to play a couple of innings twice each week.

Teams will again be constituted from boys attending named grammar schools, and if there are more than the number of applicants for one team, a school may have two teams, provided there are sufficient fathers to coach. It is planned to have at least two coaches per team.

More information will be forthcoming in future editions of the Star, so have boys available for Cap League 1970 by planning to bring them to Ginn Field not later than 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 9th. Boys must be accompanied by a parent to register and the nominal cost of $2 per boy will again be payable at the time of registration. The boys should bring gloves and wear sneakers and long pants.

Twin Baseball Wins At Melrose

by John F. Parrell

The senior-studded baseball nine of Coach Bill Colella opened its season in highly successful fashion by beating Melrose 6-2 in the Middlesex League opener last week at Melrose.

Not to be outdone the JV nine directed by Coach Vandy French trounced its Melrose counterpart by 7-1.

Bruce Mullen was on the mound for Winchester and he held the Raider sluggers to three hits, two of which were consecutive homers in the second by Cannata and Byrnes. Meanwhile the Sachem batters pounded out 11 safeties and Mullen, not to be outdone as a hitter, blasted out a home run to aid his own cause.

Reardon Twirls No Hit 5-0 Win

by John F. Parrell

John Reardon, who only a few weeks ago was starring for the Tech Tourney Sachem hoop team, made his debut on the mound last Friday against Concord. The Patriots were completely baffled by his assortment of pitches as 15 went down by the strikeout route and not a single one could garner a safe hit.

His teammates staked him to a first inning lead of two runs and with John zipping the ball by the hometown batters that would have been enough to win. However, the Winchester batters provided an additional three-run cushion in the sixth frame when both Bill Wolfe and Jim Beck homered, the latter blast coming with Tobey on base to account for the final runs.

The first inning uprising saw Joe Campo and Mike Gilberti clipping consecutive singles. The next two batters failed to advance them but Bill Wolfe slashed a single to tally both for the early lead. Other than this the story of the game was Reardon's twirling and that left nothing to be desired.

Tennis Center Dinner Dance Is Scheduled

The eight courts comprising the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center will be put to a unique use on Saturday, May 9th, when the first annual Tennis Dinner Dance will take place in this largest indoor tennis center in New England.

On this night the versatile Uniturf surfaced courts will be used for dancing!

According to Mrs. Robert H. Johnson of 7 Longfellow Road, publicity chairman for the event, the proceeds of the evening will accrue to the youth of the area who need financial support to improve their tennis. These proceeds, states Mrs. Johnson, will establish a fund to see that talented young tennis players in the area are afforded the instruction and court time necessary to develop their potential.

The evening will include a hot buffet dinner, a social hour, and dancing to the six piece orchestra of Tony Bruno.

Working on the committee to insure the success of the affair are Mr. and Mrs. Graham Hunt of 28 Thornberry Road; Mrs. Gabriella Feith of 4 Valleywood Circle; Mrs. Thomas Robinson of Winchester and Mrs. Thomas Ford of Arlington. Working as coordinator for the event is John Koslowski, president of the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center.

While the impetus for the dinner dance is from the patrons of the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center, the committee states that the general public is invited to attend and information pertaining to tickets and reservations may be obtained by calling 729-4040, the telephone number of the tennis center.

The evening will start at 7:30 p.m. and the general dancing program will conclude at 1 a.m.

Board 5 in the Tournament Game Wednesday was a good test of your slam-bidding technique. Please look at the North-South hands and check on yours. Final contract?

At our table the bidding was quick and precise. North opened 1 C (the Schenken club, promising 17 high card points but not necessarily a club suit), East passed, South bid 6 N T, and everybody passed.

South of course added his 15 points to the 17 minimum points in his partner's hand and looked at his flat distribution. 32 points is certainly in the range to think immediately of a small slam, and since North did not open 2 C (promising 22 points or more), 7 N T is an unlikely possibility. Also, the immediate bid of 6 N T gives the opponents no information on the lead.

Looking at all four hands, you can see that North-South makes 7 N T. However, if you move the red Queen in the North hand from hearts to diamonds, there is a finesse to guess in either hearts or diamonds, and 7 N T may go down.

How did the 6 N T fare scorewise? Very well. Only two pairs bid the N T, one of them last year's winners Jim Bradley and Bob Fiske, to score higher. The rest of the field varied with five pairs settling in the less desirable contracts of three no trump or five or six clubs.

Editor's Note: seven clubs is a safer bid than the 7 N T and would have scored third on the board, but no one found it.

Marine Reserve Has Openings

A number of openings are available in May and June for draft-eligible 1970 high school and college graduates wanting to join the Boston-based Marine Corps Reserve unit, the local group's recruiting office advised recently.

Current quotas governing the recruiting procedures of Boston's 1st Battalion, 25th Marines have been relaxed to allow anyone of draft age who meets the physical requirements to join the outfit. The program requires of its volunteers six months of active duty training followed by a five and one-half year reserve commitment which satisfies an individual's military obligation.

The 500-man unit consists of a rifle company and an Headquarters and Service company, the latter of which is broken down into communications, motor transport, mess, armory, mortar and anti-tank platoons. H&S company also includes a drum and bugle corps and staff personnel for the 1st Battalion which has outlying companies in Springfield, Manchester, New Hampshire, and Hartford, Connecticut.

Christian Service Plays "Suspect"

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will present the play "Suspect" by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham, directed by Eloise Kadesch, in Gifford Hall at 8:30 p.m., May 1 and 2.

Tickets may be purchased at the door on the nights of the performances.

The story is one of suspense and drama as Mrs. Smith, or Maggie Wishart as she was known at the time of her trial, grows more and more to dislike her daugter-in-law to be. A Lizzie Borden-type murder and non-proven verdict form her background and tension mounts as she and Janet come to grips over Mrs. Smith's son, Robert. The plot is stirred by the visit to the Smith home by Sir Hugo and Lady Const, who were present at Maggie Wishart's trial. The Consts serve as a catalyst, bringing all the problems in the dour household to a head — The evening promises to be one of strong emotions and excellent portrayals, one surely not to be missed.

Directing the production is Eloise Kadesch of Winchester, professional director and actress from the Midwest. Mrs. Kadesch has many years of experience in the theater. Credit for plays she has directed is too long to quote. She founded and directed the Gary Playhouse for several years, as well as teaching drama at Gary College, now part of Indiana University. She acted as resident director for the Westwood Players for years and taught speech and drama at the University of Cincinnati, Ohio, fo nine years. She has toured the straw-hat circuit and had a very popular television show on WCPO-TV in Cincinnati for a number of years. She has recently taught art in the Winchester school system.

The cast is an outstanding one. Appearing as Mrs. Smith is Laurel Eschner, a speech and drama major from the University of Minnesota. Mrs. Kadesch says of her, "She's as good as any professional I ever worked with." She seems to give Maggie Smith the proper degree of gruesome intensity the part requires.

Tom Kell as Sir Hugo Const portrays the pompous, egotistical, bluff character ideally. Kell has appeared in many plays locally and is a great favorite with Winchester audiences, as is solid character Larry Smith. Larry is from the Parrish Players and has a long list of credits. He plays Dr. Rendle, father of the bride-to-be, who is tormented with fear for his daughter's life.

Janet, Dr. Rendle's daughter is Barbara Egyres, a tiny, lovely girl who is a graduate of the Leland Powers School, and a secretary for a Boston television station. Her performance on the guitar during the second act promises to be a highlight of the play.

Peter Stoeckle plays the fey son, Robert. This character, a rising author, doesn't know about his mother's lurid past. Peter is studying to be a TV cameraman and has lived in Winchester all of his life.

Calvin Bowker is the Rev. Combermere, a minister from the village who appears throughout the play, adding moral overtone to the proceedings. Mr. Bowker is a lawyer and has appeared in numerous one-act plays for the Women's Society at the Church.

Caroline Hayford, a member of the Women's Society, plays the Scottish maid, Goudie McIntyre.

Gabriella Feith is Lady Const. Her charming Hungarian accent and lovely personality make Lady Const an excellent foil for Mrs. Smith's sobriety.

Combined, this cast will present a marvelous concoction of theater to please any age audience. Proceeds will go to the Women's Society philanthropy fund.

The Winchester Young Republican Club met on Wednesday, April 15, at the home of its vice-president, Jennifer Flowers.

The first item discussed was the resignation of President Susan Nolan and her husband, David, due to business requirements which have taken them to Colorado.

It was the unanimous vote of the membership that Mrs. Flowers be named acting president until the annual election of officers, to take place at the June meeting.

The club welcomed two new members, Dick and Nancy Jones, and heard a report of the annual convention of Massachusetts Young Republican Association held on April 4th at the Hotel Somerset in Boston.

Governor Francis Sargent has declared April 26 as "Wake Up America" day and a "Rally for Americans" will be held with a parade and, of course, speech-making at City Hall Plaza, Boston. This event is being held to honor such All-Americans as Joe Bellino, former Winchester High and U.S. Naval Academy outstanding athlete and recipient of the coveted Heisman Trophy; and Bob Hope, who has been invited to receive an award for citizenship. Included in the program are other All-Americans representing the arts, athletics and politics among them, Al Capp, Arthur Fiedler and Joe Namath.

The WYRC is organizing a motorcade to leave the Town Hall at 1:30 p.m. on the 26th and has received the cooperation of Representative Harrison Chadwick, members of the Board of Selectmen, the Democratic and Republican Town Committees and veterans' groups. It is hoped that all townspeople interested in this "Rally for Americans" will join them at the Town Hall, Sunday, April 26, for the motorcade to Boston.

Mr. Buros will replace Charles Butler who has moved to Maine.

The Board met briefly with Mr. Buros to discuss his qualifications for the position.

Selectman John J. Sullivan presided over the meeting in the absence of Chairman Ralph Swanson.

The Board held hearings on common victuallers' licenses with Melvin A. Hagan and with Philip J. Mazzola. Mr. Hagan plans to operate a luncheonette at 109 Cross Street and Mr. Mazzola plans to open a submarine sandwich shop at 620 Main Street.

During the hearing on Mr. Mazzola's application, the Board reiterated that it did not want the area to become a "hang-out."

Both licenses were granted.

The Board granted several other licenses including a second hand articles license for Mary A. Elliott; A Lord's Day license for Mrs. Rose Ferro; a billiards and pool license for Amoroso Capone; and a Town Hall engagement license for the Winton Club for January, 1971.

In other action, the Board met with Chief Bowler to discuss lighting on Grove Street. It was decided by the Board not to increase the lighting in the area as the accident statistics did not support the need for a change.

At its final hearing of the evening, the Board met with Dog Officer Dr. Arthur Sandler. Discussed with Dr. Sandler was his report of the previous year. He noted that there were less calls for the dog officer and attributed this to the fact that the restriction law was more rigidly enforced and that people were more cognizant of the law.

Specifically the Board discussed with Dr. Sandler a recent case on Cross Street about which the Board had received complaints.

Following an executive session, the Board decided not to reappoint Dr. Sandler as Dog Officer for 1970-71. Applications are now being solicited by the Board for the part-time position.

Shore Road Closed

On Tuesday the Board made the following announcement regarding the closing of Shore Road:

"Shore Road was blocked off to the public at Skillings By-Pass, Spruce, Holland and Nelson Streets on Friday, April 24, 1970. This was done to facilitate construction of the High School under authorization granted by the Board of Selectmen at its meeting of April 13, 1970. This action was taken on the request of the Permanent Building Committee.

"In voting this authorization the Board of Selectmen requested the Permanent Building Committee to have that portion of Shore Road running from Spruce to Nelson Streets relocated as rapidly as possible to minimize the inconvenience to the neighbors. Phone Company Expands Facility On Main Street

Work began recently on an $875,000 project to expand the New England Telephone exchange building and its equipment at 945 Main Street.

Robert G. O'Keefe, local company manager, said a new wing adding 8,400 square feet of space is under construction.

The space is needed to house new switching equipment which will substantially increase the capacity for handling local calls.

The two-story addition, designed by Hoyle, Doran and Berry of Boston, will be constructed of reinforced concrete with brick walls and a flat roof.

The basement will provide more office space.

Completion of construction is scheduled for November. The new switching equipment is slated to go into use in mid-1971.

Correction

In a story on page one in the April 23rd edition of The Star, it was incorrectly reported that the membership of The First Congregational Church failed to give a vote of confidence to the Rev. Dr. Oliver Powell at a meeting called to take action on the resignations of the Church's four ministers.

The following is a summary of the actions actually taken at that meeting:

It was moved, seconded and voted: The First Congregational Church in Winchester extends a vote of confidence to Dr. Oliver Powell and his thrust of ministerial leadership.

It was moved, seconded and voted: The church accept the resignations of the four ministers with sincerest regret and that the resignations be acted upon individually in the following order: Dr. Oliver Powell, Rev. Richard C. Diehl, Dr. Kenneth R. Henley and Rev. John C. Rinehart.

The voting resulted in the acceptance of the resignations of Dr. Powell, Rev. Diehl, not to accept the resignation of Dr. Henley and to accept the resignation of Rev. Rinehart.

It was moved, seconded and voted: The Moderator appoint a committee to consider a farewell reception for the ministers and make appropriate plans.

It was moved, seconded and voted: The Nominating Committee be instructed to prepare a slate of nominations for a Pastoral Committee. Said committee shall consist of not less than nine members.

It was moved, seconded and voted: That this meeting issue an overwhelming vote of support for Dick Diehl and the thrust of his ministry.

It was moved, seconded and voted: The Church Committee and, when appointed, the Pastoral Committee make a study of our church's needs and goals and report these for approval of the members of the church at a future church meeting. This study shall include our church's requirements for our future ministry.

Breaking And Enterings Occur At Sporadic Locations In Town

Winchester Police have investigated a number of incidents of breaking and entering at local businesses, residences, and schools recently. While tabulations of missing articles have been relatively light, the number of these occurrences seems to be an increase over such reports of late.

Custodian Joseph T. Curran alerted police on Wednesday morning, April 22, of an entry into Lynch Junior High School. According to the report filed, Officer Joseph N. Perritano found an 18 by 32 inch window on the patio broken, probably by a rock. Footprints were observed. After noting that the door of the main office had been forced, the only article known as missing at the time was a Thermofax copier.

On Saturday, April 25, Charles Haggerty of 730 Main Street noticed that a window on Wallace's Repair Service, 722 Main Street was broken. He telephoned police, who then notified the owner. After removing a pane of glass measuring 12 by 12 inches, it appears the intruder (s) reached inside and unlocked the door. The shop was ransacked and a soft drink machine, which was reported to be empty, was pried open. Some tools were thought to be missing. Officer Daniel C. Pearson investigated.

On that same evening Officer John J. Frongillo was called to a Marchant Road residence. Entrance, it seems, was gained by prying open the glass door of a sunporch and then breaking a six by 12 inch kitchen window. The living and dining rooms and three bedrooms were disturbed. Among items which appeared to be missing at the time were sterling silver, watches, jewelry and furs.

Earlier that evening it was found that a stone, estimated in the report filed by Officer Donald F. Jackson to weigh approximately 15 pounds, was hurled through a 15 by 36 inch window in the principal's office at Vinson-Owen School. The intruder (s) had rummaged through the desks in this office and in the main office. It was not known if anything was missing at this time.

When a black Cadillac owned by the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, was observed parked at the end of Vinson Circle early this Saturday morning, the owner was notified. After being informed that it should have been stowed in Haggerty's Garage, 730 Main Street, Officer Daniel C. Pearson made an inspection at the garage. A 14 by 14 inch pane of glass had been broken there. The automobile was recovered.

According to the police report, it is judged that the first attempt to enter a Highland Avenue residence Monday night, April 27, was unsuccessful. After breaking a den window, it seems the intruder (s) was unable to lift it. A kitchen window also at the rear of the home was also shattered. All of the bedrooms, a bath and the den had been ransacked. Known to be missing at this time were three prescriptions. Officer Roger J. DeMinico investigated.

Officer DeMinico had searched out a complaint of breaking and entering at the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis center, 41 East Street earlier in the day. Warren Branch had notified police. An unlocked door was noted on the north side of the building. In the office a safe had been tipped over, but remained unopened. A small amount of change left in an open cash box was observed.

Winchester Man Assists NASA In Apollo 13 Recovery Mission

A Winchester resident was one of the participants in the unfolding drama of the Apollo 13 space flight two weeks ago.

Thomas J. Kelly was awakened shortly after midnight at his 17 Ridgefield Road home by a call from a Grumman Aerospace Corporation.

The call came because Mr. Kelly had been chief engineer on the team that designed the lunar lander. Currently he is on leave of absence from Grumman's Bethpage, Long Island, plant while he studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as a Sloan Fellow. He expects to receive a master of science degree in management from MIT in June.

By 3:30 a.m. he and Howard Wright, the colleague who had called, were at work in the Bethpage plant. Mr. Wright is studying at Harvard.

At about 2 a.m. the pair had boarded a chartered twin-engine Cessna at Logan airport bound for the mission support room at Grumman. The flight was interrupted in Hartford, Connecticut, to let off a third passenger, not connected with the Apollo adventure.

Once at the Mission Support Room their job was to assist in School Committee Holds Elections And Receives Proposal On Redistricting

The positions of chairman and vice chairman of the Winchester School Committee for the year 1970-1971 were filled by the election of Mrs. Harriet H. Dieterich and Dr. Richard B. Lawrance, respectively, at the Monday evening session, April 27.

Later that night Committee members were informed of administration proposals concerning redistricting.

Adjourning a public portion of their meeting at approximately 10:30 p.m., the Committee then went into executive session, lapsing again into an open meeting following this closed portion in order to conduct elections. Nominated for chairman were Mrs. Dieterich and Mrs. Mary A. Mears. Voting for Mrs. Dieterich were herself, Lane McGovern, Stephen Parkhurst, and Dr. Lawrance. Voting for Mrs. Mears was Paul DelRossi. Mrs. Dieterich of 6 Black Horse Terrace, whose term expires in March of 1971, will serve her second term as chairman.

Nominated for vice chairman were Mrs. Mears and Dr. Lawrance. Both abstained from voting. Voting for Dr. Lawrance were Mr. McGovern, Mr. Parkhurst, and Mrs. Dieterich. Mr. DelRossi cast his vote for Mrs. Mears. When the question arose, it was noted that Dr. Lawrance had received a majority of those votes cast. The term of Dr. Lawrance of 150 Highland Avenue will expire in March of 1972.

Moving into items of business Mrs. Dieterich noted a letter from Special Town Counsel Douglas A. Randall concerning the petition filed by Herbert A. Lord at 42 Sheridan Circle in Middlesex Superior Court requesting a stay in the reappointment of Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer. According to Mr. Randall's communication the court has sustained the demurrer, but has allowed time to correct the petition.

In a letter to the editor from Mr. Lord published in The Star of April 16, several incorrect facts were stated. It was claimed that the Superintendent was given a raise of $5,000 by the School Committee prior to his reappointment. This is false. No such rasie has been enacted. Also the letter stated that the School Committee "did not retain" Special Town Counsel Vincent P. Clarke, but is instead being served by Special Town Counsel Randall. In fact, there is no choice involved with the employment of town counsels, but rather it is dependent upon the duties assigned by the Board of Selectmen to the particular men. Mr. Clarke has been made acting town counsel for all matters concerning the Town Meeting, while Mr. Randall is to preside over all other business.

Redistricting

A school redistricting proposal was later presented from the administration by Superintendent Klemer. A public hearing on this matter will be conducted at McCall Junior High School on Monday, May 4, at 8 p.m.

The plans offered are an attempt to establish the Marycliff district from the Wyman district and parts of the Parkhurst district, to reduce the enrollments at Mystic, Lincoln and Noonan Schools through transfer into the Muraco district, and to shift approximately 40 students from McCall Junior High School to Lynch Junior High to relieve overcrowding.

Concerning the first proposal it has been suggested that about 194 pupils from the Wyman district be shuttled into that of Marycliff. Geographically according to street address, those currently at Wyman who would be sent to Marycliff in the fall include: Calumet (30 and up), Cambridge (odd only 5-295), Church (116 and up), Dartmouth, Drexel Avenue, Edgewater Place, Everett Avenue (25 and up), Foxcroft Road, Gardner Place, Glen Green, Glen Road, Niles Lane, Oxford, Robinson Circle, Robinson Park, Salisbury, Sheffield West, Wedgemere Avenue, Wildwood (72 and up), and Yale Streets.

Approximately 49 students would be relocated from Parkhurst School to Marycliff under this proposal. Again by street those enrolled at Marycliff in September, 1970, would include: Ayer Road, Cambridge (Blossom Hill to Swan, 88-138), High (up to 59 Emerson), Indian Hill Road, Oneida Road, Sachem Road, Taft Circle, Taft Drive, and Westland (up to Seneca).

Two WHS Girls Receive Merit Scholarships

Ann E. Dieterich and Margaret J. Cormack are winners of National Merit Scholarships, as announced by the principal of Winchester High School, W. Howard Niblock.

In competition with 743,334 students throughout the nation, the two girls took two-hour and a half tests in English usage, mathematics usage, social studies, natural sciences, reading comprehension and word usage. The group was narrowed down to 15,000 semifinalists, the highest scoring students in each state. Of these 97% advance to finalist level becoming eligible for Merit Scholarships.

To become a finalist, a semifinalist must substantiate her scores with college board scores and file a record of extracurricular activities, special achievements and interests, academic or other honors and similar data. The school submits her academic record, an evaluation of the student by the principal or a counselor and an endorsement.

Ann was awarded an R.C.A. Merit four-year scholarship and Margaret won a Merit $1,000 Scholarship.

According to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, approximately 2,000 sponsored four-year scholarships are being awarded in 1970. National Merit $1,000 scholarships have been awarded to 1,000 students.

Ann hopes to attend Reed College and Margaret has plans to go to Radcliffe. Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dieterich of 6 Black Horse Terrace and Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan M. Cormack of 18 Harrison Street.

THE SECRET I HOLD

Although we often think of him, that something, made me especially today—

All his pain and grief is over, and now at peace forever, his work on earth is done, his work in heaven has begun. God gave me a mind to know him, he gave me a heart to love him.

So we count our blessing, instead of our crosses, count our gains instead of our losses.

We count on God instead of ourself.

Though answers have been a million fold, in my heart the secret I hold.

He was a chosen one.
Love and Remembrance,
Mother, Father,
Sisters and Brother.

Building 19½ Sales Co.
13 Olympia Ave., Woburn, Mass. — 935-4620
(Off Washington Street)

Dear Friends of Building 19½:

You are hereby cordially invited to a gala "spend-in" this coming Friday 9:00 - 9:00, Saturday 9:00 - 5:00 and Monday 9:00 - 9:00 at Building 19½ on Olympia Avenue next to Interstate Uniform Company. I'm sure you can all figure out what a "spend-in" is, but you may be wondering what a Building 19½ is. Hundreds, nay thousands of people have been wondering that ever since we first opened our decrepit doors way back in the pioneers days of 1964 at our original store (?) in the Hingham Shipyard. Here's the story:

WHAT IS BUILDING 19½? It's a warehouse building housing America's Laziest and Messiest Department (?) Store. (Its founders were so lazy (or stupid) they couldn't think up a better name.) It deals in surplus, salvage, or close-out merchandise all sold with a 100 per cent "no-hard-time" money-back guarantee.

WHAT DO WE SELL? Almost anything a conventional department store does. We don't always have exactly what you want when you want it, but when we do, you can be sure that it's substantially cheaper than elsewhere. Savings usually run from 35 per cent to 60 per cent.

HOW CAN WE UNDERSELL EVERYONE? Because we buy firestocks, sprinkler stocks, freight damages, and similar lots from insurance companies, etc. Some items are marred, scratched or soiled but all are functionally perfect and priced according to condition. Once in a great while we'll buy a regular item, but our low overhead allows us to still offer big savings.

WHERE IS BUILDING 19½? Harry Andler, a wealthy, sage, experienced salvage man and Jerry Ellis, a handsome, charming, debonair adventurer (who also writes these ads) assisted (?), by a motley crew of no-pressure salesmen and salesgirls.

WHERE IS BUILDING 19½? Our main store is in the Hingham Industrial Center (fancy name of the Old Hingham Shipyard) on Rte. 3A, the road to Nantasket, near the Hingham-North border. Our newest branch is on Olympia Avenue here in Woburn.

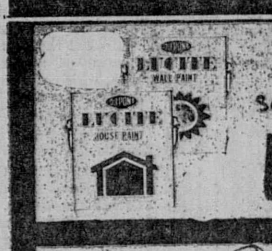

WHY IS BUILDING 19½? Because insurance companies, trucking companies, railroads, mail order houses, etc., need an outlet for their surplus and salvage merchandise and because Harry and I need to eat.

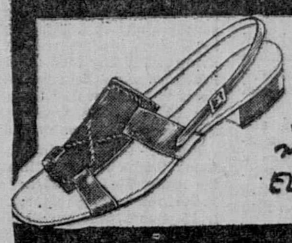

WHEN IS BUILDING 19½? We're open every Friday 9:00 - 9:00, Saturday 9:00 - 5:00, and Monday 9:00 - 9:00. We're closed Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Sunday. Why?
1. We're lazy.
2. We can sell everything we can get in three days. Why work four?

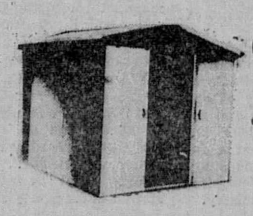

So that's the story. If you've never visited our Elegant Emporium, I urge you to come this week. We've gone to absolutely no trouble or expense to make this week different from any other week, but we do need the business. Even if you don't want to buy anything, just come and make the place look busy. We're serving free (and very delicious) coffee to entice you . . . but bring your own donuts.

Cordially,
Jerry Ellis

The 100th annual meeting of the Winchester Savings Bank was held at the Winchester Country Club Wednesday afternoon, April 22.

Re-elected as officers were James F. Dwinell Jr., president; William J. Speers Jr., vice president; Arnold M. Gibson, treasurer; and Austin Broadhurst, clerk.

Re-elected, also, to the Board of Investment were James F. Dwinell Jr., Gilbert H. Hood Jr., Henry K. Porter, William J. Speers Jr., and Philip P. Wadsworth.

Re-elected Trustees were Shailer Avery, Allen O. Eaton, Arnold M. Gibson, James B. Harlow, Edward E. Hicks, Gilbert H. Hood Jr., Henry K. Porter, William J. Speers Jr., and James R. Willing.

Newly elected as Corporator was Bradford J. Johnson. Mr. Johnson resides at 55 Pond Street. He has been a life long resident of Winchester, having attended school here. He graduated from Amherst College, spent ten years with the First National Bank of Boston, and is now associated with the Boston firm of Thorndike, Doran, Paine, and Lewis specializing in the corporate pension field.

In his comments to the meeting Mr. Dwinell remarked on the fact that the bank was entering its final year of its first century of service to Winchester. The financial statement showed that total resources had exceeded 42 million dollars and that deposits for the year had increased by more than three and three quarters million dollars. He was particularly pleased to be able to state that income for the year had risen by 19 per cent thereby enabling dividend payments to depositors of $1,713,000 over the twelve month period.

The bank has experienced an especially rapid rise in deposits since the first of the year and the new certificates of deposit paying 5¾% and 6% are proving to be popular. Daily interest accounts crossed the million dollar figure in March and the overall deposit increase for the year was 11 per cent

Mortgages continue to play the major role in the portfolio of the Savings Bank, with 20 million dollars invested in Winchester properties. Mr. Dwinell was pleased that throughout this period of tight money the bank was able to accommodate local borrowers and normal customers of the bank. He paid special tribute to Mr. Gibson and the staff and expressed deep appreciation to the Board of Investment for its astute and dedicated leadership. The Corporators were guests of the bank for dinner at the Country Club following adjournment of the meeting.

Broken Windows Head Reports Of Vandalism

Reports of vandalism, predominantly of broken windows, to the Winchester Police Department have been numerous throughout the recent week.

Windows have been shattered at residences on Main Street, Highland Avenue, Cambridge Street, and Hemingway Street, and at businesses on Main Street and Swanton Street. In addition an 18-by-48-inch window of the Public Library was damaged by BB shots. Windows broken in schools included one at Vinson-Owen, five at Mystic School, one at Washington and one at Muraco School.

Owners of vehicles parked in the Wedgemere Station lot reported that one automobile was forced open, entered and a registration certificate taken, while another was missing a 12-volt battery. While left in a Swanton Street lot the ignition and glove compartment of one car was tampered with by an intruder(s).

Damage occurring sporadically about town included a street light at Oak and Nelson Streets, fencing and signs at the end of Spruce Street, and the door of a Main Street business which was removed from its hinges.

Fire Discovered By Local Boys In Connecticut

Michael and Sean Flaherty of 38 Lebanon Street spent the school vacation with their aunt, Mrs. Henry C. Wayne, in Cheshire, Connecticut. Mrs. Wayne is the former Mollie Poland.

At 3:00 a.m. Sunday morning, Michael woke up unable to breathe. Realizing that the room in which he was sleeping was full of smoke, he called his brother Sean and together they aroused the rest of the family and called the fire department.

The blaze, caused by a faulty gas stove, was confined to the kitchen of the 150 year old farm house. The boys were commended by the firemen for their prompt action.

Our cars and roads have been improved. Now let's improve our driving. Drive safely.

Editorials:

18 Or 21?

Lowering the voting age to 18 is in the national news this week in the wake of President Nixon's advice to the House to reject the Senate-passed amendment to the Voting Rights Act that would lower the voting age to 18. In its place, the President desires a constitutional amendment which would require a two-thirds approval from Congress and ratification by three-fourths of the states.

The President raises the question that the Senate-passed amendment, which seeks to effect the change by statute rather than through constitutional amendment, might be open to legal question by the Supeme Court concerning its constitutionality.

In his remarks, the President did concede that the constitutional amendment route would be more "cumbersome," however, he expressed concern that approval of the statute might bring about a court case following the 1972 national election and throw the election into question.

"Cumbersome" is perhaps a very good word for the constitutional amendment route — to acquire ratification by three-quarters of the states, provided a two-thirds vote of the Congress could be attained, would take months, if it ever came about at all.

If the House acts rapidly on the Senate amendment, Congressional leaders have said, the Supreme Court could hear and act on the constitutionality of the amendment in advance of the January, 1971, effective date. It seems to us that this route is worth a try — if the Supreme Court approves, much time will have been saved; if the Court disapproves, the constitutional amendment path remains open.

The world has changed radically since the early Americans decreed 21 as the voting age. It is time to recognize these changes by expediting voting privileges for 18 year olds. Perhaps by giving them an opportunity to speak through the orderly process of the ballot box in order to effect the changes they desire in our society, we might end the rioting and destruction to which they now turn.

Children Observe Earth Day

Editor of the Star:

Earth Day on April 22 was not ignored by all the children in this town. A group of about 15 grade school children from the Unitarian Church School observed the day by cleaning up the trails around Smith Pond in preparation for the Winchester Trails Program in our schools.

They gathered up beer cans, soft drink cans and bottles, paper and plastic trash of all kinds and heavy articles like a rusty car muffler, a drain pipe, and old paint pails. The bags of trash filled the back of a station wagon and the trunks of two cars. The children completed their job by unloading it all at the town incinerator.

These young people were incensed at the way careless people had defiled their lovely nature trail and pointed out with disgust every piece of litter along the streets as they rode through the town.

I visited Smith Pond the very next day and was forced to speak strongly to some people who were throwing trash in the area the children had worked so hard to clean up.

Perhaps we should ask the town to post the area as a "Nature Sanctuary" with the hope that the trash throwers would not defile a sanctuary. Our children would like at least one small area where nature is undefiled by man.

I wish to thank the boys and girls of the Unitarian Church School for their hard work and for their interest in preserving our precious earth. (Also their drivers, Mrs. Milton Trageser, Mrs. Robert Crockett, Mrs. Frank DelGreco, and Mrs. Barbara Marshman, director of education at the Church.)

Gratefully,

Asks Construction Of Temporary Rd.

Editor of the Star:

We are very upset in the present situation on Spruce, Holland and Nelson Streets concerning the road blocks. They promised us a temporary road to get to and from our homes without having to use Main or Washington Street. And it is very upsetting every time we leave our homes either to have to turn around in someone's driveway or back up all the way up to the end of the street, which is going to cause an accident because of the intersections at the end of Spruce and Holland.

It is very annoying to see people still thinking they can get through, stop, turn around and cause traffic jams at the end of the street.

We need our temporary road which was promised us before the road block.

Something ought to be done. There are a lot of irritated people on this side of town.

Something has to be done.

Warned In '67 Of Pollution By Snow-Dumping

Editor of the Star:

The selectmen of the Town of Winchester were notified by me in the Winter of 1967 that by allowing the Aberjona River to be used as the Town's winter street-refuse and snow dump, the Town of Winchester had become a major polluter of the Upper Mystic Lake and was filling the river with sand and debris. I requested that the selectmen locate another site to dump upon, a site which would not allow the Town's gutter refuse and street salts to run openly into the lake. The selectmen refused to act. No corrective steps were taken then, and now, because of pollution in the Upper Mystic Lake, the Department of Natural Resources has refused to stock trout in the lake.

Pollution of the Upper Mystic Lake is not a new problem. About fifty years ago, homes along the Aberjona River dumped their sewerage directly into this stream. At that time, however, the Town took steps to correct the problem. A contractor was hired to deepen the stream and close off the sewer drains. I know this because my grandfather was the contractor.

Today, since Stauffner Chemical has left their upstream site, the Town of Winchester may be the major polluter of the Upper Mystic Lake. The pollution situation could be abated by the simple resolution of the Town to find a new site for its street-snow dump. However, the damage to the stream and the lake from years of filling will require costly dredging to correct.

I feel very strongly that the damage to the Aberjona River and the Upper Mystic Lake is a shameful example of the Town of Winchester's disregard of her responsibilities to conserve a major recreational facility in our community.

Sincerely,
John L. Vernaglia

Faith Strengthened In Government

Editor of the Star:

The writer appeared before the Board of Appeal recently. On the same evening, several earlier cases were heard.

The attitude of the Board toward all the petitioners was impressive. The members made suggestions that were helpful in the effort to produce favorable decisions whenever possible. Their sensitivity was astonishing.

One's faith in the Town Meeting form of government is strengthened by the willingness of citizens f this caliber to give their time and effort for the common good.

Recital Planned At Vinson-Owen

The Vinson-Owen chorus, comprised of fourth, fifth, and sixth graders, will present a recital at the May 1 meeting of the Vinson-Owen Parents Association at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

The chorus will be under the direction of Herman Greene, music supervisor. Also performing will be the Vinson-Owen band, directed by David Kontoff.

Parents are asked to set aside the date of June 4 for the Gym Demonstration at the school at 7:30 p.m. All grades will participate in gymnastics under the direction of Michael Houghton, supervisor of physical education.

Richard Bennink To Present History Essay

"Abraham Lincoln and the Emancipation Proclamation" will be the subject of a talk by Richard Bennink, Winchester High School senior, to be delivered to the Historical Society on Saturday, May 9, at 2:30 p.m. in the Winchester Public Library.

This essay won first prize last year in the Edgar Rich History Essay Contest. A question and answer period following should interest Winchester historians. Charles Gallagher, president of the Winchester Historical Society, invites the public to attend.

High School Plans "Pops Concert"

Rehearsals are in progress for the "Pops Concert" at Winchester High School to be held Friday, May 8, at 8 p.m. in the high school gym.

According to music director Wendell Withington, plans have been made to include performances by the band, orchestra, girls' glee club, concert choir, double sextette and madrigal singers.

Tickets will be available at the door but also can be procured from members of the music groups involved in the evening of light music and light refreshments.

School Committee

The capacity of Marycliff, which features the open space concept, is estimated as 235. The projected enrollment here this fall would be 236. Capacity at Wyman is 326, projected enrollment would be 319. Capacity at Parkhurst is 350, projected enrollment would be 291.

Muraco District

Through a proposal to relieve overcrowding at the elementary level, students would be transferred from Lincoln, Noonan, and Mystic Schools to Muraco. Faced with a need for space at particular grade levels at each of these schools, redistricting, which would only move a few students at each grade level, would be ineffective

The suggestion, therefore, is to shift 20 fourth graders from Lincoln, 18 sixth graders from Noonan, and 17 sixth graders from Mystic to Muraco. The rated capacity of Muraco is 550, while the projected enrollment for 1970-1971 would be 425. These figures, respectively, for Lincoln would be 281 and 298, for Noonan would be 239 and 256, and for Mystic would be 413 and 442.

It was also made known that parents wishing to have their children enrolled at the Muraco School may indicate this by formally writing to the Superintendent. Following the establishment of a bus route, students would be selected for the balance of the openings on the basis of their nearness to the established route.

The administration feels that overcrowding at McCall necessitates the transfer of about 40 students from this institution to Lynch Junior High. These pupils would be those normally assigned to McCall for next September in grades seven and eight. They would be chosen on the basis of the geographic areas closest to Lynch. This area includes: White Street, Rock Avenue, Fitzgerald Avenue, Shepard Court, Arthur Street, Hill Street, Thompson Place, Loring Court, Loring Avenue, Lochwan Street, Kirk Street, Wendell Street, Cleveland Road, Cross Street (224 and up), Verplast, River, Pine Grove, Highland View Avenue, Swanton (west of main line of railroad tracks), Chapin Street, Chapin Court, Cedar, Tremont, Winter, and Summer Streets.

Smoking

In other business acted upon by the School Committee it was voted to accept Committee woman Mrs. Mary A. Mears' motion to devote as much time as is necessary at the next meeting to discuss the controversy over smoking, the rules and restrictions concerning it. It is intended that all officials and other persons involved will be consulted for their opinions. The Committee wishes particularly to know the view of parents either by correspondence or by attendance at the meeting.

The original plan as presented on the agenda for this evening called for the modification of smoking restrictions at the high school to allow smoking by students on school grounds at the rear of the building. Superintendent Klemer explained that the administration was not in favor of permitting such smoking, but that with the operation of the campus plan, it had become impossible to police this particular area.

Terming smoking as one of the most "durable" problems which he has faced, High School Principal W. Howard Niblock said that a rule that is unenforceable is no rule. He reiterated the difficulty of finding personnel to patrol such restricted areas. Joseph C. Forte, principal of McCall Junior High School, commented that outside areas were more difficult to supervise and suggested that provision in the smoking rules might also be made for the junior high schools.

Committeeman Jaul R. DelRossi called it "hypocrisy" to preach a rule forbidding smoking and then to practice to the contrary. Mr. DelRossi withdrew his motion to have the School Committee reaffirm the no smoking restrictions and to have a report of the Superintendent at the next meeting in deference to the suggestion made by Mrs. Mears.

While discussing drug activities at the schools, Dr. Klemer informed members that the lavatory supervisors were being instructed in some facets of recognizing drug use.

Speaking on this problem Principal Niblock said that supervision was part of the difficulty, but that there was particular trouble in eliminating the "outside" pusher. If it can be determined why drugs are used, he noted, an attack on the problem may be made at this level.

Drug Education

A report on the drug education program was submitted by Dr. Walter P. Gleason, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, as requested by the Committee. It classifies the program into three parts. The program of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Ostrach has been implemented in grades eight and 11, involving 427 and 125 students respectively. Basically the program undertakes discussion of society and its current problems. The greatest difficulty with the program has been one of scheduling.

It is the recommendation of Dr. Gleason and of the Ostrachs that the program now be put under the guidance of existing curriculum areas, specifically the science and social studies departments. Beginning in grades five through nine, it would be handled experimentally in grades 10 through 12. It is hoped that this curriculum could be developed during the summer.

A second area of the drug education program is the student-to-student program conducted by CONCERN. Managed by high school students, it involves all eighth and ninth graders. Lectures, dissemination of information and questioning are part of these sessions.

Resource speakers, panels and films are being used on a third level. Under the management of the secondary school principals, this program is presented to all students in these schools.

Parenthetically with the drug education program was a discussion of the application made by Stoneham for a federal grant to experiment with programmed budgeting in which Winchester has been included. There was concern expressed over legal implications of being bound by any contract executed by Stoneham simply due to the fact of being in the application for the grant. Presenting a similar problem Principal Niblock was disturbed over including Winchester in an application for federal money to participate in a work experience program. It was felt by the Committee that he should continue to act on the application.

Station Wagons

In other action the School Committee voted to accept the lowest bids received for a nine passenger and a six passenger station wagon. These vehicles had been sent out for bids by the Board of Selectmen in conjunction with those of other Town departments. However, the Selectmen had decided to reject all bids for all departments due to dissatisfaction with the bid for the Fire Chief's automobile.

It was also recommended at this time by William F. Clark, assistant superintendent for administrative services, that the School Committee alert the Finance Committee to the fact that the combined cost of the two station wagons exceeds the sum budgeted by $1,204. When the budget was originally formed replacement of only one vehicle was needed.

The Committee will also warn the Finance Committee of the possibility of a need for transfer of funds in view of the extensive theft and vandalism occurring since the beginning of the year in Winchester schools. The "Detect-alarms," to be installed at Vinson-Owen, Lynch Junior High School, the Senior High Schools and Marycliff, are currently out to bid.

A recommendation to approve the courses and instructors for the 1970 Summer School Program was withdrawn in order to allow further future discussion. Thomas P. Budrewicz, president of the Winchester Education Association, brought to light the fact that several instructors' positions in this program have already been filled by out-of-system teachers when the deadline for application by Winchester school system instructors had not yet passed.

In response to a question of the need for lead teachers in this program, Summer School Director Frederick J. Murray stated that supervision of this kind was necessary at McCall Junior High School and Muraco School, especially considering the growth of the program's enrollment.

Under matters of personnel the Committee made appointments and accepted resignations, and then moved into other areas of discussion. Mentioned in concluding business was a letter sent by William A. Warnock, principal of Wyman School, to parents in this district. The letter requested these parents not to send their children back to school from lunch early due to an observed problem of some pupils "using force on" other students.

Commenting on the work of the Elementary School Building Subcommittee, School Committee Member Richard B. Lawrance informed the audience that a letter had been sent to the Selectmen recommending the purchase of land near Wyman School, specifically at 89 Church Street.

In an administrative memo from Mr. Clark it was announced that furniture and equipment for Marycliff are being sent out for bid this week. The needs of the Building Committee concerning Marycliff are being budgeted with those of the School Department for efficiency of volume price.

Newsy Paragraphs

The Veterans Administration announced earlier this year that 14,800 disabled veterans — some 4,100 more than last year — were studying in colleges and pursuing on-the-job training.

The VA is urging nearly 667,000 veterans whose term life insurance policies are due for renewal this year to examine them closely to determine whether they should convert to permanent plan policies.

Selectmen

Spruce Street easterly to Nelson Street. This right of way is for emergency use only and is to be maintained by the Town.

"The Board of Selectmen, in acting upon the recommendation of Chief of Police Edward F. Bowler, approved the installation of the following signs:

"Not A Through Way" signs to be installed at Spruce at Swanton Streets, Spruce at Oak Streets, Holland at Swanton Streets, and Holland at Oak Streets.

"Open To Oak Street Only" sign to be installed at Nelson at Washington Streets.

"For Emergency Use Only" signs to be installed at the entrance to the gravel road at Spruce, Holland and Nelson Streets."

Commendation

In other business Monday night, the Board voted to reappoint John T. Horn as caretaker of veterans' graves and to commend him for the excellent job he has done in that post. The following letter was sent to Mr. Horn by the Board:

"With great pleasure the Board of Selectmen reappointed you as Caretaker of Veterans' Graves for a term of one year ending April 30, 1971.

"The Board commends you for your many years of devoted service as Caretaker of Veterans' Graves. You have always done an outstanding job. Your personal interest and dedication in decorating every grave of veterans of all wars is greatly appreciated.

"Your interest is demonstrated by the fine work you have done in recommending the installation of permanent veterans' memorials at the various cemeteries where Winchester veterans are buried and your untiring efforts in bringing this project to a successful completion will long be remembered.

"The Selectmen extend to you their sincere gratitude for a job well done."

"When we arrived at the Mission Support Room, things were busy. Our job was to provide as much expertise as we could to NASA on which it could base its decision on how to attempt the return flight," Mr. Kelly said.

LM Return

In an interview with the New York Times, Mr. Kelly said the concept of using the lunar module (LM) to help return a crew to earth in case of serious trouble aboard the command ship was worked out early in the program, back in 1964, and was practiced on Apollo 9's 10-day earth-orbital flight a year ago. "But I can't say we foresaw exactly this type of failure with everything out," Mr. Kelly said.

After about nine hours of work, the men and their computers at the Grumman plant had furnished Houston with all the information needed.

"The LM had more consumables left than we figured—enough for 20-40 hours more.

"I think the whole operation demonstrates how versatile the LM system is," Mr. Kelly said.

He added that their big worry during the flight was that there might be another failure.

The team at Grumman, after determining that there were enough consumables for the return trip, assisted NASA in evaluating the various options it had for the return. It was determined that no one return route was better than another and the decision was made to attempt the return and recovery in the Pacific.

A graduate of Cornell University, Mr. Kelly received his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1951. He worked at Grumman while earning his master's degree in mechanical engineering at Columbia University.

He and his wife have six children.

Parents' Meeting To Discuss SEEM

Parents with children in classes for the mentally retarded through the Winchester Public Schools are invited to a meeting to discuss the program. The meeting will be held at Lynch Junior High School on Tuesday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m.

The program, SEEM, Special Education of Education Mutual, will be reviewed, and Director Mrs. Marjorie M. Shaw will present a projection of improvements in programming for next year.

School Department staff members will also be present to answer any questions parents may have concerning the activities of SEEM.

The Civil Service Commission announced recently a 39-year-old veteran — Robert L. Smith, a computer programmer with the VA — as the "Outstanding Handicapped Federal Employee of the Year."

BOOK REVIEW

THE MAKING OF A COUNTER-CULTURE

by Theodore Roszak

"It strikes me as obvious beyond dispute," writes Theodore Roszak, "that the interests of our college-age and adolescent young in the psychology of alienation, oriental mysticism, psychedelic drugs, and communitarian experienments comprise a cultural constellation that radically diverges from values and assumptions that has been in the mainstream of our society at least since the Scientific Revolution of the seventeenth century."

This is from his second paragraph in an exciting new book, one which has had much thought and research put into it, but one with which not everyone will agree.

The counter-culture he describes includes a minority of the young and a handful of adult mentors. Most of what is happening which is new and interesting in politics, social relations, and the arts is the creation of this youth, very much alienated from the establishment.

The paramount struggle, he feels, is not such immediate emergencies as the Vietnam war, or racial injustice, or poverty. It "is against a far more formidable, because far less obvious opponent, to which I will give the name 'the technocracy' — a social form more highly developed in America than in any other society."

Social engineering has reached such a point that politics, education, leisure, entertainment, culture as a whole, our unconscious drives, and protest against protest are the subjects of technical analysis and manipulation. There are such "think-tanks" as the Hudson Institute, now developing strategies of programmed dreams.

Technocracy, increasing and consolidating its power, is a transpolitical phenomenon, beyond question and discussion, which tries to convince us that the vital needs of man are purely technical in character, and that except for a few snags, the prerequisites of human fulfillment are being satisfied.

"The real threat to democracy," said McNamara, "comes, not from overmanagement, but from undermanagement." According to Roszak, "the prime strategy of the technocracy is to level life down to a standard of so-called living that technical expertise can cope with it . . . "

Roszak raises the question of why it is the young which are the protestors. In his book, at least two reasons stand out. One, that the young act "against a background of nearly pathological passivity on the part of the adult generation," who he claims have surrendered their responsibility for making morally demanding decisions, for generating ideals.

And the second seems to be a form of sociological ecology, a swing away from affluence, technology, and reason to handouts, psychedelic art, and occult and drug-induced aberrations.

. . . "A youngster of seventeen, clearing out of the comfortable bosom of the middle-class family is a formidable gesture of dissent. One makes light of it at the expense of ignoring a significant measure of our social health."

This revolutionary youth, caught in despair, experiments with various life-styles. Some drift to Europe, to bohemianism, and some are influenced by older radicals. The more serious among them practice "Total Rejection." They are the centaurs storming the temple of Apollo. Many of them are influenced by the New Left sociology of C. Wright Mills, the Freudian Marxism of Herbert Marcuse, the Gestalt-therapy anarchism of Paul Goodman, the apocalyptic body mysticism of Norman Brown, the Zen-based psychotherapy of Alan Watts, and Timothy Leary's LSD and occult narcissism, Allen Ginsberg and his Hari Krishna, and a host of minor cultural and social groups.

Roszak examines a number of these figures in different chapters. These personalities, and some discerning others, "have a shrewd sense of where technology leaves off and the New Jerusalem begins: not at the level of class, party, or institution, but rather at the non-intellective level of the personality . . . they see . . . that building the good society is not primarily a social, but a psychic task." The young do not care for the apologists of a de-humanized social order. The young realize that the socio-economic scientific world has something lacking in it. A new magic, a new consciousness, a new dimension, is what they are looking for.

A fathom was arrived at as a measure of length by taking the distance from the tip of one little finger to the tip of the other when the arms are outstretched. It has been standardized at six feet and is used in measuring sea depths.

Carleton E. Kenerson of Saugus will head the automotive trades department. He attended Salem State College and since 1952 has been teaching adult education classes in automotive trades at Everett Vocational School. One-time owner of his own auto repair shop, Mr. Kenerson has worked for the General Electric Company and was in the U.S. Navy Seabees from 1943 to 1946.

Mrs. Irene L. Duquay of Tewksbury will head the cosmetology department. In addition to commercial shop experience, Mrs. Duquay has been on the staff of the post-graduate school at Essex Agricultural and Technical School, Hathorne, teaching cosmetology for the past 10 years.

Appointed an instructor in the Health Occupations Department was Mrs. Beverly F. MacBurnie, R.N., of Newburyport. She trained at the Burbank Hospital School of Nursing, and received a B.S. degree in education, with a nursing major, at Fitchburg State College. She has been teaching since 1965 at Haverhill Trade School in the post-secondary practical nursing program.

Mrs. Marian L. James of Melrose has been appointed cafeteria manager. A graduate of Boston School of Domestic Science, she also received a diploma from Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Mrs. James has operated her own catering business, and has been cafeteria manager at Melrose High School since 1962.

Superintendent Tilley also announced the appointment of Horace U. Frost of Wakefield as supervisor of maintenance at Northeast Vocational.

Mr. Frost was selected from among 54 candidates for the position, which includes maintenance of the 6.5-acre building housing a variety of shops and classrooms, and the 15-acre site which includes a full range of athletic facilities.

Since construction began on the 1200-pupil co-educational school building, Mr. Frost has served as clerk of the works. He has worked as a construction superintendent and foreman for some of the larger contracting firms in the Greater Boston area.

Also appointed was Mrs. Marie Yasi of Wakefield, secretary in the Pupil Personnel Services Department. She formerly served as an executive secretary at Transitron in Wakefield.

Maureen, a nurse, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Downey of 55 Clark Street. A graduate of Winchester High School, she received her nurse's training at Lawrence Memorial Hospital and worked there and in the Malden and Winchester hospitals.

The Lubbens met in 1968 while both were working at an experimental summer camp on Cape Cod which handled 25 mental patients from Boston State Hospital. That fall they were married, and when they returned from their honeymoon, Uncle Sam's call was waiting.

Following basic training at Ft. Jackson, Jim remained there for training as a dental assistant, a far cry from his post-college training as a counselor. Currently he works at the Army post in the Dental Clinic.

Hearing about the home when it was being organized in October, 1969, the Lubbens applied and were accepted as the first house parents when the home opened in November.

The house is a center for girls who find themselves in conflict with the authorities and who need a congenial home-like atmosphere in which to live while they are being rehabilitated.

Dozen Girls

There are three girls living with the Lubbens at this time. The home, however, can accommodate up to a dozen.

Each girl is assigned to the home by the Richland County Family Court in consultation with the South Carolina Vocational Rehabilitation Department when it is essential for her to be placed in a more favorable atmosphere than that which she has.

In an interview with the Columbia (South Carolina) Record, Jim said, "The home is not a replacement for a real home, but it gives each girl something to be a part of. It gives them someplace where they can find the love and understanding they need.

"The home keeps me fresh and up on current counseling techniques," he added. "It keeps me working in the field I'm 'interested in."

Volunteers from the Junior League of Columbia and from other agencies contribute time and money to working with the girls. They attend school, and volunteer tutors assist with schoolwork..

Maureen cooks all the evening meals for the girls, however, they fix their own breakfasts and lunches are provided at the school they attend.

"The girls are wonderful to work with. They have earned a great deal of respect from both Jim and myself. We learn something new from them every day," Maureen concluded.

Light Damage When Fire Is Contained

Damage in a fire at a Cambridge Street residence was limited to that caused by smoke and water due to the occupant's quick appraisal of the situation early Friday morning, April 24.

Engines 2 and 3, the Ladder and Rescue trucks, and the Chief's Car responded to the alarm at Box 56 at 7:07 a.m. Captain Peter L. Galuffo was in charge. The Police Department answered the alarm by blocking off the area. Burning was contained to a bedroom and bath.

Upon waking up, Robert H. Bray, of 130 Cambridge Street smelled smoke, opened the door of the bedroom to investigate and quickly shut it again, thereby preventing the fire from spreading further before the Fire Department had arrived.

The fire was then extinguished with relative speed. Salvage work was completed the next morning.

For opening day, May 3, the Reading Antiquarian Society takes a bow to some Reading women activists of yesterday. Several formed a Female Anti-Slavery Society in 1833. One served for three years in the Civil War — by paying for a representative recruit because the army did not want her in person. One was ordained a minister in 1868, among the first, if not the first woman of the profession in New England. Another, an early graduate of Tufts Dental School who hung out her shingle in 1906, left a bequest to her adopted town, for a municipal pool. Still another was four times elected Selectman and three times Representative to the General Court. Guides will be on hand to point out both the distinctive features of the house with its furnishings and the personalities in the special exhibit at the society's headquarters 103 Washington Street, Reading.

Motorcade Travels To Boston Rally

A 20 car motorcade left Winchester under police escort to join the "Wake Up America" Rally in Boston on Sunday, of which Joe Bellino was co-chairman.

Well over 100,000 attended the parade and speech-making which featured Bob Hope, Al Capp, Jim Nance and many others. The theme of the rally was pride in America and support of the U.S. Armed Forces throughout the world and particularly those in Vietnam.

The Winchester group, organized by the Winchester Young Republicans, was joined by the Wilmington Crusaders for the motorcade. In the parade a group of "Walking Delegates" of approximately 25 persons carried the Winchester Banner and received a favorable response along the route.

Representative Harrison Chadwick had planned to accompany the motorcade but due to an emergency committment was unable to do so, however, he was on hand to see the delegation off. Mr. Chadwick, speaking to the group included in his remarks his support and said, "I'm sure God gave you this beautiful sunny day because you have a just cause."

Dick and Nancy Jones were the local co-ordinators with the Dedham headquarters and Jennifer Flowers and Clara Hewis, president and secretary respectively, of the Young Republicans.

Appreciation and thanks go to the Winchester Police Department, Officer Baird and the MDC police who provided the escort to Boston.

The importance of guarding thought against the influence of evil suggestions will be stressed in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon to be read on Sunday, May 3.
Bible readings on the subject of "Everlasting Punishment" will include a warning by Jesus to "fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell."
One of the religious tenets of Christian Science stated in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy is: "We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sin in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that casts out evil as unreal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts."

Winchester Duplicate Bridge Club

On Wednesday, May 6th, there will be the annual Men's and Women's Pairs Championships, the gentlemen competing for Chitel's Challenge Bowl and the ladies for Andersons Jewelers Challenge Bowl. Many partnerships have been practicing for this event.

The Spring Party on April 22nd was a happy evening. Chairman Peggy Cade with the help of the Club ladies produced a beautiful and bounteous refreshment table. A special pleasure was in having Charter Members Irene and Carl Sittinger come down from New Hampshire for the occasion.

In Section A Irene Sittinger, playing with Lolly Smith, displayed her usual fine bridge style; they scored a 66% game, way ahead in both fields.

Board 11 from Section A (no one vulnerable and South the dealer) is one of those hard ones where no one has game, and it's a question of when to stop bidding. Preferably, you want to make a plus score for your side or be set less than the score the other side can make.

At our table the bidding went: South: 1 ♣ (17 points); 2 ♦ (real suit); 3 ♦. West: 2 ♣ (club suit); 3 ♣; Pass. North: Pass; Pass; Pass. East: 2 ♠; Pass; 4 ♣.

Now comes the moment of truth for South. True, it's a gorgeous hand, but North knows that by now also, so let's let him decide whether to go to 4 ♦. South's other choice is to double 4 ♣, but the three Aces may be the only tricks taken; you can't count on the diamond King in a distributional hand. So South passes, as does everyone else.

As you can see, North-South sets the 4 ♣ one trick by taking their four tricks immediately. This result is right in the middle, for four North-Souths were allowed to play in 3 ♦ making just 3, and four North-Souths were set.

I would hesitate to blame the party spirits, but one South played the hand in 1 ♣ going down three, no doubt a short club gone wrong.

Noonan Parents View Science Projects Display

Many parents attended the Science Fair in the Noonan School Auditorium on Wednesday, April 15, at 7:15 p.m.

Under the direction of Lawrence Kurkjy, pupils of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades put on a science display. Students were on hand to explain and demonstrate the projects to the parents. Some of the ideas were individual, while others were team efforts, with two or three students working on one project. Some of the ideas featured in the fair ranged from early days right up to the present time, such as an original phonograph, old time movie projector, volcanos in action, crystal radio set, candy dishes made out of records, a conservation display and a model of Apollo 13.

Special thanks are extended to Mr. Kurkjy for the outstanding job he did in supervising the Science Fair, and also to Miss Paula Caffrey, principal of Noonan School, for her assistance in presenting this Science Fair to the parents of Noonan School.

Sarno – Pasquale

In a late afternoon ceremony at St. Eulalia's Church on Sunday, April 12, Miss Lois Nancy Pasquale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence N. Pasquale Sr. of 4 Albamont Road, became the bride of Captain Alfred Joseph Sarno, U.S. Army, of Concord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marino A. Sarno Jr. of Watertown.

MRS. ALFRED J. SARNO

The Rev. Henry A. Marquardt presided over the service which was followed by a reception in the Oval Room of the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Boston.

The bridge, accompanied down the aisle by her father, was wearing a champagne silk satin gown with imported beaded English net and a chapel-suite train. It was fashioned with a high collar and long fitted beaded sleeves. A matching headpiece supported her cathedral-length veil. Stephanotis, phalaenopsis, pink carnations, seafoam statis, and baby's breath composed her bouquet.

Acting as maid of honor and matron of honor, respectively, were Miss Karen R. Pasquale and Mrs. Robert E. D'Errico, both of Winchester, both sisters of the bride. They chose Wedgewood blue linen empire-waisted gowns with gold and blue ribbon trimming the bodice. Their headpieces were matching half-pillbox caps with gold and blue ribbon bows. They carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Jan Leslie Pasquale and Miss Gail Allison Pasquale, both of Winchestre, both sisters of the bride. Their gowns and flowers were as the maid of honor's. A blue and gold ribbon bow complemented their ensembles.

Flower girls in the wedding party were Miss Sharyn Lee Pasquale and Miss Sheryl Lyn Pasquale, both of Winchester, identical twin sisters of the bride. Wedgewood blue organza overlaid the taffetta which formed their full-length dresses. Gold and blue ribbon composed the waistbands and bows for their hair. They carried bouquets like that of the maid of honor.

Having the honor of best man was Walter Nils Hallonquist of West Roxbury. Serving as ushers were Lawrence Nelson Pasquale Jr. of Arlington and Keith Roy Pasquale of Winchester, both brothers of the bride; Robert Emilio D'Errico of Winchester, brother-in-law of the bride; and Joseph Carl Sarno of Watertown, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Pasquale chose a gold and blue beaded brocade dress. A pearl gray chiffon dress was worn by the mother of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Marycliff Academy and Boston University.

A graduate of Watertown High School and Northeastern University, Captain Sarno is a club officer at Fort Devens, Ayer.

The bride embarked on the couple's wedding trip to Nassau wearing an off-white and gold dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories. Captain and Mrs. Sarno will make their home in Concord.

Hoehn–Clark

The marriage ceremony of Miss Lee Meigs Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hayden Clark of Andover, to Edward George Hoehn III of Jeffersonville, Vermont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward George Hoehn Jr. of 11 Pine Street, was performed in the Cochrane Chapel, Andover on Saturday, April 25, at 3 o'clock.

Bradford Bachrach

MRS. EDWARD G. HOEHN III

Following the service which was officiated by the Rev. Graham A. Baldwin, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her aunt's wedding gown, an ivory satin dress with scoop neckline trimmed with heirloom pointe applique lace. A matching pointe applique veil belonging to her great great grandmother was held in place by a headband of seed pearls and fresh stephanotis. Roses, freesia, stephanotis, tulips and other spring flowers cascaded into her bridal bouquet.

Miss Nina Clark of Andover, sister of the bride, and Miss Lynda P. Onthank of Annisquam, were maids of honor. Their gowns were styled of apple blossom pink organdy with a gentle empire waist and Victorian neckline. White embroidery edged the neck and hemlines. They carried clusters of rubrum lilies, soft pink roses and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Jo Ann Moody of Amherst, New Hampshire; Miss Georgette S. Clotworthy of Andover; Miss Nancy Hoehn of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Deborah Brodhead of Rye Beach, New Hampshire; and Mrs. Christopher Tilghman of Norfolk, Virginia. Mrs. James A. Saltonstall of Munich, Germany, served as honorary bridesmaid. Their costumes were similar to those of the maids of honor.

Having the honor of best man was Richard N. Hoehn of Hingham, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Peter Hayden Clark Jr. and David N. Clark, both of Andover, both brothers of the bride; William B. Holmes of Chappaqua, New York; Thomas P. Grant of Richmond, Virginia; Spencer E. Gray of East Providence, Rhode Island; and T. Kent Mitchell of Hyde Park, Vermont. Honorary usher was Stephen J. Farrington of San Francisco, California.

Other members of the wedding party included flower girl, Miss Elizabeth S. Milliken of Andover, and ring bearer, Hugh Barron of Hyde Park, Vermont.

A pale pink silk linen coat and dress ensemble was chosen by Mrs. Clark for the occasion, while the mother of the bridegroom wore a mint green silk dress with matching jacket.

The bride's schools include Abbot Academy; Bennett College; University of Aix-En-Provence, France; University of Colorado; and University of New Hampshire. She is a member of the Vincent Club.

A graduate of Hanover High School, Mr. Hoehn also attended the University of North Carolina. He is presently acting as director of the Windridge Tennis Camp, Jeffersonville.

The bride chose a navy and white knit coat and dress ensemble for the couple's wedding trip to Bermuda. They plan to make their home in Jeffersonville.

The Pan-Hellenic Association of Greater Boston will hold an organizational meeting on Friday, May 1, at 9:30 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Ivan Stokes, Wellesley. Mrs. Robert Nyere of Arlington Street represents the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority on the board.

Fire Drills Promote Fire Safety

Everybody takes a new lease on life when Spring rolls around. And that lease on life — for you and your family — will be more certain if you've planned and practice a family fire drill.

"This is another kind of Spring Clean-Up action — cleaning up any misunderstanding about what to do if fire should strike your home," says Fire Chief I. Francis Amico. "National Fire Protection Association records indicate that the majority of lives taken by home fires might have been saved if people had planned and rehearsed ways to escape.

"So plan and practice today — for a safer tomorrow."

Here are pointers to help you plan:

1. Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for blocking of stairways or halls by fire.

2. Particularly for nighttime fires, remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flames and smoke, allow extra time for escape or rescue.

3. For upper floor escape, use any available porch and garage roofs, ladders and trees as ways down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily, and that they are low and large enough to get through.

4. Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet for a "roll-call," and be sure everyone knows the rule "once out — stay out."

5. Know how to call the Fire Department, by street box or neighbor's phone, and do this as quickly as the house is clear of people.

6. Decide who will look after infants and the infirm, and how they will do so.

Once your plans are made, urges Fire Chief Amico, it's important for all the family — including the children — to rehearse carefully and regularly.

LWV Sponsors Meeting On War

The Winchester League of Women Voters is co-sponsoring a free public informational meeting on chemical and biological warfare on Wednesday, May 6, at 8 p.m. at the Lexington High School Auditorium.

Matthew S. Meselson, professor of biology at Harvard, will speak on the topic "Herbicides, Tear Gas, and the Geneva Protocol." Dr. Meselson is regarded as a leading authority on the subject of CBW. He has been an expert witness before the U. S. Senate's Committee on Foreign Relations on the subject. He was appointed to the National Academy of Sciences panel to study methods of disposal of CBW agents. (This was undertaken at the request of the Army.) He has served as a consultant to the U.S. Arms Control Agency. He has written a number of articles on CBW.

Following Dr. Meselson's talk there will be an opportunity to ask questions from the audience.

Chemical and biological warfare is a growing concern in this country since the extent of research in this field and the size of the government's CBW arsenal has become at least partially known. A flurry of books and articles have appeared on the subject, but many questions remain unanswered. The subject will take on an added urgency when the Geneva Protocol is submitted to Congress by the President; this country will then have to decide just what is a chemical or biological agent and if it is really an asset to security.

The area Leagues sponsoring this important meeting are Arlington, Bedford, Concord, Lexington, Stoneham, Waltham, Weston, and Winchester. For further information call 729-4715.

Post Office Commemorates Maritime Day

President Nixon's plans for restoring the U.S. Merchant Marine to a first class position among world fleets was the theme of ceremonies in which Postmaster Charles R. Hill placed the National Maritime Day poster on all local mail trucks.

The poster, bearing the message "American Shipping — Partner in Progress" was the winning design in a contest among high school students. It will be displayed on all mail trucks throughout the county during the month of May. National Maritime Day falls on May 22, commemorating the sailing of the SS Savannah, the first steamship to make an ocean crossing.

Postmaster Hill said: "Since the birth of our nation over 200 years ago, our merchant ships have been partners in the growth and progress of this nation. It was a ship that carried the first colonists, with their ideals and aspirations for a better life, to our shores. Our merchant ships are partners with industry, carrying raw materials and manufactured goods for our factories and the world's marketplaces.

"Merchant ships contribute to our balance of payments. Merchant ships have carried emergency supplies to strife-torn and underdeveloped countries of the world and with them our desire for world peace and cooperation. In partnership with the armed services, the American Merchant Marine has stood ready to carry supplies to American men in every conflict in which our nation has been involved, including the present Vietnam effort.

"As Americans we are dependent on American ships and the men who sail them, And as partners with industry and the government in furthering our national objectives, our Merchant Marine has contributed immeasurably to our nation's prosperity and progress

"The Maritime Day poster has a significant message for all of us. I hope you will think about it when you see the message on the mail trucks and remember that the American Merchant Marine is also your partner."

Trails Program To Be Given

A display in the library this week features the Winchester Trails ecology field trips which are being offered to Winchester Public Schools' elementary school students this spring.

The trips to the Winchester conservation area, Smith Pond, are made possible through the efforts of 51 parent and student volunteers of the Winchester Trails organization.

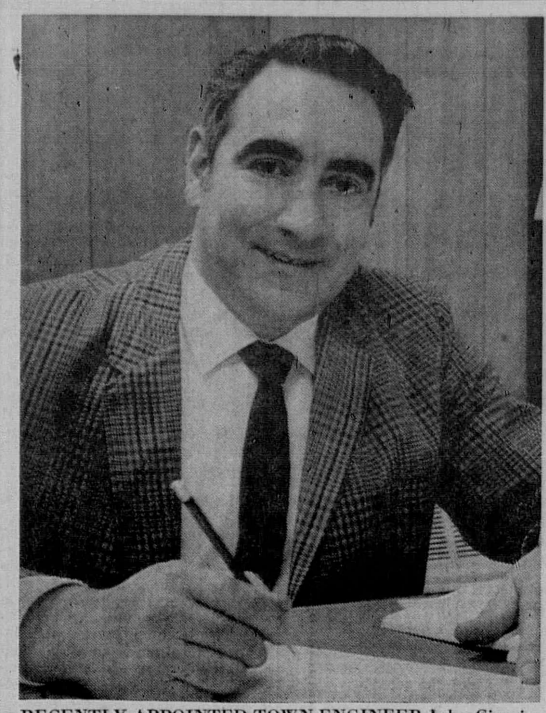

Pupils follow trails mapped and laid out to show the flora and fauna involved in pond progression. This spring high school students, too, are being trained in the workshops held for trail guides since the flexibility of the Campus Plan permits them to use their unassigned periods for such volunteer efforts.

Also new to this year's Trails program is the use of a kit of supplies for each small group on the trail. As the group makes its way around the pond they will take from the kit pond strainers, butterfly nets, magnifying glasses and plastic bags for observation of water insects and plants found. According to Trails Chairman Mrs. Fran Ver Planck, seeing water insects floating in the plastic bag reveals gills on the insects which never cease to amaze the boys and girls.

Should questions arise during their study of inter-relationships of animals and plant life at the pond this year each group will have pocket sized golden reference books for instant research on the trail.

Conservation is emphasized on the trips with pupils urged to replace overturned logs and salamanders and frogs after study. Collection is also discouraged in an attempt to preserve the area.

The in-school slide program given before the trip to prime the class for what to look for has been enriched this year by the in-school program chairman Mrs. Ginger Parsons. She has completed a tape explanation to accompany the slides.

Misconceptions On Discharges Are Explained

The Veterans Administration has moved to clear up misconceptions about two types of military discharges.

Citing the problem, Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said recently that misunderstanding about the differences between "honorable" and "general" discharge certificates are causing some veterans unjustified difficulties.

"Actually, both types of separation are completely acceptable for veterans benefits," Mr. Johinson explained.

He commented that the general discharge always has the qualifying phrase "under honorable conditions" because this type of separation is issued as evidence of honorable service.

The VA chief said some ex-servicemen have reported trouble obtaining employment after showing potential employers their general discharge certificates.

Rally To Open Lay Institute

A rally to begin a week-long Lay Institute for Evangelism will be held at Grace Chapel in Lexington. Howard Ball of Campus Crusade for Christ will be speaking.

"Any thinking person is well aware of today's problems. What the world needs is not an analysis of the problems, but a positive solution. It is time for concerned Christians to be trained to communicate positively and simply that Jesus Christ is the answer to crises — not only on a world scale, but also on a personal level," states Mr. Ball.

Campus Crusade for Christ International, a worldwide Christian organization and an evangelistic arm of the church, has conducted similar training programs around the world. The institute is designed to train church members how to live and share the abundant Christian life. This training is accomplished through seminars as well as lectures.

Opportunities will be given to enroll in the Lay Institute for Evangelism at the rally on Sunday, May 3 at 3 p.m. Additional institute sessions will be held at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, May 4-8. Final sessions will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, May 9 and 10.

Tennis Juniors Win Playoff

On Saturday, April 18, the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center played host to 24 young tennis enthusiasts from New England.

The players represented their tennis clubs in the final playoff for first and second places in the New England Junior Indoor Tennis League. This League developed several years ago to give and encourage tennis participation and tournament practice to a group of youngsters, who then carry on through tournament play outside.

The players range in age from 16 on down, involving ladder matches in the various clubs, to earn one of the six places on the team. The teams then play matches with other clubs every other Saturday evening from October through April. This season, 12 clubs have participated in the A League play.

Saturday found Winchester, Middlesex club of Lexington, the Turnpike Racquet Club of Plainville, and the Rhode Island Tennis Club of East Providence, Rhode Island playing off for the title. Winchester played against Rhode Island in the first round, winning by two points, thus eliminating Rhode Island.

Turnpike had a win of seven points over Middlesex, leaving Winchester and Turnpike playing the finals.

Nancy Anderson, Phil Kadesch, Leslie Vyce, Dan O'Connell, Francis Feith and Peter Wilson made up the Winchester team. The Winchester team took first place, beating Turnpike 47-38. A large red and white banner, a well deserved trophy for hard work and continued interest in developing better tennis, is hanging in the lobby of the Winchester Indoor Tennis Center.

Co-chairmen of the New England Tennis Indoor Tennis League are Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Lindgren of Winchester.

Relay Team Ties In State Meet

by John F. Parrell

Coach Nanny Marshall took his relay teams to Andover last Saturday and returned home with first place in the 880 yard relay event and also a fifth place in the 440 yard relay.

This gave the Sachems six points in the Division II competition which is made up in large part of schools considerably bigger than Winchester.

The 440 yard group made up of Mike Deshler, John McHugh, Ron Allard and Keith Doty sped the distance in 45.9 seconds and were close enough so that a fraction of a second would have placed them even higher.

The 880 yard team saw the same runners taking part except for the third leg where Rich Cantillon was inserted. They turned in the superb time of 1:34 which enabled them to deadlock for first honors with Andover.

The home team was the overall winner of the division. A toss for the first place medals in the 880 was won by Winchester so that the Sachems brought home individual trophies.

The time for the event was only a tenth of a second off the meet record and equalled the record of the 1963 Winchester team which has lasted for seven years. Runners on that team were: Paul Klores, Dick Rowe, Bill Thoms and Pete Cunningham.

Entries Invited In En Ka Parade

Floats or decorated cars, anyone? Everyone is welcome to enter the traditional En Ka Street Fair parade which opens the Fair on Saturday morning, May 16. (Of course the Fair runs Friday night, too, from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m.).

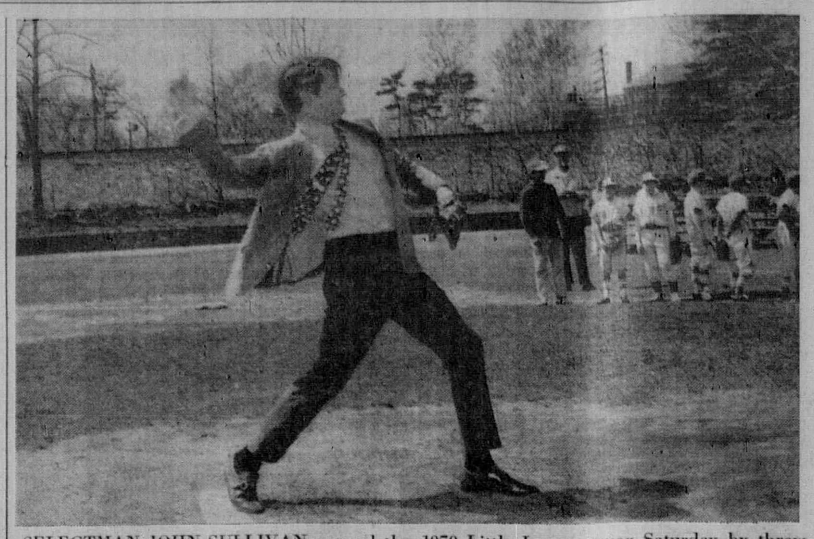

Two prizes will be awarded, one for the entry most in keeping with the theme of the Fair (this year Space, a salute to the first man on the moon) and one for the entry most appropriate to the organization.

Please get in touch with Mrs. Robert Gallant at 729-4672, if the organization would like to compete for a prize and/or show appreciation to En Ka Society for help to local charities.

The En Ka parade, which leaves the Winchester Theatre parking lot at 9 a.m. and snakes round and round through downtown, always attracts a large audience for its floats, antique cars and marching bands.

Musical groups also are welcome. Again, please let Mrs. Gallant know.

Charles Ducharme of Winchester is one of 49 trainees who will graduate Friday, May 1, from the Massachusetts Laborers' Training Center in Hopkinton. The program instructs men in specialized tasks required of laborers in today's construction industry.

Little League Opens Season

by Tom Wilber

Twenty-four teams took to the diamonds last Saturday in a series of doubleheaders which opened the 1970 season of the Winchester Little League.

Sunny skies combined with spectacular hitting to make the opening day a success.

Typical of the day's explosive hitting was an American Minor League contest in which the Whippets bested the Jaguars by a score of 18 to 1. The Jaguars have vowed to reverse the score in the next meeting of the two teams.

In another American Minor League game, the Wolves won their opener with a 16 to 11 victory over the Badgers. Power hitting on both sides was a feature of this game.

In a pitcher's duel which also featured a triple play by the victors., the Leopards shut out the Panthers by a 3-0 score in another American Minor League battle.

In the National Minor League, the Bears edged the Tigers in a close fought 16 to 15 victory. In a more one-sided contest in the same league, the Lions beat the Greyhounds, 28 to 5. Winding up the National Minor openers, the Bulldogs conquered the Ponies, 7 to 3.

In the Major Division of the American League, the Reds and the Mets played an opening day thriller, with the Mets finally taking it, 5 to 2. In the second half of this American Major doubleheader, the Athletics overpowered the Cardinals, 12 to 1.

In another American Major League game, the Astros and the Pirates played perhaps the most exciting game of opening day. In a hard-fought contest, the Astros managed a 1 to 0 shutout over the Pirates.

There was plenty of opening day excitement in the National League Majors with the Yankees overpowering the Red Sox, 16 to 1. In the same division, the Royals put together a 7 to 1 win over the Twins. In the concluding opening day battle in the National Majors, the Dodgers shut out the Braves in a 3 to 0 thriller.

Sachems Squelch Belmont By 6-1

by John F. Parrell

Winchester's baseball nine continued its victorious streak by trouncing Belmont 6-1 in a game postponed because of rain last Monday and played under near arctic conditions on Tuesday.

Manchester Field was still soggy from the rain and the dampness and chill had an effect upon players and the few faithful spectators alike. All were chilled to the bone.

However, Bruce Mullen was stingy with his hits and save for the second inning when his control was off he was never really in danger. He helped his own cause with a home run to left field which came after Belmont did some sloppy work on a foul ball that he hit. Not to be outdone Mike Gilberti followed with a wallop to left for four bases scoring Joe Campo to raise the margin to 4-1.

Two extra insurance runs came across in the Sachems' last time at the plate and the season's record went to 4-0 overall, and 3-0 in the Middlesex League.

Melrose Runners Top Sachems

by John F. Parrell

It was simply a case of too much well distributed man power as the Red Raiders of Melrose whipped the Winchester runners 82-49 in their annual spring meet. The home team ran up a top heavy margin in the field events and although the Sachem group fared somewhat better on the track the eventual result was never in question.

The feature event of the day was the 220 yard dash with Tony De Paolo, last year's state champion, and Keith Doty, this year's Class C indoor champion, meeting. It was a sensational race and when the two speedsters broke the tape the judges were unable to pick a winner and it was declared a dead heat.

Pee Wee Soccer Ties Boston

The Winchester Pee Wee soccer team was held to a scoreless tie last Sunday by Boston International at Franklin Field in Dorchester.

The Pee Wee Sachems had the better of the play throughout the game, but were unable to put across a goal in what turned out to be an outstanding match.

The Winchester defense, anchored by Jay James at center-halfback, contained the Boston attack so well that only one shot was taken on the Winchester goal during the entire game.

The Winchester boys had victory in their grasp during the second half, having scored from a free kick, but the referee disallowed the goal for a rule infraction.

Next Sunday, May 3, the Wee Sachems will host Medford at 2 p.m. on McDonald Field. Practice will be held on Saturday, May 2, at 2 p.m. on Leonard Field.

Wakefield Trims Sachem Runners

by John F. Parrell

On a raw, damp morning far better suited for anything but running Coach Manny Marshall's track team went down before a deep and talented Wakefield team by 94-37. The home team had far too many gifted performers for the Winchester group and led from the very outset.

Keith Doty, with three victories in the 100, 220 and the long jump, led the Winchester scorers and Bruce Hill added eight more points with a first in the high hurdles and a second in the low hurdles events. Other than in these spots the Wakefield depth prevailed and Bulfinch, their all round sophomore super star, took two firsts and a second in spite of the fact that he did not compete in the broad jump which is his specialty.

The meet proved one thing beyond a shadow of doubt and it is evident that more competitors are needed before the Sachems can hope to compete against the top opposition of the Middlesex League. This is in part due to the fact that Winchester with 547 boys is one of the smallest schools in the circuit and has more spring sports than the other schools. However, it must be pointed out that there are still many boys who could be out for the team but lack the interest or the desire to participate.

Those who are on the team are doing well but it is strictly a case of too few team members to adequately take part in a fourteen event meet plus the relay. Happier days seem to lie ahead since except for Lexington the remaining teams to be met are much more of equal strength to the locals so the season should balance out fairly well.

Penta No Hits Concord for JV

by John F. Parrell

Coach Vandy French's JV baseball nine kept up its winning ways with a pair of wins last week as they downed Concord by a horrendous 18-0 count with practically every boy getting a chance to play. The Wakefield game was a far different contest with the Sachems tallying a pair of runs in the final frame for a 4-2 victory.

Larry Penta completely handcuffed the Patriot batters and did not allow a safe hit while his mates cannonaded Concord pitching for 18 bingles. The game was won at the very start as Winchester registered four first inning runs and came up with five more in the next frame.

Pitching was also the name of the game against Wakefield with Peter Gerry hooked up with Croshon of the home nine. Garrity sent 12 batters down on strikes but Croshon was effective and tied the game at two all with a double.

The game was won by the Sachems as Dave Frongillo singled and Bob Carroll was hit by a pitched ball. Steve Deshler then smashed a long double to drive in the winning runs.

Lacrosse Team Splits Pair

Coach Gene Bouley's lacrosse team has been hard at work in preparation for its difficult schedule. The stick sport is not played by too many high schools but its popularity in Winchester is growing by leaps and bounds.

It has attracted a record number of participants and the school team must be rated well up in high school ranks in this fast growing sport. With so few high schools ready to play, the schedule must necessarily include prep school and college freshman groups but although these boys are older the experience of playing against them is both interesting and valuable.

The opening game with St. Mark's found the Sachem team short of defense players with Co-Captain Noel Webb sidelined because of a wrestling injury. This was further complicated by the fact that Pete Wardwell, another defense stalwart, was forced to fill in at goal. With these two experienced defense players out of their usual spot, the Winchester team was badly handicapped. The prep team won by 11-4 with Curt Woodward tallying three goals and the other went to Bob Thomas. Gary Fincke was credited with two assists.

Rick Murphy, a sophomore, moved into goal for the second game with the Tufts 1973 team and held off the young collegians as Winchester was the winner by 8-6. The first half saw the defense unable to clear its own zone and Tufts led at half time by 4-2.

However, the defense began to get the ball out to the offensive group and the latter controlled the ball well. The third period saw the Tufts lead shrink to 5-4 and set the stage for a four goal third period to bring the 8-6 victory. Bob Thomas had three goals in this game and Phil Sampson had a pair. Single goals went to John Thomas, Chris Osgood and Gary Fincke.

Sachem Nine Wins Two

by John F. Parrell

The Winchester baseball nine picked up a pair of victories last week at the expense of Wakefield and Reading to maintain its place at the top of the Middlesex League standings with Stoneham which is also undefeated.

John Reardon, who pitched a no-hitter in his first start against Concord, ran his string of hitless innings to 11 before Raffael of Wakefield singled in the fifth frame. It was another fine performance and the Sachem twirler mowed a dozen Wakefield batters down on strikes. Bill Wolfe was the big batting punch for Winchester with a single, double and triple.

The Reading game scheduled for Friday was postponed due to rain but when the teams met on Saturday it turned out to be a well played affair on both sides with Winchester pulling it out in the last inning by 2-1. George Greenwich, making his first start, held the visiting batters to four hits and Merullo on the mound for Reading pitched a heady game. Winchester scored first in the third inning as Mike Gilberti walked, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and crossed the plate on Ben Dolan's single.

In the fifth Chengler walked and went to second on a passed ball. Messenger reached on an error and then Brenton singled to score Chengler with the equalizer. However, Joe Campo singled in the seventh and Gilberti followed suit. Both advanced on a wild pitch and Bill Wolfe slashed a single with Campo crossing the plate for the winning marker.

Little League To Sponsor Fund Drive

Winchester Little League will hold its annual fund raising drive this year by raffling off a color television.

Chance books are now being printed and as soon as they are ready, they will be mailed out to all the boys in the Senior, Major, and Minor Leagues.

There will be prizes for the boys who sell the most chances. These are hoped to be tickets for various rides in the upcoming En Ka Street Fair on May 15 and 16.

The League hopes the residents will welcome the boys and support them by purchasing a ticket for this project. There will be over 600 boys participating in Little League this coming season and with the cost of equipment and uniforms needed to outfit them, it is essential that the drive be a success.

Unlucky Seventh For Local Nine

by John F. Parrell

The seventh inning is reputed to be a lucky one but it didn't turn out that way for the Winchester baseball nine as they went down to defeat at Lexington on Monday by 5-4. As a matter of fact it was also their seventh game but the magic number also failed in this respect so that their record is now no longer perfect but a highly creditable 6-1.

Winchester was definitely not in a hitting mood and Elefderakis, the lanky Lexington twirler, was in trouble as at times he managed to keep the Sachems at bay with men on base.

The only telling blow by Winchester was Mike Gilberti's smash which went for a triple in the fifth frame which scored losing pitcher Bruce Mullen and Joe Campo to deadlock the game at four all. Jody Modoono and Jim Kutrubus were the heroes for the Minutemen as they not only helped push over a third inning run with singles but also conspired for the winning run in the fatal seventh for Winchester. The third inning rally might have been even larger but for a nice throw by Bill Wolfe to erase Morrison at the plate.

Modoono opened the seventh by forcing Mullen to a 3-2 count and then fouled off several pitches before dumping a blooper into short right just out of reach of the Sachem defenders. He stole second and thus set up the winning run. His co-conspirator, Kutrubus, then smashed a ground rule double to right and set off a wild demonstration by the home team which has been having its troubles so far this season but this time had been able to knock off the leaders. Yes indeed, the seventh was definitely an unlucky one for the Sachems but they plan to get back on the winning track against traditional rival Woburn. The Tanners are also enjoying a successful season and are right up among the league leaders.

Troops 506, 507 Hike Trail

On April 19 and 20 two Winchester Boy Scout troops took part in an overnight camping trip to Acton and an early-morning Patriot's Day hike over the route followed by the Acton Minute-men on their way to the battle at Concord Bridge, on April 19, 1775.

The annual observance, started some 15 years ago by Acton Scoutmaster Ivan Wold and a handful of boys, has grown to more than two thousand participants each year, with boys and girls coming from as far as New Jersey.

The Acton D.A.R. chapter publishes a large facsimile document showing the authentic route of the Isaac Davis Trail — named for the gunsmith-farmer who was Captain of the Acton Minute-men, who led the march to the Old North Bridge, and who was killed there at the first encounter.

A copy of the document and an embroidered cloth patch showing the Concord Minute-man statue are awarded to each registrant who completes the seven-mile-plus hike. The present-day minute-man companies from Acton, Littleton, and other towns also make the march and take part in final ceremonies "by the rude bridge that arched the flood."

Those making the trip for the first year were, from Troop 507 — Forrest Abbott, Jay Cogan, Eric Freeman, Clay Hough, Dennis Murphy, Bob Black, Greg Black, Bill Dexter, Joe Murphy, John Melaragni, Bill Reynolds, and Peter Spinney. First-year boys from Troop 506 were Andy Stoeckle, Peter Lawrance, Charles Craig, Mike Goodman, Jesse Pelton, Edward Kelly, Tom Kelly, Dave Kelly, James Burns, John Andrick, John Parkhurst, Dave Parkhurst, and Gordon McIntosh.

Two-year veterans from Troop 507 were John Saylor and Peter Reynolds. From Troop 506 the two-year boys were Marty Kent, Robert Burns, David Burns, Robert Quine, David Pettee, Stewart Hoyt, Don O'Brien, Daniel Jaffe, Dave Bower, and Robert Kerr.

Four boys from Troop 506 were making the two-hour hike for the third successive year: Charles Dieterich, Thare MacDonald, David Trageser, and Tom Moore.

JOHN NICOLETTI of 26 Thornberry Road, a student in the post-secondary School of marketing and sales at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute in Danvers, was selected for three awards at the annual State DECA Leadership Conference held in Lynn. Awards were given for competition in sales, advertising promotion, training methods and marketing. He will be a member of the 30-student delegation from the school leaving today (April 30) for the National DECA convention in Minneapolis, Minnesota from May 1-4.

St. Mary's CYO Undertakes Tour Of New York City

Members of St. Mary's C.Y.O., their friends, and a group from Waltham devoted three days of their spring vacation, April 21-23, to a tour of New York City.

Father Bernard Hoy, advisor to the C.Y.O., was assisted by additional chaperones Beverly Basile, Tony Celli, Adrienne Kline, Joan Riehm, and Ruth Sylvester.

A chartered flight from Logan Airport settled the group at Kennedy Airport early Tuesday morning, April 21. They chose a hotel in the heart of the city for their stay.

While in New York, the travellers saw the movie version of "Hello Dolly," the play "Man of La Mancha," and at Radio City Music Hall "Airport."

An extensive bus tour took them through such famed areas of New York as Wall Street, Broadway, Times Square, Chinatown, the Bowery, and Fifth Avenue. Other excursions led them to the 65th floor of the Rockefeller Center, to West Point, and on a three-hour boat cruise of Manhattan Island.

On the final morning Father Hoy said Mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral. The trip was topped off by a party Thursday night at the nightspot "Uncle John's Straw Hat," after which 100 exhausted Winchesterites flew home.

The most devastating storm of 1968 occurred on May 15 when 67 different tornadoes swept through Alabama and several midwestern states, causing $36 million insured damage, says the Insurance Information Institute.

C.Y.O. Soccer

The St. Mary's soccer team beat the Dedham Jets by a score of 3-1, last Sunday. This was Winchester's third victory, and the first time they have been scored against.

Vincent Palumbo made the first score with the assist by Chip Whitman. Then the Jets scored, and tied it 1-1. Next to score was Joe Bowen. This made it 2-1, with St. Mary's leading.

Later in the game Chip Whitman scored on a penalty kick to make it 3-1. Both teams played well, but the Jets had a hard time getting past St. Mary's defense, and only reached the goalie four or five times.

Folk Festival Is Held At St. Eulalia's

"Smile on Your Brother" Folk Festival, sponsored by the Marycliff Center Encounter Group, netted $500.00 for the benefit of the Central Roxbuy Learning Center.

The Encounter Group, organized by Sister Dierdre Patrick, R.C.E., has as its main activity the introduction of folk liturgies into various parishes. Sunday evening, April 26, Manion Hall at St. Eulalia's was the scene of a lively and varied program of rock, folk and religious songs.

The entertainers included Ron Miller and Norm Petry, Oblate seminarians from Natick; Lana Molina of Woburn; Marilyn Severino of Medford; Glorianne Corso and Carla Nigro of Arlington; Marie Casey; Maryanne Johnson of Burlington; and Felicia and Schaeffer Sondey from Ashville, North Carolina.

Guest artist was Paul Quinlan, Jesuit seminarian, composer of many psalm melodies and folk songs. At present, Paul teaches at the Learning Center in Roxbury, headed by the Rev. Joseph Laughlin, S.J. Father Laughlin gave a brief summary of the innovations in learning, which rouse the native curiosity of the black children at the Center.

Frank Patrick was master of ceremonies and participated in a barbershop quartet. Elaine Govoni directed an exciting feature of psychedelic lighting and colorful slides which accompanied some of the numbers. Robert Govoni chaired the finance committee; Norma Govoni and Marie Donovan sold refreshments at intermission.

Selectmen Appoint Members To Recreation Committee; Discuss Aberjona Pollution

Two members were appointed to the Recreation Committee by the Board of Selectmen at its regular meeting Monday night in the Town Hall.

Appointed were Duane M. Belden of 50 Thornberry Road and James Frongillo of 5 West Chardon Road. Others considered for the position were Edward T. Conley of 21 Laurel Hill Lane, Kenneth B. Donaghey of 36 Eaton Street, John M. Falla of 306 Washington Street, and William J. Shinney of 5 Fairmount Street. All of the candidates, with the exception of Mr .Shinney, were interviewed by the Board early in the meeting.

The appointments were made by ballot and the vote required four ballots to break ties for the two positions.

Superintendent of Streets Robert O'Brien and Highway Department Mechanic Michael Luise appeared before the Board to discuss recent bidding for a street sweeper for the Highway Department. It was determined by the Board to advertise for new bids for the sweeper as the original bid specifications were thought to be too restrictive.

Pole location hearings were held for poles on Squire Road, Atherton Road, Blossom Hill Road and Central Street.

In the final hearing of the evening, the Board met with the Water and Sewer Board to discuss complaints received by the Selectmen relative to raw sewerage entering the Aberjona near the Mystic Lakes and to discuss the Board's need for office space with regard to the study being made of Town Hall renovations.

Sewerage

It was reported to the Selectmen by the Water and Sewer Board that sewerage did enter the Aberjona at the head house near Wedgemere Station whenever a heavy storm occurred. This has happened for many years, they said, because during storms back-ups occur in a pipeline maintained by the MDC and sewerage is forced out of the head house on the bank of the Aberjona.

Water Superintendent Thomas W. Conlon said part of the problem was people who drained ground water from their cellars into the sewer line since the sewer line was designed to handle only the sanitary sewerage. Consequently, the line becomes surcharged during storms and the head house area begins leaking raw sewerage into the river.

It was also noted at the hearing that more tie-ins have been made to the MDC line farther north, causing a heavier initial load on the line.

The Board said that this was a regional problem currently being worked on by the MDC and the Town. Selectman Paul Amico suggested that the Water and Sewer Board send a written statement of the problem to the Selectmen.

In other business the Board granted several licenses. These included two hackney licenses for William P. Falzano; Lord's Day licenses for Malcolm McDonald, E. M. Loew's theatre, Cumberland Farms, Dairy Barn Drive-In, and D'Agostino's Delicatessen; and a tag day license for the VFW for Poppy Day. Held over for further study was an application from the Children's Own School for a public amusement license to maintain and use a "whip" on the school grounds.

Housing Authority

The Selectmen also discussed appointments for the Housing Authority authorized by the 1970 Annual Town Meeting, and it was determined to vote on the appointments at the May 11 regular meeting of the Board.

Early in the meeting, the Selectmen had signed the maps for the closing of streets in the area of the new high school, however, after further inspection of the maps, it was determined that there were errors in the maps and it was voted by the Board to have the signatures stricken. The maps were not in accordance with the April 13 vote of the Selectmen.

Complaint Applications Filed Against Shore Road Closing

Seven applications for complaints against the Board of Selectmen, the Highway Department and the White Construction Company have been filed with the Clerk of Courts at Woburn for alleged violations against the Town By-laws and the State General Laws.

The applications for complaints have been filed by Arthur J. Hewis Jr. and by Clara M. Hewis, both of 91 Swanton Street.

According to the Hewis', a show-cause hearing will be held at the Woburn Court on Wednesday, May 13th on five of the seven applications. Two were not scheduled for hearing at this time as, according to the Hewis', "It may be necessary for further clarification between the complainants and the Clerk's office (it may appear that these are duplications of previously mentioned items)."

The following are the applications for complaints:

1)Defendant: White Construction Company, Agents or Employees, Burlington. Offence: Violation of General By-Laws, Town of Winchester, Article III, Sect. 15 "Obstruction of a Public Way" Northerly intersection of Shore Road at Skillings Road April 24, 1970 to present. Wooden barrier.

Column from Concern

CONCERN feels it would be a public service to publish letters from young people. The letters, from children in other towns as well as Winchester, will contain, in the writer's words, his or her feelings about drugs and experiences with drugs. When printed in the paper the writer's name will be withheld.

The writer of this week's letter granted permission for the name to be used, however, CONCERN feels it best to follow the policy used on previous letters.

Anyone wishing to respond to the letter should write to Code E, Box 293, Winchester, 01890.

"I am writing this letter in response to the booklet that was mailed to all residents of Winchester on Drug Abuse. The name (It's Time For Concern). I want to congratulate you and the people responsible for it. More people throughout the State and country should do the same. It shows that the adults care and want to help kids that are involved in drugs. This is the first time in my life of using drugs that I heard of a whole community trying to solve the Drug Problem.

"I myself prayed for this day to come, and I pray for the day that we rid ourselves of this problem forever. So, in the future, parents and youth won't have to worry about drugs entering their lives and destroying them forever. But as you know it is some-

School Committee Revises Redistribution Proposals Following Public Hearing

Comments by Winchester citizens at the Monday evening, May 4, public hearing on the issue of redistricting and redistribution conducted by the School Committee have led this body to modify several areas of their original proposals.

All proposals will affect only next year's entering classes.

Following a review of opinions expressed by parents at this time, it was decided to offer for consideration that seventh grade students only, those entering this grade in September of 1970, be transferred from McCall Junior High School to Lynch Junior High .

This requires the enlargement of the originally outlined district to include the following streets: White, Rock Avenue, Fitzgerald Avenue, Shepard Court, Arthur, Hill, Thompson Place, Loring Court, Loring Avenue, Lochwan, Kirk, Wendell, Cleveland Road, Cross, Bradford Road, Charles Road, George Road, East, Holton, Newton, Baldwin, Lowell, Verplast Avenue, River, Pine Grove Park, Highland View Avenue, Adams, Swanton, Chapin Street, Chapin Court, Cedar, Tremont, Winter, Summer, Oak, Olive, Florence, Raymond, Columbus, Chester, Harvard, Spruce, and Holland.

A second area which has been revised will recommend the transfer of students from only grades one, two, and three of Parkhurst School to Marycliff Academy in the fall. Students in kindergarten and grades four, five, and six who will be encompassed by the new district will remain at Parkhurst in order to maintain reasonable class size at Marycliff.

In the first proposal children who will be entering kindergarten through sixth grade would have been affected. The Marycliff district will still be formed primarily from the Wyman district.

Muraco Redistribution

The original proposal to send sixth grade students from Noonan School to Muraco has been amended to substitute fourth grade pupils in this group. Besides providing the additional classroom space needed at Noonan, this will allow the transferred Noonan School fourth graders to spend three sequential years at Muraco.

The tentative plan to shift approximately 20 fourth graders from Lincoln and 17 sixth graders from Mystic remains intact. About 18 Noonan School children will be involved.

The hearing provided an opportunity for concerned parents to voice their individual problems with student reshuffling in the past and as they would be affected in the fall. The nature of many of these complaints was found to be recurring.

Norton E. Demsey Jr., coordinator of guidance and programming, made the administration's presentation, detailing projected enrollments and recommended transfers in the schools concerned.

Several persons informed the audience that they had children in both of the junior high schools. And it appeared that the same block of children was constantly being involved in such redistricting projects, in particular the Loring Avenue area was cited.

Speaking on the problem of junior high school students from the same family being split between the two junior highs, McCall Principal Joseph C. Forte

Anti-Litter Week Campaign Is Planned By Garden Club

The Winchester Garden Club is sponsoring Anti-Litter Week from May 9th through the 16th. The purpose is to alert everyone to help eliminate littering, a problem which requires additional attention during the season of outdoor living and eating.

While the Highway and Park Departments go about their daily routine of cleaning the streets and public areas, it is impossible to keep ahead of the continuing carelessness of the general public. If this problem is to be solved, each person must do his part. Litter is everyone's responsibility.

On May 9th, the Boy Scouts will actively participate in the Anti-Litter Campaign. Nolan Jones, district chairman, reports that all eight Cub Scout Packs and eight Boy Scout Troops in his Winchester area will be "picking up" the grounds of their sponsors: the schools, churches and fraternal organizations who provide "homes" for the Cub and Scout meetings. Plans also include work on the Maley and Smith Pond conservation areas.

In addition, also on Saturday, May 9th, the Sachem Girl Scouts will join together by taking part in a "Litter-Bag In." Brownie, Junior and Cadette Troops will work in central and neighborhood areas cleaning up litter and trash. These two groups are fulfilling their scout obligations by educating their members, and encouraging the community to become "litter-free."

Through the courtesy and cooperation of the Park Department, the girls will meet at Wedge Pond Beach for a luncheon cook-out, prepared by the Senior Girl Scouts. This entire program is under the direction of Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald, Neighborhood chairman, and her scout leaders.

During the year, since Winchester's first Anti-Litter campaign, the entire nation has become deeply concerned about the subjects of ecology and pollution and the disastrous effects to be expected from the contamination of our air, waters and earth. Litter may be considered one form of pollution, perhaps the most easily controlled, if every individual does his or her share. Co-operation and thoughtfulness combined with the physical act of "picking up" and "cleaning up" wherever litter is found will not only alleviate the danger to health and improve the appearance of the whole town, but could eliminate "litter" completely.

Massachusetts Department of Public Works issued a publication distributed by the Registry of Motor Vehicles. It reads as follows:

"If you had $774,948, would you throw it out the window? Of course you wouldn't. And neither would anyone else. But the fact is $774,948.00 of your money was spent in 1968 to clean up the litter strewn along our state highways by thoughtless motorists. We say we wouldn't throw our money out the window. But we do!"

While one week's effort cannot solve the long-range litter problem, at least a significant beginning can be made. The Winchester Garden Club hopes to alert everyone to "care," and to "do" something about making Winchester litter free — today and every day.

Pesticide Collection Scheduled May 15 At Town Highway Yard

A collection of pesticides banned or restricted in Massachusetts will be held Friday, May 15 from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Town Yard on Lake Street.

Winchester Tree Warden Robert O'Brien has set the date in accordance with the Department of Natural Resources of the Commonwealth which is sponsoring the collection.

Residents should bring the pesticides to the Town Yard which is opposite Wedge Pond. If possible, the box or container of the pesticide should be wrapped in a water-tight package before it is delivered. The collection is for one day only.

The pesticides which are banned are DDT, DDD, Aldrin, Endrin, TDE, Heptachlor and Toxaphene. Dieldrin may be used only with a permit. Chlordane and Benzenehexachloride (BCH) must not be used as tree sprays or as mosquito controls.

It is necessary for each resident to check packages for ingredients contained in a particular pesticide as these are chemical, not brand, names. Any pesticide containing one of these ingredients should be brought to the Town Yard on May 15.

Neighbors should cooperate to see that all this material is collected in their area and delivered to the Lake Street site.

State Requirement

Every community in Massachusetts has been required to participate in this drive. Various intermediate collection points have been designated at State Parks and Massachusetts Audubon Society sanctuaries around the state.

In turn, these collections will be delivered to Cohasset, for storage in a World War II bunker. One such bunker is already filled with over 65 tons of this material.

Storage in these concrete containers is the only method so far devised to make sure the pesticides will not enter the food chain. The private citizen is asked to realize that flushing or dumping these materials will cause problems. These chemicals cannot be burned-off even at town incinerator temperatures. The one safe disposal is to donate to this drive.

According to the Massachusetts Audubon Society, these pesticides should not be thrown away in the usual manner because they will not break down into harmless substances but will persist in the environment concentrating in living organisms and in some cases interfering with body processes.

In next week's edition of the Star, a list of alternate pesticides approved by the Pesticide Board of Massachusetts for eliminating common household insects such as ants and earwigs will be published.

Fire Station Open House

As in the past years, Saturday, May 9, will be celebrated as "Fire Service Recognition Day" throughout the country.

In Winchester the Fire Department will have open house from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All citizens are cordially invited by Chief Engineer I. Francis Amico to visit Fire Headquarters, inspect the equipment and station, and meet the various members of the Department.

Annual Meeting Of WCCA Slated

The Winchester Council for Community Action (WCCA) will hold its annual spring meeting at the First Congregational Church on Tuesday, May 12 at 8 p.m.

All new residents are especially invited to attend this meeting which concerns black and white activities in Winchester.

Representatives from six organizations have been invited to speak briefly to describe their particular programs. These are Neighbors for an Open Winchester; Winchester Schools administration-black and white curriculum; Opportunities for Industrial Centers (OIC); The Elma Lewis School and Cultural Center; Six Weeks Adventure; and Fund for Urban Negro Development (FUND).

Following these short introductions, the audience will break up into small groups, meeting with each of the representatives for questions and discussion.

It is hoped that by this informal discussion those attending will become aware of Winchester's opportunities to become involved here and in Boston—both through WCCA and as individuals.

Available at the meeting will be copies of the "Six Weeks Adventure Magazine-1969." The magazine contains stories, drawings and poems by the children enrolled last year. Also, candid photos and art work will be displayed.

Main Roads Are Scenes Of Accidents

Three of Winchester's more well traveled roads, Main Street, Mystic Valley Parkway, and Cambridge Street (Route 3), were the scenes of several motor vehicle accidents this week.

As the automobile operated by Harrison E. Radford of 108 Highland Avenue was moving south on Main Street Saturday morning, May 2, it came in contact with that driven by Fredrik Hjaltason of 16 Lloyd Street, who was proceeding left around the rotary in the Center from Church Street.

In mid-afternoon of that day a three-car collision in the parking lot of Mahoney's Rocky Ledge Farm and Nurseries, 242 Cambridge Street, was reported. The area was described as "congested" in the police report filed by Officer Joseph N. Perritano Jr.

Mrs. Ruth C. Duffy of Medford apparently hit the rear bumper of an automobile operated by Leopold Rauchensteiner of Dorchester, which was then pushed into the right real quarter panel of that driven by Betty M. Bone of 200 Swanton Street.

Officer Kevin P. Mawn responded to a call of an accident at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 3, at Mystic Valley Parkway and Main Street. Frederick D. Greene of 25 Canterbury Road was moving west on Mystic Valley Parkway, had stopped at the stop sign and was proceeding through the intersection when he came into contact with the vehicle operated by William J. DiTrapano of Medford, was was traveling north on Main.

Damage to Mr. Greene's and Mr. DiTripano's vehicles, respectively, was to the right rear door and quarter panel and to the left front fender, grill and hood.

Approximately 15 minutes later the intersection at Mystic Valley Parkway and Bacon Street was the scene of a single-car accident. Robert W. Mason Jr. of Roxbury reported to Officer Roger J. DeMinico that he had skidded on the wet pavement while moving west on the Parkway, striking and knocking over the blinking red light at this crossway. Damage to his car was on the left front quarter.

Monday morning, May 4, Robert Marchand of Lowell was issued a citation for operating a motor vehicle negligently and endangering lives following an accident involving only his automobile in front of 242 Cambridge Street.

"Considerable damage" to the display island in front of Mahoney's Rocky Ledge Farm and Nurseries was entered in the police report filed by Officer Donald F. Jackson. Damage to Mr. Marchand's car was to the right front and rear fenders. Mr. Marchand told police that he had been forced off the road by an oncoming car, however, this was not corroberated by a witness to the accident.

Vandalism Continues

Broken windows again headline acts of vandalism occuring around town this week.

Windows on residences on Brookside and Highland Avenues were shattered by BB shots. The rear window of a sedan was smashed while parked in a Swanton Street lot, as was a four by six foot window on a Main Street business. At institutions it was reported that Marycliffe Academy lost three windows, 10 by 12 inches on the west side, while at the Winchester Public Library it was an eight by 10 inch pane on the north side.

Also at Marycliffe nails were driven into the tires of construction equipment at this site and four stock hubcaps were taken from an automobile parked in a Bacon Street driveway. The doors on a bulletin board at Bacon Street and Fenwick Road had been broken and twisted.

Three juveniles have been apprehended for setting off firecrackers on the concrete porch of a Main Street home and otherwise disturbing the residents.

Building 19½ Sales Co.

13 Olympia Ave., Woburn, Mass. — 935-4620 (Off Washington Street)

Dear Friends of Building #19½:

My handy dandy Store Owners Calendar and Tote Sheet (hereinafter referred to as SOCATS) recommends that this week's advertising should deal strictly with Mother's Day items. Harry thought that I should follow the advice of SACATS. I argued that commercializing Mother's Day was disrespectful, irreverent, and would jeopardize our standing with the under-thirty set. Harry argued back that it was our solemn duty to market merchandise that would make the mothers of America happy by easing their work load or by demonstrating the love and affection of their children. Since it's Harry's money, I conceded. Accordingly, I am listing herewith a few gift suggestions:

UTILITY MATS — Husky, sponge rubber utility mats, so mom can be more comfortable while scrubbing the floor on her hands and knees. Be a sport, buy her two; one for every day, one for best. They're only 57c each.

GOLD TABLEWARE—Elegant 1881 Roger's tableware, quality gold electroplated by Oneida Ltd. — won't tarnish — safe in dishwater — 55-piece service for eight, nationally advertised at $119.95, our price $75.70 — 79-piece service for twelve, nationally advertised at $149.95, our price $94.40.

BED RESTS — Comfortable, six-cornered, bed-rest pillows in prints and solid corduroys at only $1.90, selling elsewhere at $3.95 to $5.95.

IMPORTED ITALIAN SANDALS — Special seasonal import, regularly $3.95 and $4.95, now reduced so mom can finally get comfortable, to $2.00 a pair. 100% genuine bona fide leather, not to be confused with imitations.

PORTABLE RADIOS — So your dear, devoted mother can listen to the Red Sox games while she is raking and mowing the lawn.

LEATHER GOODS —A large selection of famous-brand luggage in all sizes and price ranges — Lady Buxton, Barton and other wallets, key cases, clutches, change purses, cigarette cases, jewelry boxes — all below dealer cost, some complete sets, some odd pieces, some odd sales people.

DECORATOR TELEPHONES — Continental, decorator "French" telephones recognized by the Bell telephone system (They install at extra cost of course), nationall advertised at $29.95, our price $17.90.

CUTLERY SETS — Oneida, seven-piece cutlery sets plus carving block, their price $29.95, our price $17.90.

This list is by no means complete, but today is too nice a golf day for me to spend any more time looking for gifts for your mother. You'll have to do the rest yourself. Whatever you choose (if you're astute enough to buy it here) will be backed by our sincere, "no-hard-time" money-back guarantee.

Cordially,

Jerry Ellis

Fire Department Gets Mechanic John J. Farrell

Firefighter John J. Farrell Jr. of 6 Royal Street has returned to the Winchester Fire Department as mechanic. Prior to his departure from the force in January of this year, he had served seven years with the department.

The assignment, announced by Fire Chief I. Francis Amico, fills the vacancy left in this position since Firefighter Farrell assumed a place with an industrial firm. He previously held the duties of both the mechanic and a firefighter. The regular mechanic, Robert Haggerty, has been out on leave due to an accident received while on duty.

The present enrollment of 44 firefighters in the Winchester Department will be increased by four within the next year. Such additional personnel were voted at Town Meeting in view of the future 42 hour shift given firefighters.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

Flags in Winchester stood at half-staff this week in mute testimony to the death of yet another Winchester young man in Vietnam.

Chief Warrant Officer Willard S. Cannon III had lived in Winchester for 20 of his 23 years. A graduate of the high school, he worked summers for a construction company here. He was well known here and will be loved and remembered by many. A helicopter pilot, he was due to return home in April but had just begun an extension of his duty when he was killed on April 29. His service to his country speaks for itself.

Nothing can make up for his loss; but in his memory we must dare to make the dream of peace a reality so that no others need die there.

A Few Spankings?

"Ridiculous!" was our sentiment yesterday morning upon viewing the headlines in the Boston papers. "B.U. Cancels Graduation; B.C.'s Joyce Backs Strike . . ." "35 Colleges Struck in New England . . ." "Flag Incident Marks Rally . . ."

It strikes us that no matter how important they think they are, college students really aren't the mainstay of the country. Their strikes can't hurt the country's economy, which is the main thing that striking workers attempt to accomplish in order to bring industry to its knees and to attain their goals. But can the students hurt the colleges economically by their strike? After all, their tuition is paid, whether or not they attend classes, and it is only their own or their parents' money students are throwing away. The faculty, secure with salaries to be paid on contract, can't possibly object to an extended summer vacation.

Back in the days when we went to college (which wasn't very long ago at all!), if a student cut too many classes he was placed on probation and then, if he continued to cut, he was dismissed, or, he flunked out. Perhaps the administrators once again should be in command at their respective schools and should rule by dismissing the student strikers. After all, it was once a privilege to attend college. Many "C" students who would have worked for that degree could not gain admittance to college because they had not proven themselves part of the intellectual elite. Maybe it is they, and not the strikers who deserve to be in college right now. Perhaps it would be well to summarily dismiss all the striking students. After all, if they're not in class they can't be very much interested in the education.

It is our contention that it is about time the adult population of this country stopped running scared of its youth. Sure they are bright, sure they have some good ideas, but discipline is a large part of productive intelligence. Four students dead on a college campus is enough reason to return the upper hand to the administration before the troops have to be called.

Perhaps a few well placed spankings during the formative years would have prevented this sorry state?

Pesticides Must Go

A pesticide collection will be held in Winchester on Friday, May 15, under the auspices of the State Department of Natural Resources and the Winchester Tree Warden, and we urge residents to read the labels on any pesticides they may have and turn the restricted and banned ones into the Town Yard between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. on the day of collection.

The pesticides which are banned in Massachusetts are listed in a story on page one of this week's Star. Read them carefully. These are chemicals which have been found to linger in the environment and cause damage over a period of years. They may not be disposed of by the usual procedure of dumping or burning as they continue to cause danger.

It must be remembered that these are the names of chemicals contained in pesticides and are not the brand names of any pesticides. State law requires the collection of all pesticides with these chemicals as ingredients so residents should check their supplies immediately to determine if they own any of the offenders.

Coexist With Road Problem

Editor of the Star:

I do not intend to speak, presumptuously, for my neighbors as the previous writer has. However, I feel the following comments may help to put issues into proper prospective with regards to the closing of Holland and Spruce Streets due to construction of our new High School.

Certainly, the closings have created an inconvenience, for we must now take a less direct route to the center and to the train station whether we walk or drive.

Motorists do continue to ignore the "street closed" signs which does create some confusion when it becomes necessary that they turn in driveways to re-orientate themselves, however, I expect this occurrence will diminish.

There are usually two sides to every issue and this one is no exception, because there are some benefits to be derived from the closings.

The first plus to be considered, is the sudden disappearance of vehicular traffic from the center to Swanton Street businesses and the incinerator. Previous to the closings, Shore Road and Spruce Street provided the shortest route to the incinerator from the center and was used heavily. In addition to excessive traffic flow, we are twice blessed in being rid of the too numerous "speeders" who used this direct route as a drag strip. This loss should be welcomed by all of us with small children.

Second, I expect many will have less "street cleaning" to do because there was much accidental dropping of refuse as our counterparts from other areas in town made their weekly constitutional to the incinerator.

Third, is the noticeable reduction of vehicular noises which helps to tone down our surroundings in general.

We must also consider another bonus, that is, the absence of large construction vehicles which had begun to use Holland and Spruce Streets as entrance and departure routes to the construction site, since the closings, they are forced elsewhere.

As I have mentioned in the beginning, I do not presume to speak for the entire neighborhood. I full well realize that there must be some of us who live on the immediate periphery of the construction site who are most unhappy with the clatter and especially the dirt and dust of it all.

However, for those neighborhood people who seem so surprised about road and walkway changes to our area I say, "where were you when these decisions were being formulated."

Month upon month of open building committee meetings took place, the proceedings of which were well documented in the Winchester Star and Woburn Times.

Some of us are not shocked because, as interested parties, we attended many of those meetings and are well aware of the intended changes.

The end result to be sure, will be a compromise, but one with which we can learn to co-exist.

Court Case Over Dr. Klemer

Editor of the Star:

Interest in firing of Klemer increases ten fold:

Many taxpayers, voters, non-voters, have been increasing their interest in the firing of Superintendent Klemer by the preceding School Committee. "He was fired, wasn't he, why doesn't he stay fired?" "Who does the present School Committee think they are, the untouchables" "Those Holier than Thous, do they think we are stupid, it will probably turn out that the School Committee will be the stupid ones" Ribald language, profanity even, knew no bounds and so it went.

On Tuesday, May 5, 1970, the Court heard arguments on the Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order which is quoted here: "Now comes the petitioner in the above entitled matter and moves that he be allowed to amend his petition by adding a prayer for a Temporary Restraining Order against the Respondents (School Committee) from extending the time when the contract of one Donald A. Klemer, as Superintendent of Schools of the Town of Winchester to the end of his term in June, 1971 as against the term ending in June of 1970, thus leaving the said Superintendent of Schools in the same position as he was before the filing of this petition; and since a Demurrer brought by the Respondents in this case was sustained, it allows the Petitioner on appeal to the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts to have the said Donald A. Klemer in the same position as Superintendent of Schools of Winchester as he was before the newly elected School Committee extended his term to June of 1971."

It was suggested to the Special Town Counsel that he agree to the facts as stated and it would aid the Superior Court and the Supreme Judicial Courts in deciding said case but the learned Counsel sure of victory, refused.

Thank all of you laymen for your support and since your Petitioner is a poor struggling neophyte in the law, whom my spouse has said that for the sponduli spent on going to the Supreme Court, we could have a vacation or even a shack in the country in which to do our meditating, a few bucks will be gratefully received.

It is still "Vox Clamantis In Deserto" which came from the Holy Bible by Saint Paul when he said he baptized one whom he was not fit to put on this Holy One's shoes, commonly called John the Baptist when he baptized the Christis.

Softball League Asked For Girls

Editor of the Star:

I am 12 years old and like very much to play ball. (softball or hardball) I realize Winchester is a small town but there is not one girls' softball league that I know of in the community.

I don't expect there to be a hardball league, but I think there should be one if not more softball leagues. Many other girls feel the same way I do and would like to know if there's anything we or any one else can do to start one. Thank you.

Very truly yours,

Collection Of Pesticides

Editor of the Star:

As we learn in the Star, and on posters in our churches, Winchester will have a one-day collection of "hard pesticides" May 15.

Numerous people are asking, so we all need to know: What are "hard pesticides?"

First, they are dangerous! They are members of a chemical family known as chlorinated hydrocarbons, which persist in soil or water for many years. They build up in concentration in living tissue and have been discovered to relate to induction of cancer; production of malformed offspring by mothers exposed in pregnancy; and changes in genetic material.

Because of these horrors our laws are starting to stiffen and people are beginning to think and act. We are getting to action slowly. Some fear we are already too late.

It's important to know that "hard pesticides" are carried in streams and oceans to points as distant as the Pole, where evidence of DDT has been found in penguins, fish, etc. Pesticides can be carried in the air as well. They cannot be destroyed by burning at temperatures of Town incinerators.

Pesticides are stored in fatty tissues including brain. As no experimentation on human beings is permissible, it is impossible to say precisely what dosages will produce reactions in man. Laboratory animals are those tested and where discoveries have been made.

The Public Library can direct anyone interested to more complete information about pesticides and their dangers. Ask the reference librarian for the pesticide file.

The May 2 1970 issue of the Saturday Review magazine has an article "DDT in Mother's Milk" which should be required reading for every United States citizen. The Massachusetts Audubon Society May-June 1970 News Letter has five pages devoted to pesticides. Read them!

The responsibilities in this day and age are almost overpowering. I personally regret the need to call attention to one more problem of society. But I'm waking up to the fact that you and I — not some vague they — are the government. You and I have to help each other keep informed, so we can act intelligently together. Don't forget May 15!

Clean Up Aberjona

Editor of the Star:

The Aberjona River is a mess. It is dirty, smelly and rat infested. For all the charitable work we may do for others; for all the donations we may give for national projects — we could spend some time and effort improving our own immediate environment.

Let's clean up the Aberjona! What this needs is good intentions translated into eight hours of hard labor. For all of us who say "something ought to be done" let's put our money where our mouth is. Call us.

BOOK REVIEW

by Katrine C. Laban
Winchester Public Library

THE ANDERSON TAPES

by Lawrence Sanders

This novel of a crime and its solution is chillingly realistic. Told as a series of tape recordings made from various bugged sources — apartments, offices, telephones and telephone booths, cars, bars, etc. — it clearly demonstrates the inefficiency of investigative services when they are not coordinated. City, State and Federal governments and private agencies all hadhad partial information on the intended crime and had they been able to pool their facts in a central clearing house, it need never have happened. The agencies were all investigating different subjects — narcotics, the Mafia, adultery — and only through a central agency could their unrelated tapes have made a complete story.

There are a confusing number of characters in the book and it takes a while for each to come through as an individual. The device of taped conversations carried on in assumed privacy provides for extremely graphic speech, some of which must be read to be believed, sprinkled with terms surely unfamiliar to many readers, although their meanings quickly become self-evident. "The Anderson Tapes" is not a book for the squeamish, but it was not written, I am sure, as a sop to the apparently current reader interest in salaciousness, even though it has made the Boston Best Seller list.

There is indictment here of man's infinite capacity to fool himself and inherent pathos. The protagonist, John Anderson, a professional thief with a prison record, was an uneducated but highly intelligent Kentucky mountain man. Completely amoral by society's standards, he had his own rigid code of conduct and was accepted in the underworld as a natural leader, thoroughly trustworthy, one who would never break in a clinch. Yet he had his gentleness in his character which both his victims and pursuers recognized, though not his lady friends. He was deeply troubled by paradoxes, being himself a paradox. Ten years before the crime in question, he had written —

"In other words, crime is not just a little thing, a small part of society, but it right in there, and it makes up most of what everyone calls normal, right and desent living. Let us list them.

"When a woman will not give in to a man unless he marrys her, that could be called extortion or blackmail . . .

"Or a big country like the USA goes into a small country and buys the kind of govt we want. This is criminel bribery . . .

"We teach young kids in the army what is the best way to kill people. Murder —

"Similar to above, anyone who says I will kill myself if you do not do like I want, that is also extortion. Or maybe blackmail . . . What I am saying is this, that crime is not just breaking laws because everyone does it. I do not know if this is something new or has been going on for many years. But we are all criminels . . . It is just a question of degree . . . "

Rationalization? Think about it. Better still read his whole transcript of which the above are a very small part (and almost the only excerpts printable).

Even the Mafia types, who would kill without compunction, have strong and tender family ties. It is the women in this book and the "effeminate" men, to quote a euphemism used by a cop, whose words and thought processes lack the authenticity of the others. They do not seem to have many redeeming features. Perhaps if they had, they would not be where they are. Even so, one pities them.

The action is very fast and absorbing, but don't put this book on your night table for the casual guest. It needs a picked audience.

Since the first Veterans Administration representatives reported to Long Binh, Vietnam, in January of 1967, to give Army troops unprecedented battlefield orientation on G. I. Bill benefits, more than 855,000 service men and women in Vietnam have been briefed.

School Comm.

responded that approximately five or six families were in this situation. In a memorandum to Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer, Mr. Forte outlined the case for the shift of 40 students to Lynch. Five classes of elementary students will be moved from the lower floor of Lynch to Marycliff Academy in September, 1970, allowing the absorption of pupils from McCall. Based upon the rule of 25 students per classroom, Lynch can accommodate an increase of 125 students over its present 680. The availability of these five classrooms would solve future enrollment problems for both schools, until possibly the fall of 1972 when a projected increase of 35 students at McCall would prove difficult to handle. Space in the renovated high school building could then house McCall increases in 1973, 1974, and 1975.

Adjustments

The Committee was impressed by the arguments presented on the differences between uprooting students just entering the seventh grade and those already acclimated to a particular school environment in the eighth grade. A poll taken at the hearing indicated that parents preferred to transfer only seventh grade pupils.

Mr. Demsey explained that the basis of the original plan had been to take the "smallest area nearest to Lynch." The new proposal will place less emphasis upon distance and geography and take into more consideration student and family adjustment.

In the discussion of the proposals for relieving overcrowding at the elementary level, School Committeeman Stephen Parkhurst stated some of the criteria used in determining the shifts as walking distance, walking conditions (including sidewalks), bus routes, and grade distribution. He also noted that an effort was made to limit the number of split grades.

Present at the hearing was Muraco School Principal Richard H. Young who said that he would prefer a more even distribution of fourth, fifth, and sixth graders into his school, rather than the transfer of blocks of pupils at particular grade levels. He favors the neighborhood or district school.

Reiterated by members of the audience was a prediction that 18 volunteers from Noonan to attend Muraco School would not be forthcoming. Several parents outlined family histories involving as many as five shifts among Winchester schools for one child. A recommendation from the audience that Lincoln pupils be allowed to visit the open space classrooms at Muraco was taken favorably by the School Committee.

Evaluation

A digression from the redistribution discussion led to the information that the Muraco School evaluation made recently by graduates at Harvard University will be aired at a future School Committee meeting. Other evaluations of this system have been made by Dr. Anderson and by the Winchester school system.

Taking this opportunity to make a brief report on plans for modifications of the elementary schools through to about 1980 was Lawrence E. Beckley, chairman of the Elementary School Building Sub-committee. Under this proposal Mystic will be the first elementary school to undergo such changes and expansion in about January of 1973. McCall students will then be moved o the "Manchester Field Junior High School," allowing all of the Mystic pupils to be shifted to McCall until renovations are completed. The same plan would be followed in sequence by Noonan, Wyman, Washington, and Vinson-Owen.

The School Committee hopes to finalize redistricting and redistribution plans in the next one to two weeks.

In addition to the vote on redistricting, the Monday, May 11, School Committee agenda, which will be conducted in McCall Junior High, will include a status report on Marycliff construction and staffing, summer school appointments, and reports on a foreign language program and proposed work experience program.

The need for additional information by the administration and the large amount of business at the next meeting has led the School Committee to postpone the report on smoking until Monday, May 25.

thing that will not be solved overnight. In my opinion no matter how much money and man-power it costs, it will be worth it.

"As I read your booklet on drugs I'm surprised to see how many people want to help, including the police, as for myself I have been using drugs for the last ten years. Starting off on pot, pills, and then to the needle, and never once have I asked the police or anyone connected with the law for help, to me, as well as my friends on drugs, the law was (taboo), maybe that was our mistake by not asking for help. If we did my friends, as well as myself wouldn't be in jail or in trouble today. But the harm is done, now we have to help ourselves and others that have a drug problem, to show how wrong it is and the harm that came for abusing drugs.

"I am very happy that my aunt, who is a resident of Winchester, sent me the booklet on drugs, it gvies me new hope and faith in myself, that people care and want to help. So until the future when I could speak to you and the members that are helping you, I wish you the best of luck and pray everything goes well."

"Suspect" Is Performed At Crawford Memorial Church

Winchester audiences on May 1 and 2 had the opportunity of seeing "Suspect" by Edward Percy and Reginald Danham. This play was presented under the able direction of Eloise Kadesch, and was seen at Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Kadesch has the ability to bring forth believable characterizations from the players. Some of the cast are well known to Winchester audiences; some are improving as they work under Mrs. Kadesch. There were fresh, new, gifted talents in "Suspect," which were a delight to both see and to hear.

Laurel Eschner, as the lead, was exceptional as a dour, clever neurotic, in seclusion after a messy court-trial of some 20-25 years back. She played a highly dramatic role with control. Her slow, almost expressive hands; the twitch which made her expose her identity were important to the build-up of the suspense. Had this been overplayed, these mannerisms would have seemed ridiculous.

Robert Smith, her son, was played by Peter Stoeckle. He showed a consideration and a tenderness for his mother that was refreshing, and, again, believable. His independence of his mother could have been made more forceful. His actions as a lover could have been less restrained.

Barbara Eyges, who played Janet Rendle, the sweetheart of Robert Smith, was completely at home in her role. She was bouncy, flippant, assured and the equal to the schemes of the possessive Mrs. Smith, who resented Janet's ability to remove Robert to London.

Dr. Rendle, father of Janet, played by Lawrence Smith, portrayed the doctor part of his characterization well. The part of his characterization as a loving, concerned parent was strong when everything was going well. However, in this writer's opinion, it was weakened at the last by his giving up too easily when the chips were down for his daughter. But then, there are all around us many parents who react this way in real life, so perhaps this was a properly interpreted part of his role as Dr. Rendle.

My applause goes to Calvin Bowker, who is giving better and better performances. This time he played the Reverend Alfred Combermere, a small-town English rector, accustomed to living with penury; with hope salted with a hearty bit of realism. His philosophical jesting lightened what might have been a nondescript, tiresome characterization.

Lady Const was ably played by the lovely Gabriella Feith. Her costumes were delightful. Her tact, her light touch in the tender scenes with her husband made her characterization as a noblewoman in England of Hungarian ancestry believable.

Thomas Kell, well known to Winchester audiences, was Sir Hugo Const. As always, he turned in a strong performance.

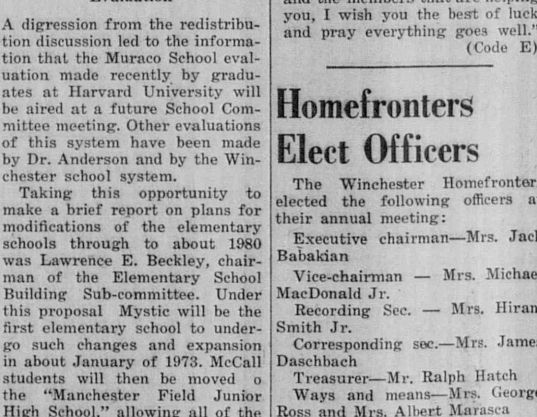

One of the nice surprises of the evening was the performance of Caroline Hayford, a newcomer, as the Scottish retainer to Mrs. Smith. Goudie MacIntyre, as portrayed by Caroline Hayford, was genuine in her protectiveness, almost to the point of bossiness, to Mrs. Smith. Sometimes Goudie was barely civil to some of the houseguests.

As usual, Mrs. Kadesch was able to organize a strong production staff.

This playacting group of the Methodist Church is gaining a foothold in Winchester. They are receiving well-deserved recognition in this town of seasoned thespians and hard-to-convince theatergoers.

NASA Exhibit To Play Part In En Ka Fair

Another first for the En Ka Street Fair at Winchester will take place this year when, through a joint venture of the En Ka Street Fair Committee and the Winchester Public Schools, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will send to the Fair the exhibit, the NSSA Space Science Education Project.

Francis X. Finigan, director of science of the Winchester Public Schools, in outlining the presentation, stated that the program had been arranged by Dr. Mac Carter Adams of Winchester, a developer of the Apollo heat shield. Man's role in the exploration of air and space is shown by a lecture demonstration on the NSSA program on aeronautics, rocketry, and satellites. The latest information on the Apollo program for exploration of the Moon, and the plans for future space exploration will also be viewed.

The 50-minute special will be given by Space Specialist Minot Parker of NSSA on Friday night, May 15 at 7 p.m. and on Saturday at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the high school auditorium which is adjacent to the fair grounds. The exhibit will be open to the public. These times will not only allow the public to enjoy the fair but to add to their knowledge of space exploration.

The SSEP equipment, consisting of scale models of rockets, spacecraft, and space science demonstration equipment will also be on display. The models represent NASA's family of launch vehicles from the small 72-foot Scout to the giant Saturn V towering over 360 feet above its launch pad. Scale models of the NASA scientific satellites, such as the Orbiting Solar Observatory and the Biosatellites, will also be represented Models of the Apollo spacecraft, the Command and Service Modules, will be used to tell of man's journey to the Moon and return.

The En Ka Committee of Mrs. Richard Pettingell has worked out arrangements with Vincent Larocco, assistant principal of the high school, so that the general public can be invited at no charge to this very important presentation on the nation's space programs.

Mr. Finigan also pointed out it is En Ka's hope that people from neighboring communities will take advantage of this opportunity to see this Space Science Education Project presentation.

MRS. HAZEL JONES of 16 Leslie Road is a member of the committee planning the first dinner dance sponsored by the Alumnae Association of the New England Baptist Hospital School of Nursing to benefit the school's scholarship fund. The dance will be held Friday, May 22 at 8 p.m. at the Hotel Somerset.

Russell Sackett of 134 Arlington Street was one of a group of University students who worked on a project for the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center, suggesting a method for transfer of a payload from a shuttle craft to a space station. This was part of a project wherein the University students solicited problems from industry and then solved them for the industries.

Healthy Baby week will be the week of May 10. The Jaycee-ettes again plan to distribute pre-natal car pamphlets to the local obstetricians and general practitioners in hopes of reaching all expectant parents.

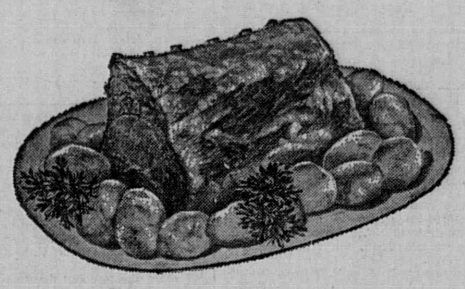

Because of the interest and support by local people, the Flea Market will be held again this fall. More details will appear later.

Those attending from Winchester will be Mrs. Donald L. Puffer of 5 Edgehill Road and Mrs. Raymond J. Champoux of 6 Sheffield Road.

Highlights of the convention will be:

A series of briefings by congressmen, cabinet members and government executives on issues of special interest to the League, including: Labor Secretary George Shultz and CEO Director Donald Rumsfeld on "Alternatives to Welfare;" Undersecretary of State Elliott Richardson on "Foreign Economic Policy;" Senators Birch Bayh (D., Ind.), Marlow Cook (R., Ky.), and Quentin Burdick (D., N.D.) on "Presidential Electoral Reform;" Senators Joseph Tydings (D., Md.) and Charles Goodell (R., N.Y.) on "Washington, D. C., Self Government;" Congressmen Henry Reuss (D., Wisc.) and Al Ullman (D., Ore.) on "Implications of Revenue Sharing."

A rally on Capitol Hill Wednesday, May 6, where the 1700 delegates will present petitions to their senators asking for congressional representation for the District of Columbia. This will be the culmination of a national League drive asking for a congressional voice for citizens of the nation's capital.

A special exhibit, "Women and Politics," at the Smithsonian Institution chronicling the struggle for woman suffrage and what women have accomplished with the vote.

The convention will also elect National Board officers for the next two years and will adopt a national League program for the same period.

Differences between spiritual and material interpretations of creation in the Bible are brought out in the Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 10.
An explanation of conflicting accounts in the first and second chapters of Genesis will be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. One citation states:
"Spiritually followed, the book of Genesis is the history of the untrue image of God, named a sinful mortal. This deflection of being, rightly viewed, serves to suggest the proper reflection of God and the spiritual actuality of man, as given in the first chapter of Genesis."

Clothing Presents Fire Hazard

A 5-year-old girl was critically burned when her dress was ignited by an electric heater to which she was standing too close.

An elderly woman's dressing robe caught fire when the loose sleeves brushed the burner of a kitchen range. A small boy playing with other children was fatally burned when he fell or was pushed into a bonfire and his shirt began burning.

These are typical cases from National Fire Protection Association files.

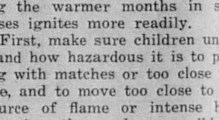

And they are a reminder, points out Fire Chief I. Francis Amico, that all articles of the clothing worn by everybody everyday do burn. Clothing fires are a major cause of fire deaths, as well as thousands of painful, sometimes disfiguring injuries. The most frequent victims are children and the elderly.

The Chief suggests that this Spring Clean-Up season is a particularly good time to act on the clothing fire hazard, since the lighter-weight clothing worn during the warmer months in some cases ignites more readily.

First, make sure children understand how hazardous it is to playing with matches or too close to a fire, and to move too close to any source of flame or intense heat. Dressing them when possible in sturdy playclothes of heavier materials like denim is a good precaution. Particularly with small girls' clothing avoid flounces and full skirts, long and loose sleeves, and light-weight, filmy materials. For added nighttime protection, you can now obtain pajamas treated to make them flame retardent.

Be sure everyone thoroughly understands that clothing can burn, that loose sleeves, flared skirts, and shirttails are invitations for fire, that any activity which brings flame to another ignition source close to the person needs careful attention.

Hospital Week Is Observed In Stoneham

The New England Memorial Hospital of Stoneham, joins with over 7000 hospitals throughout the country in observing National Hospital Week beginning Sunday, May 10.

Raymond L. Pelton, hospital administrator, stated, "Hospitals are meeting the challenge with a variety of new methods, which also help in planning for the future. We are thankful that we already have completed the first phase of our Hospital expansion program, and that we have a solid, broad base on which we have to work in expanding and extending the services in this area.

The new hospital building will be open for the public to visit the display booths and tour the hospital from 2-5 p.m. on Sunday, May 10. A carnation will be given to all ladies, by the Women's Auxiliary, as they enter the lobby, from which point the tours will be organized.

All departments of the hospital will have personnel on duty to explain the new facilities, equipment and techniques as well as manning exhibit booths which will show the various classes of instruction available in the care of the medical field. There will be booths for the nurse's aid orderly classes, radiologic technology, medical technology, the two-year associate degree nursing program and information on the various health-education classes — either available at the hospital or presented by the hospital staff in the community surrounding the hospital.

Ronald Nigro Announces Candidacy for State Senate

Ronald A. Nigro of Arlington has announced his candidacy for State Senator from this District.

He issued the following statement in making the announcement.

"I seek to be your State Senator. Through many years of participating in government at the local level, I have reached the conclusion that communities like Winchester, must have help from higher government to meet the demands for services, for education, for good housing, and for clean healthy environment.

"It is no answer to say that Winchester must put its own fiscal house in order. Inflation increases the cost of local government, and local government is almost totally reliant upon Real Estate Taxes as its source of income. Rising real estate taxes have made the cost of housing, whether you own your home or you rent, almost unbearable in Massachusetts. These housing costs are especially burdensome to our Senior Citizens, and to the young people who are raising a family. The State must give actual relief to the cities and towns. The present set-up of a Local Aid Fund that is more than offset by state and county charges to the cities and towns is a cruel hoax that must end. There is no State Aid when many communities pay back to the State more than they receive.

"At a time when many of our young people are questioning our democratic institutions, our State Legislature refused the people of Massachusetts the right to vote on the question of reducing the size of our State House of Representatives. This contempt for the people's right to change their government cannot go unchallenged. I feel certain that the people of Massachusetts will voice their displeasure with anyone who has ignored their basic rights.

"I bring the following background into this campaign for State Senator from the Sixth Senatorial District:

Personal background: Reside with wife Iris (Campbell) and two children, Rosemary, (2½ yrs.) and Ronald Jr. (1½ yrs.) at 115 Ronald Road, Arlington.

Age: 35 years.

Occupation: Officer of the Firm of Dudley Fuel Co., Inc. of Arlington.

Education: BS in Business Administration, Boston University; LLB Portia School of Law.

Experience in Government: As an elected Town Meeting Member, represented 20 per cent of the Voters of Arlington; Candidate for State Representative, 1964; Arlington Council on Aging (appointed by Town Manager for two year term 1968-1970).

Civic Organizations: Arlington Rotary Club; Arlington Chamber of Commerce (President 1968-1969); Arlington Jaycees.

Charitable Drives (Arlington): Publicity Chairman, March of Dimes — 1963; Local Business Chairman, United Fund — 1965; Active in United Fund Drives — 1966-1967-1969; Publicity Chairman, Cancer Drive — 1968.

"The first step in my quest to be your next State Senator is the Republican Nomination in the September Primary. I hope that my fellow Republicans, and other concerned Independent voters, will choose to nominate me, so that I may carry the fight for responsive government to the final election in November. The problems of Winchester and Massachusetts are too important to be over-shadowed by partisan politics.

"Therefore, I call upon all concerned citizens of Arlington, Medford, and Winchester, regardless of party affiliation, to join me if they too are unhappy with the type of representation they have been getting on Beacon Hill. I hope to meet many of you before this campaign is over. In the meantime, do not hesitate to contact me. I want your opinions, and I need your support."

SERGEANT WILLIAM T. HAGGERTY has already taken up residence in the recently remodeled Sergeant's Room. Made possible through the donations of local business concerns, the room will contain the Juvenile, Drug, and Inspector's Divisions. (Ryerson photo)

Sergeant's Room Being Completed

Renovations are nearly complete on the new Sergeant's Room on the second floor of Police Headquarters which will house the Juvenile, Drug, and Inspector's Divisions.

Materials and furniture were donated by Winchester businessmen, Koko Boodakian and Sons, Inc., Fells Hardware, Inc., Nicholas Fitzgerald, and Whitten Brothers. Labor for the refurbishing was supplied by the Police Department staff under the supervision of Chief Edward F. Bowler.

According to Sergeant Willim T. Haggerty, who will inhabit the office along with Juvenile Officer Richard W. Beaton and a to-be-appointed night officer, the remodeling will provide an area with better atmosphere in which to conduct the business of these three divisions. A new card system and various files have been installed as a reference center.

A combination of faculty and student talent presented "An Evening of the Performing Arts" at Lynch Junior High School on Friday, May 1.

The musical portion of the program opened with selections on the violin by John Woodworth, followed by Mrs. Lillian Enright who played the piano.

"The Loose Connections," a quartet made up of Miss Sarah Jones, Mrs. Lillian Enright, Donald Latham and Donald Stangel sang, and Miss Marilyn Bone played the French horn.

During intermission the Lynch Associates held their annual meeting and election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Roger Crandlemire, out-going president, presided, and introduced Mrs. Roman DeSanctis, the new president, and her slate of officers.

The Dramatic Club presentation was a combination of a stage play and film, titled "My Client Curley," by Korwin. "Loving to Live"

Will Rogers used to say, "I never met a man I didn't like." Isn't this a wonderful way to feel!

It's possible for everyone to feel this way. In fact, Christian Science shows that it is as natural for us to love as it is for the sun to shine.

In her free public lecture, Miss Grace Bemis Curtis of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship will explain the spiritual basis of love and its direct relationship to life itself.

You and your friends are most cordially invited to attend.

Awards Made By Library

On Saturday April 25, the children's librarian in the Winchester Junior Library presented book awards to the children who submitted outstanding art work in the poster contest for National Library Week.

Over 300 posters were created and presented in various art media: water color, oils, pastels, pencil, crayon, and collage, following the slogan for National Library Week "Read, Look, Listen."

It was no easy task for the members of the Art Association—Mrs. Gertrude McPeake, Mrs. Joan Perriello, and Mrs. Lorraine Stewart—who offered to judge the contest to select the following winners:

Poster Contest Awards

Grade 1: First Award, Kathy Chen; Second Award, Leslie Koplow.

Grade 2: First Award, Margaret McCarthy; Second Award, Irene Curry.

Grade 3: First Award, Mary Beth Burns; Second Award, Jane Travaline.

Grade 4: First Award, Nancy Dean; Second Award, Dorothy Brown.

Grade 5: First Award, Eileen McCarthy; Second Award, Audrey Leach.

The cooperation of the teachers, who encouraged the many children to submit their art work, helped to make this the third and most successful Public Library Art Contest conducted during Spring vacation.

Pee Wee Soccer Ties Medford 1-1

The Winchester Pee Wee soccer team was tied by Medford 1 to 1, on a last-minute breakaway in a game at McDonald Field last Sunday.

After a scoreless first half, Winchester went ahead on a goal by Will Paglia, his fifth of the season. The goal was set up by a fine pass by halfback Jackie Driscoll.

The Wee Sachems dominated the game but squandered most of the scoring opportunities, thereby allowing the lone Medford goal to deny them another victory.

Practice will again be held at Leonard Field at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 9.

The Wee Sachems are scheduled to play Boston International next Sunday, May 10, at 2 p.m. on McDonald Field. A glance at the league standings spell out how vital a victory over Boston will be to Winchester.

Field Events Ruin Sachems

by John F. Parrell

Weakness in the field events offset a rather good performance on the track as Winchester dropped a meet to Watertown by 79-52. The complete shutouts in the high jump and the shot putt saw the visitors hang up 8 points and then and there Sachem victory hopes vanished.

Keith Doty, besides winning his specialties, the 100 and 220 yard dashes, also copped the broad jump. Bruce Hill had a first and second in the hurdles events and Mike Deshler in the 440 and Tim Fahey in the mile turned in good performances. Ryan of Watertown was a double winner in the high jump and pole vault.

The Winchester relay team tried to set a new school record but were a little shy of it because some of the runners had already run fast races within the hour.

The summary:

Broad jump: Doty (Wi), 19ft-6in; Ruggiero(Wa) 18ft; Allard (Wi) 17ft5in.

Discus: Moudrejian(Wa) 126ft-6in; Emery(Wi), 114ft5in; Clifford(Wa), 111ft8½in.

Javelin: Yankowski(Wa), 151ft-5in; Amoroso(Wi), 144ft; White (Wa), 143ft9in.

High jump: Ryan, Nardone, Hughes (all Wa), 5ft10in.

2 mile: McManus and Devaney, both Wat., 10:42.5; Arnold(Wi), 10:59.4.

120 high hurdles: Hill(Wi), 15.8; Watson(Wa), 15.9; Nardone(Wa), 16.0.

Shot put: Yankowski(Wa), 43ft.; Guzzetti(Wa), 40ft11in; Lalli (Wa) 40ft5in.

100: Doty(Wi), 10.4; McHugh (Wi), 10.6; Ruggerio(Wa), 11.2.

440: Deshler (Wi), 55.4; Bombard(Wa), 55.6; McDonald(Wa), 55.8.

880 : Clifford(Wa), 2:09; O'-Leary(Wi), 2:10.3; Quinn(Wi), 2:16.6.

Mile: Fahey(Wi), 4:46.6; Bartley(Wa); Igol(Wa).

Pole vault: Ryan(Wa), 11ft; Wild(Wi), 9ft6in; Heffenan(Wa).

Relay: Watertown, 1:38.5.

Track Team Nips Concord 66-65

by John F. Parrell

Coach Manny Marshall's track team, which has been getting its lumps since the opening meet with Belmont, held off a stubborn Concord track group for a single point win.

The meet was held at the Patriots stadium and came as a result of three first places by Keith Doty and a pair by Bruce Hill plus an unprecedented sweep in the pole vault which built up a safe margin even though Concord took the final relay.

In this event, the faster Sachem runners could not compete because of a league rule which limits the number of events for each participant. This rule seems very logical, but would it be so if the final result of the meet hinged upon it? This might well be considered by the league authorities at a future meeting.

Discus: Wheeler(C), 119ft5½in; Emery(W), 111ft9¾in; DeVries (W), 111ft6½in.

Javelin: Haven(C), 135ft10in; Ulwick(W), 130ft2½in; Gleason (C), 123ft3½in.

High jump: Gardella(C), 5ft7in; House(C), 5ft7in; Bigelow(W), 5ft6in.

Tanners Trip Sachem Nine 5-3

by John F. Parrell

Tallying three big runs in the fourth and another pair in the fifth Woburn's baseball nine whipped Winchester by 5-3 to assume sole possession of second place in the Middlesex League race and drop the Sachems back into the third slot. However, anything can happen in the tight race in the league, and by the time you read this article things may have changed completely.

A hit batter, a single, a misplayed bunt by the Winchester inner cordon, a long triple by Dave Greekwood plus a single by Jeff Lentz acounted for the fourth inning outburst. It would seem that all this would amount to more than three runs, but sandwiched in was a beautiful double play engineered by Billy Wolfe, which saw him snag a hard line drive by Kevin Gill and fire a strike to third base to trap Bobby Daly who had started for the plate.

Two walks with a sacrifice bunt, followed by a wild pitch, set the stage for Jim Lynch who hit a long single to register the other two Woburn markers. John Reardon hurled the first three innings for the Sachems with Steve Mulloy following for a couple and Ed Fitzgerald finishing the final frame and looking quite capable.

Winning pitcher Al Houston started the game, played a while in right field and then returned to finish the game. His problem was control with a hit batter followed by singles by John Tello and Bill Wolfe accounting for a fifth inning run which made it a 5-3 ball game. Dennis Galante came on to pitch and was unable to locate the plate as he walked the first batter, but Lentz made a good play to force Wolfe at second for the final out.

Houston came back to strike out the entire Sachem side in the sixth but the seventh saw Winchester threatening again. Mike Gilberti walked and with one out John Tello singled to left and Gilberti raced to third and on the play Tello ended at second base. With one out Bill Wolfe lined a screamer to center on which Daly made a good play and a routine grounder to Galante ended the hard fought contest.

Sachems Stun Stoneham 3-2

by John F. Parrell

Stoneham's Spartans who have paraded to an undefeated season through eight straight Middlesex League games came to the end of the glory road on their home field as Bruce Mullen throttled their bats for a 3-2 Sachem triumph.

This victory, coupled with Woburn's unexpected losses to Wakefield and Reading, finds the top positions shuffled as the standing now shows: Stoneham 8-1, Winchester 7-2, and Woburn 6-3.

These three remain bunched well ahead of the opposition, and as things look now the title may not be decided until the final game of the year when Stoneham comes to Manchester Field to meet the Sachems.

It was a fine ball game with both teams playing sound defensive baseball, and the pitching good on both sides. Stoneham held to its previously successful strategy of using several pitchers, but this time it failed. Although Winchester managed only three hits, they bunched them in the fifth inning to tally three times.

John Telio opened the inning with a hit, and although he was the first batter to reach John Mudge was taken from the Stoneham slab and replaced by all-around athletic star Dave McDowell. Dave fanned the next two batters but Bob Scott singled off the shortstop's glove and then Ron Fiorilli drove the ball deep between center and right and before the ball could be played back all three runners had scored.

Stoneham fought back with a run in the sixth, and scored again in the seventh, but Mullen tightened up to retire McDowell with the tying run on first base. Bruce was tiring slightly in the final two innings and a pickoff play that backfired kept the issue in doubt right up to the final out. It was a well earned victory for the Sachems who now face the second round of the league schedule.

Drug Survey Is Taken In Schools

On Wednesday, May 6, 1970, the students of the fifth and sixth grades of the Winchester schools were given a pre-test on drugs.

This was a preliminary informational survey to establish what the possible educational needs of the students might be in the drug area.

Fraicis X. Finigan, director of science of the Winchester Public School, stated that since a pre-test is a valid educational instrument, the results of the test may serve as a guide in the possible development of a drug curriculum in the schools.

Little League Fund Drive

Winchester's 1970 Little League fund drive got under way last weekend when chance books were mailed out to all the players in Senior, Major, and Minor Leagues.

Boys are now selling chances for a color TV set which will be raffled off as this year's prize.

President Al Fiorilli and Fund Director Nick Troiano will hold the drawing the week of May 17 at one of the Little League games during the week. A specific date will be announced next week.

Any boys who would like some chance books should get in touch with the vice-president of his League and he will be more than happy to supply him with additional books. We hope the townspeople will get behind the boys and support them by purchasing a ticket from the boys when they ring the doorbell.

Sally Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Bowen Jr. of 21 Westland Avenue, and Gloria Tatarian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tatarian of 23 Oneida Road, were chosen as Sophomore Eagles for 1970-71 at the University of Maine, Orono, Maine. The Eagles assist in-coming freshmen women in adjusting to the University.

Graduation exercises were held last week for St. Mary's Confraternity of Christian Doctrine classes.

A special Mass was celebrated by Father Bernard Hoy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Celli on Churchill Road.

The graduating seniors selected the readings for the Mass and prepared a film based on the poem, "Only Playing a Game" by Herman Hess, which was used as a part of the homily shared by Father Hoy and the entire class. Diplomas were presented at the end of the Mass by John Waite, chairman of the Religious Education Commission of the Parish Council and then refreshments were served.

The seniors' teachers this year were Gerard Battista, Anthony Celli, Richard Faubert, Clarence Lyon, Mrs. Carol Mullin and Robert Mullin.

Other guests at the ceremony were Sister Kathleen and Sister Magdalen of St. Mary's School.

Girl Scout Diary

One hundred sixty Brownies, Juniors, and Cadettes participated in Aberjona Neighborhood's First Annual Singdown on Friday, April 24, at the First Congregational Church.

Thirteen troops competed in a singing contest which was won by Brownie Troop 697 from Washington School and Junior Troop 503 from Mystic. "The Brownies' Own Songbook" was awarded to the winning Brownies, and "The Way of Understanding," a book of verse and thoughts for Girl Scouts, was given to the older girls. Senior Scouts Sue Friberg and Dottie Elliott provided guitar accompaniment during the songfest which followed.

On Tuesday, April 28, Mystic School Girl Scouts and their mothers viewed a filmstrip on camping and a program of slides from Mystic Side Council camps.

Mystic Junior Troop 486 hiked to Panther Caves and Pine Hill in the Fels on Tuesday, April 21,. The outing ended with a climb to Wright's Tower and a view of Boston and its northern suburbs. Fifteen members of the troop have completed a course at Filene's Glamour School, and will take part in graduation ceremonies on Saturday, May 2.

Today, May 7, at 1 p.m., Mr. Albert Vanderbilt, the new leader of McCall's Cadette Troop 506, will be presented to Cadette mothers at a tea in her home, 332 Highland Avenue. The Troop Committee hopes that all mothers of Cadettes and of sixth, seventh, and eighth grade girls who would like to be Cadettes, will come to meet Mrs. Vanderbilt.

Most highways have maximum speed limits—often temporarily reduced by a slow-moving vehicle. Don't lose your patience, warns the Institute for Safer Living. The only safe speed is the speed of traffic flow. Always move with it! Be especially alert on throughways where driving is faster and smoother.

Cap League Registration Is Saturday

The 1970 Cap Baseball League will open its season this Saturday, May 9 at Ginn Field with the initial registration starting at 1 p.m.

From the intense interest already shown by numerous telephone calls and personal inquiries to Director Donald C. Van Roosen, this year's season will be even more popular than the 1969 schedule.

Mr. Van Roosen has stressed that the Cap League Baseball League is an activity for boys from 7 through 11, whose birthday falls on July 31 or earlier in those age groups. For instance, if a boy becomes 7, 8, 9, 10 or 11 on or before July 31, 1970, he qualifies as a 7, 8, 9, 10 or 11-year-old. Teams will be assigned by schools and there will be no more on a team than the coaches feel they can handle for purposes of having every team member play at least two innings of every scheduled game. The maximum will be determined by a vote of the head coaches at a meeting prior to the opening of the regularly scheduled games, now set for Saturday, May 16th.

It is important, therefore, that every boy who wants to play should come on Saturday, May 9th no later than 1 p.m. to Ginn Field where registration tables will be set up. Each boy must be accompanied by a Father or, if impossible for Dad to be there, Mother can come with her boy for registration. A modest fee must be paid at the time of registration. Once teams are filled up to 20 or more boys (as will be determined), Cap League will be unable to accommodate additional entries.

Registration rain date is Sunday, May 10, at 1 p.m. at Ginn Field. Most school teams have a head coach already set to operate, but additional fathers can be of great help. In cases where there is no named head coach, Mr. Van Roosen would appreciate hearing from any father who would like to assist in this worthwhile project. The game schedule will commence on Saturday, May 16th and will be programmed each Saturday and Sunday afternoon thereafter from 1 to about 5 p.m.

The greatest stress will be put on the boys having fun and learning something about baseball, teamwork and sportsmanship. The League will countenance no interference by spectators on the conduct of the game, either physically or vocally. Once the games are started, the action will be conducted by the boys, with the minimum assistance from their own coaches and maximum control by the volunteer umpire(s).

The League is particularly pleased to announce that Mrs. Richard Wilsack will again supervise the handling of the refreshment stand. She will also appreciate the assistance of any mothers who can help. Call her at 729-1076.

Football Academy Is Planned At Tennis Center

The Larry Garron Football Academy will take place from July 6 to 11 at the Winchester Indoor Tennis Courts. This location is also the home of the John Havlicek Basketball School.

The feature of the Larry Garron Academy is the turf on which the players will drill and compete. Uni-Turf provides good football footing and the fact that the facility is under one roof eliminates weather problems.

The Academy will be run on a day schedule from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will feature pro and college coaches. Larry is also in the process of finding high school coaches to round out the staff.

Additional information may be obtained by writing to Larry Garron, 41 East Street.

Andrew Jackson, seventh president, seldom held cabinet meetings, but rather relied on a small group of advisors whom the newspapers dubbed the "Kitchen Cabinet."

Winchester Duplicate Bridge Club

On May 13, the second Wednesday of the month, the usual special section will be held for newcomers to duplicate. Play begins at 7:30

There were a full eleven tables in Section A on Wednesday, April 29. Dolly Pasquale and Gay Schreiber were the North-South winners with a fine game. In a much closer battle East-West, Muriel Davis and Jock Olmsted tied for first place with Ruth Hagan and Sam Burwen.

North-South

Dolly Pasquale and Gay Schreiber	141½
Adaline Duryea and Ida Finlay	130
Dr. and Mrs. Waldron Smith	116½
William Wheelock and Gerald Barrett	115½
Polly Wheelock and Ruby White	114
Donna Redpath and Elodie Flewelling	113½
Dr. and Mrs. Robert Blackler	111

East-West

Muriel Davis and Jock Olmsted	128
Ruth Hagen and Sam Burwen	128
Stephen Haseltine and Carl Galante	122½
William Duryea and Clarence Woodward	115½
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith	114½
Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cade	114

In Section B thirteen tables settled down to play. Dave Littleton and Steve Root were well ahead to take top spot North-South while Eileen Brennan and Leonora Carty pulled off the victory East-West in a very closely bunched field.

North-South

David Littleton and Stephen Root	143
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sanderson	133
Miggs Root and James Byrnes	124
Leo and Frank Gonsalves	123½
Barbara Shea and Darrell Root	122½

East-West

Eileen Brennan and Leonora Carty	122
Rose Hickey and Lillian Sheridan	120
Alan Leland and Robert Haskell	120
Max Goodman and Jerry Harris	119½
Ron Nacamuli and J. Shachat	117
Arline Denton and Enid Houlding	113
Charles Lynch and Matthew Mulkern	111½

Board 11 from Section B points up once more the importance of the opening lead. South dealt and bid 1 S (East-West pass throughout), North jumped to 4 NT asking for Aces, South bid 5 C showing none, and North made the final bid of 6 NT. What would you lead sitting East with the following hand?

♥ J 10
♦ K J 7 5 2
♣ 10 6 4

Obviously North-South have most of the cards and probably a double stopper in each suit. So that first impulse to lead from the only strength in the hand, namely, diamonds, should be quelled, as it will probably give them the queen of diamonds, whichever hand it's in. You may as well lead the Jack of hearts, for surely it won't take a trick nor will it make things difficult for your partner.

Here's the whole hand.

North
♠ A 3
♥ A 7 6 2
♦ A Q 9
♣ K Q 7 3

West
♠ 10 6 2
♥ 8 5 3
♦ 10 6
♣ A J 9 8 2

East
♠ J 9 4
♥ J 10
♦ K J 7 5 2
♣ 10 6 4

South
♠ K Q 8 7 5
♥ K Q 9 4

You can see that the diamond lead gives North-South his twelfth trick. (He has 5 spades, 4 hearts, 1 diamond and 1 club anyway.) If you lead the heart jack, however, from East, and West cooperates later by not taking his Ace of clubs when North leads the five from South, the 6 NT can be set by 1 club and 1 diamond trick (or two club tricks, depending on what North discards on South's spades.)

Don't feel badly, however, if you chose a small diamond for the lead; it was the popular choice on Wednesday. Only two North-Souths bid the 6 NT, both making it, and two others bid 3 NT, making 6.

Another interesting part of the hand is that six hearts makes easily. Three rounds takes out trumps, two losing diamonds and a club go on South's good spades, and the other club loser is ruffed in the South hand, losing hearts, but not one bid the six. Just a moral victory!

One of the major objectives of the Red Cross first aid program is accident prevention. As spring housecleaning begins, why not check your home for safety practices. Use only sturdy ladders or step stools to reach high places. Repair loose carpets and broken steps and hand rails. Provide a storage place for children's toys and train the children to use it. Do not use stairways for storage. They should be clear at all times and adequately lighted. To help prevent falls caused by slipping, wipe up spilled grease or water immediately.

Record Proceeds Expected From Rotary Auction

Winchester Rotary Club President Albert S. Hovannesian of 3 Pocahontas Road announced at the conclusion of the 1970 Annual Old Fashioned Country Auction and Bean Supper, held at the Town Hall on Saturday, April 25th, that receipts from this major club community project far surpassed all previous records.

Although a complete tally of receipts from this year-round total club membership effort, climaxed by the auction, is not yet available, a preliminary account shows proceeds to be well in excess of $17,000. The previous club record was $15,000.

The Club president credited the success of this year's event to the total involvement of Winchester Rotarians, with special commendations to Sydney Elliott for his many years of constant project recommendations and guidance to merchandise values; to Arthur Rand, Auction chairman for the past three years; to Rotarians Harry Chefalo, Lewis Snow, George LeMay, Dr. Seymour Russell, Joseph Vitka, Albert Tatarian William Saurman, Leo Boodakian and William Sullivan for loyally donating their time and talents week after week; and to many other members, too numerous to mention, for their dedication, both actively and silently, to this cause.

The Club president also paid special compliments to the many Rotary-Anns (members' ladies) under the chairmanship of Mrs. Leona Boodakian and Mrs. Genieva Billman for their contribution to this success with their luncheon preparations and baked goods sales. In addition, the club expressed appreciation to Rotarian Lester Whittaker for the large variety of colorful potted plants donated by him for sale.

In other Rotary news the weekly meeting of April 23 was credited with a 100 per cent attendance by members. This was the fourth full attendance meeting of the current year, an unprecedented accomplishment in the club's year history and a rarity amongst clubs as large as Winchester's. The last 100 per cent meeting by the Winchester Club previous to this year was achieved seven years ago. Daniel Gattineri, attendance chairman, was again credited with making this distinctive record possible.

Last week's Rotary meeting, held on April 30, was declared Secretary's Day by the Club president in celebration of National Secretarial Week. Members invited their secretaries as guests, another first for the club. A total of 25 women were present, each of whom received an orchid corsage donated by Rotarian Lester Whittaker of the Winchester-Conservatories.

In addition, the club president presented bouquets of roses to Mrs. Sydney Elliott (Florence) and to Mrs. Arthur Rand (Jeanne), wives of the two Rotarians in charge of the Auction. Rose bouquets and appreciation gifts were presented to Mrs. Claire Mullen, secretary at the Minuteman Council, Boy Scout Headquarters in Stoneham, and by club president Hovannesian to his personal secretary, Mrs. Claire Howorth of Stoneham.

In behalf of all the women guests, Mrs. Howorth expressed appreciation for the club's invitation and recognition of National Secretarial Week, and stated it was an honor and privilege to serve the Winchester Rotary Club in its exemplary deeds.

As part of the day's women's program an interesting exhibition and discussion of women's wigs and hair styling was presented by Rotarian Harwood (Woody) Boynton and his wife Judy, operators of Woody's Hair Styles Salon.

Tree Talk

Robert A. Bartlett, president of the F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Company in Stamford, Connecticut has warned that fruit and shade trees should receive an early spring application of dormant spray for protection against over-wintering insects and certain fungus infections.

"Scale insects, aphids, mealy bugs and mites are the chief targets of dormant spray; uncontrolled, they can quickly build up to a population explosion and do severe damage," he said.

Mr. Martlett also added that when using dormant spray, keep the following points in mind: 1. Apply it only once a year. 2. Wait until the temperature stabilizes between 40 and 60 degrees. 3. Spray when the buds begin to swell, but before they turn green. 4. Don't overspray; apply just enough to cover all twigs and branches. 5 Follow directions and use the proper concentrations. 6. Sugar maple, beech, butternut, black walnut, Japanese maple, and some evergreens cannot safely accept oil sprays.

Application Process For VA Hospitals Is Changed

Veterans 65 or older no longer have to disclose financial details to be admitted to a Veterans Administration hospital.

Previously this information was required from all veterans who did not have a service-connected disability and were not drawing a pension.

The new rules were sent to VA field stations over the signature of Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson. The change modifies instructions for filling out VA applications for hospital care by exempting veterans 65 and older from completing questions which deal with financial details.

Veterans in this age group need only to certify that they are unable to pay for needed hospital or domiciliary care and for transportation for nonservice related medical conditions.

Red Cross Urges POW Protest On Red Cross Day

Americans will be asked to commemorate World Red Cros Day on May 8, by protesting to Hanoi on the treatment of U.S. prisoners held by North Vietnam.

A new "Write Hanoi!" campaign keyed to the birth date of Henri Dunant, Swiss philanthropist who founded in 1863 what was to become the worldwide Red Cross movement, calls for an outpouring of letters to North Vietnam protesting its violation of the Geneva Prisoner of War Convention.

American Red Cross officials here urged that letters be addressed to: Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam. Airmail letters weighing one-half ounce or less should carry 25 cents in postage.

Since the Red Cross has become the traditional neutral intermediary in time of conflict, World Red Cross Day is considered by officials here an appropriate time to launch the protest letter campaign.

The day will be celebrated this year by 113 Red Cross, Red Crescent, and Red Lion and Sun societies with over 225 million members around the world. The theme of this year's observance is "Protect Man: Thwart War."

The Geneva Convention, to which North Vietnam is a signatory, obligates the parties to allow free access to prisoners and their places of detention by the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC).

Throughout the Vietnam conflict, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have adhered to these provisions in their treatment of some 33,000 enemy prisoners who are being detained in six prisoner of war camps which are visited regularly by delegates of ICRC. The North Vietnamese, however, still refuse to allow inspection of camps in which Americans and other war prisoners are detained.

The past year has seen a great intensification of U.S. government and American Red Cross efforts to prevail upon North Vietnam to honor its signature to the Geneva Conventions. In recent weeks, Hanoi has appeared to be easing its stand somewhat, reporting that 320 U.S. prisoners are being held and identifying them a few at a time. North Vietnam also is allowing families of identified prisoners to send six-pound food parcels to them every month.

Although these moves are considered promising, they still fall far short of the agreed upon rules of conduct in handling war prisoners, which include identification of all prisoners, adequate diet and medical care, repatriation of sick or wounded prisoners, communication with their families, and protection from abuse or reprisals.

The outbreak of fighting in various parts of the world during the last year has seen ICRC delegates acting as Intermediaries in the Nigerian civil war, the Arab-Israeli conflict and the short-lived war between El Salvador and Honduras.

The largest and most costly operation was that in Nigeria where, for over a year, ICRC delegates and teams from various Red Cross societies, including the American, provided relief to starving millions in both the Federal territory and secessionist Biafra.

Today, since Biafra's capitulation, the Nigerian Red Cross is continuing this relief program with the help of the League of Red Cross Societies, the normal channle of international Red Cross assistance in time of peace.

The Emancipation Proclamation as written by President Lincoln is still in existence. In 1864 the document was sold at a bazaar to benefit wounded soldiers. Later, the New York legislature appropriated funds to buy the proclamation and added it to historic papers in Albany.

Musicales Plan Annual Meeting

Members of the Advertising Committee of the Boston Morning Musicales held their spring meeting recently.

This committee is responsible for all the advertising in the concert programs. The profit from the ads is contributed to the annual scholarship check which is presented to the Boston School of Occupational Therapy of Tufts University.

Among those attending was Mrs. Harold N. Blanchard of 32 Calumet Road.

The annual luncheon of the Committee for the Musicales will take place next Wednesday, May 13, at The Country Club in Brookline, when artists for next year's concerts in the Sheraton Plaza Ballroom will be announced.

Three Members Appointed To New Housing Authority By Board of Selectmen

Three members of the new Winchester Housing Authority were appointed by the Board of Selectmen at its regular meeting Monday night in the Town Hall.

Appointed were Mrs. Mary Murphy of 29 Richardson Street, chairman of the former Public Housing Study Committee; Attorney Vincent J. Celia of 52 Winford Way, a member of the former Public Housing Study Committee; and Charles T. Doucette Jr. of 6 Upland Road, a former member and chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

The Board still has under consideration the appointment of a fourth member to the five-member Authority. The fifth member will be appointed by Governor Francis W. Sargent. It is anticipated that the Board will know the Governor's decision by the meeting Monday, May 18 and that the Board will appoint its fourth member at that time.

The Housing Authority was created by a vote of the 1970 Annual Town Meeting following a year of study by the Public Housing Study Committee formed by the 1969 Annual Town Meeting. The Study Committee recommended the creation of the Housing Authority in its report to the Town as an initial step in the procuring of assistance programs for the elderly.

The four members of the Authority appointed by the Board will serve until the next annual Town election at which time their offices will become elective. The Governor's appointee will serve for a three year term. All members of the Housing Authority are unpaid.

Other Business

In other business, the Board held four hearings on Monday night. These included a pole location hearing for poles on Hutchinson and George Roads and Ridge Street; a hearing with Police Chief Edward Bowler on the bids for new radar units; a hearing with Board of Health Director Michael Saraco on various matters; and an executive session hearing with the Planning Board on zoning.

Licenses granted by the Board at Monday's meeting included a public amusement license for Children's Own School; a second hand motors license for 783-785 Main Street; a second hand articles license for the Gallery, 3 Thompson Street; an old gold and silver license for the Gallery; and a second hand articles license for General Repair Service, 618 Main Street.

A petroleum license for 783-785 Main Street was denied.

It was noted at the meeting by Mr. Saraco that the new spring hours for the Town incinerator are 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday. Saturday hours remain the same as usual.

State Selects Summer Intern For Winchester

For a unique state-aided summer program, Governor Francis W. Sargent has announced the selection of 12 cities and towns which will receive at no cost the full-time services of 12 outstanding college students to help these municipalities with vital planning and developmental programs.

This $12,000 intern program is made available to local governments by the Department of Community Affairs' Community Development Training Program. The students chosen will receive $100 per week for the 10-week municipal internship.

The Governor said he believed this is the first summer program in which a state department has paid its interns to work directly for local officials.

"The Summer Internship in Municipal Administration," he stated, "will encourage college students to seek careers in government, provide needed short-term assistance to financially burdened communities, and allow municipal officials to choose what they consider their most important development project."

Cities and towns chosen from the nearly 50 municipalities applying for the program are: Somerville, Medford, Melrose, Milton, Winchester, Waltham, Salem, New Bedford, Fall River, Springfield, Amherst, and Williamsburg.

The municipal Administration Interns will assist these communities with low-income housing, environmental improvement, housing and development code enforcement, municipal administration, town planning, community relations, youth activities, departmental regulations and town by-laws.

The summer intern selected for Winchester is Miss Elaine H. Kansky of Brookline, a student at Suffolk University Law School.

Commenting on the Municipal Administration Internship program, Governor Sargent said: "One of the main functions of state government is to provide community planning and development assistance to as many cities and towns as possible. Most municipalities, excluding certain cities, do not have available the skilled individuals and technical expertise necessary to handle sudden growth and development.

"This Summer Intern Program brings effective state assistance to local government and offers our talented youth meaningful public service."

Planning Board Appoints Firm To Assist In Master Plan Study

The Winchester Planning Board has recently appointed the firm of Candeub, Fleissig and Associates to assist the Board in developing its Master Plan. Candeub, Fleissig and Associates specialize in community planning and urban renewal consultation.

The firm is national in scope, and has specialists trained in all of the separate disciplines which typically become involved in the planning process. It was this multi-discipline approach, and the depth of staff available, that weighed heavily in the Board's decision, after interviewing several other, highly recommended consultants.

F. Burk Ketcham Jr., a vice president of Candeub, Fleissig, and director of the New England Regional Office, will supervise and coordinate the work in Winchester, and Paul J. McGinley will serve as co-director.

Three specific studies are already underway, with completion scheduled for January, 1971. A study to develop recommendations for the future development of Winchester Center is receiving top priority, in view of the need to incorporate any required zoning changes in the Board's recommended overall zoning recommendations if at all possible.

Study of traffic and the layout of the town's streets, and development of a six year Capital Improvement program constitute the other two aspects of the Consultants' activities.

In the course of the next few months, Mr. Ketcham and his associates will be spending a good deal of time in Winchester. They will have need to talk with various members of the Town Government, members of the local business community and citizens of the town in general. The Planning Board feels confident that everyone will extend full cooperation to the Candeub, Fleissig staff.

Summer School Registration

Registration for the Winchester-Lesley Laboratory Summer School is exceeding expectations thus far, according to the School Department.

Winchester residents are urged to register their children prior to Friday, May 29 as this date represents the closing of resident preference for admittance to this program. Frederick J. Murray, summer school director, has indicated that upon closing of registration, accumulated non-resident applications will be accepted provided there is space available.

The early closing of registration is necessary in order that Lesley College may make provisions for the securing of the required number of qualified teaching interns to maintain an eight to one pupil-teacher ratio. Also at that time the accurate reading of total student enrollment will facilitate the ordering of supplies and materials to insure their delivery in time for the opening of school.

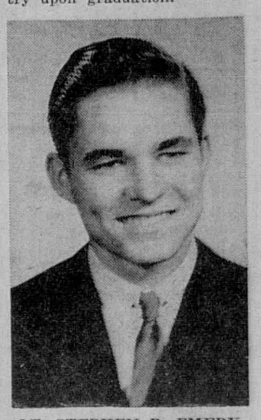

The administration of the Lesley College program wishes to remind parents that the Laboratory School is not geared to remedial instruction; therefore, children who are experiencing difficulties in reading or other basic skills should be registered in these summer school courses or programs which afford the expertise of qualified and experienced remedial specialists from the regular Winchester staff.

First Lt. Stephen B. Emery Killed In Vietnam Action

Flags in Winchester were at half-staff this week in honor of Army First Lieutenant Stephen B. Emery, 23, who was killed in action in Vietnam on May 4.

Lt. Emery, the son of Edgar R. and Ruth (Richardson) Emery of 23 Canterbury Road, had begun his tour of duty in Vietnam in March. Born in Cambridge, June 15, 1946, Lt. Emery had lived in Winchester for 20 years.

A graduate of Winchester High School, Lt. Emery received his bachelor's degree in political science from the University of New Hampshire in February, 1969. A member of the ROTC unit at the University, he received his commission in the U.S. Army Infantry upon graduation.

LT. STEPHEN B. EMERY

In June, 1969 Lt. Emery was married to the former Kathleen Ann Frost.

Reporting to active duty in the Army in April, 1969, Lt. Emery received training at Fort Benning, Georgia. He was sent to Fort Polk, Louisiana in June for further training and then to Panama for jungle training shortly before his departure for Vietnam.

While a student at Winchester High School, Lt. Emery had been a member of the school band, the wrestling team, and the drama group, Curtin and Cue. He also served on the yearbook, the "Aberjona," and the high school radio station, WHSR-FM.

A member of the First Congregational Church, Lt. Emery had been a member of Forum at the church.

Besides his wife and parents, Lt. Emery leaves a brother, Richard Alan Emery and a sister, Christine Elaine Emery, both of Winchester.

A memorial service will be held in the First Congregational Church tonight, May 14, at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. Dr. Oliver Powell officiating. Private burial services will be held at a later date.

In lieu of flowers, it is respectfully suggested that if you have any convictions concerning the Vietnam War you send a telegram or letter to the President or to your Congressman.

The Lane Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

The tribute to Lt. Emery marked the sixth time that Winchester flags had been half-staffed in honor of a Vietnam death.

Column from Concern

CONCERN feels it would be a public service to publish letters from young people. The letters, from children in other towns as well as Winchester, will contain, in the writer's words, his or her feelings about drugs and experiences with drugs. When printed in the paper the writer's name will be withheld.

Anyone wishing to respond to the letter should write to Code E, Box 293, Winchester, 01890.

The writer of this letter also wrote the one which appeared in the CONCERN Column in the Star on May 7.

"Dear Don,

"I received your letter and was very happy to hear that you are concerned with my last letter and hope it does some good. I would be more than happy to give my permission to be published in your town newspaper. As far as my name goes, if you want to print it you can.

"The reason I say that is just to put someone's letter in the newspaper can mean something to the youth and people, but if they know who it is from, then they could always find out if it is true, and if there are as many kids that I think there is, then I think I might know a few or they might have heard of me, not that I am well known throughout the State but I did get around to meet a lot of junkies and people involved with junk so maybe somewhere down the years of my life, I might have met one or more of your kids, but even if I didn't, if anyone from Winchester or any other City should ask me if I was the person that you were talking about, I would say 'yes' with a smile, because I am not ashamed to say that I was a drug addict once and would tell them about some of the events in my drug life, tell them things that they would think only a fool does or someone who didn't know better, and then let's see if they want to live the same life.

"Some of the young kids that I try to talk out of using drugs used to tell me, 'I'll never get like you, I can take it or leave it" that is a lot of - - - - I told them, I said the same thing and that I had the will power once like they have now. Then I woke up one morning and it was gone. (That morning I woke up with a habit) I could go on all night with the bad things on drugs — but the good things I can never start, because there isn't any. So until our next letter, I wish you the best of luck."

School Committee Votes Redistricting Proposal And Language Changes

Approval of the revised redistricting and redistribution proposal presented by Winchester school administrators was given by the School Committee at their Monday evening session, May 11. Acceptance was also made of the modification of foreign language offerings at the junior high level.

Concerning redistribution, vote was taken on the motion for redistricting to establish the Maryclíff district from primarily the Wyman district and parts of the Parkhurst district, for reduction of enrollments at Mystic, Lincoln, and Noonan Schools through transfer into the Muraco district, and for the shifting of 40 students from the McCall Junior High to Lynch Junior High School.

The proposal was prepared primarily by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer and Norton E. Demsey Jr., coordinator of guidance and programming. The plan is effective for one year, being felt by those students entering the particular grades concerned in September of 1970.

Maryclíff district composes those streets in the Wyman district closest to the Maryclíff School, supplemented by students from grades one, two, and three from Parkhurst. Maryclíff will then house 213 pupils.

This area west of Cambridge Street is foreseen as capable of high population growth. The proposal is anticipated as providing the Maryclíff, Parkhurst and Vinson-Owen Schools with the potential to absorb future increased enrollments.

In the fall of this year Muraco School will receive 20 fourth grade students from Lincoln, 18 fourth graders from Noonan, and 17 sixth graders from Mystic School in an effort to relieve overcrowding at these locations. The original plan was amended to substitute fourth for sixth graders from the Noonan School to allow these pupils three uninterrupted years at one institution.

Parents at any of these three elementary schools may request to have their children enrolled at Muraco by formally writing to the Superintendent of Schools.

A third section of the proposal transfers 40 seventh grade pupils from McCall to Lynch Junior High School. Lynch will be proided with an additional five classrooms in September due to the shift of the Wyman fifth and sixth graders to Maryclíff School. It is anticipated that enrollments at the junior high level would then be provided for until autumn of 1972 when possibly McCall will have to be relieved of an increase of 35 students.

The original proposal would have shuffled seventh and eighth grade pupils from McCall. Even with the present modification, some parents expressed concern at Monday's meeting that they would have children from the same family each attending different junior high schools.

In other business of the evening the Committee adopted the recommendation that German be phased out as a foreign language offering at the junior high level, and that Spanish be added at the ninth grade level in September, 1971, and the seventh grade level as of September, 1972.

German will then be offered as a three-year sequence in the Senior High and Spanish will become a six-year sequence on a parallel with French.

Pesticide Collection Planned All Day Tomorrow At Town Yard

A collection of pesticides banned or restricted in Massachusetts will be held tomorrow, May 15 from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Town Yard on Lake Street.

Winchester Tree Warden Robert O'Brien has set the date in accordance with the Department of Natural Resources of the Commonwealth which is sponsoring the collection. The pesticides which are banned are DDD, DDT, Aldrin, Endrin, TDE, Heptachlor and Toxaphene. Dieldrin may be used only with a permit. Chlordane and Benzenehexachloride (BCH) have limited uses.

It is necessary for each resident to check packages of pesticides for those containing ingredients which are banned. Any pesticide containing one of these ingredients should be brought to the Town Yard tomorrow. If possible, the box or container of the pesticide should be wrapped in a watertight package before it is delivered. The collection is for one day only.

Neighbors are asked to cooperate to see that all this material is collected in their area and delivered to the Lake Street site. Merchants also are asked to check their shelves for the banned pesticides.

The Girl Scouts in Senior Troop 444 have assisted in the collection drive by making posters which Sunday were placed in all the churches in Town by the Winchester Ecumenical Association and this week were placed in the stores.

The Public Library is cooperating in the project with a folder and a poster on the subject.

The Winchester Estates Garden Club has established a collection point in its area with volunteers then driving the pesticides to the Lake Street point.

In Precinct V one person per block has been asked to assume responsibility for delivery of the pesticides on May 15.

Renton's Lynch's and Neno's Markets have reminder slips about the drive for their patrons. John Riley of Fells Hardware has removed all DDT from his shelves.

Alternate Pesticides

According to Lewis Wells of the Pesticide Board of Massachusetts, chlordane may be used indoors and outdoors on ants and earwigs. It may not be used for control of leaf-chewing insects. He also noted that any pesticide may be used inside the house that is registered for use. The registration and directions for use are listed on the package by the manufacturer and should be followed strictly.

Mr. Wells also said that garden pesticides should not be used inside the home.

En Ka Parade Route

En Ka Fair Is Scheduled For 2 Days At WHS Field

This is it, the week-end when the En Ka Street Fair takes over the town, Friday night, 6 p.m. to 11 p.m., and Saturday 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., with a giant parade leaving the Winchester Theatre at 9:30 a.m.

There will be decorated floats; bands; antique cars; over one hundred twirlettes coached by Miss Brenda Gardner, teacher of baton twirling; and the En Ka directors in their "space" outfits. Note the time, 9:30 a.m. from the theatre ending at the Fair grounds at 10 a.m.

Children's screams will echo from the midway rides, which include the scrambler, ferris wheels, the red and green spider (new this year), the trabant, and the merry-go-round. The small children will have their miniature rides, too. Games of skill such as balloon darts, basketball throw, baseball pitch, milk can toss, the new pick out, the doll wheel, the dime pitch and the penny pitch will offer a challenge.

Snack Bar

No one need go hungry at the En Ka Street Fair Friday night and all day Saturday the Snack Bar will serve lobster rolls and home-made congo bars. Hot dogs and hamburgers, hot and cold drinks, popcorn, cotton candy and candy apples also will be available. Saturday night a home-cooked supper offering ham, baked beans, cole slaw, potato salad, rolls, apple pie and coffee will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. In addition, the baked-goods table has been expanded this year. Look for a display of specialties from many of Winchester's very best cooks.

Books

The traditional tables of books will offer a choice of subjects, children's stories, text books, fiction and non-fiction, classics, reference books, even paperbacks.

The "Bargain Box" display of White Elephants will provide just that, bargains in almost everything. The jewelry booth will glitter with "gems" for the gathering! A selection of mysterious "grabs" will delight the children as will a table of novelties including balloons and space helmets in keeping with the theme of the fair, Space in honor of the first man on the moon. Very appropriate to the theme will be a free demonstration and lecture presented three times during the Fair by NASA.

Proceeds of the Space Fair go to help En Ka Society assist many local charities, youth groups and the hospital.

The Fair will close Saturday night with a drawing for the grand prize, an Opel Kadet Buick generously donated by Smyly Buick of Malden.

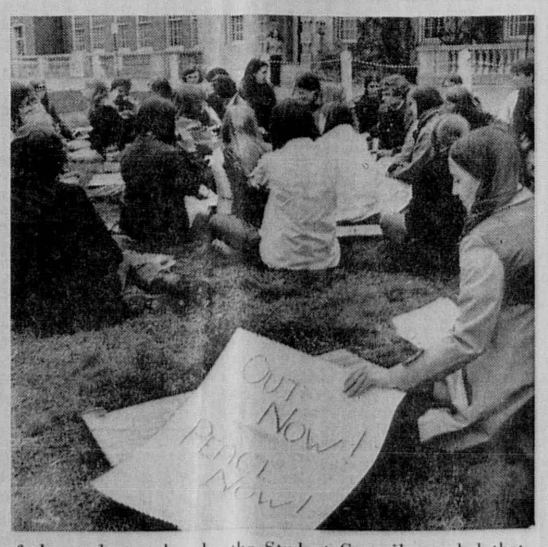

The 50-minute special space program will be presented by Space Specialist Minot Parker of NASA on Friday night May 15 at 7 p.m. and on Saturday at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the high school auditorium which is adjacent to the fairgrounds. The exhibit will be open to the public. The times were arranged so that the public could not only enjoy the fair but add to its knowledge of space exploration.

Francis X. Finigan, director of science of the Winchester Public Schools, reported that he expects a large audience participation.

Dr. Mac Carter Adams, a Winchester resident and developer of the Apollo heat shield, working in conjunction with the En Ka Society and the Winchester Public Schools arranged with NASA for the two day exhibit.

The theme of the fair this year deals with the Apollo project and the exhibit presents man's role in the exploration of air and space.

WINCHESTER HIGH STUDENTS joined the national student strike Friday morning. A poll of the students taken by the Student Council revealed that 71 per cent of the 792 students voting were against the President's policies in Southeast Asia. Sixty-three per cent felt that the student strike was not "justifiably accomplishing anything constructive." (Ryerson photos)

CSAW Plans Annual Meeting

"The Arts in Winchester: Past, Present and Future" will be the subject of a slide-lecture by Thomas Tracy, chairman of the Art Department for the Winchester Public Schools, at the annual meeting of the Community School Association of Winchester.

The meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 19, at 9:30 a.m. at the Mystic School Auditorium, and the public is invited to attend, according to Association president Mrs. Robert Grainger of 42 Highland Avenue.

Mr. Tracy's talk will be preceded by the annual business meeting of the Community School Association, during which the slate of officers for the forthcoming year will be announced, and a summary of school chapter activities and accomplishments for the year will be read.

The function of the Community School Association is to act as liaison between the administration, the schools and the parents. During the school year, representatives from each school in town meet as an executive board. The annual meeting is the opportunity for the public to learn of the Association's involvement and accomplishments throughout the year.

Refreshments will be served before and after the meeting by Mrs. Donald Redpath of 27 Squire Road, social chairman.

CSAW Sends Contribution

Checks amounting to $400 for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation and $75 for the Rome School have been sent in the name of the Community School Association of Winchester, according to Treasurer Mrs. Carleton Luke, 16 Hancock Street.

These contributions were made possible due to the success of the Association's Theatre production, "The Undiscovered King," held earlier this spring.

In addition, Mrs. Luke announced that a check for $23 had been sent to The Friends of the Bands and the Orchestras by the Musical Instrument Exchange which had been established this year by Community Schools to make available to students musical instruments in good condition and at fair prices.

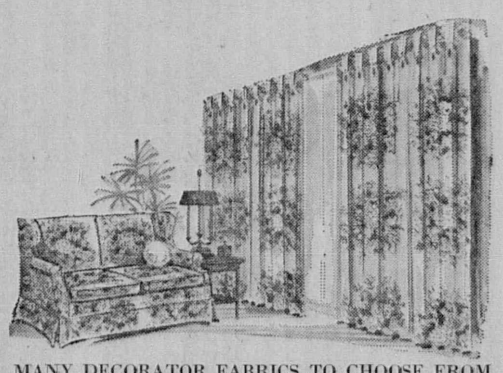

Mrs. Robert Grainger, president of the Association, announced that there will be no elementary band this year. This is to be considered a "suspension, rather than elimination of this program" according to a statement from the music department. Next year it is expected that a full program of instrumental music, including a band, will be carried by the elementary schools.

Mrs. Ernest Dieterich, 6 Black Horse Terrace, chairman of the School Committee, announced that the Committee is seeking reactions from all segments of the population, young and old, to the publication "Footnotes." Specifically, the Committee wishes to know whether those not parents of school children find the publication useful and informative. Constructive ideas of subject matter for future issues will be welcomed. Written comments may be addressed to Mrs. Dieterich c/o the Winchester Public Schools.

A nominating committee has been appointed from the redistricted Wyman School area, according to Mrs. Grainger. This committee will work on a constitution and by-laws for the High Street elementary school chapter and to develop a proposed slate which would be voted on in September by the membership of parents at that school.

In response to a letter from the Community School Association, indicating considerable popular demand for the inclusion of Spanish in the junior high school curriculum, Dr. Klemer announced that "For some time the inclusion of Spanish at the seventh grade level has been a matter of discussion." He indicated that over the next two years it appears likely that German will be phased out and Spanish phased into the junior high curriculum. German will be a three year language offered at the senior high school level.

Unitarian Church Schedules Events

For the past six weeks a display in the foyer of the Unitarian Church School has focussed on the need to preserve the life on our planet.

A large globe of the Earth with eyes and a mouth pleads in cartoon style, "Help! Save My Life! All forms of it please!"

From large pictures the animals and birds say, "Thanks for cleaning up the rivers and ponds!;" "Thanks for picking up glass that cuts our feet!;" "Thanks for removing your trash from our homes!;" "Thanks for taking your poisons out of our air." This has been the theme of the chapel services for grades one through eight for thsee six weeks and on Sunday the children and youth will conduct the Church School Day service in the church expressing their concerns and taking action in this area.

Along with having fun, 30 inner city children and 30 Winchester children will look into some of the wonders of the natural life on our beautiful planet. After the service in the church on Sunday the classes will hold open house in their classrooms, serving punch and cookies to their guests. Begonia plants decorating the classrooms will be from the Caverly Memorial Fund and will be given to all members of the church school and staff.

Building 19½ Sales Co.

13 Olympia Ave., Woburn, Mass. — 935-4620
(Off Washington Street)

AMERICA'S 2nd MESSIEST and LAZIEST DEPARTMENT STORE

Dear Friends of Building 19½,

I haven't read the complete article (too many words, too few pictures), but Fortune Magazine reported that sales of the country's 500 largest industrial corporations showed a 9.% increase for 1969. Now I'm not sure if those figures include Building #19 Sales Co. or not, because Harry doesn't let me in on all the financial matters, but I am sure that the sales increases at Building #19 were three or four times those reported by Fortune Magazine. Now you might ask (if you don't I can't finish this ad) "Why are sales so good at Building #19?" Well, there are three main reasons which I will enumerate herewith hoping to entice you into visiting our elegant emporium and therefore making the sales even better:

1. Building #19 offers genuine measurable savings, not just piddling competitive discounts. We can do this because we deal in surplus and salvage merchandise, purchased at a fraction of its value and retailed at a fraction of its retail worth.

2. Building #19 is a fun place to shop. Our friendly, casual (to say the least!) atmosphere has been artistically (and cheaply) created to make shoppers feel welcome. Our employees have been carefully selected and exhaustibly brain-washed to be friendly and courteous, but not pushy.

3. Building #19 is a safe place to shop. You truly can't make a bad purchase here because we guarantee your satisfaction — no strings attached — no "if-ands-buts." If you're unhappy with the price or performance of any purchase, you may return it for a full refund within thirty days, with no hard time.

Harry's looking over my shoulder nagging that I'm wasting his hard-earned (purely a colloquial expression) money with my propaganda, and I better get down to the nitty-gritty peddling. Well, I've faked it long enough, here comes the hard sell:

RANGES — Gas and electric ranges from all (well, almost all) the major brand names in various colors, shapes, sizes and condition (all new but some scratched, some dented, some smashed — but all guaranteed). Example? Hardwick 30-inch-wide oven gas ranges at $68 and $79.

BUNK BEDS — Maple (real? I doubt it) Bunk Beds complete with bedding for a paltry $99.90 — converts to two twin beds.

SOFA BEDS — Maple arm, convertible sofas at $68.60, $79.10, $88.15 and $98.55 — also queen-size sleep sofas at $168.40.

UPHOLSTERED FURNITURE — Very, very slight irregulars (I can't even find any defects — I think the factory just needs the money) of a famous brand, genuine imitation leather (looks, feels and tastes like leather — except easier to take care of) sofa and chair for $199.90 (both pieces). This same set is selling elsewhere at $300 to $400. It's ideal for any office, den, playroom, cottage or any other place that gets hard usage. It's almost — repeat, almost — kid proof.

TENTS — 99 (divided unequally between our Hingham and Woburn emporiums) Coleman tents ranging in size from 5ft.x7ft. up to 12ft.x9ft., ranging in price from $19.85 to $84.80, ranging in style from Mountain tent to family tent, to family vagabond to compact vagabond tent — all Coleman's all at less than wholesale price.

Plus literally hundreds of other bargains that I'm too lazy to list, or Harry's too cheap to buy the necessary advertising space, or they are lost in this mumbo-jumbo of merchandise. Come on over and poke about this Wierdo Warehouse and see what you can find. It's fun and it's rewarding (for both of us). (If you find Tom's peanut butter and jelly sandwich, misplaced last December, he said you may keep it — because he's on a diet now.)

Cordially,

Jerry Ellis

P.S. Oops! I forgot our exhausting hours (open Fri. 9:00-9:00, Sat. 9:00-5:00, and Mon. 9:00-9:00. Closed Tues., Wed., Thurs., and Sun. We rest a lot.) Our exotic locations are in Hingham (in the old Hingham shipyard), Rte. 3A— in Woburn at 13 Olympia Ave. — exit 38 off Rte. 128.

Auditions Set For Orchestra

Auditions for the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra membership for the 1970-71 school year will take place at Boston University on May 9 and 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Any instrumentalist who will enter Grade 7 - 12 next September is eligible to audition upon recommendation from his or her school music director. Application forms and lists of required audition solo pieces can be obtained from school music departments.

The GBYSO organization runs two full symphony orchestras. The Senior orchestra is conducted by Walter Eisenberg, and plays a demanding repertoire of classical music, including the avant-garde, giving concerts in schools, in Symphony Hall, and last season in Switzerland.

This August the 1969-70 Orchestra will travel to Israel to perform in Jerusalem, Caesarea, and Tel Aviv, sharing the program of the Israel Festival of Music and Drama with such notable artists as Pablo Casals, Isaac Stern, Zhubin Mehta, Maureen Forrester, and the Juilliard String Quartet.

The Junior orchestra, conducted by Robert O. Corley, studies less difficult symphonic works, emphasizing the techniques of ensemble playing, and gives concerts in schools and concert halls in the Greater Boston area.

Students who are interested in hearing the orchestras can attend the Symphony Hall special GBYSO Benefit Concert, on Sunday, April 19, at 3 p.m. Tickets are available from the Symphony Hall box office. The Junior Orchestra will perform works by Donizetti, Gluck, Rossini and Giannini. The Senior group will play, music by Brahms, Vivaldi Shostakovich, Faure and Tschaikowski.

Applicants who audition successfully are assigned to a particular orchestra at the discretion of the director. All are eligible to attend the GBYSO music camp in Maine for two weeks at the end of August. Rehearsals are held September through May every Saturday morning, from 9 a.m. to noon, at Boston University, with optional chamber music sessions in the afternoon. The orchestras are often heard on radio and television. Further information can be obtained from the GBYSO Office, 353-3348.

Mr. Dolben Lauds Recent Increase Of Interest Rate

The government's move in making FHA and VA mortgages more attractive to investors by raising the maximum interest rate to 8.5 per cent was hailed recently by the Greater Boston Real Estate Board as a necessary assist to a large section of the home-buying market.

Donald C. Dolben, president of the Board's Brokers Institute, said the move will help keep a large section of the home-buying public active in today's competitive market.

"Last fall the Board urged the Congress to move quickly to prevent the then 7.5 per cent rate from reverting to six per cent," Mr. Dolben said. "This action, fortunately, was taken. Since then, however, mortgage lenders discovered more attractive forms of investment than residential mortgages into which to channel their funds.

"If the FHA and VA interest rates had not been extended to their new levels, there was a very distinct possibility that lenders' interest in government insured mortgages would have disappeared completely.

"With such a situation, about 20 per cent of those wishing to purchase a home under these forms of mortgages would be completely cut off."

The Brokers Institute president pointed out that in recent months, investment capital has sought out more attractive yields, leaving the housing industry little from which to choose.

"Market yields on most types of investments have risen by more than one percentage point recently," Mr. Dolben said. "This was a difficult situation for banks which must seek out the highest returns for their depositors.

"The action taken by the government in increasing the interest rates will do much to prevent a further drying up of mortgage funds from regular sources.

"With the Administration's policy of reducing the size of our troop force in Viet Nam, it is reasonable to expect that more and more G.I.'s, having been returned to the U.S. and discharged, will be seeking shelter.

"I would hate to think that these individuals and others eligible for FHA and VA financing would be shut out of the market.

"It is, of course, regrettable that today's economic situation forces our government to take such preventative measures, but we look forward to a greater Federal understanding of the problems confronted by the housing industry," Mr. Dolben concluded.

New Series Of Art Lending Parties Begin

The first party in the 1970-71 series of the Winchester Art Association's picture lending program will be held Sunday, May 17, 1970 from 4 to 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Smyly Jr. of 35 Swan Road.

For a minimal annual fee, art patrons may borrow an original painting for a period of four months, three times a year. This fee benefits the Winchester Art Association Scholarship Fund and allows the granting of a scholarship to an art student to help further his art education. Recently the amount contributed by the program has been increased to provide funds for an additional art scholarship.

Students helped under this program are currently attending the Massachusetts College of Art, the Museum of Fine Arts, and the Rhode Island School of Design. Any boy or girl interested in applying for this award should contact the Winchester Scholarship Foundation which administers the fund. Qualifications are ability and achievement in the field of art, attendance at Winchester High School, and financial need.

Paintings used in the picture lending program are generously loaned by well-known professional artists, as well as accomplished local artists. Many subscribers, after living with and enjoying a variety of paintings, subsequently purchase a favorite for their own collections.

Committee members appointed for the new series are Mrs. Michael V. MacKenzie, chairman; Mrs. Philip Downes, securing pictures; Mrs. Frank Wilder, tickets; Mrs. Richard Spencer, hospitality; Mrs. Vincent Visconti, records; and Mrs. Joseph Pontone, publicity.

Hosts for the second party to be held September 20, 1970, are Mr. and Mrs. William F. Morton, 38 Arlington Street. The Mouradian Rug Galleries, 40 Church Street, will again lend its facilities for the third party on January 17, 1971.

Any one not able to be present this Sunday may designate a friend to come and make a selection in his stead.

The VA says about 3,300 payments (not to exceed $1,600 each) toward the purchase of an automobile will be made in fiscal year 1971 to veterans who lost the use of an extremity or were blinded during military service.

Vandalism To Vehicles Accounted

Vandalism to motor vehicles highlights reports of property damage received by the Winchester Police Department in the early days of May.

Rear windows on two cars were smashed over the weekend while parked on South Border and on Leslie Roads, while the windshield of another was cracked when left in a Main Street lot. Two tires were cut on a vehicle on Lewis Road. While parked in the McCall Junior High School lot two owners reported that on one a radio antenna had been broken and on another a word had been scratched on the left side of the automobile.

On Tuesday, May 5, a sedan was found abandoned near High Street, stripped of everything except tires. Telephone calls also alerted police over the weekend to attempts to steal vehicles by rolling them down hills, particularly on Hillside Avenue and Webster Street.

Incidences of broken windows, several by BB shots, were reported from home owners on Everett Avenue, Arlington Street, and Forest Street. On Saturday two windows, 12 by 12 inches, were discovered on the High School auditorium, and on Thursday a nine by 12 inch pane on the east side of the First Baptist Church was noticed.

On Tuesday, May 5, investigation at the new high school site on Shore Road uncovered broken locks on a shed on a gang box owned by the White Construction Company.

Miscellaneous damage included the removal of two copper lamps from a McCall Road garage and a broken flag pole and missing gold leaf ball from a Cambridge Street residence.

Church Guild Plans Meeting

The annual meeting of the Winchester Chapter Guild of the Infant Saviour will be held on Tuesday, May 19, at 1 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall.

All members are urged to attend and hear the financial and progress reports of the past season.

The Nominating Committee will present the slate of officers for next year.

Following the meeting, tea will be served. Friends of members are welcome.

Book Fair Is Scheduled

Mrs. Sol Gittleman of Fletcher Street and Mrs. Alfred Wechsler of Madison Avenue are members of the committee which is planning a book fair to be held at the Eliot-Pearson Children's School, 105 College Avenue, Tufts University, Medford, Tuesday through Friday, May 12 - 15. Proceeds will be donated to the lending library at the Eliot-Pearson Children's School.

Elizabeth Jamison Hodges, author of the book for children, "Free as a Frog," will be the guest of the book fair. Miss Hodges, whose latest book was named as one of the ten best illustrated books for children in 1969 by the New York Times will be at the Children's School on Wednesday morning, May 13, to autograph copies of her book. She is also the author of two other popular books for children, "The Three Princes of Serendip" and "Serendipity Tales."

Miss Hodges attended the Nursery Training School of Boston, now the Eliot-Pearson Department of Child Study, Tufts University, and studied under Dr. Abigail Adams Eliot, a founder and first director of the School. She is also an instructor in children's literature at Northeastern University. Miss Hodges will be a staff leader at Northeastern University's Writers' Conference, to be held June 15 to 20 on the Burlington campus. Currently she is coordinating and lecturing in the Jordan Miller Memorial series sponsored by the New England Round Table of Children's Librarians and held at the Boston Public Library. She has titled her series of lectures "Children's Literature from the Inside Out."

The Book Fair will be open May 12 through May 15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., with the exception of Wednesday afternoon, May 13. It will offer many new titles in paperback books for children and a large selection of inexpensive hard cover books.

Engagement and wedding photos submitted for publication in the Star should be black and white glossy photos no larger than two by three inches or of such a size that the subject's head and shoulders do not exceed two by three inches. The deadline for social announcements is 11 a.m. Tuesday of the week of publication. Wedding announcement forms are available at the Star office.

Personal Injuries Sustained

Among motor vehicle accidents of a minor nature occurring during the first week in May were two more serious, producing personal injuries and extensive property damage.

On Monday, May 4, John J. Carroll Jr. of 19 Tufts Road while traveling south on Church Street was struck broadside by an automobile coming out of Central Street. Arthur Fowle of 20 Central Street was operator of the second vehicle.

Christine Ceruolo of 7 Aristotle Drive, a passenger in the Carroll vehicle, received a cut forehead with other possible injuries. This automobile was towed from the scene, extensively damaged on the left side. Damage to Mr. Fowle's car was on the right fender and bumper. Officer John J. Frongillo investigated.

A single-car collision with a utility pole was reported in the early morning hours on Sunday, May 10. John J. Ryan of Arlington was moving west on Forest and reported to Officer Robert G. Baird that he had not expected a curve which caused him to leave the road and strike the pole.

He was transported to Winchester Hospital where he was treated for head injuries. Damage to his vehicle was on the front end. Conditions were reported as foggy, dry and dark at 3:22 a.m.

CONGRESS CAN VOTE TO END THE WAR

But you and other American must urge them to act for you — to end this war.

Senators McGovern, Hatfield, Goodell, Cranston, and Hughes have proposed a peace amendment.

1. No more money for the Cambodian Invasion.
2. No more money for the war in Laos after December 31, 1970.
3. No more money for war and no US Military Forces in Vietnam after June 30, 1971.

THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION CAN SAVE US

Only the U.S. Congress has the constitutional right to send our boys into battle. Only the US Congress can declare war. An angry and disturbed US Congress is recovering its responsibilities.

Senators Bayh, Gravel, Harris, Hartke, Inouye, Kennedy, McCarthy, Metcalf, Mondale, Nelson and Young of Ohio have already promised to support the amendment.

But there are a lot of other senators we still need to convince.

YOUR KIDS SHOULDN'T GO TO COLLEGE TO GET KILLED

American boys are dying in Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. For a war nobody wants.

We need 51 senators and a majority in the House. To stop the violence. To end the killing in Asia and Ohio.

No more Cambodia. No more Vietnam.

No more. "We regret to inform you . . . "

Named Landmark Isaac Royall House

The Isaac Royall House, George Street corner of Main, Medford is open for its first week of the current season and will be open daily, except Monday and Friday, from 2 - 5 p.m. until October 15. The National Park Service has declared the site a registered National Historic Landmark because it is a fine example of a 1732 Colonial house.

The furnishings are all of the period, many of them being the gift of the late Frederick Bridge of Winchester.

Originally a farmhouse built in the 1600's on "Ten Hills Farm," a grant of 600 acres to Governor Winthrop, it was purchased and expanded by Colonel Isaac Royall of Antigua in 1732. It housed his family, and later that of his son, in lavish style until 1775, when it was confiscated by the colonists and used as a headquarters for General Stark. From a lookout on the roof the young Mollie Stark watched the British troops camped along the Mystic River. After the evacuation of Boston, March 17, 1776, Generals Washington, Lee, Sullivan, and Stark held many councils of war here.

It is Isaac Royall Jr. who is credited with founding Harvard University Law School, when he endowed a chair in law at Harvard.

Scout groups and school groups escorted by their teachers have visited this house as a regular activity, both from Medford and from the surrounding cities and towns. The mansion is listed in the AAA Directory and in the pamphlet "New England Museums and Historic Houses Open to the Public," published by the New England Council, The Museum of Fine Arts — Boston, and Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities.

Since the first Veterans Administration representatives reported to Long Binh, Vietnam, in January of 1967, to give Army troops unprecedented battlefield orientation on G. I. Bill benefits, more than 855,000 service men and women in Vietnam have been briefed.

Summer sun bakes garden soil hard and dry. Summer drought deprives garden plantings of life-giving moisture. In summer more than ever, gardens need SUNSHINE SPHAGNUM PEAT MOSS. It's the best summer mulch we know!

- SUNSHINE PEAT MOSS hoards moisture. It holds up to 20 times its weight in water; substitutes as little as 7.
- A SUNSHINE mulch beautifies. Golden, clean, and weed-free, it's ideal for weed control, too.
- SUNSHINE PEAT MOSS enriches: It's 98% organic. Substitutes may be as little as 60% organic.

For summer planting, it's especially important to mix SUNSHINE into the soil. SUNSHINE loosens and aerates compacted adobe, binds and enriches sandy soil, and conserves precious water around the roots of new plantings. We've stocked SUNSHINE for your summer garden needs; pick it up today!

Ask us for SUNSHINE "How-to" folder on lawns, gardens and plants.

TRANSPLANTING. (Shrubs Evergreens.) Prepare a hole twice the size of shrub roots, spading bottom for good drainage. Place tree on 3" to 8" of soaked Sunshine. Pack ½ Sunshine, ½ soil mixture, around roots and fill hole. Mulch 2" to 3" layer of Sunshine generously around bush. Sufficient Sunshine in transplanting reduces plant shock, provides ideal soil texture for delicate new hair roots.

MULCHING. A 2" to 3" layer of Sunshine mulch, spread over the surface of prepared garden soil, will protect plant roots from changing temperatures and prevent rapid drying. Sunshine retards weed growth and provides an attractively rich color and texture to garden surfaces.

Editorials:

★ Lt. Emery ★

The Town this week has suffered the loss of another of its young men with the death in Vietnam action of First Lt. Stephen B. Emery.

A resident here for twenty years, he was a 1964 graduate of the High School. He was a student active in many of the high school clubs and he is remembered by many friends here. The sympathy of the Town goes to his family.

We join with his family in urging that, in his memory, anyone with convictions about the Vietnam War express his opinions to President Nixon and to the Senators and Representatives of this district. Peace will be only a dream unless we join together and act.

Idealism and Reality

As a corollary to last week's Star editorial "A Few Spankings?" we would like to offer a few additional thoughts.

The students do have good ideas: peace, pollution prevention, responsive government, racial equality, less poverty. These are all things for which we ought to work. Peaceful demonstrations, letter writing campaigns to public officials — these are ways which we find acceptable of bringing public attention to the problems.

We can not, however, condone violence as a method of accomplishing a better world. The Kent State University riot appalls us. Yet, we can see how a student who has gone the route of peaceful demonstration, letters to Congress, etc., can be angered by the escalation of the war and the indifference of the whole military-industrial complex to the problems plaguing society and can become frustrated at the lack of concern shown by public officials and turn to violence as a means to draw attention and, hopefully, action. But violence turns us off — as it does much of middle America. When we have rocks thrown at us it is hard to listen and even harder to take any action other than retaliation.

The majority of the demonstrators at Kent State, on Boston Common and at various other places around the country probably did not have violence as their objective. The radical few, however, who feel that violent revolution is the only way, are all that is needed to change a peaceful demonstration to a violent confrontation. Their followers are the students who are rebelling for the sake of rebelling — the ones we feel could have used a little discipline a long time ago.

The students who are committed to making this a better world by constructive means, we applaud. This world needs their idealism and their desire to live in peace.

Student striking we still feel is ridiculous. It places pressure on no one, except perhaps the college administration. It draws publicity, which may be one of the objectives, but because it does not directly touch a major segment of the population it is not a way that would command action. We don't like to see administrators, in deference to the strikers, closing the schools or giving the students optional ways of completing their studies. We would like to see administrators with the strength to keep the schools open and to flunk the students who do not complete their semester requirements because they are striking.

Above all, the violence at Kent State should awaken Americans to the fact that there is something wrong in this country and that everyone must begin working to correct the ills of our society. We all need a little of the idealism of the youth today — an idealism that will enable us to make peace, a pollution-free environment, a responsible and responsive government, racial equality and less poverty realities in our society. It can be done, and we will always believe that it can be done peacefully.

On Amnesty

Amnesty is a word we've heard a lot since the beginning of the student disturbances on college campuses. Webster defines it as "an act of sovereign power granting oblivion, or a general pardon, for a past offense." For the student it seems to mean the ability to break school and local laws without fear of punishment. Hold the dean prisoner, take over a campus building, destroy property, then cry "Amnesty!" in the name of protesting the inequities of society.

There are laws, we agree, that should be changed. Society has many ills that should be corrected. We have cited a few in the previous editorial. The students who are working to create a better society have our respect and our admiration. The ones who break the laws, though, and then cry "Amnesty!" we wonder about —there's an old saying, "He has the courage of his convictions . . ." that seems applicable. Anyone who is deeply committed to an ideal also has the courage, born of his commitment, to face the punishment that might be incurred in striving for that ideal.

Two people, recently in the news, are examples of this "courage of convictions." They are William Baird and David Harris. An advocate of birth control legislation reform, Mr. Baird was convicted, under Massachusetts law, of distributing contraceptive material to unmarried persons. He knowingly broke the laws of the Commonwealth in public, daring arrest, in order to bring the state law to a court test. It was his hope that the court test would find the law unconstitutional and that it would be repealed by the legislature. The court, however, upheld the law. Mr. Baird was sentenced and spent several weeks in the Charles Street jail. Although his lawyers did seek his release on a suspended sentence, he did not run around crying "Amnesty!" —he had broken a law in his attempt to achieve change, and he willingly paid the price for it.

David Harris, husband of folk-singer Joan Baez, currently is serving a three-year sentence for draft resistance. An article in a recent issue of "Look" magazine outlines the activities that led up to his conviction for draft resistance and discusses how he is carrying on in prison. In the description of his arrest, the article does note that the authorities had to come to his house to take him to prison, however, he did not ask amnesty for his crime. By resisting the draft, he stood up for his beliefs, but by serving his prison sentence he is making an even more eloquent plea for draft reform.

Henry David Thoreau in his essay "On Civil Disobedience" countenanced the breaking of unjust laws to protest the law-in his case tax laws-but he also admitted the possibility of taking the punishment if one were unable to change the law when he said, "If any think that their influence would be lost there (jail), and their voices no longer afflict the ear of the State, that they would not be as an enemy within its walls, they do not know by how much truth is stronger than error, nor how much more eloquently and effectively he can combat injustice who has experienced a little in his own person." (The injustice of which he spoke was imprisonment).

Earlier in the essay he said, "If a thousand men were not to pay their tax-bills this year, that would not be a violent and bloody measure, as it would be to pay them, and enable the State to commit violence and shed innocent blood. This is, in fact, the definition of a peaceable revolution, if any such is possible."—This might be an effective present-day means of revolution.

The person who has experienced injustice in challenging the existing system has a far more eloquent plea than the person who cries amnesty before embarking upon his cause.

Exhibiting a willingness to suffer punishment for an act reveals a deep conviction that the act was necessary for the greater good of accomplishing one's ideal. The early Christians, despite threats of death, continued to follow their faith and many were martyred as a result. Yet, the current young people, mouthing the phrases of the revolution, ask amnesty for their actions as part of their "non-negotiable demands." Are we to believe that the commitment of the young people to social reform is as real as that of the early Christians to their faith or as that of William Baird or of David Harris?

Much of the student dissatisfaction with today's society we find valid. It is a shame, however, that the students who resort to destruction of property, seizing buildings and holding college personnel captive and then crying amnesty for their actions have made it impossible for many in the adult community to listen with any real confidence to their proposals for social change.

Commitment to a belief, without that willingness to suffer any punishment that might be incurred in fighting for the belief, seems to us to be a shallow commitment.

School Committee Votes Redistricting

This restructuring was given the approval of Miss Barbara Holden, coordinator of foreign languages, Walter P. Gleason, assistant superintendent for curriculum, and the principals of the two junior high schools. The decision was based upon light enrollment in the present German class and upon the problems of staffing.

Languages

Other matters taken up brought about the approval of the appointment of John Cahill as assistant principal at Lynch Junior High School. Presently serving as acting assistant principal, Mr. Cahill was highly recommended in a letter from Lynch Principal Gardner W. Handy. Mr. Cahill has been an educator since 1951 and a member of the Winchester school system since 1961. His capability in guidance and counselling was cited. He has replaced David P. Tenney who accepted a principalship in Quincy in the fall of 1969.

Committee members also reviewed two programs involving federal funds. Superintendent Klemer reported that under a Work-Study Program students would spend four hours per day working with local companies, experience for which they would receive school credit. In this case the State provides for the relaxation of the regulation requiring a certain number of hours to be spent in the school building.

Favorable vote was given to continue the application for these federal funds. The grant for the first year would be $20,000, for the second year, $10,000, and for the third year, $5,000. In the third year it would be necessary for the Town to contribute its first money to the program, a sum of $5,000. It is hoped that after the third year, with the exception of a high enrollment, a part time director could continue the program.

It was noted at this time that Winchester has a two per cent per year drop-out rate from the ninth, 10th and 11th grades.

Programmed Budget

Approval was also voiced for the recommendation that the administration be permitted to participate with Stoneham in a federally-funded program providing training and consulting services in the development of a programmed school budget. Dr. Klemer informed Committee members that it involved no funds from Winchester and was composed of six training sessions from the present to the fall under the direction of a Harvard professor. It is supposed that in 1971 personnel would have to be made available to parallel the programmed budgetting approach.

Committeeman Paul R. DelRossi, who expressed knowledge of and satisfaction with this particular program, recalled that a sub-committee had been previously formed to explore the proposal for management study including training organization and programmed budgetting. Noting that the School Committee has received no appraisals on this specific subject, he was concerned about the ramifications that could result from the facts that an administrator has already attended one of these sessions and that inclusion in the application by Stoneham for the grant was standing. He feels the Committee is entitled to more information.

According to Dr. Klemer, participation in this program will preclude the programmed planning proposal provided for in the budget. There is dispute over the similarities and differences between the two plans.

Passing to other areas of business a Marycliff progress report from Marycliff Principal Robert G. Forest was aired. Bids on furniture and equipment have been sent out and candidates for teaching positions, with an emphasis upon the open-concept instruction situation, are being interviewed. A representative of the Community Schools Association informed the audience that this organization had taken steps to fashion a partner group for the school with constitution and by-laws.

The Committee also set aside a June date to review with the professional staff an analysis of the resources and programs in the school system. The goal is to develop a "new long-range plan for the school system that would have built into it a method of feedback to the teaching staff, administration, and School Committee so that a regular determination could be made as to how effectively goals and objectives are being met."

Position Redesigned

A review was made of the plan to redesign the position of coordinator of guidance and programming to that of pupil personnel director. Under the proposed restructuring the pupil personnel responsibilities would be expanded, while the data processing work would be removed. Mr. Demsey would become a 3/5ths teacher at the Senior High School in the business department, as well as handling this shifted data processing work load for the school system. This does not create an additional position.

Reporting on the status of bids was William F. Clark, assistant superintendent for administrative services. Furniture and equipment for Marycliff, vandal alarm systems for the Senior High School, Vinson-Owen and Marycliff Schools and Lynch Junior High, and portable classrooms for the Senior High School are currently out to bid. Audio-visual equipment for Marycliff will be next.

Mr. Clark also said that construction at the new high school site was "going well." Pile driving continues, while a teamsters' strike has been holding up delivery of concrete.

Regarding Special Education of Education Mutual (SEEM), Assistant Superintendent Clark stated that the Town continues to owe sums for bus transportation and dues and assessments to North Reading. As set up by North Reading this program is under a revolving fund. However, the State Legislature is the only authority which may establish such a method of budgetting, a procedure it has followed only for the lunch and athletic programs. In the meantime it was taken favorably to invite SEEM's director to speak before the Committee during June.

In personnel matters, a number of resignations and appointments were approved, as well as the election of two second-year teachers. Satisfaction with those applying for Summer School positions was voiced and the recommendation that two lead teachers at a stipend of $100 each be named for this program was accepted. A number of vacancies still exist, however, Summer School Director Frederick J. Murray stated that qualified persons are available and will be recommended. Appointments for 1970-1971 were taken up in executive session.

Among other topics approval was also given to the school calendar for 1970-1971.

The next regular meeting of the School Committee will be Tuesday, May 26. Matters proposed for this agenda are discussion of the use of McManus House next year and smoking recommendations.

Call For End Of Involvement

Editor of the Star:

On the night of May 4, following the tragic events at Kent State University, and the announcement concerning the United States' invasion of Cambodia and the resumption of bombing of North Viet Nam, John Kemeny, the President of Dartmouth College, joined scores of other universities and college presidents in "imploring . . . you (the President of the United States) to consider the incalculable dangers of an unprecedented alienation of America's youth and to take immediate action to demonstrate unequivocally your determination to end the war quickly." He went on to suspend "all normal academic activities" for the remainder of the week. Since then Dartmouth has been "on strike." A "strike" not against Dartmouth College, but by Dartmouth College, to continue as long as is necessary to accomplish the task at hand, that of getting the U.S. out of Southeast Asia.

We feel that a significant number of responsible citizens must share at least a part of our feeling that our present position in Southeast Asia is detrimental to the welfare of this country, not to mention the human lives involved on both sides. Unfortunately it has become apparent that President Nixon will never be responsive to the youth of America, distinguished national educators, half a million people marching in Washington, or even his own "silent majority."

We therefore urge all concerned citizens to write, telephone, telegraph, or even visit our Congressional delegation in Washington in support of the Senate bill designed to limit the power given the President by the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution, and to call for an immediate end to U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

Who Needs To Be Heard?

Editor of the Star:

After reading the Boston Globe and a New York paper regarding the student strikes, I wonder indeed whose voices need to be heard? Over and over the articles publish quotes by students and professors who say their voices need to be heard. Implying in their words and by their actions that they'll burn a building or stone a cop if they don't get their way.

To read the news I feel like a minority of one in opposing the violence and other tactics of the radicals. Well, I've talked to a dozen of John Q. Public including some of the younger set, and I discover we are all of one thought. The student radical protest is disgusting and we have only small sympathy for the four "innocent" Kent University students who just happened to be in the front row of the crowd throwing bricks at the National Guard. Killing may or may not be overreaction depending on whether your life is in danger. Someone should ask Goliath his comments on that. Perhaps he made a last statement to members of his local press.

It is wrong to throw rocks and bricks at the police and National Guard even if your crowd is bigger than their crowd. When my kids used to throw rocks at those they didn't like, I paddled their behinds. I will still do it today, if required, even though they are only trying to be heard. Some voices and actions should be heard, others should be responded to in a firm by appropriate manner. I believe the majority want law and order to prevail. If so, I think our voices need to be heard also. I urge our elected officials and others in position of responsibility to listen above the crackling flames and tinkling glass to what I believe is the mature (not silent) majority. This is an election year and we will indeed be heard.

Sincerely,

Automobile Population Still Grows

Middlesex County residents have been buying new cars at an increased rate in the last few years, a national survey shows.

As a result, more smart-looking models are to be seen on the streets and roads in the area, while the proportion of older ones is dropping.

The car-buying surge has brought the local automobile population to a high level, 478,990. It has also increased the number of families sporting two or more cars in their driveways. By the same token, the percentage of families without cars is smaller than ever.

The facts and figures are contained in a consumer market report covering all parts of the country, issued by the Standard Rate and Data Service, and in studies made by the National Industrial Conference Board and others.

They show that there has been a continuing rise in car ownership in Middlesex County and that, by the beginning of this year, there were 124 passenger cars locally for every 100 families.

This was a bigger ratio than was recorded in 1964, when the average was 111 cars per 100 families.

The gain is in terms of net change, after allowing for the number of cars that were junked. Nationally, according to the automobile industry's figures, about 6,800,000 cars went to the scrap pile. Against this was the number of cars sold in the United States in the year—nearly 9,600,000.

In Middlesex County, the effect of the buying surge during the past five years has been an increase of 16.5 per cent in automobile registrations. The number rose from 410,560 to 478,990.

The strong market for new cars, locally and elsewhere, is attributed to rising incomes, to the growth of population in suburban areas where care are more necessary than in urban areas, and to the rise in number of car-hungry teenagers.

The net result is that multiple car ownership has become more common. Some 27 per cent of the nation's families now have two or more cars.

The automobile continues to play a major role in the local economy. The amount of money spent in Middlesex County's service stations alone in the past year for gas, oil, repairs and parts came to $129,792,000, as against the 1964 total of $97,780,000.

JULIE ANDREWS — A Biography

by Robert Windeler

In Mr. Windeler's preface to his biography of Julie Andrews he observes that when he discussed his intention with Miss Andrews she thought the "whole idea of a biography at that stage in her life" both "presumptuous and premature." He declares that this is not an "authorized biography," but that, liking Julie Andrews, he has spent a year of his life researching and writing as far as possible the "total truth" about her.

Julia Elizabeth Wells was the older of two children of a broken marriage, and after her parents' divorce she lived with her father and younger brother until her father decided that it would be better for the growing girl to be with her mother. Ted Andrews, a Canadian singer and vaudeville entertainer, whom her mother had married soon after the divorce, recognized the possibilities of Julie's "enormous belting freak voice, with a range of four octaves" and fortunately was able to find for her a surpassingly good voice teacher, Madame Lilian Stiles-Allen, whose name is principally known in Britain for the beauty of her concert and oratorio singing.

> "It's thanks to her that I didn't do more damage to my voice with all that singing when I was young, and later in "My Fair Lady." I used to watch her give lessons to all her other pupils. Then I would take lessons twice a day. She had enormous influence on me. She was my third mother — I've got more mothers and fathers than anyone in the world."

From the time when Julie had just turned twelve she sang in theatres all over England, sometimes performing with the Andrews in their vaudeville act and sometimes alone. She had a governess and a chaperone until she was about 17.

Julie's first visit to America came in August 1954. She was engaged to play Polly, the heroine of "The Boy Friend" and made an immense success of the part. In April 1955 she was asked to audition for Lerner and Loewe for the musical version of "Pygmalion." Her subsequent success as Eliza Doolittle, and the enormous popularity of "My Fair Lady" made theatrical history.

Mr. Windeler gives a very detailed account of Julie's life, both personal and theatrical, through her marriage to Tony Walton, the separation and divorce, to her marriage to Blake Edwards; through "The Sound of Music" and "Thoroughly Modern Millie" to "Star" and "Darling Lili." His account is evidently well-informed and shows none of the vitriol which has been so evident in the press and movie magazines. Indeed, he castigates by name some of the gossip columnists who find it necessary to leer and smear in order to sell their puerile writings.

In conclusion, it may intrigue admirers of Julie Andrews to hear an amusing story told by her friend, Carol Burnett.

> "In January, 1965, Mike Nichols, Julie, and Carol had been summoned to Washington to perform at President Johnson's inauguration . . . Julie . . . had an early dinner, and returned to her hotel . . . to wait for Nichols. When he did arrive, Carol invited him to their room on a different floor. Julie, in her inevitable slacks, and Carol, in Joe Hamilton's bathrobe, went out to the elevator to wait. 'We sat on a settee across from the elevator and tried to think of something to make Michael laugh,' Carol said . . . 'but nothing was funny enough. Julie said 'I know wot—let's be kissing.' I said, 'I like you a whole lot, Julie, but I don't know.' She talked me into it, and we went into a mad embrace the minute the elevator doors started to open. A woman got out. She didn't recognize us, but the look she gave us — Next time the doors opened we went into another mad embrace, and this time it was about ten male heads — none of them Mike's — who had stopped at the wrong floor. By now I'm on the floor in hysterics. Back comes the lady. She keeps looking and very solemnly says, 'You're Carol Burnett, aren't you?' I said, 'Yes, and that's Mary Poppins.' I wasn't gonna be the only one recognized. She goes, and the elevator door opens again, and we go into our mad embrace. And damn Mike Nichols! He walks right out and by and says, 'Hi, girls,' like we did it all the time."

Must Listen To Youth

Editor of the Star:

The Winchester Star printed an editorial last week which I believe missed the whole point of the strikes on college campuses. The following article appeared on May 5 in the following campus newspapers: Brown, Bryn Mawr, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Haverford, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Rutgers, Sarah Lawrence, Stanford and UCLA. It was published at Tufts on May 6.

"President Nixon's unwarranted and illegitimate decision to send American combat forces into Cambodia and to resume bombing of North Viet Nam demands militant, immediate and continued opposition from all Americans.

"Through his unilateral executive move, the President has placed the country into a state of emergency. He has ignored the Constitutional prerogative of Congress, and has revealed the sham of his policy of Vietnamization, a policy which, through a tortuous process of inner logic, demands that we escalate the war in order to let American troops withdraw. He has demonstrated that American Foreign policy still dictates the necessity to sacrifice American lives to ravish independent countries and to squander our resources and energies.

"The President has tragically misguided the mood of the country. The antiwar movement, which has marched and protested for years in a vain effort to reverse the United States' role in Southeast Asia, has finally resurfaced in new and larger numbers. With Nixon's lies now finally exposed, the immorality and hypocrisy of the government's policy has been revealed for all to see.

"The need for action has never been so great and so urgent. We therefore call on the entire academic community of this country to engage in a nationwide university strike. We must cease business as usual in order to allow the universities to lead and join in a collective strike to protest America's escalation of the war.

"We do not call for a strike by students against the universities, but for a strike by the entire university — faculty, students, staff and administration alike.

"The reasons for such a strike are manifold. First, it is a dramatic symbol of our opposition to a corrupt and immoral war. It demonstrates clearly our priorities, for the significance of classes and examinations pales before the greater problems outside the classrooms. Moreover, it recognizes the fact that within a society so permeated with inequality, immorality and destruction, a classroom education becomes a meaningless exercise.

"But the necessity for a strike extends even far beyond these reasons. The strike is necessary to free the academic community from activities of secondary importance and to open it up to the primary task of building renewed opposition to the war. It is necessary to permit the academic community to solidify its own opposition to the war, and to act immediately to extend this opposition beyond the campuses.

"We ask the entire academic community to use this opportunity to go to the people and to bring home to the entire nation the meaning of the President's action. A massive, unprecedented display of dissent is required.

"We urge that this strike be directed towards bringing about the following changes: 1. Immediate withdrawal of all American forces from Southeast Asia. 2. Passage of an amendment to the Senate's military appropriations bill to deny all aid for our military and political adventures in Southeast Asia. 3. Mobilization of public support for anti-war candidates in the upcoming and general elections. 4. Reallocation of American resources from military involvement abroad to domestic problems of our beleaguered cities. 5. The end of political repression at home . . . 6. And the building of support for a massive demonstration in Washington on May 9, 1970.

"The stage has clearly been set, the issues clearly drawn, the need apparent. It is now time to act."

According to the Star's editorial, a spanking may cure all this. What is "ridiculous" is that the grievances of the youth have not been heard, have not been listened to. Now, whether we like it or not, we have got to listen. We may even find that we agree with them. It is indeed, time to act.

Students Ask Attention

Editor of the Star:

As students of Connecticut College and past or present residents of Winchester we would like to explain the nature of the strike which began on our campus on Tuesday, May 5th, 1970.

The faculty, administration, and students, by a majority vote, decided to suspend classes through Sunday, May 10th. This gives us the opportunity to educate ourselves and the community about the present crises at home and abroad. We are questioning President Nixon's policy in Southeast Asia, particularly the recent extension of the war into Cambodia and resumed bombing of North Vietnam, and also the growth of the military-industrial complex. In addition we cannot neglect political oppression within the United States against minority groups such as the Blacks, student "radicals," and the poor.

In order to coordinate the many activities that students are participating in during our strike, we have established ten "task forces" to:

1. organize campus activities.
2. coordinate efforts with community leaders and exchange speakers with other campuses and local organizations.
3. communicate with those on military bases and at the Coast Guard academy.
4. organize canvassing and petitions in the community.
5. restructure Parents' weekend (May 8-10).
6. research the local military-industrial complex.
7. coordinate activities with national, inter-collegiate organizations.
8. communicate with the local press and radio and to publish a daily campus strike newsletter.
9. coordinate long-term political objectives such as campaigns for various political candidates.
10. finance strike activities.

We are distressed with the overemphasis by the news media of violent campus disruptions, and the corresponding lack of coverage of peaceful and constructive efforts by many college communities. We hope this letter will bring attention to one of many non-violent, well-organized college strikes.

Please join us in peace.

Protest At Smith

Editor of the Star:

As students of Smith, we would like to inform those in our hometown of some constructive political protest our school has taken. On May 5, Smith College voted to suspend "business as usual" and redirect its efforts toward action on national and international issues. This decision is an expression of our deep concern over the expansion of U.S. military operations in Southeast Asia and the increasing trend toward repression of political dissidence at home.

Our "strike" is non-violent. The faculty and students have joined together to educate themselves about these current problems and to devise a viable structure through which they can most effectively influence political action on them. We have set up an intensive program of seminars, workshops, and lectures in which sides of the issues will be presented and discussed in order that we may fully understand them.

We feel that our efforts will be most successful if we work through the existing channels of government to voice our protest. Therefore a massive letter writing campaign has been launched to inform our representatives and Senators of our views. Other methods of approaching our Congressmen such as personal visits to their offices are also part of our strategy.

A third emphasis of our program is to establish a dialogue with the community on these critical issues. We plan to set up a mechanism which will make discussion and perhaps joint action possible throughout the summer and fall.

We urge you to seriously consider recent domestic and international events and to voice your opinion.

Sincerely,
Betsy Moore

Law And Order Must Exist

Editor of the Star:

To those of you who are interested in the case of Lord v. Winchester School Committee, please be advised that the case has been entered on appeal in the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court and which will be heard next fall. That is the reason why I wanted the temporary restraining order which would have put Klemer in the same position as he was in; fired, no renewal on his contract, and his term to end in June of 1970, before this mandamus was commenced. Now Klemer will continue to be Superintendent of School in Winchester until the Court decides otherwise.

Staid old Winchester bows its head in shame on Friday, the eighth day of May, 1970:

The old order changeth and not for the better but rather the old order retrogresses by allowing some of the high school pupils to picket in front of the High School at 9 a.m. If I mistake not, picketing cannot be done, even peaceful picketing, during school hours unless given permission by the principal of the said high school. Maybe said pupils did not bother to even ask for permission. This is an example of retrogression on the part of principals, assistant superintendents (there are too many of these hanging around). For what purpose were these pupils at liberty to picket with no one in control? Did these pupils have free time to do as they pleased, in the place of studying, were they just putting in their time for the want of something better to do and did they figure that was their answer?

From the costumes worn by the pupils, it appears that they are under no discipline at all, either at home or in school. It is not a sight to be proud of in watching these kids dress as they please for many times one does not know whether the wearer is a male or a female, and it certainly does not give dignity to their appearance.

All too many parents actually are afraid of their children and that if the offspring are not given their way, the kids will feel frustrated. What bunk! The young people of today are not any different than what they were generations ago, people haven't changed any from the time they came upon this earth and people will not in the future be any different than what they are now.

The future of this fair land of ours is in the hands of those children, we are seeing today; the fact that not more than 10 per cent appear to be bearded, hair which reminds one of the hair of Medusa who had a nest of snakes and one who gazed upon her was turned to stone until slain by cutting off her head by Perseus.

It is a pleasure to be in the company of well mannered juveniles who are not only at ease in the company of adults and it is likes of these who will in due time be dignified ladies and gentlemen upon whom this country will depend for leadership. I would venture to say that 75 per cent of the kids are in this class and that they will be equal to the task. They do not picket, mix with those intent upon rioting, pillaging, destroying property, breaking windows, etc.

Those in supervising these are not on their toes as witness the striking of Woburn High School teachers, as well as the Boston school teachers. The Superior Court Justice ought to fine those responsible at least 100,000 dollars or more for they knowingly defied the law. Not a good example for the pupils to follow.

There must be law and order first, last and always.

Once again, "Vox Clamantis in Deserto."

Asks Mr. Chadwick For Vote Report

Editor of the Star:

The following is a letter I have sent to State Rep. Harrison Chadwick:

"Dear Mr. Chadwick:

"The news this evening reports a vote by the legislature regarding the commendable gesture made by the Governor when he lowered the flag at the request of citizens lamenting publicly the death at the hands of the State of four college youth.

"The vote in the legislature indicated that a large number were critical of Mr. Sargent. I am writing to say — without knowing at this moment — that I dearly hope that the legislator from my town of Winchester voted to commend the Governor.

"The federal government for years has perpetrated barbaric acts around the world and now it begins to add to the barbarism internally and begins to build a new kind of casualty list. Again, I say, I hope my representative voted with due sentitivity to the plaints of the young who must die.

"May I know how you voted, Mr. Chadwick?"

Hopefully yours,

Discipline Not Only Punishment

Editor of the Star:

If I could — a standing ovation from many of my neighbors and my friends regarding the editorial in the Star of Thursday, May 7, 1970, namely, "A Few Spankings?." We were pleased to know your thoughts, especially at this time when local and national situations appear most unsettled and gloomy. A small dot of light flickered on and caught the eyes and filled the hearts of those of us who really want to bring a halt to destruction, dissent and disharmony. Your "well-placed spankings" took some of us back a few years (about 20).

My best friend's mother at that time had the largest (in the springtime, smallest by fall) lilac bush just outside her back door. Her ears could pick up all sounds from the group of us clean across the playground — and I'm sure her eyes could see around the corner of the house, under the porch and thru the trees. I can remember when a naughty word or a big fight could release some special energy in my friend's mother. Because — like a bolt of lightning she could whip out her back door, to the lilac bush — snap off the best branch — and with marksmanship akin to Zorro — peel off the leaves with one swipe and land her stick on target — the closest one to her — and so make her point. We often hoped the bush would die or fail to reproduce — as it was, there was barely a twig left for the youngest of our crowd.

She reassured me the other day, after commenting on your editorial, and recalling the old days — that her family was all "happy and doing well, God bless them," and the lilac bush is a splendid huge, healthy bush — just ready and waiting for the grandchildren.

Seriously though, I was beginning to wonder if most of the adult population were so hypnotized by their youth of today, that action, words and feelings would forever remain stilled. Has the word "discipline" been banned for our youth or is it just out-dated and obsolete? If so, I'd like to make a motion that we, the adults, the parents, the administrators and whatever else needed, refamiliarize this society with discipline — it's true and full meaning. We shouldn't always think of discipline as a means of punishment only; but rather a training that corrects molds or perfects the mental faculties or moral character. Among other things, it means obedience, control and self-control.

Let us reinstate discipline in all our homes, our churches, all of our schools, our towns, our states, our country and our lives!

We don't need to stand together, or march together. We must "move" together, and very soon, to help restore discipline and respect in all society today.

Maybe what we all need is a lilac bush strategically placed in more ways than one!

Faculty Members Protest Editorial

Editor of the Star:

As members of academic faculties in this area, we cannot permit your editorial "A Few Spankings" to pass unchallenged. This editorial completely misunderstands the students. The present political activity at our schools is not skylarking by irresponsible spoiled youngsters; it is action by people concerned about their lives and their futures.

Our students are not striking against their schools, nor do they expect to bring their institutions or their country to its knees. In many cases, they now are working with their faculties and administrations in protest against the Government's policies. We faculty members are equally concerned at the escalation of the war in Southeast Asia and by the irresponsible use of excessive armed force within this country.

Why then are the students staying out of class? The answer is simply that the situation of the United States, both abroad and at home, has reached crisis proportions. It is literally a matter of life and death. Stopping the war, and stopping violence at home, is too important to be done on an off-hours basis. Many students see it as their present full-time job. When this most urgent task is completed, it will be time to resume normal education.

Very sincerely yours,

Disbelief At Editorial

Editor of the Star:

It was with nearly total disbelief that we read and reread the editorial, "A Few Spankings?" in this week's Star. Not only did the general tone and quality of understanding of the nature of dissent seem disconsonant with the sensitivity to the spirit of the present age that Star editorials have normally displayed, but the specific content ignored all of the definitive issues relevant to recent student unrest.

To discuss campus strikes over the question of U.S. involvement in Cambodia in terms of tuition payments, faculty salaries, cutting classes, and getting "c's" is to miss completely the message of the strikers — that all such considerations are shallow, irrelevant, and transient beside those of human justice and the misuse of power; considerations which must legitimately be delineated clearly and debated thoroughly when men are asked to kill and to be killed in our name; considerations for which we must all bear the ultimate responsibility.

To imply that the students must bear the responsibility of the blame for the tragic and unnecessary violence at Kent State is to misinterpret totally the source of and reasons for violence in our society.

To speak of "spankings" in relation to young people who are willing to place their futures and their lives in jeopardy in order to cry out against an absurd and intolerable situation which we have silently permitted to evolve is to insult the integrity and sensitivity of all concerned people.

Dissent Not Capital Offense

Editor of the Star:

I must take strong issue with your editorial of May 7 entitled "A Few Spankings" as showing incredibly little understanding of the seriousness and sincerity of the college strikes of this week. The student and faculty strikes against the extension of the war into Cambodio and the killings of the four Kent students is not simply a matter of cutting classes. It is a realization that in a time when the President of the United States usurps the Constitutional powers of Congress and extends an undeclared war; when he no longer even feels an obligation to Congress to answer for his actions; when scared, untrained and unprepared teenage soldiers are sent armed against dissenting students, (who are our children, even if our president writes them off as "bums"); when over 100 boys each week are being and will be killed (many of next year's crop being those for whom you are now advocating spankings); when the Administration can dismiss dissent by the people with simplistic name-calling; when all attempt to make government responsive to the people fails; and when silence (as in the "silent majority") is considered the major sign of a patriot; these are not times for "business as usual."

If the adults cannot realize this, then the young people must bring it to their attention.

Dissent is not yet a capital offense.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Lita Nelsen

Strike Purpose Evaded Writer

Editor of the Star:

It seems that the purpose of the current student strikes in the nation's universities has evaded your editorial writer. The thrust of these recent actions has not been to bring anyone to his knees, but the strike are serving a demonstrative function. That is, by ceasing "business as usual" students (along with faculties and administrators incidentally) are attempting to underscore the sad fact that the Federal government's priorities, both domestic and foreign, need further re-examination. Thus, the main concern here is to engender a questioning attitude in the entire body politic, as well as an attempt to persuade others to their political beliefs.

It should be pellucidly obvious that questions concerning government policy are the sine qua non of a democratic system. Only through the open examination of conflicting views will truth be determined. Or are some people in their naivete afraid to have the truth made known to them? It is said that the truth often hurts, but young people are learning that bringing it to light is equally painful.

Furthermore, your contention that:

"Perhaps it would be well to summarily dismiss all the striking students. After all, if they're not in class they can't be very much interested in the education."

is the most fallacious bit of logic I've seen in quite some time (and a split infinitive to boot!). The purpose of education is to enable a person to integrate what is learned in the classroom into real life situations. Education which exists in a vacuum has no value at all. It is only when knowledge is applied to problems that its efficacy is realized.

Perhaps the most important lesson to be drawn from the student strikes is that this is an action in extremis. Other avenues of communication with those in power have been tried and proved fruitless. Quite frankly, students are frustrated. They have been compelled to live in a political society that is unjust and inattentive, yet they are powerless to alter it. What many people fail to comprehend is that frustration leads to desperation. It is desperate action that spawns violence. To allow conditions to persist in the system which alienate so many students is a prohibitive price to pay for "prestige" and a "just peace."

Undoubtedly, the punitive measures you suggest would be more beneficial if directed at those in the government who do nothing to alleviate this deplorable situation.

Editorial Outrages Student Striker

Editor of the Star:

As a college student on strike, I was outraged by your editorial last week which dealt with the national student strike. Partial lack of information is a common occurrence — total ignorance such as you displayed is a rare, bitterly humorous phenomenon.

You deemed it unnecessary to articulate the specific demands of the strike. They are: (1) an immediate and unilateral withdrawal first from Cambodia, then from Vietnam; (2) a cessation of the systematic repression of political dissidents (annihilation of the Black Panther Party, the Kent State murders, conscientious objectors in prison, etc.); and (3) an end to the university's complicity with the industrial-war machine So much for what you entirely missed.

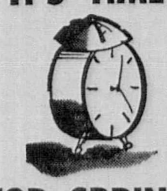

Essential to your meaningless diatribe was the supposition that the strike is anti-college, anti-education. I quote, "if they're not in class they can't be very much interested in education." That's bologna. The colleges have shut down their daily routine in order that students and faculty can discuss (in seminars, workshops, speeches, etc.) the critical problems of our country. The colleges of America have never in their history witnessed greater concern about their crucial educative function and its relevance to desperately-needed, societal changes. The strike entails a reordering of priorities. Your ignorance testifies to the critical need for informative and productive discussion of those issues which relate to our country's insane foreign and domestic policies.

Utilizing the knowledge gained during the course of this strike, we hopefully will be more effective in putting political pressure upon Congress (through protests, political campaigning, etc.) to change the direction that our society is headed. We desire your support, understanding, and participation in this movement.

You view discipline as the root of the problem. I quote, "Perhaps a few well-placed spankings during the formative years would have prevented this sorry state?" Your tactic of disparaging the individual as maladjusted and inadequate, as opposed to attacking the society, is just as fallacious today as it was centuries ago. Admittedly, the student is a convenient scapegoat. However, the student did not create these problems — a society is responsible. Student unrest reflects a basic, pervasive sickness in our society. Your apparent blindness to this fact precludes productive analysis.

In future editorials, I suggest you transgress the boundaries of popular stereotypes if you wish to achieve at least an iota of truth. Last week's editorial leaves everything to be desired.

Respectfully,
Christopher B. Alt

Respects Students

Editor of the Star:

Does the editor of the Star really believe that the simplistic and condescending generalizations of "A Few Spankings?" deserves the serious consideration of informed and thoughtful people? The fact is that many, probably most, "striking students" are not so much attacking educational institutions as trying to find a way to protest against the blindness of a large segment of the so-called "adult population" which will not listen to what they are saying.

While I lament the tactics of a few student extremists, I have tremendous respect for most of the students whom I know at first hand. They are not afraid to think realistically and daringly with reference to their ideals, ideals which are built into the fabric of this country. To imply that maturity in this respect is a matter of chronological age is extremely misleading. Psychologically speaking, many alleged adults have a lot of growing up to do to catch up with their children.

Sincerely yours,
Donald T. Rowlingson

Democratic Town Committee Elects Delegates

At its regular monthly meeting the Democratic Town Committee held election of the three delegates to the June Convention in Amherst. Selected were James Russo, Mae Serieka, and Robert Sullivan.

Guest speaker for the evening was John McGlynn, Mayor of Medford, State Representative from Medford and State Committeeman for this region.

Discussion centered on the drug problem. Mayor McGlynn, who serves on the Youth Service Board and frequently visits the State institutions, had discovered in speaking with the children that seven out every 10 committed in the last five or six years, as compared to one or two in previous years, are drug cases. Noting a lack of participation in or even knowledge about sports by these children, he felt that there must be a lack of interest on the part of the children, the parents or the city involved. Mayor McGlynn cited a need for youth activities.

In other matters the new Voter Registration Bill, which would allow people to register up to the time of election, and housing for the elderly, for which praise was given to the work of surrounding communities, were discussed.

Concern was offered for Elinar Russo, an active associate member of the Town Committee, who was recently in the hospital and is now home.

After the meeting a collation was served by Bee Wilson, social chairman.

Dr. Gibson New Chairman Of Mayor's Comm.

Mayor Kevin White today announced the appointment of Dr. John S. Gibson, director of the Lincoln Filene Center for Citizenship and Public Affairs at Tufts University, to serve as chairman of the Mayor's Committee on the Urban University.

DR. JOHN S. GIBSON

Dr. Gibson replaces Dr. Arland Christ-Janer, president of Boston University. Dr. Christ-Janer is leaving Massachusetts to assume the position of president of the College Entrance Examination Board.

The committee, created by Mayor White in September, 1968, has concerned itself with a number of issues dealing with city-university relationships and contributions universities might make toward solving city problems. The committee is made up of educators, civic leaders and city officials.

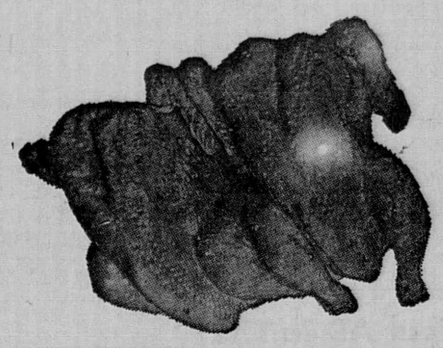

The committee undertook and published a major study of the impact of colleges and universities on Boston's housing supply and rental levels. It helped to shape a volunteer tutor program and has recommended programs universities might undertake in cooperation with the city's public schools and cultural and civic activities.

Dr. Gibson, 43, is the author of several books on political science, international relations, education and race relations. Besides being director of the Lincoln Filene Center, he holds professorships in the Departments of education, public diplomacy and law and diplomacy at Tufts University. Dr. Gibson received his BA from Oberlin College in 1948, his MA from Western Reserve University in 1950 and his Ph.D. in International Law and Relations from Columbia University in 1956.

Dr. Gibson is married and is the father of six children. He resides at 20 Cabot Street.

Nigeria Is Topic Of Mr. Archibald

Larry Archibald of 5 Penn Road will speak at the First Congregational Church, Chidley Hall, on Thursday, May 21, at 8 p.m. on relief work in war-affected areas of Nigeria.

LARRY ARCHIBALD

He has been working for the past 13 months near and in the former Biafran state with a Quaker Service team sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC).

Hoping to clarify some of the confusion about this great new country, he will highlight rehabilitation which the Quaker Service carries on in distressed areas of the world.

Information about the Nigerian situation, he feels, rarely passed beyond the level of informed propaganda, and he hopes many people will come with questions in their minds about conditions that actually prevailed.

For individuals and organizations wishing to support the AFSC in its rehabilitation work arrangements can be made after the discussion for regular news bulletins, exchange of letters, etc.

WHS Parents Elect Officers

The PFA Board of Winchester High School held its annual meeting at the High School cafeteria April 29.

Vito Giarrizzo, retiring chairman, reviewed the year's activities. He introduced the recommended By-Law change, which was unanimously voted, to increase the yearly dues.

Miss Constance Trickett of the High School Guidance staff spoke about a possible international student exchange between Winchester students and those from Great Britain. Parents here would have to indicate a willingness to house these students or the plan could not work. The students could go for four weeks in July. Miss Trickett asked that parents indicate their reaction to the program.

Dr. Howard Niblock, High School principal, reported on a meeting of the State Advisory Committee held at Andover. Some of the observations he shared were: the young person in 1970 is not necessarily more mature, but he is more sophisticated. Adults can't change the fact that change is here as a part of life. Students seek equality with adults, yet adults have responsibility and are held accountable. Conclusions to consider: Communication between parent, teacher, and student deserves mutual effort. Trust, faith and patience are the crucial ingredients in this era.

Jim Dobbins, cartoonist and guest speaker, delighted the audience with cartoon vignettes, centering about political personalities. Mr. Dobbins also selected persons present as subjects for caricatures which they carried home as souvenirs.

Refreshments and an opportunity to visit with acquaintances completed the evening following a vote to accept the slate of officers for 1970-71.

Incoming President, Mrs. Richard Brackett, 25 Central Street; Vice-President, Robert Grasty, 189 High Street; Secretary, Mrs. John Elliot, 118 Arlington Street; Corr. Miss Curtis To Lecture At Church

Only love can counteract today's rising tide of fear and hate, according to Grace Bemis Curtis, CSB, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Her Christian Science lecture called "Loving to Live," will be given in Winchester, Friday, May 22.

GRACE BEMIS CURTIS

Miss Curtis will speak at 8 p.m. in First Church of Christ, Scientist, 114 Church Street. The lecture is sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Winchester.

It is free and open to the public and will last about an hour.

Before devoting full time to the healing ministry of Christian Science, Miss Curtis was a concert pianist and music teacher. She studied at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester and the New York School for Music and Fine Arts in New York. She also studied privately with two students of Franz Liszt.

A life-long Christian Scientist, Miss Curtis is a teacher of Christian Science and a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. Members of this Board give lectures throughout the world.

Mistick Side Girl Scouts Attend Rally

"Building Bridges of Understanding" was the theme as 400 Junior Girl Scouts of the Mistick Side Girl Scout Council gathered together for a sing and swing day at the annual Juliette Low Rally held at Somerville High School on April 11.

Cadette Troop 510 of Winchester opened the ceremony with a parade of international flags, Pledge of Allegiance to our Flag and the Girl Scout Promise. An Albanian Folk Dance was performed by Troop 587 of Burlington wearing folk costumes.

The Senior Scout Folk Singing group entertained the Juniors and their parents and leaders with folk and Girl Scout songs. Folk dancing was led by Miss Marion Roberts with her accordian and the girls learned new dances.

As is the custom, contributions to the World Friendship Fund were collected. Troop 784 in Cambridge had made the container which was a world globe with a dove of peace on top. All participants joined hands as they made the world friendship pledge, "As we join hands around the world, we pledge ourselves to peace, friendship and understanding."

Senior Scout Valerie Naeve of Burlington awarded prizes to the essay winners as follows: "If I were a Fish in a Polluted Pond" Judith Hart, Troop 587, Burlington; Wendy Lee, Troop 458, Wakefield; and Betsy Greene, Troop 499, Winchester, and "What the Conservation Pledge Means to Me," Marie Rosignol, Troop 578, Woburn; Karen Rodenhiser, Troop 157, Malden; and Cynthia Rice, Troop 167, Reading.

The Rally Committee was: Mrs. J. D. Friborg of Winchester, Miss Caroline Holt, Somerville, a student at Tufts, and Mrs. James Lopez of Cambridge.

Mistick Side Girl Scout Council is a member of the United Community Services and receives funds from the Massachusetts Bay United Fund.

On Monday evening, May 18, the Aberjona Ladies Auxiliary No. 3719, VFW will hold its monthly social at the Post Quarters on White Street at 8 p.m. for the benefit of its charitable endeavors.

Miss Kadesch Is Honored At Shower

On May second, after the last performance of the play "Suspect," which was performed at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church, the cast and crew of that play gathered at the home of the director, Eloise Kadesch, for a cast party and a shower for Kathryn Kadesch, prompter on the play.

Miss Kadesch will marry Lee Draisin on May 31 at the Methodist Church here.

Centering the buffet table at the party was a bowl of yellow and white daisy chrysanthemums, a gift to the director from the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church who sponsored the play. After each member of the cast had received his gift commemorating the role played in the play, Miss Kadesch opened her gifts which were all for the kitchen of her new home.

The cast also presented the director of the play, Eloise Kadesch, with a gift to thank her for her time and effort spent in directing "Suspect."

Mrs. O'Brien Has Aptitude For Home Decorating

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. O'Brien of 446 Highland Avenue was included recently in the TV Channel 56 series "At Your Service." This program on home decorating took viewers into various homes in the Boston area.

MRS GEORGE F. O'BRIEN

The program commentator, Miss Charlotte Ann Cohen, interior designer of Charaud Interiors, Boston selected the O'Brien home primarily for its unusual and bold use of color designed to enhance the Spanish theme and because the O'Brien interior demonstrates that it is possible to break many standard decorating rules and yet achieve an eye-pleasing and dramatic setting.

The furnishings are a blend of authentic Spanish furniture bought by Mr. O'Brien on his many trips abroad, and a collection of unique articles found by Mrs. O'Brien in barns, old estates, junkyards and antique shops.

An interesting piece is a 150 pound wrought iron gate from an old estate which Mrs. O'Brien found in an antique shop. She refinished it and antiqued it to match two handcrafted wall sconces from Spain and it is now a headboard for the master bedroom. In the dining room, done entirely in red to heighten the effect of the traditional Spanish furniture, stands an old, tall, brass candlestick holder purchased in the Casbah in Casablanca. Various other "conversation pieces" are scattered throughout the house. Charaud interior designer, Miss Cohen, decided many of these small features would be of interest to the viewing public.

Urban Life Prompts Humor

An enterprising Manhattan housewife, who is also the neice of Mrs. George B. Redding of 10 Cranston Road, has written what may be the only funny book on urban renewal. In it she recreates the seven years that she and the other tenants of a rundown apartment house, spent fighting city hall in an effort to keep their building from being torn down.

Titled "The House Keepers," it was published by Harper and Row on May 6. The Winchester Public Library has the book on order and it is available at Spaulding Bookshop, 41 Thompson Street. The author Linda Grover is married to singer Stanley Grover. They are the couple in the "kick-the-habit" anti-cigarette commercial which has been widely seen on TV.

After a year of apartment hunting Linda Grover found six rooms complete with cockroaches and a toilet that flushed by itself. But, it did have potential and the price was right.

No sooner had they moved in than they found that the building was to be razed as a part of an urban renewal program. Addressing her book to "those of you who, like us, just don't feel comfortable lying in front of bulldozers," she tells how they battled to keep their home. "All we wanted was not to be forced to live in one of those vertical ice cube trays."

Their campaign began with a dinner which progressed through the seven stories of the building to which city officials, newspaper and television reporters were invited. As a result of the publicity the city conceded that the building might be allowed to stand if its tenants proved they could succeed in converting it into a cooperative.

To this end Mrs. Grover spent months escorting contractors and subcontractors through the 130 rooms — occasionally having to endure being chased around the roof — in an effort to secure an estimate for renovations.

"One electrical contractor suffered from an extreme orientation problem. He held the plans upside down and unerringly headed in the wrong direction all day.

Some of the others couldn't seem to understand that we didn't want to cheat ourselves and would whisper how they could get away with this or that inferior material or method; altogether the most amazing procession of individuals I've ever met," she writes.

The battle continued through endless red tape and frustrating encounters with civil servants, lawyers, politicians, bankers and architects. At one point, the then very pregnant Mrs. Grover swayed stubborn FHA officials by feigning imminent childbirth.

Practically nothing was easy. Once Mrs. Grover had to go to the bank about the mortgage during the transit strike — making the six mile round trip on a bicycle.

The fight, which the tenants finally won, culminated in a courtroom drama, complete with two busloads of rooters from the Bronx.

Then came the renovation and the beginning of more problems as they plunged into an unanticipated experiment in communal living. "The first and most important casualty during renovation was the demolition of our sense of proportion. People tried to accept the absurd with equanimity, such as the fact that a woman could not ride to the basement without finding a fat man to take along as ballast. The elevator had been adjusted for heavy construction loads and would go up and down like a yo yo unless you had fat friends along," writes Mrs. Grover.

The improvements took months to complete during which the 20 families lived in a state of complete chaos — one family had no bathtub for nine weeks.

Now, several years after the ordeal Linda Grover writes, "We're still mostly all together, though one lady who said she was tired of living in a kibbutz run by amateurs, sold her $1500 apartment for $20,000 and left.

"Monthly charges in those vertical ice-cube trays the city wanted us to move to are coming in, as the buildings are completed, at about $60 a room, while ours remains stable at $25. Makes us think it still pays to fight City Hall.

She reports that there are perhaps some 400,000 units of deteriorating housing in New York City which could be saved if the same methods used in her building could be applied.

Linda Grover has been a model, a Congressional secretary, a clerk in the House Indian Affairs Subcommittee, and a caseworker for the International Rescue Committee. The Grovers have three children. The whole family works in television commercials, separately and together.

"The House Keepers' is a fine funny book."

—Peg Bracken

"It should be read by anybody who has ever lived indoors."

—Henry Morgan

"It all reads like a miniature epic of human nature in lively combat with the advance forces of doomsday."

—Publishers' Weekly

Hospital Week Is Celebrated In Bedford

On May 12 and 15 the Veterans Hospital at Bedford will be open to the public, the Hospital Director, John J. Whalen said recently. Mr. Whalen announced that open house is in observance of National Hospital Week.

However, he was quick to point out that the Bedford Hospital has "open house" throughout the year. Since this is a medical care institution supported by public funds, one does not need to wait for the spring to visit.

For instance, people who are interested in volunteering their services to help ailing veterans are accommodated anytime. School groups, professional groups, civic associations, city and town officials, and interested individuals are welcomed throughout the year.

Volunteers are sorely needed in the alcoholic treatment, drug dependency programs, and many other areas where they make a significant and very important contribution to the recovery of the veteran patients. In the area of behavior modification, volunteers can play an important role in helping the patient to understand himself, to develop and accept his treatment program, to determine realistic goals for himself, and to achieve his highest level of functioning. This is a most rewarding experience for volunteers to engage themselves. Again; there is a great need for volunteers in this kind of work.

Guided tours will be conducted from 1 to 3 p.m. on the 12th and 15th starting from the Recreation Hall, Building 10. All areas included in the tour will have hospital staff available to tell how service is provided to our veterans.

There are plenty of rest areas, refreshment and cafeteria service and parking spots. An informative and pleasant experience is assured for those who come.

Farm School Parents' Day

The students and teachers at Forest Crest Farm School, 257 Forest Street, are making plans for their annual Parents' Day to be held on Wednesday, May 27th at 10 a.m. Rain date will be the first fair day.

This is the morning when all projects move outdoors. Parents, friends and interested spectators are invited to see pre-schoolers at work, finger painting, easel painting, modeling etc. The children have the opportunity to show their Farm School to visitors.

For the past 18 years Forest Crest Farm School has been a little bit of "old fashioned happiness" for countless girls and boys where they have known the fun of enjoying many animals, getting closer to nature and reaping the benfits of a Nursery School curriculum.

Math Council Members Attend Annual Meeting

Members of the Winchester Mathematics Curriculum Council recently attended the Annual Meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in Washington, D. C. The convention was held at the Sheraton Park and the Shoreham Hotels.

Teachers from across the United States and Canada had the opportunity to meet with and talk to those people who help design curriculum and write materials in Mathematics. There were lectures, section meetings, panel discussions and workshops at every level of education.

The theme of the conference was stated at a general session by Lee A. DuBridge, science advisor to the President, "Quantitative Thinking—the Basis of Modern Society." Quantitative thinking is another name for mathematics and is, therefore, a basic tool of our society today.

Those in attendance from Winchester were Mrs. Janet Greeno, first grade teacher at Wyman School; George Greer; sixth grade teacher at Vinson-Owen; Donald Stangel from Lynch Junior High; and John Waite, director of mathematics in Winchester.

As members of the Curriculum Council, each of these people attended sessions of intreest at his grade level, and they will be disseminating much of the information given out to all the teachers in Winchester. It is by attending such conferences that Winchester is able to keep abreast of all that is happening in the field of mathematics and continue to be in the forefront wiht innovation in mathematics education.

Mystic Valley Mental Health To Show Film

The Mystic Valley Mental Health Association will hold its annual dinner meeting on the evening of Wednesday, May 20, at 6:15 p.m., at the new Lutheran Church of the Redeemer off Route 128, Exit 39, on Forest Park Road in Woburn.

Of major interest to the public and to members of the Association in the towns of Arlington, Burlington, Lexington, Winchester and Woburn are experimental projects dealing with drug problems in the area, which are increasingly becoming a direct concern of the Mystic Valley Children's Clinic and the Association.

After the dinner the TV documentary on ACID will be shown. This portrays Father Bernard Lane's amazing and effective counselling of youth on drugs in the Malden area. Mystic Valley Children's Clinic is working in a similar area in conjunction with the Hancock Church in Lexington.

The public is invited to the dinner. Ticket reservations may be made through May 15, at the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association (862-7082). Those so desiring may come without charge to the showing of the T.V. documentary and discussion, which will start at 8:00 p.m.

Welfare Council Names Chairman Atty. Broadhurst

Attorney Austin Broadhurst of 18 Glen Road has been named chairman of the committee on agency membership of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, the voluntary health and welfare planning council for more than 325 voluntary, public and private agencies serving 65 communities.

Appointment of committee chairmen by the board of directors followed UCS's annual meeting, at which board members were chosen. A recently completed nearly two-year-long study of the council's organization, structure, procedures and policies recommends continued stress on UCS agency budgeting, coordination and consultation, but significantly increased emphasis on health, social welfare, urban and other related planning.

The self study findings and recommendations advanced by the volunteer lay, professional, business, labor and consumer leaders, who comprised the study committees, are designed to strengthen the overall and specialized capacities and capabilities of UCS.

Testimonial Is Planned For Candidate

A bi-partisan group of citizens has been formed to help promote the candidacy of Ronald A. Nigro of 115 Ronald Road, Arlington, Massachusetts for the State Senate from the Sixth Middlesex Senatorial District.

RONALD A. NIGRO

This group feels that the cost of politics today should be borne by the people, if we expect that we can elect legislators who are truly responsive to the people. Unfortunately the financial cost of running a successful campaign today is very high. For this reason the "Ronald A. Nigro Testimonial Dinner" will be held on Thursday, May 21, at Caruso's Diplomat on Route 1 in Saugus.

The chairman of the dinner, Peter Errera of Arlington, stated that the group's concern for better government led them to endorse Ron Nigro for State Senator. Mr. Errera made the following remarks in a letter which was sent to many of the friends of Ron Nigro:

". . . As President of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce in 1968, Ron established a spirit of community involvement among the businessmen of Arlington. For this leadership and past services to the town, the Arlington Jaycees named Ron as their 'Outstanding Young Man of the Year' for 1968. As an appointed member of Arlington's Council on Aging, Ron has helped to solve many of the pressing problems that confront our Senior Citizens. . . ."

Invitations to this dinner asked that replies be made by phone to Mrs. Thelma Berglund, Mrs. June Farrell, and John Nigro. It further stated that any checks should be sent to Mr. Errera at 152 Scituate Street, Arlington.

According to Mr. Errera the initial response to attend the testimonial has been overwhelming. He went on to say that his committee did not want to overlook anyone who wishes to honor Mr. Nigro on Thursday, May 21st; therefore, Mr. Errera asks any citizen who desires more information to contact either himself or Mrs. Raymond Berglund of 272 Broadway, Arlington.

Tracksters Rout Reading by 80-51

by John F. Parrell

The Sachem track team swept over Reading in their dual meet last week by the handy margin of 80-51. They achieved this victory by an almost complete domination in the long jump and 100 yard dash and by shutting out the invaders in the shot put and discus.

The return of Duane Gavel helped out a great deal as he hung up a first and second place. He has been out of action all season because of an operation and his loss has hurt in the meets to date.

Keith Doty contributed a triple win to lead the scorers and Bruce Hill carried off top honors in both hurdles events. Bob Bigelow, rangy basketball center, won his initial first place in track by taking the high jump and he also finished second in the shot put.

The summary:

Long jump: Doty (W), 18ft3in; Allard(W), 17ft2in; Foder(R), 17ft1in.

Discus: Emery(W), 126ft11in; Gavel(W), 125ft.4in; DeVries (W), 113ft11in.

Javelin: Pendergast(R), 153ft; White(R), 143ft4in; Ulwick(W), 134ft8in.

High jump: Bigelow(W), 5ft7in; Deplitch(R), 5ft4in; Calvir(R), 5ft4in.

2 mile: Arnold(W), 10:50.9; Williams(R), 11:05.5; Johnson (W), 11:13.2.

120 high hurdles: Hill(W), 15.8; Perry(R), 18.1; Brigham(R), 21.0.

Shot put: Gavel(W), 41ft9in; Bigelow(W), 38ft.7½in; Emery (W), 38ft2in.

100: Doty(W), 10.3; Deshler (W), 10.7; Chipman(R), 10.9.

Relay Team Does Well In Boston

by John F. Parrell

Coach Manny Marshall took his speedy half mile quarter to White Stadium last Saturday for the Boston Invitational Track Meet. This group which deadlocked for the Div. II title at the State Meet turned in another spectacular performance to carry off third honors. They were close behind Keith Academy and Wakefield who edged them in the sensational time of 1:33.3.

Winchester led at the start but slipped back in the middle stages and were unable to regain the advantage. The time breaks the school record for the event which has lasted seven years by .5 seconds, and the coach hopes that they can lower the mark again before the season ends.

Members of the team are Mike Deshler, John McHugh, Rich Cantillon, and Keith Doty.

Lacrosse Team In Running For State High School Title

by John F. Parrell

The stickmen of Coach Gene Bouley have been very successful in their campaign to date and currently are undefeated in high school play. They are very much in the running for the state championship. The schedule is studded with prep school and college freshman groups and the experience gained in these games does much to prepare the boys for their high school contests.

They bested Ipswich High 6-4, although they were not at the top of their game, but came from behind in the late stages to break a four all deadlock and set the winning margin. The Sachems had a sound 4-1 lead at the half but spectacular work by the Ipswich goalie kept them at bay during the third period. However, Phil Sampson and John Thomas passed him in the final quarter to insure the victory.

They met Rivers School in their home opener and came out on top handily by 14-5 as Phil Sampson and Curt Woodward each accounted for four goals and an assist. The midfield group dominated the game with Bill Briak and Chris Osgood, each with a pair of goals helping their partner Phil Sampson in building the winning total. Co-Captain Pete Wardwell led a fine defensive effort and sophomore Rick Murphy continued his great week in the goal.

Governor Dummer Academy's outstanding lacrosse team bested the Sachems by the narrow margin of 7-6. The prepsters are regarded as one of the finest in New England and the Winchester boys gained prestige by their stirring battle against this more experienced team. It looked as though the game was safely won by the Dummer team going into the fourth period but the Bouley coached team put on a sensational rally which fell short by only one goal.

Improvement

The continued improvement of the entire team has made them one of the finest schoolboy groups, in spite of the loss for the season of Co-Captain Noel Webb due to a wrestling injury. Mark Keating and Mark Lombardi have done much to fill the gap left by the defense by Webb's loss, and Rick Murphy has been a happy surprise in the goal. Others who have been playing well and scoring, besides players mentioned above, include Bob Thomas and Gary Fincke.

Last week saw the Sachem stickmen sweep three games from the better high school teams in the state. They downed Brookline 6-3, Newton 8-7, and Needham 9-5. This moves them to the very top of schoolboy ranks and has kindled the championship hopes.

The Brookline game was not one of their best as they failed to show their usual skill in ball control. However, with the defense remaining strong they managed to stay ahead of the Brookline team. Against Newton they played a fine game from the opening whistle and pulled out a hard earned one goal victory. Newton entered the game with a 7-1 record and scored a pair of quick opening period goals. The Winchester group found Newton to be a hard hitting team and they kept the local offense off balance.

The Newtonites picked up three more second period goals for a 5-0 edge, but in the late minutes of the half Bill Brink and Gary Fincke tallied to make the half time count 5-2. Winchester continued improved play in the third period by outscoring Newton 2-1, but as the final session started they still were on the short end by 6-4.

The locals had gained confidence as the fourth period wore on and Brink, Sampson, John Thomas and Larry Knowlton provided a quartet of goals which offset the lone Newton marker and the Sachems came out on top by 8-7.

Playing with only a few hours rest, the Sachems roared off to a fine 7-1 lead against Needham. However, the two games coming so close to each other took an undeniable toll and Needham closed the gap in the second half.

Winchester scored six goals in the second period and Phil Sampson netted the ball five times for his best scoring day of the year.

Sachem Boosters Back Sports Teams

by John F. Parrell

The Sachem Boosters have organized in support of the Winchester sports program and plan to take a prominent part in the community recreational effort. It is their hope that by a well planned and supported program youth may be encouraged to participate in Boosters are currently holding a worth-while activities and in this way the "generation gap" may be narrowed.

As their first formal project, the fund raising campaign with the first prize a trip for two to Bermuda. Arrangements are being made by the Kirsten Travel Agency and the winner may plan his trip any time within the next year.

It is hoped that there will be a good public response to this drive which will provide increased opportunity for planned recreational activities as well as a means of rewarding excellence when there is no means of providing the reward at town expense.

The following coaches wholeheartedly back the Boosters and are working with them:

Manny Marshall, football and track

Robert Albright, track and gymnastics

Bill Colella, baseball

Vandy French, basketball and JV baseball

Gene Bouley, soccer and lacrosse

Tom Kline, wrestling

Joan Rosazza, girls' softball and gymnastics

Earl Johnson, football and junior high basketball

Dave Berman, junior high hockey and football

Mike Houghton, junior high hockey

Melrose Falls To Sachem Nine

by John F. Parell

Fresh from their win over Stoneham, Bill Colella's baseball nine opened the second half of their season by trimming Melrose 3-1 in a well played game at Manchester Field. All the scoring took place in the fourth inning as the Raiders tallied their only run and the locals rebounded for three in their half to sew up the verdict.

John Reardon, who has been twirling well for the Sachems, held the visitors to three hits. He was in trouble at the start as leadoff batter John Baier laced a triple to centerfield. However, John tightened to fan two batters and emerge from the crisis. In the fourth a walk to Dan Shay, a sacrifice, and a ground rule double by Byrne scored the Melrose run.

The Winchester half saw Joe Campo reach on an error and he went to third on a ground rule double by Mike Gilberti which rolled under the football stands in right field. Ben Dolan smashed a double to center with both runners scoring and he also tallied as John Tello duplicated Gilberti's hit.

Both teams had scoring threats in the final innings but both pitchers were equal to the task of getting out of trouble. This victory brings the season's total to 9-2 with the league record reading 8-2.

Baseballers Hold Second Place

by John F. Parrell

Scoring a pair of runs in four different innings, the Winchester baseball team upped its league record to 9-2 by belting the Concord nine 8-0 in a game played in the historic town. With Woburn, Wakefield and Reading beginning to lose, Stoneham on top with a 10-1 slate and the locals only one game behind are pulling away from the rest of the Middlesex League. Winchester has scored 58 runs in its 11 league contests and has allowed the opposition only 18.

George Greenwich, southpaw hurler, limited Concord to three hits and his teammates combined seven safeties with four errors and five bases on balls to grind out their victory. Greenwich also had trouble locating the plate but Bruce Mullen and Steve Mulloy preserved his victory.

Ben Dolan had three safe hits and a long triple by John Tello and Bill Wolfe's home run did much for the Sachem offense. Two first inning runs came across on a base on balls, a single by Dolan, an error and Bill Wolfe's sacrifice fly. The fourth inning pair came on a base on balls to Tello and Wolfe's home run.

John Tello's triple following singles by Mike Gilberti and Dolan scored the fifth inning tallies. The sixth inning runs were the result of some wild baseball by Concord with a lone single by Gilberti the only hit. It was probably the worst single inning played by any opponent this season but was strictly anticlimactic since the verdict had long since been sealed.

JV Baseball Splits Two More

The JV baseball team is keeping pace with its varsity counterpart by bowling over the opposition quite regularly. Last week they won a hard fought game with Stoneham but dropped a very tight one to Melrose.

In both games they jumped out to solid first inning leads but whereas they held the margin to the end against Stoneham they were unable to stand prosperity and fell to the junior Raiders.

JV Nine Wins Over Watertown

by John F. Parrell

Coach Vandy French's JV baseball team rebounded after their first defeat of the season at the hands of Woburn and belted their Watertown counterparts by 8-2.

Neither team did too much with the bat but bases on balls and passed balls as well as stolen bases allowed 11 Sachem hitters to come to the plate in the second inning when they scored six big runs.

The most telling hits were a single by Bob Wolfe and Dave Frongillo's long triple with the bases loaded.

Larry Penta went the distance for Winchester and he kept out of danger by scattering the four hits which he allowed.

Bantam Soccer Has First Loss

Winchester's CYO bantam soccer team lost its first game last Sunday 2 to 0 under a broiling sun at Wellesley.

The CYO team outplayed Wellesley in the first half with a fine passing forward line controlling the ball well and outshooting but narrowly missing goals several times. During the second half, one of the Wellesley goals was scored from a penalty kick.

The team is now in a three-way tie for second place. Undefeated Cambridge will play Winchester at MacDonald Field Sunday at 2 p.m. The boys are capable of winning this game, particularly if the townspeople turn out to cheer them.

Pee Wee Soccer Beats Boston

The Winchester Pee Wee Soccer team exploded with three goals against Boston, last Sunday at McDonald Field, to remain undefeated and to capture first place in the B.A.Y.S. League.

The opening score against Boston came from a high, lofted corner-kick by Jay James which was converted by Paul Austin. Boston fought back but was denied a goal on a marvelous save of a penalty kick by goalie Wayne McNeil. The save by McNein lifted the spirits of Winchester and they proceeded to dominate play throughout the match. Wincheseter added a goal by Will Paglia and another by Jay James to close out the scoring.

The true potential of the Winchester team was brought out in this game with both offense and defense blending in exceptionally coordinated play.

The defeat of Boston sets up next Sunday's match with Hudson as the most important of the season. A win or tie by Winchester will cinch the championship for the Wee Sachems.

Practice as usual will be held Saturday, May 16, a 2 p.m. at Leonard Field.

249 Boys Register For Cap Baseball

by James R. Stewart Jr.

Registration Days, last Saturday and Sunday, brought out 249 candidates for the teams that will be playing Cap League Baseball, this year.

Ginn Field was a mass of swirling boys, parents and friends as Cap League Director Donald Van Roosen and his volunteer coaches accepted entry blanks from parents and other adults. Once most of the teams were separated into school categories, practice sessions and the difficult process of finding out who could play what position or positions was handled by more than 25 adult coaches. The refreshment stand was patronized well on Saturday, in fact it was so well patronized that day that Mrs. Richard Wilsack had to close the concession early on Sunday afternoon when she and her crew ran out of soda!

Following the Sunday practices, it was found that several of the schools had banner turn-outs so that, keeping in mind the approximately 25 player limit, some boys would have to be assigned to a team that was not necessarily their original school team. However, all candidates will be playing the full schedule on a team, and all will have opportunities to bat and to field in each of the nine games their team will play, if they are faithful in attending practices and games. Because of the response to the first call for registration, Sunday was the last call as well. No more applications can be accepted, now, and all teams will commence the season schedule this Saturday at 1 p.m. The second games will be played on Sunday, also starting at 1 p.m., and each week-end thereafter until Sunday, June 14th, when the championship rounds will be contested. Should games be rained out, the league will extend through the week-end of June 20-21.

Make-up of the teams and their head coaches are as follows:

Lincoln	Bill Wolfe
Muraco	Charlie Morris
Mystic Tigers	Norm Stanton
Mystic Greens	Warren Gagan
Noonan	John Pasillo
Parkhurst	Pete Philliou
St. Mary's	Henry Peluso
Vincent-Owen	Joe Restighini
Washington	Dick Wilsack
Wyman	Jim Aylward

Due to overflows of potential players, it is anticipated that the St. Mary's team will include players from St. Mary's, Immaculate Conception and extra boys from Wyman School. As will be noted, Mystic School had to form two teams because of double the number of candidates coming out. In any case, all boys who registered on last Saturday and Sunday will be playing baseball on a Cap League team.

It is suggested that parents and friends bring easy chairs for the games to make their viewing more comfortable in case their boy is not playing on what is the Little League's Major League Field where there are stands. Mr. Van Roosen also made a plea for preserving the beauty of Ginn Field by seeing to it that adults and children deposit trash in the trash barrels. Opening day is May 16th, 1 p.m., all games at Ginn Field — it is hoped that each week-end will see a good crowd on hand to cheer the Cap Leaguers.

Roberta Byford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Byford of Farmington, Connecticut, formerly of Winchester, will serve as Panhellenic Delegate from Alpha Kappa chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority at University of Maine. She is a junior majoring in elementary education-biology.

Girls' Softball Drops Two Games

The Winchester High girls' softball team, led by Debbi Busfield, played host to Melrose on Friday, May 1.

Winchester was defeated by the powerful Melrose team 24-5. Sue Kent did an excellent job of relief pitching.

It's the beginning of the season and the team has a few rough spots to clear up, but they promise more exciting games to come.

In the second game, at Stoneham, the Sachemettes were defeated by a close score of 10-9. Eileen McKenna pitched seven innings allowing only six hits.

In a losing effort, Lynne Anderson and Caroline Karp each belted a homerun. Lynne also hit a single along with Eileen McKenna, Nancy Dizio and Beth England.

The J.V.'s defeated Stoneham in their first game 34-19. At bat, Winchester had 37 hits. Sue Goodwin and Jeanne Fox both his home runs. The girls did an excellent job of fielding and had a lot of spirit. The Sachemettes are coached by Miss Rosazza and Miss McNeily.

Duplicate Bridge Club

The Men's and Women's Pairs Tournament filled the hall on Wednesday, May 6th. On the ladies' side of the room Donna Redpath and Evie Blackler were the winners of the Andersons Jewelers Challenge Bowl, while on the masculine side Peter Cullen and Frank Gonsalves had a fine 66⅔ game to win Chitel's Challenge Bowl.

Top scorers among the ladies were:

Donna Redpath and Evelyn Blackler	142
Lee Salani and Sally Sabo	134½
Adeline Mingolelli and Elodie Flewelling	128½
Adaline Duryea and Ida Finlay	125½
Gay Schreiber and Ruth Hagan	125½
Leonora Carty and Eileen Brennan	125½
Peggy Sanderson and Fredna Perkins	124
Lena Collins and Ellen Schofield	122½
Greta Hawley and Miggs Root	117½
Jane Davis and Dorothy Fuller	116½

Those gentlemen above average were:

Peter Cullen and Frank Gonsalves	.661
David Littleton and Stephen Root	.633
Norman Houlding and Leo Gonsalves	.578
Edward Mansfield and Irving Brown	.552
Ron Nacamuli and Harvey Rabinowitz	.551

Hand No. 1 From the Women's Pairs:

South
♠ A Q 10 8 5
♥ K
♦ J
♣ A K J 10 4 2

No one was vulnerable, North was the dealer and the bidding went:

North, pass; East, pass; South, 1♠; West, 2♥.

North, 2♠; East, pass; South, 4♠; West, pass.

North, pass; East, double (gleefully).

All pass.

The most frustrating hand for poor East! Without a spade lead, this hand cannot be set, if played properly and if clubs are ruffed.

The Ace of hearts is led by West and hearts continued, as good as any lead. East must ruff, or the singleton diamond is discarded. South over-ruffs, leads the Ace of clubs, ruffs a club, leads the heart Jack. East again ruffs, South over-ruffs, ruffs a club on the board. A diamond is led off the board and taken by West. A diamond can be led earlier, but no matter. Or East could come up second hand with the diamond King, and lead a spade, — same result. Any return is ruffed, the club King drops East's Queen, and clubs are played until East is forced to ruff and lead a spade which is finessed. South loses 1 heart, 1 diamond, and 1 spade.

Note: this hand, with club finesse,, makes three no trump, but not a good contract. Any lead made by the opponents helps declarer.

Students To See Julius Caesar At North Shore

Massachusetts is continuing its effort to spark student interest in the performing arts. The state's Council on Arts and Humanities recently announced support of the 1970 Shakespeare Program for Students sponsored by the North Shore Community Arts Foundation, Beverly.

Through a contract with the Foundation, the Massachusetts Council will encourage high school students from specified communities to attend performances of "Julius Caesar" at the North Shore Music-Theatre, May 4 through 23.

Council funds will be used to underwrite part of the admission cost for interested young people from areas around Boston who have not previously benefitted from the experience of attending "live" theatre.

Thirty thousand students from junior and senior high schools throughout New England are expected to attend morning and afternoon performances of "Julius Caesar," beginning May 4. It will be the eighth Shakespearean classic presented at Beverly's Music-Theatre since the student Shakespeare Program was inaugurated in 1963 to "augment and enrich the study of English literature."

"Julius Caesar" will be staged by a professional New York acting company, and will be directed by noted Broadway director Philip Lawrence.

In his announcement, Council chairman John Watts noted that the reduced-rate ticket program will be administered individually by each school system and that participation will be voluntary.

Prior to the May performances, the sponsoring Arts Foundation will make a lecture-demonstration team available to New England high schools to familiarize students, with the play and to help bridge the gap between the printed text of "Julius Caesar" and the live production they will attend in Beverly.

Teachers, parents and students interested in the Shakespeare Program production of "Julius Caesar" may obtain further information by writing the North Shore Community Arts Foundation, Box 62, Beverly, Massachusetts 01915.

Smith Alumnae Hear Address On Summerthing

Members of the Smith College Club of Winchester, and their husbands gathered on May 6, at the home of Mrs. Thomas L. Raleigh Jr. of 57 Swan Road to hear Mrs. Louis I. Kane, a Smith alumnae, who is director of the City of Boston's Division of Cultural Affairs, and head of the Summerthing program.

Dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. David B. Holmes and her committee.

Mrs. Thornton Stearns, program chairman of the club, introduced Mrs. Kane, who formerly was president of the League of Women Voters of Boston and a state representative, prior to being appointed to her present post by Mayor Kevin White in 1968.

Mrs. Kane presented a graphic tape and slide show, depicting Summerthing's many varied activities, including showmobiles, plantmobiles, craftmobiles, movie busses and workshops for people of all ages. She described plans to expand the program into a year-round activity, and cited the need for additional volunteer contributions of both materials and funds.

Mrs. Linson Is President Of Nursery

Mrs. Lewis Linson has been elected president of Winchester Unitarian Cooperative Nursery School for next year.

Also elected at the recent meeting were Mrs. Peter Rosenberger, vice president; Mrs. James J. Boone Jr., secretary; Mrs. Ronald Bucknam, membership chairman; and Mrs. James DeTore, treasurer.

Mrs. James Doane, the current president, announced plans for a visit from the MDC zoomobile and trips to the Children's Museum and Drumlin Farms this month.

Members discussed a questionaire evaluating the nursery school, and the majority supported the cooperative aspect of the school and indicated that they felt the participation of the mothers was valuable.

A movie about kindergarten at Tuft's Eliot Pearson School was shown. Pamphlets about the WUCNS, prepared by Mrs. James DeTore and illustrated by Nickie Wankowicz, who attended the nursery school, and Kenneth Pierskalla, were displayed. Copies are available for parents interested in the nursery school.

VNA Holds May Meeting

On Friday, May 9th, the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association held its May meeting in the home of Mrs. Ronald Stillman, 4 Lakeview Road.

Guest speaker was Dr. Richard David Budson, instructor of psychiatry at Harvard Medical School, who spoke on "Psychological Tasks of Adolescence." A luncheon was served at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Chester Dawes opened the meeting and reports were heard from the secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Dawes announced the Visiting Nursing office moved on May 6th to temporary quarters at Fairmount Street. She thanked the volunteers who helped the staff nurses at the TB Clinic, held at Town Hall on May 7.

Gloria Pearson, director of nurses, said in her report that home nursing visits are up from last year.

There will be a mumps and German measles clinic later this year, Miss Pearson stated, with the dates to be announced soon.

The Visiting Nursing staff is attending a series of programs on drug abuse, sponsored by the District Attorney of Norfolk County.

Dr. Budson spoke on adolescence as part of a life cycle. The actions of adolescence relate directly to the four main earlier stages of life — oral, anal, oedipal and latency stages.

The doctor described each of these stages and the emotional and psychological tasks of each. He then presented his theory of a developmental approach to each of adolescence's main problems. drugs, violence, free love and drop-out.

He stated that each of these problems relates directly to earlier stages, and the guidance given to a child during this earlier stage has a direct bearing on his handling of the problem.

Dr. Budson recommended several books for parents to help understand the adolescent and his problems. They are: "Sex and The College Student," and "Normal Adolescence," both written by the Committee for the Advancement of Psychiatry, and "Emotional Problems of Living" by English and Pearson.

Poetry Studied

"Dreaming"
by Norman Richburg, Fifth Unit
Muraco School

The clover bloom sheds no perfume
No longer laugh the crystal streams;
On mossy beds the roses' heads
Have calmly dropped in quiet dreams.

As a result of a poetry group at Muraco School the above poem was put to music and became a song.

Student teacher Thomas Witwicki led the group in a discussion of comparison of songs and poetry. Norman Richburg, a fifth unit student, brought in the poem on "Dreaming" he wrote and Mr. Witwicki took out his guitar and put it to music.

Students in the poetry group included Norman Richburg, Donna Sullivan, Paula Maiullari, Cheryl Doherty, Debbie Cammarata, Simon Donovan, Michael Lucci, Susan Provenzano, Debbie Luke, and Mary Beth Enstad.

Breaking, Enterings Reported

Reports from two residences of breaking and enterings were received by Winchester police on Officer Robert G. Baird responded to the call at a High Street home in mid-afternoon. Listed in the police report as missing at this time were approximately $117 from a purse and a diamond ring. Nothing else appeared to be disturbed.

It was found that two air conditioners were missing, one of which was located in high grass across the street by investigating Officer Donald F. Jackson. A rear door had been broken.

REPEAT OF A SELL-OUT!

STEP UP TO SCOTT STEREO SOUND

• VALUE • PERFORMANCE • FLEXIBILITY are the 3 advantages that a component stereo system offers!
Comparable to compact (pre-packaged) stereo sets costing $100 more, this TECH HI-FI SYSTEM saves you money today, and eliminates any further headaches that "compact" stereo purchases so often cause.
• VALUE The merchandise in this system normally sells for a list price of $314.45. Because TECH Hi-Fi is offering it as a "complete" system and because we feel that these items complement each other so well our special system price is 37% off list. That's a saving of $114.50. Try mentioning system discounts to a "compact" dealer!
• PERFORMANCE The unquestionable reliability and performance parameters of H. H. SCOTT'S MODEL 341 STEREO FM RECEIVER have been evident for some time. The integrated circuit preamplifier in the 341 is a prime example of its level of performance. The use of IC's in this section results in a reduction in distortion to levels far below the audible range. (Harmonic distortion is less than .5% at rated output of ±1 db. at 70 IHF watts.) IM distortion is also a low, low .5% at rated output.
• FLEXIBILITY With this no compromise receiver section pumping 30 continuous RMS watts into Scott's Model S-16 6" coaxial speakers, you'll fill your listening room with beautiful accurately reproduced music with no chance of your system ever becoming obsolete.

Check these features that few pre-packaged compact systems have at twice the price.

1) VOLUME COMPENSATION SWITCH for proper tonal balance at low listening levels.
2) TAPE MONITOR SWITCH enables you to ADD A TAPE DECK to your receiver at a later date. 90%
3) SEPARATE BASE AND TREBLE controls for each channel (don't bother looking for that on a compact).
4) The model 341 has SWITCHING FACILITIES FOR AN EXTRA PAIR OF STEREO SPEAKERS should you want to add a second set for stereo in another room. The most popular 400 dollar "Compact" system has left this out.
5) A STEREO HEADPHONE JACK for private listening is included.
6) The BSR McDONALD 300T AUTOMATIC TURNTABLE—a four-speed model with high performance SHURE MAGNETIC CARTRIDGE installed is supplied mounted on its own mounting base. This unit was reviewed in the March 1970 issue of High Fidelity Magazine. They said: "The 300T ran with no measurable (speed) error . . . This would be a commendable score for any turntable; in a unit as low priced as this, it's almost phenomenal . . . Rumble was measured as 47db." That's directly comparable with the leading $175 imported turntable.
7) The ability to trade up to better components in the future WITH LIBERAL TRADE-IN PRIVILEGES AT ANY OF TECH HI-FI'S FOUR STORES. Only component stereo can offer PERFORMANCE and VERSATILITY such as this—and only Tech Hi-Fi can offer this system at such a LOW MAXIMUM VALUE PRICE.

Noonan School May Festival Is Held

Winners abounded at Noonan School recently during the Annual May Festival which was conducted for the first time by Fun Services of Duxbury.

Prizes were gvien to winners at each of eight booths located throughout the school auditorium, and a near-record profit was realized from the games and from a highly successful raffle, according to Festival co-chairmen Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald and Mrs. William Whittaker. Proceeds will benefit Noonan School and various local educational charities.

Cash awards were given to the youngsters who had sold the most raffle tickets. Tied for first place in sales were Thomas Shirley and Debbie Capua, followed by Cathy Kerrigan and Carla Polcari in second and third place, respectively.

Thirty-three prizes which had been donated to the Noonan School by local merchants were distributed to the winners at a drawing during the Festival. Among the winners were Miss Allison Hersey, an area rug from Mouradian Rug Galleries, Joe Zaffina, 100 gallons of fuel oil from Fitzgerald Fuel Company, Joe Morandi, 100 gallons of fuel oil from General Oil Company and Louise Burns, a transistor radio from McCormack's Apothecary.

A grease, oil and filter change for the family car was won by Cheryl Oravetz, donated by Country Club Esso. Diane Morgan won two men's wool ties, donated by Chitel's. Dry Cleaning certificates were won by Diane Morgan from Embassy Laundry and Dry Cleaning and by Lin Beale and Mrs. Churchill from San-O Cleaners.

A gift of cosmetics was won by Jeff Gaudioso, donated by Winchester Drug, Inc. and a cologne and bath oil set from Cradock Apothecary was won by Denise McCarron. Terry Mack won four Italian sub sandwiches from D'Agostino's; F. A. Edwards was the recipient of a baby Edam cheese from the Cheese Shoppe, and Mrs. Robert Shirley received a pizza donated by Bellino's Pizza.

Robert Burns won a game donated by Ronel's and boxes of stationery were won by Lin Beale and N. Wong.

Eight plants donated by Mahoney's Rocky Ledge Farm were won by Mrs. Robert Swymer, Carol MacMillan, Mrs. John Nowell, Mrs. Richard Norris, Mrs. Brad Johnson, Mrs. Klaida, Debbie Lawton and Mary McDonough

Miss Beverly Anne Alba currently is performing with the 1970 Ithaca College Women's Varsity Lacrosse Team. Miss Alba, a junior physical education major, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Alba of 5 Myopia Road. She is a 1967 graduate of Winchester High School.

School Program For Mentally Ill To Be Discussed

The school program at Metropolitan State Hospital will be the topic of the May meeting of the Association for Mentally Ill Children. A panel of teachers from the Gaebler Children's unit will discuss all aspects of conducting a school for severely mentally ill children; this discussion will be led by the principal of that unit, Phillip De Mattia.

This school is publicly accredited and is staffed by teachers who are all certified, under Massachusetts law, for teaching disturbed children.

One of the basic concepts of the program at the Gaebler Unit is that psychotic children need a highly structured program of ego-building and ego-supportive activities; the school therefore provides modified school experiences and includes some vocational teaching as well as basic academic classes.

The school serves children who are inpatients of Metropolitan State Hospital and those day students whose educational needs are not met by any existing community facilities. Metropolitan State Hospital contains the only children's unit in this state that is designated to serve the mentally ill child who needs residential treatment.

Current co-chairman of the Association is Mrs. E. Stephen Miliaras of 12 Mt. Pleasant Street. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 20, at 8 o'clock in the First Parish Church, Harrington Road, Lexington. The first part of the meeting will be given over to electing officers for the coming year, approving the charter, and other business items. Since this is our last regular meeting before summer, we urge all members and other interested persons to attend.

Mr. Phinney To Direct Choral Concert

Keith L. Phinney of 216 Highland Avenue will direct the Polymnia Choral Society in its final concert of the season, Friday, May 15, at 8:15 p.m., in Memorial Hall, Melrose.

Mr. Phinney, director of music in the Bedford Public Schools, is a tenor soloist. He has appeared with several local groups, and sang for eight years with the North Shore Summer Musicals. He is currently soloist at the First Baptist Church, Melrose, and also directs the Wellesley Choral Society.

"Poly-pops," as the concert is called, features the choral society singing show tunes, popular ballads and syncopated rhythms.

Mr. Phinney has selected ten women from the Polymnia who are called "Polyettes," and they will sing a medley of three numbers. There are soloists from the group, also; and the program provides a variety of numbers which has added to its success through the years.

Table and arena seats are available, and refreshments will be sold. Tickets are available from members, or at the door.

FRUIT BASKETS add a festive note as Mrs. Andrew L. Nichols, Channel Two area chairman, and Mrs. Russell Bollinger, Winchester captain, admire a painting donated to the NET auction. Also to be auctioned off are the sports clothes they are modelling, part of a gift of the Scandia Trading Company, Winchester. Virtually everything imaginable will be auctioned (but not the ladies).

Channel Two Auction Approaches

As the crew of the Channel 2 warehouse in Cambridge struggles with mountains of donations, in preparation for the fund-raising Auction, the time has come for both NET supporters and auction lovers to prepare for bidding.

By shining up one's television screen and placing a pad and pencil in a convenient place one can dash to the phone and place a bid.

For "Forsyte Saga" fans, the something necessary could be one of the props or costumes donated by the BBC, producer of the series. "Fleur's" wedding dress, typical of the twenties, will be available as well as a ball gown of the eighties, an elaborate, lace-trimmed and decolletage dorwn by "Irene."

If one's interests are more artistic, a visit to the Art Preview at the Prudential Gallery, May 18-28 provides an opportunity to see some of the variety of art. Written bids may be placed at this time and the highest bid on each piece will be used to start the bidding during the telephone auction. ("Forsyte Saga" fans are again in luck, the portrait of "The White Monkey" will also be put on the block.)

Carloads of merchandise have been rolling out of Winchester on their way to the warehouse in Cambridge; local merchants and individuals have surpassed last year in their giving. On May 28, The Multiple Listings Realtors will sponsor a full page advertisement listing each Winchester donor and his gift. By checking the advertisement one can bid on an item given by a merchant one knows.

In any case these dates should be circled: May 18-28, Art Preview at the Prudential Gallery; May 30-June 6 Auction! !

Garden Club Plans Election

The Winchester Estates Garden Club will elect 1970-71 officers at its annual meeting on Monday, May 11, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Hugh Frey, 33 Squire Road. Mrs. P. P. Lele will be co-hostess.

Members are askd to bring flower arrangements. Judging will be by ballot.

John C. Craig of 10 Canterbury Road was recently welcomed to his first meeting of the Salvation Army's South End Boys' Club advisory Council of which he is the newly elected chairman. Mr. Craig is an attorney.

Fourth Member Appointed To New Housing Authority By Board Of Selectmen

John L. Doherty of 137 Highland Avenue was appointed to the newly-formed Housing Authority by the Board of Selectmen at its regular meeting Monday night in the Town Hall.

Mr. Doherty, a civil engineer, is the Board's fourth appointment to the five-member Authority. Others who were appointed at the May 11 meeting were Mrs. Mary Murphy of 29 Richardson Street, Attorney Vincent Celia of 52 Winford Way, and Charles T. Doucette Jr. of 6 Upland Road.

The fifth member of the Authority will be appointed by Governor Francis Sargent. His announcement of the appointment is expected shortly.

The Authority was voted by the 1970 Annual Town Meeting, following a report of the Public Housing Study Committee on the need for housing assistance for the elderly in the Town. All state and federally subsidized programs must be administered by a housing Authority.

All of the positions except the Governor's appointee will become elective at the next annual Town election in March. The Governor's appointee will serve a three year term.

In other business the Board met with Town Treasurer Marguerite Troop to discuss the sale of bonds for the high school.

In light of the present money market, Miss Troop told the Board, she recommended that the Board reconsider its earlier vote to bond the entire amount of the high school project ($12 million) at one time in June. She suggested an initial bond issue of $6 million with an additional issue in the Fall, at which time the current high interest rate might have fallen.

The Board decided to maintain the original vote and to seek bids on the bond issue in early June. The decision was based on the members' feeling that the interest rates might go higher.

Incinerator

Also meeting with the Board Monday night were Superintendent of Streets Robert O'Brien and Incinerator Foreman Paul Gangi. Discussed were the new hours of operation for the incinerator during the summer.

Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Gangi proposed that the incinerator be open Monday through Friday and closed on Saturday and Sunday to allow time for the furnaces to cool so that maintenance work might be done on Monday.

Members of the Board, taking into consideration that many Town residents use the incinerator on Saturday, suggested that the facility might be closed on Sunday and Monday and opened Tuesday through Saturday.

After discussion, the Board voted to have the incinerator closed on Sunday and Monday.

Selectmen Chairman Ralph Swanson noted that MDC Commissioner John Sears would visit Winchester on May 28 at 3:30 p.m. along with Representative Harrison Chadwick to discuss with the various Town committees and boards the problems with the MDC.

It was reported to the Board by Selectman Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr. that the issuance of complaints against the Board sought by Arthur and Clara Hewis of 91 Swanton Street in Woburn District Court with regard to the closing of Shore Road had been denied by the Clerk of the Court in a show-cause hearing on May 13.

The Selectmen concluded the meeting with a discussion of procedures for meetings during the coming year.

Hudson Bus Lines Begin Strike; 700 School Children Affected

Parents of over 700 school children are supplying alternate transportation for them as a strike by drivers in the Medford division of Hudson Bus Lines continues. The work stoppage began Monday noon.

Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemer and John Cremens, Hudson's general manager, said that the strike was unauthorized by the drivers' union. The drivers belong to Automotive Chauffeurs, Parts and Garage Employees, Teamsters Local 841.

Dr. Klemer expressed School Department hopes for an early end to the labor dispute. His department requested parents to drive their children to and from school or to arrange for car pools with neighbors.

Possible temporary transportation arrangements with another bus firm are being considered, Dr. Klemer said. There is a question whether other drivers would wish to cross into Local 841's territory, however, Dr. Klemer said.

Affected by the strike are approximately 327 elementary school pupils, 315 in secondary classes, and 90 at St. Mary's School.

For 1970, $70,000 was budgeted for school bus transportation. In 1969, it cost Winchester $63,700. These amounts, covering basic bus transportation, do not include sums for field trips or for special service for handicapped pupils.

Bus transportation bids for the next three years have not yet been sought by the School Department. A three-year contract with Hudson Bus Lines expires next month. Hudson has provided school bus transportation for Winchester pupils for many years.

Several attempts to reach Thomas Fitzgerald, Local 841 business agent, for a statement were unsuccessful.

Ferris Wheel Accident Injures Girl

An accident on the ferris wheel which caused injury to an eight-year-old girl marred the festivities at the En Ka Street Fair over the past weekend.

Pamela Edson, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Edson of 44 Grayson Road, received a broken leg when she fell from the seat in which she was riding at the landing platform of the wheel. The fall was believed to have been due to a mechanical failure in the wheel.

Pamela was treated at Winchester Hospital and is recuperating at home.

Police Lt. James Cogan investigated the accident.

Record crowds attended the fair on Friday night and Saturday.

Winner of the Opel Kadet donated by Smyly Buick of Malden was Elmer Ripley of Wedge Pond Road.

Many attractive entries in the Saturday morning parade made the judges' decision a difficult one. Winners of the prizes for "most in keeping with the theme of the fair" and for "most appropriate to their own group" were the Visiting Nurse Association and the Winchester Estates Garden Club.

En Ka has extended its thanks to everyone who contributed to the success of the Fair, the proceeds of which make possible EnKa's support of many local charities.

Bicycle Thefts, Broken Windows Show Increase

Evidence of warmer spring weather are the increasing reports to the Winchester Police Department of stolen bicycles and vandalism to windows and plate glass on homes, businesses and vacant automobiles.

Following the weekend of May 9 and 10 residents' complaints alerted police to this streak of bike larcenies. Those reports registered showed a vehicle taken from Lynch Junior High School, two from the McCall Junior High property, one from Winchester High School, two from private yards on Grove Street, and two from a garage and from the property of Hillside Avenue residences.

On Tuesday, May 12, patrolmen found an unregistered automobile in a Main Street parking lot stripped of its four tires and wheels.

Predominant among accounts of vandalism recently is the number of windows smashed or damaged by BB shots and rocks. Particularly plagued were business on Main and Washington Streets. Such complaints from store owners and observations by patrol officers continued throughout the week.

Other reports of broken windows and plate glass came from Cross and Holton Street businesses and residences on Town Way, Highland Avenue and Park Street. A hole in a Kindergarten room window made by a BB shot was also discovered on Friday, May 15, at Washington School.

Rear windows on motor vehicles were also broken, again assaults by BB shots. These automobiles were parked at various locations on Stone Avenue, Main and Washington Streets near McCall Junior High and at other spots along these roads, Lincoln Street, Church Street, and Fells Road.

On Monday, May 18, Winchester police were informed by Dr. Leonor M. Rich, principal of Washington School, that a breaking and entering had occurred at the institution over the weekend. Officer Joseph M. Crowe Jr. responded to the call and found that a tin can containing a small amount of money and a cigarette lighter were missing from the teacher's room. Method of entry was not determined at this time.

Assessors Set Rate For '70 Tax At $52; Bills Out During June

The tax rate for 1970 will be $52 per thousand, a 21 per cent jump over last year, the Board of Assessors announced yesterday.

This is the earliest the tax rate has been set since the Town moved to full valuation of property in 1968 following the mandate of the 1966 Town Meeting. The 1969 rate was $43 per thousand, a 15 per cent increase over the 1968 rate of $37.40.

At the final session of the 1970 Annual Town Meeting the Finance Committee had estimated this year's tax rate to be $52.

It is hoped by the Board that the tax bills will be mailed during the month of June. Actual mailing date is tied to the work schedules of the Town computer and to the receipt of the bill forms by the Town Tax Collector.

The Town law reads that if the tax bills are out before October 1, payment is accepted by November 1 without interest charged. If they are issued after October 1, they are accepted without interest within 30 days of their mailing.

Board Chairman Windsor Carpenter, accompanied by Town Comptroller James Costello and Board Member John Donovan, appeared before the Massachusetts Department of Corporations and Taxation on Wednesday morning for approval of the $52 rate.

Total assessed property in Winchester this year amounted to $190,561,100 or an increase of $2,993,600 over the 1969 figure of $187,567,500.

Increased Costs

Cost of Town operations increased $1,629,981.92 over last year, according to Board Member Ernest B. Dade. The total appropriation this year was $11,381,736.88 as compared to $9,751,754.96 in 1969.

The 1969 rate was set on August 5. The Assessors had estimated the 1969 rate to be $44.50, $1.50 more than the actual rate of $43. The 1970 rate represents an increase of $9 over last year.

A property owner's tax bill, under the full valuation system, is figured by multiplying the assessed value of the taxable property by the current tax rate. Revaluation of property in Winchester was undertaken in 1968 by the firm of Cole-Layer-Trumble.

According to Mr. Dade, part of the increase this year is due to the increase in county taxes and to the fact that the 1969 County taxes were underestimated by $32,900.91 and this must be made up in the 1970 tax rate.

The state "cherry sheet" calls for Winchester to receive $967,448.89 this year, a decrease of $114, 375.17 from last year's return of $1,081,824.06. This loss of state revenue adds the $114,000 to the town's operating cost.

Memorial Day Parade Is Scheduled On Monday

All veterans in Winchester are urged to participate in the Memorial Day exercises planned on Monday, May 25 in Winchester.

The Memorial Day Committee, headed by John T. Horn, has announced that participants in the parade this year will include the Boston Fire Department Band and the Winchester High School Band.

Military units will include the United States Marine Corps from the Boston Naval Shipyard; an Army Reserve unit from the Boston Army Base 195th Repair Parts Company; and the 101st Engineer Battalion from the National Guard Armory, Woburn.

Also marching will be members of the Winchester Police and Fire Departments, members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from the Minute Man Council, and the Immaculate Conception Girls' Drill Team.

The Rev. Bernard Hoy of St. Mary's Church will deliver the prayer and meditation at Calvary Cemetery. The prayer and meditation at Wildwood Cemetery will be given by the Rev. Everett L. Waters of the First Baptist Church.

As the parade returns from Wildwood Cemetery, it will be reviewed at the Winchester Common by the Board of Selectmen. Through the efforts of Selectman Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr., who contacted Representative F. Bradford Morse, the flags which will be flying at Wildwood and Calvary Cemeteries on Memorial Day will be ones which flew over the Capitol building in Washington, D.C. on April 30.

Memorial Service

The Annual Veterans' Memorial Service will be held at the First Baptist Church on Sunday, May 24 at 11 a.m. American Legion and VFW members as well as all other veterans will meet at the Town Hall parking lot at 10:50 a.m. and will march with colors and special color guards to seats reserved for the occasion. Uniforms are optional.

On Memorial Day, the parade will assemble on Leonard Field at 9 a.m. to march, via Washington Street to Calvary Cemetery. Returning from Calvary Cemetery via Washington Street, the parade will pause at the Honor Roll at the Town Hall for the placing of wreaths there at 10 a.m.

Following refreshments at the Town Hall, the marchers will reassemble and proceed to the War Memorial at McCall Junior High School where a wreath will be placed at 11 a.m. The parade will then proceed to Wildwood Cemetery for a ceremony there.

Mrs. Metcalf Directs Costumes For Illinois Plays

Mrs. P. B. Metcalf of 12 Ginn Road has returned once more to Evanston, Illinois, High School where she has costumed many of her most successful musicals in consultation and cooperation with Frank Tresise. This year she came to attend the opening of the production of "West Side Story."

The success of the costuming of the many productions at Evanston has grown through the close consultation on the part of Mrs. Metcalf with the local producer and costume director.

As a result, Tracy Music and its president, Mrs. Metcalf, have, by request, gradually become involved in a large scale consultantship service. In fact this new phase of service is now consuming a major part of Mrs. Metcalf's time, and all of this work continues to come without solicitation.

For a period of the past three years Mrs. Metcalf has served as consultant to the Wilmington Opera Association which performs at the Dupont Playhouse in Wilmington, Delaware.

She has costumed such productions as "Faust," "Rigoletto," "La Traviata" for this group and flew to Wilmington the week of April 20 to attend the opening of the performance which marks the 25th anniversary with Verdi's "Aida." To this list she now adds the latest request for consultant services. It comes from the Original Gilbert and Sullivan 1900 Savoy Theater group which performs at the Longwood Estate in Philadelphia. This new venture is a culmination to a career in which Mrs. Metcalf has extended the outstanding public service begun by her late husband, P. B. Metcalf, in the founding of Tracy Music Corporation of Bosson to establish a philanthropic and business enterprise in which orders for her services are now being scheduled one year in advance.

ONE ACT PLAYS will be featured at W.H.S. Friday and Saturday, at 8:15 p.m. May 22 and 23. Student director Joy Reppucci, right, shows cast how she wants it done during rehearsal of the class play, "Crawling Arnold." Cast includes, back, assistant director Jenni Null; Millie, the maid, Chris Ross; Barry Enterprise, Harold Leach; Grace Enterprise, Kathi Fisher; and, front, Arnold Enterprise, David Maybury. Because of political troubles in Poland, the great composer Chopin left for Paris. On his way, news reached him of the capture of Warsaw by the Russians and this event inspired his "Study in C minor."

AMERICA'S 2nd MESSIEST and LAZIEST DEPARTMENT STORE

Dear Friend of Building #19½,

Just because our prices are so low, our atmosphere so casual, and our displays a wee bit sloppy some people assume that we handle inferior quality merchandise. In actual fact, we tend to carry a better grade of merchandise, although it might be imperfect in appearance or packaging. What I'm trying to say is that you'll find more "department store" type merchandise than "discount store" type merchandise here at this Elegant Emporium. There are several reasons for this:

1. We seek out the better quality brand name lines because it is our policy to sell everything with a 100% satisfaction-or-your-money-back guarantee and we can't afford to back inferior products with such a liberal guarantee like that.

2. Manufacturers, wholesalers, and dealers in top quality lines have a tendency to be more persnickerity about slight imperfections. Since their quality standards are so high, a larger percentage of their merchandise becomes available to our type of store.

3. There is less competition to buy the better quality higher priced goods. Our competitors haven't built the customer confidence to allow them to sell better grade goods.

I don't like to embarrass suppliers by flaunting their names, but without giving specific models or prices here are some of the brand names that we happen to be peddling this week:

TELEVISION — Zenith, RCA, G. E., Philco, Sylvania, Panasonic, Magnavox and more

APPLIANCES — Frigidaire, Westinghouse, G. E., Norge, Hardwick, Hotpoint, Philco, Whirlpool, Tappan and more

FURNITURE — American of Martinsville, Patriot, Bassett, Kroehler, Cushman, Lounge Inc., Lane and more

CLOTHING — Gordon Peters, men's shoes by Verde, and more

AIR CONDITIONERS — Fedders, Quest-Kool, Whirlpool, Gibson, G. E.

STEREO — Ampex, Concord, G. E., Zenith, Craig, Harmon-Kardon, Panasonic and more

HOUSEWARES — Wearever, Rubbermaid, Oneida, Panasonic

The above is just a partial list. There are literally hundreds of other brand names and thousands of items, but I don't have the time, strength or advertising budget to list them all. Instead, we invite you to come in and poke around. You never know what (or whom) you'll find hibernating here at our Merchandise Menagerie. All you can be sure of is that you'll have a good time, meet some friendly (but not "pushy"!) people, and buy (I hope) some genuine, bona fide bargains. Come on over and see what this wierd place is all about.

Cordially,

Jerry Ellis

In Section B Steve Root asked Mother Miggs to play (pleasant carryover of Mother's Day sentiment?), and they corralled the highest North-South score. In the East-West direction Fredna Perkins and Gay Schreiber had a fine game to win.

Board 21 from Section B (North-South vulnerable and North the dealer) produced varied results depending on individual style in bidding and play.

First, with the North hand would you bid no trump or hunt for the four-four fit in hearts and open one club? My partner chose the latter, and after I named the four-card suit in the South hand, North bid four hearts showing 19-20 points, i.e., enough for game even with a minimum raise from partner).

Another decision for South! A slam is certainly close, but with such a poor heart suit, I passed.

Now please look at the North-South hands and plan the play. I'll admit to the straightforward approach, taking out two rounds of trumps, finessing the jack of spades, and discarding a diamond on North's good fourth club, losing the queen of hearts and a diamond to make five hearts.

Did you figure out how to make six? Just keep finessing hearts; you don't expect both heart honors to be in the West hand, but you may as well try. And it works.

The score sheet showed seven of the eleven North-Souths in no trump (making three, four, five and six, depending on the lead and general approach to the play) and four in hearts (only one making the six).

Editor's note: This hand illuminates one of the many fascinations of duplicate. In rubber bridge, North-South would bid and make game without the necessity of finding the best contract or of making the precious over-trick.

Dear President Nixon:

We the undersigned want you to know that we back your efforts towards a just and honorable peace, and believe that you are doing the best you can under the almost impossible conditions left to you by your predecessors.

We also feel that it is unfortunate that many people, sincerely perhaps, are not supporting you – and in our opinion are, therefore, aiding and comforting our enemies.

Follow-Up Survey On WHS '69 Class Shows 75 Per Cent Further Education

Follow-up survey results are in for the class of 1969 of Winchester High School.

Of the 330-member class, 256, or 77.5 per cent, went on to further schooling. Next largest percentage (12½) of the students (37) went directly into careers. Eleven students, or three per cent, went into the armed services. The remaining five students are doing post-graduate work or were married or undecided. The questionnaire was not returned by 21 students or six per cent of the class.

The poll was conducted by mail and followed up by telephone calls by the Department of Guidance and Programming secretary, Mrs. Marion Byrne. Residents having any information on changes since compilation of the data are encouraged to contact the high school guidance department at 729-4488.

The term "further schooling" means the following: 172 students who went to four-year colleges, 40 to junior colleges, ten to preparatory schools, three to nursing schools and 25 to business, technical and other schools.

The following information has been gathered during the past several weeks. If any reader notices an error or has later information, a call to 729-4488 will be very much appreciated.

Tree Talk

At this point in time when man has consistently disfigured the beauty of nature, Arbor Day seems an especially appropriate time for him to gain some recompense.

The purpose of the holiday is to commemorate the part tree planting can play in protecting natural resources and restoring nature.

Twenty-two states and the District of Columbia celebrate Arbor Day the last Friday in April. The others commemorate it at various times and there is interest among government officials and private citizens to make Arbor Day a uniform, national holiday.

"Never before in our history have our natural resources been in such urgent need of protection," arborist Robert A. Bartlett, president of The F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Company, said.

"Arbor Day celebrations this year should take on special importance. Trees are vital to America's future. A natural resource themselves, trees play a major role in combatting conservation problems."

Mr. Bartlett also cited several vital conservational functions trees perform:

° Reduce Air Pollution — Trees reduce carbon dioxide and release oxygen through their food-making process of photosynthesis. Trees also help control temperature, air flow and moisture.

° Control Flooding — Tree roots reduce rapid run-off by absorbing and storing water.

° Prevent Mud Flow and Soil Erosion — The presence of trees, especially on hillsides, helps stabilize the soil.

° Protect Water Sheds — Forests conserve and control the water needed for community use: irrigation and farming, electric power, and maintainnig rivers and streams.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD FAVORAT, owners of Nelson's Bakery in Malden, will help to preserve the birthday party atmosphere at the next meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club on Wednesday, May 27, with a cake decorating demonstration.

Home And Garden To Hold Mass Birthday Party

A gigantic birthday party has been planned by the Winchester Home and Garden Club for their Wednesday meeting, May 27. Members will be seated for the festivity according to their month of birth.

To carry out the birthday theme a cake decorating demonstration will be given by Donald and Mary Favorat, owners of Nelson's Bakery in Malden. Mr. Favorat, New England director for Associated Retail Bakers of America, won first prize in the Massachusetts Retail Bakers Association decorated cake contest this year.

Several cakes decorated by the Favorats will be awarded as prizes. Luncheon will be served promptly at 1 p.m. in the Methodist Church Hall.

Sergeant Mario A. Buzzotta of the Winchester Police Department was selected as the most outstanding student in the class graduating from the Drug Abuse Training School sponsored by the State Attorney General on Thursday, May 14. In addition, Sergeant Buzzotta was elected president of his class.

Past Residents Are Honored

Late friends and relatives of Winchester were honored by memorial gifts to the Heart Fund during the past two months were announced by Dr. Harrison Black, president of the Greater Boston Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association, in a Memorial Day message.

Dr. Black said that while these gifts honor the dead, they also contribute to the health of the living. They help to provide lifesaving programs of research, public and professional education, and community service in the all-out battle to conquer the nation's number one health killer, heart and blood vessel disease.

Any sum may be given as a memorial through the Greater Boston Chapter of the Heart Association at 677 Beacon Street, Boston, 02215.

These late friends and relatives of Winchester have been honored by Heart Fund memorials: Martin Titilah, Everett Forsyth, George Reppucci, Mrs. Edna Morison, Gloria Jean Sullivan, George Wyman, Bessie Malkin, Edith Beck, George Lomish, Charles Gardella, Thomas Aldrich Jr., Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Mrs. Mary Mouradian, Frank O'Connor, and Mrs. Margaret Gulliver.

Further club contributions of financial aid to worthy causes are also pending. Requests for such considerations are being accepted and screened for qualification by this year's Project Committee Chairman, Charles Koch of the Winchester Sport Shop, and should be directed to him, or to Club Secretary Dr. Seymour W. Russell, in writing.

The Winchester Rotary Club's year-round effort in its highly successful Annual Auction project gained world-wide, recognition recently by receiving a Rotary International Significant Achievement Award for outstanding service to its community and towards international understanding. The Club's receipts from this project this year have thus far approached nearly $18,000, all the proceeds of which are distributed to worthy causes and charitable needs, primarily for local use.

Rotary Club President Hovannesian is grateful to the residents of Winchester and the surrounding communities for making this year's project the most successful in the Club's history.

Ralph W. Swanson, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and Chief of Police Edward F. Bowler, were among those attending the graduation exercises of Sergeant Roland J. Roy of the Winchester Police Department from the Command Training Institute at Babson College on Friday, May 15.

Youth Help Club In Inner City

Teenage boys and girls, members of the youth program at the Winchester Congregational Church, will spend a total of three Saturdays wielding paint, rollers and brushes helping spruce up The Salvation Army's South End Boys' Club, a landmark at 1500 Washington Street (near the Cathedral Housing Project) since it was constructed in the late 1930's.

The young people, under the direction of their local youth leaders Mr. and Mrs. George Smillie and their pastor the Rev. Richard O. Diehl, expressed their concern for "inner city people and problems" and their desire to become actively involved in some worthwhile project.

Investigation revealed the needs at The Army's Boys Club and the group has seized the opportunity to carry out a vital service project which will free maintenance funds for additional programs and services for some of the nearly 500 Club members.

Memorial Day

The Memorial Day Committee has announced that, due to a strike of granite workers in Vermont, the memorials which were voted by the 1970 Annual Town Meeting are not ready. Flag poles have been installed, however, and Memorial Day services will be held on the new sites. All veterans' graves will be decorated with the American flag for Memorial Day.

The Winchester Star

Established 1880 By Theodore P. Wilson, Sr.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

To Winchester . . .

Goodbyes are always difficult, and it is with mixed emotions that I leave Winchester this week for a new home in Pennsylvania. Serving the Town as editor of the Star has been a challenging experience and I have enjoyed the Town and the newspaper.

As I leave, I would like to share some thoughts on areas in which the Town could improve to insure continued progress in the future.

Throughout the past two years I have heard new residents disparaged by those whose residency spans more than several decades. It seems to be the opinion that anyone with less than 25 years residency in Winchester should not be allowed to serve on Town boards or to express an opinion on how the Town should be run. This is nonsense! A town needs new blood and fresh ideas to remain alert to change and receptive to progress.

Residents with roots in Winchester history continually tell us at the Star that "all these newcomers do is vote expensive projects (especially school buildings) and then move," leaving the older residents to bear the tax burden. If this were thought through, one would realize that a property owner here, newcomer or not, pays taxes and that, should the person move on, the property would probably be sold in which case the tax revenue for that property would continue to be received by the Town with only a change in the person paying it, or, the former resident, unable to sell the property, would have to continue to pay the taxes regardless of where he resided. The tax base, as is noted in a story on the new tax rate in today's Star, has continued to increase, this year alone by about $3 million.

Everyone has the right to expect good schools for his children and to seek improvements in the school system of the town in which he is living. And, in today's highly mobile society it is unreasonable to expect that a person will live and die in the town in which he was born.

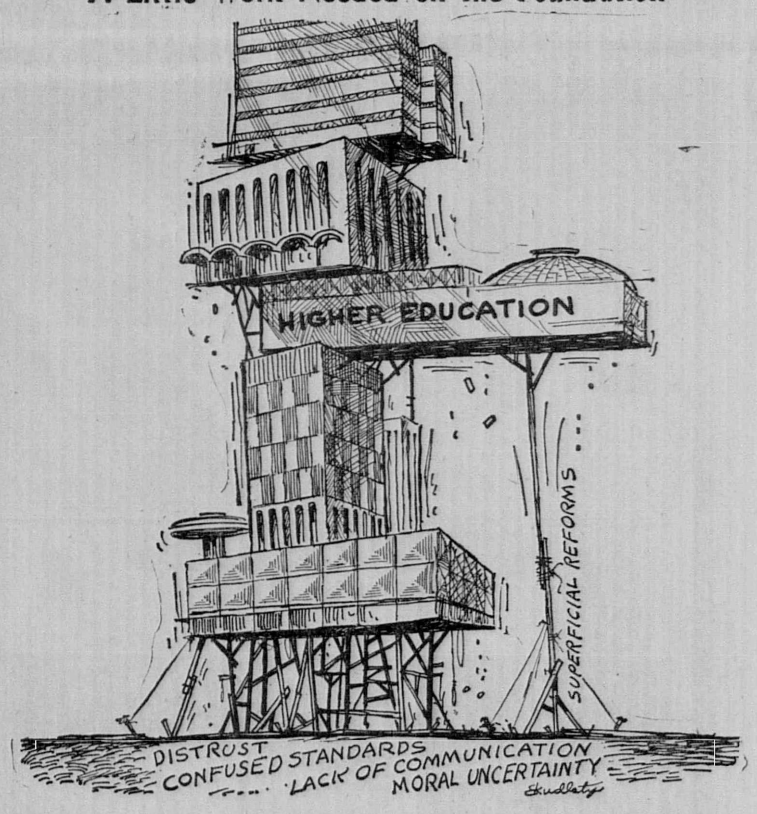

Winchester is fortunate that many of its residents are highly educated with backgrounds rich in experience in the fields of education, law, finance, business, engineering, and science. That these people are willing to lend their expertise to town government free of charge has made Winchester a better place. Don't sell them short because they have lived here only five years or so!

Also, spiralling inflation is not a problem unique to Winchester. It is a national problem and the only way to curb costs here is to set priorities for projects and to establish limits for Town budgeting. The cost of education is always the first cost assailed when the tax rate is set, but it might be wise to note that Winchester always has set education high in its priorities and that, although the educational standard here is high now, if progress is not continually made the standard will backslide. Maintaining a "status quo" position is impossible as long as other school systems progress.

Winchester is an exceptional town — keep it that way!

Lynch Students Hold Roman Banquet

Caesar, Cleopatra and Cicero were among the prominent guests at the Roman Club Banquet at Lynch Junior High School on Saturday, May 9.

The young Romans, each playing the role of a character from ancient history, celebrated in their flowing togas (males) and stolas (ladies). Since the ninth graders were on their Roman holiday serving was done by eighth grade "slaves" clad in burlap.

In this age of plastic the "slaves" had trouble locating burlap potato sacks. One slave suit was clearly stamped "rutabagas" but the other slaves had to resort to the new less scratchy burlap bought from a bolt. Its popularity in decoration of walls and bulletin boards has made it a common fabric in the yard goods stores.

The students all made their own costumes, the togas and stolas from sheets and ribbon trim. Again the 20th century played a part in the design as the colored sheets of today found their way into the togas of yesterday.

The XXV ancients dined on duck with orange sauce and grape punch to simulate wine. All food was brought from home by the club members.

Teacher Mrs. Edith Phelan coordinated this, her 10th annual Roman Banquet, as the culmination of the club's studies of the history of the Roman Republic. Generally held in the courtyard of the school which give the flavor of Roman architecture, this year the rains came and the second of ten banquets was forced indoors. Enthusiasm and spirits, however, were not dampened.

Early in the year the club discussed the specific character traits of its members and Mrs. Phelan helped to select the Roman citizen who best fit the description of each individual. Once named, each student did research on his character for presentation of a report to the rest of the club.

After the feast each character presented a poem he had written about the character he portrayed. For example: by Ceasar, Kenneth Abbott:

"Now you shall hear
Of the fame of Julius Caesar
Perhaps you have heard of my exploits in Gaul,
Where with my lightning quick sword
I caused the Gauls to face Caesar and fall.

Maybe you know
my devoted wives,
Who are numbering
at present four or five.
And Cleopatra,
how I tried to please her,
When the crowds yelled
'seize her, seize her,'
I usually did!

I really got out of shape
With soft enemies
like Pompey the Grape!
Who else would turn tail and evacuate Rome
Just when Caesar was making it on his own?

Although I earned a few unwanted names
For spurning gladatorial games,
I'm sure I'll be remembered
at any rate,
As Julius Caesar the Great!"

The poems were written on scrolls as the club members learned all important documents were in Roman times.

"Lemuria" was the grand finale of the Roman Banquet. This ceremony uses symbolic dried beans to drive out the evil spirits in the house. Roman tradition dictates chanting "I redeem myself and my menes (ancestral spirits)" during the last rites as each bean is tossed away. After the "slaves" cleared, Caesar and his friends and foes departed. All traces of the Roman visitors were removed. Yet, taxpayers will all hope that some of the power of lemuria will remain at Lynch Junior High until next year's Roman Banquet to continue to drive the evil spirits away.

JOYS AND SORROWS;
Reflections by Pablo Casals as told to Albert E. Kahn

Some of our greatest men are the simplest and least ostentatious. Such a one is Pablo Casals, who has consistently over the years declined to write an autobiography on the grounds that his life does not deserve such commemoration. He was born with musical ability and feels he can claim no special credit for it. His advice to young musicians is, "Don't be vain because you have talent. You are not responsible for it; it is not your doing. What you do with your talent is what matters."

Casals is now in his ninety-fourth year. All his life he has been devoted to music from his earliest childhood in Vendrell, Spain, where he described himself as swimming in an ocean of music. When he was two or three years old he used to sit on the floor and press his ear against the piano when his father played. He began himself when he was four. In spite of his fame as a virtuoso on the cello, he says a piano is the best of all instruments. On it one can play anything that has been written, so anyone who wishes to become a complete musician should first learn the piano.

By the time Pablo was seven he was playing the violin and had mastered the art well enough to give a concert solo at the age of eight. He longed especially to be able to play the organ but his father would not allow it until his feet could reach the pedals. Since he was never very tall, this took longer than it would have with an average child. Finally, when he was nine, the day arrived and Pablo learned on the Vendrell church organ, a lovely old instrument made at the same time as the one in Leipzig used by Bach. He did not become acquainted with the cello until he was eleven and he describes this as the beginning of a long and cherished companionship.

It was Pablo's mother who was largely responsible for his early success. Although she was not a musician in the sense that his father was, she accepted the fact that he was different from other children and directed his career from the very first, even in the face of paternal opposition. The elder Casals was not convinced that Pablo should not learn to be a carpenter. His mother, however, insisted that he go to the Barcelona School of Music, this at the age of eleven and a half!

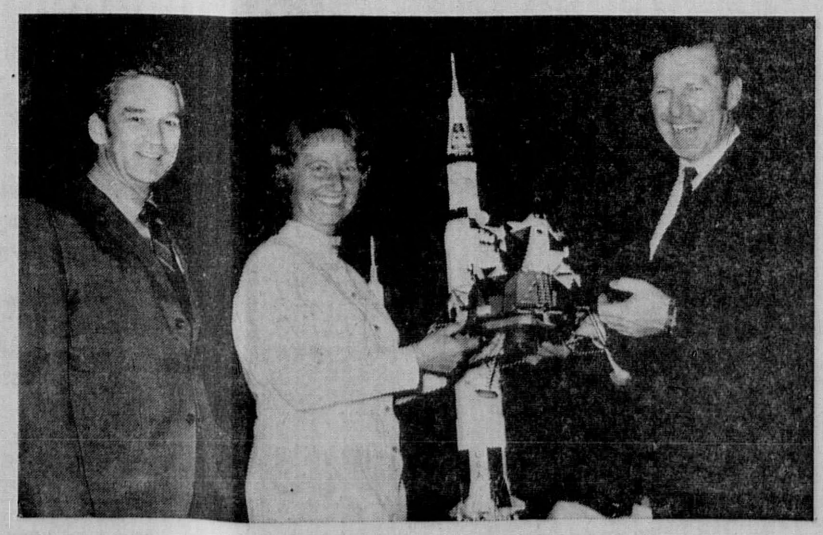

Casals' life was not totally involved in his artistic career. He was a passionate advocate of justice, a strong worker for peace. During his first stay in Paris the Dreyfus Affair was a cause celebre and he was appalled by it and by the wave of anti-Semitism which ensued.

Later the atricities of the First World War haunted him, causing him to ask himself if this was what man was created for. In order to protest the inequities of the Spanish Civil War and the Fascist Regime it engendered, Casals left his beloved country and has been living in exile for more than thirty years. He reflects that although there are those who believe that an artist should live in an ivory tower, far removed from the struggles and sufferings of his fellow man, in reality should not human rights be more important to him because he has been granted special sensitivities and perceptions?

Joys and Sorrows is a pleasant book to read with many fine illustrations. Pablo Casals emerges as a true artist in all senses of the word.

DRUGS — laws and dangers was discussed in a talk by Assistant Attorney General Frank Schiraffa at Vinson-Owen School. Fifth and sixth graders heard the facts on legal rights and harmful results of the use of drugs as part of a celebration of "Law Day." Students had completed survey forms on drugs prior to the talk. Survey results will be used by the Science Department in preparation of a course of study which will cover drug use and abuse. (Lois Carr photo)

Student Lists Positive Actions

Editor of the Star:

Reading the editorial of May 7 in the Star ("A Few Spankings?") concerning the student strike across the nation, I was very disturbed at the lack of sensitivity for the issues which have prompted this significant demonstration, and for much of the constructive action that has resulted. As a student and a senior at Princeton University, I feel compelled to make several observations so that readers may understand not all college life is noisy radical rhetoric, marching at the drop of a speech, or violence directed to the destruction of real or imaginary foes. Much as I believe in the honest and imperative grievances of our generation today, these methods alienate valuable support and most often aren't very effective. There are, however, many constructive alternatives, some of which are being taken.

At an open meeting of the entire Princeton University community May 4th, it was voted 3688 - 181 to strike for the remainder of the academic year in order that students, faculty and staff might devote full time to activities to change the gravely self-destructive direction our nation has taken. The faculty as an autonomous body supported this activity by arranging a system of postponements and waivers of normal academic requirements to make this possible. While the ever-present arguing by the radicals continues, here are some examples of hearteningly worthwhile projects of which one should be aware:

—The Committee for a New Congress has been formed to coordinate national and state campaign efforts in support of candidates committed to an unceasing struggle to obtain and maintain peace. Students, faculty, and townspeople of Princeton are engaged in an organized program of research, fund-soliciting, voter registration, canvassing, and so on. Several New Jersey primaries occur the beginning of June; more than one candidate has already stated that he feels these workers will make the difference in an otherwise marginal campaign. In the same spirit, the faculty has also voted in favor of a student-sponsored proposal that a two-week recess before the coming November congressional elections be created so that students may participate to their fullest in campaigns of their own choosing at that crucial time .

Thanks to the efforts of a self-established committee of concerned students, letters have already been sent out to over 130 of the major colleges and universities across the country, to student governments, campus newspapers, and college presidents, urging similar action, in the hope of establishing a worthy precedent for such election periods after this coming November as well.

Particularly in light of the eventual passage of the 18-year-old vote, it seems fair to guess that most future political activism — including the dog-work — will be done by students who care and will have the time, thus placing a serious responsibility upon the rest of the voting public to react so as not to bely their relative political apathy.

—The Union for National Draft Opposition has been formed to head up a national movement to provide information and counseling to all young men who need or want it. With substantial legal advice from many highly-respected lawyers, law firms, and other organizations, and contributions of time and money from everyone who is interested and can help (draft-age men are not the membership majority), the union is dedicated to giving all the aid it can to those men for whom armies and wars are not acceptable responses to an already violently troubled world.

—The faculty, staff and students of the School of Architecture at Princeton unilaterally have voted to remain on strike until the United States' involvement in Southeast Asia is ended completely. In no way a "carte-blanche" for more free time, this commitment has engaged the school in serious debate as to the program next year. In addition to regular courses for those who wish to take them, a workshop seminar is forming (possibly with academic credit) to study the causes of war and what may be done within our experience to eradicate them. Ambitious? You bet, but no course work ever elicited the fervor this project has.

—Almost every social club and facility at Princeton abandoned its traditionally all-out House-parties Weekend two weeks ago, and most donated some or all of their savings to the strike fund being used to implement these mentioned projects among others. The senior class of 1970 has voted to cancel its social plans for this spring in order to devote its resources as well, and since graduation will be impossible on the scheduled June 9 Commencement Day for many seniors like myself who presently are working harder than ever before on the strike, this event will run concurrently with a faculty-parent-student teach-in, in hopes of helping our families and others better understand our views and plans, and we their feelings.

What has been formed is a new university not the "liberation university" of the radical movement—but an open university. Many students will remain on campus this summer performing unpaid volunteer tasks to carry the momentum through the summer until next year's regular students may continue. It is free, effective, highly educational, and more important than any label one can apply — relevant.

Other universities are responding similarly, albeit with the added difficulty of not as much administration and town support as Princeton is fortunate to enjoy. As parents and Americans, you can help. Try to understand the impatience and conviction of the majority of this generation. Support the ideas behind this worthy and necessary endeavor. I'm proud to be one part of it.

Many Projects Are Peaceful

Editor of the Star:

Amid the agony of the Indo-China War and the deaths at Kent State, I find myself in a college community united with concern for these events. I am a senior at Oberlin College, a small liberal arts college in Ohio. With all the violence occurring on college campuses all over our country, Oberlin, as a united body of students, administration, and faculty, has acted peacefully and effectively in an attempt to find solutions to problems facing us.

The Oberlin community passed a proposal which stated that "in the extraordinary political situation that presently exists, emergency educational measures are necessary." The plan allowed students to terminate their classes as of May 4, receiving a grade of credit. Other arrangements could be made with the professors. This enables the whole student body to be free to direct their efforts toward a major reconstructing of American policy. A majority of the students have terminated their classes and the facilities of Oberlin have been mobilized. A steering committee of students, faculty, and townspeople has been formed to coordinate all the projects on campus.

There are approximately a hundred organized and currently operating projects. They range from manning a communications center for all of the northern Ohio schools, providing housing and dining for all students visiting the campus, coordinating all the students who are working on other campuses, to forming street theater groups. Some of the projects deal directly with our community, such as programs for the high schools, meetings with factory workers, door-to-door leafletting and petitioning, and a community strike council which forms relevant activities. Our Spanish house is working with the Puerto Rican communities surrounding us.

Some of the nationally directed projects include writing to senators and congressmen, the peaceful marches in Columbus, Ohio and Washington, D.C., and a series of thirty seminars given by professors dealing with issues from social change to the relationship of the artist to politics. Many of the activities will carry into the summer. Everyone is involved and committed.

With the mass media devoting so much time to the burning, toning, and violence erupting on the campuses and in the cities, I just wanted to share some of the peaceful, united, constructive actions which are being taken by many students today.

Peace,
Judith Wells

Loyal Citizen Lost By Town

Editor of the Star:

In the passing of Miss Nellie M. Sullivan, Winchester has lost a loyal and devoted citizen whose chief interest was in helping the poor and less fortunate members of our community. In doing so, she has served on the Board of Public Welfare for fifty years and as a member of the Winchester Community Relief Committee for forty years.

By this dedicated service she came to know of individuals and families meeting with misfortune, poverty and illness and she went to them with food, clothing or money. She combined a kind and sympathetic heart with self-sacrificing service in assisting those who needed a helping hand. She will be long remembered for her kindness and devotion to others.

Praise Given Mrs. Thomas

Editor of the Star:

There is an increasing number of Winchester parents dismayed by the indifferent mediocrity that governs the overall instrumental music program in the Winchester schools.

This dismay long ago would have become despair except for the indefatigable enthusiasm and dedication of Mrs. Carl Thomas. Most of her twenty years in Winchester have been devoted single-mindedly to the promotion of standards of excellence in music performance and to the creation of opportunity for performance by serious Winchester music students.

Mrs. Thomas' devotion to young musicians guided her academic training in public school music at Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York. Lack of a well-defined, quality-oriented school music program in Winchester turned Mrs. Thomas' energy and musicianship toward the teaching of violin privately. But always the lessons have been guided by the Thomas credo — quality in practice, quality in music, opportunity for performance.

The Winchester Music Club, just completing a most exciting year of performances by many students, exists because Mrs. Thomas apparently does not know the meaning of "dismay" or "despair" (and this is a woman with a penchant for the witty, urban phrase of 18th century English).

Mrs. Thomas' faith that children will produce quality performance when encouraged has been sustained year after year, by the development of a small but steady number of excellent musicians.

Excellence creates its own reward, but may I add a "Bravo!" several "Oles!" and a round of huzzas for Mrs. Thomas. Excelsior!

Sincerely,
Sally M. Kincaid

Mayor Thanks Residents

Editor of the Star:

The following letter was sent to the Winchester Board of Selectmen:

"I would like to publicly thank the people of Winchester for lending one of their own to Gary. Kenneth Trevett came to us in the VISTA (Volunteers In Service To America) program about one year ago, and he has made his positive presence felt throughout our city since then.

"He has taught reading skills in our school system; assisted in the speech correction department at the Tradewinds Rehabilitation Clinic for handicapped youngsters; served on the steering committee for our planned Children's Museum; and assisted in the administration of the city's vitally important Housing and Community Development Division.

"I have had the opportunity to see Ken at work, and if he is a representative of Winchester's younger generation, your community has much of which to be proud. Both the quantity and quality of Ken's work is outstanding. He puts in extremely long hours and brings commitment, high intelligence, and innovative imagination to his tasks.

"In a time when so many wonder where our young people are headed and what they aim for, I take heart in the energetic example of involved, service-oriented, hard working men like Ken Trevett. He has been the most persuasive and effective goodwill ambassador for Winchester that you could possibly have sent to Gary, and when his term with us ends shortly, he will be sorely missed.

"Yours sincerely,
Richard Gordon Hatcher
Mayor,
City of Gary, Indiana"

Pres. Kennedy, President Nixon

Editor of the Star:

Have we forgotten the "Bay of Pigs" when thousands of American soldiers made an abortive attempt to invade Castro's Cuba and were captured, and Castro demanded and received a large sum of ransom money, due to Kennedy's failure to provide protective air cover.

Now President Nixon is moving thousands of American soldiers into Cambodia from South Vietnam. And this maneuver has to this date been successful, and promises to be followed to completion, and soon terminated. Why the "hue and cry" against Nixon?

Disorder Overlooked

Editor of the Star:

I have been struck by the volume of violence, disorder and rampant anti-intellectualism expressed by friends of the student strike of late. I concur in some of the objectives of the strike (and I sympathize with criticism of the Star's oversimplified analysis of May 7). But I think it important to remember that disorder — dangerous disorder — has been prevalent, and is generally overlooked by adherents of the students' cause.

At Boston University, which took a lead in canceling classes, etc., I sat through faculty meetings and was troubled by the lack of concern for order. BU closed up not out of a concern for the strike and its issues, but out of fear — fear of the "clear and present danger" to students, from other students and/or agitators. The decision of May 5 to close the University came because bomb threats, fire alarms, and fire bombings were turning the campus into a nightmare. The lunatic fringe in and about the campus — what Associate Dean Tractenburg called the "crazies" — was out of control; so, too, was most student opinion. BU shut down not for educative purposes, as Mr. Alt in your pages asserts other colleges did, but rather out of fear.

Student and faculty opinion was by no means respectful of the University. One teaching colleague, admittedly a member of the Weathermen faction of the SDS, bluntly espoused the closing of the University for its "complicity" (with what it was not clear). He felt that the destruction of a few universities was not at all a "bad thing." So radical a faculty member as Marx Wartofsky, a New Left member, and chairman of the Philosophy Department, at a mass rally, voiced the fear that the anti-intellectuals were out to destroy the University. As quoted in the May 14 "BU Currents," he stated: "I've heard our students say 'We are everything. The University is the center of the society. If we bring the University down, we can stop the whole establishment." Warsofsky warned: "This is a false and dangerous illusion." He stated further: "Those students or faculty who shout 'Bring the Mother (the University) down' and engage in senseless and Luddite violence, simply destroy the University as a constituency of political action and social change. The closed University is a non-University." Unequivocally stating his opposition to the extension of the war, Wartofsky thus still criticized the most activist elements of student reaction.

My point is that the strike is not the simon pure expression of student idealism which it seems to many people — at least is wasn't this at BU. Given that the majority of students are sincere in their opposition to the extension of the war, the events at Kent State, and domestic repression, there runs through the opposition to these issues a pervasive strain of rampant anti-intellectualism and sheer destructiveness which must be recognized for what it is, and then, I think, dealt with. While we can rightly applaud the sentiments of many students, and their friends, we should not gloss over this ungainly and frightening fact.

Yours sincerely,
Robert Mirak

Editor of the Star:

May I take this opportunity, as chairman of the 1970 En Ka Space Fair, to express our appreciation to all the people who contributed their time and efforts in making this fair such a success, to all those loyal citizens who supported the fair to the utmost, to the Boy Scouts and Little League members and their leaders for the clean up job at Manchester Field on Saturday and a rainy Sunday morning.

We offer special thanks to Dr. Mac Carter Adams for the NASA exhibit and to Mr. Niblock, Mr. LaRocca and Mr. Finigan for their cooperation with this display.

Gratefully,
Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell

Thanks Star For "Bouncing Back"

Editor of the Star:

Having taken serious exception to the editorial entitled "A Few Spankings?" please permit me to thank you for "bouncing back" with a constructive response to criticism in the form of "Idealism and Reality." From where I sit the latter manifests sensitivity to many of the realities in the situation, if not completely so. Of greater importance, as I see it, is the encouragement to public debate which the response of the Star has offered. It was the view of Lincoln that, if the public could be informed, it would more than likely come up with the right decisions. In the face of much cynicism these days this may seem a bit naive, but, if Lincoln was wrong, who can be right?

Sincerely yours,
Donald T. Rowlingson

Open Minds Are Needed

Editor of the Star:

I am writing this letter to explain my feelings and actions as a "youthful protester." Until Sunday, May 3, I had felt strongly about our country's actions but had only let the anger build inside me. But our entrance into Cambodia was the act that finally moved me to actively protest.

During the time between Sunday and Thursday, the seventh, a group of about one hundred of us planned a sit-in at the Old Federal Building in Minneapolis. We planned the sit-in to be a strictly non-violent act of civil disobedience, since all of us felt strongly about the morality of our actions. So on Thursday we went up to the city, and groups of us locked arms and sat in front of the entrances.

My reasons for participating in the sit-in are several. Basically, I felt very strongly about the immorality of this country's actions, and I needed desperately to put my body where my mind was. My mind was to the point of being extremely fed up with this country's hypocrisy. Since you hear so much about how this country is hypocritical, I shall try to explain the exact ways in which it is hypocritical, since you may not hear them so often. First of all, the whole purpose of the American Revolution was to enable a group of people to govern themselves. But now that we have our independence, we immediately turn around and interfere with the governments of nearly every small country in the world. And South Vietnam is much farther away from us, both geographically and culturally, than America was from Britain. Secondly, another basic purpose of the American Revolution was to guarahtee the rights of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" to the American people. The draft, which affects our entire young, male population clearly violates all three of these basic rights. It also violates the article in the constitution that declares that there shall be no involuntary servitude. And thirdly, the Declaration of Independence states that whenever a government becomes destructive of the three basic rights, it is the right and the duty of the people to alter or abolish that government. Altering our government to become more responsive to these rights is exactly what I and many others are trying to do. And yet we are called subversive, when in reality we are only trying to re-orient this country back to its original ideals. Can you now understand my frustration and anger a little bit better?

Now I'll try to tell you why I participated in a sit-in, and not something else. Since I am unable to see Mr. Nixon directly, the second best action for me is to confront some of the people who keep this System going: that is, the federal workers, policemen, and jailors. I wanted to show them that my feelings were strong enough so that I would risk a jail sentence, a marred record, and a kick in the face (which I received) in order to demonstrate these feeling. Maybe the fact that I was totally non-violent, even when kicked in the face, and that I was sure enough of my convictions to look them in the eyes and smile will help them see that maybe I do have a point. Both the policemen and the jailors were taken aback when they saw that we were pleasant to them as people, even though we were firm in our protest.

And I will continue to react to you people as fellow human beings. I can only hope that this will convince you to take the time and effort involved to open your minds to my point. Unfortunately, there is not much time left; closed minds have gotten too many people too frustrated. A refusal to listen to a strong opinion presented non-violently is only an open invitation to violence.

Yours in Peace,
Marsha White

Editor of the Star:

In the recent death of Nellie Sullivan, Winchester is much the poorer, for wherever there was need, Nellie was there.

May the angels have taken her into their hearts! May she rest in peace!

Salt Program Deserves Study

Editor of the Star:

During the last year or so, Winchester has adopted a policy of only salting all snow deposits under two inches in depth. Critics of the salting program are dismissed as fuddy-duddy's who are more interested in saving a few maples than in saving the town's tax money or in preventing car accidents. As is rapidly becoming apparent, this viewpoint is both shortsighted and wrong.

1. An item appeared in the May 3 issue of the Boston Globe (page 15) which pointed out that the Mystic Lakes have recently become polluted with salt from public roads. Apparently the salt-saturated water is denser and sinks to the bottom. Thus, run-off of the salt pollution is slowed or prevented.

2. Then, in May 8th's edition of the Globe (page 3) a story appeared stating that the water supplies in several Massachusetts communities had become so polluted with salt that it is hazardous for people on low-salt diets to drink from the public water supply. Apparently, salt from street run-off has filtered into the local water tables.

(Note that the reporting agencies for both items one and two were not "biased" conservation groups, but were instead the MDC and the Massachusetts Department of Health, respectively.)

3. If the streets continue to be heavily salted, how long will it be before most of Winchester's roadside or marshy soil has leeched up sufficient salt to making the growing of any trees impossible? Salt in not biodegradeable.

4. Dumping salt in a two-inch snowstorm, and then not plowing, does nothing but leave one inch of slush. Not only is slush more slippery than snow, but also, when splattered on the windshield of a passing car, it can completely blot out the driver's view for a few vital seconds.

5. For days after a heavy salting, the roads are coated with a concentrated salt solution. If the driver runs out of windshield cleaner, he's blinded by scattered sunlight from the salt on the windshield.

6 Salt chews up cars rapidly. This salt may "save the town tax money," but not the town's taxpayers' money. In addition, what about the extra cost involved in repairing salt-degraded asphalt and concrete structures? Did Commissioner of Roads O'Brien consider all these factors in his cost-analysis study of salt versus plowing?

In short, from the total viewpoints of environment, safety, and cost, the town's road salting program is completely inadequate. A revision is certainly necessary.

One alternative to Winchester's all-salt program of snow removal would be to plow and sand as much as possible. Salting could be reserved for emergency situations, such as an ice storm, or an ice-covered hill.

Respectfully yours,
Richard M. Osgood, Jr.

Dr. Spock Asked Question On Marijuana

Editor of the Star:

When the famous baby doctor, Benjamin Spock, addressed the microphones at a Peace Rally behind the White House recently, he spoke before a hand-held banner which flaunted as a center medallion a Red Star, upon which had been superimposed the image of a Cannabis Sativa plant.

I can understand the seeming sponsorship of a Communist cause by a man of Dr. Spock's anti-establishment mentality and temperament; but I would like to ask him, in this open letter (lest he be misunderstood) whether or not he meant also to sponsor and endorse the use of marijuana by the young people who seem to be his followers.

It is well known that Dr. Spock quarrels frequently with the Establishment. It is equally well known that the Establishment is against the use of drugs, including marijuana. Please tell us, Dr. Spock, are you against the Establishment in this matter, also?

Sincerely yours,
Clarence E. Borggaard

Lynch Students Design Homes

Model homes designed and built by Lynch Junior High School seventh graders are on display in the Winchester Public Library this week.

The scale model homes were made in art classes of Donald B. Latham and Director of Art Thomas Tracy.

Each seventh grader began making a floor plan of a home he thought he would like to own. With further study of contemporary architecture, including that of Frank Lloyd Wright, the students built homes from their own plans.

Advancing from interiors to elevations they progressed to exteriors and landscaping, etc.

Following their display at the library the model homes will be shown at Lynch Junior High, then at the Festival of the Arts during the weekend of May 29 and 30.

Proof Of Age Is Needed For Social Security

John E. Lonergan Jr., district manager of the Cambridge Social Security Office has announced the proofs needed, when visiting the Social Security Office to file an application for benefits.

The first proof needed is proof of age. Usually this is the birth certificate, but in rare instances a birth certificate was never recorded at the time of birth. Don't panic! Were you ever baptised? If baptised at a young age; that is between the date of birth and age five, a baptism certificate obtained from the records of the church where the baptism occurred will be acceptable proof.

What happens if neither of these proofs are available? Look elsewhere. Write to the superintendent of schools, where you first began school, and ask him to give a statement showing date of birth or age given at the time you entered school. Now don't worry about that superintendent having died long ago, the records are usually still available. With this record and other records available to the Administration, they usually can determine the correct date of birth.

None of these proofs are available! Now is the time to visit the Social Security Office, and ask for help. Personnel at the office will discuss the problem with you, and with your cooperation, they will take necessary steps to help you establish your correct date of birth. The evidence used might be an early census record, marriage license application, insurance policies, and many other sources that are available.

The one thing to remember is that they are available to help, and that above all you should secure these evidences before you get ready to retire. Mr. Lonergan suggests that you start at about age 60 in gathering proofs, and if there are problems then you have ample time to resolve them, before you retire. This prevents delay in processing your claim, and receiving your check when you do retire.

The Social Security Office is located at 625 Mt. Auburn Street, Cambridge, and the telephone number is 491-0700. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and until 8 p.m. on Wednesdays.

The Social Security representative is at the Woburn Public Library any Tuesday between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m..

Mothers' Groups Discuss School Report Cards

On Monday, May 11th, the George Washington School hosted a general discussion on how the new report card system is affecting the children of Winchester.

Representatives of the various Mothers' Associations of all the elementary Schools in Winchester attended. Also represented was the Community Schools Association and the Advisory Board.

Standing in for Dr. Donald Klemer was Dr. Walter Gleason. Miss Leonor Rich, (Principal of the Washington School), chaired the meeting. She requested constructive suggestions from the audience.

Miss Rich pointed out that it was not intended at this time to revise the report card system, but to obtain a feedback from the mothers about their feelings about the new report card which has not yet been in use a full year. The mothers participated well and many useful suggestions were made. All suggestions are now under consideration for possible future implementation.

Youth Concerts Are Offered At Symphony

Youth Concerts at Symphony Hall, an annual musical event for thousands of Massachusetts students, will return to Boston's famed Symphony Hall next fall for the 12th season.

Under the musical direction of Harry Ellis Dickson, members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra will be heard in classical and contemporary works selected to appeal to young people and to stimulate their interest and appreciation for fine music.

Programs for last season explored the musical scene from Mozart to Benjamin Britten's "Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra." It included a highly acclaimed performance by Newton Wayland and the Carl Atkins Jazz Group who joined the Youth Concerts' Orchestra to demonstrate the versatility of musical instruments for playing both symphonic music and jazz. The enthusiastic response of the youthful audiences testifies to the relevance of this popular musical series for today's young people.

The concerts are played in two series of three programs each. Series One will be presented on November 7, January 30 and March 6, 1971; Series Two on November 14, February 6 and March 13, 1971. Tickets are sold for the series only — for three concerts, and may be ordered from local chairmen.

Two Sergeants Graduated From Special Classes

Two Winchester law enforcement officers were graduated from special courses on Friday, May 15. Completing studies were Sergeant Roland J. Roy at the Command Training Institute and Sergeant Mario Buzzotta at the State Attorney General's seminar on Drug Abuse and Use of Harmful Narcotics.

The three-week Command Training Institute, sponsored by the New England Association of Chiefs of Police, Inc., was conducted at Babson College, Wellesley. John T. Howland, former superintendent of the Boston Police Department is director of the Institute.

Funded by a grant from the Department of Justice's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, course material focused on managerial aspects of law enforcement, Sergeant Roy recently received this rank after previous service as safety officer.

Sergeant Buzzotta began the two-week seminar on May 4, meeting at Salem State College and Essex County Agricultural School. His graduation from the State-sponsored drug instruction follows that of Sergeant William T. Haggerty in April.

Easter Seals Reach 78% Of Annual Goal

The Massachusetts Easter Seal Society has reported that it has received $399,222 in contributions through the period ending April 30. This figure represents 78 percent of the society's goal for this year.

Contributions received through August 31, 1970 will determine whether the society meets its stated goal of $510,000.

According to Richard D. Ingersoll of the Winchester Savings Bank, Winchester area chairman, $2,701 has been contributed through the same reporting period or 75 percent of the area's goal.

The Winchester area is served by the Easter Seal office located in Andover.

Local Women's Republican Club Elects Slate

The annual luncheon meeting of the Winchester Women's Republican Club, was held recently at the Winchester Country Club.

The secretary's report, presented by Mrs. George Bramley, showed the interest and involvement of the Republican women in community affairs. They have aided the mental health association; mother's mornings out; financial aid and participation in CONCERN; sheltered workshops; and voters registration.

Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, outgoing president, asked for the Nominating Committee's report, which was unanimously accepted. Elected were Mrs. Philip Woodward, president; Mrs. Charles Potts, first vice president; Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, second vice president; Mrs. Henry Delaney, recording secretary; and Mrs. Theodore Shaster, treasurer.

Mrs. James Blackham, gave a short report on the Task Force on Women's Rights with which she is involved. President Nixon, it was noted, appointed over 1400 women to positions of importance.

Mrs. Blackham presented the guest speaker, Mrs. H. Dunster Howe, who is on the Consumer's Committee. She informed members and their guests of the many interesting facets of her job, and that equal rights and responsibilities are becoming more popular and crossing party bounds. Youth, a great many under voting age, are at last being heard, stressing the issues of war, environment, population, and drug abuse.

Working for peace candidates they are trying to educate the voting public.

Mrs. Howe told of a very important bill, now in committee in the State Legislature, the Unit Pricing Bill, which will put an end to the different prices for the same product in the same store.

Church Guild Plans Luncheon, Bridge Party

The Winchester Chapter Guild of the Infant Saviour will hold the annual spring luncheon and bridge on Tuesday, May 26, at 12 noon at the Tompson Country Club, North Reading.

Mrs. Marvin T. Johnson, president, is chairman and she will be assisted by the executive board. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Johnson, and close on Friday, May 22.

Owing to the death of Mrs. J. Lester Killian, past president, the annual meeting on May 19 was postponed.

The annual meeting and installation of officers will now be held at the new president's luncheon on June 2, at 12 noon, Kings Grant, Route 128, Danvers. Bridge may be played by those who wish to do so. Rerervations may be made with Mrs. Johnson by May 28.

Estates Garden Is Awarded Prize In En Ka Parade

Nearly 20 members of the Winchester Estates Garden Club and an equal number of their children combined efforts to produce Saturday's prize-winning entry in the En Ka parade on May 16.

It was a merry, musical, and quite youthful entry based on the nursery rhyme, "Mistress Mary, quite contrary . . . how does your garden grow." Leading the group were four young people carrying the club's name. Next a sound car driven by Vincent George broadcast the children's musical version of the rhyme. Wayne George followed pulling a "mini-garden," and bringing up the rear were 17 "little maidens in a row," dressed in colorful bonnets and ruffled dresses.

Co-ordinating the efforts of the group was Mrs. Rolland V. Robison. Mrs. Vincent George as costume co-ordinator made all the bonnets while the individual mothers made their child's costumes. Mrs. Clarence Feldmann prepared the mini-garden and Mrs. Douglass Davidson, president, taped the music. Sound equipment was provided by Dr. Richard B. Lawrance.

Boys carrying the placards were Chris Linson, Paul Feldmann, Martin Lele, and Jimmie Resighini. In the sound car with Mrs. Davidson were Mrs. P. P. Lele, vice-president, Cheri Daugherty, and Beth Davidson.

The "little maidens in a row," who also sang the song for the tape recording, were: Renee George, Judy Center, Linda and Karen Feldmann, Tannis Redpath, Kerry Connolly, Amy and Susan Harris, Amy Maxwell, Kathy and Christy Davidson, Lysette and Bronwyn Hunt, Nancy and Carol Anderson, and Debbie Calef. Cindy Jones, who played the flute, was included on the tape.

An explanation of "Soul" is given in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 24.
"Science reveals Spirit, Soul, as not in the body, and God as not in man but as reflected by man," reads one of the citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.
Another citation from Science and Health states: "Man is not a material habitation for Soul; he is himself spiritual. Soul, being Spirit, is seen in nothing imperfect nor material."
Bible passages include this verse from Psalms: "O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come."

Admiral Buracker To Head Scout Membership Drive

Harris Richardson of Winchester, president of the Minuteman Council, Boy Scouts of America has announced that Retired Admiral William H. Buracker of 12 Stratford Road will serve as this year's Special Membership Campaign Chairman for the town of Winchester.

In accepting this position, Admiral Buracker stated his belief in the relevance of the Scouting program in today's world. He indicated that the Scouting goals of character development, leadership, citizenship and fitness are in tune with the needs of America today and from Scouting's six million boy members will come many of the leaders of the future.

In the present 92nd Congress, 328 members were either Scouts or Scout Leaders, 29 of the present Governors are former Scouts and 36 of the 47 living astronauts were Scouts. Over one half of the classes of all of the service academies also are former Scouts. The Admiral stated that in almost every walk of life surveyed a large proportion of former Scouts hold leadership positions due to the leadership and citizenship responsibility aspects of the Scouting program.

Today, the need in Scouting is for greater growth in adult leadership, the number of Scout Units and in funds to support the program. One boy in four is being served today. Scouting's goal is to serve one boy in three from age eight to eighteen by the two hundredth anniversary of our Country in 1976, through the launching last year of "Boypower '76."

If the Scouts are to serve the nine million boys this program envisions, then Scouting and the communities it serves throughout the nation must work together to supply the 50% increase needed in leadership and Units and especially in financial aid. The communities of Winchester, Stoneham and Woburn, comprising the Musket District of Minuteman Council, have already begun to show their support. At the end of the first year of this program this District was awarded the Spencer Award for successfully completing all first year goals. Furthermore, during the first four months of 1970, the District has thus far been able to maintain the level set for the second year in Boy enrollment, quality Units and trained leadership.

In the town of Winchester, Scouting currently serves over 750 boys in Cubbing, Scouting and Exploring through 15 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts sponsored by local Churches, schools and fraternal organizations. Over 200 dedicated Winchester men and women presently serve as leaders for these youth.

A survey shows, however, that three out of four boys in Winchester would like to be in Scouting if there were room. The problem is one of organizing sufficient units, recruiting and training leadership and supporting these units and leaders with the resources of the Council Office including professional staff assistance.

It is hoped that the citizens of Winchester will support the 1970 Sustaining Membership Enrollment Campaign, led by Admiral Buracker, in order that we may help provide a meaningful youth program in our community in the coming year.

MSPCA Auxiliary Holds Meeting

Mrs. Henry Delaney opened her Wedgemere Avenue home last week for the annual meeting of the Winchester Auxiliary of MSPCA.

Mrs. E. William Johansen, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the following slate of officers for the coming year: president, Mrs. Fred Cardin; vice-president, Mrs. Gordon Sidebotham; treasurer, Mrs. Byron Jackson; assistant treasurer; Mrs. Walter Bowen, recording secretary; Mrs. Adolph Alla,, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gordon Tobey, committee chairmen; programs, Mrs. E. William Johansen and Mrs. William Paglia; Ways and Means, Mrs. Henry Delaney and Mrs. Harwood Boynton; Tea, Mrs. Dean Carleton and Mrs. Clinton Charles; publicity, Mrs. James Grassi; hospitality, Mrs. Stanley Seaver and Mrs. Crosby Kelley; transportation, Mrs. William Cronin.

Directors: Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. John Boland, Mrs. Joseph Palter, Mrs. George Connor, Mrs. William Beggs, Mrs. J. L. Jenks Jr., Mrs. Norman Weeks, Mrs. James Gustin, Mrs. Stephen Edgell, Mrs. Phillip Boone, and Mrs. Winthrop Knox.

Plans were discussed for the Hilltop Bazaar and Auction benefit to be held on Monday, June 15th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jenks Jr., 12 Myopia Hill Road. Mrs. Robert MacArthur is in charge of tickets.

Patrick Nolan of the Boston Zoological Society and Children's Zoo was guest speaker. He spoke of their fund raising drive to provide a space for two fast-growing lion cubs now housed in an area no larger than a small bathroom. Mr. Nolan brought with him a pet boa constrictor, named "Tina," who snuggled on his shoulder. She arrived in a large green school-book bag. "Tina's" darting black tongue was her way of sniffing her surroundings, Mr. Nolan told us. Her beautifully marked (snake) skin felt warm and dry and smooth to the touch, as discovered by some of the more courageous ladies.

Tea, coffee and punch were served by Mrs. Dean Carleton, Mrs. Clinton Charles and Mrs. Henry Delaney. Mrs. William MacDonald and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery poured.

Garret Coffeehouse Has Reopened

The Garret Coffeehouse re-opened without incident two week-ends ago and it will remain open as long as it has the support of the Epihany parish, the high school students, and the adult community.

All who have been seriously involved in the running of the Garret this year are optimistic that the coffeehouse will continue to have a positive function in Winchester. Anyone who is interested in working for the coffeehouse this summer and/or next year is urged to come to the Garret this weekend. Needless to say, everyone is welcome.

On May 22nd and 23rd the Garret Coffeehouse will welcome back Travis, Shook and the Club Wow! When they performed last summer the "Club Wow!," the female lead singer, couldn't come because of illness. Travis and Shook, both performers from New York, were very entertaining and humorous, as well as being fine folk musicians. They brought with them a home-made instrument which can only be called a contraption. Played with great skill, it was a conglomeration of pots, cow bells, cymbals and a tamborine. With all three performers together, Travis, Shook and the Club Wow! should be fantastic!

The Garret opens at 7:30 p.m. and the first set begins at 8:30. A second set goes from 10 until 11 when the coffeehouse closes. Refreshments are sold at a minimal cost.

The requirement that a notary public must witness signatures on affidavits required of nonservice disabled veterans seeking VA hospitalization has been discontinued.

Mann—Mouradian

Miss Mary Elizabeth Mouradian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aram Theodore Mouradian of 50 Woodside Road, exchanged marriage vows with George Mann II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roswell Mann of Topsfield, on Saturday afternoon, May 2, in the First Congregational Church.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE MANN

Presiding over the ceremony were the Rev. Dr. Oliver Powell and the Rev. Richard Diehl. A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in an ivory organza gown with long slim sleeves, high neckline and A-line skirt. A full back with chapel-length train enhanced the design. A yoke effect bodice was overlaid with Alencon lace accented with seed pearls. Matching lace was appliqued above the hemline. A long mantilla of Alencon lace and a cascade bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis, yellow sweetheart roses and ivy complemented the bridal ensemble.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Peter B. Gray of Newburyport. Her maize chiffon gown was fashioned with Bishop sleeves, high banded neckline and empire waist. A trim of two-tone flowers and green velvet ribbons emphasized the cuffs, neckline and waist. The full pouff persimmon and maize veil was formed of floral band and appliqued net. She carried a cascade of yellow Fuji poms, orange gerbera and ivy.

The bridemaids, attired as the matron of honor, were Miss Sheila Hayes of West Roxbury; Mrs. Dwight MacKerran of Allston; Miss Gay Mann of Topsfield, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Anne Salter and Miss Virginia Wier, both of Winchester.

Having the honor of best man was Paul M. Castle of Hingham. Ushers were David Forrest of Topsfield; Peter B. Gray of Newburyport; James T. Mouradian and Robert A. Mouradian, both of Winchester, both brothers of the bride; and John Demars of Boxford.

Mrs. Mouradian chose a pale green wood and silk dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a yellow and white brocade ensemble also with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Educated in the Winchester school system, the bride was graduated from Framingham State College. Formerly an assistant teacher in the learning disabilities class in Winchester, she will serve as an instructor in Cheshire, Connecticut, in the fall of this year.

Mr. Mann attended Kimball Union Academy and Colby College, Maine. He was graduated from the Andover Institute of Business and has served in the U.S. Coast Guard. He is currently a salesman for the George Mann Chemical Company of Stoneham.

The couple spent their wedding trip in Virginia. They will reside in Waterbury, Connecticut.

Going Jr. of 19 Sheffield West.

MISS DEBORAH A. PAQUETTE

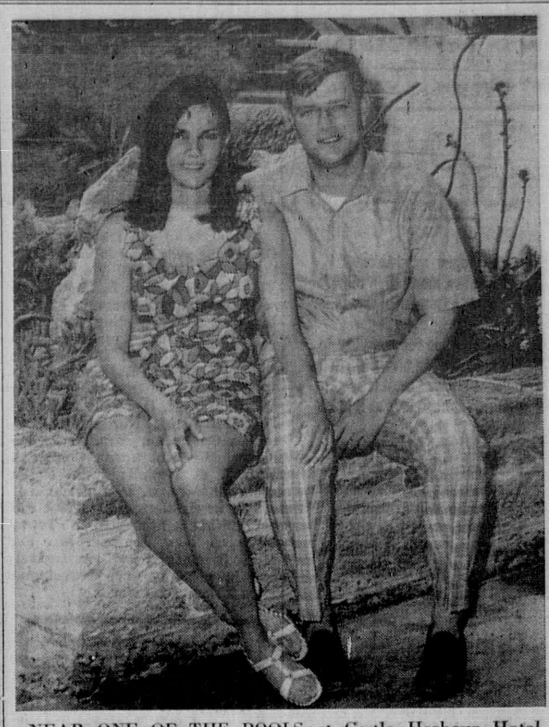

Miss Paquette is a graduate of Saint Joseph's Academy, Portland, Maine, attended Saint Joseph's College, North Windham, Maine, and received her bachelor of arts degree in English from Boston University.

"Loving to Live"

Will Rogers used to say, "I never met a man I didn't like." Isn't this a wonderful way to feel!

It's possible for everyone to feel this way. In fact, Christian Science shows that it is as natural for us to love as it is for the sun to shine.

In her free public lecture, Miss Grace Bemis Curtis of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship will explain the spiritual basis of love and its direct relationship to life itself.

You and your friends are most cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Puffer Elected President Of Voters League

Mrs. Donald L. Puffer, newly elected president of the Winchester League of Women Voters, reorted to the members attending the May 14 annual meeting on the new study-action programs adopted at the National Convention recently held in Washington.

For the next two years Leagues all over the country will study measures providing for a physical environment beneficial to all life and the relation of population growth and distribution. In the first year the emphasis will be on air pollution. There will also be a study of Congressional procedures. A change in by-laws permits for the first time young women of 18 to become League members.

Retiring president Mrs. Charles H. Miller conducted the business meeting. It was voted to support measures to establish the Town Manager form of government, to encourage short and long range planning by Town Boards, to work for preservation of open space in Winchester and the upgrading of the Aberjona River. The League will continue its long standing interest in local education by supporting the completion of the new high school and the establishment of a coordinator of pupil services. Proposals to provide additional elementary school space will also be evaluated.

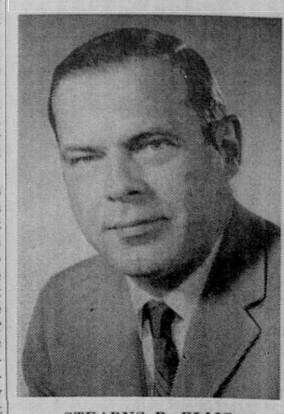

New officers elected for a two year term are Mrs. Phillip Blumberg, first vice president; Mrs. Raymond Champoux, second vice president; and Mrs. Clarence Feldman, treasurer. School System Receives Award For Booklet

"Winchester Welcomes You," a booklet provided for all new teachers by Winchester Public Schools, received commendation for placing as a finalist in the National School Publications Awards Competition.

Dr. Leonor Rich, principal of Washington School, was in charge of the publication of "Winchester Welcomes You" and she, Henry B. Perry, assistant superintendent for personnel, and Mrs. Lois Carr, public information officer for the Schools, combined forces to produce the award-winning brochure.

Used as an introduction and reference book for the new teacher, the booklet contains a map of Winchester, explanation of the services offered in the school system and regulations under which the new teacher will work.

Of 800 entries in all categories from school systems and state departments of education across the country only 53 were awarded prizes in the contest. According to School Management Magazine editor James E. Doherty, for this reason, "you have ample reason to be proud of making the finals."

The contest was co-sponsored by the School Management Magazine and the National School Public Relations Association.

Attending Winchester Rotarians who will take over their new offices and responsibilities on July 1 were Richard F. Norris, president; Arnold M. Gibson, first vice president; Dr. Seymour W. Russell, secretary; Directors Robert J. Costello, Daniel Gattineri, Arthur E. Rand, and Albert Tatarian. In addition, Lewis B. Snow, Rotary Foundation chairman, and William S. Saurman, Club Bulletin editor, also attended.

The Winchester Rotary Club is also formally organizing a soft-ball team this year for the first time as a result of last year's interest in this sports activity. Rotarian David A. Klein has been appointed as team manager by President Hovannesian and will be assisted by William S. Saurman. Practice sessions will be held each Thursday evening at 6:30 p.m. at Leonard Field. A tri-club summer schedule of games is being arranged with the Winchester Lions and Kiwanis Clubs to promote closer relations with other service organizations in the Winchester community. Although there are no spectator charges for the inter-club games, an informal collection will be solicited for the Jimmy Fund.

Previous arrangements were made by Rotarian Leo Boodakian for a soft-ball game sponsored with the Boston Playboy Club Bunny Team as a fund-raising project. However, due to the fact that the Rotary Club preferred to limit itself only to its highly successful Annual Old-Fashioned Country Auction as a main fund-raising club project, the opportunity for a Bunny Club soft-ball game was passed on to the Winchester Lions Club who are sponsoring the event for the evening of June 8.

Troop 508 Attends Camporee

Troop 508, repeating its blue ribbon performance in the Scout Show of April 11, won two blue ribbons at the recent Musket District Camporee at Camp Oak in Bedford. Out of the 39 patrols that were there, the Rat Patrol took first place and the Roadrunner Patrol took third.

The two patrols left Mitre Company's parking lot at 6:30 p.m. Friday, May 1, hiked one and one half miles to Camp Oak and set up camp for their two day stay.

Saturday morning was spent on advancement. In the afternoon, the patrols participated in the Patrol Rally in which they put to use the scouting skills they had learned at their regular meetings.

Sunday, after outdoor church services, the patrols cleaned up their camp sites, picked up their ribbons, and headed for home.

Jeff Charles with his own construction and design of a 1960 cherry secretary. (Kevin Haggerty photo)

WHS Student Builds Desk From 1690 Design

Jeff Charles, a WHS senior, has just completed design and construction of a reproduction of a natural finish cherry wood secretary circa 1690.

A member of one of George Robertie's woodworking classes, Jeff did extensive research on just what tye of piece of furniture he wanted to build and how it had to look. On this "independent study" project he purchased all of his own materials and did all design work and craftsmanship.

Hardware for such a reproduction turned out to be particularly difficult to find but Jeff managed to locate square cut antique nails to fit into his design.

He used the woodworking facilities of the school and used it as a resource. He constructed the secretary with its drawers, shelves, cubbyholes and doors combining the features he wanted in the final piece.

According to industrial arts teacher, Mr. Robertie, this project had its importance in the knowledge Jeff gained by doing the research into period furniture and methods of achieving his goals, not just because of the skill it showed.

Jeff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton P. Charles of 27 York Road.

More furniture has been built by Jeff including a blanket chest and his latest project, a period clock.

Peter Simmons Receives Award In Chemistry

W.H.S. senior Peter Simmons received honorable mention for his performance in the high school chemistry examination contest sponsored by the American Chemical Society, northeastern section. Awards were presented at a dinner held on May 14 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Of 600 students Peter placed among the 26 students with the highest scores. Winchester has had winners in six of the eight years of competing in the contest. In addition to the honor to Peter, the school will receive a year's subscription to the magazine of the American Chemical Society, "Chemistry."

Peter took chemistry as a sophomore and then became a lab assistant in the chemistry department. He has been in the Advanced Placement course of chemistry taught by Miss Helen Crawley.

Peter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Simmons of Clift Street.

The awards dinner was also attended by a former W.H.S. student, now chemistry teacher, whose student also received an award. Miss Rosemary Leary of W.S.H. Class of 1964 has gone on to teach chemistry at Newmarket, New Hampshire and was a former student of Mrs. Lena Travis, now retired.

Music Club Completes Year

Quality, encouragement, performance — these were the goals set seven years ago by a group of parents and music teachers determined to provide a greatly-needed vehicle for serious-minded music students in Winchester.

The year 1969-70 has been one of the most successful in meeting the goals that guide the Winchester Music Club. Membership in the group is open to music teachers, students in 7th to 12th grade taking private lessons, and parents of music students.

During this season over 40 different music students played in the several programs presented by the Music Club. Thirteen of the students performed two or more times. In addition, the club sponsored for the third time a program by music student of elementary school age, with 23 different performers this year.

This year several different instruments were presented in the programs including piano, violin, cello, flute, clarinet, saxophone, and trumpet. Most satisfying of all has been the improvement in quality of performance and of the music played by the students.

For the first years of the Music Club activity, students performed for other student members of the Club and for invited guests and parents. In the last two years the Winchester Music Club has recognized the need for extending performing and listening opportunities into the Winchester community.

In 1968 the Club sponsored an unusual harpsichord concert by Miss Ruby Reid, Chilean artist. Last year John Willis of Winchester was presented in an evening piano recital.

This year's Club activities will conclude with the sponsoring of two concerts in conjunction with the Arts Festival on May 30-31. Several of the advanced students performing on May 30 are members of the Music Club and reflect the encouragement given them during their formative years. The community concerts continue the Music Club's goal of providing the Winchester music audience and Winchester musicians mutual opportunity to hear and to perform serious music.

Girl Scout Diary

Wyman School Brownie Troop 519 celebrated May Day with an old-fashioned maypole dance in the garden at 41 Oxford Street. The girls wore long dresses, especially made for the occasion, with necklaces and hair ornaments of artificial flowers they had made themselves.

The festivities ended with a visit to the Winchester Home for the aged, where the troop sang and recited appropriate poetry before presenting baskets of flowers to the residents. Flowers for the baskets were donated by Mahoney's Rocky Ledge Farm.

Washington School Brownie Troop 697 tie-dyed cotton fabric to make colorful pillow covers for Mother's Day gifts. On May 9 they took a three-hour hobo-hike in the Fels. A climb to the top of Bear Hill Tower and nosebag lunches in a meadow were highlights of the outing.

The girls presently are working on tissue-paper flowers for Memorial Day hospital tray favors. Brownie Troop 528, Lincoln School, is making plastic film flowers for hospital favors for the same holiday.

Mystic Troop

Mystic School Junior Troop 486 spent a recent weekend practicing camping skills at a backyard camp-out at the home of their leader, Mrs. Stephen Moore. The girls are preparing for a year-end camping trip to New Hampshire.

On May 19 the troop enjoyed a conducted tour of the Saugus Iron Works. Tours of the works, led by National Park Rangers, may be taken daily at 3 p.m., and are free to Girl Scout troops.

On May 6, Immaculate Conception Troop 492 camped overnight at Camp Joy. The girls enjoyed a guided nature walk which included stops at Squaw Sachem's Rock and at Long Pond. They observed wild flowers, trees, insects, and rock formations while learning about the natural history of the Fels.

Representatives of every Girl Scout troop in Winchester marched and Cadettes from four troops carried international flags in the annual En Ka Parade on May 16.

The Troop Committee of Cadette Troop 506 will hold a garage sale on May 30. Proceeds will be used to help finance the troops program, including a year-end trip to Martha's Vineyard. Anyone wishing to donate saleable items may call Mrs. Lamont, 729-5295, or Mrs. DeBourke, 729-0826.

At the Winchester Savings Bank Mr. Dickinson is supervisor of the savings department, having come to the bank in February of this year. Mr. Dickinson was formerly with the Brockton Savings Bank where he was supervisor of computer operations.

He is presently residing at 13 Oak Street with his wife and two children.

Channel 2 Auction Begins On May 30th

Beauty queen-historian; councilman-poet; newscaster-bank president; baseball-hero-charity director: they will all be there in a common role as auctioneers for the fifth Annual Channel 2 Auction which begins on Saturday, May 30th.

As in years past, noted New Englanders will join with many others in serving as the bidding link between auction and audience, bringing to the public upwards of more than 6000 items over the eight-day span of this unique television production.

Senator Edward Brooke will be there. . . .Arthur Fiedler will be there. . . .Miss Massachusetts will be there. . . .Jim Lonborg will be there. . . .David McCord will be there. . . .Walter Muir Whitehill will be there. . . .Josiah Spaulding will be there. . . .Gus Saunders will be there. . . .Regustrar McLaughlin will be there. . . .All donating their time and talents!

Well worth the entertainment value alone for its unique cast of "characters," the Channel 2 Auction is also well-hailed as one of the outstanding fund-raising projects of its type. In the past four years, the Auction has generated over one million dollars for WGBH's unrestricted operating funds.

This year's auctioneers will have the pleasure of auctioning off "dreams" — the kind that money can't necessarily buy — along with products and services that could fill a vital or carefree need in the life of Channel 2 viewer.

Auctioneers for the 1970 Channel 2 Auction include: Mrs. Andrew Nichols, Winchester Area Chairman.

Miss Janet C. Donohoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Donohoe of 3 James Street, was presented with her Sigma Delta Key at a special ceremony held on May 3, at Cardinal Cushing College. Miss Donohoe was presented with a long stemmed rose and Sigma Delta pin, by Sister Madonna, president of the College. Miss Donohoe has been a member of the honor society since her freshman year. She is a member of the graduating class of 1970.

Realtor Week Observed Locally

As part of an observance of Realtor Week, May 17-23, local members of the Greater Boston Real Estate Board are donating a new book, "Under All is the Land" to the Winchester Public Library.

Ralph A. Nardella, president of the Board's Brokers Institute local council of realtors, said the book's title coincides with the opening words of the Realtors Code of Ethics.

"The book, which has text and more than 200-full-color photographs showing the countryside, thriving cities, the heritage, pleasures and progress of the entire United States, is dedicated to the people of this country by the Realtors of America," Mr. Nardella said.

"This ppresentation was made parallel to the Realtor Week Observance," Mr. Nardella said, "to help everyone consider the full implication of real estate in light of some of the problems facing us today.

"The preamble to the Code of Ethics begins with the five words, 'Under all is the land' and upon its wise utilization and widely allocated ownership depends the survival and growth of free institutions and of our civilization," he said.

"The term "Realtor," Mr. Nardella explained, is an indicator of special qualifications because only a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and one of the more than nearly 1600 local boards can identify himself by that term.

Mr. Nardella praised realtors leadership over the years in championing the institution of private property ownership and working to make home purchase possible for all.

"We feel that our gift to the Winchester Public Library will have meaning to all citizens of the area today and for years to come," Mr. Nardella said. "It captures the many moods of America and, in reading and reflecting on the book, one cannot help but recognize the fact that everything depends on the land."

Burlington YWCA Members' Party Is Scheduled

The annual party for the members of the YWCA will be held on Tuesday evening, May 26, 1970 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. It is called the "Kinnear Strawberry Festival."

Capt. Kinnear, dating back to the Civil War, contributed a modest sum of money to the Cambridge YWCA stating that the interest from the investment should be used for a party for the members. Since he had no children, this was his method of keeping his name alive.

Anyone wishing to attend may do so by paying the modest membership fee which is required for participation in any activities in the YWCA. Membership is good for one year.

The committee for the evening is as follows: Mrs. Richard Drinkwater, chairman; Mrs. Peter Banulis; Mrs. George Garland; Mrs. Louis Tsotsi; Mrs. Gerald Iseler; Mrs. Francis Joyce; and Miss Carol Fish.

Local Women Appear On TV For Auction

With the Channel Two Auction just a bit more than a week away, the Auction Committee has announced some of the people, both famous and unknown, (but not infamous), who will be wielding the gavel during the week long event.

If one has a favorite person, active in the arts or sports world, famous for writing or music, he would be wise to peruse the following list to see if the favorites are there.

Ruth Adams, president of Wellesley College; Senator Edward Brooke, needs no description; Arthur Fiedler, needs no description; Edward Rowe Snowe, author and historian; and Christian Science Monitor, Editor-in-Chief, Erwin D. Canham will all be making an appearance.

On the more glamorous side will be Miss Massachusetts, Georgina Hossfield and Red Sox pitcher, Jim Lonborg. Representing more in the cultural line will be Sonya Hamlin, Channel 4 culture editor, Elma Lewis of the Elma Lewis School of Fine Arts and Aline Saarinen, Art Editor for NBC's Today Show.

The above named are just a few of the many well-known people who gladly give their time, and often travel great distances to aid the NET station and make the Auction not just a bargain but excellent fun. The dates of the Auction, at which all bidding is via the telephone, are May 30-June 6.

If one is interested in familiar faces, the auction is the place. Almost all of the 28 women in Winchester who assisted in "go-getting" will be working during auction week before the cameras. They will follow the example of Mrs. Andrew Nichols, 11 Fenwick Road, the area chairman who will bang the gavel for Channel 2.

Concerts Planned For Arts Festival

Under the sponsorship of the Winchester Music Club two concerts of serious music performed by students and adults will be presented on May 30 and May 31 at the Unitarian Church.

On Saturday afternoon, May 30, at 5 p.m., advanced music students will present a variety of instrumental solos, duets, and ensemble music, including works for organ, harpsichord, violin, clarinet and piano.

Organist Peter Simmons will open the concert in the sanctuary of the Unitarian church with a program of music by Buxtehude, Bach, Brahms, and Franck. The remainder of the concert will be given in Metcalf Hall.

An ensemble of six violinists and piano will play a concerto grosso by Vivaldi. Jean Cormack, Douglas De Natale, Margaret Cormack, Katie Leninson, Amy Radford, and Jane Thompson are the student violinists and Laura Downsis the pianist.

An unusual aspect of the program will be music for harpsichord performed by Phoebe Knopf, Michale Simmons, and Edith Chase. Scott Knopf, violinist, accompanied by Carl Fudge, will play music by Nardini followed by a performance of a Mozart Sonata by Jonathan Ridpath, pianist. Tom Page, clarinetist and Mrs. Lillian Enright, pianist, will perform the first movement of the Brahms Sonata No. 1. The program will conclude with music by Bach and Debussy played by Karen Mentzoni, pianist.

Second Concert

The second concert sponsored by the Winchester Music Club will be at 3 p.m. on May 31 in Metcalf Hall. The program will present several adult Winchester musicians in a concert of serious music for viola, violin, harpsichord and lyric soprano.

Frances Lawrance, well-known lyric soprano and Winchester resident will join with Carl Fudge, harpsichord and organist for the Church of the Epiphany, in music by Handel: "Let Me Wander Not Unseen" — L'allegro; "Oh, Sleep Why Doest Thou Leave Me" — Seleme; and "So Shall the Lute and Harp Awake" — Judas Maccabeas.

Bartok's Duet for Violin and Viola will be performed by Dr. Kilmer McCully, violinist and Miss Betty Hauck, violist. Miss Hauck will join Mr. Fudge in a selection for viola and harpsichord.

These concerts have been sponsored by the Music Club in conjunction with the Winchester Arts Festival on May 30-31. The public is invited to attend both concerts.

William Hersey To Address College Club

William D. Hersey will address the members of the Winchester College Club, Wednesday, May 27th at 1 p.m. at the Congregational Church, in the Tucker Room.

Mr. Hersey, a graduate of Tufts University, is a zone manager for Investors Diversified Services Inc. The su'ject of his presentation is "You Can Remember" and stems from his personal ability at total recall. Mr. Hersey developed his own ability in this field when well over forty and asserts "memory is not a gift. It can be acquired. And anyone willing to devote as much time to it as, say, getting one pair of glasses fitted can acquire a memory."

Mr. Hersey's address consists not only of demonstrating what one can train the mind to recall — such as 150 closing stock prices, or the names of those present in the audience — but also methods of how to acquire the ability.

The principles he employs to recall names and faces, key points from articles or speeches, lists of items, telephone numbers, and errands have directly accounted for his success in business, have resulted in the publication of a book on the subject, and even a LP record.

In addition Mr. Hersey is a consultant and lecturer for the Bureau of Business and Industrial Training of Northeastern University. His demonstrations and memory training sessions have included Life Magazine, The Cain Food Company, Welch Candy, The Rotary Clubs of New York and Boston. As an example of "How To Cash In On Your Hidden Memory Power," the title of his book, Mr. Hersey won $30,000 in merchandise in 10 minutes on a television show where success lies in concentration.

College Club members are welcome to bring guests and anyone wishing to hear Mr. Hersey is welcome. Punch will be served. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. R. E. Moffat.

Softball Team Finally Wins

The Varsity softball team has been working hard for their first win under Coach Joan Rosazza. They finally came through with a big win defeating Woburn 12-10. Before beating the Tannerettes they last two more games. Their record is now 1-4.

They lost their first game to Concord by a score of 10-5. Concord pitcher Culkins gave up only three hits. The girls made it around the bases by stealing and errors.

Winchester played Lexington losing by a close score of 16-12. The Sachemettes in the third inning were losing 5-4. Winchester had a bib six run fourth inning. Sue Kent and Caroline Karp each had a double and Lynne Anderson had a single. They couldn't hold on to their lead of 10-5. Lexington came back in the fifth scoring four runs and in the sixth with three rung and added four in the seventh.

The big win against the Woburn Tannerettes was on May 14. In this game, the Sachemettes were ahead all the way. Nancy DiZio had a single in the first scoring two runs and a double in the fourth scoring two more runs. In the fifth inning Debbie Doyle led off with a single followed by a Debbi Busfield bunt single sending Debbie Doyle to third. Beth Klemer hit a long single sending home both Doyle and Busfield. Lynn Duffy had hit a single with two girls on base. Lynn, with a lot of hustle and the help of a few Woburn errors, made it home.

JV Sachemettes Still Unbeaten

Still ndefeated the JV girls softball team has won three more games. Their record now is 4-0.

On Friday, May 8, the girls played host to Concord: Denise MacDonald hit her first home run of the season in the fourth inning. Doubles were hit by Debbie Wark, Joan Fisher, Ruth Cincotta, Martha Putnam, and Janet Girard. There were 30 stolen bases. The final score was 30-10.

They followed this by trouncing Lexington 18-15. In the first and second innings, Winchester was behind 5-0, but they came back with a big seven run third inning. Debbie Duffy led off with a single. Sue Lowe and Debbie TerMeulen followed each hitting a single.

With the bases loaded, Sid Welles singled bringing in two runs. With girls on first and second Sue Goodwin hit a three run homer. Joan Fisher hit a double and Patti McGann hit a home run scoring the final two runs of the inning.

In the sixth inning, Denise MacDonald hit a solo home run. Eileen Brennan was three for three hitting a single, a double and a triple respectively. The Sachemettes snapped the Minuteladies' undefeated record from last year.

With the score 22-11, Coach Susan McNeily's JV's did it again by beating Woburn. In the second inning Sue Lowe hit a triple scoring Denise MacDonald and Debbie Duffy. Denise hit a two-run homer in the third inning and in the sixth inning Ann Kelleher came through with a three run blast.

There are three regular season games left. On May 22, Winchester plays host to Lincoln-Sudbury on Ginn Field at 3:15. The last two games are away: May 26 at Newton and the final game at Arlington on May 29.

Spartans, Sachems, Tanners In Three Way Race For Title

by John F. Parrell

The Middlesex League baseball season is rushing toward its end and remains practically the same as it has been from the opening gun. With only four games left on the slate the standing shows the following records:

Stoneham	12-2
Winchester	11-3
Woburn	10-4

All of the other teams have been eliminated from any hope of coming out on top.

On the basis of the schedule it would appear that Woburn had slightly the best of the deal with three home games and only one away. However, they collided head on with the Sachems yesterday afternoon in what had to be a "must" game for both teams. Their other games to round out their schedule are against hapless Concord and Wakefield and capable and dangerous Reading.

Stoneham also has a date with the trailing Concord clan, a clash with the Melrose Raiders and the other with Belmont, a team that can beat anybody on a given day. Their season's finale is at Manchester Field next Tuesday in a contest which shapes up as the game of the year unless the action of this week is fraught with upsets. The first two finishers qualify for the State baseball tourney and with so much at stake both teams can be counted upon to give their all. Stoneham will probably use its multi-pitcher system with Dave McDowell being used in all tight spots. Either Bruce Mullen or John Reardon is expected to be on the Winchester mound and either is capable of giving the visitors a hard time.

Before meeting the league leaders, the Winchester nine must face Lexington, Watertown and arch rival Woburn and every pitch of every game will have a definite bearing on their pennant hopes. Competition in the league has been intense this season with low scoring games the rule. As a matter of fact less than half a dozen of the 70 games played to date have a team scoring in double figures, a most unusual thing in schoolboy baseball.

Winchester Wins Lopsided Game

by John F. Parrell

Awakening from the lethargy which has kept their bats rather quiet in recent games, the Sachem nine connonaded Wakefield pitching for 14 safe hits and a like number of runs to romp to an easy 14-1 verdict.

These included doubles by John Tello and Ron Fiorilli and a triple by Bill Wolfe, who also had a home run as did Mike Gilberti. It was by far their most impressive hitting of the year.

George Greenwich, on the Winchester mound, had a comparatively easy day as he restricted the visitors to five hits. However, his control was a bit off and Wakefield had quite a few base runners, but when necessary Greenwich tightened up to retire the side.

This was an important win for the Sachems as Al Houston of Woburn limited Stoneham to just one hit for a 2-0 Tanner win which revised the league standing to:

Stoneham	11-2
Winchester	10-3
Woburn	9-4

Belmont Bumps Sachem Nine

by John F. Parrell

Belmont's baseball nine which has been breaking even in most of its games this season authored an extra inning upset as they upset Winchester 4-3. This third loss of the season dropped the Sachems two full games behind Stoneham and one game ahead of the third place Tanners.

Winchester tallied twice in the second frame on singles by John Tello and Captain Swanson with a long triple by Bill Wolfe sandwiched between them. But the lead quickly melted in the Belmont half as the home team crossed the plate three times on a hit batsman, a pair of errors and a triple, three runs on just one hit.

In the sixth, Ben Dolan singled and stole second. He scored on Swanson's double to tie the game and set the stage for Belmont's eighth inning run. With one out Blanchette hit a ground rule double to left. A walk to Connolly and a single by Ruane loaded the sacks and then Bohigian dropped a perfect squeeze bunt for the winning run.

Sachem Nine Moves Closer To League Top

by John F. Parrell

With Woburn beating Stoneham while they were toppping Reading by 2-0 the Winchester baseball nine moved to within a single game of first place in the Middlesex League. Coach Bill Colella's boys are still very much in the running for the league title and also for a shot at State tourney play.

The game was a hard fought pitchers' battle between Dave Merullo of the home team and John Reardon with both stingy on hits and with excellent fielding by both clubs. As a matter of fact the two longest hits of the day, a triple by Mike Gilberti and a double by Bob Stark of Reading, had no effect on the scoring.

The Sachems sewed the verdict up in the fifth frame when they put together three singles and the sole Reading error to account for the only runs of the game. Tom James singled to right and after Ron Fiorilli flied out John Reardon dropped down a sacrifice bunt to advance James to second. Scott singled to right scoring James and then Gilberti singled to left and when the ball evaded the fielder Scott also crossed the plate.

Reading posed a real threat in the following inning as John O'Keefe opened with a single and when Al Weston walked, Steve Mulloy took over on the Sachem mound. On the first play, a bunt by Pete Moscarello was fielded by Mulloy, but he was late with his force throw to third. A pop up to Gilberti erased Dwight Messenger but Dave Merullo hit a fly to Bill Wolfe in center field. The latter grabbed the ball and pegged a line throw to the plate where Capt. Steve Swanson took it and swung around to tag out O'Keefe for a sensational inning ending double play.

Boys' Tennis Team Active; Kadesch Advances In States

by John F. Parrell

Coach Don Stangel's Sachem boys' tennis team, which is annually rated as a top ranking group, is in a rebuilding stage this year but has had some fine matches and is still a contender for the Middlesex League title which they have won frequently in the past. As a matter of fact their defeat by Lexington 3-2 sent sports statisticians thumbing the records for the last time that Winchester had lost in the league.

Dave Hillman, Rick Porter, and John Sawyer are senior team members, Chris Parsons and Anthony Cortizas are juniors and Phil Kadesch, Wayne Kell, Peter Whitman and Michael Shiang are sophomores. With so many talented underclass players things look bright for the future. The coach will welcome new prospects any afternoon at the Palmer Street courts.

Phil Kadesch has shown exceptional ability for a sophomore and hal lost only one singles match, that to Weston's talented Ted Bassett. He has advanced to third round play in Region IV of the State Tourney and next Saturday will meet John Wilenski of Concord to St. John's Prep courts. In the first round he bested Tom Gurian of Salem by 6-3 and 6-2. His second round victim was Dave Murachver of Winthrop by 6-2 and 6-1. Chris Parsons was a first round loser to Ronald Alma of Concord-Carlisle.

The local court players have a 3-1 record in Middlesex League play with victories over Reading, Woburn and Wakefield against the sole loss to the Minutemen. They have dropped non-league decisions to Newton South, Brookline, and the high powered Weston group, but their play continues to show steady improvement.

Basketball Clinic Planned

John Havlicek will have the facilities for eight basketball courts all under one roof this year at the Winchester In-Door Tennis Club.

One of the features this year will be the establishment of a league for "young" players. Special baskets have been obtained which make it somewhat easier for the younger boys to score a basket. The distance from the floor to the hoop is not as great as a regular size hoop. With this type of equipment available all of the boys are able to participate.

Applications for this year's school are coming in very fast and those who have not sent in an application are urged to do so now.

The dates this year are August 10 to 15. On August 15 from 8:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. there will be a special awards day and parents day. The program will end at noon on August 15.

Two Records Are Broken In League Meet

by John F. Parrell

Two Winchester High track records were shattered in the Middlesex League meet held Saturday at Stoneham as the local runners competed in the annual jamboree.

Mike Deshler, who finished fifth in the quarter mile, covered the distance in 52.5 seconds to shade the mark of 52.6 set in 1968 by Greg Cronin. Tim Fahey sped the mile in slightly over 4:31.2 which eclipses the former record of 4:34 set by Dave Puffer in 1967.

Bruce Hill finished third in the high hurdles and the local relay group also took third honors behind Wakefield and Melrose. The surprise of the meet from the Sachem point of view was the performance of Bob Amoroso who hurled the javelin over 164 feet to carry off second place. This is by far his best effort with the spear. Keith Doty was disqualified in the trial heat of the 220 because he stepped out of his lane. However, he hopes to have his chance to prove his mettle against Woburn's Hogan in the meet this afternoon at Manchester Field.

Winchester Soccer Tied For Second

Winchester's CYO bantam team lost to an excellent and still undefeated Cambridge team 4 to 0 Sunday at MacDonald Field before a good number of spectators.

This was the only game in the league played Sunday, because of the good condition of the turf, rain was absorbed and the field was playable. Visiting teams have commented on the excellent soccer field. Again, thanks to the Park Department.

Within five minutes after kickoff, Cambridge had scored two goals, their third goal came late in the first half, and their fourth goal came in the second half of the game.

It was, as expected, a defensive game for Winchester being played in their half of the field, although Chip Whitman did get a few shots on the Cambridge goal. The Cambridge team played as though a group of young professionals, employing a combination of fine passing and heading, who in six games have shut out their opponents.

Chip Whitman at left wing and Vincent Palumbo at center, as well as all the team, missed the very capable and excellent ball handling of Peter Martini at right wing, who was injured in Saturday's practice.

Co-captains John Fitzgerald and Ed Shiang, with Joe Bowen, Paul Sullivan, Pete Sandford, Richie Jacobs and goalie David Raphael in their combined efforts of hard play, kept the Cambridge scoring below their previous wins of 14, 8, 9, 8, and 4 to 0.

Winchester travels to Weston next Sunday.

Stickmen Win Two More Games

by John F. Parrell

Coach Gene Bouley's Sachem lacrosse team continued its winning ways last week by winning both of their scheduled games. They edged past Concord-Carlisle by 4-3 in an unexpectedly close contest and downed the Andover Academy JV team by an 8-6 margin.

Both teams showed clever defense in the Concord game and although the Winchester offense kept constantly pressing, they were unable to score too frequently. Phil Sampson had two goals and an assist and Gary Fincke a goal and an assist, while the final Winchester marker was chalked up by Curt Woodward. Concord's scoring came on three fast break situations.

The Winchester defense continued to be outstanding as Co-Captain Pete Wardwell, Mark Lombardi and Mark Keating thwarted the opposing offense and gave goali Rick Murphy excellent protection. The latter also had some sensational saves in the Winchester goal.

In the Andover game the academy boys led throughout most of the game but Winchester kept scrapping and eventually pulled out ahead. The first period ended at two goals apiece and at the half it was a four all deadlock. Bill Brink by showing plenty of hustle tallied a pair of goals and Phil Sampson also netted a like number. Solo goals went to Dan Oliver, Bob Thomas, Curt Woodward and Larry Knowlton.

Big League Registration

All boys whose birthdate falls between August 1, 1951, and July 31, 1954, are eligible to play Big League Baseball this summer.

Obtain an application blank from the Winchester Sport Shop and return the application with the five dollar ($5.00) family registration fee to Duane Belden or Al Fiorilli on Saturday May 23, 1970, between 12 noon and 1 p.m. at Manchester Field. The registration donation is not required when the family is already registered with a boy in another league.

This year's managers are as follows:

Joe Keating	Pirates
Tom Keating	Twins
Hal Mullen	Cardinals
George Tello	Tigers

To generate more competition, enthusiasm, and better league balance, all teams are being broken up. All registrants go into a pool and a new player draft will be conducted to determine all team assignments.

Tennis Team Breaks Even

by John F. Parrell

The Sachem boys' tennis team had two matches last week and came out exactly even. They lost to a talented Newton High team by 4-1 with only Phil Kadesch able to come out a winner. However, they rebounded the next day against Middlesex League rival, Melrose to take down a 3-2 verdict and keep alive their title hopes.

Phil Kadesch continued to win in Region IV of the State Tourney. He bested John Wilenski of Concord-Carlisle last week at St. John's Prep. This advances him to the final rounds of the tournament which will take place at Newton South the next two weekends.

The summaries of this week's matches:

CAP League Season Opens

The Noonan School Cap League team showed championship form last Saturday, as the Winchester Cap League season opened with five exciting games on Ginn Field.

For John Pasillo's Golden Eagles, John Breen started off with two innings of shut out pitching, followed by John Parson's aid-tight hurling and finished up with the no-hit masterpiece of Glenn Miller as Noonan celebrated its first year in Cap Leauge with an 18-0 conquest of the Mystic Green Hornets.

On another field, the outcome was in serious doubt as the Parkhurst Maroons edged the Vinson-Owen Orioles 11-10. The lead see-sawed all through the six innings of play, but the Maroons came up with the winning tally in the last half of the sixth session.

Coach Bill Wolfe featured the tremendous slugging of son Stephen Wolfe who had two booming triples for the day's work, as the Lincoln Black Knights took the toll of the St. Mary's Saints by the convincing margin of 16-1.

The Mystic Tigers built up a good lead on the Muraco Marauders, but had to hang on with some clutch pitching in the last inning as Muraco loaded the bases with two out in their last at-bats, but couldn't dent the rubber. The Tigers won the game 9-6.

The Wyman Wildcats, defending regular season champions from 1969 had a difficult time with Dick Wilsack's Washington Generals, and though the score of 10-3 looks impressive, the game was not that one-sided. Wyman won, but the baiance of this year's league bodes trouble for Jim Aylward's nine.

The opening games saw a goodly crowd of spectators at each of the five contests, and the spirit of all the players was very noticeable. Every game had its moments of excitement, and the fans seemed impartial in their applause for good plays and good sportsmanship on both contending teams at each field.

Rained Out

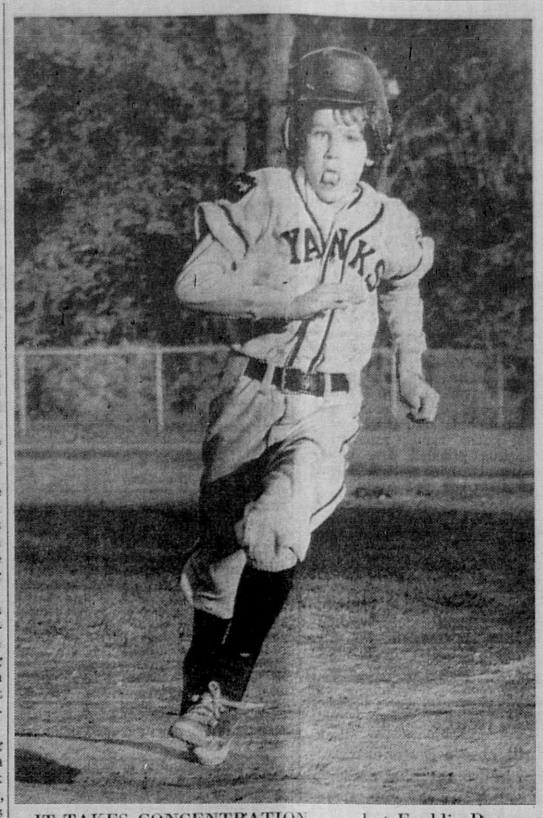

The Sunday afternoon games were rained out, and will be played at the end of the season, thereby extending the season, probably through June 21, on which day, the championship division games now will be scheduled.

Now that the team caps have been distributed, in order for fans to recognize their favorite team as they come to the field, the following information is furnished as to the colors of the various school caps:

Lincoln Black Knights - black
Muraco Marauders - dark green
Mystic Green Hornets - Kelly green
Mystic Tigers - dark blue
Noonan Golden Eagles - gold
Parkhurst Maroons - maroon
St. Mary's Saints - blue with red bills
Vinson-Owen Orioles - black with orange bills
Washington Generals - red
Wyman Wildcats - royal blue

On thing Director Donald Van Roosen commented on, last Saturday, which bears repeating to all is that, on Fields 2 and 5, which are just beyond the Little League outfield fence, coaches and mothers and fathers are cautioned to keep players and tiny tots away from the sidelines of the field and especially from behind the home plate area. Stray balls could cause trouble for some unsuspecting children who are not intent on the play of the game!

Next ball games will be played on Ginn Field this Saturday and Sunday at 1 p.m.

IT TAKES CONCENTRATION . . . but Freddie Dee was successful as he scored in the Red Sox vs. Yanks game at Ginn Field last week. (Ryerson photo)

SOI News

The Sons of Italy men's bowling banquet was held on Saturday, May 9th with a cocktail and social hour starting off the evening at 6 p.m. At about 7:15 Master of Ceremonies Bob Fiore called all to attention to give Grace and to pray for the deceased members of the lodge and especially for recently deceased member of the bowling league Al DiPietro.

After the meal of Macaroni and roast beef M. C. Bob Fiore began the formal part of the program by introducing ACA President Carmine (Mingy) Frongillo who congratulated the Sports Committee and the bowling league for another successful season.

Sports Committee Chairman Frank (Boss) Dattilo was introduced by Bob and Frank and thanked and introduced his sports committee for all their hard work and the co-operation given him during the past season. Ginger Maggio then was introduced. She was representing Venerable Eleanor Russo of the ladies' lodge who could not attend due to illness.

Venerable of the men's lodge Joe Paonessa and his wife, Florence, were asked to take a bow and Joe congratulated the winning teams and the sports committee for a job well done.

M.C. Bob then asked Publicity Director Gus Baldacci and his wife, Theresa, to stand and be recognized and then last but by no means least, his own lovely wife, Peggy.

The awards were given out and Frank Dattilo presented the high average trophy to none other than M.C. Bob Fiore (110.0). Venerable Joe Paonessa then called up Frank (Chopppers) Gangi and gave him his trophy for high triple which was 370. Bill Maggio was next called up to give out the trophy for high single (154) and this year it went to three bowlers who were M. J. Saracco, Bill Fiore and Frank Michienzi. Mingy Frongillo was next called up to award the trophy for three strikes in a row and he presented it to Bill Redmond.

Sports Committee Chairman Frank Dattilo was called next by M.C. Bob to give out jackets to the winning teams in the league this season. The teams were: First place, Twins of the American League; Second place, the Browns of the National League; Third place, the Rams of the National league; and Fourth place, Chiefs of the National League.

The next award to be presented was the Andrew (Dippy) Diapella Sportsmanship trophy. This was the 16th year in a row for this award to be presented. Dom Suppa was asked to come forward to present the trophy to this year's winner, and he pulled off the tape covering the name of Jerry Borsini Sr. who received a standing ovation from all in attendance.

Bob Fiore then thanked all for the kind attention given him as M.C. and he also thanked Committee Recording Secretary Dick Tofuri (who was not in attendance on account of illness) for all his hard work and assistance. The tables were then cleared and put to the sides of the hall and the lights turned down low for dancing until 1 a.m.

Panel On Drugs Presented By Mystic School Mothers

On Wednesday evening, May 13, the Mystic Mothers' Association presented a panel discussion entitled "What Must Your Child Cope With Today?" The panelists were Mrs. Gloria Keville, elementary schools guidance counselor; Dr. E. T. Blanch, pediatrician; and Juvenile Officer Richard Beaton of the Winchester Police Department.

Mrs. Keville developed a theme, "the temper of the times," as her approach to the pressures facing young people. She characterized the temper of the depression and war years as grim but exciting and determined, confident that democracy would pull us through; in contrast, the current time is fast-moving, confused, angry, frustrated and violent. Educational questions are more complex; people must balance academics with the reinforcing and snhancing of human potential. She emphasized that relationships must be much closer and caring. To foster the inner strength and independence with which our children will face new and difficult situations, she suggested the following:

1. Family life challenges and rivalries should be kept at a minimum.

2. Parents must be realistic and well-informed about what happens in the world.

3. Parents must rethink their goals for our children in terms of their capabilities.

4. Parents must be adaptive, not rejecting things as "that's not the way we did it."

5. Parents must know firmly where we stand on issues.

To Dr. Blanch "today" is the key word; the stresses are vastly greater, the questioning of old moral guideposts confusing. And each child's unique personal stresses are more important to him than any others.

He outlined the change in intra-family relationships, from earlier generations where the child was primarily an economic asset to the family and his future occupation fairly set, through the depression, when the child was expected to repay his family for his upbringing and to make his own way in life, to the present, where the child is a parasite, with no obligations and no responsibilities to an affluent and child-oriented family.

Adults set educational goals for these children based on their own aspirations for them and expect them to work to full potential all the time, and push extra-curricular accomplishments very hard. They are showered with material things almost before the desire is expressed. The child learns that all he really has to do is please his parents and show that he is worthwhile. Soon he becomes self-centered, convinced that he is right in everything and, when older, wants to force his opinions on society immediately; failure to do so causes him to rebel and/or withdraw.

Dr. Blanch ended by saying "We should love them enough — to let them grow up and learn at their own rate; let them take small bumps, to learn to cope with big bumps later; let them earn, to appreciate; fail, to enjoy success later; let them have as carefree and reasonably irresponsible childhood as possible, so that when they do grow up, they can take on proper responsibility willingly."

Officer Beaton emphasized that, almost always as he works with young people in trouble, poor communication and poor relationships with their parents emerge as the root cause. Many parents do not give enough of their time and of themselves. He urged strongly that parents must take a genuine interest in their children's activities as they grow older and change schools and friends, knowing where and with whom they are.

He feels that the drug problem will worsen, and quoted Father Shanley, the Boston priest who works with drug users and runaways, as predicting that by 1972 sixty per cent of young people from junior high school age up will be using heroin.

An enthusiastic question and answer period followed the discussion.

VOL. LXXXIX, NO. 39 COPYRIGHT 1970

PAUSE IS TAKEN TO HONOR THE WAR DEAD OF THE PAST during Memorial Day observances, Monday, May 25, at the Honor Roll on the grounds of the Town Hall at Mount Vernon and Washington Streets. Members of military organizations, social and civic groups, and the Police and Fire Departments are joined by townspeople in a hushed semi-circle about the roster. (Ryerson photo)

Memorial Day Observance Is Held

Winchester's observances of Memorial Day, which according to Massachusetts law fell on Monday, May 25, was performed against a background of misty rain and an almost autumnlike chill. But tribute to the war dead of the past, far and recent, was not slighted.

The program followed by the Town was planned by the Memorial Day Committee, chairmanned by John T. Horn, parade marshall and caretaker of graves for the Town of Winchester.

Initiating at Leonard Field, Washington Street, the assembly proceeded to the Winchester section of Calvary Cemetery where there was a sounding of "Taps." Returning down Washington Street by way of the plaque at Leonard Field, the procession continued to the Honor Roll on the grounds of the Town Hall where a wreath was placed.

"Taps" and a wreath were again the tokens of honor offered by participants at the War Memorial at Main Street and Mystic Valley Parkway. A final pause was made on arrival at Wildwood Cemetery. "Taps" was blown here for a last time in this 1970 observance. A review concluded ceremonies.

Composing the parade were members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, the Winchester Police and Fire Departments, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of the Minute Man Council, and the Immaculate Conception Girls' Drill Team.

Representatives of military units included the U.S. Marine Corps from the Boston Naval Shipyard; an Army Reserve unit from the Boston Army Base 195th Repair Parts Company; and the 101st Engineer Battalion from the National Guard Armory, Woburn.

School Committee Votes To Extend Smoking Study And Considers Staggering

Following discussion and defeat of one motion, the Winchester School Committee approved the formation of a sub-committee composed of students, parents, faculty and administrators to continue the study of and present alternate proposals for the question of student smoking from which the School Committee may form a future policy.

Meeting in regular session Tuesday evening, May 26, the Committee defeated a motion brought to a vote by Committeeman Richard B. Lawrance that an outside area or areas in the rear of the Senior High School be designated as areas where students may smoke. It was reiterated that while the School Committee does not condone student smoking, it is nevertheless faced with dealing with this very real problem.

In adopting such an idea Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer said that Winchester would have been a "leader." In a survey of neighboring communities it was found that Wellesley and Lincoln-Sudbury had programs which allowed some smoking on school property.

Given special attention was the Lincoln-Sudbury program in which permission slips from the parents are required to be carried by students using the privilege. Compulsory attendance for these pupils in a health course is also a feature of this community's experiment.

Committee member Mrs. Mary Mears informed her fellows that according to the General Laws and Fire Chief I. Francis Amico, smoking in such public buildings as schools is against fire safety laws. In discussion with Dr. Warren Taylor of 10 Edgehill Road she was also given figures on smoking-related deaths and disease.

"Abysmal"

In a memo from Senior High School Principal W. Howard Niblock he comments, "The rule against smoking in the school building and on the school grounds has always been difficult to enforce, but conditions are now such that effective enforcement is even less possible." "Conditions are the campus plan. Terming the problem "abysmal," he said that such enforcement was impossible.

The result of a faculty poll at the Senior High School was 39 in approval and 19 in disapproval of allowing smoking in some area. A poll of the Parent-Faculty Association Executive Committee was 17 for and seven against.

Requesting that the School Committee actually amend the rules if necessary, Member Lane McGovern hoped that the administration would not be forced into a situation of simply "looking the other way."

Philip Sampson, president of the Student Council, called for a "realistic" approach to the problem and offered the information that students did not care if they were caught or even suspended because young people did not feel they were doing anything wrong by smoking. They are aware of the hazards.

Moving into other areas a proposal from the administration to stagger the opening of kindergarten classes next September will be considered further at a future meeting when the opinions of kindergarten teachers can be obtained.

In an effort to eliminate the "traumatizing" of children entering school, one-third of these students would be admitted separately to school over a period of three days.

Graduations

Concerning the matter of high school graduations, approval was made of the June 6 date for next year. Of more immediacy was the question of some student's protest over the use of caps and gowns at this year's ceremonies.

Selectmen Conduct Hearing On Incinerator Schedule And Plan Budget Meeting

by James E. Connell Jr.

Arguments against the Monday closing of the Town incinerator were presented by Town residents to the Board of Selectmen at its regular meeting on Tuesday night, May 26. In objecting to the new schedule, several commercial truckers indicated that they anticipated the probability of lost income and personnel layoffs because of the changed incinerator schedule announced by the Board last week.

In opening the hearing, Chairman Ralph Swanson emphasized that the Monday closing had been decided upon only after consideration of all factors, subject to the overriding requirement that the furnaces have a full 48-hour cooling period to permit weekly maintenance. Should this regular maintenance not be provided. Mr. Swanson cautioned that the major expense recently borne by the Town for incinerator repairs would inevitably recur.

Since Sunday alone gives users half of the necessary time, the additional time had to be taken from either Saturday or Monday hours. Although aware of the problems which the decision might generate, the Board, noting that up to 1800 vehicles have been counted at the incinerator on Saturdays, concluded that the interests of the majority were best served by continuing dumping privileges on Saturdays.

Furnaces

A suggestion was made that by firing the two furnaces alternately, one might be serviced while the other opreated. Robert O'Brien, Superintendent of Streets, explained that while such separate firing times could be arranged, only partial maintenance would be possible because of ducts and filters common to both units.

During discussion, it became apparent that pit storage capacity and not ultimate disposal was the focus of the issue, and various alternative solutions were reviewed.

Spruce Trees To Be Given To Children

Norway Spruce transplants, tokens of a natural art, will be given to children by the Winchester Estates Garden Club at its booth on the Thompson Place mall during the Arts Festival, Saturday and Sunday, May 30 and 31.

The transplants are four-year-old trees which have been grown in several different beds under controlled conditions to encourage development of a strong root system.

Each of the 250 transplants is conveniently provided in a small pot. The accompanying verse encourages children to plant them at home, and reads in part:

"Our growth will bring changes
In you and me.
Soon you'll be a grown-up
And I'll be a tree."

Trails Program Aides Sought For Summer

The Long Pond area of the MDC Fells will be the focal point for nature study by the Winchester-Lesley College Laboratory Summer School.

Winchester Trails is developing a nature trail in the area of Long Pond which will include glacial striations and dikes on Squaw Sachem Rock, where Indian lookouts and ceremonies were held, a study of epidote rock areas (indications of earthquake activity), as well as soil and pond studies.

The Long Pond pamphlet is to be readied for use in the Summer School. The pamphlet will have numbered stations corresponding to markers on the trail.

Arts Festival Will Display Local Talents

It is a green flag that has been hoisted to signal readiness for the first annual Festival of the Arts weekend, May 29, 30 and 31.

Wyeth and Homer, their lives and works, wil be fitting subjects with which to inaugurate the three-day event. The two films will be shown at the Public Library on Friday evening. Tickets for these and three children's films to be presented on Saturday may be procured at the Library.

A concert and art show at Lynch Junior High School on Friday evening will kick off student participation in the weekend. Students from all schools will display their art works on the Parkway fence and at various other locations in Town.

An art exhibit and open house at the Studio Guild, 11 Mount Vernon Street, will begin Friday from 2 to 9 p.m. and continue on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Good music may be appreciated at the recital by accomplished students to be held at the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon. Some of these pupils will perform for churchgoers on Sunday morning in the Town's churches, with adult resident musicians providing entertainment that afternoon in the Unitarian Church.

Thompson Street terrace will come alive Saturday morning with exhibits, demonstrations and artisans at work. Included are flower aranging by the Winchester Home and Garden Club, ceramics, woodcarving, weaving, pottery, decoupage and silhouettes. A photographic presentation on landscaping will be on view from the Winchester Estates Garden Club.

Summer School Openings Exist

The School Department announces that openings for elementary aged children still exist in the Winchester-Lesley Summer Laboratory School program.

The enrichment program (not remedial) is offered this summer at the Washington School under the cooperative direction of Lesley College and Winchester public schools staff members.

Parents are urged to make application to the program for their children as soon as possible. Brochures went home with school children but additional copies which include application blanks can be obtained at the Division of Instruction, 15 High Street.

All students grades one through six are eligible to participate in this program. Kindergarten pupils may be admitted provided that advanced permission is secured from the summer school director.

Fifth Member Is Appointed To Authority

Announcement was made at the Board of Selectmen's regular session, Tuesday night, May 26, of the Governor's appointment to the newly formed Housing Authority of Charles W. Craven of 6 Madison Avenue West.

CHARLES W. CRAVEN

Mr. Craven, cashier at the Winchester National Bank, will serve in this capacity until May 18, 1973.

Awards Reception Held At Senior High School

The awards reception at Winchester High School was held on Thursday afternoon, May 21, before an audience of students, faculty members, friends and parents. Principal W. Howard Niblock made the presentations.

Besides individual awards sponsored by various organizations and institutions, recognition was given to juniors and seniors in areas of service and academics.

Recipient of the DAR Good Citizen award in the form of a certificate was Barbara Dalton. The Brown Alumni Award, given to a junior boy deemed to have a high degree of ability in English expression, was presented to Michael Varley. Token of this honor was a dictionary.

A book, representative of the Wellesley Book award made to a senior girl considered outstanding in the humanities, was handed to Theresa Salerno. The John Hancock Insurance award is imposed upon two outstanding business education students. Recipients on Thursday were Theresa Gigliotti and Janet Comeau. Each girl was given a medal and a plaque will be kept at the Senior High School.

Annual Kiwanis Fishing Derby Is Approaching

The Winchester Kiwanis Club will conduct its annual Fish Derby on Saturday, June 6, at Wedge Pond, an event the local organization has sponsored for the past 13 years.

Each year the out-of-door sporting affair has gained in popularity and prestige with young fishing enthusiasts throughout the community. The number of participants has averaged between 300-400 yearly.

One of the most prominent features of the Derby is a parade from the Town Hall to Wedge Pond. Participants are requested to meet at the Town Hall grounds at 9 a.m. The march to the pond will begin at 9:30. The Derby starts at 10 a.m. with angling continuing until 1 p.m.

Registration forms have been distributed in all Winchester elementary schools. There is also a form in The Star which may be used, or they may be obtained at the Winchester Sport Shop, 43 Church Street. These forms must be filled in and signed by parents, then returned to the Winchester Sport Shop by Monday, June 1.

A parent or guardian must accompany each entrant at the Derby. One guardian is sufficient if more than one child is registered from a family.

The parade will be held rain or shine. Everybody will meet at the rear of the Town Hall at 9 a.m. for the start at 9:30. Leading the procession will be the Winchester Police and the Winchester Auxiliary Fire Department.

Only worms may be used as bait, each entrant bringing his own supply. Entrants are to bring their fish to the judges' table at Wedge Pond when caught. Prizes will be awarded at a later date. The Chuck Wagon, manned by Kiwanians, will be on hand to sell hot dogs, soda pop, coffee, and donuts.

Chairman Dr. Donald J. Senna announces that prizes will be awarded for fish in different categories (trout, bass, sunfish, etc.) judged by overall length, and divided into Boys and Girls groupings.

The 30 prizes awarded to winners in different categories will be varied—some fishing reels, rods, tackle boxes, etc. Prizes will be awarded at a later (Kiwanis) Little League Dodgers game after the entries have been correlated by the judges.

Three-Way Battle Rages For Middlesex League Title

by John F. Parrell

The battle to the death of the Winchester and Stoneham baseball nines went on for over three hours Tuesday afternoon, and when the rains came at the end of ten innings the teams were deadlocked at 4-4. Immediately rescheduled for Wednesday afternoon, results will not be available before press time for this week's Star.

While this game was progressing at Manchester Field, the Tanners of Woburn edged Reading 5-4, and thus are sitting on the sidelines waiting for the Sachem-Spartan finals. If Stoneham comes out on top they will be alone as champions. Woburn will be second, and Winchester third. The top two teams will automatically qualify for the State tourney.

However, the Tanners will find themselves in a peculiar position, because they will be rooting hard for a Winchester victory which would throw the title into a three-way tie and result in tri-champions for the Middlesex League. Tourney berths would be decided by a draw with one team getting a bye and qualifying automatically, and the other two teams playing off for the other state position.

The Sachems experienced some bad fielding jitters in the early stages of the Tuesday game, offsetting the excellent pitching and home run by Bruce Mullen. The latter gave his team a short lead of 4-3 with his circuit clout, but once again an error allowed the tying run to score. Dave McDowell came on in relief for Stoneham, and he and Mullen battled head to head through five more innings and two game halting showers before the umpires dropped the final curtain at about 6:20.

It was frustrating for the Winchester team to have come so close, but they vow they'll roar back in the final game to sew up their share of the crown. It is too bad that chance may once again play a part in the tourney selections. A Stoneham win would eliminate that possibility.

However, the Collelamen have fought too hard and long through their 18 game schedule to give up at this late date. Probable pitchers for the finale will be John Reardon for Winchester and John Mudge for Stoneham, with Dave McDowell ready to pop back in on an instant's notice. In spite of his long chore on Tuesday, Bruce

Wellesley Club Holds Annual Spring Meeting

The Winchester Wellesley Club held its annual spring meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Stone, 10 Wood Lane, on Wednesday, May 20.

After a sandwich lunch brought by each member, coffee and dessert was provided by Mrs. John Hamilton, social chairman.

Business concerning the Winchester Mornings was discussed and a reminder was issued that tickets are currently on sale. They can be obtained by phoning Mrs. George Vrotsos, club president, 729-5854, or Mrs. Wayne Davis, 729-3601. Winchester Mornings are a series of three lectures offered to the town. Proceeds are split between the Winchester Scholarship Foundation and Wellesley College. This year's first speaker is, September 24, William Alfred, professor of English at Harvard University and playwright, whose verse-play "Hogan's Goat" has played both in Boston and on Broadway. On Octobe 8 Thomas I. Atkins, the first Negro to be elected to the Boston City Council and now serving his second term, will speak. And on October 22 Fredrick J. Stare, professor of nutrition and chairman of the department of Nutrition at the Harvard School of Public Health, will address listeners. He is also author of a lay book "Eating for Good Health," and a syndicated news column, "Food and Your Health."

Mrs. William Aiken of 42 George Road, a faculty member in the art department at Wellesley College, was the main speaker at Wednesday's meeting. Rather than give a full report, Mrs. Aiken summarizer her comments to allow time for two students to speak on college strikes. Mrs. Aiken updated club membership in activities and the new contemporary art direction in the art department. She then briefly described the large number of new acquisitions at the college museum.

Mrs. Stone's garden provided direct contrast to the unrest that Patsy Thuma of 2 Allen Road and Susan Jackson of Oklahome City described as existing within the minds and hearts of college students. The students at Wellesley College, however, they report, have faced the current political situation with less passion and more logic than has been reported to exist on other campuses. Students here lost only one week of classes and have in addition to their academic commitments made thorough studies of current issues. Their purpose is the dissemination of factual information.

Captain Daschbach will receive 14 weeks of instruction in communicative skills, leadership, international relations, and responsibilities that prepares junior officers for command-staff duties.

He previously served at Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam, and holds the Bronze Star medal.

A 1960 graduate of Winchester High School, the captain received his bachelor of science degree in administration in 1964 from Parks College of Aeronautical Technology in East St. Louis, Illinois. He was commissioned there, upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Captain Daschbach's wife is the former Kathleen Kirk

Two Winchester residents were members of the faculty committee for the annual convocation for New England high school mathematics and science teachers at Wentworth Institute recently. Edward G. Mystic Valley Mental Health Elects Officers

Neil Borden of 58 Winford Way stepped down as president of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association at its 13th annual meeting held Wednesday, May 20, at the New Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in Woburn.

Since his retirement from the faculty of the Harvard Business School in 1962, Mr. Borden has devoted much time to mental health work. He was instrumental in raising funds for the recently built addition to the Mystic Valley Children's Clinic in Lexington, which serves the towns of Arlington, Burlington, Lexington, Winchester, and Woburn.

Donald Tucker of Lexington was elected president. From Winchester members of the board of directors elected Dr. Harold Wheeler, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery and Mrs. Edward Livingstone.

In addition to election of officers the annual meeting included a dinner planned by the Arlington Mental Health Association, speakers, and a television Documentary. Mr. Borden reviewed the Association's progress during the past year. The association looks forward to completing the addition to the Mystic Valley Children's Clinic, to meet the ever increasing needs of the Clinic.

The television documentary AcID was shown on closed circuit television. This program produced with the aid of Father Bernard Lane, former chaplain of Malden Catholic High School, presently director of the AcID Center in Malden, and Channel 13, explores young people's involvement with drugs, and includes a self-realization therapy session where youngsters come face to face with the consequences of their own drug use.

Schools Group Is Informed On Art Program

Thomas Tracy, chairman of the art department for the Winchester public schools, addressed the 29th annual meeting of the Community Schools Association of Winchester on Tuesday, May 19. The combined membership of retiring and newly elected representatives from each school chapter heard Mr. Tracy's assessment of "The Arts in Winchester; Past, Present and Future."

Since the advent of the first Sputnik, great emphasis has been placed on improving academic courses in our schools, Mr. Tracy noted. During this same period, certain non-academic offerings have lagged greatly.

Because of budget limitations, art personnel are notorious scavengers of every kind of materials, Mr. Tracy commented. He appealed to the public to inform the art department of the availability of any scrap fabric, wood, metal or other material which might be suitable for use in art classes.

Mr. Tracy called attention to an exhibit of art from various schools in town which has been on display much of the year in the Mt. Vernon Street window of Purity Supreme Market.

While elementary art concentrates on a realistic and two dimensional approach, at the junior high level the emphasis is on design projects which require an intellectual challenge. Mr. Tracy showed slides of representative samples of student work ranging from designs for travel posters and record jackets to sculpture, pottery, and architectural and ship models.

Mr. Tracy looks forward to the establishment of "minicourse" electives which will afford greater opportunity for interested students to pursue various media such as graphics, printing, ceramics, etc. Noting the amount of serious thought involved in complex art projects, Mr. Tracy proposed changing the label of the department from "art" to "creative thought."

He is also involved in establishing an experimental program which correlates developments in art, music and social studies, leading not only to an appreciation of works of fine art, but a deeper understanding of the historical period from which they come.

Following Mr. Tracy's presentation the Association voted in a new slate of officers for the executive board for 1970-1971. They are

President: Mrs. Kilmer McCully, 15 Wildwood Street

Vice president: Mrs. Robert Grasty, 189 High Street

Secretary: Mrs. Edgar Hammond, 5 Chesterford Road East

Treasurer: Mrs. Normand Girard, 5 Herrick Street

AMERICA'S 2nd MESSIEST and LAZIEST DEPARTMENT STORE

Dear Friend of Building #19,

Thanks to the speedy, efficient service of the U.S. Post Office (What's all this noise about poor service?) our circulars were delivered so early last week that many of our customers reached our Elegant Emporium before the merchandise did. If you were one of the disappointed ones, please be officially advised that:

1. The sleeping bags are here and ready for sale.

2. Our "lost" trailer of lawn furniture has been found and will be ready for sale this Friday at 9:00 a.m.

3. The "no cut-no tear" one-piece molded golf balls advertised on page 2 at $5.00 a dozen are lousy. I played with them Sunday and lost $1.75, four golf balls, and one friend — my golf partner.

4. We've added several new color TV's (mostly RCA) to our already large selection — all fully guaranteed, all sold at less than dealer's cost.

5. We weren't really prepared for such a rush on air conditioners. We'll have more out for sale this week-end.

6. Paul Henley will be back from his honeymoon and on active duty at our Woburn store (take the Washington St. exit off Rte. 128, then your first right).

7. Part of the huge inventory of office furniture will be ready for sale — maybe all of it, if our gallant crew gets real ambitious.

8. Thousands (really!) of new stereo LP records have just been received and will be added to our selection as soon as we get the time, strength, and ambition.

9. More wigs are due in for Friday including $29.95 "Dutch Boy" at $9.90, shake and comb medacrylic wigs at $10.90, and "touch & go" 100% kankelon wigs at $14.90.

10. Our Woburn beautification program, which was actually just a surreptitious scheme to give Sonny Jim Collins a shave and a haircut, has been temporarily stalled.

If you weren't privileged to receive one of these elegant hand-rotten brochures, just ask your neighborhood librarian to pick up your own complementary copy at our Hingham or Woburn store (you call this a store?). Don't miss this issue. It's very special. It was produced in co-operation with Gov. Sargent's "Massachusetts Art Week." May 24th-30th. If you'd like a copy but can't get to our Merchandise Menagerie, just mail me one penny to cover the cost of the talent and I'll mail you one.

If you do come to our store (?) to pick up a circular and wind up buying something, I won't be mad — and neither will you because every item in this vast (well, half-vast, anyway) accumulation of merchandise is a genuine, bona fide bargain and is sold with a no-strings-attached, satisfaction-or-your-money-back guarantee. Come on over and poke around. You'll enjoy it!

Cordially,

Jerry Ellis

P.S. Don't forget our exhausting store hours (open Fri. 9:00-9:00, Sat. 9:00-5:00, Mon. 9:00-9:00. Closed all day Tues., Wed., Thurs., Sun. We rest a lot!) and our exotic locations (in the Old Hingham Shipyard on Rte. 3A in Hingham and at 13 Olympia Ave., just off Washington St., exit 38 off Rte. 128 in Woburn).

Blue Cross vs. State

by Wendell H. Woodman

A ranking official with Blue Cross-Blue Shield has taken issue with the State Group Insurance Commission, claiming the state agency is penalizing cities and towns that want to liberalize the medical insurance plans of their employees.

Blue Cross is seeking to remove the current state ceiling on medical benefits that can be purchased for public employees, and the non-profit insurer claims that for a nominal amount per month, public employees could qualify for the company's Master Medical plan if the ceiling is removed.

Lee A. Cummings, assistant vice president of Blue Cross, who is in charge of enrolling public employee groups, claims that the Group Insurance Commission has never once permitted a city or town in Massachusetts to exceed the statutory ceiling on benefits, even though, he says, many communities have applied for the waiver.

The Group Insurance Commission, which oversees all medical insurance programs for public employee groups, is fighting pending legislation that would permit Blue Cross to sell a plan that offers full in-hospital cost payments with no costs or deductibles for the employee.

The GIC claims the plan is actuarily unsound, and it foresees communities being forced to absorb more and more of the insurance premium costs at the bargaining tables, thereby affecting property tax rates, if the scheme is allowed.

Mr. Cummings, in turn, claims that public employees are being discriminated against. He notes that 90 per cent of the groups eligible for Master Medical in Massachusetts now carry the coverage. Eligible groups, by definition, include those other than public employee groups.

The Blue Cross spokesman also noted that some 20 cities and towns have appealed to the Legislative Committee on Insurance to support removal of the state ceiling so they can buy the Master Medical coverage for their employees, and that one city has refused to accept a local option law on health insurance standards in order to avoid state regulation and buy MM coverage in that community.

The Group Insurance Commission voted last October to discontinue Blue Cross as the health insurance carrier for state employees in 1970, and the program for the 50,000 state employees went to Aetna Life. The shift is estimated to have cost Blue Cross about $1 million a year in net income.

At about that time — October, 1969 — Blue Cross began a big push to have the Legislature remove the state ceiling. In October, the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association voted overwhelmingly to approve a state-wide town meeting article to permit writing Master Medical for local employees.

Blue Cross insists the pressure for removal of the state ceiling was not precipitated by the GIC's decision to drop Blue Cross and go to Aetna. "This was started long before October," said Mr. Cummings.

Also, Blue Cross claims that although hospital costs of the subscriber would be paid entirely by Blue Cross under Master Medical, there would be other deductibles and maximums on extended coverage to make the program actuarily responsible.

The Group Insurance Commission says it has been reluctant to waive the state ceiling on benefits, which limits full payment in a semi-private hospital bed to 120 days, with a $25 admission deductible, because it fears that broader coverage would put undue pressure on the city or town to pick up as much as 99 per cent of the employee group premium costs, and pass them on to taxpayers on the property tax rate.

Blue Cross says that experience has shown that patients who do pay a deductible on admission to the hospital actually stay longer in the hospital than those who enter without paying a deductible.

The company also claims that because patients rarely stay longer than 120 days, the premium cost for extending that in-patient coverage indefinitely is actuarily a good buy.

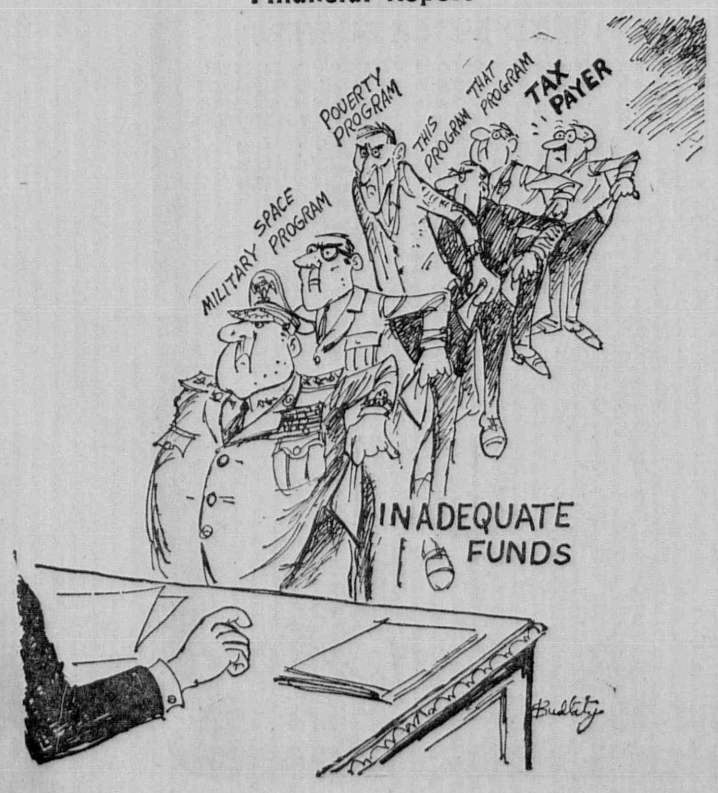

Blue Cross, moreover, insists that it is not interested in the method of financing premium costs once the plan is adopted, although it does admit that the proposition for increasing the municipality's contribution to up to 99 per cent of premium cost, which is authorized under the statute, is a selling point when the plan is discussed with employee groups.

While the Group Insurance Commission is worried about "over-insurance" and excessively-high premium costs being passed along to taxpayers, Blue Cross is critical of the GIC's defense of private insurers — companies which, says Blue Cross, are given competitive advantages under the state's ceiling on insurance benefits.

Blue Cross says the GIC should require other insurers to operate as non-profit carriers on policies for employee groups at the state and local levels instead of "picking on Blue Cross."

And so it goes. . . . (New England News Service.)

Winchester Holds A Tribute To Its War Dead. It Rains.

Arthur Hewis, who had been requested by several of the commercial firms to speak for them, referenced in some detail the analysis of the incinerator operation prepared for the Town by Fay, Spofford and Thorndike in November, 1968. Summarizing the consultants' statistics, Mr. Hewis concluded that every projection substantiated his belief that no new closing hours need be imposed, but that more efficient scheduling of dumping and burning hours would solve the problem.

Paul Gangi, incinerator foreman, countered that the figures quoted by Mr. Hewis were predicated on disposable materials only 20 per cent moist, and that normal input was considerably "wetter."

Dr. Taylor, who with Mr. Saracco represented the interests of the Board of Health, suggested that a compromise be arranged, whereby the citizenry might sacrifice a few Saturday hours and the commercial firms, which basically transport materials from Winchester properties, be permitted use of the pit during certain hours on Mondays.

Board members Amico and Saltmarsh will meet again this week with Mr. O'Brien to examine the problem further, and will report their findings at the next regular meeting.

Town Finances

At a separate hearing, Chairman of the Finance Committee Raymond Kenney proposed that a meeting of department and committee heads be sponsored in the near future to discuss Town finances on a broad basis. Demonstrating that commitments locked into current operations will demand substantial tax increases within the next few years, Mr. Kenney expressed his conviction that such a meeting could not help but promote better cooperation among the various departments, and would hopefully result in a realistic and knowledgeable approach to budget preparations next year. The Board unanimously approved the proposal, and asked Mr. Kenney to proceed with arrangements.

A third hearing was scheduled for the Methods and Procedures Committee relative to data processing bids. Mr. Chadwick, for the Committee, requested a preliminary discussion in executive session, at the conclusion of which it was announced that certain legal matters pertinent to the issue would be referred to Town Counsel and the hearing rescheduled.

Other items included the drawing of three names for the juror's list: David Turnquist, Stone Avenue; Gloria Swanson, Johnson Road; and Harold Moran, Cross Street. Several items of correspondence were noted, including confirmation of the appointment of Charles Craven as the State member of the Winchester Housing Authority.

Trees

Also an attraction at this booth will be an eight foot modernistic wood cut-out of a tree designed by Bruce McCallum. It's "leaves" will be "before and after" pictures of the center strips down Wincrest Drive and along Capri Terrace which the club has landscaped and now maintains.

Chairman of the Arts Festival exhibit for the club is Mrs. Rolland Robison who points out that the cost of the transplants was defrayed by prize money won by the club for its entry in the En Ka parade. Mr. McCallum and Dr. Padmakar P. Lele are resonsible for the photographs which will be displayed.

The Winchester Estates Garden club was founded in 1963. President is Mrs. Douglass Davidson.

Trails

School children should enroll now for these workshops by calling Mrs. Daniel Hritzay, 729-0858.

A slide presentation of the area and talk by Mrs. Thornton Stearns, chairman of the Long Pond study and pamphlet, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Seferian and Mrs. Winfield Knopf, writers, will launch the workshops on Tuesday evening, June 2, at 8 p.m. in the Rich Room of the Winchester Public Library.

Dates for field workshops which will meet at the Hillcrest Parkway entrance (200 feet from Highland Avenue are:

Wednesday, June 10, at 1:15 p.m.

Friday, June 12, at 9:30 a.m.

Wednesday, June 17, at 9:30 a.m.

Friday, June 19, at 1:15 p.m.

In case of rain the meeting will be at Mrs. Ver Planck's home, 37 Calumet Road, 729-2557.

All volunteers are requested to attend the slide presentation at the Library and the two field workshops prior to educating the school children. Tuesdays and Thursdays from July 7 to 30 will be Winchester Trails Days.

A Smith Pond Day, by popular request, will be held on Saturday, June 6, at 9:30 a.m. for Winchester adults. A brief talk held on the Ridge Street bank of Smith Pond concerning concepts covered in the Smith Pond program will be given as an introduction to the usual walk led by Mrs. Ver Planck. Registration for this will be held at the Winchester Trails table at the Arts Festival on May 30 and 31, or by telephoning Mrs. Ver Planck.

OLD FISH HAWK

by Mitchell F. Jayne

Mitchell Jayne has recreated a slice of timeless frontier in this novel about an aging Osage Indian, the last of his breed remaining on the edge of the forest. The Fish Hawk is tall, spare, tanned and impassive as one imagines all Indians to be. Furthermore, he is wise in the ways of nature, understanding of the ways of men, but none too certain of his own future.

We find him stumbling drunkenly about the streets of Bent's Ford, Missouri, where he is tolerated and used by the white townspeople. The Fish Hawk is not mistreated openly, but his tenacious retention of Indian manners and the stereotyped views of the whites combine to act against his acceptance as a genuine member of the community. The result is that the old Indian camps in the town, performs as a veterinarian and jack of all trades, and drinks to keep his bones from aching. Real friends are almost non-existent for such an outsider, but the few who come in contact with him usually come to recognize his honesty, wisdom and to admire his ability with animals and nature.

One of these few is Towsack Charlie, the town simpleton. Abandoned by his own family when they moved west, Charlie grew up in Bent's Ford, and now in his twenties manages to eke out an existence by collecting and selling old bottles. He and the Fish Hawk have a lot in common — more, in fact, than the old Indian is at first willing to admit. Another companion is Billy, the whitehaired marshall who periodically rescues the Fish Hawk from the gutter or bramble bush into which he has stumbled in his stupor.

This frontier tale revolves around the daily chores of farm and woodland life. Hunting and the care and handling of dogs are a constant theme. The Fish Hawk is particularly involved in these activities since his Indian background uniquely suits him to hunting the more dangerous and elusive type of game. On this frontier the Fish Hawk is still needed for those occasional forrays, but the old man is weighted down by the knowledge of his uselessness and increasingly haunted by the memories of his long lost past. Against this background of man-work and play the Fish Hawk acts out his final role in the white society and seeks the dignity he thinks he has lost.

While the Fish Hawk is rethinking his role, reliving his past and planning his last days, in the forest beyond the white settlement another drama is being enacted. An old boar and a black bear do battle and each, scarred by the encounter, thereafter affects the community. The two tales of animal cunning, human planning and Indian wisdom come together finally in this remarkable tale. The confrontations between man and beast are not simple, nor are the confrontations between man and man easy. But each new situation helps to clarify the present reality and to awaken the Fish Hawk to his own needs.

One cannot leave out, from all this, the lively pups and hound dogs that leap through the pages or the wide-eyed Corby Boggs who worships the Indian and hangs upon his every word and act. The frontier was receding, in fact the terrifying boar was the last of his kind, but there was still some small need for the Indian's kind of knowledge and the young boy, Corby, soaked it up with the legends. This story is very like a legend, a little gory in the hunt, but full of life, and love, and memory.

Editorial Receives Comment

Editor of the Star:

A little boy student striker attending Smith College is outraged with Star's editorial on a few spankings. It would appear that the outraged student ought to have had a few spankings himself. The first and only occasion when this writer saw Smith College, then exclusively for women was in 1915. A student at Dartmouth, class of 1916, the daughter of my father's best friend was graduating from Smith with the class of 1915 and she invited me to attend the Senior Class weekend. White tie and tails was the dress for the males. The female graduate paid all my expenses; hotel, meals, transportation, etc. We even wore white kid gloves which was the formal mode of dress in those days. We had the proper chaperon. When dancing, the couples were at least two feet away. A nice time was had by all and nothing developed between this writer and his hostess at Smith College. I wonder what the outraged student would do if the answer to all our troubles were laid in his lap. A trick in the armed forces could straighten out his thinking and make a mature man of the aforesaid little man. Good luck to you!

Speak out for that which you believe to be truth and do not fear to stand up and be counted. I may not agree with you but will fight to the death for your right to say it, so said Voltaire during the French Revolution. Go and do likewise saith the Lord.

Boys, for lack of something better to do, resort to vulgar doings, such as wrapping dung from a human being in a newspaper and depositing it on a front porch of a neighbor; this actually happened at 42 Sheridan Circle, a few years ago. This writer was reminded of it this morning when a brown beer or whiskey bottle was shattered on our front porch. This goes beyond the limits of having youthful fun at the expense of innocent people. When, many years ago, we used to swipe the ice cream, at a party to which we were not invited, it did set the amateur detectives on our trail but fortunately we were never caught for if we had been caught, our fathers would have seen to it that we were punished, according to law. Today, the teen-agers have no respect for other people's property which refers back to the "Few Spankings" editorial. So, get with it, young man, and learn that hard work never killed anyone and you will learn that you have to be able to take it and like it and above all keep your sense of humour for without it, you might as well dig a hole and jump in and end your existence.

Today, Saturday, May 16, 1970 was En Ka day when the silent majority gave forth in a good cause, charity. Automobiles of ancient vintage were on display; Model "T" Fords, Packards, Dodge, Oldsmobile, as far back as 1906. It was a joy to see little boys and girls strut and yell to their heart's content, all dressed up in their respective costumes. It leaves the right taste in one's mouth and further, it made one happy to be alive and a belief in the God in Heaven.

And a little child shall lead them.

"Vox Clamantis In Deserto."

That you for reading and continued in our next chapter.

Herbert Lord, Esquire
42 Sheridan Circle

A communication from President Kemeny, of Dartmouth College to all the alumni; the college closed for several days for the good of the students and the Community as a whole for reflection. Finally, drawing on the precedent of July 24, 1776, when the Trustees of Dartmouth College suspended classes early in recognition of what was described as the "public distresses" of that day, President Kemeny announced that regular academic activities would be suspended for the remainder of the week to enable the entire membership of the Dartmouth community to concentrate on national issues troubling the nation.

Safeguards Are Necessary

Editor of the Star:

Your editorial "A Few Spankings" in your May 7, 1970, issue I believe, was very apropos. However, I think it didn't go half far enough! How about a few spankings for the very mature, sophisticated, intellectual and indoctrinated people who are using these immature and inexperienced kids to overthrow our society and its democratic principles?

I recall a young relative of my wife who, while going to Harvard, would spend weekends with us and nearly drove me out of my mind with his infantile prattling on the "better red than dead theory." He didn't learn this at home . . . today, several years later — he is happily married — with two fine children . . . a lovely home bought and paid for with his own money . . . (earned that is) . . . and is a hard-working and responsible officer in a large banking institution. Oh I know, that the flower children are going to rush up and say he would be better off wandering around the country, barefooted, blowsy and unkempt, with his kids on his back and a common law wife hanging onto him wondering, literally, where their next meal will come from or where they will find a bed for the night . . . But I will let the majority of your readers figure out . . . who is really better off???

I believe that what all these confrontations have uncovered . . . and maybe Vice President Agnew had it in mind all the time . . . is that the Communistic theoreticians behind these kids are the teachers and professors. These teachers and professors are paid by the vast majority of non-red, hard working, tax paying people of this great country . . . but, of course, in their indoctrinated know it all super egotism . . . they don't ask the people that give them their soft living whether they are right or wrong . . . they are going to force their views on the rest of us . . . and they are going to do it over the dead bodies of the kids they are pushing into the front line . . .

Perhaps these confrontations have accomplished something . . . perhaps the majority of people in this country will be alerted to the real danger — to the enemy within . . . the Communistic theoreticians . . . and perhaps they will take the necessary and appropriate steps to safeguard America's ideals of Democracy through respect of law and order . . . these safeguards may, of course, require more than some spankings.

Sincerely yours,
W. H. Mitchell Jr.

Edgar R. Emery Questions Nixon

Editor of the Star:

President Richard N. Nixon
The White House
Washington, D. C.
Mr. President:

Like many Americans, I have had questions concerning the war in Vietnam. I have not asked them publicly because I have had faith in your high office and the privileged information to which it has access.

But, when you look at your elder son through the glass of an army casket, those questions become more than academic. They demand honest, straightforward answers.

Perhaps your candid replies to the following questions would go far toward uniting our country. I ask them in this spirit.

1. Is the war in Southeast Asia essential to the defense of the continental United States and, if so, why?

2. Is this war crucial in the fight against totalitarianism and, if so, why?

3. Is this, or is this not, a civil war between opposing forces of the same country? If it is, what is the justification for our involvement? What foreign power, for example, was so committed in our own civil war?

4. What reliable evidence exists that the majority of the South Vietnamese people are behind the Saigon regime?

5. If this is an ideological war, why have over 40,000 Americans lost their lives and, to the best of my knowledge, no Russian or Chinese casualties been reported?

6. Why are we so certain that war is the only way to defeat communism when the two most powerful communist nations—Russia and China—are at each other's throats?

7. Can continuation of this war, even for one day, be justified on the basis that you will not be the first U.S. President to lose a war?

8. Is our nation so weak, so insecure that, if we have made a mistake, we cannot admit it?

9. Is there any clear hope of a military victory, short of an all-out nuclear attack on North Vietnam?

10. What will prevent another Vietnam from erupting in some other part of the world? How many men and how many dollars can we afford to lose in brushfire undeclared wars and for how long?

11. Are George Washington's admonition to avoid entangling alliances and the Monroe Doctrine completely dead and worthless?

12. Why have you opposed Congressional legislation to limit the war to the deadlines you yourself have set?

I respect your sincerity and the terrible pressures of your office, but I think every American would appreciate your unequivocal answers to these questions. At least I would know why my son died.

Sincerely yours,
Edgar B. Emery

Outrage Justified?

Editor of the Star:

With the recrudescence of student demonstrations and strikes, one wonders whether the direction of United States foreign policy in Southeast Asia justifies the outrage of the majority of the academic community.

For many years military considerations had dictated a search-and-destroy operation into Cambodia. Recent political developments in that country made such an operation practicable, and military men were quick to term the situation a "golden opportunity."

The term "golden opportunity" must be qualified. If the war in Vietnam is to be continued until physical and spiritual exhaustion forces the belligerents to the negotiating table, then the Cambodian situation does indeed present a golden opportunity of short-term importance but of little consequence in the long run. The destruction of enemy supplies in Cambodia, if substantial, may allow the Vietnamization program to proceed somewhat more smoothly over the next six to 12 months, thereby facilitating the withdrawal of critical numbers of U.S. troops.

However, supplies are all too easy to replace, especially with the plentiful aid of Peking and Moscow, and conditions will be as they were before within a year's time. It may be argued that at such time a fully-equipped and well-trained ARVN will be capable of undertaking the defense of South Vietnam and the Saigon government, but this is conjecture which will be proved right or wrong only when the crisis is upon us and it is too late — decisions having been made and policy alternatives forgone. Additional U.S. troop commitments would be unthinkable — a costly exercise in the art of political suicide.

I do not believe that there exists in South Vietnam the unity of purpose and resolution which will be required if the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are to be successfully encountered. Five hundred thousand U.S. troops and advanced conventional weaponry made little progress towards a military or diplomatic solution, and it is unreasonable to expect that poorly commanded ARVN forces will be any more successful at killing their countrymen.

If I hear correctly, the most compelling arguments for continued U.S. presence in Vietnam are first, the preservation of the honor and credibility of the United States; and second, the necessity to prevent the genocide which victory for the North would mean. I find these arguments difficult to accept. I value the life of a young man far more than the preservation of honor in a war which many of the United States' allies are quick to condemn, and others are extremely hesitant to support in any meaningful manner. I do not believe that there will be genocide because the North has very little to gain from it, and I do not think the frightful destruction of life and property which we read of everyday can be justified by the highly uncertain possibility of genocide some time in the future.

American presence in Vietnam makes any viable settlement between the North and the South impossible and offers no hope of putting a stop to the continual outflow of casualty reports which we, the American people, appear to have become immune to. Unlike some of my peers, I do not pretend to have the perspicacity and foresight which might allow me to impose my personal feelings and decisions upon others, nor do I consider myself fully capable of judging fairly the actions of others. However, I think there has been enought violence and killing — both at home and abroad — to demand a serious rethinking of the basic assumptions of our foreign policy and the reconstruction of the decision-making process as concerns the implementation of foreign policy objectives.

Respectfully submitted,

Laments Passing Of Trees

Editor of the Star:

Throughout the past decade there has been a noticeable decrease in the number of shade trees along some of the main streets of our town. On both public and private land, from the lower part of Washington Street over Skillings Road and up Main Street there has been a steady decrease in the number of stately elms and maples that shade our streets.

Exceptions to this do exist. The young trees surrounding the Town Hall parking lot and Aberjona River Basin are a start, but still just a Start. What is needed is a massive planting program to be carried out on all the main arteries in Town; similar to that instituted by Brookline recently.

It seems incongruous that Winchester, a town to which many residents have fled to escape the concrete and asphalt jungle of the inner city, is in danger of becoming just such a city if positiive action is not started soon.

Respectfully,
Thomas M. Ford

Stay Healthy On Sundays

Editor of the Star:

I have been a resident of Winchester for 15 years living near a neighbor who lives alone and is in his 90th year.

On Sunday he needed medical attention. His regular doctor had gone on vacation so I therefore telephoned three local doctors who would not make a house call.

So, what to do? I immediately telephoned the Winchester Police Department who were most courteous and kind and had their ambulance at his door within a few minutes to take him to the Winchester Hospital.

Why must Winchester as well as so many other towns be without competent medical as well as medicinal service when help is needed over a week-end?

My "hat is off" to the police.

Sincerely,
Marjorie D. Shaffer

Efforts Praised

Editor of the Star:

I would like to personally give thanks to 13-year-old boy scout David Trageser of 9 Northgate Way for his assistance in pointing our indiscriminate dumping near the Winchester town forest and by the Shepard Brook Manor in Medford and also the Oak Grove Cemetery.

Because of his efforts, the Medford City Council is taking action in getting these areas cleaned up. Because David Trageser cared enough to correct a wrong he had witnessed, the problem is being rectified. So as chairman of the Water and Air Pollution committee for the Medford City Council, I was quite pleased to see a youngster such as David so concerned with his environment, that he was willing to stand up and fight to combat anyone who consciously or unconsciously disregards the natural environment of cities and towns.

The town of Winchester must be very proud of having developed a young man with the qualities that David has shown.

Very truly yours,
James K. Kurker
Councilor
Medford City Council

Thanks Ladies Of Epiphany

Editor of the Star:

On behalf of the Senior Citizens Unit in Winchester I want to extend my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to those nice ladies at the Epiphany Church in Winchester who have been so kind and courteous to us during all the time that they have been serving us those delicious luncheons to us during this past winter.

As this was the final lunch for sometime, I made a short speech with all the ladies in front of the group and complimented them for a very fine effort. So I asked for a loud round of applause from us to let these women know that we were all so much pleased for what they had done for us and as an appropriate touch to the occasion we all joined in singing with me, "God be with you till we meet again." And it is with a source of deep gratification that we know that somebody cares. Once again many thanks.

God bless you all.

Sincerely yours,

Warning Issued On Vandalism

Editor of the Star:

Over the past year, several thousand dollars in damage has been done to the schools in the different districts of Winchester. Many expensive wire type windows, large and small alike, have been deliberately broken with large rocks. Many of the schools have been entered, and damage done inside by vandals.

Some vandals have been apprehended, and appeared in Court on Malicious damage to property charges. This costs the teenager a court record.

Extra special attention is being given to the school areas in the Town, by the Police Department. Anyone found doing damage to property, will be prosecuted in court.

The police department would appreciate any and all assistance from citizens observing vandals in action. Notify the police department, and a full investigation will be conducted. Citizens of Winchester should be helpful in this area, as it is their tax dollar that has to make these costly repairs if the vandals are not apprehended.

Chief of Police

Mystic Lake Pollution

Editor of the Star:

Enclosed is a summary of information I have gathered about the pollution in the Upper Mystic Lake. It should be of concern to all of us.

The Aberjona and the Mystic Lake are polluted by industries, by sewage, by fertilizers, and by the salt we put on our streets and dump with the snow on the river's banks. We and the surrounding towns must work together with the MDC and the State Water Pollution Control offices to solve these problems.

The use of salt for snow removal and the dumping of snow by the river must be stopped permanently. Salt is now appearing in the drinking water of many eastern Massachusetts towns in levels which may be harmful to people whose salt intake is restricted for reasons of health.

The other cources of pollution must also be stopped quickly. The state agencies can do it but they need our support and concern.

The Upper Mystic Lake is seriously threatened by chemical pollution and growth of algae and weeds. The situation has been worsening for some years. Its severity has been demonstrated this spring by the fact that rainbow trout brought out to stock the lake, died immediately upon being put into the water.

The increased turbidity of the water has been apparent, also. Analyses by two separate laboratories, J. M. Cortell and Associates, Biological Consultants to the MDC, and Fisheries and Game, Westboro, have shown a marked increase in zinc, in chloride, in copper and in other salts toxic to fish. In addition they have shown increased levels of nitrates and other nutrients which encourage the growth of weeds and algae which in turn, damage water quality and wild life in the lake.

We must act now to save the lake which is such a precious asset to the people of Winchester and to all the people of surrounding communities who use it. Please write to: John Sears, Commissioner of the MDC, 20 Somerset Street, Boston, and express your concern. It is suggested that you mention specifically:

1) The chemical pollution
2) The turbidity
3) The overgrowth of weeds and algae
4) The need for the MDC to actively investigate and take steps to improve the condition of the entire lake.

Thank you.

Noonan Parents Enjoy Concert

The annual meeting of the Noonan Parents Association was held on Wednesday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Melvin Farman, president of the Association, opened the meeting and welcomed parents. Reports by the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. A gift was presented to Mrs. Farman by Mrs. Lloyd Beale, vice-president, on behalf of the Parents Association for the outstanding job she has done during the past year. Mrs. Farman introduced Mrs. Arthur Gast, the new president for the coming year.

After the short business meeting the program by fourth, fifth and sixth grade students began. The Glee Club, under the direction of Herman Green, sang a selection of songs. Steven Cumings sang "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," accompanied by Mr. Greene on the piano.

David Kontoff presented instrumental numbers by the string ensemble. Three harmonized selections were played by Suzanne Farman and Susan Beale. Karyl Scott and Richard Callahan played a duet and Miss Scott played a violin solo. James Fallon also played in the group.

The wind ensemble, consisting of Audrey Leach on flute; Jane Allison on cornet; Jon Dayton and Mark Hammond on trumpet; and Raymond Callahan and James Gast on clarinet, presented some selections. The "Dolores Waltz" was played by Jane Allison, Jim Gast, and Audrey Leach.

The Glee Club returned with more selections. Solos by Kim Shawcross, Joan Tourtellot, Carolyn Rae, Karyl Scott, and Dale Bearden ended the program.

A gift was presented to Mr. Greene and Mr. Kontoff by Karyl Scott and Dale Bearned on behalf of the children in appreciation for the time and effort these men gave in making the program the great success that it was. From the applause and comments by the parents after the show their efforts were not wasted.

Refreshments were served to the students in their classrooms. Parents were served coffee and dessert in the auditorium by Mrs. Joseph Butare and Mrs. Walter Kisel of the social committee.

"Slower speeds are demanded on rainy surfaces to keep tires hugging the road. Fast speeds only create hydroplaning or skiing conditions — and makes it difficult to control the car — difficult, indeed, if not fatal."

School Comm.

Vincent E. LaRocco, assistant principal at the High School, stated that at this time the decision is that any student not on the marching list on graduation night will not be allowed to join the line. Those partaking in the Cambodia-Vietnam protest who will not wear caps and gowns must appear in appropriate and good dress. He reports that all precautions are being taken to prevent the marring of exercises. The problem has become one of legal complications.

Announcement was also made by William F. Clark, assistant superintendent for administrative services, that the strike by bus drivers for Hudson Bus Lines, Inc. was ended as of that Tuesday. The strike has been in progress since Monday, May 18, effecting approximately 700 Winchester school children.

Congratulations were offered to Dr. Leonor M. Rich, principal of Washington School, Mrs. Lois Carr, publicity director for the Winchester school system, and Henry Perry, assistant superintendent of personnel, for their efforts in producing the award-winning booklet "Welcome To Winchester," an informational guide for new teachers.

Report was also made to the Committee that this year 25 students will not be able to obtain their driver's education certificates due to the fact that automobiles have not always been available for instruction and that teachers have been unwilling to conduct Saturday classes. Methods of solving this problem will be studied.

Among items on the superintendent's report was the announcement that this June five high school students would be graduating after only three years of study. Due to the election of special English courses and participation in summer classes it has been possible for these pupils to complete the requirement of 90 credits for graduation.

Principal Niblock said that this sort of acceleration is not encouraged but has been occurring for approximately the past four to five years.

Orientation Day

Mention was also made of the Orientation Day for new School Committee members. Present for the entire program on Thursday, and Lane McGovern, recently May 21, were Stephen Parkhurst and Lane McGovern, recently elected members, a Finance Committee member and Superintendent Klemer. On the agenda were briefings by each of the assistant superintenlents, a tour of the open space Muraco School, reports from the principals of the senior and junior high schools, and a tour of the central office and division of instruction.

Asked for comments on this program Members Parkhurst and McGovern agreed that the day had been too short.

In other business the School Committee approved the appointments of members to the Winchester Advisory Council on Education Steering Committee.

They also agreed to allow a Swiss citizen who will be a resident in the home of a Winchester family to attend Winchester schools on a tuition-free basis for the coming year. Foreign nationals engaged in temporary residence have in the past been granted this privilege.

A variety of matters of business and personnel were also conducted prior to the Committee's movement into executive session.

Art Festival

"Fumed Oak," the classic tale of a middleclass English family, will be presented on Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Unitarian Church through the combined efforts of the Unitarian Players, Parish Players and Winchester Summer Community Theater. This one act play was written by Noel Coward and will be performed in two scenes. Dr. Robert Storer will direct. Admission is free.

Solo and ensemble pieces from Gilbert and Sullivan will be the contribution of the Staff and Key Society. The Senior High School band is scheduled to mix musical talents in a concert Saturday evening behind the Public Library. That afternoon Les Troubadors, a French singing group comprised of high school students, and Los Companeros, a marimba band, will delight audiences.

Highlighting the Art Association's sidewalk show will be Sunday afternoon's silent auction. All forms of art objects will be offered to the highest bidders. Bidding is accomplished by submitting a figure on paper, with the only ground rule being that bidding must start at the base price established by the artist. The auction starts at 1 p.m. High bidders will be announced at 5.

Also of interest will be the live demonstration by noted land and seascape artist, Ed McKenney of Saugus.

In case of rain the festival will move into the Senior High School.

All in all, the talent that Winchester possesses will be on display throughout the downtown area this weekend.

Tittle

Mullen will be ready for relief duty with George Greenwich, and Steve Mulloy waiting in preparation.

This climactic game shapes up as sensational battle. Whichever team comes out on top will be a worthy champion. Seldom, if ever, in schoolboy ranks have three such fine teams as the Sachems, Tanners, and Spartans come together. Even a final result of tri-champions would be well deserved. Come on, Winchester, let's trounce Stoneham to bring this about, and best of luck to the league's representatives on the State tourney, whoever they may be!

Memorial Day

Bands

Providing a marching tempo were the bands of the Boston Fire Department and from Winchester High School.

Delivering the prayer and meditation at Calvary Cemetery was the Rev. Bernard Hoy of St. Mary's Church. At Wildwood Cemetery this memorial offering was given by the Rev. Everett L. Waters of the First Baptist Church.

All veterans' graves had been provided with flags and new flag poles had been installed at the new sites of observance. The Memorial Day Committee had previously announced that due to a granite workers' strike in Vermont those memorials which were instructed to be provided by the 1970 Annual Town Meeting could not be obtained.

Selectmen Chairman Ralph Swanson thanked the Archdiocese of Boston for donating the land for the war memorial in Calvary Cemetery and later at Wildwood gave an explanation of the granite workers' strike. Also at Wildwood Ralph Hatch, chairman of the cemetery commission, spoke appropriately.

He joins four previously appointed members of the Board of Selectmen. They are John L. Doherty of 137 Highland Avenue, Mrs. Mary Murphy of 29 Richardson Street, Attorney Vincent Celia of 52 Winford Way and Charles T. Doucette Jr. of 6 Upland Road.

The Authority, which will have domain over all federal and state subsidies procured, was created by vote of the 1970 Annual Town Meeting. It is the outgrowth of the former Public Housing Study Committee which was chairmanned by Mrs. Murphy.

These committee posts, with the exception of the Governor's appointee, will be elective at the next Annual Town Meeting in March of 1971.

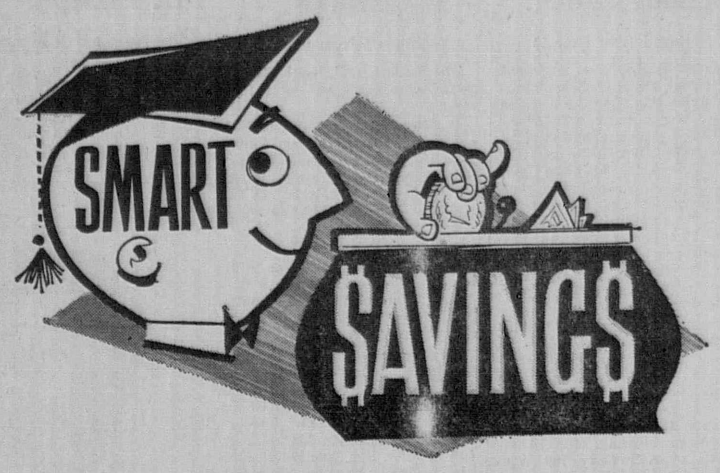

World War II pensions and death benefit payments probably will reach their peak about the year 2000. The total cost is expected to be $5.5 billion a year at that time.

Two Radar Units Obtained By Town Through Funding

The Winchester Police Department recently acquired two new electronic speed-measuring devices (radar units). These devices will be used throughout the town on speed checks and traffic surveys, Chief of Police Edward F. Bowler has announced.

The units were purchased with an appropriation provided for in the 1970 Police Budget, but will be funded by a 100 per cent reimbursement from the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, which is in charge of allocating Federal funds for traffic safety.

A number of Winchester police officers, including Safety Officer Donald E. Pigott, have been trained in the operation of the device. Officer Pigott, who has received special instruction, will arrange for the training of other officers.

Chief Bowler has been administering a steady, consistent traffic law enforcement program, using radar on a daily basis, since his appointment as Chief in January. This program will continue on an accelerated schedule with the acquisition of the new units.

Chief Bowler stated that he is very proud that the Federally funded project, which was started by former Chief Joseph J. Derro, is being brought to a successful conclusion at a savings of $2380 to the taxpayers of Winchester.

Sunday, May 31
Will-power, hypnotism, and occult practices are the opposite of control through spiritual understanding, as explained in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 31.
Bible citations point out that belief in evil forces has existed through the ages, under various names. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."
One of the citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "Christian Science reveals Truth and Love as the motive-powers of man. Will — blind, stubborn, and headlong — cooperates with appetite and passion. From this cooperation arises its evil. From this also comes its powerlessness, since all power belongs to God, good."

Having served with the U. S. Army Air Forces during World War II, Rev. Davidson was discharged in 1946 with the rank of captain.

During his stay from 1939 to 1961 at hte Conway, New Hampshire, high school, he served in various positions from teacher to principal. He has also been the owner-director of a camp for boys and served as an interim minister and later to the time of his being ordained as a lay minister in several towns in New Hampshire.

Besides being a visiting instructor in guidance at the University of New Hampshire and Gorham State College, Rev. Davidson has been an instructor in personnel services for the New Hampshire State Department of Education.

Membership in professional organizations includes a variety of activities while at Bowdoin and numerous associations in the field of education.

Special awards attributed to Rev. Davidson are Teacher of the Year for 1954 of Carroll County, New Hampshire; New Hampshire Personnel and Guidance Outstanding Achievement Award in 1966; and Distinguished Bowdoin Educator Award in 1967.

Methodist Church May Open Class For Age Four

The Methodist Day Nursery of the Crawford Memorial Church is considering opening an afternoon nursery class for four year olds only. The class would be open for three afternoons per week from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m.

The same program would be followed as in the morning with the number of teachers necessary according to the enrollment.

The Methodist Day Nursery has as its goals for the children: self-understanding, building relationships with people and an awareness and knowledge about the physical world. These goals are accomplished through a variety of experiences — art, dramatic play, outdoor and indoor play to develop large muscle co-ordination, music, story-telling, investigation of nature and rhythmic activities. Through the use of these media opportunities are provided to develop creative expression and give release to the child's ideas, needs and feelings.

Requirements for entrance are a registration fee and a parent conference prior to enrollment with Mrs. Stevens, the director. If anyone is interested in this afternoon session for a four year old, please call the church office, 729-5056, and leave your name and phone number before June 19. Or you may call Mrs. Stevens, 729-5296, after July1.

Channel Two Auction Starts This Saturday

The auctioneer's gavel will signal the start of the fifth annual Channel Two Auction on Saturday, May 30, when television's most popular public-participation game takes over the television screen (WGBH) for eight consecutive days.

The major fund-raising event for Boston's famed educational station, annually attracts audiences of more than one million throughout the Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut viewing area. Literally thousands of volunteer auctioneers, including many national figures, will be seen daily offering products, services, trips, pets — and dreams to the highest bidder.

The rules of the Channel Two Auction "game" are simple: put television set and telephone close together; note number and location of item to be bid upon; dial Channel Two Auction number and give the bid-taker information and amount to be bid. Stay by phone for confirmation and if your bid is the highest — your name will be announced on the air.

Auction viewing hours are: Saturday, May 30-June 6, 1 p.m.-1 a.m. (Art Auction Sunday, May 31, 6 p.m.-midnight)

Channel Two Auction Manager is Hamilton Osgood. Volunteer Co-Chairmen are: Mrs. Thomas Miller of Hingham and Mrs. Parker Spooner of Concord.

All proceeds from the Auction will benefit WGBH.

Relay Team, Keith Doty Qualify

by John F. Parrell

Winchester High's crack 880 yard relay team qualified for the finals in Class C of the State track meet in spite of a passing error which cost them precious seconds.

The quartet made up of Mike Deshler, John McHugh, Rick Cantillon and Keith Doty finished in fourth place in spite of the mishap and will be shooting for the championship Saturday, May 30, at White Stadium.

Keith Doty, who is now running in top form, hung up a mark of 22.6 seconds in winning his 220 yard specialty. It was the best time of the day and if he continues his fast moving he may well annex the outdoor title to add to his gold medal in the 300 yard event of the indoor competition.

Mike Deshler ran well in the 440 and won his heat easily. However, the time was too slow to compare with that hung up in the seeded heat. So, Mike has an impressive win to add to his memories, but his running Saturday afternoon will be restricted to the relay event. Tim Fahey fell during the running of the mile event, and although he gamely continued to the finish, the accident took its toll. He was not able to post a qualifying time.

Sachems Top Tanners 69-62 As Doty Twice Beats Hogan

John F. Parrell

The old adage "All's well that ends well" certainly applied to the victory by the Sachem track team in its finale with arch rival Woburn by a 69-62 count.

It was sweet revenge for Coach Manny Marshall's team who dropped last year's meet by 66-65 and also salved the feelings of Winchester sports followers for the disappointing baseball loss of Wednesday afternoon at Woburn. The final result hinged on the relay and after Mike Deshler grabbed the lead it was Winchester all the way.

Naturally the big story of the meet was the personal encounter of speedsters Steve Hogan of the Tanners and Winchester's Keith Doty. The Woburn boy has been undefeated in the sprints throughout the year and Doty has likewise been equally successful.

They collided first in the long jump and the Woburn speed demon took second by jumping just one half inch beyond Doty's leap. But this was to be his only victory of the day as Doty nipped him in a hair raising 100 yard dash by about half a stride. The time of 10.1 was excellent for the comparatively slow track at Manchester Field.

They collided later in the afternoon in the 220 and once again the Orange and Black clad runner was behind Doty at the finish. It was a sensational and well deserved climax to a fine season for the Winchester flash and an equally bitter pill for the talented Hogan to swallow. The latter has been a hard nut for Sachem athletes to crack, or have you forgotten his dash into the end zone last Thanksgiving morning? It was simply a case of two superbly conditioned boys meeting, and in this meet Doty proved to be the better. Would it happen again. This is a matter for conjecture which may never be answered for the speed demons will be competing in different divisions of the State Meet.

Not to be overlooked in compiling the Winchester victory were the double victories of Bruce Hill in both the high and low hurdles events. The Sachems piled up nine first places in addition to their relay triumph and also managed five second place finishes which, with the fine work of Doty and Hill, built the winning margin.

Heavy Tanner scoring in the shot put and long jump was offset by almost equally strong sweeps by Winchester in the discus and pole vault. Bob Amoroso's heave of better than 170 feet to take the javelin was also a noteworthy performance.

Thus the season rolled to a close on the sweet note of a win over Woburn to bring the final count to 4-5. However, this final big win made all the disappointments of earlier days disappear. After all it is as we said in the beginning of this story, "All's well that ends well."

Tanners Upset Sachems' Dream

by John F. Parrell

Last Tuesday afternoon the Winchester baseball team trounced Lexington by 8-0 and at the same time Belmont knocked off Stoneham to put the Sachems into a top place tie with the Spartans.

Thoughts of first place and the State Tourney were running through the minds of the local ball players as they took the field against Woburn the following afternoon. But the Tanners went right to work to smash all those dreams and when the action was over Winchester was on the short end by 4-2 and instead of topping the Middlesex League the boys were deadlocked for second place with the jubilant Woburn crew.

The home team went right to work as the very first batter, Jim Lynch, slammed George Greenwich's second pitch to deep right center and before the ball had been returned he was across the plate added two runs in the third and and the Tanners were ahead. They added two runs in the third and their ace, All Houston, a transfer from Cambridge Latin, twirled his sixth consecutive victory. He is a stylish pitcher and is undefeated over the entire season.

Woburn's two run third came on another hit by Lynch and a single by Kevin Gill with a triple by Co-Captain Dennis Galante sandwiched between them. However, there was no further damage as the Sachems put together an inning ending double play. The final Woburn run came on a base on balls to Gill which with a fielder's choice and a single by Jeff Lentz allowed the fourth run to score.

For the Sachem offense, Houston lost control for a few moments in the fourth and gave up two bases on balls. Tom James followed with a single to score Tello, but the Woburn hurler settled down for a pair of strikeouts and the threat was over. Mike Gilberti singled in the fifth and went to second on an error. He went to third as Ben Dolan grounded out and then scored the second Winchester run on an infield hit by John Tello.

Houston was otherwise master of the situation as he set an even dozen down on strikes. Two doubles by Gilberti and James were wasted as Houston slammed the door when the going became rough. It was a big win for the Tanners and left the league championship and tourney berths very much in the air where it will probably remain until the last out of the games on Tuesday between the Sachems and Stoneham and the Woburn meeting with ever dangerous Reading. Almost anything can happen, and probably will!

Sachems Still In League Race As They Top Watertown, 8-0

by John F. Parrell

Winchester High's baseball team, behind the two hit twirling of John Reardon, has topped Watertown to stay in the dogfight battle for the Middlesex League crown and a berth in the State Tourney.

Stoneham and Woburn also won. With just one more game for each, the standing shows:

Stoneham	14 - 3
Winchester	13 - 4
Woburn	13 - 4

The importance of the Stoneham-Winchester clash is evident. Judging from the foregoing, this is really a must game for the Colella coached clan since a loss would eliminate all championship dreams and even the State berth would be in danger unless Reading should upset Woburn. Such an event is by no means impossible since Reading plays good ball and with ace Dave Merullo in good shape they might well puncture the Woburn dreams.

Although the final tally of the Watertown game looks impressive, it was still anybody's game as Winchester carried a frail two run lead into the final frame. But a six run explosion, featuring three well hit triples by Mike Gilberti, Bill Wolfe and Ben Dolan, pushed over six big runs to ice the verdict. Meanwhile Reardon breezed along and allowed only two scattered singles while fanning ten. It was a big victory for Winchester and set the stage for a sensational windup of the league season.

Winchester Teams Prevail In Tennis

The Winchester community added to its claim of being the "tennis center of New England" when the results and standings of the Junior Indoor Winter Tennis League were recently announced. In both the "A" and the "B" leagues the teams representing Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center emerged as winners.

According to John Koslowski, president of the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center, the team in the "A" league emerged with 61½ points, outdistancing their nearest rival by 21 points; in the "B" league, the margin was closer but Winchester won with 53 points with the "runner-up" team scoring 51½.

Koslowski went on to point out that competition in these winter, indoor leagues is keen. He explained that teams in the league are representative of indoor clubs from both Massachusetts and Rhode Island and that the youthful participants are usually well coached and managed.

Youngsters from Winchester who contributed to the success of the team during the 1970 season were: Phil Kadesch, Dan O'Connell, Peter Wilson, Francis Feith, Nancy Anderson, Leslie Vyce, Mark Alba, Mark Paradis, and Jeff Parsons.

Norwood Arena "Scout Nite"

The Norwood Arena Speedway is all set for an invasion of kids on Saturday night, May 30, as the Route 1, Norwood stock car plant holds its second annual "Scout Nite" for Brownies, Cub Scouts, Boy and Girl Scouts. The best part of this event is that the kids get in for free provided that they are escorted by adults and have some scout identification such as a uniform, cap or jacket.

Wes Plummer of Quincy, president of the Norwood Arena, has advised that this year the track has set a goal of having 4,000 kids on hand which would exceed last years record when some 3,427 scouts of all ages attended.

If this annual "Scout Nite" should be rained out the program will carry over to the following Saturday night, June 6.

Lexington Falls In Big 8-0 Win

by John F. Parrell

A few weeks ago the Minutemen of Lexington who had been having a mediocre season suddenly rose up and handed Coach Bill Colella's high flying Winchester nine a surprising defeat.

They came to Manchester Field last week with hopes of duplicating the upset but went home smarting from a convincing 8-0 trouncing by the Sachem batters.

Bruce Mullen was on the mound for Winchester and he pitched a steady game allowing only two scattered singles. He was also the leading batter with three straight singles. However, in spite of these heroics the Sachems entered their half of the fifth still in a scoreless deadlock.

But in that frame the Winchester bats started to boom and before the final out was made seven Sachems had paraded across the plate.

Captain Steve Swanson opened with a single and then Tom James beat out a bunt to be followed by a base on balls to Ron Fiorilli. On an tempted squeeze with Mullen at the plate Swanson was trapped but scored when the catcher dropped the ball.

Moments later a throw to second base went awry and James scored for Winchester. Mullen finally dropped down his bunt and beat the throw to first. A base on balls to Bob Scott filled the sacks and when Mike Gilberti tapped to short, the Lexington fielder threw to home and once again the ball was dropped for another Winchester run.

Then Ben Dolan stepped to the plate and hit a long drive into the football stands in right field to clear the bases and run the count to 7-0. This ended the fireworks for the big inning which with good baseball on the part of Lexington team, might have never allowed Dolan to get to the plate. Three infield hits plus three official errors plus a few mental lapses set the stage and Ben obliged by taking advantage of this weird combination to smash his home run blast.

Mullen's third single and Mike Gilberti's double produced the final run and propelled the Sachems into their temporary top place position with Stoneham.

Lacrosse Team Vs. Longmeadow

by John F. Parrell

With a clear field for sports followers barring some unusual developments in the baseball picture there should be a large crowd on hand to watch the lacrosse team of Coach Gene Bouley in action tomorrow afternoon at Leonard Field.

The stickmen, who are undefeated in high school competition, will be colliding in a special match with Longmeadow, a team which is also undefeated in the western part of the state.

Lacrosse is one of the fastest and at the same time the most rugged of all sports combining many of the attributes of football and hockey with plenty of need for speed. It has caught on well with the boys who play it and spectators who have taken time to look it over find to to be a real crowd pleaser.

With the Sachem group playing so well and with such talented opposition it looks as though this game should be an outstanding attraction and a large group of fans is expected.

The Winchester record to date is 10-2, with the only losses to two prep school teams, St. Mark's and Gov. Dummer.

Youth Soccer Plays Needham Sunday, June 7

The Boston Area Youth Soccer League was busy last weekend playing make-up games on Saturday and scheduled games on Sunday.

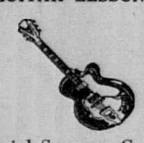

Winchester played at Weston Sunday (24th) and will play at Walpole Sunday (31st).

Soccer is expected to be programmed in both junior high schools in the fall; yet, many people have never seen a soccer game. It is an exciting 60 minutes of constant action by a team of 11 players moving a ball with their bodies, heads and feet. It is increasing in popularity among the boys in this town and in other communities.

The last scheduled game is at home on Sunday, June 7, with Needham.

"Campfinder" Is Available

Publication of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston's "Campfinder 1970-71" has been announced by the voluntary health and welfare planning council.

Compiled and published under direction of the UCS Camp Council, the 60-page booklet is a directory of more than 200 resident, day and special service camps serving metropolitan area residents.

Purpose of the directory is to aid parents in choosing a camp best suited to their children's needs and preferences by providing basic information about each camp, including fees, length of session, size, location and the agency to which requests for additional information should be directed.

Listed are resident and day camps sponsored by non-profit organizations; and camps, regardless of sponsorship, providing special services for children who are mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped.

Copies of the "Campfinder" may be obtained from the UCS Camp Council 14 Somerset Street, Boston, 02108.

Close Contests Are Marked By Cap League

by James R. Stewart Jr.

The second week-end of Cap League baseball at Ginn Field produced a marked contrast in scores from the initial contests of last week.

Playing an improved brand of baseball, the emphasis was on pitching in all five games, reflecting the effect of practice sessions conducted by all teams during the preceding week.

On field 1, the Washington Generals eked out a narrow 2-1 victory over the Muraco Marauders, as both teams traded inning after inning of clutch pitching and spectacular play in the field. The Parkhurst Maroons and the Mystic Green Hornets locked up in a see-saw battle on field 2 on Saturday, with the Maroons finally taking the nod by 7-5.

Wyman's Wildcats continued their unbeaten string with a hard fought 7-4 victory over the Orioles of Vincent Owen, as the Birds extended their hard luck skein, trying to get untracked. The Black Knights of Lincoln School remained undefeated Saturday with an impressive win over Noonan's Golden Eagles by a score of 9-7. Finally, the Mystic Tigers received shut-out performances from their trio of pitchers as they downed St. Mary's Saints by 3-0.

Sunday's play produced some more interesting games as all undefeated teams continued to battle for first place in the Cap League In the feature game on field 1, the Mystic Tigers squeezed by the winless Vincent-Owen Orioles by a 2-1 margin, providing the many spectators with as good a ball game as they could have seen anywhere. In the anticipated pitchers' battle between Noonan and Wyman, except for the first and sixth innings, the crowd was treated to some spectacular play.

Unfortunately for the Golden Eagles, the Wildcats clipped their wings with 5 runs in the first and last innings and were victorious by a 10-1 score. The Mystic Tigers had too many claws for the Vincent-Owen Orioles on field 1 as they held on to a 2-1 victory. Washington's Generals carved out their second victory of the young season with a 7-1 victory over the Parkhurst Maroons, while the Mystic Green Hornets stung the St. Mary's Saints by 4-1 to register their first victory. The Lincoln Black Knights remained undefeated with a 6-1 victory over Muraco's Marauders in the field 5 contest, featuring a booming home run by Teddy Harris.

Due to requests by team coaches it was decided to shift two games each on Saturday and Sunday, May 30 and 31, to West Side Field to provide better playing surfaces and eliminate some recognized hazards to players and spectators alike. This week-end, therefore, games which are scheduled for Ginn Fields 4 and 5 will be played at West Side Field. This field is behind Mahoney's Rocky Ledge Farm. Entrance is on Wildwood Street, two blocks west of Cambridge Street on the north side of Wildwood Street.

The game between Vincent-Owen and Washington will be played at 10:30 a.m. due to an afternoon conflict with the Washington School Cub Scout Jamboree. They will play on Little League diamond 3. At 1 p.m., Saturday, May 30, Noonan and St. Mary's will play on the same field On Sunday, Little League field 2 will be the scene of the Muraco vs Mystic Green Hornets game, while West Side field 3 will host the game between the Mystic Tigers and Wyman Wildcats.

If these temporary changes of fields work out better than the "short" fields at Ginn, future Cap League games originally scheduled for Ginn fields 4 and 5 will be played on West Side fields 2 and 3, respectively. Announcement will be made of any future temporary or permanent change of location.

Doubles Matches Highlight Action On Town Courts

The town tennis courts on Memorial Day weekend were once again the scene of a successful draw doubles tournament sponsored by the Winchester Tennis Association. About 100 teams and over 100 contestants participated in four divisions of mens', ladies', mixed and family doubles.

After three days of shotmaking Nancy Mills and Verity Feldman emerged as champions of ladies' doubles by besting Dottie Dexter and Louise Fackert 6-2, 6-3 in the finals. In the mixed doubles final Ted White and Sue McDavitt defeated Marge Sexton and Carmen Elie in three closely contested sets 6-2, 4-6, 6-2. The family doubles title was taken by Dick Kadesch and Dick Kadesch Jr. for the fourth consecutive year, this time over another father and son combination, Bob and Porter Mulford, 6-0, 1-6, 6-1. The mens' doubles final will be played today, May 28, at 6 p.m. between Ted White-Larry Smith and Owen Cote-Dick Kadesch Jr.

The partnerships in all the doubles except family doubles were determined by draw. Only in family doubles were the entries made by team, any combination of mother, father, son or daughter being eligible.

MENS' DOUBLES

The first seeded White-Smith team picked up steam on its way to the finals after a first round bye and a close second round win over Chuck Lisberger and Jim Phillips 8-6, 6-4. They then dominated Austin Broadhurst-Mark Alba 6-1, 6-4 and, in the semi-finals, Jim Stewart-Lloyd Thomas 6-3, 6-1.

The second-seeded Owen Cote-Dick Kadesch Jr. duo had a much harder route to the finals. After a first round bye they defeated Jim Ayleward-Bob Cummings 6-4, 6-3. In their next two matches they had to come from behind to eke out wins over two tough teams, George Neville-Win Baylies 7-9, 6-2, 7-5 in the quarter finals, and Nelson Chemgapa-Don Ellis 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 in the semi-final.

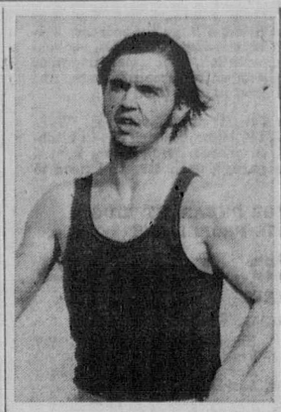

Bob Cummings and Win Baylies, newcomers to Winchester, gave strong support to their respective partners, displaying powerful serves and excellent games. They will be an asset to the local tennis scene.

LADIES' DOUBLES

In ladies' doubles both seeded teams were upset and failed to reach the finals. Dottie Dexter-Louise Fackert beat top-seeded Joan Bird-Sue McDavitt 6-2, 11-9 in one semi-final match. In the other semi-final Nancy Mills-Verity Feldman squeezed out a close one 7-5, 7-5 over second-seeded Lucy Whie-Gail Burns. Mills Feldman then continued their steady play with a 6-2, 6-3, final triumph over Dexter-Fackert.

MIXED DOUBLES

Ted White and Sue McDavitt showed their versatility by teaming up to win the mixed doubles in the last final match of the tournament over Carmen Elio-Marge Sexton 6-2, 4-6, 6-2. It was their third 3-set win in this division. White-McDavitt advanced through the earlier rounds over Verity Feldman-Bill Mackey 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, Judy Davis-Jim Phillips 6-3, 6-4, Ginger Parsons-Nelson Chengapa 6-4, 6-3 and, in the semi-final, over Bob Pritchard-Marilee Ober 5-7, 6-3, 6-3.

FRESHMAN KEN TULLY was a miler and two-miler for Bentley College during the spring track season. Ken, who is rated highly by coach John Maxson, also ran cross-country and indoor track for the Falcons.

Elio-Sexton also had to work hard to earn their berth in the finals. They defeated in order Dick Santos-Dorothy Price 8-6, 6-3, Le-Roy Lindgren-Carolyn O'Connor 7-5, 4-6, 6-1, Bob Gallant-Verity Feldman 6-4, 6-4, and, in the semi-final, Jack Corf-Betty Ann Pritchard.

FAMILY DOUBLES

As usual, there was a lot of interest in the family doubles. Of the 26 family combinations entered there were 10 father-son, seven husband-wife, five mother-son, two father-daughter and two brother-sister.

Dick Kadesch and Dick Kadesch Jr., fifth ranked in New England in father-and-son doubles, successfully defended their town family title by repeating this year, besting another father-and-son team, Bob and Porter Mulford in the final 6-0, 1-6, 6-1. The Mulfords earned their final berth with a semi-final win over the scrappy team of Janet Harvey and son Tobey, 8-6, 6-1.

Earlier wins by the Mulfords were over Anthony Alba and son Mark, 6-3, 6-2, and Ginger Parsons and son Chris 6-4, 6-3. Meanwhile the Kadesch's advanced over Phil Kadesch and sister Kay, 6-0, 6-3, John Sexton and daughter Marge 6-0, 6-0 and, in the semi-final, over Dwight Bellows and Dwight Jr. 6-2, 6-1.

The Winchester Tennis Association committee for the tournament consisted of Dick Kadesch, chairman; Bob Gallant, Don Puffer, George Blair, Tom Kell and Ted and Lucy White. The Association will be sponsoring clinics during the summer on the local courts as well as three more tournaments. There will be the annual town singles and doubles tournaments, including divisions for juniors, on three consecutive weekends during the Labor Day period. Also there will be two tournaments sanctioned by the New England Lawn Tennis Association, the Mystic Valley Championships for junior veterans (age 35 and over), July 17-19, and the Mystic Valley Father and Son Doubles Championships, August 1 and 2.

Congratulations, Graduates

Releases are pouring into the Star office this month telling of achievements and honors of Winchester students at colleges and schools across the country.

We are proud of our graduates and we congratulate them on their fine efforts.

From the students and their justifiably proud parents, we ask patience with our reporting of the graduations. And we here reprint the Star's policy on graduations:

1. Notices of graduations must come from the school or college unless a parent has been asked by the institution to notify us or if he feels as time goes by that the school has not sent it to us.

2. We use pictures as they come in from the institutions. Often there are stories about five graduates and only three pictures are sent. Usually the omission occurs when a student has failed to comply with the school publicity office's request for a picture.

3. When there is more than one graduate we must print the material as it is sent to us. We can not print major, clubs, offices, etc., for one student and only names and degrees for two others from the same school.

Wyman Parents Elect Officers

On Wednesday evening, May 20th, the Wyman Parents' Association held its annual meeting at the Wyman Auditorium and elected the officers of its executive board and committee chairmen for the coming school year.

Following reports of the outgoing board, William Warnock, principal of Wyman School, said a farewell to parents of children who have been redistricted into the Marycliff School. The President, Mrs. James Barger, explained that a nominating committee for the new school district had already met and hoped to announce the executive board of the new school within the next two weeks.

Miss Ann Dolan, kindergarten teacher at Wyman, was honored with a gift recognizing her 25 years of service in that position.

The parents were then entertained by some first, third and sixth grade Wyman pupils who presented a program of music in the Orff Kodaly Method.

The program concluded with remarks by Robert Forest, principal of the Marycliff School who outlined some of his concerns and plans for the new school. Parents of children who will be attending Marycliff were invited to join Mr. Forest on a tour through the Muraco School on June 4th.

The officers elected to the Wyman Parents' Association Board for 1970-1971 are: President: Mrs. Paul Gray; First Vice President, Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald; Second Vice President, Mrs. F. Robert Johnson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. John Hamilton; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Philip Hankins; Treasurer, Mrs. Howard Abbott; Extra-Curricular Chairman, Mrs. Bruce Hanes; Luncheon; Mrs. Joseph Pontone; Membership, Mrs. John Mills; Nominating, Mrs. James Quinn; Publicity, Mrs. John Harrington; Room Mothers, Mrs. John Kent; Social, Mrs. Noel Thyson; and Ways and Means, Mrs. George Weiffenbach. The Nominating Committee is Mrs. Richard Chen, Mrs. David Donahue, Mrs. Guy Guarnaccia and Mrs. Jeffrey West. The Library Chairman is Mrs. Robert Sullivan.

F. L. Foster Is Elected Treasurer

F. L. Foster Jr., formerly of Winchester, has been elected treasurer of the International Paper Company, New York, New York, Edward B. Hinman, president, announced recently.

Mr. Foster joined International Paper in 1969 as assistant treasurer, coming from the Lily-Tulip Cup Corporation where he had been treasurer and chief financial officer. He is a graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard Business School where he spent several years as a faculty member before entering business.

M.D.C. Problems Highlight Meeting With John Sears

Metropolitan District Commissioner John Sears met with members of Winchester's Board of Selectmen and other natural resource department heads of the Town on Thursday, May 28, to discuss problems which the Town faces in its MDC region.

Major concern centered on pollution of the Upper Mystic Lake and led to the proposed creation of a seven member committee to study pollution in the Aberjona River which feeds into the Upper Mystic. Suggested at this time for chairman of this study group was Professor N. Bruce Hanes, currently a member of the Winchester Aberjona Watershed Committee, and the Park Department.

Tentatively the committee would be composed of two members from Winchester, one of which would serve as chairman, and other members drawn from neighboring towns and from State bureaus such as the MDC, Department of Natural Resources, and State Department of Public Health.

Commissioner Sears stated that a sum "in the seven figures" had been spent to combat pollution in the Mystic River and "thousands" had been poured into the Aberjona. Noting that the Aberjona was contaminated in the MDC area also, he reported that his commission has been working here already with the Department of Natural Resources, particularly in fighting the algae build-up.

Concerning accounts of dead fish stocked by the Department of Natural Resources and its connection with reported high levels of nitrates and zinc in these water bodies, opinions are conflicting.

"Not Irresponsible"

Ralph M. Swanson, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, felt comments received by him were undocumented.

He would like to have statistics furnished by the State bureaus. State Representative Harrison Chadwick called his information "not irresponsible."

Answering Planning Board member Otto E. Schaefer's question, Commissioner Sears stated that he "didn't know" about statistics concerning salt and chemical content in the Mystic lakes. Professor Hanes volunteered the information that the State Bureau of Fisheries had recorded an excess of zinc here.

Representative Chadwick noted that the headwaters of the Aberjona are not in Winchester. Blame for pollution of the lakes has been placed variously in the past upon snow removal chemicals and gutter refuse dumped by the Town of Winchester and upon industries in Wilmington and Woburn.

This meeting between the MDC and Winchester was cited by Representative Chadwick as the "first of this sort." He said that Winchester's demands upon the MDC have been minimal, that our involvement with this commission has not been great in the past, but that the town does have problems.

Besides pollution of the Aberjona River and Upper Mystic Lake, areas mentioned included sewerage in the Fells, greater use of the Fells which was termed "not inviting" in many locations, and problems at specific sites along the Aberjona, toward Wedgemere Station, and along North Border Road.

School Committee Lists Agenda For June 8

Muraco School will be the location of the next regular meeting of the Winchester School Committee, scheduled for Monday, June 8, at 7:30 p.m.

The location was considered appropriate to one agenda item, a study of the success of the program offered at the "open space" school. This study is the result of research done by doctoral students in a Harvard Graduate School of Education class conducted by Dr. Robert Anderson of Winchester.

Also included on the agenda for this evening will be the appearance of Marjorie Shaw, director of SEEM a program for the retarded and the emotionally disturbed.

Bid awards on furniture for Marycliff Academy which will be opened this fall are also scheduled to be announced.

Anticipated for rediscussion is the proposal to admit kindergarten children to their classes in groups at progresssively different times. This was previously considered at the May 26 meeting when it was tabled for further study.

District Court Decisions Made In Three Cases

Recent decisions of the Woburn District Court have brought to a close three cases investigated by the Winchester Police Department, according to Lieutenant Andrew Crawford.

These incidents deal with the attempt to pass a forged prescription, bomb scares, and assault and battery. They were reviewed by Judge Albert Sartorelli in the Woburn court.

Convening on Wednesday, May 27, the court gave a Malden resident a $1,000 fine and two years in the House of Correction, suspended for two years, for his attempt to obtain drugs by using a false prescription. An additional charge was receiving stolen property taken from a doctor's office in Arlington.

On March 12 the defendant presented the forged prescription to a clerk in Hevey's Pharmacy, 559 Main Street. Police Officers William Callahan, directing traffic in the Square at the time, and Richard Beaton were notified of the attempt by one present in the store. A chase ensued and the Malden man was apprehended on Converse Place.

During the early spring months Winchester Police Headquarters were plagued by sporadic calls of bomb warnings in Winchester Hospital. On Friday, May 29, a 15-year-old Winchester boy was put on probation under close supervision after being found guilty by the court of making these threats.

Lieutenant Crawford informs that the calls usually came in late Sunday afternoons, claiming that there was a bomb hidden on the third floor of the hospital. Police checked out each call. Finally, with the aid of the telephone company, the juvenile was traced.

M.D.C. COMMISSIONER JOHN W. SEARS EXPOUNDS A POINT at the meeting held on Thursday, May 28, to discuss the problems that Winchester has incurred with its own M.D.C. area. Listening to the Commissioner are, left to right, Edward J. Donnelly, executive secretary of the Board of Selectmen; Ralph M. Swanson, Selectmen chairman; and Representative Harrison Chadwick. Other heads from the Town's natural resources departments were present also. (Ryerson photo)

Arts And Crafts Decorate Town During Arts Festival Weekend

Excellent weather combined with a record number of contributors to attract large crowds to the exhibition of arts and crafts at the Festival of the Arts held at various locations throughout Winchester on May 29, 30, and 31.

A total of 91 artists supplied over 800 paintings and 36 photographs to the display at Manchester Field. In the courts off Thompson Street 21 exhibits of crafts varied from the excellent wood-carving of Robert Ingraham to the pewterware demonstration by George McFadden.

The number of works sold came to a total of approximately $3,000. Many of the craftsmen demonstrated their skills as well as their wares over the weekend. Other exhibits in this section were ceramics, pottery, weaving, silver jewelry, silk screening and lithographs, paper flower arrangement, wall hanging pottery, silhouettes, stationery, painted decoys, t ole paper work, decoupage, flower pictures under glass, formafilm flowers, and lapidary.

The garden clubs exhibited Christmas wreaths, supplemented by decorative arangements which their members have formed for the Home for the Aged each month.

Winchester Trails provided a display of their accomplishments for the year. During the show on Saturday Edgar McKenney and Carl Johnson, both landscape and seascape artists from Saugus, demonstrated their technique with oils by painting scenes of Winchester.

An added point of interest in the painting exhibit was the balloting by the public for their favorite artist and favorite work from among those displayed. Robert Magnusen of 2 Cutting Street received the majority of votes. Following Mr. Magnusen were Mary Jacobs of 11 Wolcott Road, MacLucas Ward of Lexington, Joseph Corish of 86 Lawson Road, Liz Mazza of Lexington, and E. Buzzotta of Arlington, in that order.

In the category of individual paintings the choice was again Mary Jacobs for her portraiture "Bobby Orr." Mr. Corish was cited next for "Moment of Truth." The next three pla es were all awarded to Mr. Magnusen for his paintings, "Beacon Street," "Middlesex Fells," and "Appalachian Way," in that order.

Gift to Maryclíff

A painting by Jan Hur of Arlington entitled "Sassy Cat," was purchased by the Wyman Parents Association as a gift to the Marycliff Academy complex to be opened in the fall of this year.

A selection of the contributing artists pictures were entered in the Silent Auction in which the public bid in the afternoon. Successful bidders were announced at the close of the show.

The result of the ensuing contests for the Middlesex League title produced tri-champions Winchester-Woburn-Stoneham. In other sports this week the Senior High School's lacrosse team and the Pee Wee soccer team are measuring their successes also.

"Write Hanoi" Is Launched By Red Cross

The American Red Cross is launching a new "Write Hanoi" campaign as part of its continuing all-out effort to gain more humane treatment for U.S. prisoners of war in Vietnam.

Like the drive last winter, this one will call on Americans in all walks of life to send letters to the President of North Vietnam expressing concern over that government's failure to adhere to the 1949 Geneva Conventions which Hanoi has signed but refuses to follow in its handling of American prisoners. U.S. and South Vietnam military forces, on the other hand, continue to abide by the POW Convention in handling North Vietnam and Viet Cong prisoners.

Latest figures show that 437 American servicemen are being held as prisoners of war and another 1,000 are missing and possibly captured. In recent weeks, the government of North Vietnam has appeared to be easing its stand somewhat by reporting the names of some prisoners.

But this action still falls far short of the POW Convention requirements, which include identification of all prisoners, adequate diet and medical care, repatriation of sick or wounded prisoners, communication with their families, protection from abuse or reprisals, and inspection of prison camps by delegates of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

North Vietnamese leaders are known to be conscious of public opinion in this country, so a great outpouring of letters from American citizens may help to obtain better treatment for U.S. prisoners.

Winchester Is Certified For Funds

Torbert H. Macdonald, U.S. Congressman from the Seventh District, announced on Wednesday, June 3, that the Winchester School Committee has been certified for immediate payment of $19,407 of its $64,691 entitlement under Public Law No. 874 for the fiscal year 1970.

Funds are made available to school districts where enrollments are swollen by children of armed services personnel or government employees, many of whom live on government reservations where they pay no local taxes.

It is the Federal Government's way of being a "good local citizen" in lieu of taxes.

Congressman Macdonald stated, "I have supported the legislation necessary to continue payments of these impacted area funds because I feel it is necessary, and knowing that the Federal Government as a property owner should share in the financial support of local governments.

"Government ownership of land takes such land off local tax rolls, depriving communities of normal tax receipts. I am happy to have been helpful in providing this payment for the Town of Winchester."

The Winchester public school system has relatively few students attending its schools who are not tuition-paying residents, which would include in sense those children whose families pay Town taxes.

On occasion the School Committee has waived its Rules and Regulations to allow non-residents to attend public schools without paying tuition. Often reimbursement from the Federal Government or other sources is found to apply to these unusual enrollments.

Selectmen Give Approval To Incinerator Schedule, Appoint New Dog Officer

Among actions taken at Monday night's regular session, June 1, the Board of Selectmen approved a schedule for use of the Town incinerator and approved the purchase of sweepers for the Town, matters submitted by the Superintendent of Streets. Appointment of a dog officer was also made.

The meeting was initiated with the signing of bonds totaling $100,000 for borrowing on revenue which is anticipated from the sale of bonds to be undertaken in Boston on Tuesday, June 9. These bonds are concerned only with the new high school project.

Borrowing in anticipation of revenue was necessary in order to accomplish payments to contractors for this project up to the agreed point. Due to the floating of bonds next week, the Selectmen will not hold their regular session until that Tuesday evening, June 9.

At the hearing conducted with Superintendent of Streets Robert G. O'Brien, confirmation was given to the schedule during which the Town incinerator will be open.

This utility will be available to cars only on Saturdays from 7 a.m. to 12 noon. It will close down at this time and remain so until noon on Monday. This will allow time for the 48 hour cooling period of the furnaces necessary in order to carry on maintenance. On Mondays it will remain open from 12 noon until 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday the hours during which the public may use the facility are 7 to 9 p.m. It will be closed Sundays. These hours are now in effect.

Superintendent O'Brien stated that there would be no burning conducted on Saturdays. However, this will be done on Mondays. He finds that these hours are acceptable to his crews. Noting that approximately 1,000 to 1,800 people use this facility on Saturdays, he hopes that the new schedule can be adjusted to by citizens. Summer, he noted, is a comparatively light season.

Sweepers

At this time the Board voted to accept the recommendation of the superintendent for the purchase of new sweepers. Approval came when a motion to reconsider this recommendation was rejected.

The decision was made between two different manufacturer's machines showing a cost difference of $800. The Town will purchase the more expensive sweeper because it is felt that its advantages will override this cost difference. The Elgin sweeper was recommended as more effective and savings on repairs are anticipated.

Selectman Sherman Saltmarsh felt, however, that compensating advantages could also be found in the Wayne machine. This product has been used by the Town for the past 10 years and Mr. Saltmarsh cited a history of good service.

The machines are garaged from fall clean-up at the end of November until spring clean-up beginning in March. Selectmen Paul Amico urged the Board not to delay in their selection since the sweepers are needed during the summer months.

In a letter to the Board, Superintendent O'Brien recommended areas of control at the incinerator for future discussion. Stricter control of the issuance and display of dump stickers, as well as enforcement of the rules and regulations of the incinerator were mentioned. New restriction on the use of these facilities by out-of-town contractors was another point. Several of these matters will be forwarded to the Public Works Council for their study and comment.

Summer Theatre Opens Season With Tryouts

The "straw hat circuit" of summer theatre presentations is no longer that cultural creature of the past producing watered-down versions of Broadway. Many neighborhood theatre groups now include a repertoire of genres from classic Greek to the theatre of the absurd, and finally the living stage. Such is the Winchester Summer Community Theatre.

During the two years of its operation, the Theatre has drawn active interest from all over the North Shore area. It specializes in a program of non-professional summer stock.

Tryouts for the Theatre's production of the popular comedy "Teahouse of the August Moon" will be held at 7:45 p.m. on Monday, June 8, and Wednesday, June 10, in the Winchester High School auditorium.

Everyone is invited to participate, regardless of past experience or lack of it. It is an opportunity to sound for latent acting ability or to find out what goes on behind the curtain. The invitation includes all past contributors also.

During the last two summers this group has presented for local audiences "The Black Comedy" and "The White Liars," "Harvey," and "You Can't Take It With You."

Star or stage hand, the tryouts are open to all who are interested. More information may be obtained by calling 729-6203, 729-7197, or 729-7738.

Comr. Sears Says Beach Will Be Open

MDC Commissioner John W. Sears announced on Tuesday, June 2, that the Upper Mystic Lake beach will be open for swimming this summer as usual.

"Recent reports relating to the death of trout in the lake are misleading and tests conducted by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health do not show the presence of dangerous chemicals in the lake." He added, "In addition preliminary MDC reports show a chloride count which is acceptable. A much higher chloride count occurred several miles up the watershed and zinc counts in the lake are insignificant."

Commissioner Sears feels that the MDC has been working on the problem for several years and is now taking positive action against pollution here. He wishes to emphasize the fact that the seven man commission created in Winchester on Thursday, May 28, is to be an "action group," and not another study group.

A consultant biologist, Jason Cortell of Wellesley Hills, has been hired to conduct a field testing and sampling program at the Lower Mystic Lake to monitor the hydrogen sulfide-dissolved oxygen ratio and to design odor control measures.

Commissioner Sears concludes, "The MDC has now joined forces with the towns and the water pollution division of the Natural Resources Department and we will jointly fight as hard as we can to stop pollution in the watershed, improve water control, remove algae, and stop fish kill."

BROWSERS ON THOMPSON PLACE MALL were treated to 21 exhibits of crafts, varying from wood-carving to pewter ware demonstrations. And when temptation overcame open air "window shopping," the goods were for sale. Mrs. Bettie Donald of 30 Stevens Street examines the glass covered flower paintings. (Karen Ryerson photo)

Class Of 1970 To Graduate This Sunday

Three hundred, sixty-five students will mark the end of their high school careers this Sunday, June 7, in graduation exercises at Winchester High School's Manchester Field.

This commencement culminates a week of activities for seniors which includes Class Night and the Senior Prom on Friday, June 5.

The Senior High School Band will initiate ceremonies at 5 p.m. by playing several opening selections, followed by the march of the graduates across Manchester Field. The Rev. James A. Garrity of St. Mary's Church will deliver the invocation.

Addresses will be given by W. Howard Niblock, principal of Winchester High School; Dr. Donald A. Klemer, superintendent of schools; and John Puffer, senior class president. The Senior Address will be delivered by Miss Barbara Dalton.

Announcement of scholarship winners will also be undertaken at this time. Among other local sponsors will be the annual presentations of the Winchester School Committee and the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, made this year by Scholarship Committee Chairman Grant Curtis.

Concluding the program will be the awarding of diplomas which will be proferred by Mrs. Harriett H. Dieterich, School Committee chairman.

In the event of rain which would make outdoor ceremonies impossible, graduation will be postponed until Monday, June 8. If this rescheduling is necessary, the "no school" whistle will be blown one hour prior to the starting time of 5 p.m. Exercises would then take place on Monday evening, rain or shine, the auditorium being utilized if rain should continue.

Whitman F. LeRoy

Whitman Forbes LeRoy of San Francisco, California, formerly of 113 Church Street, died in San Francisco on Wednesday, May 13. He was 56.

A graduate of Winchester High School and Harvard University, Mr. LeRoy served as a lieutenant (j.g.) during World War II. He was an aviator flying in the Pacific area.

Funeral services were private. According to his wishes, following cremation, his ashes were strewn upon the waters of San Francisco Bay.

Harold Attwater Smith

Harold Attwater Smith of Woburn, formerly of 17 Bacon Street, died on Friday, May 29, at Winchester Hospital after a long illness. He was 82.

Born in New York City, New York, in 1887, he was the son of Junius Hosford and Ella Ransom (Geer) Smith.

Mr. Smith was a manager for the B. V. Harrison Company of Boston from 1923-1933. From 1933 until 1970 he was employed as a life insurance underwriter for the Union Central Life Insurance Company of Boston.

He was a member of the Mystic Valley Lodge A.F. and A.M., the American National Red Cross, and the American Association of Retired Persons. He was active for 45 years as a member of the First Congregational Church where he served as a deacon.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be sent to Bates College, Lewiston, Maine.

Red Cross Bloodmobile

The Winchester Red Cross will sponsor a Bloodmobile at the Church of the Epiphany, on Wednesday, June 17, from 2 to 7 p.m. Call the chapter house at 729-2300 for an appointment.

The call for blood is being launched by the Red Cross to avoid a serious summer shortage of blood. Hot and humid weather, the absence of many regular donors who are vacationing, and the annual vacation shut-down of plants sponsoring bloodmobile visits are among the chief reasons for summer shortages of blood donations.

Medical officials urge anyone in good health, 110 pounds or over, between the ages of 18 and 65 to consider giving blood as soon as possible, particularly before leaving on vacations. No family can tell when illness, accident, or disease will strike. One out of every three patients hospitalized in Massachusetts requires blood for medical treatment.

Leaving the blood donor program to someone else, generally means that your family is without coverage. A better plan is for someone in each family to be a regular donor.

Now is the best time to donate, for blood is urgently needed. Protect your family with a year of blood supply coverage, and make a personal contribution that may save someone's life.

Public Library Extends Display Through Monday

Exhibits at the Winchester Library planned in conjunction with the Arts Festival will be on display through Monday, June 8.

Featured on the new display units in the lobby are the pencil sketches which were done in preparation for the large mural painted by Aiden L. Ripley. Mr. Ripley, a resident of Lexington until his death last fall, inspected the mural and gave helpful advice before it was cleaned in December of 1966. Th sketches are particularly interesting if studied to see how the artist varied his original conception in final painting.

A display of books by Winchester authors is located just inside the door of the Winchester Room. Some of the books were first contributed for the celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the library in 1959, others have been added since then, and several were given or loaned for this exhibit as a result of the brochure mailed to residents in April.

The library is eager to augment its file of material on local authors so please do not hesitate to give Mrs. Smith, the reference librarian, information about any not yet identified.

In the glass case are samples of books purchased with income from Trust Funds, and some books which have been given as memorial gifts. Both through bequest and in memory of friends, thoughtful people through the years have enabled the library to include expensive books and other materials which might not have justified the use of town budget money, but which contribute greatly to the value of our collection and the enjoyment of patrons.

A clever crossword ppuzzle highlighting the idea of gifts to the library is available at the adult circulation desk. The solution will appear in the Star for June 11.

In the Junior Library, there are exhibited samples of the various types of art and written work that were done as part of last summer's reading program, the summer college classes, the spring book poster contest, and the preschool story hours.

All residents will find it worthwhile to spend some time with these displays.

AMERICA'S 2nd MESSIEST and LAZIEST DEPARTMENT STORE

Dear Friend of Building #19,

This is a great business, it's kind of like sex — when it's good, it's wonderful and when it's bad, it's still pretty good. The only problem is that whenever I meet people from out of town they ask what I do for a living and I'm embarrassed. How can I answer? How can I describe the merchandise — mish mash? I can't call it a "discount store" because discount stores reflect savings of 10% to 20% based upon economy of operation, whereas we reflect savings of 30% to 70% based upon Harry's frugal buying. We buy from insurance companies, railroads, trucking companies, bankruptcies and the like (at a fraction of the regular cost). I can't call it a "bargain store" because that term implies cheap and/or shoddy merchandise, whereas we tend to carry better quality, name brand goods. I can't call it a "department store" because we don't really have well delineated departments. We just set the merchandise down wherever there's a convenient space. I can't call it a "salvage store" because that term infers damaged, burned or otherwise imperfect merchandise, whereas most of our goodies are 100% perfect (well 99½% perfect anyway). Not only is our merchandise perfect, but we re-enforce it with a no-hard-time, 100% satisfaction-or-your-money-back guarantee.

Enough nonsense, here's a few highlights of what we'll be peddling this weekend (Fri. 9:00 - 9:00, Sat. 9:00 - 5:00, Mon. 9:00 - 9:00):

WALL SHELVING UNITS — Versatile shelf, centerpiece, room divider, wall shelf or whatever your imagination can conceive. Combine sixteen verticle posts and fifteen 30 inch shelves into units of up to 150 inches wide, walnut finished, nationally advertised at $34.95, our paltry price $14.90.

COLOR TV — A group of famous brand (RCA, Emerson and Westinghouse) fully guaranteed (1 year on picture tube and parts, 90 days free service, 30 days satisfaction or your money back). Console color TV sets selling elsewhere at up to $549.95, for only $296.60 — cabinet styles include Early American, maple traditional, mahogony, Italian Provincial, contemporary walnut and Danish walnut.

COMPONENT STEREO SYSTEMS — Solid state four piece (changer, amplifier, two speakers and transparent dust cover) bookcase style stereo system, nationally advertised at $69.95, our paltry price $39.80 & fully guaranteed of course.

GOLD TABLEWARE — Brand new 1881 Roger's tableware, gold electroplated by Oneida Ltd. at 50% off national advertised prices. A 55 piece service for eight at $59.90 and 79 piece service for twelve at $74.90.

WIGS — A large selection of synthetic stretch, human hair wigs — regulars, side path, Dutch boys, modracrylic, kanakelon and other unpronounceable names —

Plus literally thousands of other bargains in merchandise of all types, sorts and condition. Come browse around this WEIRD WAREHOUSE. I can't promise that you'll buy anything, but I do promise that you'll enjoy looking.

Cordially,
Jerry Ellis

P.S. We have unable to confirm the rumers that Raquel Welch will be shopping here this weekend, but I'll keep my eyes open.

The Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society of Winchester-Woburn are most fortunate in obtaining Joe Bellino as guest speaker at the Annual Communion Breakfast this year on Sunday, June 14, after the 8:30 a.m. Mass in the School Hall.

JOE BELLINO

Mr. Bellino needs no introduction in this area. Joe was graduated from Winchester High School in 1956 where he was an outstanding athlete in all sports. A graduate from the United States Naval Academy in 1961, he was again outstanding while attending this institution. He was the star halfback on one of the famous Navy football teams and was chosen All American halfback.

He was also the recipient of the Heisman Trophy in 1960. After graduating from the U.S. Naval Academy, he served four years in the U.S. Navy. His last tour of duty took him to Vietnam where he spent 11 months. After completing his military obligation, Joe signed with the Boston Patriots American League Football Club in 1965.

Now a successful business man, he resides in Bedford with his wife, the former Ann Tansey and their two children.

Joe will have an interesting talk so be sure to bring sons along to listen.

Tickets will be on sale after all Masses on Saturday and Sunday or by contacting any Holy Name officer or member, but BE SURE TO GET TICKETS EARLY!

Camping Program Is Scheduled By Mistick Side

The time has come to talk of swimming, hiking out-door cooking and so many things, says the Mistick Side Girl Scout Council as directors get ready for another busy camping season.

Mistick Side again offers day camping at Rice Moody in Reading and Toplofty at Cedar Hill in Waltham, and resident camping at Sherwood Forest in Jaffrey, New Hampshire, and Menotomy in Meredith, New Hampshire.

There is a variety of programs for Brownies through to the Senior level. The Brownie Scouts have their units where they learn the rudiments of campcraft; Junior Scouts do more advanced camping; and Cadettee Scouts have a choice of regular day camping and resident camping as well as their own day and stay unit as day camp. This popular program features one week of day camping where they learn the skills necessary for staying nights at Toplofty for the second week. Senior Scouts may apply to be program aides at day camps where they will brush up on skills which they will teach younger campers.

Camp Menotomy, on Lake Winnepesaukee in Meredith, New Hampshire, will accommodate 100 campers each session, ranging from seven to 17 years of age. Camp Sherwood Forest, on Frost Pond in Jaffrey, New Hampshire, accommodates 56 campers each session, ranging from fifth graders with overnight camping experience to 12th graders. There are special interest patrols at both camps as well as a well-rounded waterfront and camp program.

Transportation is provided for girls from Arlington, Cambridge, Winchester, Malden, Medford and Everett to attend specified sessions at Toplofty at Cedar Hill in Waltham. Miss Sandra Driscoll is the director.

Session I will be from June 29 through July 9; Session II, July 13 - July 23; Session III, July 27 - August 6; and Session IV, August 10 - August 20. Day camps run for four days a week, Monday through Thursday.

Girls may attend any session at the resident camps and provide their own transportation. Session I, June 28 - July 11; Session II, July 12 - July 25; Session III, July 26 - August 8; Session IV, August 9 - August 22. Director at Camp Menotomy is Miss Patricia Nisonger and at Sherwood Forest, Miss Renee Sack.

Mistick Side Girl Scout Council is a member of the United Community Services and receives funds from the Massachusetts Bay United Fund.

The Winchester Star

Established 1880 By Theodore P. Wilson, Sr.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

To The Graduates

The graduates are marching to the roll of funeral drums. Some are not marching at all. Some have forsaken the traditional in search of relevance and meaning.

But relevance exists only in each person's mind. And so the student bodies split, some graduates occuping spaces in a nearly empty commencement hall while their fellows stand at the gates hymning folk rock.

Such disagreement has arisen also among a very small number of concerned seniors at Winchester High School, particularly on the wearing of caps and gowns. Their sentiment is well understood, however, their choice of issue is questioned. Regardless, more traditional ceremonies will be observed here this Sunday for the class of 1970.

Congratulations are extended to these high school seniors and to the young men and women from Winchester receiving degrees for higher studies. They know what they now inherit. For those who feel that their graduation should bring about and reflect new awarenesses, for those who have been and will be disappointed, there is now the message, ". . . listen to the music playing in your head."

The Good And Bad Angels

In the columns of "letters to the editor" of last week's Star, May 28, are two letters representative of the dilemma posed by today's youth and that of every preceding generation since Thucydides noted it in the fourth century B.C.

The dichotomy is that known as the "idealism" versus the "rebelliousness" of youth, such labels which are usually realized to be more correctly determined by differences in individuals rather than black and white portraits of age groups.

In each letter an appeal is issued to pay appropriate attention to the widely differing acts by these young people. The community now faces a problem.

James K. Kurker, a Medford City Councillor and chairman of that city's Water and Air Pollution Committee, praised the efforts of a 13-year-old Winchester boy in alerting Medford to "indescriminate dumping" near the Winchester-Medford line. Action is progressing to clean up this area. Mr. Kurker concludes, "The Town of Winchester must be very proud of having developed a young man with the qualities that David has shown."

But further down this column it appears necessary for Chief of Police Edward F. Bowler to issue a warning to young vandals and request the assistance of citizens in reporting such incidents to the Police Department. Detection and prevention of such activities is nearly impossible to accomplish without everyone's help.

In the area of vandalism and thefts from schools mentioned by Chief Bowler, Winchester may compare favorably with a school system such as Quincy which reports damage and theft losses of nearly $50,000 since January of this year. Such losses in Winchester public schools between February 8 and April 22 of this year, excluding broken glass and small amounts of cash, are estimated at $2,450. But even this sum was enough to prompt the School Committee to alert the Finance Committee to the possible need for a transfer of funds into their Capital Outlay account. For this past weekend alone the police blotter lists two broken panes of glass at Noonan, two at McCall, and four at Mystic.

Minor acts of vandalism, such as the BB shot which went astray and injured a boy last Saturday, are often spontaneous, with little concern being given to getting caught or its consequences. Perhaps the greatest obstacle to law enforcement against minor vandalism is the fact that among a young person's peer group the action may be acceptable, and therefore, encouraging.

Apprehension after the damage has been done may be "after the fact," but facing court proceedings and having a court record could prevent a second act by that individual and serve as a retardant among his friends. The reassuring fact that a vandal alarm system will be installed at various locations in the school system (It has been reported that received bids are below the sum budgetted) is overshadowed by the realization that this is again only a deterrant, significant but not sufficient in itself.

It is realized, of course, that the most effective preventative of malicious acts must begin within the individual. It is borne of the same concern which prompts another person, perhaps David Trageser of Mr. Kurker's mention, to act on good convictions. May we try to pay appropriate attention to each of these young people.

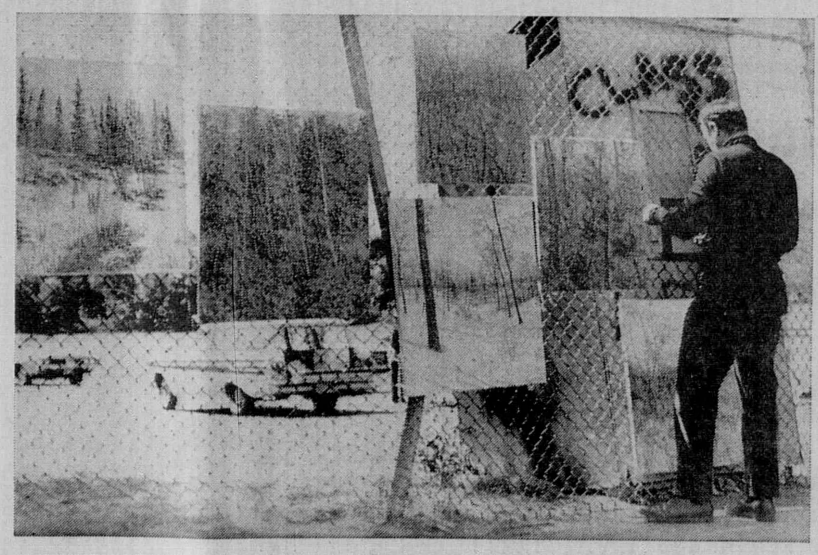

REPRESENTATIVES OF WINCHESTER'S NATURAL RESOURCES BOARDS were present at the meeting with M.D.C. Commissioner John W. Sears on Thursday, May 28, to discuss problems that the Town is experiencing in its M.D.C. area. (Ryerson photo).

SENIORS OF WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL demonstrated their feelings at this graduation time by staging a motorcade down Main Street on Thursday, May 28. With classes over the students now await commencement exercises on Sunday, June 7. (Ryerson photo)

AN INTERESTED PATRON PERUSES a section of over 800 paintings and photographs which were hung along the chain link fence enclosing Manchester Field during the Winchester Arts Festival, May 29 to 31. The Town was draped at various locations with displays of such arts and crafts during the event. (Ryerson photo)

BOOK REVIEW

Winchester Public Library

THE PURSUIT OF LONELINESS

American culture at the breaking point

by Philip Slater

"How far can it go? What new inventions will be offered the staggering American to help him blow up his life? Will he finally flee to outer space, leaving the nest he has so industriously fouled behind him forever? Can he really find some means to propel himself so fast that he will escape his own inventive destructiveness? Is the man in orbit — the true Nowhere Man, whirling about in his metal womb unable to encounter anyone or anything — the destiny of all Americans?"

Dr. Philip Slater, chairman of the department of sociology at Brandeis University, is the writer who asks these questions in a book which is bound to become a conversation piece. It is an astute analysis of our contemporary crises, of what we are like as human beings; and of the challenges which are imminent: right here today, did we but know it.

The framework of the above questions is our technological culture. We are all looking for a technological "Fix." He says, "Each technological 'advance' is heralded as one that will solve problems created by its predecessors. None of them have done so, however, but have merely created new ones. Heroin was first introduced into this country as a heaven-sent cure for morphine addicts, and this is the model followed by technological 'progress.' We have been continually misled into supporting a larger and larger technological habit."

Philip Slater is arguing for a reversal of the old pattern of technological radicalism and social conservatism. Perhaps peoples everywhere in the 20th century have become too servile towards technocracy. In doing so we have lowered the value of human life. We have made people things. Dr. Slater states that we throw the aged and psychotic into institutional holes where they cannot be seen. "Our approach to social problems is to decrease their visibility: Out of sight, out of mind."

Yet we stress that every human life is a thing of value. Do we really mean it? "When one observes that we devote the lion's share of our national budget to war and destruction, that capable scientists are tied up in biological and chemical warfare research that would make Frankenstein and his science-fiction colleagues look like Dr. Doolittle, we cannot avoid asking the question, do Americans hate life? Has there ever been a people who have destroyed so many living things?"

There is an enthusiasm for violence and killing, as shown in Vietnam, by a pilot who suggested starting at the DMZ and killing every man, woman, and child in North Vietnam.

A "Huey" (helicopter) pilot described killing a single man: "'I ran that little mother all over the place hosing him with guns but somehow or other we just didn't hit him. Finally he turned on us and stood there facing us with his rifle. We really busted his ass then. Blew him up like a toy balloon.'"

Dr. Slater covers the contemporary scene in regard to life in suburbia, the generation gap, our sexual mores. He has rather an original analysis of sexuality and states that we have put pleasure to work by placing restrictions on it. This "was a stunning cultural invention, more important than the acquisition of fire. In it man found a source of energy which was limitless and unflogging — one which enabled him to build his empires on earth. By the weird device of making his most plentiful resource (sex) scarce he managed, after many millennia, to make most of his scarce ones plentiful."

Our socio-economic technological turnmoils are all manifestations of what the author calls the old culture. We are no longer one culture, but two. The second, a new culture, began sprouting about ten years ago.

Dr. Slater describes the old culture, which he says, when forced to choose "tends to give preference to property rights over personal rights, technological requirements over human needs, competition over cooperation . . . ," etc. The new culture tends to reverse all of these priorities.

Both the old culture and the new culture have their flaws. These cultures are here and there, on a collision course. We need to have reforms in priorities and incentives.

We have deluded ourselves "that . . . trying to get the better of one another is socially useful instead of something to be avoided . . . It has taken us a long time to realize that seeking to surpass others might be pathological and trying to enjoy and cooperate with others healthy, rather than the other way around."

Lacrosse Team Congratulated

Editor of the Star:

Congradulations to the Winchester High School Lacrosse team for a fine season! The losses of the last two games of the season should in no way diminish our pride in the season record of the team, 11-3 on the regular schedule, with an undefeated record in league games.

Aside from the wins and losses, I want to especially commend Coach Bouley and the team for attitude and behavior at the games. After all, it's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game that counts. I was most impressed at each game with the sportsmanlike and gentlemanly behavior of the coach which was emulated by the players.

The contrast between coaches and players at the Tufts freshman game was so obvious that I mention that game as an example. The Tufts coach and players were disgracefully ungentlemanly and unsportsmanlike. It was to the credit of Coach Bouley and his team that though behind, they "kept their cool" and came out of the game victorious.

We are well aware that our sons and other Winchester boys have been fortunate in benefiting from the teaching and coaching of Eugene Bouley. He is a man who sets high, but realistic standards for himself and those young people with whom he works. Our appreciation to him is herewith expressed, along with congradulations to him and the team for a fine season.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. A. R. Brink

Pollution

Editor of the Star:

In recent months the disgraceful pollution of the Aberjona River and the Mystic Lakes has become a matter of concern to a great many people. The Aberjona, once a clean stream used for recreation and enjoyment, has become an offensive, muddy, and weed-choked eyesore. The condition of the Upper Mystic Lake is so serious that it can no longer support fish life. This is a far cry from the once crystal clear and sparkling Mystic Lake of a few decades ago.

No one person or persons are to blame for this sorry state, but that does not excuse anyone from taking an active part, in his own way, in some organized and concerted actions to restore these badly abused waters to their former beauty.

It is no easy job, but it must be done before they become open sewers and a menace to the public. Here are some areas in which action can and must be taken:

1. Appropriation of funds on all levels, local, state, and national
2. Anti-pollution laws and their reinforcement
3. Direct action—cleanup and conservation.

Sincerely yours,
Peter Reynolds

Music Program Commendation

Editor of the Star:

Please permit me to toss a small bouquet after the brickbat hurled, in the recent letter, at the instrumental program in Winchester's schools.

My family's contact with instrumental teaching in the schools has been through John Woodworth, and a harder-working, more dedicated man I have yet to see. Although it is hardly the point here, he is also a fine violinist whose talents have earned respect in Boston music circles. Because of Mr. Woodworth, the high school orchestra was treated to a backstage visit with Arthur Fiedler after a recent pops concert.

Before passing judgment on the school instrumental program, perhaps we should consider the fact that in a public school system, pupils are not selected for the music program. Instrumental teachers must somehow take talented and untalented, workers and dreamers, cooperative and disruptive children, and do what they can to satisfy the children's or their parents' wish that they learn to play. A horrendous assignment, it seems to me! In my opinion, Mr. Woodworth does his job ably. This family, for one is grateful to him for a combined total of 11 years of fine teaching.

Sincerely,
Mrs. W. G. Knopf

There are three primary ways of generating power—nuclear, hydroelectric and fuel combustion. The environmental effects of each will be probed in Boston at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Senior Citizens Weight Conscious

When an older person joins a Weight Watcher class, it is with a sincere desire and determination to lose weight, according to Elaine Robin, director of Weight Watchers for Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Records also disclose that in many cases, for reasons of health, he has been advised by his physician to reduce. Success stories on weight reduction and health improvement with senior citizens are numerous.

One gentleman from Wrentham in his sixties had been treated by his doctor for high blood pressure, arthritis and a heart condition. He joined a Weight Watchers class in Wrentham and at the end of 10 weeks again visited his doctor.

His weight was down, blood pressure normal, and no sign of a heart condition. At the end of 21 weeks and 70-pound weight loss, he reached "goal." (the weight suggested for him by Weight Watchers) and had another excellent report from his doctor on the condition of his health.

A 69-year-old grandmother from Peabody had been carrying excess weight around for many years until she joined Weight Watchers. After 20 weeks of class sessions and rigid adherence to her diet, she lost 33 pounds. She says she feels wonderful and is proud of her accomplishment.

A Marblehead grandmother in her sixties had very high blood pressure, suffered a stroke and was advised by her doctor to lose weight. She has lost 55 pounds since joining Weight Watchers and feels like a new woman.

A 68-year-old Fall River woman has lost 70 pounds, feels fine and is about to receive free lifetime membership from Weight Watchers for achievement on reaching her "goal."

Weight Watchers is an educational program to teach the overweight how to eat sensibly. There are no pills to take, no exercises to perform.

Members meet in weekly classes with other obese people and learn new ways to eat, following a diet based on one recommended by the New York City Health Obesity Clinic. The diet is basically a high protein, low caloric one.

Some 50,000 men, women, teenagers from Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island have joined Weight Watchers since it was organized in 1964 with a total weight loss now over one million pounds!

County Spends 44 Per Cent On Education

What does it take, in the way of money, to meet Middlesex County's educational needs? How much is spent in other localities?

What proportion of the local budget goes for school construction and maintenance, for teachers salaries and for other school costs?

Just as in most other communities across the country — the largest as well as the smallest — local officials are faced with the problem of providing, with the amount of money available, sufficient educational facilities and opportunities to meet the ever-growing demand.

A Federal study of expenditures for education at the local level, covering all parts of the country, shows that such costs usually amount to nearly as much as all other costs combined.

In Middlesex County, the figures indicate, approximately 44 per cent of all public spending is for education. In some communities the proportion is somewhat lower than that and, in others, quite a bit more.

Nationally, the average is 48 per cent. It is 39 per cent in the State of Massachusetts.

The analysis of local governmental expenditures, made every five years, is based upon data compiled by the Department of Commerce for its current "Census of Governments." The previous one was in 1962.

The report shows that total spending in Middlesex County for public purposes amounted to $305 per local resident in the year. Of this, $134 was for education.

In other counties across the country, the per capita cost of education averaged $146. Throughout Massachusetts, it came to $127 at the local level.

According to a survey of 1,200 school districts, made by School Management Magazine, the average school is spending 13 per cent more per pupil this year than last.

The current outlay is $582 per elementary pupil, compared with $516 in 1969, and $757 per secondary pupil, as against $671 previously.

The increase has had litle effect, however, on the quality and quantity of education that children receive, it finds. The extra money represents higher operating costs.

"Until inflation cools down, school districts that increase spending will, in effect, simply be spinning their wheels," it concludes. (Park Row News Service)

Selectmen

Dog Officer

Edward P. Lynch of 48 White Street was voted by the Board of Selectmen to serve as dog officer for the Town. Mr. Lynch reported to the members that he had the facilities in which to keep dogs and that because he both lived and worked in Winchester, he was available to carry out the position, particularly during school hours.

His appointment will relieve the Police Department of this duty; a job which has been causing them inconvenience. The Chief of Police was serving as acting dog officer prior to the Monday decision.

The first hearing dispatched at this meeting was that concerning the dredging of Davidson Park on the Mystic Lakes. Albert A. MacDonnell, chairman of the Park Commission, was present, as were several interested residents. The purpose of the public hearing was to determine if there was anyone opposed to the dredging. No objections were voiced.

This procedure will involve the dredging, cleaning, and "beautifying" of the lagoon. Concerning the reshaping of the water body, Mr. MacDonnell said that it will be made deeper in order to pick up the slack of in-coming water and it will be reduced in width. The same amount of water will be entering the area. Responding to a query about flood control, he stated that there has never been any control for flash flooding. This condition will remain basically unchanged.

Terming the project a "great improvement at the lip" of this region, Chairman MacDonnell noted that landscaping will be included. Good loam and topsoil will be used in completing the site.

One resident commented on the problem of mosquitos and odor. This was reiterated by Robert M. Winn, Town Meeting Member from the Sixth Precinct, who said that several citizens from his area had contacted him on this problem. Mr. MacDonnell intends to consult the Board of Health on this matter.

The project, which has been in the sight of the State Department of Natural Resources and the State Division of Inland Waterways, is in the hands of the Town engineers and related Town employees. A contractor will be responsible for the actual dredging work which is scheduled to be undertaken in the fall of this year. Mr. MacDonnell hopes that Federal funds for this work may be available in the future. Selectmen Chairman Ralph M. Swanson added that money is being drawn from a special article as well as from the Park Department budget.

Housing Authority

During the evening an interview was conducted with the newly assembled Winchester Housing Authority. Present from this group were John L. Doherty, Mrs. Mary Murphy, Vincent Celia, and Charles T. Doucette Jr. The Board of Selectmen in the words of Chairman Swanson wished the Authority success with the "big tough job" before them, and said that they were "pleased with our choices."

Mrs. Murphy was appointed as temporary chairman. The Authority was scheduled to conduct its first meeting at 8:15 that evening, however, due to the unavoidable absence of Charles Craven it was postponed. Mr. Craven is the Governor's appointee to this body and his presence as such is required at the first meeting.

In other matters Miss Janet Sacks of Belmont appeared before the Board. She will be an administrative intern working for the Town this summer. A sophomore political science major at Grinnell College in Iowa, Miss Sacks spent last summer working in the office of Boston Councilman Thomas Atkins. She has had experience doing code work, as well as being famliar with the operations of town governments.

At their next meeting the Selectmen plan to take action concerning the American Used Computer Corporation. Such attention is necessary as the Town's lease ran out as of Sunday, May 31.

While recalling the meeting held on Thursday, May 28, between M.D.C. Commissioner John W. Sears and Town officials on problems that Winchester is experiencing in its M.D.C. region, Chairman Swanson and Mr. Saltmarsh both expressed strong desire to obtain official data and recommendations from various of the State agencies on pollution of the Mystic Lakes and Aberjona River.

Other items processed on the docket included acceptance of the recommendation of Police Safety Officer Donald Pigott for parking one one side only of Westley and Nelson Streets. Approval was also give on the recommendation of Fire Chief I| Francis Amico of the appointment of Nicholas J. Dizio of 59 Wendall Street to the call force of the Fire Department and to the re-instatment of Paul J. Haggerty of 11 Eaton Street to the department.

One outstanding display at the Art Festival was the exhibit produced by Winchester school children under the direction of Thomas Tracey of the Senior High School art department and his art staff specialists. Included here were wood carving, ship models, paintings, ceramics, copper plaques, and many other media. The children offered competition for their adult counterparts, however, none of their work was for sale.

The Business and Professional Association of Winchester conferred its award for the best window display arranged for the Arts Festival to the Gift Boutique, 542 Main Street.

Art works were submitted not only by local artists, but also by contributors from the communities of Bedford, Woburn, Burlington, Arlington, Reading, Somerville, Lexington, Melrose, Stoneham, Malden, Boston, Belmont, Billerica, Saugus, Wakefield, Brookline, Wellesley, Medford, Newton, and Watertown.

The very successful Art Association program was arranged and organized by Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Brown, Mr. and Mrs. James Maxwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Berberian. They were assisted by Dan Ladd, photography chairman; Mrs. James Barger and Mrs. Donald Redpath, co-chairmen of the hostess committee; Mrs. Kenneth Astill and Mrs. William Zettler, co-chairmen for publicity; Mrs. Andre Terneulen and Mrs. Robert Johnson in charge of arts and crafts; Mrs. Richard Spencer, children; Graham Hunt, properties; Mrs. Ralph Detra, registration and sales chairman; and co-chairmen of correspondence, Mr. and Mrs. V. Amos.

Miss Keleher Receives Honor At Graduation

Miss Ursula Keleher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul C. Keleher of 117 Church Street, received a bachelor of arts degree from the College of New Rochelle in Westchester County, New York, at commencement exercises on Sunday, May 24.

MISS URSULA KELEHER

An art major, Miss Keleher was awarded the Joseph L. McGoldrick, M.D., Art Award. While at New Rochelle, she was a member of the Athletic Association and served on the staff of "Annales," the college yearbook. She is a graduate of Marycliff Academy.

"Slower speeds are demanded on rainy surfaces to keep tires hugging the road. Fast speeds only create hydroplaning or skiing conditions — and makes it difficult to control the car — difficult, indeed, if not fatal."

Commissioner Sears reported that Winchester is included in a $10 million bond issue for a recreational facility near the Winchester-Medford line. The Town will be consulted on this project.

Land Swap

Concerning the land toward Wedgemere Station which is owned by the Town and by the MDC, Representative Chadwick tentatively suggested a land swap. Commissioner Sears rejoined that this might be possible, noting that State agencies can both sell land to towns and take property from towns.

Chairman Swanson mentioned a request from Fire Chief I. Francis Amico that roads in the Fells be maintained to a point that fire equipment could use them. Drainage was cited as the principle problem here. Mr. Sears said that there might be a potential in the use of a clean-up crew composed of the National Guard, Department of Natural Resources, MDC, House of Correction, and others.

The problem of heavy algae accumulation on Wedge Pond was discussed. When the legal right of Woburn to shut the feeding waterway off was questioned, Professor Hanes informed the audience that an 1800's law did give sanction to this. Representative Chadwick said that he believed Wedge Pond was a matter on the State Department of Public Health list.

Also mentioned at the meeting were a petition by abutters on Mystic Lake to allow small motor boats, a request to replace cherry trees along Mystic Valley Parkway, and one for repair of two footbridges over the Aberjona River near Ginn Field.

The meeting concluded on the suggestion that it may be necessary to have a separate meeting between Winchester's Water and Sewer Board and the MDC at a future date.

District Court

On Wednesday, May 27, a 24-year-old Winchester man was sentenced in Woburn District Court to one year in the Billerica House of Correction for assault and battery, to six months for disturbing the peace, to six months for the malicious destruction of property, and to a $5 fine for drunkenness.

His arrest was made on April 25 following disturbances that evening at the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Sons of Italy headquarters. Officers John E. Guarante, Frank Vozzella, Peter R. Morgan, and John J. Frongillo participated in his apprehension.

The defendant was responsible for damage at each of the headquarters, for beating another man at the VFW, and was violent in resisting arrest. The injured man was treated at Winchester Hospital, including six stitches under one eye, and released.

Established years ago by this club as one of several functions sponsored each year to benefit Washington School children, the event now encompasses competitive races, games, refreshments, and entertainment. It is hoped that a commercial-type ride used last year will be available again.

This will be the final event this year for Dads' Club members on a school-wide basis. Everyone is urged to make it a success.

Congratulations, Graduates

Releases are pouring into the Star office this month telling of achievements and honors of Winchester students at colleges and schools across the country.

We are proud of our graduates and we congratulate them on their fine efforts.

From the students and their justifiably proud parents, we ask patience with our reporting of the graduations. And we here reprint the Star's policy on graduations:

1. Notices of graduations must come from the school or college unless a parent has been asked by the institution to notify us or if he feels as time goes by that the school has not sent it to us.

2. We use pictures as they come in from the institutions. Often there are stories about five graduates and only three pictures are sent. Usually the omission occurs when a student has failed to comply with the school publicity office's request for a picture.

3. When there is more than one graduate we must print the material as it is sent to us. We can not print major, clubs, offices, etc., for one student and only names and degrees for two others from the same school.

John Cahill Is Named At Lynch

John A. Cahill has been elected by the School Committee to the position of assistant principal at Lynch Junior High School.

Mr. Cahill has been acting assistant principal since the resignation of David Tenney. He has his bachelor of science degree from Boston College and his master of education degree from the State College at Boston and 45 hours of study beyond his Masters'.

Coming to Winchester in 1961 Mr. Cahill previously served as a teacher of mathematics and a guidance counselor at Parlin Junior High School in Everett from 1951 until he began his service at Winchester. From 1961 through 1967 he held the position of mathematics teacher and hockey coach at McCall Junior High School.

During the school year 1967-68 when the system had an acting Superintendent of Schools, Alfred Meurling became acting principal at McCall and Mr. Cahill was chosen as acting assistant principal there during that time. A firm background in guidance work and experience led the administration to comment on the competent manner in which he carried out his duties.

Following that assignment, there were no administrative assignments open. Mr. Cahill was transferred to Lynch Junior High School as a counselor in September, 1968. On the departure of Mr. Tenney, Mr. Cahill was appointed acting assistant principal and has been elected to that permanent assistant principalship at Lynch Junior High.

A letter of strong recommendation from Principal Gardner Handy was read at the meeting when the appointment was made and according to Assistant Superintendent for Personnel Henry B. Perry, Mr. Cahill is considered to be a very able administrator.

ARMY FIRST LIEUTENATNT TERRENCE P. DOHERTY (right) is congratulated as he is awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroism in connection with military operations against a hostile force at ceremonies near Tay Ninh, Vietnam.

Lt. Doherty Is Awarded Bronze Star

Army First Lieutenant Terrence P. Doherty, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Doherty of 43 Washington Street, was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroism recently.

The Department of the Army reports that First Lieutenant Doherty distinguished himself by heroic action on March 5, 1970, while serving as a forward observer with Headquarters Company, First Brigade in the Republic of Vietnam.

On that evening, the Nui Ba Den Provisional Company came in contact with an enemy sniper team. "With complete disregard for his own safety, Lieutenant Doherty exposed himself to a hail of enemy fire as he moved from the safety of his bunker to a position directly in line with the enemy fire to more accurately assess the situation.

"After careful deliberation of the situation, Lieutenant Doherty called in artillery and gunships and adjusted their fire. His valorous actions contributed immeasurably to the success of the mission.

"Lieutenant Doherty's bravery and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division, and the United States Army."

At the same ceremony, Lieutenant Doherty was awarded another Bronze Star for meritorious service in Vietnam.

He is presently assigned as a forward observer in Headquarters Battery, Seventh Battalion, 11th Field Artillery of the 25th Infantry Division's First Brigade near Tay Ninh.

Lieutenant Doherty was graduated from Norwich University in Northfield, Vermont, with a bachelor of arts degree in 1968. He entered the Army in November, 1968, and was previously stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. He is also a holder of the Purple Heart.

Mental Health Praises Help

The Winchester Mental Health Association wishes to commend several students from Winchester High School for their "constant and cheerful" work in the mental health field as volunteers.

One such group of students went to the Bedford Veterans Hospital on a program of weekly visits from October, 1969, to May of this year. Besides contributing to the happiness of the men at the hospital, those girls who have acquired an interest in mental illness and its treatment may find new opportunities for future work.

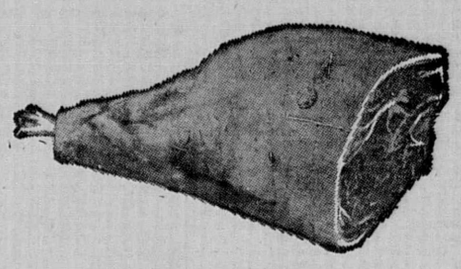

Another group of seniors assisted at the Children's Clinic of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Center, Lexington. As Big Brothers and Big Sisters they worked with individual children. Demanding and often frustrating, this service yields great dividents in satisfaction to all concerned.

Those who went to Bedford are:
Helen Bower, 19 Mystic Avenue
Karen Covino, 9 Sanborn Street
Barbara Doe, 372 Highland Avenue
Sumru Koprucu, 50 Allen Road
Dianne Luongo, 54 Loring Avenue
Patricia Ober, 4 Euclid Avenue
Elaine Parsons, 63 Sheridan Circle

Those who were Big Brothers and Sisters at Children's Clinic are:
Carole Cook, 10 Mayflower Road
Janice Richardson, 270 Main Street
Forrest Rivinius, 346 Main Street

Man's search for a "first cause" leads to both scientific and spiritual answers included in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.
Entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator," the Lesson-Sermon quotes from the prophet Isaiah: "As the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations."
The words and healing works of Christ Jesus are cited in these words from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "Physical causation was put aside from first to last by this original man, Jesus. He knew that the divine Principle, Love, creates and governs all that is real."

Six Weeks Adventure Approaches

The Six Weeks Adventure Committee is happy to announce that Mrs. Shirley Saunders has been appointed as director of afternoon recreation.

Mrs. Saunders is a graduate of Boston University's Sargent College and has been a teacher of physical education for several years. For two years while in Europe, she taught at an Army dependant's school and for the past three years has been working part-time for the Brookline school system.

With two children of her own, and such an extensive background of teaching plus additional work with retarded children, summer playground activities, teaching creative dance, as well as volunteer church work, Mrs. Saunders is well equipped to direct the busy afternoon program planned for this summer.

The afternoon program has openings for Winchester children, ages six through 12 to join the children from Boston, Monday through Friday, from noon to 3 p.m. Attendance at the morning academic program is not required. however, enrollments are limited eo either the first three week period, June 29-July 17, or the second three weeks, or the entire six weeks.

The cost will be inclusive. Interested parents may telephone Mrs. Alice Warren, 729-5677 for information concerning enrollment or if you are interested in becoming a volunteer. A meeting of volunteers and those interested in becoming junior counselors will be held on Tuesday, June 2, at 8 p.m. at 33 Thornberry Road. On Tuesday, June 9, same time and place, a meeting for adult volunteers is scheduled.

The central meeting place for recreation will be at the Unitarian Church, where lunch and indoor activities will take place. The children will participate in many indoor and outdoor activities and choose among several special interest programs such as ethnic cooking, photography, drama etc. Usual summer sports such as swimming, baseball, arts and crafts and special Winchester Trails trips will also be available.

Special interest and age groups will be kept together whenever possible to encourage friendships and continuity of interest. Field trips will be taken once a week, some of them will be to explore parts of the City of Boston not always visited by suburban children such as a trip to the North End, visiting inner city murals painted on brick walls, the Louisburg Square area of Beacon Hill and the Black Culture Museum on Charles Street.

Mrs. Maxine Anderson, a member of the Committee, will accompany Boston children on the bus each day. In addition, she will act as an "unofficial guide and counselor" at the Washington School during the mornings for the inner city children and assist the recreation program afternoons. For the past several years Mrs. Anderson has participated in Concord's Metco program, acting in much the same capacity, and therefore, brings experience which cannot be duplicated She has two children, a daughter attending Regis College and a son, Joseph, who attended last year's program.

Six Weeks Adventure Recreation will be held June 29-August 7 at the Unitarian Church, Monday through Friday, noon to 3 p.m. For information telephone 729-4234 or 729-5677 days, or 729-0587 evenings. Contributions may be sent to Six Weeks Adventure, c/o 15 Carriage Lane.

Cap League Lead Is Tied

by James R. Stewart Jr.

As a result of this past weekend's contests, Lincoln's Black Knights and Wyman's Wildcats maintained their unbeaten streak, each winning their fourth and fifth games.

Lincoln took the measure of the Parkhurst Maroons on Saturday to the tune of 8-1. Featured in the Black Knights' attack was Barry McQuillan's three-run triple to sew up the game. In the last inning, however, it was the clutch pitching of Guy Caparella that broke the heart of the Maroons when he came in to strike out the side with bases loaded.

Wyman School's Wildcats lived up to their name in their Saturday ball game as they stunned the Muraco Marauders 19-7. The game was practically iced in the first inning when Mark Aylward boomed two home runs in the first inning to spear his team to an 11-run inning. Muraco never gave up, however, as Danny Hanlon tried his best to duplicate the Wyman first inning by hitting a grand slam home run in the last inning in which the team scored 6 times.

On field 3 at Ginn, the Mystic Tigers kept pace with the league leaders as they scored their second shut out in three games as they blanked the Mystic Green Hornets 6-0. The Green Hornets couldn't make their sting felt among the Tigers' fur, and it was strictly a question of the number of runs the Tigers would score.

At West Side Field in a morning game, the Vincent-Owen Orioles gained their first victory as they downed the Washington Generals 4-1 in a tightly contested game. It was only 2-1 until the last inning when the Orioles took off for two insurance runs and held the Generals at bay in their turn at bat. The game was played in the morning to allow a free afternoon for the Washington ball players to attend the Scout jamboree.

In the afternoon game at West Side Field, St. Mary's Saints won their first game of the season by besting the Noonan Golden Eagles. St. Mary's finally got some excellent pitching and enough hitting to score their victory in a well played contest.

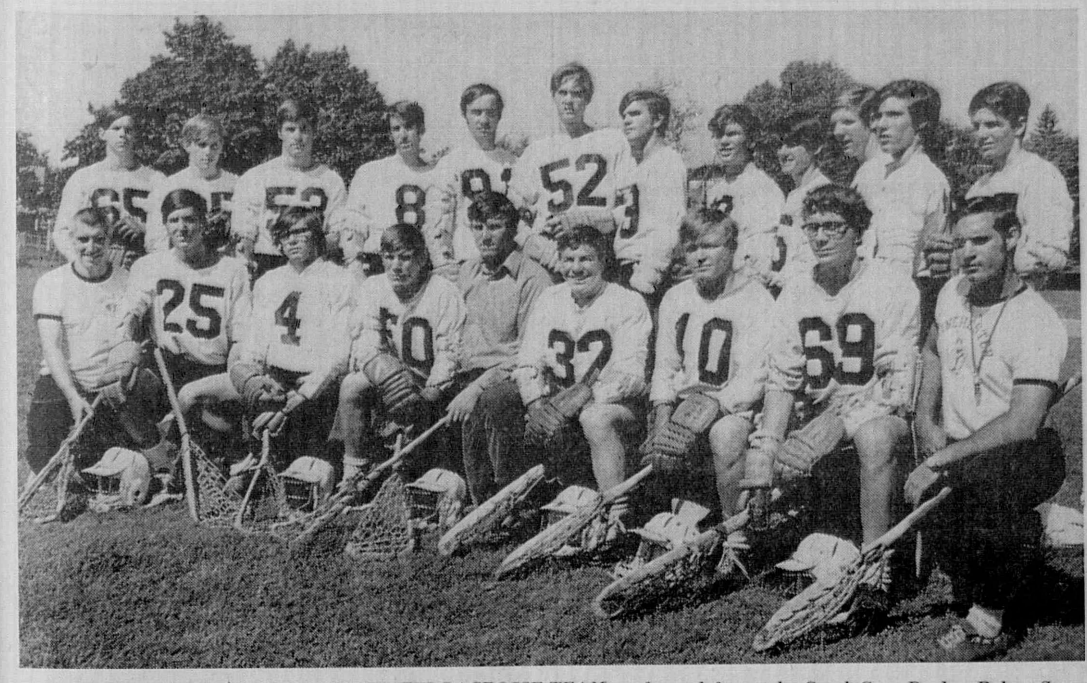

In the Sunday games, one of the teams in the triple first place tie fell by the wayside as, in an unimpressive game, the Wyman Wildcats eked out a 10-7 victory over the Mystic Tigers. In the other game played at West Side Field, the Muraco Marauders came back from their Saturday's loss to blast the Mystic Green Hornets 11-5.

At Ginn Field on Sunday Lincoln School's Black Knights scored their second shut out in three games by out hitting the Vincent-Owen Orioles 4-2, and scoring 3 runs to Vinson-Owen's 0. This has to be one of the tightest pitching duels of the season, and keeps Lincoln in a tie for first place in the Cap League.

St. Mary's Saints took their second game in a row, after three defeats by outscoring the Parkhurst Maroons 13-10 on Ginn Field, while the highest scoring game of the season occurred on field 1 where the Noonan Golden Eagles showed their talons and talents in smothering the ground troops of the Washington Generals 26-12.

Phil Kadesch Drops Match To State Finalist

Phil Kadesch, promising sophomore tennis player of Coach Don Stangel's Sachem team progressed through several rounds of the State tourney showing excellent form.

He was eliminated by Mark Harmeling of St. John's Prep in a match played at Weston by identical set scores of 6-2, 6-2. The St. John's player went on to be a finalist in the tourney but was defeated and ended as runner-up for the title.

Playing against opposition of this caliber and making a good showing is an unusual thing for a sophomore and augurs well for the Winchester team if Kadesch continues his remarkable progress.

Lacrosse Team Ends Season 11-4, Just Misses State Title, Trophy

by John F. Parrell

Coach Gene Bouley's lacrosse team had a highly successful season and finished as the high school champions for the eastern part of the state. They went undefeated as they swept through nine straight games to annex the title, dropping and winning two games to prep school teams.

Last Friday, May 29, Longmeadow High, the undefeated champion of western Massachusetts high schools, came to Leonard Field to meet the Sachems for the state title and the trophy awarded by the New England Lacrosse Association. Winchester started off as though they would bury the westerners, and piled up four quick first period goals. Phil Sampson netted a pair and Chris Osgood and Curt Woodward scored one goal each.

But this edge did not prevail long, as the Longmeadow team scored three before half time to make the score 4-3, the Sachems leading. Not only did the visitors score in the second period, but their offense began to control the play and a defensive shift was made to thwart all Winchester scoring attempts, particularly those of Phil Sampson.

The third period saw the Longmeadow group continue with these tactics. The advantage swung to their side. The local defense was unable to clear the ball to the offensive, so much of the play was close to the Sachem net. With this increased pressure the Winchester boys began to make mistakes. Several penalties forced them to play shorthanded. Gen Hardiman, the Longmeadow star, played an outstanding game as he dominated the play in the center of the field, as well as tallying three goals and an assist.

The Longmeadow boys have been playing many of the members of the fast private school league in their section. This experience helped to organize their play. The Sachem team has played better games, but in justice to Longmeadow's efforts, it must be admitted that as the title game went they deserved the victory for their fine comeback effort.

Playing Winchendon School the next day Winchester closed out their season with an 8-6 loss. Considering that Winchendon was 12-1 for the season in prep school company, the local team played an excellent game. Coming with less than a full day's rest after their defeat by Longmeadow , the Sachems played a surprising fine game.

Winchendon raced off to a half time lead of 7-2 as the Winchester team was shaking off the doldrums of Friday's setback. They rallied strongly in the second half to outscore Winchendon by 4-1, but could not overcome the advantage that Winchendon had already gained. The final score was 8-6.

Coach Bouley feels that the team has had a fine season. Their record is truly outstanding. The play of sophomore goalie Rick Murphy was a major factor. In the final game he turned away over 40 Winchendon shots. There will be many veterans returning next year, headed by leading scorer Phil Sampson, and the J V team will contribute several experienced players including sophomore George Evans who is their top goal getter.

The scoring leaders for the varsity team include:

	G	A	T
Phil Sampson	30	9	39
Gary Fincke	15	14	29
Bob Thomas	18	4	22
Chris Osgood	10	11	21

Luncheon Is Celebration Of Early Birds

The Early Birds team of the Vinson-Owen Mothers Bowling League celebrated their first place standing with a luncheon on Friday, May 29, at the home of team captain Nancy Vrotsos, 69 Thornberry Road.

Attending the luncheon were Mrs. Hildegard Coulter, Mrs. Irene Galitis, Mrs. Eleanor Nagle, and substitute team bowlers Mrs. Mary Ceruolo and Mrs. Anne McClafferty.

A fathom was arrived at as a measure of length by taking the distance from the tip of one little finger to the tip of the other when the arms are outstretched. It has been standardized at six feet and is used in measuring sea depths.

Pee Wee Soccer Team Won Boston Area Youth Title

Winchester's spirited Pee Wee soccer team captured the Boston Area Youth Soccer League championship last Saturday with a splendid 5 to 1 victory over Hudson, the nearest contender.

A victory in this match was imperative for the Wee Sachems. A loss would have given the title to Hudson.

Under these circumstances the Winchester boys were understandably tense during the early part of the match and found themselves under considerable pressure from the strong Hudson eleven. After ten minutes of scoreless play, Winchester settled down to play the type of soccer that brought them to an undefeated record.

The scoring was opened with a fine goal by William Strazzullo, who positioned himself in front of the Hudson goal to drive home a pass from the right wing. Hudson replied with an equalizing goal a minute later. Paul Austin put Winchester back in the lead with one minute remaining in the first half.

The second half saw Winchester roar down the field and completely dominate the remaining 30 minutes. Matt McGroary scored the third and game-clinching goal. With the score 3-1 and the game safely 'n hand, many of the starting eleven were rested, but scoring continued as Mark Bumiller and Allyn Stillman each added a goal.

As recognition of their splendid season, the Wee Sachems will be custodians of the John Neil League Victors Cup for one year. The victory cup will be presented to the Winchester team by league officers on Sunday, June 7, at McDonald Field at 3:15 p.m. All parents and friends are welcome to attend this brief ceremony in honor of these talented boys.

Double Header Soccer Planned For This Sunday

A double header soccer game featuring the Winchester Pee Wees and the Winchester Bantams will be played at MacDonald Field on Sunday, June 7, at 2 and 3:15 p.m., respectively.

The teams stand as Pee Wees 3-0-3 versus Hudson 2-2-2, and Bantams 5-3-0 versus Needham 4-1-3. It is the last scheduled game for the Bantams before the cup playoffs. A win against Needham will place them third in their standings.

These are four good teams that will afford two hours of entertainment. Needham drew a crowd of 75 last Sunday at their home game. Support these Winchester boys by attending their games.

Sachems Win Tri-Championship, Share Middlesex League Title With Stoneham And Woburn

John F. Parrell

After 17 long innings of tense hard-fought baseball, Coach Bill Colella's scrappy nine bested Stoneham for the second time this season to pull even at the league peak. Woburn shares the title. All three teams sport a 14-4 record. The Middlesex League named them tri-champions, so there will be no playoff.

Ten of the 17 innings were washed from the slate on Tuesday as a torrential downpour halted action after ten tension packed innings. Each team had four runs on the score board. They started again on Wednesday. With George Greenwich hurling superbly Winchester clinched the tri-title by a 3-1 victory.

Then came the matter of selecting the two teams to represent the league in the eastern state tourney. Athletic Director John O'Connell of Concord conducted the drawing in which the team picked from the hat would represent the league as "number one." Strictly a matter of chance, it was not because one team "had the best record." Tanner coach "Doc" Sweeney made an ardent plea for Woburn's record since they had won two games from Winchester and one from Stoneham.

However, the athletic directors held that all were equally entitled and proceeded with the drawing. Woburn's slip was selected and they played Brockton of the Suburban League, winning a tight one by 1-0.

That left Stoneham and the Sachems to play for the second tourney spot, also meaning rivalry for a third consecutive day. The pressure could be detected in the fact that between them the two teams made nine errors. The result was in doubt until the final moment when Stoneham's ace Dave McDowell came in from center field to get Steve Swanson on a pop foul to the third baseman. Sachem runners were on second and third, representing the deadlocking and go ahead runs.

When the smoke and dust of action had cleared away, Stoneham was in front 6-5 and had finally beaten Winchester for the first time this year. This gave them the second tourney spot, however they fell out in the first round as Newton scored three early runs for a 3-1 final tally. It has been a great season for all three top teams, each dominating the league from the very first game.

The Middlesex League has had a unique season with only two games in which the winning team has scored over ten runs and none in which both teams were in double figures. Considering that this covered 90 league contests, it seems that both pitching and defense have been excellent.

The box scores of all three games with the Spartans show how the statistics of the action affected the final results. However, no words could clearly depict how much effort went into each pitch, every swing of the bat, and every fielding play.

Two situations stand out clearly in these games. In the sixth inning of the finale Chuck Rotondi came to bat with two outs and singled cleanly to center field. The runner on base ahead of him made third, but held tight to the bag without rounding it even a few feet. The Stoneham player who took the cut-off then threw to second to nail the onrushing Rotondi for the third out ending the inning. If the runner at third had passed the bag by a couple of yards, it might well have caused a slight hesitation by the Spartan fielder, and the runner might have reached second base successfully. However, that would only rate as second guessing, and should not be regarded as an excuse.

But what happened in the seventh was far more damaging and brought about the final result. Bill Wolfe came to bat with a runner on first base and two outs. He had gone down on strikes in his last time at bat. This time he laced a high liner about 40 feet in the air to deep right field. It rolled down the hill to the swimming pool. Bill was well on his way to third when the fielder retrieved the ball and Salvucci had crossed the plate with the apparent game-tying marker. However, the umpire ruled it a ground rule double and ordered the runners back to second and third. Then came McDowell and the pop foul to the capable Joe Caprio who clutched it for the final out. Had Wolfe hit to any other spot, it would have been a certain home run.

To name stars in these three games would require too much space, but certainly the pitching of Bruce Mullen and George Greenwich for the Sachems and that of Tim Anderson in relief and Dave McDowell in all three games for the Spartans were high spots.

Some fine outfield catches by Joe Campo and Bill Wolfe will be remembered, as well as the sensational third base play of Caprio.

There were also the game-saving efforts of George Greenwich on a pop foul, as well as his pitch which broke up a squeeze hunt as Steve Swanson threw to third to trap the runner and snuff out the threat of another Stoneham run.

All in all it has been a wonderful year for the Sachems who richly deserve their share of the tri-crown. The Tanners and Stoneham were also good sound teams and earned their share of the title.

The best way to look at the situation is to paraphrase the old adage "half a loaf is better than none" to "one-third of a championship is better than none." The playoff for second tourney spot was anticlimactic, but it was great fun. It is nice to end the season with the sentiment of the fans "Hail to the Champs!"

Soft Ball Team Is Being Formed By Rotary Club

Winchester Rotary Club is organizing a soft-ball team from its membership this year. Games are scheduled with both the local Kiwanis and Lions clubs, a friendly Winchester Tri-Club competition.

No hard-core rivalry is intended. No trophies, awards, pennants or championships are being contested. Simple soft-ball league rules will be observed. The Park Department has made a playing field available to us.

Participation with other neighboring Rotary clubs is being encouraged. Further information and arrangements for inter-city Rotary games may be obtained from team manager, Rotarian Dave Klein, who originated this idea with our club, Winchester Drug Company, 729-1940.

These plans should in no way be construed as being sponsored by Rotary International or under RI's official auspices. It is merely a wish to foster closer association with neighboring Rotary communities. It could prove to be a welcome diversification to many of us from our daily business routines with basic Rotary friendship as the foundation, these plans should be worthy of member interest and consideration.

Big League Applications Are Closing

Big League play begins on Monday, June 8, therefore, all applications with dues must be received by Duane Belden, 50 Thornberry Road, 729-5824, on or before Saturday June 6. Application blanks are available from Mr. Belden and Bill Tobey, 24 Park Road, 729-4464.

Tryouts will be held Saturday, June 6, 9 a.m. at Manchester Field for all candidates who did not play in Big League during the 1969 season.

Due to business pressures Hal Mullen regrettably has announced his resignation as manager of the Cardinals. Mr. Mullen, known as the "Father of Big League" and the manager with the uncanny ability to win his league title at all levels, will be sorely missed by both Winchester Little League and the Town. A sincere vote of thanks to Mr. Mullen for his nine years of personal effort in teaching winning baseball in Winchester.

Keith Doty Earns State Meet Place

by John F. Parrell

All class finals for the eastern state track meet were held last week at White Stadium. Winchester's only survivors were the half mile relay team of Mike Deshler, John McHugh, Rich Cantillon and Keith Doty. The latter also was entered in his special event, the 220.

The relay boys turned in a fine performance to finish in second place, but were disqualified and lost their points. It was a question of stepping out of the lane on the first turn, where many pileups occur. Although the Sachem foul did not cause any trouble the officials blew the whistle. This turn of events was a great disappointment to the speedy local quartet as they had hoped to qualify for the all class finals, and to lower the school time record which they already hold.

Doty fared better in the 220, although he was off to a bad start, being the last to appear out of the shute used for this event. However, at the finish he was closely pressing the winner, Wilson of Dartmouth. This week he hopes to get off the mark fast, and with the speed he has been flashing through the season, he may well come through as a winner, or at least a leader, in the all class jamboree.

Sachems Receive Trophy

by John F. Parrell

Coach Manny Marshall and Co-Captains Mike Gilberti and Dave Scott of last year's undefeated Middlesex League football champions were awarded a large trophy last week at the annual sports dinner for All Star teams held by the Record-American.

The affair covered football, basketball and hockey and was held at Vallee's Steak House, Newton. Dick O'Connell, vice president and general manager of the Red Sox. took this opportunity to urge the boys to work for leadership and scholarship.

The trophy is symbolic of their co-championship of Division II with Swampscott, according to the rating system of the Record-American sports department.

It was a well deserved honor to a team only hundredths of a point off the top under the antiquated system used to rate high school football teams. It is hoped that sooner or later the Headmasters Association will take a stand which will help eliminate the injustices of the system now close to 40 years old.

Co-Captain Gilberti's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Gilberti, 7 Clematis Street, were among the invited guests as their son received a framed cartoon of the All Star team and a wrist watch honoring his status as quarterback. Co-Captain Scott was also awarded a wrist watch, recognition of the scrappy co-leader who had worked so hard for his team in spite of harrassing physical difficulties.

This was a fitting end to the saga of one of the finest football teams that ever represented Winchester. It is hoped that the trophy will be placed on public display in the near future.

National Bank Offers Poster Of Bobby Orr

Just imagine a 36 by 24 inch poster of Bobby Orr scoring the goal that won the Stanley Cup for the Boston Bruins on May 10 of this year. The Winchester National Bank is offering these posters free to anyone who visits their offices and makes a request.

But the supply of this full action photograph is limited. Better hurry.

Pre-cut letters for sign making. Five sizes to select from. Just glue to signs, May be painted colors as desired. At the Winchester Star.

White-Smith Win Town Draw Tennis Doubles

In a final match, postponed from the Memorial Day weekend, Ted White and Larry Smith won the men's division of the annual town draw tennis doubles tournament on Thursday, May 28.

They defeated Dick Kadesch Jr. and Owen Cote in a see-saw match 2-6, 6-1, 6-3. It made White the only double champion of the tournament, previously having annexed a share of the mixed doubles title.

Kadesch and Cote started out as though they were going to breeze through the match, winning the first set with ease. Then both experienced numerous errors. White and Smith took advantage of their opportunities, gained the upper hand during the second set, and maintained superiority to the end.

This marked the conclusion of another successful town tennis tournament. The regular town tennis championships will be held over several weekends during the Labor Day period.

Umpires Selected For Lions Club Soft Ball Game

Volunteering their services for the task of umpires at the upcoming soft ball game between the Play Boy Bunnies and male staffers of the Boston Globe are several Winchester men. The local Lions Club is sponsor.

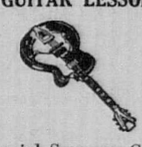

Acting as umpires will be Bob Fiore, Michael Saraco, Leo Boodakian, Frank Klayda, Bill Hicks, and Michael Boodakian.

Proceeds will go to the Massachusetts Lions'Club Eye Research Foundation. Tickets are being sold in advance and at the gate for the game which will be held at Manchester Field on Monday, June 8, at 6:30 p.m.

A cook out, at which both Bunnies and reporters will be guests, will follow under the direction of the Lions Club.

Duplicate Bridge Club

As usual on the second Wednesday of the month, June 10th, the Club will have a special section for bridge players who would like to try duplicate. The game starts at 7:30, and new players are welcome.

On Wednesday, May 28th, ten tables settled down in Section A. There was one big game in each direction; Ellen Schofield and Lena Collins were the North-South winners, while East-West, Don Dalrymple and Bob Haskell were first.

North-South

Ellen Schofield and Lena Collins	108
Donna Redppath and Stephen Haseltine	90½
Elodie Flewelling and Ruth Hagan	90
Dr. and Mrs. Robert Blackler	88
Lee Salani and Sally Sabo	84

East-West

Don Dalrymple and Robert Haskell	111½
Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cade	91½
Anne Galpin and Madalyn Walworth	90½
William Duryea and Clarence Woodward	88
Gerald Barrett and Edmund Joyce	84½

In Section B two club members often in the winners' column, — Nancy Atkinson and Barbara Shea, were first North-South; East-West Leo and Frank Gonsalves scored the best.

North-South

Nancy Atkinson and Barbara Shea	140
David Littleton and Harvey Vine	125
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wassmuth	121½
Helen Mahoney and Anne Murray	118½
Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Root	118½
Martha Joslin and Anna Hansen	117½

East-West

Leo and Frank Gonsalves	143½
Charles Dyjak and Anthony Ferdinand	133
Muriel Davis and Carolyn Wittet	123½
Tom Barry and Don Howard	113

Board 12 from Section B (North-South vulnerable, East the dealer, and the hand rotated for convenience) is one of those cliff-hangers featuring a nice long major suit in each directoin, the problem being how high do you bid before deciding to set the opposition.

North
♥ Q
♦ 9 8 7 3 2
♣ A Q 8 5 2

West

♥ J 8 2

South
♠ A Q 10 9 6 4 3
♥ 5 4 3
♦ A 6
♣ 10

At our table East opened with a weak two-heart bid, showing six hearts and under an opening bid on points. South bid two spades, West said three hearts, and North and East passed.

South then bid three spades, doubled by West, North passed, and after considerable thought, East bid four hearts. Passes by South and West put the decision up to North who had said nothing throughout the biding. What would you do?

Our North felt that his hand improved as soon as East decided he couldn't stand the three spades doubled, for that implied that West had the missing high cards such as the King of clubs. And since South went to three spades by himself, surely the Ace and Queen of clubs, plus ruffs in the heart suit, should give him a chance for making the four spades. Besides East-West might make their four-heart bid. So North bid four spades, and everyone passed.

South also took account of the bidding in playing the hand. A heart was led by West, and of course a spade return was called for to stop any ruffing in hearts, but East didn't have one.

South took the diamond return with the Ace, finessed the club Queen, and played the Ace of clubs, discarding South's six of diamonds.

South then ruffed a diamond in his hand, ruffed a heart in dummy, another diamond and another heart. He then ruffed a club in the South hand and led a spade for West to take, and all West has to lead back is a spade. Four spades thus makes, East-West taking the Ace of hearts and two spade tricks.

The hand was well played. It is important to strip out the suits so that West has no exit card and is forced to lead trumps.

Th traveling score slip showed an even division; six North-Souths played in spades from two to five, and five East-Wests played in hearts from three to five, with varying results. For example, one three spades doubled by North made four, and one three spades doubled by North went down two.

Our North-South was the only pair bidding and making four spades, and there was only one East-West bidding and making four hearts (must have had the Ace of spades lead).

Church Sponsors Lecture Entitled "Loving To Live"

It is the living of God's love in human life that alone will counteract the rising tide of fear, frustration, and hate in the world.

This statement was made by Grace Bemis Curtis, C.S.B., of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, at a public Christian Science lecture on Friday, May 22, titled "Loving to Live," given in Winchester.

Speaking of the primary importance of love, she said: ". . . The deepest, most fundamental need of the human heart is for love . . . It is essential to life."

Free Christian Science lectures are presented throughout the world as a community service by The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston and its more than 3,000 branches. Miss Curtis is a member of The Christian Science board of lectureship. Her lecture was sponsored by the First Church of Christ Scientist, Winchester.

Winchester's enrollment objective is $5,000. Each of the 20 communities in the Minuteman Council is conducting such an enrollment. Thomas A. Morse Is Audio Visual President

Thomas A. Morse, coordinator of instructional aids and special programs in Winchester public schools, was elected president of the Massachusetts Audio Visual Association at the annual Spring Media Conference in Chicopee on Wednesday, May 20.

THOMAS A. MORSE

Outgoing president Dr. Fred Pula of Boston College passed the gavel over to the new president, Mr. Morse, who then spoke briefly on the aims and programs for MAVA 1970-71. It was also announced at the meeting that Mr. Morse has been selected to attend the Lake Okoboji Educational Media Leadership Conference. The annual conference is held in Iowa under the joint sponsorship of the University of Iowa and the department of audio Visual instruction of the National Education Association. Only 80 delegates are selected from the 50 states.

Theme speaker for the Spring Conference was Frank McInerney, executive assistant to the president of American International College. He related the problems of campus unrest to the need for change in colleges and universities as well as high schools throughout the country. He stated that the 70's will call for greater leadership by media specialists and that film study and media competence will become a "must" for both teachers and students in the years ahead.

Pre-cut letters for sign making. Five sizes to select from. Just glue to signs, May be painted colors as desired. At the Winchester Star.

School Committee Discusses SEEM, Kindergartens

The Winchester School Committee convened Monday evening, June 8, in the multi-purpose room at Muraco School to conduct a public hearing on the Muraco School study and carry out additional matters on its agenda.

In matters other than this hearing, the Committee heard an informational report from Mrs. Marjorie Shaw, director of Special Education for Education Mutual (SEEM), and continued to discuss the proposed entrance of pupils to kindergarten classes on a staggered basis. Approval was also given to conversion of McManus House into an arts center as the McCall Junior High School Annex.

Acting as chairman of the committee in the absence of Mrs. Harriet Dieterich for this evening was Vice Chairman Dr. Richard B. Lawrence.

Mrs. Shaw informed Committee members that the program for SEEM was expanding so that it now encompassed instruction for the mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed, and deaf and blind. The goal of teachers in this project is to rehabilitate pupils so that they may return to ordinary classes following an ideal period of two years instruction.

Seven new classes will be initiated for 1970-1971, she explained. She also reports that scheduling of intercommunity busses has posed no problems as yet. When the program was begun in 1969 preference in distributing children and classes throughout the seven member community was given to the location of teachers. Now location is usually determined according to the largest body of students with a specific disability.

Mrs. Shaw also stated, concerning the difficulty which Winchester is experiencing with the legality of payments for participation in SEEM, that the program is working legally in accordance with the Federal government and the State Department of Education.

Kindergartens

Committee members resumed a discussion from two previous meetings of the proposed staggered entry of children to kindergarten classes starting this fall. A motion to continue further discussion of this subject for the next regular School Committee meeting was approved.

Committeeman Stephen Parkhurst urged that there might be alternatives to this proposal for reducing the disturbing effects on children of initial entry into schools. He suggested exploring the possibility of an orientation day or the use of teacher aides.

Expressing their approval of the "staggering" concept were Dr. Clare M. Corcoran, principal of Vinson-Owen, and Miss Paula Y. Caffrey, principal of Noonan. Dr. Walter Gleason, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, also favors this approach, noting that it would serve as an introduction to the Montessori-type direction which educators are taking.

Donate Blood Before Going On Vacation

A plea to residents of this area planning their vacations to include a blood donation in their preparations is issued by the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross. A bloodmobile is scheduled to visit the Church of the Epiphany on Wednesday, June 17, from 2 to 7 p.m.

Accidents and illness never take a holiday and blood donations invariably dwindle to their lowest point in the summertime, while the need for blood, mainly because of summer highway accidents, frequently increases.

The solution is for all healthy Americans, age 8 through 65 to donate blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile next Wednesday. Call the Chapter House at 729-2300 for an appointment to avoid waiting.

Public Hearing Is Held Concerning Muraco Study

The Winchester School Committee conducted a public hearing on the subject of the Muraco School study as part of its regular agenda at their Monday night session, June 8. Responding to invitations from the school system's administration, approximately 150 concerned citizens attended the discussion.

Serving as the basis of the hearing was the study prepared by Dr. Robert A. Anderson and his group of second year doctoral students from Harvard University for a seminar in elementary education. The study was termed a "phase" in a series of reports on the open concept school by Dr. Richard B. Lawrance, acting chairman of the School Committee for this evening.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer extended his appreciation to Dr. Anderson, a member of the committee originally deciding upon the open space concept for the renovated school; Earle F. Littleton; Project Director Dr. Walter P. Gleason; and Assistant Project Director Richard H. Young for their efforts toward the success of the experiment.

Dr. Klemer stressed that by innovating this form of teaching and learning experience in a school, educators were striving for something beyond the acquirement of basic learning skills or factual memorization. Among these ideals to be implanted are self-knowledge and self-reliance, intrinsic motivation, facility with conceptualization and the ability to adapt to changing conditions, and fluidity of interaction with individuals and groups.

It was reiterated that such vague areas were not easily measured or evaluated. Therefore, Dr. Anderson noted, primary reliance for opinions expressed in the study were deduced from standard achievement tests showing comparative growth and two questionnaires, one received from members of the teaching staff and one from a sampling of parents. For the latter a total of 45 questionnaires were handed out with 25 being returned. Enrollment at Muraco presently falls below its rated capacity of 550 students.

Questions

In discussion among the audience, School Committee members, and Dr. Anderson, various points made in the study were brought up for expansion by researchers. One area in which clarification of data was requested was in the results of the Stanford Achievement Tests showing comparative growth in months at various levels. The scores represent the

Traditional Ceremony Is Observed At Commencement Of Class Of 1970

The 120th commencement exercises of a Winchester High School graduating class were observed in a haze of misty weather and tradition on Sunday evening, June 7, at Manchester Field.

Members of the class of 1970, clad in blue or white cap and gown, with the exception of one student, were cued by "Pomp and Circumstance" and the "National Anthem," as provided by the High School Band. At this time the Invocation, and later the Benediction, was read by the Rev. James A. Garrity of St. Mary's Church.

Listening and understanding were the themes of the "welcome" by John Puffer, class president, and of Barbara Dalton who delivered the senior address. John stressed trying to "really listen and understand" while Barbara urged that each person have both "an open ear and an open mind."

Principal W. Howard Niblock spoke of the many accomplishments of the senior class that would have been impossible if apathy had been in control at the High School. He included the yearbook, athletics, community service, campus plan, etc. With these ideas as preface he then began the awards portion of the ceremonies.

The Elizabeth L. Naven award went to the highest ranking senior who attended Noonan School and was presented by the Noonan School Parents' Association to Helen Baghdoyan. The Winchester College Club award was given to the girl with the highest scholastic record who planned to attend an AAUW accredited college, Theresa Salerno. Jaycee and Jayceette chapters in Winchester presented plaques to the boy and the girl demonstrating outstanding leadership, excellence of character, scholastic achievement and service to the community, Michael J. Gilberti Jr. and Barbara Dalton.

Mr. Niblock presented certificates to the National Merit Scholarship winners, Ann Dieterich and Margaret Cormack. He also announced winners of the PEO Sisterhood award, Leslie Darwin; Sons of Italy Award, Peter De Natale; and the award of the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society, Susan Ewing.

Remarks

Principal Niblock and Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer each devoted a part of their remarks to comment on the stress in the world, particularly in the academic community of the young.

Mr. Niblock connected this with education saying, "Our challenge is to provide the methods by which teachers, students administrators, parents, and the School Committee can, together, develop an educational program which will provide young people with the skills necessary to meet the everchanging needs of our world. We must be concerned with process as well as subject matter content - we must be concerned with creative skills and flexibility because such talents are sorely needed today.

Dr. Klemer, in words addressed to the seniors prior to the awarding of diplomas, also stressed an approach which these graduating students might take to contemporary situations, and congratulated them for their accomplishments in the areas of scholarship, sports, and the arts.

"In summary," Dr. Klemer concluded, "I say to this class of which we are all so proud, combine your strong feelings on the issues of national importance with the rationality and the knowledge that the faculty has earnestly tried to instill over the past years. Avoid scapegoating individuals and institutions, for this merely short-circuits your tremendous energy and zeal. It is necessary for the heart to feel, but it is not enough. —Add to this coolness and courage so that we can work together to pull this country through this period of national stress so we can again be known as a nation of optimists who blend the spirit with the hand."

Scholarships

Prior to offering scholarship awards Chairman of the School Committee, Mrs. Harriet Dieterrich, asked graduates to remember, "Earnest moral convictions are fine, but they won't take you far without skills." In order to work out the problems "You have to know what you have, what you might have, and what has been tried in the past."

She then presented scholarship awards on behalf of the School Committee as follows: Philip J. Blank Fund to John M. O'Leary Jr.; Forrest G. Brackett Fund to Richard K. Porter; Norman Prince Fund to Dean E. Hakanson; and the Jere A. Downs Trust to Janet L. Harris, Joseph H. Julian, James A. Phillips, Sandra A. Erbafina, James A. Mullare, Joan F. Duffy, Marilyn A. Shapleigh, Jean M. Cabral, and Rebecca A. Mas.

Trust Company Approved On High School Bond Sale; Computer To Be Purchased

Members of the Board of Selectmen moved to accept the low bid on the floating of bonds for the new high school project in Winchester at their Tuesday evening session, June 9. The Town awarded the sale of bonds amounting to $12 million to Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York at their current interest rate of six and a quarter per cent with a par value of 0.0582, included.

The sale of bonds was conducted earlier during the day in Boston. Bids attracted 79 houses on a nation-wide basis. Interest rates cited ranged up to 6.40 percent.

The original $12 million to be borrowed plus interest over the 15 year maturity will produce a total of approximately $18 million over this period. However, with a 40 per cent reimbursement from State School Building Assistance, a sum of $320,000 per year or $4,8000,000 over the 15 years, the net amount paid by the Town will be $13,200,000.

Urging the Board not to delay in the matter of the bond sale any further, Selectman member Paul Amico estimated that the Town has already lost from three to four million dollars due to past delay. It was noted that a six and a quarter interest rate was considered good and that waiting for a more opportune moment, such as six per cent rate, may be risky as well as futile.

Commenting further on this speculation, Town Treasurer Marguerite H. Troop informed members that the difference between six and six and a quarter per cent would not amount to a large sum relative to the other figures involved in this sale. She also noted that in July of this year the Town would have money freed for investment in treasury bills and certificates of deposit.

Computer

Taken as the last matter of business from the docket was a hearing conducted with the Methods and Procedures Committee concerning the purchase or replacement of the Honeywell 110 computer now in use by the Town. In action taken on this matter the Board of Selectmen approved the Town's purchase of the 110.

The alternatives with which the Board was faced at this time concerning a data processing machine for the Town involved either the aquirement of the 110 or its replacement with another computer from the American Used Computer Corporation.

In accordance with a request for technical data on these two machines, Harrison Chadwick spoke for the Methods and Procedures Committee. In summary, the total capital cost for conversion from the 110 to the proposed 200 machine would involve $15,880 plus an additional cost in electricity. This sum is composed primarily of one-time costs.

Among other information it was noted that the 200 was a five and a half year old machine, a discontinued model, presently in storage in a California warehouse. The 200 was accredited with the ability to increase its memory capacity, but in its present form was felt to have a capacity only equal to the 110. Concern over capacity is an outgrowth of the problem experienced last fall when the work load provided by the School Department caused the Town to experience trouble with its new computer venture.

When making his motion to purchase the 110, Selectman Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr. gave as rationale the lower total costs and cited the opinion of Town Comptroller James J. Costello that the 110 will be adequate for the Town's needs for a period of approximately 10 to 12 years.

The lease for the 110 expired as of May 31 of this year. The purchase price will fall within the sum budgetted of $80,000.

Boating Class For Adults Is Still Open

Adults are reminded by Summer School Director Frederick T. Murray that one of the classes in this program is especially designed for them. The U.S. Power Squadron Piloting Course meets Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. High school students are also encouraged to take advantage of this power boating course.

Features are the learning of skills in such areas as safety afloat, seamanship, small boat handling, equipment, government regulations, rules of the road, manners and customs, aids to navigation, charts and chart symbols, mariners compass, and chart work.

Completion of the course will result in the awarding of a Certificate of Merit. The course is tuition free, but a charge of $15 will be made to cover the cost of a textbook and required equipment.

Registrations are still being received at the Division of Instruction, 15 High Street.

Suggestions Could Prevent Home Burglaries

The week of June 15 through June 21 will be observed as Burglary Prevention Week. The Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association requests that all citizens aid and assist where at all possible to discourage and prevent burglary, and the loss from burglary, by taking the safety precautions recommended by their police department.

Chief Edward F. Bowler recommends the following:

Make the burglar think someone is home. Don't leave signs which say, in effect, "This house is empty." Leave a light or lights burning. Use a timer to turn lights on and off. Don't pull the shades down and leave them that way.

Check door locks. Many houses have good front door locks, but useless locks on other doors. Spring-latch locks can be opened with a celluloid or other plastic card, or with a knife blade or metal strip. Dead-bolt locks are secure. Many windows can be opened quite readily with a knife blade or other simple device inserted between the frames to turn the latch, or a pane of glass broken near the latch. This can be prevented by the use of safety latches or bolts.

If the house is going to be unoccupied for a lengthy period, have deliveries of newspapers, milk, and other articles stoppped. Have mail held at the Post Office or forwarded. Perhaps a relative, friend, or neighbor can see that mailbox does not advertise the absence. When the house is left unattended, make sure that all doors and windows are locked.

Have the lawn mowed. During the winter, have walks and driveway cleared of snow. Let a neighbor use the driveway to park his automobile to make it appear that someone is home.

Notify the police department of the dates of absence, how the resident can be contacted in an emergency, and who will have a key to the house.

Red Cross Swimming Levels Are Defined

As part of the recreation program being offered in Winchester this summer, American Red Cross swimming courses are being given. Registration for these classes will be held on Monday, June 29, at 10 a.m. at Leonard Pool. Children are requested to bring proof of previous Red Cross certification.

The following are descriptions of the various levels in swimming courses which may be elected:

Girl Nonswimmers:
Boy Nonswimmers:

There are no specific age requirements for this class. Knowledge of swimming skills is unnecessary. The boy or girl must only be able to understand and follow directions. The purpose of this class is to overcome any fear of the water that the nonswimmer may have and to teach him basic swimming skills.

Beginners:

There are no specific age requirements for this course. The beginner should have already overcome his fear of the water. The students will be taught basic swimming skills in order to make them reasonably safe in shallow water.

Advanced Beginners:

In order to take this course, applicants must have a beginner certificate. More difficult skills than were learned in the beginner course will be introduced. These skills will require additional coordination, stamina, and endurance. This course will enable the students to become quite adept in the water within a rather short period of time.

Intermediates:

In order to take this course, applicants must have an advanced beginner certificate. This course will introduce the elements of good swimming. The leg and arm movement of all of the basic strokes will be learned. The intermediate will learn to feel comfortable in deep water with his additional swimming knowledge.

Swimmers:

In order to take this course, applicants must have an intermediate certificate. This course is designed to perfect the skills learned in the intermediate course and to build up the swimmer's endurance and versatility in deep water.

Advanced Swimmers:

In order to take this course, applicants must have a swimmers certificate and a valid lifesaving and water safety certificate (either junior or senior). Additional strokes and swimming skills will be taught. The student who completes this course should be an outstanding all-round swimmer.

Lifesaving and Water Safety—Junior and Senior:

Junior—Applicants may be between the ages of 12 and 15 or in grade seven through ten inclusive in order to take this course. They must be in sound physical condition and able to pass a preliminary swimming test.

Senior—Applicants must be at least 16 years old or in the 11th grade in order to take this course. They must be in sound physical condition and able to pass a preliminary swimming test.

Junior and senior lifesaving and water safety deal with safety in and on the water and the ability to assist or rescue a person in danger of drowning. A student who finishes either junior or senior lifesaving and water safety should be capable of taking care of himself and be able to aid or rescue anyone in danger of drowning, when the rescue is possible.

Competitive Swimming:

In order to take part in competitive swimming, applicants must have either an intermediate, swimmer, or advanced swimmer certificate, or be in the process of taking one of these classes. Participants will be expected to have regular attendance. They should expect difficult work-outs, but these will be made worthwhile during the competitive spirit of swim meets.

Educators Pay Tribute To Miss Giggie

In tribute to a devoted teacher, relatives, colleagues and friends attended a service on Thursday, June 4, at the First Congregational Church in memory of Zella A. Giggie, Noonan School teacher who died Monday, June 1, after a long illness.

The service, held in Ripley Chapel, was conducted by the Rev. Oliver Powell. Serving as honorary ushers were: Messrs. James Allen, William Baugher, Francis Mead, Henry Perry and John Sexton.

Miss Giggie began her Winchester teaching career at Noonan School in 1954, coming from New Haven State Teachers' College where she had served as a critic teacher. Previously she had taught in Perham, Washburn and Presque Isle, Maine. She received her bachelor of science in education degree from the University of Maine in 1950. While carrying a full teaching schedule she worked after school and summers toward her master's degree from the same university, which she received in 1967.

Her principal, Miss Paula Y. Caffrey said of Miss Giggie: "Her loss to our school system, to the children of Noonan School in particular, is immeasurable. The teachers who had the privilege of working with her are richer from the experience. Her friends, too, have learned the lesson of bravery and grit in spit of intolerable pain, from this profile of courage."

Zella Giggie saw the role of the public schools as something more than the three R's. In her application in 1954 she wrote, "It is my belief that to help guide today's children to the best possible way of life with the greatest satisfaction in achievement is the role of America's public schools. This cannot be done by teaching only the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic any more than by ignoring them. With so many of our children coming from such a broad socio-economic background, one of our biggest problems is establishing and maintaining a respect for all ways of life and living, both present and past.

"Another obligation our public schools owe to society is that of helping each individual develop his own interests and life to such an extent that he makes good and happy use of his leisure time. With this very definitely becoming the scientific facts and skills which will build up to an understanding and appreciation of the world in which we live."

To preserve Miss Giggie's memory as a dedicated Winchester teacher, the Giggie family has requested that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to the Zella A. Giggie Memorial Scholarship Fund in care of Noonan School, 65 Canal Street.

McCall Parents Enjoy Program By Students

McCall Junior High music students presented a varied program Friday evening, June 5, before several hundred parents and friends. The concert was preceded by the annual meeting of the school's parents' association.

Opening the concert, John Woodworth directed the McCall orchestra's performance of a Suite by Jean Phillipe Rameau, the Minuetto from Haydn's Imperial Symphony, and several other selections.

The 64 voice mixed chorus included in its program numbers from "Fiddler on the Roof." A few weeks earlier director Paul Davis had arranged for the chorus to attend this musical.

Under the baton of Fred Murray the McCall band presented a group of interesting selections, among them the amusing "Cha Cha for Band" by Osser.

At its meeting earlier in the evening, McCall Associates elected the following executive board for the 1970-71 season: Mrs. S. Bennett Brenton, president; Mrs. John Andrick, vice president; Mrs. Ernest Benshimol, secretary; Mrs. Richard Cary, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Harris, membership; and Mrs. Richard Lawrence, publicity.

Also elected were, Mrs. Robert Grainger, social chairman; Mrs. William Wells, way and means; Mrs. Mario Covino, seventh grade room mother; Mrs. John Barcus, eighth grade room mother; Mrs. Daniel Test, ninth grade room mother; and Mrs. Charles Doe, luncheon chairman.

McDonald Fund Is Complete Now

The balance of the Elizabeth McDonald Memorial Fund, $181.41, has been presented to the Winchester Scholarship Fund. The purpose for which the fund was created and all of its obligations are now complete, it has been announced by Treasurer Charles H. Gallagher.

Contributions to the fund totaled $764 plus interest on deposits of $25.63, for a final figure of $789.63. Total expenditures for the memorial and its erection were $608.22. It was the balance of these two totals which was transferred to the Scholarship Fund.

J. Joseph Tansey was initiator of the project. Also devoting their efforts were the men working under the direction of Michael Connelly to establish the marker, doing the necessary grading, cement work, and piping for the sprinkler system.

The memorial is felt to be a fine tribute to the memory of an outstanding women. Mrs. McDonald had a lifelong interest in education and scholarship. It was felt by the committee that the payment of the unexpended balance to the Winchester Scholarship Fund would be a most appropriate manner in which to close the account.

AMERICA'S 2nd MESSIEST and LAZIEST DEPARTMENT STORE

Dear Friend of Building #19½:

My Handy Dandy Merchants Promotional Calendar tells me that this week's advertising should be devoted to Father's Day gifts. It also said last week's ad should have been, but I forgot to look at it. My wife has already bought my present — a new dress. She says she knows I enjoy seeing her in pretty things.

Here's a quick listing of items that would make nice gifts for Dad and nice profits for us. Every item carries the normal manufacturer's warrantee for parts and labor plus our own "no hard time" money-back guarantee. If your selection should fail to please for any reason whatsoever, you may return it within thirty days for a full refund.

Radios	Desk accessories	New wide ties
Stereos	Records & Books	Sport shirts
Cameras	Cigarette lighters	Dress shirts
Tape recorders	TV sets	Acushnet
Camera accessories	Nylon jackets	golf club covers
Wallets	Office furniture	Stereo tapes
Stereo components	Famous brand	Fishing kreels
Recliners	insulated bottles	Bermuda shorts

Of course there are dozens, possibly hundreds of other items but I'm too lazy to go hunting through this 20,000 sq. ft. jam-packed with surplus and salvage from insurance companies, railroads, trucking companies, bankruptcies, mail order houses, etc. This place is just about indescribable. There's nothing else like it cause no one else is as sloppy and lazy as I am — except Harry, and he's my partner. And no place else has such simple, sensible rules of operation as our Elegant Emporium. On the remote chance that you haven't memorized them (and as a sneaky way to fill this advertising space), here they are:

1. We sell genuine, 100% bona-fide BARGAINS. We guarantee that our price is the lowest in the state. If we're wrong, if we've missed on one, please tell us. We'll change the price (upon verification) and give you a bottle of delicious Chateau Pollay champagne, imported (from Shirley).

2. We sell everything, regardless of condition or low, low price, on a 100% money-back guarantee. The customer is the sale judge! If you are unhappy with any purchase for any reason (or no reason) return it within 30 days for a full refund.

3. We avoid work whenever possible. W-O-R-K is the dirtiest four letter word in the English Language. Since we can sell everything we get in only three days, why work four? We're open Fridays 9-9, Saturdays 9-5, and Mondays 9-9.

4. We extend credit only as far as our cash register. You'll be happier to come visit us if you don't owe us any money.

5. We deliver only as far as our shipping platform. Of course, we can arrange delivery with a trucking company, but at the buyer's expense.

6. We try to make this Mad Merchandise Maze a "fun place" to visit and browse about. We love to have you buy things but we never try to sell you anything.

So that's our story. What it all boils down to is come on over and see what this Weird Warehouse is all about. Bring your wife, your kids, and your checkbook. You'll have a good time!

Cordially,

Jerry Ellis

Public Library Tabulates Results Of Questionnaire

The Winchester Public Library celebrated National Library Week this year by trying to determine how well its services were being received by residents.

The results of a questionnaire mailed to 6,609 townspeople have now been tabulated. There were 348 answers received, indicating a five per cent return.

By combining "no comments other than yes to hours satisfactory" and "only compliments," it is determined that 53 per cent of those responding are satisfied patrons. Of these people 22 per cent suggested changes in hours, while 23 per cent wished for changes other than hours, including the areas of book collection, materials other than books, personnel, services, programs, publicity, policy and attitudes, furnishings, and the junior library.

Being more specific, 50 per cent of those suggesting a change in hours were concerned about Sunday, while 24 per cent mentioned Saturdays, particularly during the summer.

Selected comments on the book collection may be summed up simply as a desire for more books, which would require one person's suggestion for a "bigger book budget." Requests ranged from "sea selections" to large print, paperbacks, topical and best sellers, etc.

Comments on periodicals also asked for specific magazines. Another was for an expanded file and microfilms of the "New York Times." Under recordings and tapes the call was again for a wider selection from classical to "pop" records. More tape players and record players were requested.

Other suggestions were that displays might coincide with national and international issues and include more arts and crafts exhibits.

If residents could rearrange the furniture, it seems that many would add heat, air conditioning, more chairs, and stools (some rolling) for use between the stacks.

Miscellaneous comments were offered on the junior library. Library personnel are rated well. Mrs. Comfort of the children's section received much praise.

Concerning policy and attitudes, suggestions included more quiet, a section for teenagers, more attention to the order on shelves, and the extension of various time limits bow borrowing. Many other wide-ranging comments were received.

When asked about programs offered for the library, a number of those responding requested the expansion of the film program from adult and family to that for older people. Also, classes for instruction in use of library facilities for both children and adults was suggested.

Under public relations the majority of answers corresponded to "a more advertising of your services," "I didn't realize you had all these services," and "more promotional material such as this be sent registered borrowers." Noted several times was the formation of an information booklet on the library's facilities and functions.

To balance one unclassified comment, "Wish we could have had all the features hoped for when the building was enlarged," were numerous compliments on the library's facilities, arrangement, and staff.

For the bridge player. We carry the Goren line. You can also purchase card table covers, duplicat bridge boards—tallies, score pads. For samba and canasta players. score pads are available. At the Winchester Star.

Probation Officers View Roll

This article is written by Charles A. Winchester, chief probation officer, Fourth District Court of Eastern Middlesex, Woburn.

Probation officers generally agree that the single, most important factor which is studied in every case before the criminal and juvenile courts is mental health.

In crime prevention and the rehabilitation of offenders, we are well beyond the consideration of mere "competency." Legally, the courts must still measure competency on the basis of whether or not the person was able to distinguish right from wrong at the time of an offense. But the wise judge today carefully studies all the factors, including the investigation by his probation department before pronouncing sentence.

The probation officer's report explores all the details of home, family, friends, school and employment. Often, the sources of mental and emotional stress are readily discernible, but frequently a probation officer will have to work many months with an individual and his family before discovering these stresses. With the help and treatment provided by our court psychiatrist, many people are removed from the ranks of "criminals" and are administered to and healed.

Unfortunately, our successes in probation are not as numerous as they could be if more cases were referred to us before the crisis stage is reached. To cite an example, recently a 14 year old boy was referred to us as a school offender in hopes that a court complaint could be avoided. On the surface it appeared that this might be just another "bad boy." Our investigation revealed that a few years earlier, the boy's parents saw fit to chain him to a fence for days at a time. We may be too late to offset the damage that has been done, but we will try.

Recently, a meeting was held at the District Court in Woburn which was attended by the Presiding Justice , Francis P. Cullen, the seven probation officers from the Court, and representatives from the school departments from each of the towns in the Court District, namely, Woburn, Winchester, Burlington, Stoneham, Reading, North Reading and Wilmington.

At this meeting various ways and means of reaching individuals and families, and of helping them when problems begin and before families are torn apart by court action were discussed. Among other points made was the decision to encourage citizen involvement. In addition to the professional help which is needed in the courts, probation offices and mental health clinics, there is a desperate need for the help of all citizenry.

If a person, his family or friends need help, call the probation officer. If a person wants to help as a volunteer on a one-to-one basis, with someone who may just need a friend, or can provide an overnight haven for a child from a troubled family, call the probation office at 935-4000. This type of work may be necessary for everyone's mental health.

Guest Day To Be Held At Royall House

The annual guest day at the Isaac Royall House at George and Main Streets in Medford will be held on Saturday, June 13, from 2-5 p.m.

The house, a fine example of a 1732 colonial has been declared, a national historic landmark by the National Park Service. Many of the period furnishings were the gift of the late Frederick Bridge of Winchester.

Originally a farmhouse built in 1637, it was purchased and expanded by Colonel Isaac Royall of Antigua. In 1775 it was confiscated and used as a headquarters for General John Stark. After the evacuation of Boston by the British in 1776, the house served as headquarters for Generals Washington, Lee, Sullivan, and Stark.

In case of rain, the open house will be held Sunday, June 14, from 2-5 p.m.

Most highways have maximum speed limits—often temporarily reduced by a slow-moving vehicle. Don't lose your patience, warns the Institute for Safer Living. The only safe speed is the speed of traffic flow. Always move with it! Be especially alert on throughways where driving is faster and smoother.

Woman Is Injured At Train Station

A New York resident was transported to Winchester Hospital early Friday morning, May 29, following an accident as she was disembarking from a Boston and Maine train at Winchester Station.

According to the police report, Miss Phyllis Hawls of Huntington Station, Long Island, New York, was taking the last step off of a northbound train for Lowell at approximately 7:15 a.m. when she fell forward. The train was pulling out of the station at the time.

Miss Hawls was being met at this location by Miss Patrice Bennett-Alder of 63 Church Street, who witnessed the accident.

Police Officer John E. Guarante responded to the call. The Rescue Truck of the Fire Department with Lieutenant Joseph M. Connelly in charge also arrived.

First Church Will Honor Ministers

On Sunday evening, June 14, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m., in Childley Hall of the First Congregational Church, a Festival of Friendship will be held to honor the church's four ministers and their wives, Oliver and Eleanore Powell, Richard and Paula Diehl, John and Julie Rinehart, and Kenneth and Dorothy Henley.

During the years that these families have been ministering to First Congregational, they have become well known and loved by many residents of Winchester. A special invitation is extended to one and all to drop by Sunday night and wish these families a token of good luck. Refreshments will be served.

The first libel suit in the U.S. was brought against John Peter Zenger of the New York Weekly Journal. The case was fought on August 4, 1735, by Andrew Hamilton.

The Winchester Star

Established 1880 By Theodore P. Wilson, Sr.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

A Roof Over Our Heads

There are some among the elderly in this town who spend their hours sitting alone in a room, the last of family and friends, living in a strange home. Others walk up flights of stairs to second or third floor rooms, though it is difficult, because they must. They can find no other place to live.

The problem of housing for the elderly in Winchester is not as ostentatious as in neighboring towns or areas of Boston. Old people do not huddle on slum stoops here posing for a photographer's study, nor would they queue up before the Salvation Army's door.

Though there may be such severe cases in Winchester, the majority of elderly people here ask for housing out of need, but not desperation. The Winchester Housing Authority was established by the 1970 Town Meeting to try to alleviate or cure that need.

As the parent group to the Authority, the Winchester Public Housing Study Committee had prepared statistics for this Town Meeting which seemed to verify a need in Winchester. A 40 per cent response (1,119 replies out of 2,764 mailed) to a questionnaire sent to residents 62 years of age and over informed committee members that 662 of those responding would live in housing for the elderly if available. Data also indicated that the Town would be eligible for state aid with the project.

The wisdom of the Board of Selectmen in making appointments to the Authority was based upon assembling an array of professions knowledgeable in various areas connected with the project. Therefore, the Authority is presently composed of an attorney, a banker, civil engineer, cost estimator, and an interested and informed citizen.

Selectmen Chairman Ralph W. Swanson greeted members of the Authority by saying that they had a "big, tough job" ahead of them. This will involve both the obvious and inobvious. The establishment of the Authority does not preclude all opposition to the project, nor does it confirm that a workable solution will be found, or assume any absolutes.

Besides determining the scope and nature of the need for such housing in Winchester, the Authority must investigate types of housing. Already wary of "an unimaginative collection of red bricks," the Authority must weigh alternatives ranging from high rise used in Medford to garden apartments which require more land. And there is also the question of location in a town where development sites are rather costly and rare. Or perhaps Winchester has a land donor to match that of Arlington?

With a hopeful perspective on obtaining funds, there will be a question as to whether state or federal aid should be sought. And lastly, the project must survive the Town Meeting floor. Even if the project is deemed feasible and worthwhile, it is possible that the new high school and other building costs, inflation, etc. could void this work.

And to those who must be convinced of the project's value are some of the elderly themselves. Sixty per cent of those people contacted did not respond to the questionnaire distributed by the Public Housing Study Committee. It is unlikely that all of these people are secure in their own homes, anticipating being able to maintain this position both physically and financially. Rather it is possible to assume that some are justifiably proud of their independence, and reticent of confiding such personal problems after a lifetime of self-reliance.

But the honest opinions and working statistics which may be provided only by elderly persons are perhaps the most crucial data with which the Authority will work. Cooperation is needed.

It is realistic to expect that some people who have lived all of their lives in Winchester must sell their homes and adjust to more modest incomes after retirement, but it is regrettable when such people must move to another town where housing for the elderly is provided or must live under poor conditions because they can neither afford nor find any other.

It is a dubious but sincere welcome that we now extend to the Winchester Housing Authority and its future work.

Memorial Day Thanks Offered

Editor of the Star:

Despite the weather, the Memorial Day Committee would sincerely like to thank all those who participated in making the Memorial Day Observance such a fine success.

Our Board of Selectmen gave the Committee the utmost in cooperation in carrying out our plans. To Chief Edward Bowler of the Police Department and to Chief I. Francis Amico of the Fire Department, many thanks for such a large turnout of police and firemen. They are a credit to the town.

Our deepest appreciation is extended to Rev. Everett L. Waters of the First Baptist Church and to Reverend Bernard Hoy of St. Mary's Church for delivering the prayer and meditation at Calvary Cemetery and Wildwood Cemetery.

The Army Reserve Unit, from the 94th Division Army Base Boston, was led by Captain David M. Hill, Sergeant James Edison, and Sergeant Ernest Reardon Jr. It was their first appearance in Winchester.

The Woburn National Guard Company Division - 101st Engineering Battalion led by Lieutenant Fred Della-Russo and the Firing Squad did their usual fine job also.

Our thanks, too, for the Commanders of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Henry Connors, and Franklin Stevenson of the American Legion.

In the music department we had our fine Senior High School Band under the direction of Frederick Murray and the Boston Fire Department Band led by Bandmasters William Bloof and Robert Cooke. The Immaculate Conception Girls' Drill Team, escorted by their pastor, Reverend Herbert K. A. Driscoll, added color to the parade. We would like to express appreciation to the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts for their participation in spite of the rain.

I would like to thank members of the Auxiliary Police and Fire Departments for their turnout and for their assistance.

To Superintendents Robert O'Brien of the Highway Department, Herbert (Babe) Mullen of the Park Department, William Conlon of the Water Department, and Harold Moran of the Cemetery Department, thank you for your cooperation.

To all units which participated, a final thanks for a job well done. It is not our intent to slight anyone, yet, we feel that we should try to single out those organizations and individuals who contributed to the sucess of the parade.

A special thanks for the members of the Memorial Day Committee who devoted and contributed for the success of the day: Clement A. Landry, Henry Connors, Robert Powers, Gordo H. Horn Jr. and Richard Horn.

Sincerely,
John T. Horn, Chairman
Memorial Day Committee

"Bending Birches"

Editor of the Star:

I almost stepped on a Pine Siskinn last Sunday. It was in the grass, about ten feet in front of me. It seemed to be performing some kind of ritual, and I stopped to watch what it was doing. At no time did it seem to notice that I was there.

Here is what I saw; a tiny, mustard-colored bird, heavily streaked with brown, all over, it seemed to me. I thought it looked something like a female Gold Finch, only smaller, and from the way it flopped around in the tall grass, I thought at first that it was injured.

But after watching it a minute or two I saw that it was not injured, but was feeding on dandelion seeds, and in this way: It would select a tall stem having at its tip a seed-pod in the "closed" stage, intermediate between the flower and the full blown puff-ball stage. It would start at the crown, or center of the plant, and then "walk" the stem down into the grass until it was bent to the point where the bird, astride the stem, could reach the tightly closed seed-pod. (It reminded me of the way small boys will climb up to the slender tips of birch trees and then let their weight bend them back down to earth).

Once the bird had brought the pod down within close range it ripped open the tightly clenched sepals and removed the tiny seeds, a mouthful at a time. I tried to see whether or not it ate the floss or cotton along with the seeds, but from its position in the grass I could not be sure. I do think, however, that some of it did go down, as I could see the floss sticking out on both sides of its little bill as it chewed away on the tiny seeds.

I stood there for several minutes, and not until the bird had "walked" down and eaten all of the pods on the plant did it flutter away to another part of the lawn, and I went in to dinner.

I believe the bird may be nesting nearby, as we have seen it, or one like it, several times in the last week or two. This is the first time, however, that I have seen it feeding on dandelion seeds in the way I have described, and I am curious to know if others have witnessed the same performance?

Sincerely yours,
Clarence S. Borggaard

Principal Howard Niblock then named the two highest ranking girls and two highest ranking boys: Theresa A. Salerno and Ann E. Dieterich and Mark Stoeckel and Alan C. Leland Jr.

Seniors stepped to the podium to receive diplomas from School Committee Chairman Mrs. Dieterich, who was assisted by Vincent LaRocco, assistant principal at the High School. Mr. LaRocco filled in for Mr. Niblock who explained that he had to depart early in order to make the trip to watch his own son's graduation on Monday from Dennison University.

Reverend Garrity gave the benediction, concluding graduation exercises for the class of 1970. The overflow crowd of family and friends of the graduates observed that the overcast gray and cloudy day had cleared as the ceremony ended. Rays of sunshine breaking through the clouds were seen as a hopeful sign for the future of the graduates and the world.

MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1970 ROSE for the playing of the "National Anthem" at graduation ceremonies on Sunday, June 7, at Manchester Field. The blend between tradition and contemporary awareness was well executed by the students. (Ryerson photo)

THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE "STEP" which high school seniors are said to be making on their graduation day was not evident when this rather unmindful Collie brought about a change in mood. But there were also thoughts and words of a more weighty nature for the members of the class of 1970 on Sunday, June 7. (Ryerson photo)

BOOK REVIEW

Winchester Public Library

HEY, WHITE GIRL!

by Susan Gregory

"Praise be to Allah, who gave to me two separate sides to my head"— this quotation from Kipling's THE NAULAKAH, might well have been a motto for Sue Gregory.

When she was almost 17, in 1967, her family moved from their comfortable suburb of Wilmette to the Fifth City in the heart of Chicago's West Side ghetto. As members of the Ecumenical Institute, the purpose of which was to train clergy and laymen and to attack the problem of self image for the negro, the family lived in an abandoned seminary in the heart of the ghetto and Sue spent her senior year in all black John Marshall High School. To understand how she was able to do this and survive physically and emotionally, it is essential to read the Preface and realize her family education.

What she experienced at Marshall and in the ghetto streets should not be news to anyone, but it has a singular impact coming from an intelligent, young (this is very important), white girl who was completely involved in one of the tragedies of our cities. Certainly few youngsters could have adjusted as well as she did and still fewer parents would have permitted and abetted such an experience. Sue had been brought up to be self-reliant and her unusual parents had complete faith in her, quite justifiably, as it turned out.

At 15, Sue had joined the march from Selma to Montgomery with her father, so that her thinking, at least, was propitious. She did not, however, enter Marshall as a crusader. She went — willing, determined, and scared — fully aware of her position. "Sue, now you'll know, I thought. You'll know what it was like for every Negro who ever integrated a white school alone. As that Negro represented all Negroes to his white fellow students, so you will represent all whites to the Negroes around you. You're on trial now. Yes, really on trial." And so she was.—"I had the feeling that this was going to be the most emotionally draining and lonely experience of my life." Luckily, the loneliness did not last. Sue was gradually accepted by first one and then another black student, until she had her own loyal core of defenders against hostile dissidents. It took immense courage and faith in the essential goodness of all human beings for her to progress at all.

She learned the ghetto lingo and spoke it. She listened to the local radio stations and learned the sound of soul. Having an excellent voice, she sang with the chorus, often in solo parts, and threw herself into music, even classical, with real emotion, never hitherto experienced in the stiffly meticulous training at her white high school. The completely spontaneous reaction of a black audience released and overjoyed her. She learned to think black, even while her white mind rebelled at the insuperable obstacles of opportunity and black self image. She integrated so that she saw only persons, never skin color, and went on dates with black boys and behaved exactly as she would have with white ones. Some readers will object to this. Many many blacks objected to it, too. Prejudice is clearly a two way street.

Then came the murder of Martin Luther King and the ghetto rose like a sleeping giant. Black power was born. The Gregorys left Fifth City and Sue was warned by her friends there, that her very life would be at stake, should she return. At Kalamazoo College, she was shunned by negro groups, but could not fully identify with the whites. She was very truly a displaced and unhappy person. In her first letter home as a freshman she wrote, "Last year I lived life. I was aware of my surroundings and what was happening and I let my senses go and allowed my feelings to control me completely. Where am I now? Where are the people? Suddenly I am boxed in by books and assignments. My emotions haven't been stirred for days. Everything is at surface level."

The book must be read in toto for its full impact to be realized. It should be read.

Fourth of July

Earlier in the evening the Board conducted a hearing with members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on their plans for the Fourth of July celebration to be held this year at the McDonald field. Representing the VFW were James Rae, Ralph Fiore, and Robert Swymer.

It was determined on looking into the records that the total budget for this event is $950, composed of $435 for supplies and materials and $515 for contractural services.

Chairman Ralph W. Swanson suggested that the organization, now being informed of the amount budgetted for the project, continue to plan this function, submitting an itemized budget to the Selectmen at the end of the venture.

Mr. Swymer suggested at this time, concerning such celebrations run for the Town by individual service organizations, that before a budget for an event is submitted to the Town on a Warrant, that the Board contact the supervising group to obtain their recommendations on costs required.

In other matters taken up by the Board at this session, approval was given on the awarding of bids for tree removal according to the recommendations of the tree warden through the superintendent of streets. Warning signs, also accepted, will be installed on Swan Road.

Reviewing a letter from Maurice James of the Winchester Hospital, concerning the two hour parking limit outside the hospital for employees, the Selectmen noted this situation.

Among opinions offered on the subject of parking by employees at the hospital, it was cited that the Board of Appeals has already voiced opposition to all-day parking for employees. Countering this, it was realized that some residents of this area may feel that this is an unfair restriction on them also.

Additional pieces of corespondence and a skimming of land acquisition matters closed the evening.

"Traditional Goodness"

Euitor of the Star:

In a recent edition of The Star, it was interesting to note the graduation of Miss Ursula Keleher from New Rochelle College, New York.

Daughter of Dr. Paul and Ursula (Burkard) Keleher, this lovely and talented youngster will carry on the traditional goodness of two nice families.

Whatever her endeavor, may her future be filled with happiness!

Public Hearing Is Held At Muraco

accomplishments of Muraco School students following the second year of operation of the school as compared for the average scores for the school system.

School Committee member Mrs. Mary Mears wondered why Muraco students exhibited a lower intelligence quotient in many of the areas of study. Responding to Mrs. Mears, Dr. Gleason, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, stated that these figures are from the second year of operation. Muraco School is currently at the end of its third year. He noted that Muraco pupils showed an excelled capacity in the area of arithmetic computation and htat these achievement tests are based upon a factual approach rather than the conceptual approach being developed at the school. Dr. Gleason also cited that these charts were basically a measure of growth.

When asked about the effect of the open concept oriented student graduating to the more controlled environment of the junior high school, Dr. Anderson admitted that this is one area which the study had neglected.

Another area apparently posing major concern to parents was that of the individual pupil and how well each one is suited to this particular form of learning. Dr. Anderson expressed with confidence his belief that all children were capable of performing well if not better under this system. He feels that evidence of enthusiasm and satisfaction with the climate for learning promote such success. Statistics indicate that 50 per cent of the schools being opened presently in the United States are utilizing the open space concept.

Numerous other questions of a more specific nature were addressed to the researchers. The hearing was continued in light of the audience's interest until after 10 p.m.

Summary

The following is an excerpt from Part III of the study, "Overview and Recomendations":

"In addition to an analytical review of the evaluation report, which is Part I, and beyond the development and analysis of the Part II questionnaires, the Harvard group visited Muraco School and soaked up impressions which have been reviewed in seminar sessions. Many of these impressions are already contained in Parts I and II, but some repetition and a few additional pieces of information may be useful in this final section of the report.

"One of the most important things to be said, in view of the recent history of Winchester in general and the Muraco School in particular, is that the program now in operation (February, 1970) at Muraco represents a very significant achievement for all concerned. The building opened in September, 1967 under difficult circumstances (this is not uncommon for new schools, to be sure, but in the case of Muraco there were a number of new frontiers to be conquered). It is still a very young school, and not all of its growing pains have vanished, but enough momentum has been established and (see Part II) there is such obvious support from the community, that it no longer should be doubted that the Muraco concept is viable and sturdy. . . ."

"It seems true that the professional staff is, in general, a happy and productive group. Slightly problematic is that happiness and productivity are not always mutually-supportive; and at this moment it may be that the staff should be reaching toward a higher-level demonstration of the "official" Muraco model. Some of the most important potential benefits of this model for children have thus far been sacrificed for the convenience of teachers, especially those few who seem especially concerned about structures (as is identified with gradedness) and/or territorial prerogatives. All indications are that parents will welcome rather than object to the further development of procedures that develop self-discipline in children, and attain greater flexibility in program and resources. The Harvard group earnestly believes that the adjustments required of the teachers would be minimal rather than difficult, and that the "extra effort" (largely, we think, an emotional rather than a physical problem) will prove well worth it.

"Certainly it would be unthinkable to everyone (including the parents) concerned, to retreat in any way to the more conventional pattern which once prevailed in Winchester and other communities. Open-area education, as exemplified in Muraco on a commendable though modest scale, is clearly gaining national (and international) acceptance and Winchester may take pride that it was not among the last communities to recognize its potential usefulness. The renovated Marycliff building will soon be opened as a second school committed to the Muraco philosophy and procedures, and the experience of Muraco in developing and improving its rogram can be of substantial guidance to that school's staff.

"One special problem on which the Harvard group's opinion was requested, has to do with the adjustment made by Muraco's pupils to the junior high school when they complete elementary school. The question was essentially theoretical, and no investigation was made of actual problems that may have existed in the past year or two. Experience in other communities, however, has generally shown that pupils who have attended team-taught, open-area schools make a better adjustment to conventionally-organized junior highs than do graduates of self-contained-classroom schools. Unfortunately, the conditions in many junior high schools are so relatively oppressive and rigid that seventh grade poses severe problems for all pupils, regardless of how excellent the conditions under which they were educated previously.

"One final comment. During its first two years Muraco had one unique and special asset, the benefits of which remain visible and notable: the "curriculum writing" which was done under a special grant. The Harvard group shares the extreme regret of the Muraco staff that this excellent and unique arrangement was discontinued. It is greatly to be hoped that, at some time in the near future, circumstances will permit a resumption of that curriculum-development program."

School Committee

The School Committee approved the recommendation of McCall Junior High School Principal Joseph C. Forte to convert McManus House, formerly the administration's headquarters, into an art center. The building, in which the basement and third floor will not be accessible to students, will be known as the McCall Junior High School Annex in accordance with the request of the State Building Inspector.

Approval was also given to the proposal to change two summer school courses experiencing difficulties with enrollment into music and creative drama classes within the learning disabilities program. Stipulated in the motion was the fact that this change will not involve any addition in funds over the originally approved summer school budget.

TV Workshop

Another motion accepted by the School Committee was the creation of a one week workshop to train both students and a teacher in the operation of video tape equipment and an extra stipend position for the instructor conducting this class. It will be held at Lynch Junior High School. No appointment to the position was made.

Under business matters, bids were approved for exterior painting at the Mystic, Noonan, Washington, Wyman, and Senior High Schools; for interior painting at McCall Junior High; for the leasing of portable classrooms; and for the vandal alarm system to be installed at various locations in the school system.

The next meeting of the School Committee will be held on Monday, June 15, at Washington School. It will be a special meeting. Tentatively scheduled for discussion are the schools' music program and a letter received from parents of children at Washington School concerning overcrowding at the second grade level.

THE SACHEM BOOSTERS RAFFLE for a Bermuda Trip for Two came to an end on Sunday, June 7, with the drawing a winner, Miss Lindbo of 223 Ridge Street. The event raised money toward paying off the deficit for the football trip taken to Florida this past winter and toward providing funds for future events for Winchester youth. Contributing to the raffle's success were, left to right, Sandy Govoni; "Red" Galuffo, president of the Sachem Boosters; Bob Gilberti; Tom Riley; Michael Gilberti and David Scott, co-captains of the football team; Tom Keating; the Rev. James A. Garrity; Manny Rainha; and Judy Rainha. (Joyce photo)

Teachers of Immorality in One Important Particular

We are all familiar with the three classical little monkeys — they "See no evil, hear no evil and speak no evil", and are accepted symbols of morality.

Lo and behold, comes Oveta Culp Hobby, former U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and denounced them as "teachers of immorality"! Her argument comes down to this — that it is the moral duty of a good citizen to inform himself by keenly observing, attentively listening to evidence of what is evil in our society, and loudly and courageously speaking out against it. We think that she has something there.

And among the evils which sorely afflict our society few or none are more shocking and ominous than the appalling cruelties of experiments on helpless animals in the grim laboratories of heartless men and women vivisectors.

Art Festival Included Music Program

On Saturday afternoon, May 30, the Winchester Arts Festival presented a musical program at McCall Junior High School under the direction of Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite, music specialists for the Winchester public schools.

She was assisted by Lawrence F. Hojlo, assistant principal; Mrs. Furst, a former practice teacher from Muraco School; Mrs. Parkhurst, president of the Mystic Mothers Association; and Mrs. Kent, also a parent from Mystic School.

Joining Los Companeros, Winchester High School's marimba band, was an enthusiastic group of fifth and sixth grade volunteer singers and dancers colorfully dressed in Spanish and Latin American costumes.

The elementary chorus, composed of 65 singers from the Muraco and Mystic Schools, sang in English and Spanish to the delight of their parents, relatives and friends. Miss Jane Himber and Mrs. Elizabeth McDonough, music teachers at Muraco School, supervised.

The Mexican Hat Dancers were from Mrs. Hartwell's fifth grade class at Mystic School. Other fifth and sixth grade music teachers at Mystic are Mrs. Pomeroy, Miss Millican, Miss Thompson and Mrs. Johnson.

Present was the mascot of Los Companeros, a St. Bernard, who seemed to enjoy the sound of marimbas.

The Spanish group was followed by the popular French singers, Les Troubadours. Master of Ceremonies for the afternoon was Steve Boodakian, who introduced the musical selections after their theme song, "Dominique." "L'Amour Est Bleu," "Mademoiselle de Paris" (solo by Sally Jeffery, "Mon Vrai Destin," "Les Feuilles Mortes," "C'est Mon Coeur" (solo by Anne Collins), "Aquarius" and "Sous Le Ciel De Paris."

Youth M.A.R.C. Gives Banquet For Retarded

Retarded children from the Winchester, Woburn, and Burlington areas were treated recently to an awards bowling banquet sponsored by the Woburn Chapter of Youth M.A.R.C. (Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children).

The ham supper, held at the Sons of Italy Hall, was the first occasion of the planned annual event. Youth M.A.R.C. includes volunteers 13 to 25 years of age under the guidance of Mrs. Muriel Todd of Wakefield.

The evening included speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes of the adult association and slides of the summer camp in Burlington.

Committee Chairman Richard Maggio and Co-Chairman Pat Gaspar were assisted by Linda Danker, President Paul Stevens, Vice President Linda McKinnon, Marilyn Bemis, and Beverly Lloyd.

Contributing their services to the event were Mr. and Mrs. Maggio and other members of the Sons of Italy. Appreciation has been extended to Carmen Frongillo, president of the Aberjona Civic Association, for donating beverages; Mrs. Lynn of Woburn for a trophy in memory of her son who died in Vietnam; Mrs. Todd for her roll as advisor; and all others for their time and help.

Anyone interested in helping with the work being carried by Youth MARC is asked to contact Richard Maggio at 729-5242 or Paul Stevens at 729-6525.

Musicians Triumph At Festival

The Festival of the Arts provided an occasion for an uncounted number of students to contribute through music to the community.

While the High School Band gave a concert outside, "Les Troubadors" and "Los Companeros" performed in McCall Junior High School with a crowd of little children from Muraco joining them in song and dance.

The following trumpeters announced special events with triple fanfares: Thomas Belden, William Brink, Hank Clark, Larry Donovan, Lynne Duffy, Andy McLaughlin, Peter Pacetti, Rick Porter, Andy Shannon, David Kelly, Thomas Kelly, David Mascioli, Andy Mackenzie, and Richard Murray. Their costumes were created by Mrs. Fred Murray.

Ten different students played solos Sunday morning during Church services.

A classical program was given Saturday afternoon by advanced Music Club members. Music by Buxtehude, J. S. Bach, C. P. E. Bach, Scarlatti, Vivaldi, Mozart, Brahms, Franck and Debussy formed the program. The performers were Peter Simmons, organ; Phoebe Knopf, Michael Simmons and Edith Chase, harpsichord; Karen Mentzoni and Jonathan Redpath, piano; Tom Page, clarinet accompanied by Lillian Enright and Scott Knopf, violin, accompanied by Carl Fudge.

Violinists Douglas De Natale, Margaret Cormack, Jane Thompson, Kathy Levinson, Jean Cormack and Amy Radford joined with pianist Laura Downs in the Vivaldi Concerto Grosso.

The culmination of musical treats was a program by Winchester adults of "Music for a Sunday Afternoon" by Betty Hauck, violin and viola; Kilmer McCully, violin; Frances Lawrance, lyric soprano; and Carl Fudge, harpsichord.

Music by Telemann, William Tisdall, Bartok and Handel was played and sung.

The requirement that a notary public must witness signatures on affidavits required of nonservice disabled veterans seeking VA hospitalization has been discontinued.

Vocal Recital To Be Presented By First Church

To round out the musical season of the First Congregational Church, the vocal soloists of the church will be presented in a joint recital Monday evening, June 15, at 8:30 p.m. in Chidley Hall of the church. Their program is built around the great religious solo and quartet literature of the 18th to 20th centuries.

A special feature of this concert will be the opportunity to hear both the former contralto soloist of the church, Miss Flora Mardigian, and the present soloist in this position, Mrs. John Morabito. Miss Mardigian will sing several of the well-known "Biblical songs" by Antonin Dvorak, while Mrs. Morabito will be heard as the soloist in the "Benedictus," a movement for quartet from the Mozart "Requiem Mass."

John Morabito, tenor, will perform Brahms' "Four Serious Songs," and James Reynolds, Bass, will sing five selections from "The Pilgrim's Progress" by Vaughan Williams.

To conclude the solo section of the program Mrs. Richard Hough, soprano, will be heard singing "A Cycle of Holy Songs" by the contemporary composer Ned Rorem. The organist of First Church, Bruce Bennett, will serve as Piano accompanist.

It is hoped that many of the residents of Winchester and the surrounding area will want to hear these fine artists. This recital is free of charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The VA is urging nearly 667,000 veterans whose term life insurance policies are due for renewal this year to examine them closely to determine whether they should convert to permanent plan policies.

Congratulations, Graduates

Releases are pouring into the Star office this month telling of achievements and honors of Winchester students at colleges and schools across the country.

We are proud of our graduates and we congratulate them on their fine efforts.

From the students and their justifiably proud parents, we ask patience with our reporting of the graduations. And we here reprint the Star's policy on graduations:

1. Notices of graduations must come from the school or college unless a parent has been asked by the institution to notify us or if he feels as time goes by that the school has not sent it to us.

2. We use pictures as they come in from the institutions. Often there are stories about five graduates and only three pictures are sent. Usually the omission occurs when a student has failed to comply with the school publicity office's request for a picture.

3. When there is more than one graduate we must print the material as it is sent to us. We can not print major, clubs, offices, etc., for one student and only names and degrees for two others from the same school.

Republicans Elect Officers Hear Candidates

Attorney Donald L. Conn of Melrose, former assistant attorney general in the State criminal division, met with the Winhcester Republican Town Committee members on Wednesday, May 20.

Mr. Conn, a forceful speaker, outlined his objectives in seeking the office of attorney general.

Speaking of drugs, Atty. Conn said "The basic problem right now concerning drugs is not rehabilitation of present users, as important as that may be, but the prevention of drug entry into the state so young people will not in the future be exposed to the drug traffic."

Thirty-five-year-old Atty. Conn, a specialist in criminal law, has spoken in almost every college in the State of Massachusetts. His person-to-person presentation is as a "hard hitting law man."

A graduate of Tufts University and Boston University Law School, Atty. Conn served in the attorney general's office under Elliot Richardson and has an outstanding public record.

The Town Committee members also heard Representative Mary Newman, Republican candidate for secretary of the Commonwealth, who spoke of her continued interest in making the office a "personal secretary for the people of Massachusetts."

Mrs. Newman was introduced by Representative Harrison Chadwick who emphasized the deep respect of the Legislative members for Mary Newman's record in the House over the past 15 years.

Ronald Nigro, candidate for this district's State Senate seat, was present and gave a brief resume of his polititical and civic background in the neighboring town of Arlington. A member of a well-known Arlington family, Mr. Nigro is a graduate of Boston University and Portia School of Law.

The business of the meeting included election of officers for the ensuing two year period. They were: Chairman, Gardy Yagjian; Vice Chairman, Helen Shasta; Secretary, Carol Johnson; and Treasurer, George Littell Jr.

A standing vote of thanks were given to the present officers; Sherman Saltmarsh Jr., Mabelle Wright, Helen Shasta and George Littel Jr.

Reports were given by William Barnstead and Cynthia Barone for the State Committee and by Cynthia Reynolds, Mark Fraser and Rushton Harwood Jr.

"Keep your wheels turning slowly on slippery pavements. Avoid quick braking or starting — and avoid a skid."

Epiphany To Honor Mrs. Sache

On Sunday, June 7, following the 10 a.m. morning service, the Parish of the Epiphany will honor its senior member, Mrs. Edith Sache, by dedicating a sculpture by Winslow Eaves of Mrs. Sache's favorite saint, St. Francis of Assisi, in Epiphany's cloister garden.

Having lived in Winchester and this vicinity since 1902, Mrs. Sache has a host of friends hereabout. In 1955, she became a resident of the Winchester Home for the Aged where she has continued her keen interest in people, her friendly smile, her ever-youthful outlook and her joy in service to others.

On the occasion of her 100th birthday, Mrs. Sache recommended "making true friendships and keeping them" and "knowing how to reach out to those in trouble and to help out of one's own experience."

Regrettably, Mrs. Sache will not be able to attend the dedication in person since she is confined at present to the Woburn Nursing Home.

On her 100th birthday, September 11, 1968, Mrs. Sache gave a gift of thanksgiving — one dollar for each year of her life — to the Parish of the Epiphany. To make possible a lasting tribute to Mrs. Sache, many of her friends have subsequently shared in supplementing the original gift to assist in purchasing the statue of St. Francis.

The sculptor, after reflection and research on St. Francis, chose for his subject the act which came at a crucial turning point in Francis' life. Hearing on St. Matthew's Day the words of Jesus to go forth and preach without care for money or raiment, Francis is said to have discarded his own clothing and set forth with only a cloak thrown about his shoulders. This symbolic act of St. Francis is strongly presented in Winslow Eaves' bronze representation.

Mr. Eaves is well known in this country and abroad. He has exhibited in Europe and North Africa and received awards in the United States. At his home in West Andover, New Hampshire, his studio and museum contain works of art in a variety of media but his present interest is especially in sculpture such as the bronze St. Francis.

On Sunday, Mr. Eaves will be present, and in place of a sermon, will speak about the St. Francis. Following this, he will join the congregation in proceeding to the cloister garden where the dedication will take place at approximately 11 a.m.

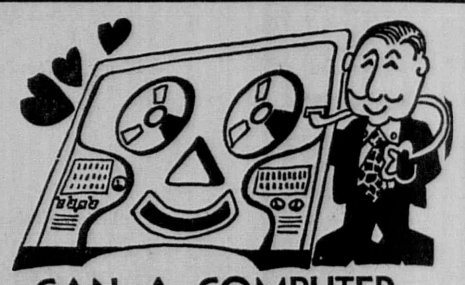

To the townspeople of Winchester and especially to the many admirers of Mrs. Sache, Epiphany parishioners extend a cordial welcome to join them in paying tribute to Mrs. Sache and her saint.

Two Women End Studies At Westbrook

Westbrook Junior College in Portland, Maine, conferred associate degrees to two Winchester women on Sunday, June 7.

Little League Championships Are Shaping Up

With the Winchester Little League season well underway, some real battles for divisional championships are shaping up.

In the Minor Division of the American League, the Whippets are setting a torrid pace, with ten big wins and only one loss. Nipping on their heels, though, are the Leopards, with seven wins and one loss, and the Buffaloes, with six wins and two losses.

In the Major Division of the American League, the Mets are leading the way with a 9-and-3 record, followed by the Reds with a 7-and-4 record. In the Senior Division of the American League it's anybody's race at the present time, with the Giants and the Indians out in front with two wins and one loss apiece.

Turning to the National League, the front-running Lions are currently leading the way with eight wins and one loss, with the Bulldogs coming on fast with eight wins and two losses, and the Bears in the running with five wins and two losses.

In the Major Division of the National League, the Dodgers are presently on top with nine wins as against three losses, followed by the Yankees with seven wins and three losses. In the National League Seniors, the Browns and the Cubs are tied for first place, each team sporting a fancy five-and-one record.

Competition Is Underway In Town Softball

The Town Softball League opened last week with three new teams. One team has changed sponsors, and the three old stand-bys are back.

The new teams are the Castaways, made up of players living at the Parkview Apartments on Swanton Street, and Mahoney's Oldtimers, made up of some good softball players who have been retired the past few years and are making a comeback. They are sponsored by Mahoney's Rocky Ledge Farm and Nursery on Cambridge Street.

There is also the Sachems, made up of graduating seniors from the High School, most of them playing on this year's championship hardball team. They have replaced Bonnell Motors who found the competition too stiff for them and will spend the summer getting organized for next year. Last season's Sano Cleaners is now sponsored by Bellino's Pizza. The three favorites, the SOI, last year's champs; the Elks 1445, last year's runner-up; and N. DiZio's are back again.

In games played so far, the SOI have picked up where they left off last year by winning their first two games easily. Last year's runner-up, the Elks 1445, have served notice that they haven't lost anything by beating Bellino's and Mahoney's in their first two games. The other favorite, N. DiZio's, has yet to play because of the rain, but from all reports they are even stronger than last year. The Castaways looked good in winning their first game and should add some good competition to the League.

All games are played at Leonard Field.

Please look over the North-South hands and see what the final contract would be with your favorite partner.

Did you reach the cold little slam in either diamonds or no trump? We didn't at our table. My partner South bid 1 NT, and I didn't have the courage to bid 3 D with the North hand, saying 3 NT instead which ended the biding.

The traveling score slip showed only one North-South pair bidding and making the slam, in no trump. Most of the field stopped at 3 NT, and the only two pairs trying for a diamond fit stopped at 5 D making six, which scored less than the game in no trump.

Moral: we all need practice bidding slams in the minor suits.

Two Scouts Troop 506 Get Awards

Boy Scout Troop 506's annual family pot luck ham and baked bean supper, held Friday evening, June 5, at the Winchester Unitarian Church, was highlighted by the presentation of two special awards.

Dr. Robert E. Storer, pastor emeritus of the church, presented the award named in his behalf to Scout Michael Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hughes of 5 Lincolnshire Way. The bronze plaque, awarded for the first time this year, is given to that boy who has benefitted most from the program.

The Malcolm H. Masters award for the boy who has contributed most to the troop was made to David Trageser, son of Dr. and Mrs. Milton B. Trageser of 9 North Gateway, by Scoutmaster Richard B. Lawrance.

Bantam Soccer Overcomes Needham 2-1

Winchester's bantam soccer team 6-3-0 secured third place in the final standings by beating Needham 2 to 1 Sunday at MacDonald Field, before a number of enthusiastic spectators who applauded encouragement to this spirited team.

Needham had taken the first goal, but before the first half ended, Winchester's Peter Martini had scored the tieing goal. Winchester played a good aggressive game and in the second half Vincent Palumbo scored the winning goal.

Co-captain Ed Shiang did a fine job heading and passing at center halfback. Richie Jacobs, a great hockey center, was also great as a soccer fullback with his clearing passes. Also contributing were Steve Roche, Chuck Bumiller, Roy Palumbo, David Burns and Mike Kennedy.

Sunday, June 14th, will be the cup semi final. Pairings will not be announced until a league meeting Friday, June 12. Those interested may phone Coach John Duffy 729-5550 or Manager Don Bumiller 729-5306 on Saturday for Sunday's game information.

Friends Of Bands Review 1969-1970

The annual meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Bands and Orchestras was held in the music room of the Senior High School on Wednesday, May 20.

Mark Lombardi, who so successfully headed the group for 1969-1970, presided. Fred Murray was present to report on the 1969-1970 band activities which included a very rewarding exchange concert with the Montreal West High School Band. Plans for an even better year in 1970-71 were discussed.

Mr. Murray accepted, with great enthusiasm, two stereo cassette recorders and 12 cassettes which were presented to the music department from the Friends. Each senior member of the band and orchestra will receive a gift.

Other business included presentation of the secretary's and treasurer's report and the election of new officers. Mark Lombardi will continue as president. Assisting him will be vice president, Mrs. Mario Marrocco; Secretary, Mrs. Joseph F. McDonough; Treasurer, James McLaughlin; and Members-at-Large, Mrs. Alexander Fay and Walter Johnson.

All parents of members of any band or orchestra under the control of the Winchester School Department may be members of this organization. There are no dues for membership and it is hoped that each parent will want to participate in this enthusiastic group. One of the Friends' project is running the food concession at the home football games. Many volunteers are needed. We'll be contacting you!

Dear RockTronics:

You made my husband's 30th birthday such a fantastic success that I just had to tell you one more time how utterly delighted we were with the super-fabulous show you brought to us! As I admitted to you on Saturday, I was totally unfamiliar with your organization. Considering that I called you at 8:00 P.M. for a performance that evening, I was truly overwhelmed with what you created for us!

I very sincerely have never enjoyed anything so much as the perfect selection of records you brought and the overwhelming lighting effects which I'm sure have made our party the event of the year!

You worked speedily, beautifully and courteously and you have spoiled us for any future parties — and I assure you that we shall never have another again without calling on you.

Sincerely,
Laura Philipp

Rotary Softball Shapes Up

To supplement its program for athletic development and physical fitness the Rotary softball team practice sessions are now being held each Thursday evening at Loring Field.

Practices are being activated this year by an excellent group of rookis who are giving some veterans of the team a fierce battle for their places on the starting line-up.

Among these promising rookies are Ev Waters, Ed Ball, Woody Boynton, and Dick Norris. Among the firmly entrenched veterans who will most probably retain their starting assignments is the battery combination of ace pitcher Harry Chefalo and his catcher Jay Finn who has shown outstanding improvement in early training. Other veterans who show some hustle this season are John Gonsalves, Al Hovannesian, Bill Saurman, Paul Whitney, Bill Wilde, Al Tatarian, Red Rand, and Bob Costello.

The entire 1970 team seems to be motivated by the desire to have a winning year for President Hovannesian who has been "advised by Lloyds of London to invest in a pair of cleats."

Arrangements are also being made this year to play against neighboring Town Rotary Clubs in the interest of expanding Rotary fellowship.

The Winchester Club now intends to compete against the local Lions and Kiwanis groups as part of a community tri-club contest, all in good sport and relaxation.

World War II pensions and death benefit payments probably will reach their peak about the year 2000. The total cost is expected to be $5.5 billion a year at that time.

Troop 525 Climbs Carrigain

Fifteen Scouts and leaders of Troop 525 climbed Mount Carrigain in the Pemigewasset Wilderness, New Hampshire, this past weekend.

Half the climbers took the northwesterly trail 6.9 miles from Sawyer River Road over Mount Carrigain down to Desolation Shelter of the Appalachian Mountain Club where they set up camp for the night.

This group was led by Bob White and John Vincent, Troop committeemen.

The other Scouts hiked a longer but relatively flat 9.3 miles from the Kancamagus Highway northeast along the Pemigewasset River to the Desolation Shelter to join the others for Saturday night. This second group was led by Jack Wilson, scoutmaster. On Sunday the Scouts joined to hike the other half of the trail.

Light rain was falling in Winchester at 6:45 a.m., assembly time, so all Scouts enclosed their packs in plastic bags. On the trail the only precipitation came at night. The cloud cover did limit the spectacular view from the top of Carrigain, rated one of the best views in New England.

This was the first of three training trips to prepare for an eight day mountain trip in late August. Troop 525 plans to hike from Franconia Notch through Crawford Notch over the Presidentials to Pinkham Notch, a total of about 60 miles, on the "big" trip.

Troop 525 is sponsored by the Vinson-Owen Parents Association. The troop meets on Monday nights, 7:30 p.m., at the Vinson-Owen School.

Wyman Wildcats Still Remain Undefeated

By James R. Stewart, Jr.

Wyman School's Wildcats showed their staying power last Sunday as they defeated a stubborn Lincoln School Black Knights baseball team by 5-2 in the feature game of last weekend's Cap League play.

Coming off a 2-2 tie in the third inning, the Wildcats pushed across enough runs in succeeding innings to keep their slate clean for Division I honors.

Two extra-inning games showed the balance of personnel in the league as scores indicated the closeness of each battle. At Ginn Field the Washington Generals played behind the clutch pitching by Ron deVincenzo and produced three scoreless innings pitched by Bill Rogers to make a 5-4 win in 7 innings over the ever-tough St. Mary's Saints. The Saints electrified the spectators with some excellent fielding throughout the game. In the extra canto Ed Doughty scored the winning run after some heads-up base running.

At West Side Field the longest game of the season was played between the Parkhurst Maroons and the Muraco Marauders. At the end of regulation time the score was tied at 10-10, but in the 7th, the Maroons pushed across 7 runs. Although they got one run back in their half, the Maruaders could not come up with enough hits to pull it out. Tom McGinty was the individual star for Parkhurst when he pitched two strike-outs with men on second and third, snuffing out a Muraco rally, and sparking his team to the 17-11 overtime win.

Noonan School's Golden Eagles upped their record to 3 and 3 with a heart-stopping win over the Mystic Tigers. It looked like a romp for the Eagles in the first few innings, as they built up a big lead, but the Tigers came clawing back and were only one out from tying the score, with two out and men on second and third bases. In this situation, John Breen, playing third base, grabbed a tough line drive in the air to snuff out the rally. Breen had also pitched 3 scoreless innings for the Eagles. His team's cause was helped by a bases loaded triple stroked by Jim Fallon to the delight of the Noonan rooters. The final score was 20-18! In the other game Vincent-Owen's Orioles notched their second win of the season as with an outstanding team effort they downed the Mystic Green Hornets 11-9.

The games on Saturday were rained out and will be tacked onto the end of the season. This was the second postponement. As it now stands, the games originally scheduled for May 17 will be played on Sunday, June 14. The postponed games of June 6 will be played on Saturday afternoon, June 20.

This means that the playoffs for the Division Championships will be held on Sunday, June 21, barring any further postponements. Games scheduled on Fields 4 and 5 are being played at West Side Field until further notice to take advantage of a regulation diamond.

Next Saturday's game between the Washington Generals and the Mystic Tigers will be played at Washington School as part of that school's Field Day.

Officials "Loose" Keith Doty In State Meet

by John F. Parrell

When local sports fans read the Sunday papers they were amazed to find that there was no mention of Keith Doty, the Sachem flyer, as a place winner in the 220 yard dash. They were no more amazed than the local followers and coaches who braved the downpour to attend the meet.

Keith ran the race and he ran it well, but in the confusion of the finish the judges missed seeing him. It was a combination of the rain, a plethora of white jerseys and the officials error, but it kept him from qualifying for the finals, and probably for the New England meet to be held this week.

The local sprinter is certainly one of the speediest to ever wear the Sachem track colors and the unfortunate error deprives him of the chance for further honors. Just how talented he is can best be shown by the fact that arch rival Steve Hogan of Woburn won the gold medal in the 100 yard dash. Keith beat him soundly in two races within the past fortnight.

Sachem Men Make All Star Lacrosse Team

by John F. Parrell

At a state-wide meeting of lacrosse coaches recently the all star team for the rugged spring sport was selected. The Sachem stickmen of Coach Gene Bouley achieved the most players on both the first team and the honorable mention group.

The Winchester team placed three in each category, giving them top honors numerically. This was even more than the talented Longmeadow group coached by Bill McCullough, who bested them for the state title.

It has been a great season for the local lacrosse boys who went undefeated among high school teams until the final against Longmeadow. In that game they took a commanding lead, faltered and before they could get their attack recorganized, were on the short end. Many of the key players will be returning for another season of action. The future looks bright.

Boys from Winchester selected for the all star team are Garry Fincke, attack; Phil Sampson, first midfield; and Peter Wardell, defense. Listed in the honorable mention group from Winchester were Bill Brink, midfield; Bob Thomas, attack; and Mark Lombardi, defense.

St. Mary's To Hold Outing

St. Mary's Annual Canobie Lake Outing for sixth, seventh, and eighth graders will take place on Saturday, June 20.

Busses will leave St. Mary's parking lot at 9 a.m. and return at 5:30 p.m. Tickets are available at St. Mary's Hall after Sunday Masses.

J V Nine End Year With 9-5

by John F. Parrell

Coach Vandy French's JV baseball team ended its season with a thrilling 6-5 win over their Stoneham counterparts as Dana Peterson pitched them to victory.

The sophomore footballer has been leading the team in batting, but this was his first real venture on the mound. He promises to develop into the type of pitcher that varsity coach Bill Colella will need next year since Bruce Mullen, John Reardon and George Greenwich have graduated.

This final win brought the JV record for the season to 12-5, and enabled them to finish second behind Woburn's outstanding JV group which was 17-1. The team gained much valuable experience and many of the boys will be ready to move into vacant varsity berths with the coming of another season. Larry Penta and Peter Garrity have done some excellent pitching, and John Procopio's bat, as well as Peterson's should help the offense.

Procopio delivered the most telling blow of the Stoneham game as he laced a long home run to score two base runners ahead of him, building the Sachem lead. This was John's fourth circuit clout of the season.

Circus Night Is Celebrated By Pack 524

During its last meeting, Pack 524 celebrated circus night. Prior to the beginning of the meeting, a circus midway was set up around the gymnasium including several side shows and games.

The opening ceremony consisted of the pledge of allegiance to the flag and was followed by the retirement of the Honor Den Award. Den 3 became permanent holder of the award as they have captured the honor four times during the year. A feat which no other den came close to equaling.

The remainder of the evening was directed by "Charlie Brown" Watts, our own ringmaster.

The opening act was the parade of elephants. Boys of Den 1 performed this act. The tricks included the usual parade around the circus ring and balancing on platforms. Miss Theresa Murray performed as the trainer.

Den 2 presented "Six Masters Of Magic." Six magicians, paired in the center ring, argued about who was the best magician. Finally, one magician made three of the others disappear — thus eliminating half of the competition. One of the remaining magicians pulled eggs out of a hat while the second magician performed mind reading feats. The third magician made the vanished magicians reappear; however, they came back in varied forms — one as Snoopy, one as a bearded lady, and third as himself.

The first clown act of the evening was performed by Den 4. Their clever bowling tricks included throwing one clown down the alley at the pins.

Den 3 performed a gravity defying balancing act. The first boy sat on a chair, the second sat on his lap and the third sat on the second's lap and so on until the last boy removed the chair and the first boy sat on the last boy's lap.

During the first intermission, Henry Robinson presented awards to the following Cubs for selling Scout show tickets. Recipients of the award were:

Michael Robinson, and Peter Friborg tied for first place in the competition to sell the most tickets.

Allan Rodgers, Pack Awards chairman, presented the Achievement Awards for this month.

Steven Watts, Silver Arrow; Paul Selvitelli, Bear, Gold Arrow, and four Silver Arrows; Robert Paridy, Silver Arrow; Stephen Johnson, Gold and two Silver Arrows; Mark Swierzewski, Bear and Gold Arrow; Michael Minutoli, Gold and Silver Arrow; Richard Martin, Silver Arrow; Charles Larkin, Gold Arrow; Edward O'Connell, Gold Arrow; Chris Patterson, Silver Arrow; Pat Porter, Forester.

Mr. Rodgers especially commended Paul Selvitelli for earning the largest number of awards this year. All of the Webelos listed below received the Arrow Of Light award: Pat Porter, Jay Bourne, John McGinty, Fred Murray, George Kingsley, Scott Matheson, Francis Mazzucotelli, Mark Nelson, Michael Robinson, Brian Quinn.

April awards not previously reported are: Dana Berg, Bear; Robert Pariday, Gold Arrow; Steven Johnson, Bear; Pat Paolini, Gold and Silver Arrow; Mark Swierzewski, Gold and three Silver Arrows; Ed O'Connell, Wolf; Fred Murray, Artist; Jay Bourne, Citizen, Naturalist, Showman and Traveler; Brian Quinn, Artist; Steven Black, Traveler; Francis Mazzucotelli, Scholar and Scientist; Mark Nelson, Traveler; George Kingsley, Artist, Scholar, Scientist and Showman; Scott Matheson, Scholar.

Den 5 presented a series of three short acts. The first was a tumbling act followed by a ventriloquist act featuring "Edgar Bergen," "Charlie McCarthy," and "Mortimer Snerd." Their third act featured the "Mad Doctor" who cured all his patient's ills by amputatiing the offending limb.

Den 6 presented a Side Show billed as the "Greatest Show This Side Of The Aberjona River." The feature attractions were a headless man, Siamese twin outfielders, sword swallowers, fat lady, tatooed man and the strongman and his assistant.

Henry Pacino was presented a lapel pin and made an Honorary Member of the pack.

Pack Committee Chairman, Robert Paridy, summarized the events of the year and commended parents for their participation and cooperation in making it very successful. Cubmaster Bill McGinty previewed next year's events and listed those offices which have been assigned.

He went on to appeal for additional help from parents to fill the remaining vacancies. The Webelos Program is in dire need of additional leaders. It is expected that there will be four Webelos' Dens next year rather than the two that we had this year.

Internists Elect Dr. Contompasis New President

Peter H. ontompasis, M.D., of 175 Washington Street, was elected president of the Massachusetts Society of Internal Medicine at the society's recent annual meeting in Hyannis. Dr. Contompasis has been active in this association of Massachusetts internists since its founding in 1958 and has held many positions of responsibility in the interval, serving as vice-president during the past year.

PETER H. CONTOMPASIS, M.D.

MSIM, local component of the 10,000 member American Society of Internal Medicine, has served both the public and internists in recent years by helping to shape the new government medical programs such as Medicare and Medicaid and the new Blue Shield plans. Its aim is to assure adequate coverage and high quality standards in the medical services which these programs are designed to provide to an ever-broadening base of eligible citizens.

The new society president is a specialist in internal medicine and tal and Georgetown University Medical Associates. He is assistant chief of medicine at the New England Memorial Hospital, Stoneham, and senior physician at Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Medford.

Following graduation from Tufts University School of Medicine in 1947, he served in internship and residencies at Boston City Hospital and Georgetown University Medical Center in Washington, D.C. He continues on the faculty of his medical alma mater, actively involved in the instruction of second year medical students.

His honors include membership in the honorary medical fraternity Alpha Omega Alpha, and fellowship in the American College of Physicians.

Dr. Contompasis lives at 23 Alden Lane with his wife and four children.

Mental Health Case Aides Are Needed

The Mystic Valley and Central Middlesex Mental Health Associations remind men and women interested in volunteer work with the mentally ill that now is the time to plan for September projects. The case aide program at Metropolitan State Hospital, which is run jointly by these associations, will be opening up three new groups of volunteers after Labor Day. In order to secure a place in a group, interested volunteers should apply immediately for an interview with the program staff.

Requirements for entry into the case aid program are maturity, warmth, and an interest in working with people. All aides must commit themselves to devote a regular morning each week for one year. To date nearly 200 men and women have taken part in the program, and have successfully helped scores of patients to leave the hospital and to adapt to community life, sometimes after an illness of 20 or more years.

The case aides each are assigned an individual patient and with the constant help and advice of professional social workers, follow a carefully planned program tailored to fit the needs of the patient. Aides also meet weekly with their group of volunteers (approximately 12 to a group) for seminar-style discussions under professional leadership.

Housewives and retired men who are looking for responsible volunteer work where they can use their experiences in working with people, are asked to call the case aide office at 862-1496.

Accidents Result In Damage And Personal Injury

Among motor vehicle accidents occurring in Winchester recently were three which involved personal injury and property damage.

On Wednesday, May 27, Officer John W. McKinley was sent to investigate a one-car collision in front of 175 Forest Street at 9:25 p.m. Elmo L. Albertelli of Arlington was transported to Winchester Hospital for a complaint of chest injuries. He had been rounding the curve at this location when he struck a utility pole. His car incurred front end damage and was towed from the scene.

A front-end collision between two vehicles occurred at Forest and Washington Streets on Thursday afternoon, May 28. According to the police report, Evelyn M. Reilly of Saugus was travelling southeast on Forest when she came into contact with the car operated by John A. DeVito of 8 Chapin Court, who was moving northwest on that street and making a left turn into Washington.

The Fire Department responded to put out the automobile fires. Both were towed from the site, showing heavy front end damage to each. Mrs. Reilly received a bump on her right arm. Officer Paul J. Cogan filed the report.

One automobile was responsible for a succession of property damage along Main Street on Sunday, May 31. John J. Doyle of 2 Perkins Road told Officer John J. Frongillo that he had been "sideswiped" by a motor vehicle that continued on after missing him. As a result he lost control of the car, he claims, and struck the fence and evergreen trees at 89 Main Street, continued through the evergreens at 83, and on to the trees and a car parked in the driveway at 77. A school crossing sign was also damaged. His motor vehicle was towed from the scene.

Selectmen Sign Bonds; Appoint Board Member

At their Monday evening session, June 15, the Board of Selectmen, continuing with the signing of bonds, conducted several hearings ranging from matters of personnel and utilities to a request to a common victualler's license. Appointment to a vacancy on the Planning Board was also made.

That morning Town Treasurer Marguerite H. Troop had received notes in anticipation of revenue on borrowing, bonds totaling approximately one million dollars. They were received from New England Merchants Bank, the State Street Bank and Trust Company, and the Capital Bank and Trust Company.

In signing the bonds the Selectmen noted that in the past two weeks interest on these bonds has jumped by one per cent.

Selectman John J. Sullivan served as chairman pro tem for the session due to the absence of regular Chairman Ralph M. Swanson from a portion of the meeting.

Convening with representatives of the Planning Board, the two boards gave their joint unanimous approval to the appointment of Robert J. Spiller of 4 Leslie Road to the Planning Board vacancy left by Richard F. Dutting. Mr. Dutting resigned as he has moved his residence to Maine.

Mr. Spiller received his bachelors of business administration degree from the University of Massachusetts in 1952. Other educational background includes the Graduate School of Savings Banking, 1967. Having served with the U.S. Air Force, he is presently a captain in the U.S.-A.F. Reserve.

Five Cents Savings

Mr. Spiller began as a mortgage trainee and construction inspector in 1956 for the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank. Since then he has occupied such positions as assistant treasurer, assistant to the manager of the construction loan department; assistant vice president, manager of the construction loan department; and vice president. In April of this year he was appointed executive vice president.

His bank-related activities include, member, American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, Senior Residential Appraisers, Society of Real Estate Appraisers, Greater Boston Real Estate Board, and committee on mortgage investments, National Association of Mutual Savings Banks; director, Home Builders Association of Greater Boston, New England Chapter, American Institute of Real Estate Agencies, Massachusetts Association of Real Estate Boards, and University of Massachusetts Foundation; treasurer, director, Home Builders Association of Greater Boston; president, Metropolitan Mortgage Bureau (1969); and trustee, Fisher Junior College.

Other hearings brought about the approval of a request for a pole location on Thornberry Road. Fire Chief I. Francis Amico met in executive session with the Board concerning the retirement of Firefighter Robert F. Haggerty, and the hearing with Robert Bruno on traffic problems connected with conducting an upper Main Street business was cancelled due to a "mutual understanding" with Chief of Police Edward F. Bowler.

Another meeting took place at this time with applicants for a common victualler's license to be used in a restaurant at the site of the former Colonial Terrace.

Warren O'Shea of 20 Hancock Street, representing Philip O'Shea, was joined by other members of the venture Robert Guarante and Henry Broekhoff in expressing the desire to establish "not a good, but a great" restaurant, exclusive and boasting a

WRKO To Host Two Members Of CONCERN

Radio station WRKO is holding for the second consecutive Sunday night a drug "rap-in" program to be on the air from 8 p.m. to midnight, June 21. WRKO has asked CONCERN's Dr. Donald McLean, chairman, and Phil Sampson, youth co-chairman, to be on this program for the last hour.

The basic aim of this program is to be simple to allow participants to air "their thing," whether it's a special program on overall aid to addicts, drug education, treatment of those in the "drug bag," or law enforcement.

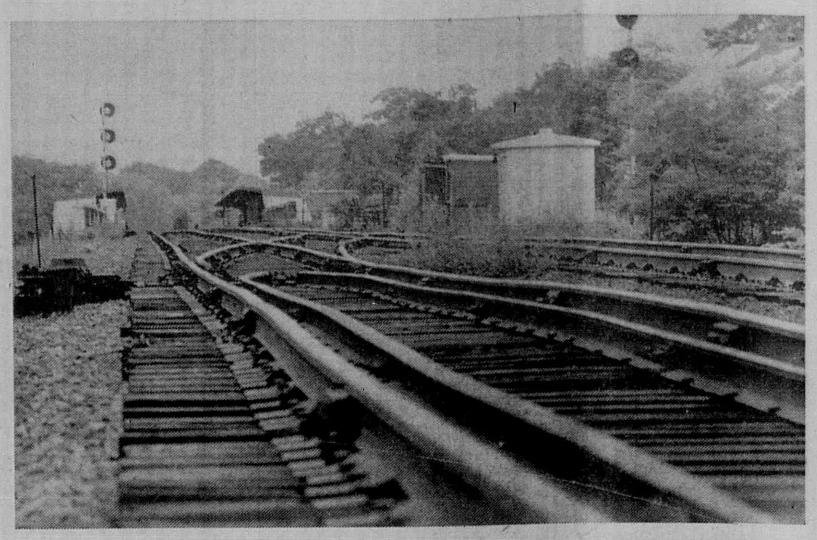

This will be an informal gathering of participants to compare notes on the air and inform listeners of the tremendous amount of work being done to relieve tensions concerning drugs and their abuse.

Through the radio media, WRKO hopes to create an actual "rap-in" to give the views of participants during this four hour session. Concentration will be on the participants, to actually keep the listening audience informed. However, they do plan to allow some telephone callers to become involved in the program.

The two week drug "rap-in" has replaced the regularly scheduled "Now Generation" conducted by WRKO. Both programs are geared to youth and their contemporary problems.

ANTICIPATION OF SUMMER, which officially is only four days away, may conjure up a vision of Leonard Pool in mid-August of last year. To instill respect for water safety, American Red Cross swimming instruction is being offered through the Summer Recreation Program. Registration will be held on Monday, June 29, at 10 a.m. at Leonard Pool. (Ryerson photo)

WINCHESTER STATION ON THE BOSTON AND MAINE TRACKS to Woburn and Lowell takes on the aspect of a "hobo junction" when viewed from this location, just north of the center of Town. Summer will increase the fire and safety hazards naturally posed here. The line has also been experiencing serious trouble with rock-throwing vandals in the areas closer to Boston. (Ryerson photo)

Six Week Adventure Still Has Openings Available

Ethnic cooking, swimming, and weekly field trips will highlight the afternoon program of this summer's Six Weeks Adventure. Sports, art, crafts, creative drama, and dance will further augment program offerings.

Scheduled from Monday, June 29, to Friday, August 7, children between the ages of six and 12 may be enrolled. They need not be registered in the academic program at Washington School to participate in the Six Weeks Adventure.

Being initiated this year in the afternoon recreation program is an Ethnic Cooking Group which will meet twice a week. Children will be guided by various of "our famous local experts" in the area of their specialty. Emphasis will be placed upon the actual preparation and consumption of dishes from all over the world, as well as on the cultural background of the national or ethnic favorite.

Some of the instructors will be Mrs. Frederick Holahan, Italian; Mrs. David Moros, French; Mrs. Joseph Anderson, Jamaican; Mrs. William Goodwin, German; and Mrs. Stephen Miliaras, Greek.

One of the most enjoyable and practical activities of last season was the swimming program. Local pools were used on a once-a-week basis to provide concentrated instruction in swimming by qualified instructors. It was noted that children who had been non-swimmers were swimming at the end of the six weeks.

The committee felt that much was accomplished with this small group instructional method. Additional swimming pools are needed this year on the once-a-week schedule, any day from 12 noon to 3 p.m. in order to allow these small groups of children to receive instruction. If anyone is able to donate a pool for a portion or for all of the six weeks, they are asked to contact 729-4234.

The recreation program will be conducted at the Unitarian Church. The cost per child is small and inclusive. For further information call 729-5677.

Contributions to the project are still most welcome. Six Weeks Adventure is sponsored by the Winchester Ecumenical Association and the Winchester Council for Community Action. For more information concerning costs and budget requirements, telephone 729-4629. Auto Accidents Plague Town's Main Streets

Cambridge and Swanton Streets and Highland Avenue were the scenes of several motor vehicle accidents recently. These main thoroughfares were among those streets cited by the Board of Selectmen on Monday night, June 15, for specific attention in the traffic and layout study which is part of the master plan review now being conducted.

Just before 12 noon Monday morning, June 15, a hit and run accident occurred in front of 40 Cambridge Street, off of Robinson Park. Charles M. Avakian of Arlington was issued a citation for leaving the scene of an accident after knowingly causing damage.

Sandy Beach Is Scene Of Drowning

When Winchester police arrived at Sandy Beach in mid-afternoon Sunday, June 14, mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was being applied to a drowning victim. Minutes later Joseph Saporito, 25, of Woburn was pronounced dead on arrival at Winchester Hospital by a medical examiner.

Discovery of the body was made by a 14-year-old Somerville youth, William McLaughlin, who was diving within the roped off area of the Upper Mystic Lakes waters. He spotted the body and brought it to the surface. Lifeguards aided him in bringing the victim to the first aid room where revival was attempted.

Judging from the color of the victim, it is felt that he may have been in the water for some length of time prior to discovery. Mr. Saporito had come to the beach with his wife and son, joining a large crowd enjoying the seasonable weather there.

Responding to the call for aid were Winchester Police Department members Sergeant Roland Roy and Officers Jaspar Asaro, John Frongillo, Roger DeMinico, Kevin Mawn, and Paul Cogan. The MDC police were also notified.

Leslie School Program Has Vacancies

Children now completing kindergarten are welcome to participate in the Winchester-Lesley College Summer Program, according to Frederick Murray, director of Summer School. Because of considerable interest and inquiry about enrollment of kindergarten children, the program has been opened up for these children (who will begin first grade in September).

The Laboratory School program will include instruction in typical kindergarten curriculum offerings such as reading readiness, beginning reading, the alphabet, simple number concepts, plus the enrichment activities of art, music, and nature trails.

David Rendall Joins Students Aiding Navajos In Arizona

David S. Rendall, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward S. Rendall of 16 Ardley Place, a junior sociology major at Princeton University, and a graduate of the Browne and Nichols School, Cambridge, will be among 11 Princeton undergraduates – six of them receiving no financial remuneration whatsoever – who are devoting their summer to work deep in the sprawling Navajo reservation in northeast Arizona. Mr. Rendall will be involved in the construction phase of the project.

For the fourth summer, the Student Volunteer Program for the Navajo will draw selected collegians from different parts of the country to Rough Rock, Arizona, and its Indian-run demonstration school. Thirty young men and women are participating this summer, with the Princeton group again making up the nucleus.

While five of the Princeton men will be supported by Federal and University funds through a Summer-in-the-Cities program, six other men and women are donating their efforts, with room and board provided by the demonstration school, according to Dr. Alfonso Ortiz, 31-year-old Princeton University anthropologist and a member of the Tewa tribe of northern New Mexico. Dr. Ortiz has had general oversight of the student program for the past three years.

This summer's projects will center in two areas.

Part of the group, including Mr. Rendall, will work on construction of low-cost housing, under a Federal grant, to house employees of the demonstration school, which serves some 330 Navajo boys and girls six to 12 years of age, as well as teenagers and adults through special programs. The settlement is located about 125 miles from Gallup, New Mexico, the nearest community of any size.

The rest of the group will tutor Navajo elementary and secondary students in mathematics, English, drama, music, and arts and crafts.

There are about 120,000 Indians on the Navajo reservation, according to Professor Ortiz. The Rough Rock Demonstration

School Committee Extends Open Campus And English Programs For Next Year

At their Monday night, June 15, meeting in the Washington School auditorium, the Winchester School Committee voted to extend the campus plan for the 1970-71 school year with the appproval of the State Board of Education.

Other matters on the agenda were the slow learner pilot English program, overcrowding in the third grade at the Washington school, the reappointment of Dr. Richard B. Lawrance to the Elementary and Secondary School Building Sub-Committees, and evaluation of the School music program.

The School Committee announced that a decision will be made early next week on requests for special consideration in the selection of students to be transferred from Mystic, Lincoln, and Noonan Schools to Muraco School. The transfer is scheduled under the redistricting plan voted recently by the Committee.

In evaluating the campus plan, Vincent E. Larocco, assistant principal of the high school, noted that the only way to fully evaluate the plan is to have it in effect for a full school year. The major benefit of the plan seems to be that it does not hold back the majority of students who are able to handle the increased responsibility which is inherent in the plan.

In his report, Mr. Larocco stated that there has been very "little variance in opinion from the interim evaluation until present." Those who opposed the plan originally still oppose it, while those who favored it have not changed their minds. The only notable difference in opinion results from the fact that, in general, those parents who originally had no opinion are now opposed to the plan."

Cutting

When asked by Committeewoman Mary Mears about attendance statistics since the plan was put into effect, Mr. Larocco said that he was not sure if cutting per se has increased. He explained that what was formerly called lateness is now called a cut after five minutes. Thus, absence statistics have increased, although the increase may be due as much to change in classification as to the campus plan.

Mr. Larocco felt that better programming and more informal student-faculty interaction would result in less cutting. He also wanted to stress that the campus plan does not and will not provide more classroom space.

He suggested that the "mini courses" commence in October or November and end when the good spring weather begins, as attendance at the courses varied directly with the weather. He also noted that morale at the high school has increased notably since the advent of the campus plan.

Richard J. Sullivan Jr., director of the English department at the high school, aided by Mrs. Linda B. Wagner, eighth grade English teacher at McCall, and Jonathan Stableford, tenth grade English teacher at the high school, gave a favorable evaluation of the pilot program for slow learners. Mr. Sullivan characterized the program as "an infant in swaddling clothes" which cannot yet be expected to act like an adult.

The program, which is now in effect in the eighth grade at McCall and the tenth grade at the high school, will continue next year, with Mr. Stableford and Mrs. Wagner following the same students they taught this year.

As a result of the totally non-directive approach used this year, the program will be more structured and directive next year, with specific assignments given, and group activities planned. Both Mrs. Wagner and Mr. Stableford were glad to have experimented with the unstructured ap-

Student International Offers Opportunities

In the spring of 1970 it seems unusual when a friendship survives the stretch of an ocean and the span of a year, but the student exchange program offered by Student International Service has provided such an opportunity for the Kenneth Blank family of 37 Elm Street.

Last summer the Blanks hosted an 18-year-old Norwegian boy, Sigurd Bruusgaard, for three weeks through this program. They are still receiving monthly letters from him. And on June 23 Gregory Blank, 15, will join 87 other young people from the eastern Massachusetts area in a four week exchange program to Sweden. He looks forward to forming more such friendships.

This Winchester family has become enthusiastic about the program conducted by Student International Service, whose primary goal is to "foster international acquaintanceship and consciousness." Again this summer approximately 800 Scandinavian students, ranging in age from about 14 to 22, will arrive in the Boston area.

Host families for these students are still needed. According to the schedule the visitors will arrive for a three week stay with the host family, followed by a week of sightseeing along the eastern coast. The group will be divided between June 17 to July 10, June 24 to July 17, July 1 to August 15, and July 15 to August 7.

Kenneth Blank is paying for his excursion by himself from money earned with a Sunday morning paper route. "The kindness of customers," particularly at Christmas, has made the trip possible.

SIS has arranged for Kenneth to stay in Lomma, Sweden, a "garden suburb" of approximately 250,000 people, ten miles north of Illalmo. The town is located in the south of Sweden.

While there he will live the life of his host family, Mr. and Mrs. Bengt Rosenlind, just as Sigurd had spent his three weeks with the Blanks the previous summer. The Rosenlinds have two boys, 15 and 12, and a four-year-old girl.

Following his 23 day stay in Lomma, Kenneth will join other American students in a six day bus tour through Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Germany. And what is he looking forward to seeing? Glass factories and castles.

While Kenneth is away, the Blanks will be moving from Elm Street to Park Avenue. But this will not prevent them, if necessary, from hosting a Scandinavian student for whom an American host family can not be found, Mrs. Blank declares.

If anyone is interested in discussing or obtaining more information about the student exchange program, they may contact Mrs. Blank at 729-7586, or Carina Hedbom, at 254-5949, Student International Service, 191 Cambridge Street, Allston, 02134.

Authority Holds First Meeting, Elects Officers

The first meeting of the newly created Winchester Housing Authority was conducted on Wednesday, June 10, for the purpose of organization and election of officers.

The Authority was established by the 1970 Annual Town Meeting upon acceptance of the recommendation by its parent group, the former Public Housing Study Committee. A five-member body, it is composed of four persons selected by the Winchester Board of Selectmen to elective positions, with the fifth member being an appointee made by the Governor for a three year term.

The primary concern of the Authority will be in exploring the problem of housing for the elderly. Provision for those of welfare status has been only mentioned in the past.

Present at Wednesday evening's meeting was Christopher J. McCarthy of the State Community Affairs Committee. He briefed the members as to the proper procedures to employ in the conduct of their affairs and the organization of their sessions.

The results of the election held at this meeting were Chairman, Mrs. Mary F. Murphy of 29 Richardson Street; Vice Chairman, John J. Doherty of 137 Highland Avenue; Secretary, Charles T. Doucette of 6 Upland Road; Treasurer, Charles W. Craven of 6 Madison Avenue West; and Assistant Treasurer, Vincent J. Celia of 52 Winford Way.

As an official body the Winchester Housing Authority is scheduled to meet the second Monday of each month in the Town Hall. Sessions will be open to the public.

THE SERENITY OF A LATE SPRING DAY is reflected in the idle floating of these mallards. The wild ducks, who inhabit Mill Pond, Wedge Pond, and other bodies of water in the area, welcome visitors, particularly those who will share a lunch or afternoon snack. (Ryerson photo)

En Ka Society Holds Meeting At Poolside

The annual meeting and picnic luncheon of the En Ka Society was held last week beside the pool at the home of Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox Jr.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Robert Ingraham, president, and another year of service to the community by En Ka was highlighted in reports from each committee chairman.

Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, 1970 Street Fair chairman, and Mrs. George H. Gowdy, co-chairman, received a standing ovation from the membership for a job well done. The financial figures of the fair are not yet final, but it appears that it will break all previous records for money raised.

Mrs. William C. Platzoeder, acting for membership chairman, Mrs. John J. Shanahan, warmly welcomed the following new provisional members who were attending their first meeting: Mrs. Lawrence E. Brown, Mrs. Ralph W. Detra, Mrs. Robert F. Goldhammer, Mrs. Frank M. Gunby, Mrs. Clifton W. McNeill, Mrs. Ronald E. Stillman, and Mrs. James F. Walsh.

The 1969 provisionals were then presented with badges signifying their full membership in En Ka. These include Mrs. William B. Budd, Mrs. Thomas G. Callahan, Mrs. William M. Dean, Mrs. Jenness J. Eugley, Mrs. Edward W. Higgins, Mrs. Richard T. Nelson, Mrs. Winthrop Pearl, Mrs. Robert K. Sharon, and Mrs. Roswell C. Tarbell.

Mrs. Harry L. Benson, finance chairman, had compiled a report of En Ka's contributions for the year. A total of $21,997 has been donated by the En Ka Society to various town organizations and charities from June 1969 to June 1970.

A tribute was read in memory of En Ka member, Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker, who had been a devoted and hard working member for many years.

The following slate of officers for next year was presented by the nominating chairman, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, and duly elected by the membership:

President: Mrs. William M. Hopkins

Vice-President: Mrs. Paul C. Dunn

Secretary: Mrs. Richard N. Carr

Treasurer: Mrs. George H. Gowdy

Assistant Treasurer: Mrs. Gordon L. Sidebotham

Committees: Ways and Means, Street Fair, Mrs. Russell B. Strout; En Ka Exchange, Mrs. John F. White; Civic, Mrs. William W. Towner; Social Service, Mrs. William F. Hickey Jr.; Meetings, Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox Jr.; Membership, Mrs. William C. Platzoeder, chairman, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, and Mrs. Theodore B. Robinson; Finance, Mrs. Edward W. H. Little, chairman, Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, Mrs. Charles E. Potts Jr.; and Mrs. George D. Whitten; Nominating, Mrs. Herbert F. Ross, chairman, Mrs. William M. Beal, and Mrs. Robert J. Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

Summer Gatherings

"Organized play" for young people of junior and senior high school age is a difficult program to organize and maintain vitally. Such entertainment, usually left to the devices of school administrators during the academic year, has been forced to depend upon the wit and spontaneity of the young people themselves in past summers. But this season the Recreation Committee has incorporated a series of athletic and social offerings with its Summer Program geared to this age group.

These particular classes, all supervised, will be conducted at the Senior High School and include badminton, gymnastics and tumbling for boys, tumbling and acrobatics for girls, and weight lifting and riflery and small arms handling, both for boys. Formation of a junior and senior high basketball league is also planned.

Taking into consideration those students who work, the groups will meet evenings. Combining with all ages, young people may join in swimming instruction, Community Band, and Community Theatre.

Admittedly, the program is limited. The number of girls attracted to the High School gymnasium on Friday evenings for tumbling and acrobatics will, most probably, provide little cause for a feeling of success. However, the program itself is a beginning and a projection to future expansion may be allowed.

It is true that the churches and junior and senior high schools offer a wide variety of clubs and sports from September to June. But it seems a supplement is needed.

Aside from the obvious gap existing over the summer months, there is the problem of location for student gatherings. Institutions are limited in their ability to function as after-hours havens for young people with "nowhere to go." Their primary duty, understandably, is to their particular work schedule. Whether at some future time a designated center for young people as provided by the Recreation Department or other organization would actually relieve any of the "congestion" on the common, at the food store parking lot, or other areas, is only speculation.

Perhaps it will prove true this summer that not the number of persons participating, but the attitude of these participants will encourage both the Recreation Department and the young people themselves to pursue a more satisfying, year-round program.

Summer Departures

The Summer Solstice, scientifically marking the begining of summer, will occur this Monday. It was preceded by the graduation of high school and college seniors and arrives with final preparations for the closing of all schools. Adult anticipation of holidays from work runs ahead of all.

Winchester residents frequent the Cape Cod and North Shore beaches and escape to the mountains and shores of northernmost New England, devoting part or all of the summer to life at these locations.

Meanwhile, the Town must adjust to the halting attention of its citizens. It carries on recreational activities with boating, tennis, and swimming. It builds to the Fourth of July celebration, and relaxes into evenings of community theatre and strawberry festivals.

But in the area of government, little vitality is lost in the summer heat. Newly organized and refurbished, Town boards and study groups settle down to the tasks assigned at the Annual Town Meeting. In the center of these proceedings is the Board of Selectmen, their docket always full. And at this time the School Committee peaks activity in the effort to finalize staff, material, and policies before the autumn opening of schools.

Wherever townspeople choose to spend their summer days, it is hoped that their enjoyment of the coming months and an enlivened interest in the community will pervade renewed Town activities this fall.

Salt Studies

Editor of the Star:

In response to the letters of May 28 from Adrianne Rogers, outlining the causes and effects of pollution in the Aberjona and Mystic Lakes, and from Thomas Ford, expressing concern over the loss of so many of the shade trees in town; I would like to share the information I have about the practice of salting the streets in winter.

First, Winchester uses far more salt than any of the surrounding towns. Our streets receive 4500 tons of salt unmixed with sand on 86 miles of road, or about 20 lbs. to a foot in a winter. Medford uses 2800 tons on 113 miles and Stoneham uses 850 tons on 70 miles of street. Both of these towns mix sand with the salt.

Winchester started using pure salt on all its streets about ten years ago, because it is more economical, makes safer streets, and saves labor in snow removal and sand clean-up in the spring. Mr. O'Brien at the Highway Department estimates that his $260,000 budget for snow would be increased by only 1/3 if he used little or no salt and depended heavily on sand and plowing to clear the streets.

Second, although the studies and experiments on the effects of salt on trees made at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst and at the University of New Hampshire in Durham are not in complete agreement, they all indicate that salt plays a role in killing trees; especially sugar maples, hard maples, black cherry, paper birch, American beech, red and white pines, white spruce,, hemlocks, and balsam firs. Oaks seem more tolerant, partly because the considerable root damage they suffer prevents salt from being carried up into the twigs and leaves.

The one study from the University of Massachusetts that showed only a slight increase (three to six times higher than normal) in the chloride content of the leaves and no obvious detrimental effects on growth was looking at trees ten to 30 feet from a paved road spread with calcium chloride (the same salt we use) at only one-tenth the rate used in Winchester. A study in New Hampshire comparing trees within 30 feet of the highways, where salt is used, to trees in three towns where no salt is used found the town trees in much better condition. Experiments have also been made spreading salt directly over the root area on a year-round basis, and, not surprisingly, the trees have been killed. I am sending leaf and twig samples from trees in town to Amherst for analysis of their chloride content. In all studies to date, the damage goes where the chloride goes.

Finally, the present budget to outside contractors for removal of trees is $8000, and the men of the Highway Department remove more of the town trees themselves. Only $2500 was spent last year to buy 200 new replacement trees, and although Mr. O'Brien says he hopes to put in double that number of trees this year, $12.50 does not buy a tree that will even begin to compare for many years with the ones we are losing.

Perhaps it is time for us in this town to consider just how important it is to us to be able to drive fast on all our streets every day throughout the winter. Would we be willing to use sand and plows, slow down a bit, keep more of our big trees, and stop polluting our river and lakes? Plant new trees, as Mr. Ford says, but think twice about why we may be losing all the old ones..

Hope In Vienna

Editor of the Star:

As a resident of Winchester, I wanted to share with your readers the most solemn experience of having attended as—a "guest observer,"—one of the important conferences being held here in Vienna at the Atomic International Institute of the United Nations, which has its site here. Countries are seriously concerned with survival, and it was wonderful to see people from all races and countries trying to work problems, and most particularly, trying to utilize in a constructive manner the atom power!

This particular conference is geared to utilization of atoms toward nutritional methods.

I can only express my happiness and gratitude at being able to sit and listen. There is so much anger and discord of feelings around us everywhere, that when one gets the opportunity of seeing countries trying to work for the benefit of Humanity and not its destruction, it is a most uplifting experience.

That is all I want to express and share with your readers and fellow Winchesterites. There is hope and we all can do our small bit to bring peace and well being to the people of the world.

Sincerely,
Mercedes Meyer

Regret Departure

Editor of The Star:

Dear Dr. Powell, Mr. Diehl, and Mr. Rinehart:

It was with deep regret and surprise that the Parish Players Board learned of your resignations from the First Congregational Church. Our association with you has been one of mutual respect and good will. We shall miss your enthusiastic support of our dramatic productions and feel honored to have been able to take part in one of your recent church services.

We believe that the experimental worship service is a vital part of today's church if it is to remain interesting to young people. There must be room for creativity within the church structure as well as the more traditional approach to religious observance. Drama can be an important and effective vehicle for religious ideology.

More important than the fact that the Parish Players shall miss you is that we believe that the whole town of Winchester shall miss you. As ministers of the Congregational Church you have played active roles in the Ecumenical Movement, the Drug Abuse problem and in Housing Plans for the Elderly. In your work with the Puerto Rican Community of Woburn, the Neighborhood Council with blacks from surrounding towns and in your willingness to cooperate with a Headstart program from Roxbury; in your concern for the problems of youth, your interest in Peace and in many other areas of human concern, you have demonstrated your ministries to be that of true Christianity . . . not merely lip service religion. Religious men must, as a matter of course, be prepared and ready to give comfort to many more than the already comfortable.

Winchester shall indeed miss three such men of your convictions, courage and vision. The Parish Players Board wishes you well in all your future endeavors.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. James O. McIntosh

Sit - In

Editor of the Star:

I am one of 169 people who staged an obstructive sit-in in front of the Newton draft board on Monday, May 18. The Newton police arrested each of us and charged us with being "disorderly persons"—a charge that carries with it a maximum penalty of six months in jail and/or a maximum fine of $200.

The purpose of our civil disobedience was to communicate our sincere opposition to the war in Indochina and to the Selective Service System which provides men for that war. As you may have learned from the papers, our demonstration was entirely peaceful. Nevertheless when we appeared in Court, I had the feeling there were some Newton residents who supported our stand on the war but who were unwilling to condone even minor violations of the law.

I'd like to suggest that there is the possibility of taking direct action against the war and against the draft while remaining within the bounds of the law. The Shea bill is now Massachusetts law and it states quite explicitly that "no inhabitant of the Commonwealth who is in the military forces shall be required to serve outside the territorial limits of the United States in hostilities not initially authorized or subsequently ratified by a formal declaration of war." In other words it's against the law for any Winchester man to be forced to fight in Vietnam or Laos or Cambodia.

We all know, however, that this law is not enforced and that the Supreme Court may yield to political pressure and declare it unconstitutional. As of right now, though, the Shea bill is law. The question we should ask ourselves is, "As long as this law is in effect how can we use it to protect the rights of draftees who are opposed to the war?"

People with legal training may be able to come up with some answers (and I would appreciate hearing from such people), but the lawyers' arguments must be backed up by the pressure of public opinion. For instance, men who are 1-A and their families might request the Selective Service System to suspend operations until there is a guarantee that each Massachusetts man in the armed forces will receive the protection of the Shea bill.

Peace,
James B. Alt

Girls' Rights

Editor of the Star:

We would like to alert the girls of Winchester between the ages of 11 and 14.

Within the coming months, boys all over the nation will be entering the Soap Box Derby. Only boys will be entering. Why? Girls are not allowed to enter.

The rules stating this were written in 1935. In 1935 girls were supposed to sit at home and sew, knit, play jacks and jump rope. We do not want to.

In a recent advertisement for the Soap Box Derby, it says "Sorry girls, you can't race, but you can cheer them on." Chevrolet is sponsoring the Derby. In five more years we girls will be buying cars along with boys. So Chevrolet had better wise up, or they won't sell any cars.

In conclusion, let girls race. Wyman Annex suppports it. How about you?

Sincerely,
Debra DiSilva

Kiwanis Club Holds Drawing And Dance

On Saturday, June 13, the Winchester Kiwanis Club held its Spring Dinner Dance at the Winchester Elks Hall. Over 100 people were present to enjoy fine food, a wonderful orchestra, and good fellowship as arranged by ticket chairman Santo Cannava.

The highlight of the evening was a drawing conducted by Chairman Sid Horn. First prize, a color television, was won by Thomas O'Leary of Medford; second prize, a case of cheer, by Elaine Sarney of 2 Pocahontas Drive; and third prize, a Polaroid color camera, by Thomas Sullivan of Medford.

According to President Jack Rogers, the proceeds of the drawing will be used for the Kiwanis Club's annual Speech and Hearing Clinic for pre-schoolers, Fish Derby, and Kiwanis Scholarship. President Jack wishes to thank all who contributed to the success of the Fund Raiser.

BOOK REVIEW

Winchester Public Library

THE HOUSE KEEPERS

by Linda Grover

What fun it is to read the true story of a seven-year struggle against apparently insurmountable odds, especially when the outcome is a happy one and the tale is told with competence and wit.

Mrs. Grover found an apartment in New York which was cheap and possessed of all the disadvantages associated with that word. However, it was conveniently situated for their purpose and they settled in to make it habitable with their rather limited resources.

They were just beginning to appreciate the results of their own handiwork when they discovered that the City of New York had ideas about the 20-family apartment building — it was to be demolished as part of an urban renewal plan. As Mrs. Grover says in her introduction ". . . . our hardy group fought back hordes of attacking bureaucrats, and some independent entrepreneurs as well, with whatever was handy, and that included some outrageous and highly unlikely weapons."

In order to impress the responsible people in city government that it was a mistake to raze their building, the Tenants' Committee decided to hold a dinner party, to which anybody who was anybody would be invited. Representatives of the newspapers, magazines and TV stations were also asked to attend to report the event and a schedule was drawn up which would enable each floor to be inspected while a portion of the dinner was served.

"First floor: Appetizers and wine (but as the floor contributing wine caught the spirit, they escalated to martinis and manhattans)
Second floor: Soup
Third floor: Homemade bread and rolls
Fourth floor: Entree
Fifth floor: Salad
Sixth floor: Dessert
Seventh floor: Coffee

It would, of course, have been more logical to start at the top and work down . . . but our best apartments were at the top. . . . We wanted the officials, pleasantly stuffed, to look down on the twinkling lights of the city below and think grand thoughts about the human hopes and happiness in their hands."

There were times when the constant battle against losing their building became almost too wearing:

"We had resisted the trend toward regimented city living. . . . . Of course, if you're sensible, you don't ever stray from the approved Betty Crocker vinyl-coated path in modern America. You don't try to track down food without preservatives, or toys that aren't plastic, for if you do you'll be forced to efforts far outweighing any possible gain, and become completely alienated from society in the process. . . . All we'd wanted was not to be forced to live in one of those vertical ice cubes of tomorrow — carefully designed to meet the living requirements of a sociological stereotype. For that high crime I'd been sentenced to a dismal lifetime of haggling over nuts and bolts and plumbing pipes, with no end in sight."

If any of these observations strike a chord in the reader, then you must read and enjoy "The House Keepers."

proach, but found that some students definitely need to be pushed. Some form of student contract, where students establish individual goals and agree to meet them, will probably be used.

Objectives

In discussing the four objectives established last summer for the pilot program, Mrs. Wagner and Mr. Stableford agreed that attendance has been very good, and is in fact better than in conventional non-college programs. All the students are reading more, and they have learned to evaluate themselves more realistically. However, at this point the teachers are unable to see change and improvement in the students' communication of ideas.

Both teachers stressed the philosophical aspects of the pilot program, and acknowledged that such programs should only be established in schools that have willing teachers who have been trained in this approach, and cooperative administrators who are willing to experiment and grow with the program."

They emphasized the affective rather than the cognitive domain in their teaching, and reported that the repercussions of allowing a child to be labeled a failure are severely damaging, as they have found that self-concept problems are directly related to learning problems.

Frederick Morganthaler, speaking for a group of 59 concerned parents, brought before the Committee the problem of overcrowding in next year's third grade class at Washington school. The School Committee's projections show 59 students in two classes.

Since it is the Committee's policy to have no more than 30 pupils in each class, grades one to six, Dr. Donald Klemer, superintendent of schools, said that he would recommend transferring six students to the Muraco and Lincoln Schools, each of which have room in the third grade. He will be making a recommendation on this matter at the next School Committee meeting.

Music Program

Music Coordinator Wendell S. Withington, assisted by Frederick Murray and Miss Jeanne Loudon of the music staff, commented on the evaluation of the music program in the schools, which was done this past January by three music educators from several Boston area music schools.

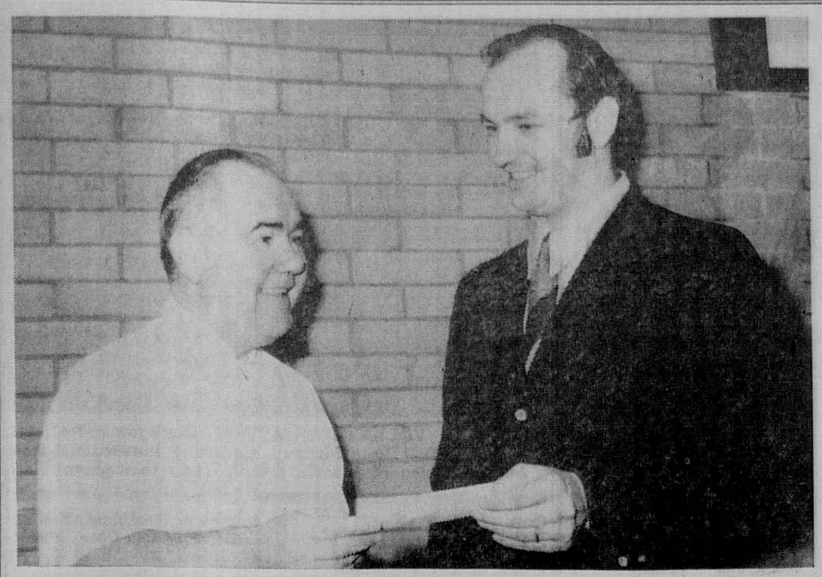

Mr. Worthington proposed that several things could be done to improve the music program in the school system without expending money. Among his recommendations were to limit music classes to 25-30 students, and to employ paraprofessionals for small group or individual instruction in grades seven to 12, the cost to be borne by the students on a conservatory system.

Mr. Withington also felt that vocal groups should carry the same credit as band and orchestra, music appreciation and theory should receive the same credit as other major subjects, and that music teaching stations for two general music teachers and adequate rehearsal facilities should be sought in the junior highs. He also favored the establishment of a fine arts council, a music resource center, and placement of the budget for music instruction under the control of the music staff and the director of music.

When asked by Committeeman Stephen B. Parkhurst for the highest priority needs which would involve money, Mr. Withington said more elementary school music teachers, and instrumental lessons for grades seven to 12, are in his estimation, most important.

The idea of employing paraprofessionals, instrumentalists who would teach music but are otherwise not qualified to teach, was received with enthusiasm. Dr. Klemer commented that the School Committee would need help from the community to get names of musicians who would be willing to work part-time instructing students.

Committee chairman, Mrs. Harriet H. Dieterich, announced that among the subjects to be discussed by the Committee in the coming weeks will be consideration of a 12 month school year.

Selectmen

French chef of impressive credentials, at this location. Stating that "French food and iced tea don't make it," the applicants are requesting that consumption and storage of liquor be allowed.

Price Level

When posed with the question of policing the Town's liquor laws, the group responded that the exclusiveness of the restaurant would be a deterrent to this problem, while another suggestion was a membership card giving proof of age.

They do not wish to expand beyond the limitations of the Colonial and do not feel that the venture would work if the Town's liquor restrictions could not be relaxed.

Selectman Sullivan cited possible future problems, if their request was granted, of such establishments as pizza houses requesting beer allowances, etc.

In other business of the evening, three jurors were drawn. They are James E. Connell Jr. of 4 Churchill Road, Mrs. Vivien M. England of 33 Fells Road, and Harold N. Larson of 30 Tufts Road.

In a communication from the Town Government Study Committee, it was asked that the Board send a representative to its June 24 meeting and it informed that in the event of a Special Town Meeting in the fall, it would have an article for the Warrant. It recommended that the task of redistricting begin immediately. The Board of Selectmen feels that it should form its own ideas on this project, while relying on the Study Committee to gather data.

It was also noted that Safety Officer Donald Pigott of the Winchester Police Department has filed a complaint of violation of the zoning By-Laws in Woburn District Court against Albert Russo of 380 Cross Street. The complaint alleges illegal removal of loam from a Cross Street site and is scheduled for June 25 in court.

Accidents

According to the police report filed by investigating Officer Joseph M. Crowe Jr., Kevin Riemer of Somerville was thrown approximately 15 feet after being struck by the Avakian vehicle which was moving in a southerly direction. The 15-year-old youth was transported to Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance by Officer Francis R. Manzie, where he was treated for a cracked knee and minor cuts and abrasions before being released that afternoon.

There were a number of witnesses to the accident, among them the brother of Kevin Reimer. Mr. Avakian is scheduled to appear in court on July 6.

Another motor vehicle accident on Cambridge Street the preceding day, June 14, led to the issuance of a citation to a juvenile who will make his appearance in Woburn District Court on June 26.

On Saturday night, June 13, Officer Frank Tranchita was summoned to Cambridge Street in front of No. 179 to investigate a rear end collision. William Zalman of Burlington informed the patrolman that he had slowed down for a traffic light when the impact from behind occurred with an automobile driven by Thomas R. Duggan of 3 Nassau Drive. Mr. Zalman complained of neck injury.

Officer Tranchita had visited Cambridge Street in front of No. 12 the preceding day, Friday, June 12, to investigate an accident between a car opperated by Jeanne M. Cresse of 12 Cambridge and a bicycle rider, Paul Vernaglia. As contained in the police report, the automobile was at the end of this driveway when struck by the bicycle which was moving in a northerly direction.

Highland Avenue

The intersection of Highland Avenue and Kenwin Road caused some misery for motorists on two separate days. On Thursday, June 11, Patricia J. Jennings of 49 Florence Street told Officer Crowe that while attempting to avoid an on-coming vehicle, with cars parked in a staggered pattern at the side of the avenue, she had swerved and struck one of the parked automobiles.

The car, registered to Ronald W. Ducher of Burlington, was towed from the scene. It had been stationary in the southeast bound lane.

Both motor vehicles were towed following a two-car intersection collision here on Tuesday, June 9. Officer Robert G. Baird wrote the police report. Rita Vasconcellos of Medford was coming out of Kenwin when contact occurred with the automobile operated by Sandra Laurentano of 39 Oak Street who was traveling in a southerly direction.

Another rear end collision took place on Sunday, June 14, at 57 Swanton Street in mid-afternoon. Four people were transported to Winchester Hospital at this time. Officers Roger DeMinico, Jaspar Asaro, and John Frongillo investigated.

According to the police report, Anthony P. Ciruso of 2 Eaton Court was entering the driveway at No. 57 when the impact occurred with a motor vehicle operated by John D. Wickwire of 9 Stone Avenue. Mr. Ciruso's car was towed.

Taken to the hospital, all from the first vehicle, were Mr. Ciruso for a bruise at the right eye, Louise Ciruso for a bruise on the right hip, Ann Marie Ciruso for a laceration of the right eye, and Frank G. Ciruso for a bruise on the right elbow.

Dr. Ortiz, in commenting on the Student Volunteer Program, observes that the college participants "will have an opportunity to serve by expanding the horizons of young Navajos, by bringing into their lives aspects of a larger world they do not now understand but with which they must come to grops in the future."

Leslie School

Curriculum Coordinator, Richard Daley of Lesley College, states that it is the feeling of many educators that this step between kindergarten and first grade provides a logical link with the heavier schedule incurred in regular grades.

Ordinarily, kindergarten children spend about two and one-half hours per day in school. The adjustment to five and one-half hours of school in the first grade is often difficult. Winchester's Lesley College program will provide them with an in-between three hours and forty-five minutes of school.

Parents who are interested in providing their kindergarteners with this natural progression gradually increasing the time spent in school may register through the Division of Instruction at 15 High Street.

Openings still exist in the higher grade levels of the laboratory program. Registration is handled at the Division of Instruction.

Pamela W. Hill Is Graduated From Heidelberg

Miss Pamela Wardwell Hill of Winchester was graduated from Heidelberg College in Tiffin, Ohio, at commencement exercises on Sunday, May 24.

Miss Hill was awarded the bachelor of arts degree.

School Library Volunteers Are Thanked

Library volunteers in the schools were feted at an appreciation coffee held at Muraco School on Thursday, June 11.

Gratitude for their services was expressed by Superintendent Donald A. Klemer and Assistant Superintendent Walter Gleason. Special guests included all elementary school principals; Miss Leila-Jane Roberts, head librarian in the Public Library; Miss Betsy Morton, trustee of the Library; Mrs. Harriet Dieterich, chairman of the School Committee; and Mrs. Nina McCully, president of the Community School Association.

According to hostess Mrs. Betsy Sheeran, elementary instructional materials specialist, "During the past three years 422 women have volunteered their time so that the children of the elementary schools would have access to the Instructional Materials Centers (libraries) during the school hours of every day. Approximately 22,900 book and non-book materials have been classified and catalogued and put into the I.M.C's by these volunteers. An initial project of instruction in library skills for students was also begun this year with the help of a student teacher."

Mrs. Sheeran announced that Winchester has received $33,300 in library services during the past three years under a Title II grant of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. In addition, many parent associations have added to the collections in the school I.M.C's through generous donations. Mrs. Sheeran expressed her personal appreciation to all who have been concerned with the building of these centers for the children.

Volunteers attending included: Mesdames Foden, Izzo, Bemis, Poalini, Delano, Sicuso, McFadden, Paridy, Purrietto, Arnold, and Bourne from Parkhurst; Mesdames Earlan, McCarthy, Deroo, Amadeo, Morganthal, and Wilsack from Washington; Mesdames Huckfeldt, Errico, Sorger, Percoco, Noel, MacKenzie, and Morgan from Lincoln; Mesdames Davis, Burchard, Thomas, Bossitans, Provenzano, Sterenka, Russo, Nolwak, Morris, Lane, Kirk, Ciampa, Klevovich, and Apostalou from Muraco; Mesdames Boyle, Jenkins, Greene, Parker, Fuccillo, Kawa, Taylor, and Moore from Mystic; Mesdames Leach, Boland, Kirk, Black, Hammond, Fitzgerald, Butare, Bockhoff, Nowell, Symen, Russell, Adamkowski, Doucette, Lindmark, and Metzer from Noonan; Mesdames Shanly, Walsh, Shaw, Berhavian, Gargano, Haley, and Cantella from Vinson-Owen; Mesdames Sullivan, Fipler, Vautrain, Raphael, Levinson, Cabow, Kamp, Visconti, Dexter, Nash, Deininger, Johnson, and Pantone from Wyman School.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" This question is the title of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday.
The creation of man and the universe is ascribed to God rather than to a chain of material reactions, according to Isaiah: "I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded."
Also in the lesson from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy are the pertinent questions:
"Did man, whom God created with a word, originate in an egg? When Spirit made all, did it leave aught for matter to create? Ideas of Truth alone are reflected in the myriad manifestations of Life, and thus it is seen that man springs solely from Mind."

MRS. MARGARET C. DONOVAN, fifth grade teacher at Vinson-Owen School, receives a gift from Mrs. John Mitchell, center, president of the Vinson-Owen Parents Association, in honor of Mrs. Donovan's retirement after 19 years in the Winchester School system. Citizens' Concern Helps Preserve Pet Cemetery

For Mrs. Marjorie Van Vloten of 69 Westland Avenue and the many concerned residents of Winchester following the fate of the Hillside Acres Animal Cemetery in Methuen, there was a feeling of relief when the State Senate defeated a bill on Tuesday, June 2, which would have allowed construction of a cloverleaf to slice into the sanctuary.

Mrs. Van Vloten, who has several dogs and cats buried here and is presently the owner of champion pugs, was responsible for assembling 3,200 names on a petition to preserve the grounds. She has worked steadily over the past months to save this site.

House Bill No. 3412, filed by Representative Lawrence P. Smith (Dem.-Lawrence), was worded, "An act directing the Department of Public Works to complete the cloverleaf at the intersection of Routes 213 and 28 in Methuen." This project would have involved about 450 square feet of land in the cemetery, disturbing approximately 50 animal graves.

Established in 1917, the cemetery, in which many Winchester residents have pets buried, is owned by the MSPCA. In conjunction with the resting place this organization operates an animal shelter, occupying 56 acres.

During recent months Mrs. Van Vloten has received letters from David S. Claflin, president of the MSPCA, thanking her for her efforts, and from Senator P. L. Pellegrini, a legislator active in the defeat of the bill in the Senate.

The bill, which was rejected by a voice vote, is killed for the 1970 session since reconsideration was also denied. Besides opposition from the Methuen Board of Selectmen, Public Works Commissioner Edward J. Ribbs cited safety and financial reasons for abandonment of the plan.

The Senate can not be accused of sentiment. It was for more rational reasons that it defeated the bill. But it was the respect and concern for the site of those persons such as Mrs. Van Vloten that revealed the flaws of this proposal.

The heart and blood vessel diseases are responsible for more industrial lost time than strikes and work stoppages.

Mrs. Donovan Is Honored

Mrs. Margaret C. Donovan, fifth grade teacher at Vinson-Owen School who is retiring after teaching in the Winchester school system for 19 years, was honored by the board of the Parents Association at a luncheon for teachers on Thursday, June 11.

Mrs. John Mitchell, president of the Vinson -Owen Parents Association, presented Mrs. Donovan with a gift on behalf of the parents. Mrs. Donovan has taught fifth grade at Vinson-Owen since the school opened nine years ago. Previously, she taught for 10 years at Parkhurst School.

A native of Somerville, Mrs. Donovan attended Georgetown Visitation Convent, the Academy of Notre Dame, and was graduated from Trinity College in Washington, D.C. She received her master of arts degree in education from Tufts and has done advanced graduate studies at Tufts and Boston University. Before moving to Winchester, she served as principal of Grimmons School in Somerville.

She is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary society for women in education, and is a member of the Aquinas League of Dartmouth College.

Mrs. Donovan lives at 10 Ginn Road. She has one son, John of Brookline.

"Jumbo, symbol of Tufts; Jumbo, defined in the dictionary as 'anything big or great in its kind;' Jumbo, descriptive of your many, varied contributions to Tufts.

"From your student days as a football 'great' and participant in wrestling, track, and lacrosse, president of the Student Athletic Association, member of undergraduate honor societies and class president, you have taught and coached at Tufts. You advanced to full professorship and chairmanship of the department of engineering. Class agent and Traditions Tours guide, a frequent speaker at Tufts club meetings, you have also co-chaired your class reunions, including the 25th.

"As a member of the Tufts Alumni Council, you have chaired or served as an active member of many committees. Your civic activities, including the chairmanship of the Governor's Designer Selection Board, have reflected credit on Tufts. Your student contacts, counseling, and 'Dutch-uncling' show an understanding of the younger generation which is reciprocated in the esteem in which they hold you.

"Typical of you is the fact, accidentally discovered by a friend, that 'Earle had denuded his own garden of his prize chrysanthemums in order to decorate the buildings and tables at some Tufts function. . . . Only another garden buff knows the scope of that sacrifice.'

"Here a pause to salute your wife Josephine, at your side in all your endeavors.

"Earle Frederick Littleton, literally and figuratively Jumbo in all your relationships with Alma Mater, sensitive and understanding, direct and outspoken, you represent at their highest the ideals of the Distinguished Service Award which, as president of the Tufts University Alumni Association, I am privileged to confer upon you."

Congratulations, Graduates

Releases are pouring into the Star office this month telling of achievements and honors of Winchester students at colleges and schools across the country.

We are proud of our graduates and we congratulate them on their fine efforts.

From the students and their justifiably proud parents, we ask patience with our reporting of the graduations. And we here reprint the Star's policy on graduations:

1. Notices of graduations must come from the school or college unless a parent has been asked by the institution to notify us or if he feels as time goes by that the school has not sent it to us.

2. We use pictures as they come in from the institutions. Often there are stories about five graduates and only three pictures are sent. Usually the omission occurs when a student has failed to comply with the school publicity office's request for a picture.

3. When there is more than one graduate we must print the material as it is sent to us. We can not print major, clubs, offices, etc., for one student and only names and degrees for two others from the same school.

JOSEPH S. AVERSA, who was named coordinator of industrial arts for the Winchester School system recently, works with a student on the technical points of communication. He has been in service in Winchester schools since 1947. (Lois Carr photo)

Joseph Aversa Is Coordinator, Industrial Arts

Joseph S. Aversa has been named coordinator of industrial arts at Winchester High School after 23 years of service in the school system. This year he has been audio-visual coordinator and technician, technical advisor to the high school radio station, WHSR-FM, and golf coach in addition to his regular duties as a teacher of electronics.

Mr. Aversa began his service in Winchester as a teacher of printing in 1947. Upon phasing out of that course he was asked to inaugurate and develop the electronics course. (The course includes the study and operation of the vacuum tube, transistors and solid state material.) For the past 12 years he has been spending summers and Saturdays at the Lincoln Laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a member of the Lincoln Experimental Satellite team working on advanced electronics.

In his position as audio-visual coordinator and technician he acts as trouble shooter on all of the audio visual equipment used throughout the school system. Mr. Aversa will fill the position left vacant following the recent death of William F. Branley, former coordinator of the department.

A graduate of Boston State Teachers College in 1955 with a bachelor of science degree, Mr. Aversa also has his master of education degree from the same college in 1960. He taught driver education as an extra activity for 10 years and also sponsored the WHS riflery club which numbered as high as 150 members when it was forced to disband due to lack of a range.

Making his home in West Roxbury with his wife and four children, Mr. Aversa is an amateur radio operator, K1UVD, and also enjoys doing portrait photography as another hobby.

In statements to the School Committee it was said, "It is the unanimous recommendation of the secondary school principals, the Assistant Superintendents for Curriculum and Personnel and the Superintendent that Mr. Aversa be appointed to this position. We feel that he will provide excellent leadership to the industrial arts program in Winchester."

Cap League Teams Split

By James R. Stewart, Jr.

Smarting from their defeat at the hands of the league-leading Wyman Wildcats on May 31 which dumped them from a first-place tie at that time, the Mystic Tigers Club of the Winchester Cap League blasted the Lincoln Black Knights last Sunday, 5-1 to gain a tie for second.

This "must" game to stay in contention for the Division A play-offs saw tight pitching by Dana Kawa and Chris Stanton primarily. Ricky Blanche chipped in to lead the offense with the 2 RBI hits that proved to be the winning tallies.

Saturday's results were mostly true to the form of earlier contests. At Ginn Field, the Muraco Marauders won their second game of the season, edging the Vinson-Owen Orioles in as well played a baseball game as one could ask for. Hits were scarce as fielding dominated the action, but the Marauders had the edge at the end by a 3-2 score.

The Wyman Wildcats ran rough shod over the St. Mary's Saints by 10-0 as the Saints seemed to go limp after their two victories two weeks ago and a tough loss Sunday, June 7. Lincoln School's Black Knights pounded out a barrage of bingles on Field 2 to overwhelm the Mystic Green Hornets by 13-1, whereas Noonan School's Golden Eagles soared to a 9-7 victory over the Parkhurst Maroons to bring their record over the .500 mark. Noonan's victory featured the outstanding pitching of their two Johnny's, Parsons and Breen, and the slugging of Scott Alexander and Dave Doucette.

The contest between the Washington Generals and the Mystic Tigers was played as part of the Washington School Field Day to the enjoyment of the many parents and friends attending. The baseball game, however, proved less than satisfactory to the Washington fans as the Tigers won 6-4.

On Sunday, June 14, the first rescheduled rain-out schedule from May 17 was played, featuring the Lincoln-Mystic Tiger set-to. In a wild and wooly game on Ginn Field 3, the Muraco Marauders had a big scare from the ever-dangerous St. Mary's Saints. Going into the 5th inning, Muraco held a whopping lead of about 14-2, but the Saints were not to be denied and "threw the book" at the Marauders for the last two innings, falling short by only 4 runs as they bowed, finally, 12-16!

At West Side Field, another seat-squirmer saw the Mystic Green Hornets and the Washington Generals tie into a real pitchers battle. The Green Hornets, hoping to get out of the cellar spot, accomplished their objective in the end as they edged out their second seasonal win by a 2-1 score.

In the other game at West Side, the Noonan Golden Eagles plucked the Vinson-Owens Orioles' feathers at will and dive bombed the birds by an 18-2 score. On Field 1 at Ginn, the Wyman Wildcats continued their undefeated string, now 7, at the expense of the plucky but undermanned nine of Parkhurst. It was a come-from-behind victory as the Maroons started off as if they didn't care if the Wildcats were the favorites. It took some late inning heroics by the entire Wyman team to bat across the winnng runs and hold the lead with some fine fielding, featured by Jeff McGoldrick and Steve Murphy.

On Saturday afternoon, June 20, the final games of the regular season will be staged, with several positions still to be decided for Division standings at West Side. All of these games are the result of the rain-out on June 6. The Mystic Tigers battle the Parkhurst Maroons and the Wyman Wildcats try to keep their slate unblemished by the explosive Mystic Green Hornets. At Ginn Field, Vinson-Owen goes against St. Mary's on Field 1, Lincoln and Washington play on Field 2, and Noonan and Muraco fight it out on Field 3.

Sunday, June 21, the Division championships will be determined as well as the Division runner-up spots. There will be three games—Divisions A, B and C at Ginn Field, and Divisions D and E at West Side Field. Finalists in each Division will not be known until Saturday's games have been completed. Special Umpires will be assigned to each of these contesst and at to each of these contests and at determined. Each boy in the League will receive jacket patches, symbolic of their active participation in Cap League, 1970.

Division contests will be determined by overall won-lost percentages. Any ties broken by the highest number of runs scored in the season and, if necessary, by the least runs scored against teams still tied will be other determinants. The top two teams will be Division A, third and fourth teams are Division B, etc.

It is hoped that a large crowd of spectators will attend these games and show the players their appreciation of the ability, spirit, and sportsmanship these boys have shown all season. Umpires expected to participate on Sunday are Jim Goldrick, Phil Stackpole, Barron Pinnenger, Jim Stewart, and Doug Hoyt.

Bartlett School Sixth Graders

Graduation exercises for Bartlett Private Elementary School in Arlington were held Wednesday evening, June 10, at the Dallin School in Arlington.

For their student program the children presented Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" and an arrangement of "Raindrops" on the Orff instruments.

Miss Norine Casey, director of the Bartlett School, presented diplomas to the graduates. After the program graduates and their guests went to the gymnasium for refreshments and the opportunity to see the students' work on display.

Effective Monday, June 8, William I. West, a native of Winchester, assumed the post of headmaster of St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wisconsin. Carl E. Steiger, chairman of St. John's board of trustees, announced on Tuesday that Mr. West succeeds Gavin A. Pitt.

Mr. West is a 1947 graduate of the United States Military Academy, with a bachelor of science degree. In addition, he has done graduate work at Stanford University, Tufts University, the University of Minnesota, and Wesleyan University, where he received a master of arts in liberal studies degree in 1967. All graduate work was in science and math.

Prior to Mr. West's resignation in 1954 as a captain in the Regular Army, he had fought in Korea with the 1st Cavalry Division and was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in combat. From 1954 to 1959 Mr. West worked for Chrysler Defense Engineering as a field engineer, and later as a project engineer on an aerial research vehicle.

In 1959 Mr. West turned to secondary independent school education and has been a teacher, coach and administrator. For the past two years his position has been assistant to the headmaster at Phoenix Country Day School, Phoenix, Arizona.

While at West Point, Mr. West was a member of the famed national championship football teams in the middle forties, as well as playing hockey and lacrosse. Since entering education he has been head football coach, head hockey coach and head tennis coach at one time or another at Suffield Academy, Suffield, Connecticut; The Blake School, Hopkins, Minnesota; and Phoenix Country Day School, Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. West is married to the former Mrs. Betsy Harrison, a widow, who has two sons, Perry and Brad. A third son has been added to the family in the name of William, Jr.

How often do you hold an array of cards like South's? Seldom. And have you ever picked up such a hand and had your partner open the bidding as North did? (He said one heart.)

At our table South bid 4 NT asking for Aces and then 7 NT when he found out North had the two missing ones. The book suggests 37 points out of the total 40 to try the grand slam, and South is practically sure there is a heart suit to run besides the solid points.

As you can see, there are fourteen not thirteen tricks off the top.

Usually you can gain some points by bidding six and not stretching, but on this one you have to bid the grand slam to score well. Out of eleven North-Souths, seven did.

Averages Show J V Baseball Was Successful

by John F. Parrell

Coach Vandy French's JV baseball nine had a highly successful season as they chalked up 12 victories against only 5 defeats. The experience gained makes them valuable additions to varsity Coach Bill Colella's prospects for the 1971 campaign.

Assistant manager Jay McGoldrick compiled the statistics which indicate the progress that the JV boys have made.

Dana Peterson topped the batters with a highly creditable mark of .360 and John Procopio was next with .326. The overall team average was .301. Peter Garrity and Larry Penta led the pitchers as they held the opposition to 1.7 and 1.89 earned runs per game.

Statistics Prove Lacrosse Team's Right To Eastern State Title

by John F. Parrell

The final statistics on the great season played by the eastern state championship Sachem lacrosse team clearly shows why the team was able to compile its excellent record of 11-4. The only high school defeat came at the hands of Longmeadow in the state championship match.

Coach Gene Bouley and his assistant Dave Berman have worked hard to develop interest in the sport, encouraging an ever-growing team. There also has been a marked increase in attendance at the games which combine all the rugged action of soccer, football, rugby, and hockey.

Mike Varley has compiled a brochure of statistics worthy of a professional football team, but space will permit only the listing of major accomplishments. Interest in lacrosse locally has brought talk that it may be added to the summer recreation program if funds are available.

Phil Sampson, Gary Fincke, Bob Thomas and Chris Osgood were the leading point makers as the team averaged nearly eight goals per game. The defense was very effective as shown by the fact that the combined opposition tallied only about five goals per game. Co-captain Pete Wardwell, Mark Keating, and Mark Lombardi held off the opposition, while Rick Murphy, sophomore goalie, was outstanding in his position.

Co-captain Wardwell performed yeoman service since the other co-captain and defense man Noel Webb was unable to play due to a wrestling injury. He even played goal in an early season game and had a total of 25 saves. In a late season game, in which the Sachems bombed Medford by 13-0 he unleashed a long shot which narrowly missed hitting the Mustang net. Of course a score by a defense man in lacrosse is a most unusual happening but the local leader came close to doing the impossible. All in all, it was a great season for the Winchester lacrosse team and its growing group of supporters!

Boat Club Outlines Programs

The summer activities of the Winchester Boat Club were initiated by a Sunday night buffet at the club when old members gathered to welcome the new.

The evening was arranged by social events director, Hank Skehan, for the purpose of outlining the season's social, sailing, and swimming programs, as well as giving everyone an opportunity to catch up on each others activities since last summer. A very enlightening talk by Clarence Borgaard on the history of the Aberjona River and Mystic Lakes drew an appreciative round of applause from the group.

George Dillon, who chairs the sailing program, reports that Tom Kivney will head up sailing instruction for juniors, assisted full time by Sherry Garrity and by John Swanson in the mornings. Classes will be held for ten weeks, from June 29 up to Labor Day, four mornings a week, from 8:30 to 10:00 and 10:00 to Noon. Registration for these classes will take place on June 24, 25, and 26, all day, at the club. Juniors will have a racing series in the afternoons, as well as one on Sunday mornings.

The mothers of these sailors will be happy to know that once again instruction will be available them on Wednesday mornings. They may register on these dates, also.

Jack McInnis is working with the junior members of the club to plan a social program that will encompass a variety of activities throughout the summer.

As usual the morning pool hours will be devoted to the Red Cross-approved swimming instruction program which starts Monday, June 29, for beginners and more advanced swimmers up through a Senior Life Saving Course. Head swimming instructor Charles Turcotte will have as his assistants Carol Robinson and Sue Swanson.

Although Bill Wilde's Turnabouts and Dick Towle's Snipes had their races scratched on a recent Sunday due to lack of wind, the sailors at the Winchester Boat Club are looking forward to a long season of good racing.

Afghan Hound Club Sponsors Fun Match

The annual spring fun match of the Colonial Afghan Hound Club was held on Sunday, June 7, at "Edgecliff," the Scituate estate of the Stephen Edgell family of 8 Sheffield West.

With almost an acre of level ground for the show ring, the many exhibitors and guests enjoyed the show, which had regular dog show classes, trophies, and ribbons, as well as refreshments and a buffet supper.

Mrs. Evans (Sunny) Shay, owner of the famous Grandeur Kennels on Long Island, New York, and an internationally known breeder-judge, was judge for the match. As a token of the club's appreciation for her superb judging, she was presented with a drawing by Mrs. Edgell of her champion afghan hound, Shirkhan of Grandeur, who died recently. Match chairman, Anthony Coppola of Hubbardston, and Miss Antoinette Cecere of West Peabody, felt that it was a fine token of the Club's appreciation for her service as show judge.

At the Colonial Afghan Hound Club dinner-dance and meeting the night before, Stephen M. Edgell III was elected to the board of directors, while his mother, the former Claudia Kelty, was elected to her third term as librarian.

Rick Shanahan Scores 23 Points At Conference

Richard Shanahan of 36 Foxcroft Road, a freshman at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, was recently named to the second team All Star Hockey Team of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

He was among the leading scorers in the conference with 23 points for the season. He is a 1969 graduate of Winchester High School where he was a member of the varsity hockey team.

Bantams To Enter Final Play

In a semi-final cup playoff at Fresh Pond, Cambridge on Sunday, June 14, Winchester (6-3-0) lost 5 to 0 to Cambridge (9-0-0).

The excellent Cambridge team during the nine game season had 66 goals for and only 1 goal against, scored by Needham. Cambridge kept the attack going with great ball handling and defense play.

Winchester played a good hard game and did produce a few scoring opportunities for Chip Whitman, John Fitzgerald, Vin Palumbo, Ned Costello, and Peter Martini and a penalty shot by Joe Bowen. None tallied. However, Winchester did hold Cambridge below their 7.5 goals per game average.

The cup final will be played Saturday, June 20, in Cambridge at M.I.T. Stadium. One of the contests will be Cambridge vs Wellesley. Among the other games will be Winchester Pee Wees vs Medford at 2 p.m.

Winchester boys have shown increasing interest in soccer during the past two years and are now interested in summer playground soccer games. It is hoped the Recreation Department will be successful in providing an area for the use of soccer enthusiasts.

Mission Cites 101st Summer

Every week during every summer since 1869, citizens of towns like Winchester, where grass, trees and flowers grow in profusion, have been sending fruits and flowers to people who live in the asphalt areas of Boston. The Fruit and Flower Mission is 101 years old this summer!

For many years here in Winchester, people have taken their produce to the Winchester Railroad Station on a designated morning each week. The gifts were then carried to Boston by train and distributed in slum areas.

The Fruit and Flower Mission still functions. Curtailment of railroad service and the difficulties of distribution at the city end of the trip have forced some changes, but the pleasure which the mission provides continues.

Mrs. Neil Borden of 58 Winford Way, general chairman for Winchester, delivers these gifts herself each week from this town to the Orchard Park Service Center in Roxbury. Each Tuesday morning between 8 and 9 a.m. donations may be taken to the Winchester station, where Mrs Borden will pick them up for delivery to Roxbury. Mrs. Borden says that since she transports the gifts in her station wagon, she is able to take jams, jellies, candy, etc. as well as fruits and flowers.

Working with Mrs. Borden, who is a member of the Unitarian Church, are representatives of other churches in town. Each church will be responsible for the Fruit and Flower Mission for two consecutive weeks during the summer. People who are unable to deliver their contributions to the railroad station may call the church representatives for assistance.

This year's activity started on June 9. On June 9 and June 16 Mrs. Ralph Meigs (0236) and Mrs. Rony Snyder (2035) of the Second Congregational Church were chairmen. Mrs. William Sorensen (6249) of the Baptist Church will be in charge on June 23 and June 30. On July 7 and July 14 Mrs. Mary Seaver (1044) of St. Mary's Church will be chairman.

Mrs. Janet Willis (1978) of the First Congregational Church will be chairman on July 21 and July 28. On August 4 and August 11 Mrs. Malven Oliver (1516) and Mrs. Donald Wilkins (1896) of the Methodist Church will be in charge. Mrs. Robert Grasty (8415) of the Episcopal Church will be chairman on August 18 and August 25.

On September 1 and September 8 Mrs. Thomas Kuhn of St. Eulalia's Church will be chairman. The Christian Science Church will be in charge on two Tuesdays in September, the chairman to be named at a later date. The telephone number of the general chairman, Mrs. Borden of the Unitarian Church, is 2092.

Modern Problems Classes Study Those Of Boston

Senior Modern Problems classes at Winchester High School, teamtaught by Vandy French and George Odell, spent this past semester studying Boston's urban problems and planning changes.

Each class was given the task of building a new Boston, a model city, that took into consideration problems of housing, education, industry, public service, recreation, transportation, etc. The classes included field trips to inspect industrial pollution and a study of Boston's inner city housing problems and ghetto life.

BUILDING #19½
America's Laziest & Messiest Department (?) Store
19 Olympia Ave., Off Washington St., Woburn

Dear Friend of Building #19½:

A prominent luggage distributor in downtown Boston, here-in-after referred to as P.L.D., suffered (!) a minor fire in his stockroom that the sprinklers quickly extinguished, but as a result of this act of God, some of his luggage got wet and some got damp. He immediately called his insurance company and told them to "get this God-dampened luggage out of here at once," or words to that affect. Since P.L.D. enjoys the very finest, most exacting clientele (by us they're customers, at his rent they're clients). He rejected to salvage every piece that was wet, damp, or even near a piece that was wet (luggage is made for outdoors, anyway). The insurance company called our ace buyer, known coast to coast (Gloucester to Hull) as "Daddy Warbucks" Andler, generously bought the entire shebang (four huge truckloads) at a fraction of its original cost. We've divided the lot between our elegant emporiums (emporii?) in Hingham and Woburn and cut the prices exactly in half. The brand names are the finest but I promised not to advertise them. Here are a few of the styles just to fill this advertising space:

Pullman cases	week-end bags	attache cases
two suiters	overnight bags	briefcases
three suiters	dress bags	travel cases
beauty cases	52" three suiter	brown paper bags
tote bags	flight bags	hat boxes
cosmetic cases		European cases

So no matter what your bag is, we have a brand new, famous brand replacement at half price.

AIR CONDITIONERS — Just 82 air conditioners (67 in Hingham, 15 in Woburn) from General Electric, Westinghouse, Fedders, Emerson, Gibson, Whirlpool, and others in sizes ranging from 5000 BTU to 14600 — some 100% perfect, some 98% perfect, some only 9% (in appearance) but all are fully guaranteed mechanically, all sold below wholesale price, all guaranteed for five years.

REFRIGERATORS — A huge assortment (over 150 in stock) of famous make (Frigidaire, G.E., Westinghouse, Whirlpool, Amana, Norge and other) refrigerators — all fully guaranteed, all sold at less than dealers cost.

LIGHT FIXTURES — Piles and piles of light fixtures — most in original cartons — that have been hiding in the deepest, darkest recesses of our warehouse. Harry says to advertise them. It's his money. Consider them advertised. Now the question is will Bernie have them out on display and ready to sell? My bookie is quoting 10 to 6 against.

Plus all sorts of other merchandise, a veritable department store without departments, garnered from fire stocks, factory rejects, mail order returns, bankruptcies, foreclosures, locust stocks, earthquakes, train wrecks and other disasters. Come poke about amongst our myriad of bargains. Everything "but the help" is guaranteed to work. Everything is a bona fide bargain, and everything is sold with a 100% satisfaction-or-your-money-back guarantee — and we'll give you a bottle of excellent (well, pretty good) champagne, imported from Cucamonga (really)!) if you find a price that's not below our competition. (This sounds like an extravagant offer, but it's much cheaper than hiring competive shoppers). Come visit this interesting zoo on Fri. 9-9, Sat. 9-5 and Mon. 9-9. Any other time you'll set the burglar alarm off.

Cordially,
Jerry Ellis

Peter Simmons Awarded Prize In Mathematics

Winchester High School received notification this past week that Peter Simmons, class of 1970, was a winner in the Sixth Annual Olympiad High School Prize Competition in Mathematics.

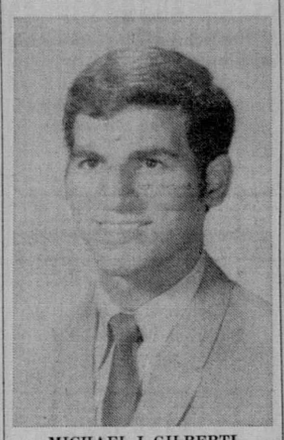

Nearly 6,500 students from 163 schools throughout the state registered for the first level examination conducted on November 6, 1969. From this group 90 were selected to take a second level exam. Peter Simmons and Alan Leland, also in the senior class, took this exam at the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company in Wakefield.

Out of this large number of students, Peter finished 15th and received a check for $25 and a bronze medal from the sponsors of the Olympiad; the Massachusetts Association of Mathematics Leagues and the Actuaries Club of Boston.

In addition to the top 90 students who took the second level exam and who received scrolls indicating their accomplishment, another 275 were awarded Certificates of Merit for having achieved high scores in the first level exam. These were awarded earlier in the year by Mr. Niblock to Stephen Bryant, Peter DeNatale, Nancy Fulton, and John Schroeder, all seniors; to Dorothy Elliott and Christopher Parsons in the junior class; and to Sonja Swanson, a sophomore at Winchester High School.

Two Students Given Awards For Leadership

At graduation exercises on Sunday, June 7, two outstanding Winchester High School seniors were presented the coveted leadership awards given anually by the Winchester Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes. Recipient of the Jaycees' Leadership award was Michael J. Gilberti of 7 Clematis Street. The Jaycee-ettes' Leadership Award was given to Barbara Dalton of 64 Westland Avenue.

MICHAEL J. GILBERTI

Each year the two awards are given in recognition of outstanding leadership, excellence of character, scholastic achievement, and service to both school and community. Both recipients are fine representatives of each of these qualities.

Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Gilberti Sr., was president of the Varsity Club, co-captain of the football team, and a member of the all-scholastic football team of 1969. He was also a member of the varsity baseball team.

Planning on a career in physical education, Michael will enter Springfield College in the fall.

MISS BARBARA DALTON

Barbara Dalton is the daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Dalton and the late Lawrence V. Dalton.

A two year member of the National Honor Society, Barbara was also a student council officer and a member of the varsity field hockey team. Her community activities include St. Eulalia's CYO.

Barbara will enter Wheaton College in Norton this fall, planning to major in government.

Smith Club Presents Check To College

The Winchester Smith College Club will present a $1,000 check to the Smith College Scholarship Fund, as a result of ticket sales for the Annual Film Festival held earlier this spring. Project chairman Mrs. Philip I. Blumberg and ticket chairman Mrs. Thomas G. Craig made the announcement at the club's annual meeting held Thursday, June 4, at the home of Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox Jr.

Officers of the club for the coming season were also elected at the meeting. They are: Mrs. Philip B. Parsons Jr., president; Mrs. Thornton Stearns, vice-president; Mrs. Persis R. Gow, secretary; Mrs. Frederick C. Rozelle Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, candidates' committee chairman; Mrs. Mary Glasshof, project chairman; Mrs. Neil H. Borden, nominating committee chairman; and Mrs. Spencer Willis, publicity.

Following the business meeting, the local club was pleased to welcome three daughters of local alumnae who are presently at Smith; Miss Lucia Kittredge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Kittredge; Miss Betsy Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Moore; and Miss Carolyn Roundey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Roundey.

The students' visit to the club was part of the college's effort to present alumnae with the facts about Smith's participation in the national student strike. The traditional reading period before exams was replaced with a series of seminars designed to educate the students and faculty on national issues.

One of the most effective results that has emerged from these activities is the People's Lobby program, which is part of a national program to organize pressure on Congress through an informed student lobby, as well as to provide facts to the community at large.

Selectmen Give Approval To Police Appointments; Discuss Highway Budget

Actions were taken at the Monday evening session, June 22, of the Board of Selectmen on matters of personnel for the Winchester Police Department. Several appointments and the resignation of Sergeant Daniel I. Reardon were approved at this time. Also in a hearing conducted with the Superintendent of Streets discussion brought about a review of recommendations with regard to stickers for use at the Town incinerator.

In approving budget items for the Highway Department, the Board reviewed the policy concerning use of budget surpluses. Granting two of the seven item list, members agreed to advise the Finance Committee of their actions, anticipating a possible response from this body on the policy.

The Police Department will gain a school traffic officer to be stationed at Canal and Middlesex Streets as per the recommendation of Safety Officer Donald E. Pigott with the approval of funds by the Finance Committee. Also moved was the appointment of two temporary school traffic officers for use during the operation of the School Department's summer school program.

In addition, two special officers will be acquired by the department as a supplement to the regular force which is naturally reduced in the summer due to vacations. The Board granted the request to the Civil Service for a list of candidates to appoint four patrolmen to the Department.

Selectman William G. Chapman will attend the graduation ceremonies of Sergeant Thomas Kennedy from the Command Training Institute on Friday, June 26.

Sergeant Reardon

The retirement request of Sergeant Daniel I. Reardon of 222 Washington Street, a member of the Winchester police force for 37 years, was accepted at this meeting. The resignation will be effective as of Saturday, June 27.

Chief of Police Edward F. Bowler and Selectmen Chairman Ralph W. Swanson, speaking for the Board, commended the officer for his years of service to the Town. Remarking that the "Town is very proud of you," Chairman Swanson noted that it has been fortunate to have a policeman of his caliber.

Having attended St. Mary's School and being a 1928 graduate of Winchester High School, Sergeant Reardon has supplemented his education with State House courses and most recently at Babson Institute, among other special education. He has four children.

He was confirmed as a permanent member of the force in April of 1933, moving into the position of sergeant in April, 1954. Chief Bowler took this opportunity to recall a tale of the Sergeant when he was a motorcycle patrolman, as far back as 1942. In 1966 Sergeant Reardon was awarded the Meritorious Service Award for his actions in saving the life of a woman during an apartment fire.

Commenting himself, the Sergeant said that he wanted to take time now to see "the other side," that apart from community service. His "retirement" will not mean a complete life of leisure.

Incinerator

Following an executive session, the Board met with Superintendent of Streets Robert G. O'Brien. He reported that under the new operating schedule the incinerator was receiving heavier use in the evening and was achieving a good distribution throughout the week. He has received generally "good" comments. Maintenance of the facility is also progressing well.

CONCERN feels it would be a public service to publish letters from young people. The letters, from children in other towns as well as Winchester, will contain, in the writer's words, his or her feelings about drugs and experiences with drugs. When printed in the paper the writer's name will be withheld.

Anyone wishing to respond to the letter should write to Code F, Box 293, Winchester, 01890.

Suffolk County House of Correction

June 3, 1970

"Dear Joan,

"I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. It makes me feel good to receive letters from people that I don't know and don't know me, that are interested in helping people like myself, like I told Jean, this is the first time in my life of using Drugs that I heard of a whole town helping out, you don't see this too much.

"I have been to a lot of towns and States when I was using Drugs and never heard of it. Right at this minute I feel so down and out that I don't care if I use Drugs for the rest of my life and as far as I am concerned right now and feel right now I don't think I am going to stop.

"I went up for Parole last Friday and didn't make it. I was so sure I was going to make it and I saw myself helping other guys and kids like myself, but when they told me to come back in August I wanted to scream at them, I wanted to tell them in the years I have been using Drugs I never felt the way I do now about stopping and helping other people.

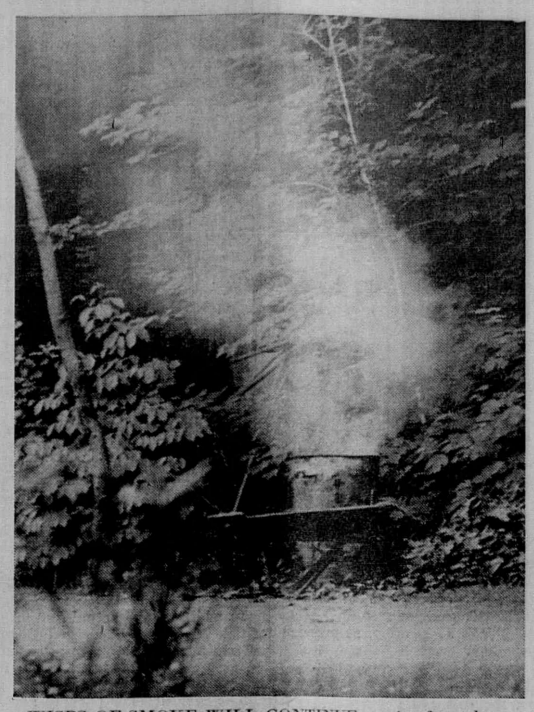

"It may sound like a poor excuse for going back on Drugs, but it's excuses like that that do it, you have to understand that Drug Addicts have a weak mind and very little will power and the littlest thing that upsets them could turn them back to Drugs and I'm one of those people.

"Maybe I shouldn't be saying all of this, I don't want you to think that there is no hope for Drug Addicts, because I wrote what I did. There is hope and a chance that something can be done, but for myself there is no hope when I start to feel the way I feel now, there is one thing I would like you to do for me, if you can get in touch with Dr. McLean and ask him if it is possible if he can come and see me, I would like so much to meet him before I ruin my life again when I get out.

"For once I start using Drugs I forget everything and everybody. I'm sorry that I wrote a letter like this to you I don't want you to think all Drug Addicts are like me. Well that is all for now."

PUBLIC LIBRARY CLOSED SATURDAYS THROUGH SUMMER

The Public Library will be closed on Saturdays through the summer beginning June 27. It will also be closed Friday, July 3, as specified by the Town Personnel Policy Guide for all Town departments.

WISPS OF SMOKE WILL CONTINUE to rise from home incinerators and burning facilities this summer as Winchester escapes the Massachusetts General Law which prohibits such burning after July 1 of this year in most communities. There are, however, several restrictions on this freedom of open burning. (Ryerson photo)

New Open Burning Law Escaped Till July, 1971

The State of Massachusetts has adopted regulations for the control of air pollution to be enacted in each of the six districts composing the State. Winchester, as part of the Metropolitan Boston air pollution control district is subject to these regulations. However, in the area of most concern to residents, that of open burning, the Town evades such restrictions until July 1, 1971, through a stipulation in the enactment.

The regulations, the majority of which pertain to industry and large establishments, were adopted under the provisions of Section 142D, Chapter 111, General Laws, as inserted by Chapter 836 of the Acts of 1969. They are the result of research and evaluation by the Department of Public Health, Division of Environmental Health, Bureau of Air Use Management of the State.

Due to the fact that Winchester will have no municipal refuse collection system available as of June 1, 1970, the open burning restrictions will not become effective until July 1 of next year.

The law reads that this regulation "shall not apply to: 7.2.5 prior to July 1, 1971, open burning, on premises where generated and by the occupants thereof, of leaves and domestic refuse except garbage and waste food; provided that (a) the premises are used primarily for dwelling purposes and contain three or less dwelling units and (b) no municipal refuse collection system was available June 1, 1970 and (c) such burning is performed (1) only during periods of good atmospheric ventilation, (2) without causing a nuisance, (3) with smoke minimizing starters if starters or starting aids are used, and (4) under a properly executed permit issued under the provisions of Section 13 of Chapter 48 of the General Laws."

Permits

As in the past the Town of Winchester will require burning permits for use of all home burning facilities and incinerators. These permits are issued by the Fire Department. The restrictions already mentioned concerning weather, etc. will also apply.

According to Vartkes K. Karaian, a member of the Winchester Board of Health and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Division of Environmental Health, the local board is studying this problem and may at a future time have its own recommendations to enact and perhaps supplement the State regulations when they become effective.

Issued on and after July 1, 1971, will be the prohibition of use of any incinerator, "other than a municipal incinerator, which is of a design that has not been approved by the Department."

The restrictions effective next summer will not apply to open burning for cooking purposes, to that related to the operation of devices such as blow torches and welding torches with provisions, or to that for the purpose of training or research in fire protection or prevention provided that it conforms to the General Laws and Department stipulations.

Also eluding the regulations will be open burning for the "purpose of combating or back firing an existing fire by persons affiliated with an official fire fighting agency" or to that associated with the normal pursuit of agriculture. Such burning conducted for agricultural land clearing and forest management operations and the disposal of fungus infested elm wood will be allowed under specific conditions.

Activities Planned For Playgrounds

The programs to be conducted by specialists at the Ginn, Loring, West Side, and Leonard Field playgrounds as part of the Summer Recreation Program have been announced by Director of Recreation Donald L. Spinney. The schedule for swimming instruction and make up lessons has also been reiterated.

Activities are planned for mornings or afternoons with no specific times being designated. Events will begin when enough children have gathered at the location.

Storytime will head the program on Monday mornings at Ginn Field. It will be followed in the afternoon by arts and crafts. Music will be offered in both the morning and afternoon sessions on Tuesdays at this location. Wednesday mornings start off with arts and crafts at Ginn and move into more active play, archery, during the afternoon. Children can become engrossed in storytime on Thursday mornings at Ginn and then practice their musical talents on Thursday afternoons. Fridays will offer music again in the morning. Archery will round out the week at Ginn Field on Friday afternoons.

At Loring Field the week will begin with music on Monday mornings and move into archery during the afternoons. On Tuesdays storytime will delight small listeners in the mornings, while archery will again consume some of their energy in the afternoons. Loring will offer music on Wednesday mornings, followed by arts and crafts in the afternoons. On Thursdays only a half-day program is scheduled for this field, archery in the mornings. The last day of the program week will start with arts and crafts in the mornings and end restfully with storytime in the afternoons.

CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY that produces $13 million high schools on schedule includes the use of concrete. A truckers strike has considerably stopped the supply of this building material, limiting progress at the site primarily to pile driving. Concern has also been expressed over the loss of good spring and summer weather. (Ryerson photo)

School Committee Votes Work-Study Program, Staggered Entrance Trial

At its Monday night meeting, June 22, at Sanborn House the Winchester School Committee voted to authorize the administration to approve a pilot work-study program for approximately ten students next September at a cost for the school year 1970-71 not to exceed $1,000.

In other business the Committee voted to recommend a staggered kindergarten entrance next fall, and Dr. Donald Klemer, superintendent of schools, suggested that registration in the third grade at Washington School be frozen.

The pilot work-study program will involve no more than ten students selected from next year's junior general English classes. In her report to the Committee, Mrs. Phyllis S. Nannis of the high school guidance department mentioned four objectives.

The program will "provide a relevant work experience during the day for the marginal high school student," will give the students "a positive co-relationship betwen work and school," will aid in vocational decision-making by having students evaluate their job goals and abilities, and will dignify . . . the world of work by designating the work experience period as equivalent to academic courses with credit given toward graduation," an important factor in the development of positive self-images.

The students will be aided in getting jobs and will be supervised on the job by counselors Mrs. Nannis and Bernard J. Silva, by English teacher Jonathan Stableford, and by chairman of the English department, Richard Sullivan.

The students will be scheduled for academic classes from 8-11 a.m. and will work at their jobs from noon to at least 4 p.m.

Drop Outs

It is hoped that such a program will keep marginal students from dropping out of school, will bridge the gap between school and work, and will develop an increased appreciation of the working world as equivalent to the academic world. After a complete evaluation of the pilot program it is anticipated that the school department will find it desirable to expand the program to compare with the work-study programs which already exist in other school systems in the area.

The School Committee also voted to employ a staggered kindergarten entrance schedule next fall. This will introduce one-third of the morning class the first day, bring in the second third the next day, and have all the class together for the first time on the third day. The same schedule will be followed on the fourth, fifth, and sixth days by the afternoon classes.

The aims of the staggered entrance schedule are to ease the initial contact of children with school by having less confusion in the classroom, to give the teacher an opportunity to become acquainted with fewer children at a time, to aid her in diagnosing behavior and learning difficulties, and in patterning desirable behavior. The initiation of staggering will be on a one-year trial basis.

In discussing the problem of the overcrowded third grade classes at Washington School, Dr. Klemer recommended that a letter be sent to parents of next year's third graders at the school

Finance Meeting Yields 1971 Tax Rate Projection

Two months out of Town Meeting and the appropriation of the 1970 budget, the Finance Committee began looking at figures for the coming calendar year and subsequently requested a general Town-wide financial conference at the executive level to discuss these projections. Thursday evening, June 18, a tax rate increase of $14.80 on the current $52 was foreseen as a possibility in 1971.

All figures used at this meeting were "ball park sums," projections which could only estimate the whims of inflation and the economy and the needs of the Town. Neither could special articles be anticipated at this time, therefore, the total assumes appropriations of sums exactly as in 1970.

The estimated sum of $14.80, a 28 per cent increase over this year's $52 tax rate, is arrived at by adding fixed charges ($10.60), projected increases in Town department budgets ($4.20), and seven per cent inflation ($2.00) for a total of $16.80. Estimating State aid at $2.00, the figure is thereby reduced to $14.80 without additional special articles. This is based upon a total assessed property valuation for Winchester of $193,000,000.

Discussion was opened by Comptroller James J. Costello, who reviewed the sources of revenue for the Town. The basic source, accounting for 78 per cent of the total, is local property tax. Commenting that this tax is not growing fast enough to meet inflation, he also noted that this source is detrimental to property ownership by senior citizens and generally to the Town's growth.

Seven per cent of the Town's revenue is donated by the State of Massachusetts, while another five per cent is derived from excise taxes. Two and one-half per cent is distributed among "other revenue," leaving a final seven per cent also coming from other sources.

Trends

Following Mr. Costello's remarks, Raymond J. Kenney Jr., chairman of the Finance Committee, said that some of the gross impact of this increase would be recovered in investments. He also noted several trends in the Town's finances. State payments to the Town have been decreasing; they were down $100,000 for 1969. However, charges by the State, including MDC, MBTA, etc., have seen some increase.

It has also been noticed that the tax base has increased little comparatively. The $3,000,000 increase in total assessed valuation per year experienced in past years was used to project the $193,000,000 figure utilized in these estimates. If the total valuation is not this high in 1971, then the tax rate will be greater still.

Post Office Announces Schedule

Postmaster Charles R. Hill announced on Saturday, June 20, that the Winchester Post Office will be closed for the transaction of business on Saturdays during the summer months from July 4 through August 29.

The parcel post and stamp service windows will be closed, however, the post office lobby will remain open each Saturday from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the convenience of post office box holders.

The stamp vending machine located in the lobby of the post office will be in operation for the purchase of postage stamps at this time, also.

As in past years, this closing arrangement has made it possible for postal employees to enjoy summer weekends with their families as employees in private industry do.

Blood Donations For June Drive Are Encouraging

The Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross bloodmobile met a great demand on Wednesday, June 17, at the Church of the Epiphany. One hundred seventy donors responded to the call for blood. This figure represents a tremendous response which should be the future goal — plus.

Processing such a number is a challenge which was met by the Red Cross bloodmobile staff. Efficiency in planning and staffing a bloodmobile depends greatly on the number of prior appointments made. Although it is not necessary to make an appointment to donate at a bloodmobile, the efficiency increases as the known number of donors is made available.

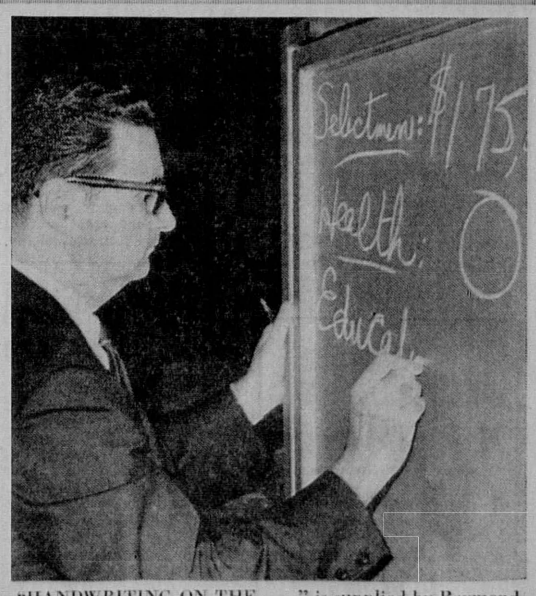

Winchester Red Cross, ever grateful for such a fine indication of community spirit in the response to this bloodmobile, would request as many appointments as possible be made before the next bloodmobile on August 14.

Moon Flight Is Simulated At Planetarium

If your bid for a seat on the next moon flight was rejected, don't despair. You can roam the lunar landscape with perfect safety and comfort in the new Hayden Planetarium show at Boston's Museum of Science. No advance reservations necessary.

Without being tested, trained, or required to don an astronaut's 28 layers of protective clothing, you can blast off from Cape Kennedy through space to land on the desolate surface of the moon — a three day trip compressed into a few exciting moments.

"Footprints on the Moon" employs all the techniques for which the Hayden Planetarium has become famous in its nearly 12 years of spotlighting the heavens. Mood music enhances the wonderous pageant overhead; different skylines appear all around as the spectacle unfolds; and a sprightly narration and realistic sound effects are woven into the performance.

A new feature of the current presentation is Cape Kennedy's skyline, reproducing in miniature the vast complex from which America's spacecraft depart. Another innovation is a first showing of a "moon buggy," or lunar rover, the electric car which will carry moon explorers over mountain slopes and into craters at a "speed" of 10 miles per hour.

In addition, the actual footprints which Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin left on the moom zoom into giant focus to give the show its title.

The current show parades across the theatre's darkened dome a cavalcade of legends man created through the centuries in his dreams of travel to the moon.

Viewers enjoy the first science fiction story, in which an ancient Greek fantasized himself carried to the moon on a whirlwind, as well as Cyrano de Bergerac's hilarious (and imaginary) attemtpt to reach the moon by attaching bottles of dew to his waist, on the theory that dew rises. Edgar Allen Poe's vivid tales and the prophetic work of Jules Verne also are recreated.

Constantly updated consistent with worldwide space developments, the program covers the whole panorama of moon probes by both the United States and Russia through the flights of Apollo.

A bonus feature is a visual preview of the partial eclipse of the moon which will be visible to New Englanders, weather permitting, on Sunday, August 16.

"Footprints on the Moon" is shown daily and on Friday evenings through Sunday, September 6. Admission is additional to the Museum entry fee. Information on show times may be obtained by phoning 742-1410.

E. Mullaney Takes Vows

Edward Mullaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Mullaney of 54 Oxford Street, made his final vows as a member of the Order of Cistercians of the Strict Observance on Wednesday, June 24.

Mr. Mullaney was graduated from Boston College High School and Holy Cross College before entering the community at St. Joseph's Abbey, Spencer, in 1963.

Cistercian monks, often called "Trappists," live according to the Rule of Saint Benedict written about the year 550. Their life is dedicated to prayer and penance and does not include any apostolic or missionary activities.

Although modified as a result of the recent Vatican Council, the traditional practices of silence and separation from the world have been maintained. The monks are self-supporting on industries which they run within the monastery. According to their vow of stability they remain in the same community for life.

Summer Fire Safety Rules Are Advised

Outdoor barbecues and campfires should be lighted by children only if an adult is close by and watching. Don't have a fire at all if it's windy, advises Fire Chief I. Francis Amico.

When building a campfire on the ground, start by completely clearing a circle about 12 feet in diameter of dry grass, leaves, twigs and debris which could burn. Then, in the center of the circle, dig a pit several inches deep, surround the pit with stones, and lay the fire in the pit. This helps keep the fire in one place, while the stones around the edge help prevent anyone from accidentally stepping into it.

Also before starting your fire, take a moment to think about clothing fire safety. Girls should stay well away from a fire if they are wearing full skirts, long, loose sleeves, long scarves or sashes, or any "floppy" clothes. Boys wearing items like shirts with tails out should be equally careful. Any lightweight, loose-fitting apparel can be dangerous around open flames.

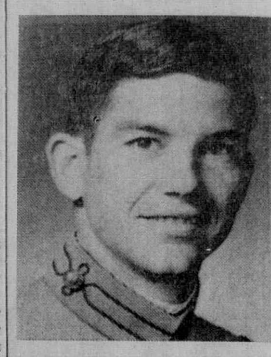

Never use gasoline, cigarette lighter fluid or paint thinners to start your fire. If you want to use a liquid, choose only a fire starter manufactured for this purpose. A safer type of fire starter available in the stores is a chemically treated block of solid material which ignites easily and keeps flaming long enough for the regular fuel to ignite.

Once a fire is going, never add fire starter or any other flammable liquid like gasoline or paint thinner in an effort to make the fire burn better. Also, keep your container of fire starter and the supply of unused matches well out of the fire's range. (Reprinted from "Sparky News," published by NFPA).

The United States Capitol's professional guide system stems indirectly from the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition of 1876, National Geographic says. Near chaos occurred when hordes of sightseers moved on to Washington from the Exposition, prompting Congress to appoint guides to organize the crowds while describing the Capitol's wonders.

Cadet Soucek received a bachelor of science degree and his commission as a second lieutenant in the infantry.

A 1965 graduate of Winchester High School, Cadet Soucek, while at West Point, was twice appointed a cadet captain, was appointed a regimental commander, and was on the brigade staff.

He was a member of the Plebe hockey team, the Fine Arts Forum, and the sailing club. He was also assistant cadet-in-charge of the Academy Exchange program.

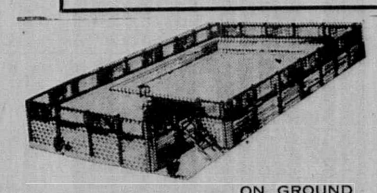

Donald Bumiller From B. C. High

Donald Bumiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Bumiller of 10 Laurel Hill Lane, was honored on Thursday evening, June 18, at Boston College High School in Dorchester at the annual Undergraduate Night.

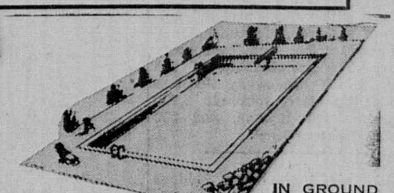

A freshman at the school, Mr. Bumiller received silver medals in earth science and English. Of the student body of nearly 1200, 168 students qualified for the medals by having a subject average of 95 per cent.

Mental Health Has Announced Annual Report

Since the last annual meeting of the Winchester Mental Health Association, a branch of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, the Board, or working committee has held four Board meetings.

The members were as follows: Mrs. Kimball Archibald, president; Mrs. Robert Bryant, secretary and vice president; Mrs. Charles DuToit, treasurer; Mrs. John Stoeckle, program chairman; and Mrs. Andre Termeulen, Mrs. George Harris, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Dr. Neil Borden, The Rev. Paul Fahey, and Arthur Pratt, who served cheerfully and well in whatever service they were needed.

The main program was an expansion of what had been started in early 1969 as Mother's Morning Out. This was an opportunity for mothers of young children, particularly those new to Winchester, to come to a coffee, with children cared for and transportation available, all free. On four different days in the winter—sometimes a bleak time for mothers' mental health—they met at the First Congregational Church.

These get-togethers were mostly for fun, but they were also educational. As mentioned in the recent Newsletter there were excellent discussions with Mrs. Richard Thuma from the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Richard Hawkes, and Mrs. Theodore vonRosenvinge who discussed learning disabilities, and with Father Fahey who was an enormous drawing card as he discussed family problems.

Through the MVMH education chairman, pamphlet kits were available and the program chairman of each branch was asked to distribute these to the Police Department, the School Department and to the Clergymen's Association. Some follow-up of this distribution might be worthwhile in the early fall, since the MVMH Center in Lexington is prepared to give assistance and training in working with disturbed adults and children.

Membership is 128 paid at this time for the year 1970. Former members are reminded that their dues are needed and welcome. The Board voted in March to give $500. to the MVMH, and this was gratefully acknowledged by the new Executive Director, Mrs. E. Sohier Welch Jr. The treasurer has sent a brief report, and a suggestion for a further transfer of funds to the MVMH. This is the main purpose of the dues drive each January, to assist in the support of the Children's Clinic, and in the other work of the Association.

Persons may contact the Board if they would like to help at Mother's Morning Out, or on occasional mailing jobs, or even be on the Board (where the action really is). If one cannot help actively, they are urged to read the Newsletters from MVMH; read the columns on Mental Health that appear from time to time in the Star, and discuss these with friends. Try to interest new people to join. Thus one is also a working member of Winchester Mental Health.

The brief annual meeting of the Association was held on Wednesday evening, May 20, just before the annual meeting of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association. The president submitted a report of the year's work, which was approved.

Three new members for the board were proposed, and elected to serve for two years: Mrs. Constantine Alexander, 12 Ravine Road; Mrs. John Patten, 36 Winthrop Street; and Mrs. David Deshler, 186 Dothan Street. Mrs. Robert Bryant was also proposed as president for two years, and was unanimously accepted.

In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Charles DuToit, the president read the report as submitted. Balance on hand May 20, 1969, was $257.87. Income was $851.87. Expenses were $316.98. Balance on hand May 20, 1970, was $316.98. This report was accepted.

At the suggestion of the treasurer, in her note, it was moved and seconded that $200. be transferred from our treasury to that of the MVMHA., bringing the contributions, from dues and gifts entirely, to $700. since January 1, 1970. This was voted unanimously. The meeting then adjourned for dinner at 6:50 p.m.

The Winchester Star

Editorials:

When Image Is Reality

"Going down" is an image likened by poets to rebirth and renaissance, the sea being as enlightment. But if one stood among the crowd at Sandy Beach on Sunday, June 14, "going down" meant the death of a Woburn man, 25 years old, a father.

The beaches had not yet officially opened, and Winchester experienced its first drowning of the season. The Town has few such fatal accidents in any given year, however, as always, "even one is too many" applies.

Among one of the obvious means by which to reduce a child's chances of drowning is to enroll him in the American Red Cross swimming classes being offered through the Summer Recreation Program. Registration is this Monday, June 29, at 10 a.m. at Leonard Pool.

The natural ponds in Winchester used for swimming have been roped off to designate safe zones for this activity. Beyond these areas the growth of vegetation, such as the beautiful water lilies at Wedge Pond, and other natural dangers may prove to be treacherous rather than merely the idyllic scenes created by poets.

A Working Education

Education in Winchester will embark upon a new direction this autumn with the implementation of a pilot work-study program for approximately 10 students. In a college-oriented school system it appears that this may be an initial positive recognition of those students who have other goals following their high school careers.

With the Federal Office of Education of the Health, Education, and Welfare Department reporting a country-wide enrollment increase for 1969 in vocational education courses of nearly six per cent, the Town, it seems, is pursuing a national trend. Winchester had applied with Stoneham recently for such a federal-state grant, which was instead awarded to the more economically deprived town of Chicopee. The federal government assumes approximately 18 per cent of the cost of these programs, the remainder falling to state and local governments. For this pilot program Winchester will supply on its own a sum not to exceed $1,000.

Interest in vocational education must exist within the Town. Reporting at a finance conference recently J. E. Sharkey of the Northeast Regional Vocational School noted that the institution is already planning double sessions and that only approximately half of the applicants from Winchester can be accommodated.

Recognition must also be given to Winchester's current drop out rate of two per cent per year. These students are primarily from the ninth, 10th, and 11th grades. The proposal for this September will select participants from the entering junior class, therefore, aiming at those directly involved in this problem.

Evaluation of the work-study program's success will be taken from the opinions of the school faculty and employers, by the number of students who continue their high school education in order to receive a diploma, and the students' job stability following graduation.

In a memo on the subject a guidance department member at the Senior High School stresses providing a "positive co-relationship between school and work," enhanced by the granting of academic credit toward graduation for this experience. She continues, "This factor is important if the student is to develop a positive self-image, since in this and similar communities, the major emphasis for 'success' is on academic achievement. The workbound student usually sees himself as a secondary citizen and becomes alienated from his community during his school days."

A true evaluation of this limited vocational education program will not be possible for at least three full years from its initiation. Most probably this would not preclude the growth of the experiment, however, should indications be substantially positive. It could "save" several of our potential drop outs.

"Remarkable People"

Editor of the Star:

In these days of youthful protests against our society, it is encouraging to hear a word of praise for the accomplishments of the adult generation.

Such a point of view was expressed in what I consider an outstanding Commencement address by President Eric A. Walker of Pennsylvania State University. Here are a few excerpts:

"Ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class, let me extend to each of you my personal congratulations and those of the entire University on the degree you have earned today.

"This ceremony marks the completion of an important phase of your life. It is an occasion in which all who know you can share in your sense of pride and accomplishment . But no one has more pride in your accomplishment than the next group I'd like to introduce to you.

"If you of the graduating class will look over into the bleachers to your right or left, I would like to introduce you to representatives of some of the most remarkable people ever to walk the earth. These are people you already know your parents and grandparents. And remarkable people they are, indeed.

"Not long ago, an educator from Northwestern University by the name of Bergen Evans got together some facts about these two generations — your parents and grandparents. I'd like to share some of these facts with you.

"These are the people who within just five decades have increased life expectancy by approximately 50 per cent who, while cutting the working day by a third, have more than doubled per capita output. These are the people who have given you a healthier world than they found. And because of this, you no longer have to fear epidemics of flu, typhus, diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, measles or mumps. And the dreaded polio is no longer a medical factor, while TB is almost unheard of.

"Let me remind you that these remarkable people lived through history's greatest depression. Many of these people know what it is to be poor, what it is to be hungry and cold. And because of this, they determined that it would not happen to you, that you would have a better life, you would have food to eat, milk to drink, vitamins to nourish you, a warm home, better schools and greater opportunities to succeed.

"Because they gave you the best, you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest, and probably the best looking generation to inhabit the land. Because they were materialistic, you will work fewer hours, learn more, have more leisure time, travel to more distant places, and have more of a chance to follow your life's ambition.

"These are also the people who fought man's grisliest war. They are the people who defeated the tyranny of Hitler, and who when it was all over, had the compassion to spend billions of dollars to help their former enemies rebuild their homelands. And these are the people who had the sense to begin the United Nations.

"It was representatives of these two generations who, through the highest court of the land, fought racial discrimination at every turn to begin a new era of civil rights. They built thousands of high schools, trained and hired tens of thousands of better teachers, and at the same time, made higher education a real possibility for millions of youngsters — where once it was only a dream of a wealthy few.

"And they made a start — although a late one — in healing the scars of the earth and in fighting pollution and the destruction of our natural environment. They set into motion new laws giving conservation new meaning, and setting aside land for you and your children to enjoy for generations to come.

"They also hold the dubious record for paying taxes — although you will probably exceed them in this. While they have done all these things, they have had some failures. They have not yet found an alternative for war, nor for racial hatred. Perhaps you, the members of this graduating class, will perfect the social mechanisms by which all men may follow their ambitions without the threat of force — so that the earth will no longer need police to enforce the laws, nor armies to prevent some men from trespassing against others.

"They have made more progress by the sweat of their brows than in any previous era — and don't forget it. And, if your generation can make as much progress in as many areas as these two generations can have, you should be able to solve a good many of the earth's remaining ills. It is my hope and I know the hope of these two generations that you find the answers to many of these problems that plague mankind. But it won't be easy. And you won't do it by negative thoughts, nor by tearing down or belittling. You may and can do it by hard work, humility, hope and faith in mankind. Try it.

"Goodby and good luck to all of you."

MSPCA Funds

Editor of the Star:

"Snowball," one of the orphan animals placed by the Winchester Auxiliary of MSPCA, joins the committee in sincerely thanking the merchants, members, friends and townspeople who supported our recent Bazaar and Auction. Mrs. J. L. Jenks Jr. of 12 Myopia Hill Road was our gracious hostess and organizer.

"Snowball"

A fine day, considerable hard work and friendly patronage made the affair a big success. People have asked what Winchester SPCA will do with the money. Shots, spaying and help with spaying for the needy, oft-required medical treatment and board, plus advertising keep us one jump ahead of the sheriff. (We had to borrow ahead on the profits of the Bazaar).

Having no shelter, we must board our animals with a vet while we find homes for them. We do not wish to put healthy young pets to sleep, feeling that they love life, too! We manage to place an average of at least eight animals a week in good new homes.

Besides our various ways and means projects like the Bazaar and a few donations, no financial help is received by us. Our yearly dues barely cover the cost of mailing our meeting announcements. So. . "Snowball" says thanks very much to everyone. We can use the money!

Briddle Vale Experiences

Editor of the Star:

Enclosed please find a letter to parents and friends of my fifth grade students at Wyman Annex summarizing our field trip to Bath, New Hampshire. Also enclosed are two descriptions, written by two fifth grade students, of our climb of Briddle Vale Falls, Copper Cannon Trail in the White Mountain National Forest.

I am most anxious to share with the people of Winchester the values of an outdoor learning situation, an area that at present is being sadly overlooked. We have Smith Pond which is a brief introduction to the subject. However, Smith Pond is a three hour day trip.

Our children are ready for the experience of living and working together in a rural setting. It is now time for the community to awaken to the values of such an experience.

As the result of our trip my class is now showing more interest and concern for the group. Their writing is the best it has ever been, at this time of year it usually shows the desire of the children to be free to play. They have a heightened awareness of their environment and are very enthusiastic about science.

With proper planning out-door learning experiences can lead to all areas of our school curricula.

One class's experience can serve as a guide. My projection for this program points to a lower percentage of high school dropouts. Now is the time to show that learning by doing can be fun.

Sincerely,
Minna Horovitz

Editor of the Star:

As I stepped out of the bus and started walking up Briddle Vale, our lively voices mingled with nature's.

The setting was beautiful. The land was stretched out forever and the sky was the same. The huge friendly oaks and maples seemed like they were begging us to climb them. Their thick, strong branches reached everywhere. It was hard not to just run into the woods and explore, climb and look; but we went on walking. Yet we were not just walking up a mountain — we were a group living and doing things together, watching, listening and learning.

As we went up farther the air became moist and there seemed to be more plant life.

Up ahead I heard yells of "Oh, no," and "Here it comes," as little droplets of cold rain fell everywhere. If you listen carefully, you could hear faint far away chirping of birds trying to get shelter in the trees from the rain.

Soon the rain became colder and came down faster. I don't think there was a single dry place on anybody.

The path was getting all muddy. The mud was getting thick and gushy — the kind that feels real good to squish your toes in on a hot day — but at that moment none of us were hot.

It was a beautiful sight when we saw the lean to. We all piled in and started eating. We were freezing but none of the kids complained.

Soon after we ate it stopped raining. When we went out everything smelled fresh and alive. Then we started for the falls.

It was worth climbing and getting soaked, for the falls were beautiful. The churning, rushing, bubbling, clear, fresh water was speeding downhill even faster than usual on account of the rain. Almost everyone was tired and wet, but we had done what we wanted to do and we were glad we did it.

Editor of the Star:

I looked out of the bus window and there it was! Briddlevale. Even in a distance I could see the thick green forests which surrounded it. Then within a few moments we were there! We piled out of the luxurious bus for the "final" instructions and then we started upward. While I glanced upward for a last glimpse of the beautiful mountain I wondered what it would be like to climb it.

As we first began up the slanted rocky hill path, I was eager and peppy but my peppiness soon became tiredness as I realized the long hard journey that was ahead of me.

About halfway up the mountain I had to stop for a rest. My feet were tired and hurting and my hands blistery from holding my walking stick but I kept on going. Soon it began to drizzle, but I paid no heed to it and later it began to pour. My feet trudged wearily in the oozing mud and each step was a grim one, but I clenched my teeth and went on.

My hands were aching and stiff and it was to all my effort I was able to control my walking stick. I was soaked to the bone and my teeth were clattering and I was shivering but with grim determination I fought on. Every step was a battle to keep my aching feet going and every foot seemed impossble. When I had almost collapsed I heard a shout and my heart lifted. I hurried as fast as I could to the top. While I was standing on the mountain top in the middle of the pouring rain, I was at the top of the world with myself.

BOOK REVIEW

Winchester Public Library

THE WORLD TURNED UPSIDE DOWN

by William Rayner

At the ceremonies for the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown which signalled the end of the Revolution the American musicians played a new favorite, "Yankee Doodle." The British marched to the Field of Surrender to the tune of a Cavalier song dating from the time of Oliver Cromwell called "The World Turned Upside Down." And so it must have seemed to them, the improbable defeat of the British military might by the Americans who were not soldiers but farmers, shopkeepers, clerks, schoolboys.

This novel was written by an Englishman and presents an English point of view of the rebellion. Its hero is Major James Blackford who at the outset was leading his troops through the Virginia wilderness. The British were understandably nervous and resentful of the Colonial's way of fighting, sneaking through the underbrush, ambushing, and firing from behind trees. It seemed to them unsporting and like the savages.

We get glimpses of how the thickly forested, uncivilized countryside affected the English, used to the open spaces and manageable bounds of their own homeland. The sheer endless expand of emptiness, stretching westward made them uneasy. It was like an open door through which one could escape if circumstances made it necessary and this made Americans different from the deep-rooted British. Major Blackford could not wait to get back to a life of quiet dignity in Somerset.

At this period in history England had already abolished slavery. It was still a flourishing business in Virginia. Blackford observed the presence of the Negro and speculated academicly on his plight, little knowing that he himself would taste the bitterness of enslavement. However, in order to escape capture by a Yankee raiding party he conceived the idea of darkening his skin and slipped off through the brush with a spurious message. This was to prevent his being taken for a runaway slave.

It was in this disguise that he was taken over by a pair of deserters and in their hands he realized the degradation of his position. While with them there was a violent episode of rape and murder for which he was blamed. After several hairbreath escapes he was able to remove the stain from his skin and throw off his pursuers. At this point he joined up with a group of Rebels who were making their way to Yorktown. They accepted him readily, apparently used to his method of enlistment and his muddy and ragged clothes which were much like the rest of the recruits. He found the conduct of the whole affair most informal, and when he reached the British lines he was able to drop out in the same casual way and rejoin his own outfit with Cornwallis at Yorktown.

At this point Blackford came down with a severe fever and lay for several weeks uncaring while the British drifted toward disaster. In those days fevers were common and often fatal. A good part of Cornwallis' military force was down with this ailment. The description of their treatment is nothing short of heroic.

Along with a graphic picture of military life, the book includes a certain amount of what is referred to in book reviewing circles as "explicit sex," but in moderation according to today's novel writing standards. In this vivid story of the long drawn out War of Independence, a British fighting man's view of our Yankee ancestors is made believable and understandable.

The Pleadings

Editor of the Star:

Since my last letter had to do with the case of Herbert Lord versus the Winchester School Committee and it did not appear in the last issue of the Star, please add this final bit concerning the pleadings.

Special Town Counsel for Town of Winchester receives the sum of $35 per hour for his services to the School Committee in aiding them, come HELL and HIGH WATER, of defeating the former School Committee in allowing School Superintendent Klemer to retain his office after the former School Committee had fired him or did not renew his contract. Klemer would be out in left field without any oars as of now, since the school year has ended for 1970. The former School Committee notified Klemer that he would end at the end of the school term for 1970, even though he was to be paid through August, 1970.

What a mess there will be to clean up when the Supreme Judicial Court declares that the contract of the former School Committee cannot be abrogated by the succeeding School Committee.

For the last 100 years led by Carrie Nation and hundreds of other females, the women have been demanding the vote with the slogan that it took the women to clean up politics. Women have had the men right in their pockets ever since the world began and the men would have some peace if they learned that fact early in their marriage. What man dares to admit that their spouse runs the household? The mothers have the last say, but some diplomats allow the husband to think that they are the boss.

Women were mere chattels until after the Civil War when the Legislatures allowed the women to hold property in their own name. Previous to that all of a woman's wealth went to the husband. Women are smarter, have a better sense of values than the men, mature earlier than the men, as evidenced by the Hetty Greens. The world's wealth is owned by the women.

But to get back to the women in politics and cleaning up the mess, it has not worked out that way for politics on the part of the women, but suffice it to say that politics has not been cleaned up by the women. Mrs. Hicks was not elected Mayor of Boston for bankers, lawyers, business men were afraid of Mrs. Hicks for she could have the men toe the line.

Special Town Counsel had a motion to dismiss before the Court, meaning that your petitioner did not follow the time allowed for appeal to the Supreme Court. The judge made the remark to the Clerk of the Court which said that the respondents (School Committee) as represented by Special Town Counsel was "all wet" and denied the motion to dismiss. The School Committee is spending plenty of money, at the tax payers' expense to fight JUSTICE, never did see a good definition of justice.

Now that the lines are drawn up in battle array, let the fighting begin with plenty of gore running and let the law take its course, which is a mental effort rather than a physical one, which reminds me that man always brags of his physical prowess rather than his mental, and strange as it might seem, the mental effort is the more exhausting.

A quiet and orderly graduation at DARTMOUTH with no demonstrations of any kind as it richly deserves. Vox Clamantis in Deserto.

(Editor's Note: At this time concerning the case of Herbert Lord versus the present members of the Winchester School Committee, Mr. Lord is finalizing documents for his appeal to the Supreme Judicial Court. It is estimated that formal entry on the record will be accomplished in the Fall with actual hearings getting underway in the Spring.)

He also recommended that the principal of Washington School, Dr. Lenore Rich, accept no more new registrations for the third grade, but instead, direct them to the Muraco or Lincoln Schools.

SEEM Class

The superintendent also gave a summary report on the establishment of a class for emotionally disturbed children which will begin this fall under the SEEM program in cooperation with three other towns. The class, which will be held at the new High Street School, will be composed of five to eight educable children of elementary age. At present, the elementary guidance counselors are reviewing records to select children for the class.

The class for emotionally disturbed children is subsidized 50 per cent by the state and is mandatory under state law. Future plans include expansion in the seven SEEM communities to classes for each age group.

The superintendent's report also included a status report on the Maryclift School, temporarily to be called the High Street School. Parents of children planning to attend the new school have received a progress report which stated that the internal building is going along well. Supplies and materials have been ordered and the carpeting is scheduled for delivery on August 15.

The Board of Selectmen has requested comments from the School Committee on the advisability of a 12-month school year. Dr. Klemer noted an article in the latest issue of "School Management" magazine, which the committee will be making available to the Selectmen and the general public in order to stimulate discussion on the subject.

It was mentioned by members of the Committee that according to the magazine article, not a single school district that has tried the 12-month school year has found that it has saved money by doing so. However, there are other reasons for initiating this system and the Committee felt that the townspeople should become fully informed on the subject, as a possibility for the future.

Drug Program

During the summer a narcotics education program, coordinated with the efforts of the CONCERN committee and utilizing trained students, will be developed. At the end of the summer Dr. Klemer hopes to have curriculum materials and a plan for a teacher-training program ready. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Ostrach will be consultants for the development, and will later act as helping teachers.

The School Committee was reminded of the procedures that are to be followed in connection with exceptions to the ruling on the transfer of students to the Muraco School under the redistricting plan. Parents who feel that for educational, emotional, or medical reasons a transfer of school location will affect a child's learning process and school adjustment, are asked to submit a request in writing to Dr. Klemer to be reviewed by the Committee. If a child is to be transferred and parents wish siblings also to be transferred, this can be done if space is available at the Muraco School.

In regard to personnel matters, the Committee approved plans to run a workshop for teachers at the new High Street School the week of August 24 to acquaint them with the open area concept. In addition to accepting resignations and appointments, the Committee tabled plans to appoint a guidance chairman for grades 10-12, pending a study of the guidance departments in the school system.

The Committee authorized Dr. Klemer to accept resignations and fill vacancies for positions previously established by the Committee, and to award bids during the summer months, such action to be ratified by the Committee at a later date. Mrs. Harriet Dieterich, chairman, was also authorized to write a letter to the Selectmen encouraging them to continue to acquire the Teele property near the Wyman School.

Bid Awards

William F. Clark, assistant superintendent of administrative services, recommended the award of an electrical work bid to Frank Politano of Winchester, a milk bid to H. P. Hood, and a bus transportation bid to Hudson Bus Lines, Inc. The Committee was alerted that the cost of bus transportation has risen sharply and the lowest bid, that of the Hudson Bus Lines, was over the amount budgetted.

Chairman Dieterich announced the appointment of Paul R. Del Rossi and Stephen Parkhurst to the professional negotiations committee, Mrs. Mary Mears to the non-professional negotiations committee and to CONCERN, and Lane McGovern to the Winchester Advisory Council on Education.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the School Committee will be on Monday, July 27.

Music will begin the day each Thursday, succeeded by archery on these afternoons at this site. Storytime will share the morning session with music on Fridays here. Arts and crafts and music will complete the week's activities during the afternoons.

There has been a change in the scheduling of rehearsals for the Summer Concert Community Band, a part of the Summer Recreation Program. It will meet each Tuesday evening in the Senior High School music room from 8 to 10 p.m., instead of 6 to 8 as previously planned.

Selectmen

The issuance of stickers for use of the incinerator received some attention at this time. It is Mr. O'Brien's suggestion that a common sticker be given based upon motor vehicle registration. He believes that the main objection which the Director of the Board of Health sees in this is the possibility of more than one charge per person. He surmises that there is no objection "healthwise."

Board of Health Director Michael D. Saraco will be invited to the June 29 meeting of the Selectmen to discuss this variance.

In another matter of Highway Department importance, approval was given to the purchase of a chain saw and a collar for the incinerator. Superintendent O'Brien has experienced a $9,000 surplus in his equipment account. It was his original request to devote this money to purchase of a chain saw, portable half-bag cement mixer, sidewalk sand blower, adding machine, three two-way radios, two radio jack sets, and the incinerator collar. He stated that these items had not been deleted from his 1970 budget, but were articles pending for a future account.

The Board of Selectmen, approving the two items, decided to advise the Finance Committee of their actions. It was generally felt to be a question of policy as to whether items not appropriated through a budget should be acquired by use of such a surplus. When applied Town-wide this could be a bad policy decision. A past experience with a department that had over-appropriated in order to later purchase an item that had ben turned down in its original budget request was cited.

Selectman Paul Amico concurred with the Finance Committee's policy that such additional purchases should be the result of an unforeseen and definite need.

Trees

After noting the construction of sidewalk curbing which is being done by the Highway Department at various locations in Town, an individual request from a resident caused the Board members to examine the Town's policy on the planting of trees. They will not be planted between the street and the sidewalk and when installed on property must be five feet within this area. Mr. O'Brien also feels that such work is best accomplished during the fall.

The Board also questioned at this time the use of men and equipment from the Town's Highway Department for the moving and leveling of loam at the athletic field of the high school construction site on Shore Road. Besides the problem of time-and-a-half wages, the Town's liability was also considered.

In other matters the members agreed to request the approval of Town Counsel for permission to borrow a ladder truck for the Winchester Fire Department from the Town of Belmont. The Town's ladder truck is in need of repairs, therefore, it will be necessary to replace this apparatus during this interim.

Concerning a Boston Architectural Center Study, the Selectmen will advise the Planning Board to request a transfer of funds for purchase of this document from the Finance Committee. Selectman Chapman termed the study made by two graduate level students as "valuable."

Reporting on this project, Mr. Chapman described it as a data bank on transportation, development of industry, and associated matters in the northeast corridor of the state as they relate to Winchester. The study is to be a continuing project, possibly four to ten years, in which regional developments are brought to focus on this town.

It would serve presently as a supplement to the master plan study being undertaken by the Planning Board and later as an on-going reference.

Three was general agreement to select Friday, July 3, as the Town observance of the July 4th holiday. All Town employees will be given the day off with provisions made for the Town Hall. An incinerator schedule has not yet been set. A skeleton crew will be provided to man the Town Hall on both Friday and Monday.

Burning

Variances

"Open burning of combustible material will be allowed with approval of the Department and after demonstration to the satisfaction of the Department that no alternative suitable method of disposal of said material is available provided that such burning is conducted (a) during periods of good atmospheric ventilation, (b) without causing a nuisance, (c) with smoke minimizing starters if starters or starting aids are used, and (d) under the provisions of a properly executed permit issued under the provisions of Section 13 of Chapter 48 of the General Laws."

Enforcement of these provisions locally will fall to the domain of the Police and Fire Departments and the Board of Health. Orders and enforcement will also come from the State Commissioner of Public Health and his department. In general punishment will be by fine.

Variances will be obtainable from the State Department upon their grant following an application in writing and a hearing. The costs of such an application will be assumed by the applicant, and if issued, the variance will be effective for not more than one year.

Tax Rate

Mr. Kenney stated that in the last year the Stabilization Fund was emphasized, and it was hoped that this would continue to grow in light of the anticipated elementary school program.

According to the studies by officials concerned with the various budgets, increases have been projected in those of the Selectmen ($175,000), Education ($500,000), Public Library ($8,500), Cemetery ($15,000), and for the elementary school building program ($100,000). These sums provide the $4.20 figure on the tax rate increase.

Those reporting no foreseen increases at this time were the Board of Health, Town Treasurer, Town Clerk, Board of Assessors, Department of Recreation, Water and Sewer Board, and Personnel Board. The possibility of a reduction in appropriations was mentioned by the Park Department and the Planning Board.

Although it can not be confirmed, as in all of these instances, the cost to the Town of participation in the Northeast Regional Vocational School will probably remain about the same.

Gross Impacts

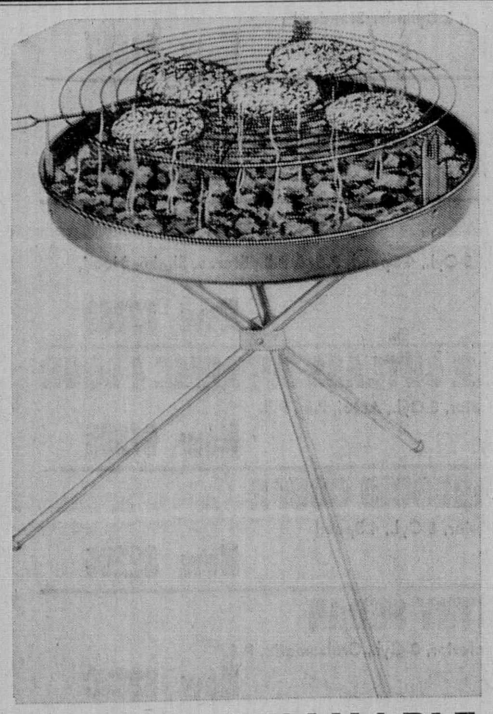

The greatest part of the operating budget is consumed by capital expenditures and personnel. In 1971 it appears that this will once again prove true. Estimated to have a gross impact of $8.20 will be the first-year payment of principal and interest on the high school bonds for a $12,000,000 issue at 6.25 per cent. Full-year impact of salary increases for professional school personnel voted by the 1970 Town Meeting is $1.30. Negotiated salary increases for various bargaining groups on the assumption of 1971 Town Meeting approval is $1.10. These sums are shared primarily by the School, Fire, and Police Departments.

In closing remarks Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick observed that this type of increase was being experienced by other towns and felt that the local property tax was carrying too large a burden with respect to providing revenue. He also encouraged the Town to obtain more State aid in the future and urged a "sharing of services" among the various boards and departments, thereby effecting decreased expenditures.

In his communication to Town executives proposing the finance conference, Mr. Kenney hoped that the exchange might produce "some order of priority of needs, on a town-wide basis, . . ., so that there can be some leveling to the increasing demands on the tax dollar." The purpose was also to look at "the sum of money that might reasonably be expected to be available for financing all Town needs for the forthcoming year, and then relating the needs and desires of the various boards and commissions to that total amount of revenue."

It was suggested that such a meeting or meetings be held again prior to the 1971 Annual Town Meeting, possibly in the Fall.

It is bad manners in Laos, when seated on the floor, to let your feet point toward anyone's head, National Geographic says. Of the 32 souls Laotians believe inhabit the body, the least worthy dwell in the feet and the worthiest in the head.

CARL T. SCHWARTMAN of 4 Black Horse Terrace was in Honolulu recently to participate in a four-day business conference with officers and field representatives of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at the Hilton Hawaiian Village. Last year Mr. Schwartman placed more than $1,000,000 in individual life insurance to rank among the top leaders of Metropolitan's 30,000 field representatives in the United States and Canada. Joining him were his wife and children, left to right, Stephanie, Bruce, and Mark.

Ajustments Made To Metric System

If the United States should switch to the metric system of weights and measures—using meters, liters and kilograms instead of yards, quarts and pounds—what would be some of the changes in Middlesex County?

The question is not just an academic one. Congress has authorized the Commerce Department to conduct a three-year study on the advisability of converting.

Over 90 per cent of the world population now utilizes the metric system. The United States is the only large country that does not.

As a result, it is contended, our international trade is at a distinct disadvantage.

The switchover would require many adjustments on the part of Middlesex County residents. The local automobile driver would pull into a gas station and ask for 25 liters. That would be equivalent to 6.6 gallons.

It would be good for 150 kilometers because he gets about 6 kilometers to the liter, otherwise known as 14 miles to the gallon.

During the course of a year, he and the other 479,000 local car owners consume 2,720 liters, on average.

Leaving the gas station he would pass a road sign reading 80 km. maximum, meaning that he may not drive faster than 48 miles per hour, old style.

If he were to cover every part of the local area he would encompass some 2,147 square kilometers, since the land area is approximately 829 square miles, current scale.

His daughter, at the doctor's office, has her measurements checked. She weighs 57 kilograms (formerly 126 pounds) and is 1.68 meters tall (5 feet 6 inches).

If she is like Miss America, her other measurements, in centimeters, are 93-58-91.

The Middlesex County housewife, when she goes to the market for supplies, would be buying 500 grams of butter, a kilo of meat for hamburgers (2.2 pounds) and 4 meters (3.6 yards) of material for a dress.

Those in favor of the change to the metric system argue that we cannot stand alone indefinitely in a world that has almost entirely gone metric.

Opposing the changeover are those who point to the billions of dollars that it would cost industry to adjust to the metric system. (Park Row News Service).

Congratulations, Graduates

Releases are pouring into the Star office this month telling of achievements and honors of Winchester students at colleges and schools across the country.

We are proud of our graduates and we congratulate them on their fine efforts.

From the students and their justifiably proud parents, we ask patience with our reporting of the graduations. And we here reprint the Star's policy on graduations:

1. Notices of graduations must come from the school or college unless a parent has been asked by the institution to notify us or if he feels as time goes by that the school has not sent it to us.

2. We use pictures as they come in from the institutions. Often there are stories about five graduates and only three pictures are sent. Usually the omission occurs when a student has failed to comply with the school publicity office's request for a picture.

3. When there is more than one graduate we must print the material as it is sent to us. We can not print major, clubs, offices, etc., for one student and only names and degrees for two others from the same school.

Fire Chiefs Conduct Convention

Water supplies for firefighting both in the city and in the rural areas, a universal telephone number for emergencies and the reasons for our bad fire records were all subjects for discussion at the 48th annual convention of New England's fire chiefs.

The 500 chiefs convened Sunday, June 21, at the Wentworth By The Sea Resort Hotel in New Castle, New Hampshire where they have been meeting annually for the last 25 years.

A memorial service for chiefs who have died in the past year, more than 20, was held Sunday night.

Business sessions got under way Monday morning and ran through Thursday morning at which time there was the annual election of officers and voting on resolutions.

Wednesday afternoon was devoted to exhibiting manufacturers who demonstrated all of the latest firefighting equipment on the market.

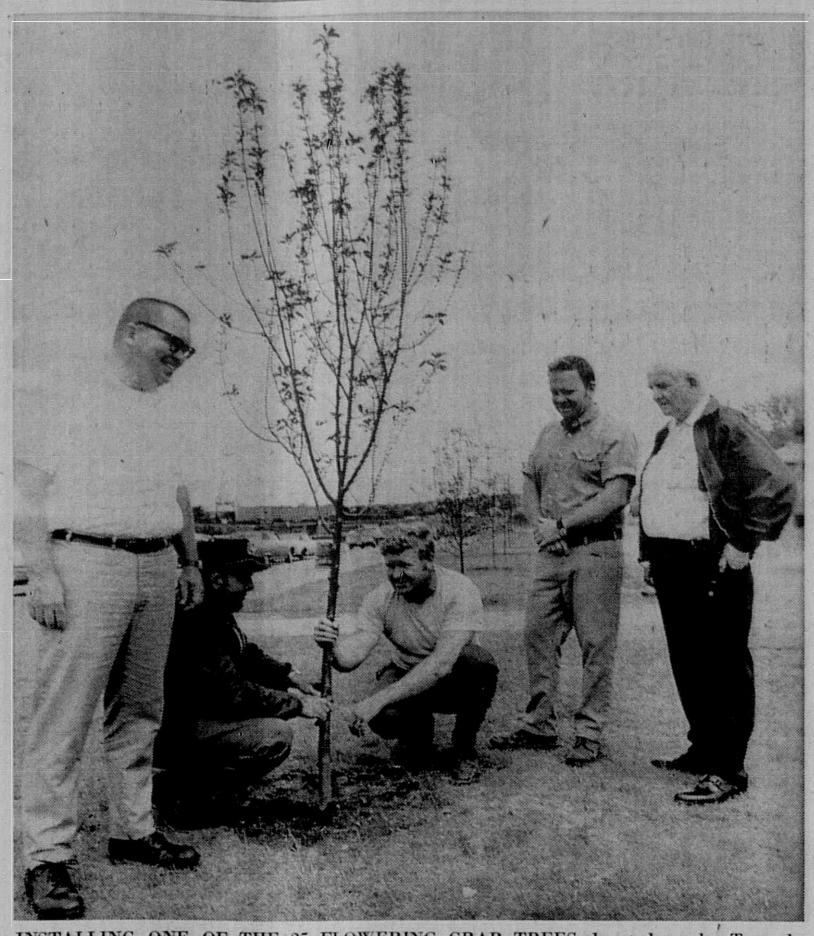

Chief Robert F. Ulm of East Hampton, president, said the banquet speaker was the Rev. Emerson W. Smith, executive director, Council of Churches, of Springfield, a noted humorist.

Chief James Casavant of Gardner, reservation chairman, said the pre-reservations were the biggest in the history of the organization and Chief Albert Kimball of Hingham, secretary treasurer, reported membership at an all time high.

John E. Menario, city manager of Portland, Maine, addressed the chiefs on "New Concepts in Collective Bargaining."

The program and exhibits for the convention were under the direction of Chiefs James Brennan of Salem and William Young of Newington, New Hampshire.

Mahoney's Donates Crab Trees

The Winchester Park Department has been busy planting 25 flowering crab trees donated by Mahoney's Rocky Ledge Farm and Nurseries, 242 Cambridge Street along the borders of Mt. Vernon Street and Skillings Road opposite the Town Hall.

At this time, when conservation and the "death rate" of trees are such topical subjects in Winchester, and when Park Department Superintendent Herbert S. Mullen complains that the M.D.C. has not replaced the withering cherry trees along Mystic Valley Parkway, such lasting contributions to the Town are greatly appreciated by all residents.

Minuteman Council Holds Yearly Elections

On Monday, June 15, at the L. G. Hanscom Field Officers' Club, the Minuteman Council held its annual business meeting for the 1969-70 Scout year. Harris S. Richardson Jr., president, presided. The institutional representatives and members-at-large of the 20 communities of the Council elected Walter Geisenhainer president for the 1970-71 Scout Year.

Mr. Geisenhainer is president of the Brodie Trucks, Inc., Woburn. He was born and raised in Hell's Kitchen, New York City, and is a certified public accountant. He started in the Materials Handling business in 1948. Coming to Boston in 1955 to phase out the Massachusetts operation of the Brodie Company, he wound up acquiring the business in 1963. A man of a strong sense of service, Walt is a director of many charitable groups in Woburn and Concord.

Mr. Geisenhainer, as a boy, attained the Eagle Scout rank and served many years as a staff man at the Boy Scout Camp in Northern, New Jersey. Mr. Geisenhainer resides in Concord.

Among those elected for the 1970-71 Scout year were Board Chairman, Harris S. Richardson Jr. of 11 Ledgewood Road and Vice President, John H. Hosmer of 9 Rangeley Road.

Among those assisting the officers as executive board members are Ralph H. Bonnell Jr., Larry Chase, James F. Jefferson, James P. Kennedy, Dr. Robert M. Smith, and R. Adm. William H. Buracker, all of Winchester.

The meeting was keynoted by Eagle Scout, Kenneth Converse of Troop No. 704, Reading, whose opening challenge to the manpower assembled high lighted Boypower '76 and its long range commitment. President Harris S. Richardson Jr. recognized outgoing Legal Counsel, Orvis Saxby of Stoneham for distinguished service since the organizational beginning of the Minuteman Council. Mr. Saxby will now serve on the Advisory Council. President Richardson also recognized Frank T. Gramstorff, Council treasurer, for outstanding performance in the Boy Scout Trust Fund promotion.

In presenting the highlights of the 1969-70 accomplishments, Mr. Richardson recognized the numerous Scouters throughout the 20 cities and towns composing the Minuteman Council, thanking them for their service and enriching the lives of 13,000 boys now enrolled.

Council Nominating Committee chairman, James P. Kennedy, at the conclusion of the election of officers, presented outgoing President Richardson Jr. with a Scout momento for distinguished leadership.

The Minuteman Council, Inc., consists of the following towns and citis; Arlington, Bedford, Belmont, Burlington, Carlisle, Concord, L. G. Hanscom AFB, Lexington, Lincoln, Malden, Medford, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, , Waltham Watertown, Winchester, Woburn and is a member agency of the United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston and the Concord-Carlisle Community Chest.

New Council President, Walter Geisenhainer, in projecting the key objectives for 1970-71 began by thanking the group for singling him out for this honor and pledged his best work to accomplish the job of serving boyhood. He related to the Minuteman Council's investigation and programming of a Lone Range plan that has made many Scouters conscious of how well endowed our Council is in natural resources, manpower and boypower.

Their Boypower '76 program is so easily identified with Boston and New England's '76 ambitions it makes a rallying point for a crusade to get the job done. The need is to focus attention on a single area that is most critical and requires immediate action. This is the Council's objective in developing a smooth flowing, persistent, source of income to meet the vast opportunity to serve youth.

Girl Scout Diary

Lincoln School Brownie Troop 526 ended the year with a Fly-Up Ceremony on June 13. Lincoln Juniors performed a flag ceremony and led 13 Brownies over the bridge to Junior scouting.

During the past year, Troop 526 has worked at a variety of creative crafts. Among their successful projects were Santa Claus puppets, forma-film Valentine hearts and free-form flowers, ceramic jewelry and decorations, and placemats for Winchester Hospital.

Other activities the troop enjoyed during the year included making root beer, touring a potato chip factory, and roller-skating. The high point of the year's activities was a tour of Logan Airport with lunch at Logan Tower. One of the troop fathers made the outing possible.

Muraco School Brownie Troop 495 recently collected 15 bags of litter as a neighborhood clean-up project. Last month they made hand-puppets from scraps of cloth, buttons, and yarn, and presented the puppets to Winchester Hospital for use on the children's floor.

Five members of Troop 495 received wings and pins at a May Fly-Up on a wooden bridge over the Aberjona River. The troop ended the year's program with a backyard cook-out on June 3.

Mystic Troop 528 Brownies Joy Brown, Mary Claire McCarthy, Debbie Diehl, and Kathy Hughes were welcomed to Junior Girl Scouts recently.

Washington Scouts

On June 4, 16 Brownies from four Washington School troops crossed the bridge and were greeted by Washington Junior Girl Scouts at a Fly-Up Ceremony attended by their mothers. Brownie wings were pinned on each girl by her Brownie leader before she crossed the bridge. Mrs. John Shattuck presented Junior Girl Scout pins after the girls crossed the bridge.

The Brownies who flew up included: Julie Sullivan, Troop 470; Mary Vincent and Megan Millward, Troop 440; Pam Wark, Jackie Douglas, Linda Carroll, Terri West, Nancy Hicks, and Judy Davis, Troop 698; and Teri Allard, Ann Bumiller, Pam Dean, Terry Farrari, Paula Giarizzio, Debbie Bosco, and Susan Warford, Troop 697. Sixth grade Junior Scouts prepared and served refreshments and acted as hostesses.

On May 29 Brownie Troop 697 held a cook-out at Camp Joy, ending a year of learning and practising the three Brownie B's. They are: Be a discoverer; Be a ready helper; Be a friendmaker.

Junior Troop 499 ended the year on June 1 with a program to which mothers were invited. It began with a flag ceremony by Lisa Durland, Cindy Blanch, Betsy Greene, Anne Hritzay and Elizabeth Hillman. At a Court of Awards, badges were presented for My Troop, Troop Camping, Pets, Housekeeper and World Association pins. The Sign of the Arrow was earned by Anne Hritzay, Cindy Blanch, Dawn Nunziato, Lisa Durland and Margaret Reynolds.

The Sign of the Star was earned by Lisa Durland. An Obstacle Race for the Mothers was planned by Susan Quine, Barbara Jones and Betsy Greene, and was won by Mrs. Hillman and Mrs. Blanch. The afternoon ended with refreshments, Girl Scout Friendship Books for the Scouts, and a pretty blue bathrobe for the leader, Mrs. Frederick Greene.

Troop 486

Troop 486, Mystic School, held a Court of Awards at Camp Joy at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 9. Badges were awarded for Backyard Fun, Rambler, Home Health and Safety, Personal Health, Collector, and Water Fun. Susan Parker, Janet Kohr, and Martha Moore shared their hobby, doll-collecting, with the group, showing dolls from Spain, Austria, Japan, and Mexico. Martha Moore and Janet Kohr received the Order of the Star.

The troop's final event of the year was a camping weekend at Camp Sherwood Forest, Jaffrey, New Hampshire, June 19-21. Highlight of the weekend was a climb to the summit of Mount Monadnock.

Cadette Troop 506 gave a bridging party on June 3 at Camp Joy for all Aberjona Neighborhood sixth grade Girl Scouts. The refreshments and program, which included games, songs, and a look at Cadette activities, were planned and carried out by the Cadettes as part of the Challenge of Social Dependability.

Troop 506 spent the weekend of June 10 at the Narragansett House, in Oak Bluffs, Martha's Vineyard. Activities at the Vineyard included a 14-mile bike hike, swimming, beach-combing, and exploring the town and the shops.

Adults who helped to make the trip possible included: Mrs. DeBourke and Mrs. Lament, planning and fund-raising; Mrs. Hayden, transportation and commissary; Mrs. Errico, Mrs. Eyden, Mrs. citi[illegible]; Arlington, Bedford, Belvisors; Mrs. Boyle and Mrs. Parsons, waterfront directors. Senior Scouts Dottie Elliott, Sue Friborg, and Sally Hayden accompanied the troop and helped with the program.

Cap League Champions Crowned

by James R. Stewart Jr.

The five Division champions of the Cap League were crowned at Ginn and West Side Fields Sunday, June 21, in the final games of the season. Wyman, Noonan, Muraco, Vinson-Owen, and St. Mary's Schools teams proved to be too much for their opposition, and won the play-offs in their respective Divisions.

The final games of the regular season were played on Saturday, postponed from the last rain-out of June 6. In these games position was at stake for the Sunday play-offs. There were some disappointments as well as some unexpected joys in the results.

On Ginn Field 1, Joe Restighini's Vinson-Owen Orioles made a great team effort to down the resurgent St. Mary's Saints by a 6-4 tally, boosting them into the Division D play-off position. Lincoln's Black Knights continued their surge toward the second spot as Bill Wolfe's battlers outlasted Dick Wilsack's Washington Generals by 11-9. In this game Lincoln forged into a four run early lead and held off the Generals' belated rallies up to and including the last inning, when Steve Wolfe snuffed out the Washington bid. With two men on base and none out, Steve got the last three batters to preserve the victory for his team.

John Pasillo's Noonan Golden Eagles were really flying as they blasted the Muraco Marauders 12-3, and ended the season with the amazing total of 114 runs in their 9-game season. Noonan jumped off to a big lead early in the game and coasted the rest of the way to preserve their position as one of the contenders in Division B.

At West Side Field, the Parkhurst Maroons threw a scare into the Mystic Tigers and were just nosed out at the end as Norm Stanton's battlers eked out a 16-13 win. It was an uphill struggle for the surprised Tigers, but they were victorious by three runs in what had promised to be a tune up for the Division A playoffs. Peter Philiou's team never gave up. They can be proud of their efforts.

Warren Gagan's Mystic Green Hornets played as if possessed in the feature game at West Side Field, as they took on the undefeated Wyman Wildcats in what was expected to be a "laugher," according to their individual season records. But the Green Hornets came out buzzing and confounded the Wildcats with their hitting and spectacular fielding.

Jim Aylward had to come up with his best to preserve his Wildcats' record. Jeff McGoldrick provided the final squelch to the upstart Hornets as his 5th inning hit started the Wildcats' winning rally in this inning. His clutch pitching in the 5th and 6th innings preserved the team's unblemished record for the regular season.

On the basis of tie-breaking statistics, the Mystic Tigers were awarded the second spot in the Division A playoffs against Wyman. The Lincoln Black Knights thus opposed Noonan for Division B playoffs. In Division C, Muraco and Parkhurst were paired, with Vinson-Owen and Washington the opponents for Division D, and the Mystic Green Hornets and St. Mary's were paired for the Division E title.

Tompkins Trophy Recognizes Steve Swanson

by John F. Parrell

Steve Swanson, captain of this year's successful Sachem baseball team, has been awarded the Sam Tompkins Memorial trophy, named in memory of a former Winchester High baseball player.

The trophy is given in recognition of outstanding team spirit, leadership, scholarship and desire; in short, the ideal combination of traits in a baseball player. By his spirited play and clutch performances during the entire 18 games on the schedule, Steve has richly earned the honor which has been voted to him.

Two Eagle Scout Badges Awarded

Scouts Geoffrey Rivinius and Douglas Fritch were awarded their Eagle Scout Badges at a special Court of Honor held at Camp Oak in Bedford, Thursday night, June 18.

The ceremony was preceded by a cookout for members of Troop 507 and their families which was prepared by that "master outdoor chef," Harry Boodakian, Troop Committee chairman, and other members of the Troop Committee. At a Court of Honor held before the Eagle Court of Honor, Scoutmaster Ted Reynolds presented Scouts Daniel Holmes and Peter Spinney with their Second Class Badges and Gary Hammond with his First Class Badge. Bill Dexter and Scott Knopf advanced to the Star Scout Rank.

For those two scouts who advanced to the rank of Eagle—the highest rank in scouting—the evening climaxed a long and challenging course. Geoff, who will be entering his senior year at Phillips Andover Academy, completed requirements for Eagle by constructing a dam at Smith Pond—a Winchester conservation project.

Doug, who will be a junior at Winchester High School next year, carried out his community service project by being a big brother to a mentally handicapped child. Al Fernald presented Geoff's badge and Scoutmaster Ted Reynolds awarded Doug his badge.

Pee Wee Soccer Team Captures First Place In Boston Area Soccer League

The Winchester Pee Wee Soccer Team concluded the spring season with a convincing 2-0 victory over Medford at MIT's Briggs Field Saturday, June 20.

The boys exhibited their high standard of play and polished off Medford easily, which made up for a recent 1-0 loss at the hands of this team. This final win by Winchester, (the League victors) over Medford, (knock-out cup winners) established the Winchester club as the undisputed champions of the Boston Area Youth Soccer League, Pee Wee Division.

The game was played at a brisk pace with the superb Winchester defense, consisting of Mark Caputo, John Henriques, Jay James, Kurt Illinger, John Barcus and Wayne McNeil, stifling all attempts by Medford to penetrate the Winchester goal area. The forward line, displaying the fine passing attack that resulted in 19 goals in 10 games, again shone brightly.

Midway in the first half, Allyn Stillman scored the first goal with an assist by William Strazzullo. The second goal was scored with an unstoppable low, hard-driven penalty shot by goalie Wayne McNeil.

Late in the second half, Jackie Driscoll was denied a goal on a beautiful shot because of an offside call. The other hard-working forwards in this match were Paul Austin, Peter Mitchell, and Norm Alpert.

After the game the team was presented with the John Weil League Victor's Cup and each player received an award certificate. The Winchester Youth Soccer Program presented each boy with a trophy to commemorate their splendid season.

The Pee Wee Team and coaches would like to express their sincere thanks to the En Ka society and the Park and Recreation Departments for their help in making this spring soccer possible.

Three Sachems Earn Places On All Star

by John F. Parrell

Winchester High's baseball nine fared very well in the selection of players for the Middlesex League all star team, receiving three places of the eleven named to the mythical club.

Woburn with four, and Stoneham with three, rounded out the membership as the tri-champions dominated the team in the same manner which they swept through the schedule. Nick Mull, Reading's fine all around athlete, was the only nonchampion to win a berth. Besides the starting club three outstanding players were named to utility positions on the team.

Ben Dolan, first baseman for the Sachems, was the only junior who was selected. The rest were seniors. Mike Gilberti at shortstop and Bill Wolfe, who had a great year in the outfield, were other local players who were named to the team.

To add further glory to the highly successful season, Coach Bill Colella was elected president of the Middlesex League coaches' association. All in all, it was a great year for the local nine, who ran up a fine record of 14-4, are tri-champions of the league with Woburn and Stoneham, had three players picked for the all star team, and had its coach selected as head of the coaches' group. Well done 1970 Sachems! A fine standard has been set for the successors to equal!

Country Club Member - Guest Draws 96 Teams

by John F. Parrell

The annual member-guest tourney of the Winchester Country Club attracted 96 teams as play continued through three days of spirited competition over the past weekend. The weather proved to be very cooperative and competition was close in nearly every match with some excellent scores resulting. The medalists at 69 were Leo Grace of Charles River and Bob Zirkel of Winchester.

The tourney had some interesting overtones as the final match brought together this duo, who had played together at Boston College against Ken Kotowski and Ted Neill, who were the green of Dartmouth during their collegiate links efforts. As might be expected when representatives of these colleges tangle, the final was a dog fight very step of the way before Kotowski and Neill pulled in front to take the honors.

The old Eagles played together at University Heights some 18 years ago, and have not only been links partners but banking associates over the intervening years. They were favored to carry off top honors as a result of their years of experience. Grace posted an even par gross for the first nine holes. However, this was not good enough to lead their younger rivals at the half-way mark.

Kotowski, a member of this year's Dartmouth golf team, and an entrant in this week's NCAA tournament at Columbus, Ohio, is a 1970 graduate of Dartmouth who played well for the Big Green this season. He was in the service last year, but in his sophomore year played with Neill as a teammate. Both of the winners are in their mid-20's.

Grace tallied a net birdie on the eighth hole, but Neill made a great shot with a five wood to end up only a couple of feet from the pin on the 421 yard hole, and dropped the putt for an amazing net eagle.

Bob Zirkel and his sharpshooting partner rallied to even the match, but Neill once again provided the coup de grace as he dropped a neat 12 foot putt on the 14th green. The 16th hole proved to be a Waterloo for the more mature golfers, as both had a bad hole and could do no better than six.

This was the end of the match and youth had prevailed. The fine golf which every one of the quartet played is best shown by the fact that Kotowski, who has hardly been mentioned in this story, was only one over par for the 17 holes which he played. He will bear watching in the big tourney at Columbus!

The summary of the first flight:

Quarterfinal Round

Leo Grace, Charles River, and Bob Zirkel defeated Jack Harvey, Oyster Harbors, and Jack Fagerland, one up.

Tom Powers, Wianno, and Paul Sheeran defeated John Arnold, Duxbury, and Jim Wilcox, three and two.

Richard Sullivan, Brae Burn, and Bud Gerould defeated Bill Masen, Worcester, and Jim Masen, two and one.

Semifinal Round

Kotowski and Neill defeated Sullivan and Gerould, four and two.

Final Round

Kotowski and Neill defeated Grace and Zirkel, one up.

Second flight—K. Diskin, Meadowbrook, and T. Rawson defeated J. Robertson, Vesper, and D. Conners, 19 holes.

Third flight—J. Austin, Concord, and T. King defeated R. Dukeshire, Stowe Acres, and J. Koslowski, 22 holes.

Fourth flight—B. Slattery, Woodland, and J. Raffi defeated D. Lavin, Oak Hill, and J. Hobbs, two and one.

Cap Baseball Playoffs Set Division Titles

by James R. Stewart Jr.

Amid flurries of excitement and a goodly crowd, Cap League Baseball came to a lively end Sunday, June 21, with all kinds of play spiking almost every game. One of the games went into three extra innings before the Division B title was determined.

The Noonan Golden Eagles and the Lincoln Black Knights went at it on Ginn Field 2 for Division B honors, and before it was all over, there was many an exhausted player and spectator, let alone Coach! Playing a so-so contest throughout most of the regulation 6 innings, the two teams saved their fireworks for the extra innings. Tied 9-9 at the end of the 8th inning, the Noonan batters teed off on the Lincoln pitchers, scoring 10 runs before the dust had cleared. But the Black Knights held on in their half, scoring 4 times, with men on base when the last out was made, never giving up a courageous stand. But the final tally was 19-14, giving Noonan the Division B playoff title. The game lasted 3 hours and 40 minutes, a new Cap League record.

On Ginn Field 1, the Mystic Tigers took a good run at the undefeated Wyman Wildcats, and, for a few innings held the champions at bay. But Wyman was not to be denied. They broke the 0-0 tie with a bundle of runs in the third inning, rolling up a total of 15 runs before the game was over, while holding the Tigers at none. Wyman annexed the Division A title that it had relinquished last year to Lincoln in a well-played contest. On Ginn Field 3, Charlie Morris' Muraco Marauders came into their own at the expense of the Parkhurst Maroons. They copped the Division C title in the best game of the play offs, outscoring their opponents by 6-3.

On West Side Field the Division D and E playoffs were contested. In the Division E game Peter Ruggles was the hero for the Mystic Green Hornets, but unfortunately for his teammates and their supporters, it was in a losing cause. The St. Mary's Saints repaid Coach Henry Peluso for his limitless patience in the face of the season's adversity with a decisive 13-4 victory. Ruggles is a catcher with a lot of poise and should be a real prospect for Little League next year.

In the other game, the Washington Generals would have earned a victory in their battle with the Vinson-Owen Orioles if it had not been for a bad second inning. In that fateful inning, the Birds scored 16 times with the help of a multitude of walks and errors to ice the game. Without that cluster the victory would have gone to Washington by an 8-5 score, but officially the Orioles presented Coach Joe Restighini with the Division D title by their persistent refusal to chase bad pitches and by running out every batted ball as if it was the winning run.

Umpires

Cap Baseball Director Don Van Roosen asked that adequate recognition be given to the umpires selected for these title games, due especially to the fervor with which he anticipated these games to be played. High praise was echoed by all of the team coaches for Jim McGoldrick, Baaron Pittenger (the 9-inning marathon), Phil Stackpole, and Mal Leslie. "This praise is in no way a detraction for the volunteer umpires who worked the regular season games," explained Mr. Van Roosen. "They all performed very well under conditions that bordered on fatigue in many games!"

Mr. Van Roosen also took the time to hand out plaudits to the various team coaches for the many hours spent teaching the art of baseball to their charges during practices and games. "Many parents and other spectators came up to me during the season and especially during the playoffs," enthused Mr. Van Roosen, "to tell me how gratifying it was to see the improvement in the brand of play from the start of the season. They were very complimentary about the way the coaches handled from 22 to 30 boys with little complaining. They remarked how disciplined most of the players acted, and the many instances of good sportsmanship they had noticed."

A meeting of the coaches will be held shortly, according to Mr. Van Roosen, to criticize the season and aim for even better management of next season's action. At that time it is anticipated that patches will be given to the coaches for distribution to their team players as mementos of Cap League Baseball, 1970.

Ben Dolan To Lead In 1971

by John F. Parrell

Ben Dolan, who played some fine baseball for the tri-champion Winchester High nine this season, has been elected to lead Coach Bill Colella's 1971 aggregation. The husky boy, who was also prominent as fullback and place kicker on the Sachem football team over the past two years, is one of the tri-captains for the 1970 eleven.

Ben belted the ball at a .327 clip this year. One of his more memorable feats was a grand slam into the bleachers against Lexington. He also made some smart plays in the field, and his good all around efforts won him a place on the Middlesex League all star nine.

John Koslowski Qualifies For State Amateur

by John F. Parrell

John Koslowski, 1969 club champion at Winchester Country Club is one of 64 qualifiers for the annual match play phase of the state amateur tournament to be held July 8-11 at the Essex Country Club. The starting field numbered 505 and play was held at eight locations: Hatherly, Oakley, Thorny Lea, Tedesco, Mt. Pleasant, Wahconah, Concord, and Haverhill Country Clubs.

John played the tricky Haverhill course and carded a first round of 71 to deadlock with P. Cortese of the home club and K. Smolek of Stowe Acres. However, he slipped off to a 77 in the second round, ending with a highly creditable 148 that enabled him to finish in a triple tie for third against Cortese's winning 144.

It is quite significant that three out of the first five to qualify were members of the Haverhill Club. However, this only adds to the quality of John's performance on a foreign layout.

He will be sharpening his game for the next two weeks, and local golfing enthusiasts are rooting strongly for him to continue his fine play when the match contests are held on the North Shore.

The North-South bidding varied according to the system, but basically the North-Souths found the spade suit and settled for four spades or five if they tried for slam and discovered two Aces were missing.

What do you lead from West defending against the spade game?

Did you decide on a safe lead of a trump? Or try and set up a club trick? Or possibly the Ace and another heart, hoping for a ruff? All perfectly normal leads.

Of course when you look at all four hands, it's obvious that some sixth sense should have warned West to cash his two Aces immediately, for otherwise South can discard his singleton diamond on North's King of clubs, making six spades, losing only the Ace of hearts!

How did the eleven tables fare Wednesday? Just two Wests cashed the Aces, holding North-South to five. Eight were in the spade game with one perceptive North-South electing no trump, making the same tricks for an extra ten points. Two swingers went to the six spades, one being set (it's easier to take the two Aces against a six-bid), and one making.

Editor's Note: It's very difficult in a competitive game to cash in your chips at the opening gun, but, as in this case, it sometimes brings home the bacon.

Homeowners Now Spend More For Improvements

Middlesex County families are going in for home improvements in a big way these days.

They are spending more money for alterations, additions, replacement and maintenance than they ever did.

In the past year, local home owners spent an estimated $143,570,000 to spruce up their homes, based upon government data showing average outlays per housing unit in the regional area.

It represented an average expenditure locally of $361 per unit. Nationally, the average was $285.

Many homeowners spent considerably more than this, of course, and others much less, since only a small proportion of them undertake major improvements in any one year.

During 1969, according to a sample survey conducted by the Department of Commerce and reports from the National Association of Home Builders, approximately $13.5 billion was spent by homeowners throughout the country to refurbish their property. This compares with $12.7 billion in the previous year.

Why the increase? The answer is that many families who had been contemplating selling their present dwellings and moving into newer homes found that they couldn't do so.

They were held in check by the tight money conditions, which made mortgages difficult to obtain, and by the high interest rates that made for very big mortgage payments.

They decided, therefore, to do the next best thing—fix up their present places.

Their biggest expenditure, in most cases, was for additions, alterations and replacements. This accounted for 6 per cent of the total.

The other 39 per cent was for maintenance, repairs and general upkeep, including painting, plumbing, roof reshingling, elecrtical work, floor sanding and the like.

To a greater extent than ever before, these jobs are being tackled by the owners themselves. This do-it-yourself trend was brought about by the high cost of labor and the scarcity of competent mechanics.

As a result, much of the $143,570,000 spent in the year in Middlesex County for home improvements went to local merchants selling paint, hardware, paneling, electrical supplies and such.

An avalanche, hurtling down a mountainside at speeds that can exceed 250 miles an hour, pushes a wall of pressurized air before it. The air pressure has blown railroad cars off their tracks, while the vacuum in an avalanche's wake has pulled people out of their houses.

Parkhurst School Parents Conduct Annual Meeting

The Parkhurst Parents' Association held its annual meeting in the school auditorium on Friday evening, June 19. An enthusiastic group of parents and staff members joined Mrs. Ruby M. Wiggett, acting principal, in welcoming Andrew Allan, the newly appointed principal of Parkhurst School.

Officers of the Association elected to serve in the coming year are: President, Mrs. Pasquale Paolini; Vice President, Mrs. Albert Patterson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Joseph Georgis; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Daniel Fairbanks; Treasurer, Mrs. James O'Halloran. It was announced that Mrs. Robert Grasty had been elected a vice president of Community Schools Association.

Mrs. Kenneth Hudson, president of the Association, announced that the "World Book Encyclopedia" had been presented to the school library by the association in honor of this year's sixth grade graduating class.

Mrs. Albert Patterson awarded prizes for the winners in the Parkhurst bridge mix, the principal fund raising program of the Association. In the evening bridge mix, first prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hudson and second prize to Mr. and Mrs. David Beaber. In the afternoon bridge mix first prize was won by Mrs. Joseph Cincotta and Mrs. Haig Adamian. Second prize went to Mrs. Philip Grace and Mrs. Henry Robinson.

An adaption of "Our Country 'Tis Of Thee," an historical cantata by Ruth Roberto and William Katz was presented by the sixth grade under the direction of Mrs. Shaughnessy and Mrs. Ewart.

Mrs. Wiggett addressed the graduating class and each member was given a dictionary by the Parents Association.

ELMER F. CUTTS of 50 Grove Street was among four Greater Boston residents who were honored by the University of New Hampshire Alumni Association for their efforts in behalf of their alma mater. Mr. Cutts, class of 1917, received the Meritorious Service Award at the annual alumni reunion.

Fifth Graders' Field Trip Is Experience

On the weekend of June 5 members of a fifth grade Wyman Annex class under the direction of their teacher participated in a learning experience, a field trip to a New Hampshire farm.

Miss Minna R. Horovitz, who conducted 23 children with the aid of six chaperones on the trip, described the undertaking, "My idea was to bring the children to a place which I had found fresh, natural, and filled with so many new experiences that even the most blase child would be stimulated. If we can accept a heightened awareness of one's environment as a result of the field trip, then the trip was a succes."

Utilizing busses rented from a Plymouth, New Hampshire, firm since those in the Winchester area proved too costly, the students were underway that Friday morning, stopping to eat lunch at the Old Man of the Mountains, Franconia Notch, New Hampshire. Travel continued to a Lisbon, New Hampshire, furniture factory, where three additional chaperones joined the group and the children saw how raw wood was refined into fine hand crafted furniture.

On arrival at Miss Horovitz's farm, remaining time in the day was devoted to setting up the campsite and exploring the surroundings. Dinner was prepared and eaten, followed by games and folk singing. Rain disturbed plans to "sleep under the stars," and a barn was chosen as night quarters instead.

Saturday was devoted to climbing Briddle Vale Falls, known as the Copper Cannon Trail, Eastern Road, Franconia. Interspersed with an unaccustomed fatigue for most of the pupils was discussion of environment and comparison of the New Hampshire surroundings to Winchester. Again rain accompanied the climbers most of the way to the top and back down again.

Back at the farm, ecological succession and land usage in Bath and neighboring communities were the topics. Evening activities included paper bag dramatics, skits made focusing around objects found in the bags, and a surprise visit from a folk guitarist.

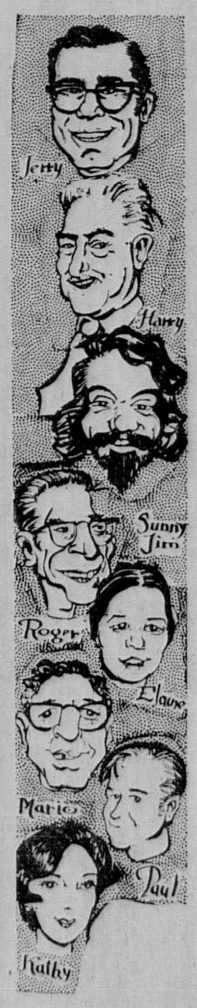

Sunday morning was spent collecting belongings, working in the garden, or doing other jobs around the farm. An unusual form of relay race tired the children out for the bus trip back to Winchester. Scenes enjoyed during the ride included a red wooden three room school house, the combined library and p st office, the Brick Store, and an 1832 covered bridge in Bath,

BUILDING $19½

America's Laziest & Messiest Department (?) Store

19 Olympia Ave., Off Washington St., Woburn

Dear Friend of Building #19½,

After writing to you every week for the past seven months trying to sell you a wide and weird assortment of merchandise, it dawned on my razor-sharp mind (not exactly razor sharp — more like butter-knife sharp) that I've been wasting thousands of dollars (Don't worry — Harry's got plenty). I should be spending that money trying to buy merchandise instead of sell it. Everyone knows that the secret of this business is low prices not fancy advertising. Therefore this week's letter is devoted to enlisting your aid in helping us find bargain merchandise.

Here's what you can do to help:

1. If you see or hear of a party planning a flood, hurricane, trainwreck, or even a smoky little fire, casually ask him (or her — federal laws prohibit discrimination) for the name of his (or her) insurance company. We'll make arrangements to happen to be in the insurance adjuster's office at the scheduled time of the happening."

2 If your next-door neighbor, the villainous banker, mentions over cocktails by your 80' pool that he's about to foreclose on an inventory loan, suggest to him that he contact me or Harry.

3. If you hear of a factory, distributor or store that has surplus inventory, or last year's models, or odd lots, or dented, dirty, or scratched merchandise, let us know about it and we'll try to relieve him of some.

4. If you hear of a railroad, trucking company, or sampan line that has merchandise damaged in transit, please let us know.

Meanwhile, without your helping even a little bit, here's what we've been able to accumulate for your buying pleasure:

Paper plates and cups	Mattresses & boxsprings	Pianos & guitars
Assorted brushes	Carpet & rugs	Refrigerators & Freezers
Ice buckets	Dining room furniture	Washer & dryers
Oven cleaner	Pine furniture	Gas & Electric ranges
Chain belts	Upholstered furniture	Air conditioners
Art supplies	Bedroom furniture	Televisions
Barbeque grills	Table & hanging lamps	Radio & phonos
Porch gliders	Lamp tables	Phono care kits
Luggage	Cameras & Projectors	Records & Tapes
Tote bags	Marine accessories	Tape recorders
Garden supplies	Swimwear	Stereo portables
Song books	Women's dresses	Stereo consoles
Wigs	Nylon jackets	Stereo components

plus a bunch of other stuff that I'm too lazy to get out of this chair to go look at. Whatever we have, no matter how low the price, you can be sure that:

1. It's a genuine, bona-fide bargain, sold well below the lowest price we could find anywhere. Please tell us if we're wrong. We'll reward you for your trouble with a complimentary bottle of bubbly, imported all the way from Cucamonga.

2. You can't go wrong. If you're not pleased with your purchase we'll give you your money back. It's that simple! If you're not pleased with the price, the service, or the performance, return the goods and we'll give you a refund.

3. You'll enjoy poking through this Elegant Emporium, known from coast-to-coast (Scituate to Gloucester) as "America's Laziest and Messiest Department(?) Store." We may not have what you're looking for, but you'll have fun looking.

Cordially,
Jerry Ellis

Pupils' Badges Are Limited During Summer

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority announced recently that effective Monday, June 29, pupils' badges will not be honored during the summer as identification for obtaining the reduced fare privilege.

Being discontinued for the summer are the yellow pupils' badges for boys and white for girls in the immediate Boston area, and red badges for boys and green badges for girls in the suburban divisions.

Pupils attending summer review school sessions, however, will have the reduced fare privilege.

In the suburban division, requests for this privilege should be made by the schools or pupils to R. D. Sullivan, staff assistant, 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, who will make available 10-ride pupil tickets.

In Boston and vicinity, white-colored pupils' strip tickets will be available upon presentation of an application to the cashier's section, 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, and the following stations: Ashmont, Columbia, Copley, Dudley, Forest Hills, Harvard, Maverick and Sullivan Square.

The tickets will enable qualified pupils to ride at a reduced fare to and from school on days when the school is in session and not after 5 p.m. on these days. Pupils in Boston and vicinity who must transfer from one vehicle to another or to a rapid transit station must obtain identification checks as they do under the present system.

Dr. Jenkins Gets Appointment At University

Waterloo Lutheran University of Kitchener-Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, announces the appointment of Dr. John R. G. Jenkins of 27 Canterbury Road as professor of business administration and dean of the school of business and economics, effective August 1. Professor Jenkins will also direct the school's international business programs, which are sponsored by the Canadian government.

DR. JOHN R. G. JENKINS

Professor Jenkins, a native of Wales, was educated at Wycliffe College, Gloucestershire, England; Cambridge University (where he played Rugby and tennis for Magdalene College), the University of Toronto and the Harvard Business School. He holds BA and MA degrees in Economic Geography from Cambridge, a masters of business administration degree from the University of Toronto and a doctorate from the Harvard Business School. He taught previously at the University of Toronto and is currently an associate professor of marketing at Northeastern University where he serves on the Faculty Senate. Dr. Jenkins is vice president, marketing research, of the Boston Chapter of the American Marketing Association.

Before entering academic life Dr. Jenkins held senior administrative positions in industry, beginning his career with Procter and Gamble Company of Canada, and becoming director of market and media planning for BBDO — Canada. He has acted as a consultant to business and government in the U.S., Canada, and Great Britain. Professor Jenkins is the author of a book and co-author of a business simulation game. His articles have appeared in professional publications in the U.S., Canada and Britain. He has directed seminars for British and European businessmen at Wadham College, Oxford, and in London, Edinburgh, Cardiff and Dublin.

Dr. Jenkins, who is 41, lives at 27 Canterbury Road with his wife, Betty, and 3 children: Beth who attends McCall Junior High; and Craig and Anne, who attend the Mystic School. Dr. Jenkins and his family are members of the First Congregational Church.

For the past two years Professor Jenkins has served as president of the Cymrodorion (Welsh-American) Society of Boston. This society traces its origins back to the earliest Welsh-American settlers of New England, including Elihu Yale, Morgan Edwards, founder of Brown University, and John Miles, who established the first Baptist Church in New England.

Retarded Children To Be Hosted At Elks' Party

On Saturday, June 27, the Winchester Elks will conduct their annual party and cookout for the retarded children from the Wrentham State School. For the first time the outing will be conducted on the lodge's property at 375 Cambridge Street.

The past few years the outing has been held at Henchey's Farm in Billerica. The usual features will be available for guests. The horseback ride and individual color photo of each guest will again highlight the day.

All members and their friends are cordially invited to come and partake of the festivities, joining the Elks in this worthwhile endeavor, the prime project of the organization. The day will end with an open cookout for all members and friends, which will include the charity drawing.
